Madisonville, Ky., March 28.—Garth Tompkins, a murderer, will be executed in the Circuit Court room here upon order of Judge Fleming M. Gordon. The date of Tompkins' execution is fixed for March 30, and it had been arranged to hang him on a vacant lot near the courthouse, but the people protested, saying it would bring disgrace to the town. Judge Gordon was appealed to and decided to have the execution take place inside the courtroom. The scaffold will be built over the judge's stand. This probably will be the only execution under such circumstance on record.

Break Down at Local Gas Works

Owing to Pump Going Out of Order Gas Works Had to Close Down.

Yesterday shortly after noon the local gas works was placed in an embarassing position. The pump which forces the crude oil into the gas making machines to illuminate the super-heated steam in some manner refused to do its work. It was supposed that one of the intricate valves had become misplaced or otherwise deranged.

At the time the pump broke down there were possibly 50,000 feet of gas on hand, but this gave out shortly after seven o'clock last night. Mr. John Hogan, superintendent of the works, at once sent messengers out to notify customers as far as possible, to prepare for the contingency.

An expert machinist was immediately summoned from the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Company On arrival he took the pump to pieces, and did his best to get it into order, but the break was not repaired until about half past four this morning.

As our type-casting machines are solely dependent on gas for their operation, we trust that the above explanation will excuse any shortage of news on account of this unexpected mishap.

WEDDING BELLS

Miss Eleanor L. Carnegie Becomes the Bride of Mr. Chas. M. Adams.

Yesterday afternoon a pretty wedding was enacted at 51 McDonnel street, when Miss Eleanor L. Carnegie third daughter of Mr. John Carnegie, ex-M.P.P., was joined in the holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. Charles M. Adams

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's church. The bride was given away by her father and was attired in a lovely gown of chiffon, draped over silk.

BITTEN BY A RAT

Savage Rodent Attacks Woman in G. T. R. Station London, Ont.

A strange case wherein a lady was attacked and severely bitten by a rat occurred in the G. T. R. station, London, Ont., a few days ago.

The attack was as strange as it was sudden. The rodent ran along the floor of the waiting room, coming apparently from the open closet door. The woman was seated some little distance from the door, but the rat ran straight toward her, and leaped without apparent hesitation upon her dress.

With a scream the woman struck at the rodent, but the rat missed the blow and sprang at her face, fastening its teeth in her lower lip.

The rat appeared unable to release its hold upon the woman's face. It made desperate efforts to pull itself away, clawing the bosom of her dress into shreds in its struggles.

Not until a witness of the incident, having presence of mind, seized the rat by the neck and choked it until the jaws opened, was it possible to take it from the now thoroughly frightened and bleeding victim. The rat had torn the woman's lip in a frightful manner, and it became swollen to several times the natural size in a few minutes.

"Ladies' Smoker" Crane.

New York, N. Y., March 28.—General Superintendent Sheppard, of the Pennsylvania Railway, says he would not be surprised if the demand for smoking cars for ladies arises as early as next autumn. His road will meet the demand.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN

Hyomei Inhaler that Never Fails to Cure Catarrh.

Thousands who have been cured by Hyomei, call the inhaler that comes with every outfit "The little pocket physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

Prior to the discovery of Hyomei, statistics showed that at least 97 out of every 100 persons in this state were suffering from catarrh in some form. The remarkable results following the use of Hyomei are shown by the smaller percentage today of people suffering from catarrh.

A complete Hyomei outfit consists of "the little pocket physician," a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs only $1, while additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50 cents, making it the most economical, as well as the most reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

Do not delay longer the use of Hyomei, if you have catarrh. This is a purely local disease, and Hyomei goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation, and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

SHE LIVES ON RAW FOOD

Topeka Clubwoman Says Bread is as Bad as Beer.

Topeka, March 28.—"Ordinary bread has all the bad effects of beer," declares Mrs. T. S. Lyons, a Topeka club woman. "Bread creates in the human organization the same set of conditions that is created in the production of nearly all intoxicating beverages; therefore, what seems to be the natural appetite for intoxicants is a false cry of perverted nature first created and set in motion by fermented bread."

Mrs. Lyons lives on raw food. She will not eat a solitary thing that is cooked. She says if the human family would live on raw food, the same as animals, that it wouldn't be long until man would live to be 200 years old.

Ottawa, March 28.—The Senate, sitting behind closed doors, decided to abolish the present system of synopsis reporting.

NO FRENCH NOBILITY

Bogus Countess Robs One From Whom She Rented.

Paris, March 28.—There is more trouble between the representatives of some of the so-called though not the real Parisa society, since, as some of the Americans who have followed the career of Countess de Castellane have discovered, France has no nobility of her own. The nobles of the French Republic shine, if they shine at all, by a sort of reflected light.

Mr. Gibbs will Sue for His Horses.

Mr. R. Gibbs will endeavor to locate by process of law, whoms is responsible for the death of his valuable horses by electrocution, as noted in yesterday's issue. It seems that, at the corner of George and McDonnel streets on the west side there are two poles. The one farthest out out on the street belongs to the Ontario Company, and the other to the Michigan Telephone Company. The Peterboro Light and Power Company has no pole on that corner but their wires pass overhead. Who is responsible cannot be said at present, but the fact is assumed that the electrical current was carried down to the ground and charged the surface of same.

Railway Surveyors at Haliburton

Haliburton correspondent to Minden Echo: A party of surveyors have been engaged during the past week in locating a line of the railway north from this prosperous village. Several prospective routes were tried and abandoned because of the steepness of grade, but we understand a very desirable route has been found west of Hillman's hill, with a view of going via Cranberry Lake in West Guilford and up the valley of the Gull Lake waters.

Empress Eugenie's Gift.

Geneva, March 28.—The ex-Empress Eugenie has just presented the historic chateau at Arenenberg to the canton Aguvia. In 1870, during the Franco-German war, it was occupied by Napoleon III. The carriages in which he drove to the battlefield are also included in the gift, together with extremely valuable tapestry, silver, furniture and valuable paintings.

Insurance Rates Go Up.

Chicago, March 28.—The grand lodge officers of the Ancient Order of United Workmen decided yesterday at a meeting here to raise the insurance rates of the order for members more than 65 years old. The increase will make the rates 15 per cent. higher than at present. The cause of the action was the inability to meet death claims that have accrued during the past three months.

When Run-down "Draggy," Used-up

You Lack the Vigor, Courage and Staying Power that "Ferrozone" Can Supply

Night comes and it's hard to sleep. Morning dawns and the anxious, tired feeling is still there. Don't neglect this gradual decline; it can't cure itself. But by forming rich, pure blood, Ferrozone will quickly supply the nutriment and building material your system craves.

Instantly you are aware that some powerful force is building up your depleted energies. By and by you feel buoyant, tonic, strengthened. Search the world over and you won't find anything to tone up a weak system like Ferrozone. Physicians claim it is the most strengthening, uplifting medicine ever discovered.

No more spells of tiredness, but bounding, joyful health when you take Ferrozone, of which Mrs. H. S. Gadd, of Bowsman, Man., speaks in the following words of praise:

"I state my case because I think it may assist other women to health. A year ago I was almost a wreck. I was pale and emaciated, suffering from nervousness, and hysteria. Little things going wrong in the house bothered me. The doctor advised different treatments but they didn't help. He said my low condition was due to weakness that might never be cured. Ferrozone had a peculiar grateful effect and built me up quickly. The ills I suffered from are cured. I am now strong and vigorous and was made so by Ferrozone."

Why not cast aside the claims of sickness and enter the bright, happy life of robust health. Let Ferrozone bring you—let it cure you once and forever. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE GERMANS IN BRAZIL.

A writer in one of the English monthlies calls attention to a question which will be a subject of intense interest for the American people, and yet, curiously enough, seems to be one which practically attracts no attention. This is the results of German colonization in South America. Beginning some seventy years ago, the Germans established settlements in the State of Santa Catharina, the central of the three states which may be said to form the southern panhandle of the Republic of Brazil. These German settlers were followed from time to time by people of their own race, and as the outcome of thier successes other settlements were made in the neighboring State of Rio Grande do Sul, and also to a less extent in the neighboring State of Parana.

These Germans became citizens of Brazil, but they carried with them their German language, their German customs and institutions, and as they increased in number, their leadership and thier insistency upon maintaining their nationality gave them control of a country where the native Latin-American people were of a somewhat indolent disposition and indisposed to take the trouble and responsibility of public work if others were willing to do it for them. Thus by degrees the work of local administration has passed into German hands, and with this passage has grown up the belief in Germany that that section of South America south of the Tropic of Capricorn is one which, under German supervision, can be transformed into a great German colonial state, having eventually a population of Germans even greater than that of the mother country. This belief has led, in late years, to the organization of colonial associations which have directed their attention not only to the sending of Germans to South America, but also to the building up of enterprises in that part of the world through the instrumentality of German capital and German organization.

From a small group of settlers the German population of the two southern states of the Republic of Brazil has now grown to more than half a million of men, women and children. These states are divided into small municipal districts, many, and perhaps most, of which are now administered by and for Germans. Road building, irrigation and general public utilities are under German supervision, and Germans are permitted to maintain a system of taxation for the support of exclusive German schools and churches. German is spoken everywhere, and even the negroes have been compelled to acquire at least a rudimentary knowledge of this language. Of course, there are other European immigrants who have found lodgment in these provinces—principally from Italy, Switzerland, Greece, Holland and even France—but the assimilating qualities of the Germans appear to be a good deal like those which we possess, and in a few years' time these foreigners are absorbed into the country, but become not Latin-Americans, but to all intents and purposes Germans, as the latter predominate and control political, social and industrial conditions.

It is said, though the English writer does not refer to the subject, that at one or two of the seaports on the coast of Southern Brazil docks and dock yards have been established, and, it has been hinted, at the cost in some degree of the German Government. There have been built in a manner that would permit them, with but little delay, trouble or expense, to be turned into naval stations at which warships could make repairs and obtain supplies. It is also said, on authority other than that of this English writer, that the German colonists of Brazilian nationalization have maintained, through their shelves, social organizations a system of drill and military instruction, and that it is even now possible in less than a week's notice to have equipped and ready for service a thoroughly armed force of German soldiers of not less than 20,000 in numbers.

The conclusion to be drawn from this must be obvious. If it were not for the limitations of the Monroe doctrine there is not the shadow of a doubt that, long before this, the government of Berlin would at least have declared the Brazilian States of Santa Catharina and Rio Grande do Sul as within its sphere and influence, if, indeed, it had not formally annexed them as recognized colonies of Germany. The Monroe doctrine has thus far prevented the formal seizure of this American territory, but it is beyond dispute that the Germans intend to take this whenever the occasion serves—that is, whenever they think it can be done without too much trouble or without incurring the risks of defeat.

If what we have said concerning dock yards and local troops is true, the German Emperor already has at his command local resources in the way of offensive and defensive warfare far superior to anything which we should possess. It is true that these Germans are naturalized Brazilians, and as such they cannot be interfered with, but naturalization of this character, which does not lead, as it commonly does with us, to a complete acceptance of new national conditions, is not the least to be depended upon.

NIAGARA POWER

Ottawa Does Not Expect a Conflict of Jurisdiction with Ontario.

Ottawa, March 28.—Mr. Hyman's statement as to the power situation at Niagara hardly seems to foreshadow an immediate conflict over jurisdiction.

1. He holds that the jurisdiction over the export of power belongs to and must be exercised from the outset by the Dominion Government.

2. He holds, as an abstract opinion, that the whole jurisdiction belongs to the Dominion Government, is not disposed to regard it as necessary to press that point.

With regard to the first, the impression here is that the question is possible, and that the whole question of export is admitted by all to fall under the control of this Government.

With regard to this second point, the belief in official circles here is that, for the purpose of this pending negotiation, at all events, assurances have been received from the Ontario Government that there will be no difficulty.

Mr. Hyman specially remarked that the commission would endeavor to arrive at an amicable understanding with the Ontario Government, and it looks as if the two governments have pooled their issues for the present emergency.

Mr. Hyman's words then indicate a present agreement and an ultimate test of jurisdiction, for so big a question cannot be half understood indefinitely.

The Canadian Niagara Power Company, incorporated by the Ontario Legislature in 1892, is asking for a Dominion charter.

Won't Wear a High Hat.

Vancouver, B.C., March 28.—John Burmeister, member of the city council, won't officially attend the reception to Prince Arthur on Saturday, because they decline to bow down to the Master of Etiquette, who says a top hat and Prince Albert coat must be part and parcel of the make. A majority of the members of the council in extra wide-brimmed fedoras and comfortably cut coats will stand with the common or garden crowd outside the charmed circle, while Acting-Mayor Bethune and Ald. Stewart will support the high-hatted frock-coated city clerk while he reads the address of welcome.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterrugtedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally contiguous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is, in accordance with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Globe and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularisation of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

He had had all the lordly sensations of imagining himself a millionaire; he could not endure the thought that by any freak of fate it should be wrenched from his grasp. He had married an heiress, and he must look out that he was not cheated out of his just dues.

He could make life very charming and agreeable to a wife who would soon inherit a million of money, but he was no sort of husband for a poor, dependent girl, though she loved him to distraction, and was as lovely as an houri or a poet's dream.

He was used to being idolized by lovely women; but beauty and wealth he had never found together; so he passed them by gayly enough, until he came across General Hastings' daughter. Surely fate did not mean to laugh at him so tantalizingly as to turn his golden prize to dead sea fruit on his lips!

CHAPTER XIV.

Reine pondered long and earnestly as to why she received no reply to the loving letter she had written to her father the day following her wedding. Was his heart turned against her? Could he not find pardon for what she had done, that he so completely ignored it?

While in New York, Waldemar had secured a maid for her, who had accompanied them back to the Towers. During their absence a suite of rooms in the western wing had been handsomely re-furnished for her.

She might have been very happy in her new life—it was so romantically new and novel to her—if she could but have seen her father, or have received one kind line from him.

She lived on, from day to day, scarcely a mile distant from Fairlawn, little dreaming of the great excitement her disappearance had evoked, and that her fate was wrapped in the profoundest mystery, while her father was almost distracted over the matter.

The events that transpired in the outer world never penetrated the walls of the isolated Towers.

Many a time Waldemar Waldron almost cursed himself for not making his marriage known the very hour in which it was solemnized.

There was another and a strong reason why it should have been noised about that he had won the heiress of Fairlawn; he was in debt, and his creditors were pressing him hard for money, and he had not the least notion of where the money was to come from, unless the general helped him out of his scrape, for Reine's sake.

The news that the general intended to sign over his entire fortune to Bernard Cheshigh brought him to a sense of immediate action. Long after the disguised young detective left him he sat pondering the matter over.

It was just as well, perhaps, that he was so pre-occupied; he did not hear the footsteps that crept stealthily past his door, as Donald Gray, who had gained an entrance by means of the front door key which he had quietly abstracted upon leaving, pursued his way back to the suite of rooms in the western wing of the Towers.

Again the young detective paused at the same door, opening it noiselessly as before and found himself once more in the presence of the dark-haired young woman seated in the low rocker.

It was his purpose to question her as to who she was, and what she was doing there.

If he were to breathe his suspicions to her—show her Waldemar Waldron's letters, couched in the tenderest words love could frame, to another—she might through wounded love, rage or jealousy, unite her efforts with him to probe the deep mystery surrounding the disappearance of General Hastings' daughter—that is, if the master of the Towers had anything to do with it.

While he was ruminating the matter over in his own mind, a little white hand suddenly thrust the velvet curtains aside from an inner apartment, and, to the detective's intense amazement and intense joy, the original of the portrait that rested in his breast pocket—General Hastings' lovely young daughter, in the flesh, surely—stood revealed to his astonished gaze.

"Honora," she said, addressing her companion, "you may as well brush out my hair now. I shall not sit up and wait for my husband to-night. Waldemar's hours are so irregular of late that he might not come in until midnight; so I may as well retire at once."

By this the detective judged them rightly to be mistress and maid. He had also made a startling discovery. Waldemar Waldron had married the general's daughter.

"Ah, my lady, you have been crying again," said the girl, bending pitifully over the slender form buried in the cushions of the blue plush armchair. "Brides should smile, not weep. There's time enough for that in after years."

"I know it," replied Reine, thoughtfully. "I would have no cause for one heart pang if papa would only answer my letters, and say that he forgives me for eloping with Waldemar on my bridal eve. I have written him again," she continued, drawing a dainty, cream-tinted envelope from her pocket, "begging him to pardon Waldemar and me. We are so happy together."

"I hope he will, my lady," said Honora, earnestly. "It's a pitiful thing to be estranged from one's family on account of marriage. Husbands are so fickle nowadays, a girl never knows when she has to fall back on those at home for support again. There, there, now," she continued, "I know in my blunt way I'd be sure to say something to offend you. I don't mean anything amiss, though, Mrs. Waldron. Your husband will never prove fickle and false to you. He perfectly adores you."

Reine looked up and smiled through her tears.

"Yes, Waldemar is fond of me," said Reine, thoughtfully, as though persistently assuring herself of the fact.

"Do not forget to remind me to-morrow morning to give this letter to my husband to mail to papa," she said, rising and placing the cream-tinted missive on the marble table.

"I shall not need you any more to-night, Honora. You may as well retire."

With these words she passed out of sight behind the sweeping folds of heavy velvet that shut out the interior of the inner apartment from view.

Imagining herself quite alone, the maid picked up the envelope, glancing curiously at the superscription.

"General Hastings, Fairlawn," she muttered, under her breath. "Why, I have often heard and read of him. I want to know if she really belongs to that great family. Well, her husband's as much of a scamp as her father is a gentleman. Only married a fortnight, and making eyes at respectable maids every time his bride's back is turned. If it wasn't for revealing his meanness before her, I'd tell him just what I thought of him in a few sharp, stinging words. It makes my Scotch blood boil to see

The Locust.

The song of the locust is louder when bad weather is imminent than at other times. In the rural districts this sign is regarded as exceedingly favorable for a change of weather for the worse.

Human Hair Stockings.

When a child's hair is shaved in northern China the hair is preserved in a special hair box of lacquer. As soon as the box is full enough the hair is taken from it and a pair of stockings woven. Such stockings have almost religious value, and they are rarely parted with.

Tree Barometers.

The fall of dead branches from a tree is an excellent sign of an approaching storm. The dead wood, much decayed, absorbs moisture and loses its tenacity, thus causing the branch to fall.

War of the Roses.

In 1455 began in England the "War of the Roses," a contest for the throne between the house of Lancaster and York, which continued until 1486. Red roses were worn by the followers of Lancaster and white roses by the defenders of York.

Spider Silk.

The silk with which spiders weave their webs is a thick, glutinous, transparent liquid like a solution of gum arabic. It hardens quickly when drawn into threads and exposed to the air.

It Comes to the Surface in the Form of Pimples, Boils, Rashes and Humors.

Where the blood is weak and degraded the system lacks staying power and force. Frightful ulcers and unsightly blotches break out, the skin becomes yellow and muddy, the eyes lack lustre.

Reader, does YOUR blood need attention? If so get Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once; they filter out all poisons, eliminate disease-making germs, nourish and re-vitalize every drop of blood in the body.

No medicine exerts such a marvellous influence for good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they clear the complexion, make it exquisitely beautiful; they cure pimples, rashes and skin troubles of every kind. Read the following carefully:

No Appetite—Bad Color—Generx Debility

"I was run down," writes Mr. Albert E. Hemmel, of Fairhaven P. O. My color was dull and unhealthy, appetite was poor, and constantly suffered from rheumatism.

I found it hard to sleep, and felt worn out and tired all the time. Dr. Hamilton's Pills made an instant change. I grew stronger, my blood was made rich, rheumatism vanished. To-day I am vigorous, cheery and healthy in every respect.

You will never realize what good health means until you feel the quick reviving, vitalizing effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Every tired, overstrained, nervous man and woman should use this grand tonic regularly. Life will then be full of happiness and buoyant health. # LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Nearly one thousand people went from Toronto on the special excursion Tuesday.

—R. Hicks and Co., wood yard, is partly under the water yet. There is still nearly a foot of water in the stable.

—A musicale will be held at Mr. Adam Hall's, London street, on Friday evening, March 30th, at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the Fraser Mission Band.

—In our report of yesterday, of the deplorable electrocution of Mr. R. Gibbs' splendid bay team, we inadvertently described the horses as his grey team. This was owing to similarity of sound over the telephone.

—The Central Ontario Medical Association will hold a meeting in the Ontario Bank chambers this evening at which the officers for the coming year will be elected.

—John McDermott, of Hamilton, was yesterday fined $1 and costs for spitting on the public pavement. If this were followed in Peterboro, the fines would materially reduce the taxes.

—The Lindsay Post yesterday noted that there had been a break in the T. V. C. at Peterboro, and that, in consequence, four engineers of the canal had resigned.

—Geo. Thompson, of Orillia, has received word from Ottawa that he has been appointed postmaster at Orillia. Mr. Thompson is at present manager of the Standard Lumber Company. He was the Liberal candidate in North Ontario in the last Ontario election.

Nothing doing in the Police Court yesterday. Several members of the "Five-cent Rye League," who had been awaiting the opening of the court doors, on discerning this curtailment of their usual morning's amusement, although sadly disappointed, took the matter philosophically and resumed their job of holding up the sun warmed walls of various buildings.

—The Toronto Globe says; Bowmanville passed a bylaw ten years ago to extemp the Dominion Organ Company from taxation. Both parties have kept faith in the matter, but a litigous citizen recently threatened proceedingr to quash the bylaw on a technicality. The private Bills Committee hod a bill to confirm the bylaw before them, and reported it.

Socialists and Labor Union Men Assail Government Savagely.

Toledo, Ohio, March 28.—In a meeting of socialists and labor unionists tonight that would have done credit to a band of anarchists, the American nation and its flag were defiled and law scoffed at in its every form. Thomas Rowe, president of the National Association of Glass Workers, said the American flag was an emblem of slavery.

The meeting was the result of a call issued last week by Eugene Debs regarding the imprisonment of the western miners.

The protest which was adopted requested that the imprisoned miners be released and asked that all labor unionists and workers take the matter in their own hnds, and that if peaceful mishods could not be found to secure their ends that they should use those means which would fit the circ-

Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative values of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

Over 400 Delegates Visit The Capital

Completion of Trent Valley Canal Dependant Partly on Report Made Next Fall, by Surveyors as to Best Route---Strong Arguments Presented.

(Special Staff Correspondence.)

Ottawa, March 30.—Yesterday the huge deputation from Peterboro and other places along the route, or directly interested in the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, at as early a date as possible, numbering over 400, waited on and were affably received by Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, in the Railway Committee room of the Parliament Buildings.

The large room was crowded to its utmost capacity, by one of the largest and most representative deputations that ever visited the Capital. Those present represented twelve counties with a population aggregating from over a quarter of a million people.

The hon. minister regretted that the Premier, through indisposition, was not able to be present, but noted that the Government felt themselves undeniably committed to, not only the Trent Valley canal, but to a policy of fostering the canals of Canada.

To quote Mr. Emmerson's words, "The Government is in the canal business to stay."

The ministers present to receive the deputation were, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, Hon. William Patterson, Minister of Customs, and Hon. C. S. Hyman, Minister of Public Works. The deputation was introduced by Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., West Peterboro.

The memorial, showing so clearly not so much what the section of the Dominion, but the whole country, wants, as what they demand, was presented by Mr. R. J. McLaughlin of Lindsay, on behalf of the deputation, was as follows,

THE MEMORIAL.

The Hon. Minister of Railways and Canals.

Sir,—We represent today twelve counties of Central Ontario, with 1,000 miles of shore line bordering the Trent waters, and more than 300,000 people, and we have the honor to submit for your consideration the following reasons why the Trent Canal should be completed without further delay.

The great Trent valley which extends across the Province of Ontario from northwest to southeast, manifestly in ages past connected the waters of Georgian Bay with those of Lake Ontario. Great stretches of lake and river lie along the whole route.

The distance between these two points is only 203 miles, of which 168 miles are now navigable.

The work which remains to be done presents no unusual engineering difficulties, and for a few millions of dollars, a splendid national waterway can be completed.

The annual saving on coal freights alone to the district served by this waterway will be sufficient to pay the interest on the whole expenditure.

We believe and now affirm that this work is destined to be one of the great lines of grain transportation from the west to the sea, and a more potent regulator of railway corporations, freight rates, car shortages, delays, and discriminations, than the railway commission itself, that most useful and popular creation of the present Government.

Over 5,000,000 of dollars have been invested in the work already done, and to leave that very large sum of money, sealed up and almost useless, as it now is, with the central portion completed, and with two blind ends, would we respectfully urge, be an act of folly unsb as the Laurier Government and yourself as the head of your great department can never contemplate for a moment.

We take it for granted, Sir, that you intend to complete this work. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has told us so, and you have told us so, every minister of railways and canals, who has preceded you, has affirmed that this work must be completed.

Our object in coming here today is not to ask you to renew that promise, but to ask you to finish thiswork now, to let the contracts for the northern and southern portions of the work, and give to Canada a water route for barges, which will forever preserve for us our own carrying trade, and which will direct to the port of Montreal the Canadian and American grain which otherwise is certain to find its way to the port of New York through the Erie canal now under enlargement.

We believe in a large canal.

The depth of water on the lock sills of the Trent waterway will be eight feet four inches.

A deep water canal costing from 80 to 100 millions, is a dream which may be realized some day, but it is too costly to contemplate at the present time.

A steam barge of 800 tons burden towing four consorts in the Trent canal, can handle a cargo of 120,000 bushels, equal to 120 loaded railway cars and can carry grain at 1 1-4 cents per bushel from Midland to Montreal at a good margin of profit, as was proved by evidence taken before the Royal Commission on Transportation at its sessions in Peterboro on the 24th and 25th of March, 1904.

It is a matter of common knowledge that large vessels cost too much when moving long distances at slow rates in confined waters.

The information collected by our neighbors in the United States on this and kindred subjects, is at our disposal and cannot be ignored, and the reasons which have led New York city and the Empire State to vote 101 millions of dollars for the enlargement and improvement of the Erie canal, apply with equal cogency to the completion of our own canal.

The Trent Valley is destined to be the greatest manufacturing section of Canada. Everywhere there is water-power, and the day is rapidly approaching when this water power will be more largely required than at present to manufacture the goods demanded by our vast population in the west.

Since the discovery of the art of smelting iron ore by electricity, the possibilities of the district have vastly increased, for we possess in the district tributary to the Trent canal the finest ore in America in unlimited quantity.

No longer will Pennsylvania hold her supremacy in the iron market by reason of her coal deposits.

Ontario has the iron and the water power, and needs but transportation facilities to bring the two together, and these form the foundation of a national asset, second only to the teeming wheat fields of the west.

The Trent route, measuring from Sault Ste. Marie, and counting the return trip is 500 miles shorter than the Erie canal route.

This landscap in our favor, is sufficient to make Montreal the greatest export city on the American continent if we only use the advantageous features which nature has provided.

The great railways are making preparation to handle the immense volume of grain which will soon find its way to Georgian Bay ports.

The C.P.R. is building a parallel road through the same territory which is called the Trent Valley, but what, we ask, is the Government doing?

As Sir William Van Horne has remarked, "The hopper is full; but the spouts are too small." While, then, the great corporations are preparing to cope with the future, let us be equally far sighted, and seize now the opportunity to finish this work which will do much to secure cheaper carriage and better prices for the western farmer.

Georgian Bay is the point where the grain will be focussed.

The railways are all securing harbors and building elevators there, and everything we can do to relieve the situation at that point has a national importance.

Eastern Canada relies upon the Intercolonial Railway, to which you have devoted so much care and attention, and we are satisfied that the Government should so administer that railway as to make it a bond between the east and west, and a regulator of traffic for the benefit of our people down by the sea.

The benefits of that national highway do not directly touch us in Ontario, but the same reasons which justify the building and operating of the Intercolonial, justify you in giving us the Trent Canal, for it also is one of the great links which helps to bind the east and west together. Its objects are national and patriotic, and the Government which completes this great work, will receive the universal commendation of the business men of Canada.

NO COAL FAMINE IF STRIKE

9,000,000 TONS OF ANTHRACITE IN STORAGE YARDS.

Pennsylvania Companies Make Elaborate Preparations for Emergencies and in Case of Labor Crisis There Will be no Inconvenience as to Fuel Such as Followed Walkout of 1902.

New York, March 29.—There is now on hand within a radius of less than 100 miles of New York City a reserve supply of more than 9,000,000 tons good marketable grades of anthracite coal. This is held by the coal operators in addition to the enormous supplies held by the dealers and larger consumers. The operators are prepared to fully protect themselves and the public against any contingency.

In accumulating this vast store of coal an army of men and the latest mechanical and engineering improvements have been steadily employed for months. Storage facilities have been increased largely, in some cases by the leasing of farms along the route of railroads. Many of these spots are isolated but they are within easy transportation distance from New York.

FOURTEEN MOUNTAINS OF COAL.

One of the largest of these storage yards in the immediate neighborhood of New York City is the South Plainfield yard of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company. Here fourteen mountains of coal, each 75 to 80 feet high, with a base of 275 to 300 feet, now contain nearly 500,000 tons, and this supply is being added to at a rate that can be increased at any time to 6,000 tons a day. Immense steel trimmers 90 feet in height at the apex add to the supply in each pile at the rate of five tons per minute, while the endless chains of horizontal pivotal reloaders fill cars at the rate of two tons a minute. Three locomotives are kept busy placing cars to be loaded or unloaded. The yard contains 70 acres, about 50 of which are covered with coal.

At Rochelle Park, N. J., the Erie Railroad has a yard containing at this time over 350,000 tons and its capacity is being increased by the installation of additional trackage. At this plant the cars are moved about by a complete cable system that dispenses with the use of locomotives after a car has been placed in the yard limits.

At South Amboy, N. J., is one of the main storage yards of the Pennsylvania System, and its capacity of 200,000 tons is at this time being tested to the fullest extent. Near Hampton Junction the Central Railroad of New Jersey has accumulated something more than 200,000 tons of anthracite.

At Abrams, Pa., the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company has one of the largest coal yards in the country and its limits now contain at least 500,000 tons.

LARGEST YARDS AT McCLELLAN.

Probably the largest coal storage yard in the country is that of the Susquehanna Coal Co., at McClellan, Pa. Its capacity is far in excess of 500,000 tons and during these recent dull weeks in the coal trade a continuous stream of cars has added to the supply usually maintained.

These are the largest plants, and many of the coal roads have erected temporary bases of supply containing quantities varying from 50,000 tons to 100,000 tons.

While the railroads themselves have been thus active, the larger coal consumers have not been asleep. This is indicated by the full piles of the New York Edison Co. at Shady Side, N. J., just across the Hudson from New York City, where an electric sign so large that residents of Riverside Drive may read it, tells of a capacity of 200,000 tons.

A STRANGE SIGHT

Five Smashed Up Engines Passed Through the City Yesterday.

Shortly after the dinner hour yesterday, those people in the vicinity of the G.T.R. station saw a peculiar phase of railroad life.

A G.T.R. engine was hauling five engines that are fit subjects for a railway engine hospital. They were the knocked out remnants of two recent accidents.

They were from the smash-up at South River, where an emigrant train crashed into a double-headed freight. The three were almost complete wrecks. The other two engines were in a wreck at Bracebridge, and are almost as badly damaged.

The outfit is on its way to Montreal, where the engines will be repaired. The speed is necessarily very slow, the rate assigned to the train crew being 10 miles an hour.

PETERBORO'S POETESS

Toronto News Pays Well Deserved Tribute to Late Miss Crawford.

The Toronto News says editorially, yesterday; It would be interesting to know how many Canadians have read the little, paper covered book, "Old Spookses' Pass, Malcolm's Katie, and Other Poems," which Marion Crawford published in the year, 1884. The volume is small. But within may be found, glowing and unfaded, a wealth of poetical inspiration which no one ever offered to the world more generously than this woman poet, who was left without companionship while she lived, and when she died carried away with her undiminished gifts so rare that she could hardly find herself without influence in any company, even of those whom we call immortals. A complete edition of her poems have been published within the last few months by William Briggs of Toronto. The book, which is edited "The Collected Poems of Isabella Valancy Crawford," contains eighty-six selections, of which fifty-two appear for the first time in permanent form. Mr. J. W. Garvin, of Peterboro, has edited the volume, and Miss Wetherald, author of "The House of the Trees," and "The Rebellion Road," has written a memoir. Editor and publisher alike are to be congratulated upon the appearance of this book of poetry, since by its publication a duty has been performed for which everyone must agree Miss Crawford's poems have waited too long.

Miss Crawford's personality is the rarest and most arresting in the short annals of Canadian letters. Her early death, lack of deserved appraise and early death, lend a touching interest to her memory. But her fame as a poet does not rest on these things. It is established by depth, brilliance and freedom of her published writings. Those who read carefully the Collected Poems will discover for themselves how wide a field her genius had to work in, and how variously it was expressed. But the reading of a single poem—such a one as that for which Miss Crawford chose the grotesquely simple title, "Old Spookses' Pass"—is sufficient to show in what a region of elevated and ample imagination she built her poems, and with what noble optimism she looked on life. Evil and good in the world were to her the means by which we may overcome the laborious, but in the end most happy ascent to perfection.

One or two persons still living in Toronto knew Miss Crawford intimately. They speak of her amiability, her intense love for her nearest relatives, her lack of self-absorption, her belief in her own powers, united with a good tempered tolerance of the fact that her genius was not generally recognized by those about her. Although she was solitary, it is plain from what she wrote that her heart was filled with a love, like the love of kindred, for men and women of every degree; and because of this love of her's, as well as for her genius and noble interpretation of the mystery of the world, one may feel sure that her poetry will remain a living influence, possibly even of the most potent influence, in the development of Canadian literature.

THE ROYAL TOUR

Train De Luxe to be Furnished by the Grand Trunk Railway System for H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught for His Tour Through Eastern Canada.

The Royal train that the Grand Trunk Railway System will furnish for Prince Arthur, the distinguished visitor who is coming to Canada next month, will be the finest and most luxurious in the world. It will consist of four cars including a Pullman composite buffet smoking car, a Pullman dining car, Pullman compartment sleeping car and the Grand Trunk private car "Violet." The entire equipment will be a revelation to those accustomed to railway travel.

First in order will come the "Viceroy" the composite car. Twelve deep-leathered—unreclaimed chairs invite the smoker, rivaling in luxurious comfort the lounge in an alcove of the same apartment. Conveniently joining the smoker is a buffet with a barber shop and white tiled bath-room annexed to it. The architecture of the interior of this car is a simplified treatment of the German "Modern Style," the finely grained "Koko" wood being dark brown with a conventional flower motif in marquestry to lend color to the panelling. Blending harmoniously with this the furnishings are of deep olive and crown with the burnished gold metal lamps contrasting effectively with the tout ensemble. A portion of this car is provided for the storage of baggage.

No less attractive will be the second car, the diner "Munroe" which in architectural design and beauty is entirely different to the "Viceroy." Here the Flemish style prevails; the richly carved oak, stained and Antwerp brown, extending in a wainscoting to the lower portion of the ceiling which is squared off, making the car seem like a dining hall of a palace. The lighting of this car is also unique, for besides the electroliers in the ceiling, a small candelabrum branches over each of the ten tables, and antique lamps are hung at intervals along the sides of the car. Third in succession, but equal in beauty will be a Pullman compartment sleeping car containing seven communicating state rooms and two drawing rooms. Each compartment has its individual color scheme and furnishings, and its complete toilet appertenances each rivaling its neighbor in exquisite furnishings. Covering the floors of these three cars is heavy "Wilton" carpet of exquisite designs and of a color to harmonize with the surroundings.

The three cars referred to above were awarded the Grand Prix at the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904, and are conceded to be the handsomest, most luxurious and comfortable in the world. The last car on the train will be the "Violet," the handsome private car built for Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, K.C.M.G., C.B., president of the Grand Trunk Railway System, and will be occupied by Prince Arthur and his equerry. In addition to its beautiful architectural design, the richness of its furnishing, the large, comfortable bedrooms, the roomy dining-room and spacious cosy observation end, and its interior air of elegance, it is a car which offers all the requirements for comfort and ease in travelling. Two of the rooms in the "Violet" are supplied with baths, cleverly concealed from view in the floor of the car. A library containing the latest books has been installed, and everything that will tend to make the Prince's visit while on the Grand Trunk a pleasant one has been done, while a trip over the only double track line in Canada will give the visitors a good impression of Canadian railways.

The entire train will be electrically lighted from power generated in the baggage compartment of the composite car, special turbines and dynamos having been installed for the purpose. A telephone system will be provided, whereby communication can be had by 'phone from one car to the other while train is en route, and while train is standing connection will be made, giving the opportunity of using the local circuit or long distance lines at any point.

The Prince will take the train at Ottawa on April 26th, and will be conveyed by the Grand Trunk from Ottawa to Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara Falls, then back to Montreal; from thence the party will proceed by the Intercolonial Railway for the tour through the Maritime Provinces.

WANTED A DAM

Campbellford Delegates to Ask for Dam at Crow Bay.

The Campbellford Herald says that the deputation sent by the Village council and the Board of Trade on the waterway question, will approach the Government for a substantial grant towards the building of a dam at Crow Bay. If the canal is constructed by the Trenton route, a large dam would be needed at that point and it might serve to supply power for an electric light plant for the town. The Government, however, has not committed itself to this or any route but it is hoped that the project will be successful.

METHODISTS TO BUILD

A New Church in the Village of Campbellford.

The Campbellford Herald says;

At a meeting of the Methodist Trustee Board on Monday night it was decided to advertise for tenders for the erection of a church and Sunday school annexes on the site of the old church. This delegation consisting of Messrs. G. W. Turner and J. A. Irwin, went to inspect churches which were thought suitable reported in favor of constructing a church similar to one erected last year at Goderich, and tenders are asked for a similar church, means the basement.

Defended the New Liquor License Bill

Important Statements Made by Leaders of the Government as to Their Belief in the Fairness of the Proposed Measure.

Toronto, March 30.—Premier Whitney and Hon. Mr. Hanna, provincial secretary, yesterday listened to the views on a deputation of 150 members of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance, on the new liquor bill, and in replying to their arguments defended the new bill as fair to all parties. For this stand the Premier stated that he expected to be traduced, sneered at and met with vituperation, but he said; "We will continue to place our trust where it lies now, and where our power comes from; the opinion of the great mass of the people of this province."

THE PREMIER'S QUESTION.

"Our bill puts the liquor men in the same position as the temperance people, does it not?" asked the Premier.

"We don't want them put there," returned Mr. Spence.

"But it does put them there and enables a temperance minority to keep the law in force," persisted Mr. Whitney. "You will have to speak of the old's operations both ways."

Mr. Spence went on to condemn the bad temperance legislation proposed by the late Government which had been denounced by the Alliance, and he quoted the Premier's remarks in regard to the Ross policy.

Rev. S. D. Chown, D.D., reiterated the Alliance view that total prohibition was the only cure for the evil, but assured the Government that this was not being urged now. A reduction in the number of licenses, the abolition of bars, drinking in clubs, and the treating system were all things which were in line with the sentiment of the day and might have formed part of the bill. Especially was he sorry to see that there was no provision whatever for a reduction in number of licensed places.

THE PREMIER'S REPLY.

The Premier reminded the deputation that there were other great moral questions beside the one they were chiefly interested in, and that one of these could not be separated and dealt with irrespective of the others. One moral question, no matter how great, could not dominate all the others. While conditions remain as they are it would be as vain to expect this as to expect oil and water to mix.

"The members of this Government are second to none in a thorough appreciation of the evils of the traffic, and an earnest, industrious and untiring effort to do all they can to minimize these evils. We know we will be traduced, sneered at and met with vituperation, as in the last two days. We know we will not get it here, but we do not care about what we do get, knowing its source. We will continue to place our trust where it lies now, and where our power comes from, the opinion of the great mass of the people of this province."

Two to per cent. and two-year clauses were dealt with by the Premier along the same lines as by Mr. Hanna.

Mr. Whitney expressed his surprise that more municipalities did not follow the example of one in his own county, where local option had been in force for over twenty years, and yet a vote had never been taken. All a council had to do was to pass a resolution raising the fees and saying there should be only one or two licenses.

"We will have your opponents here next week, and expect them also to tell us how bad our bill is. We intend to do our duty, and to come to a reasonable, fair and just conclusion."

ODDFELLOW'S FUNERAL

Local Brethren of the Mystic Links Attend Late Mr. McWilliams Funeral.

Nearly fifty of the local brethern, I.O.O.F., attended the funeral of the late Mr. Jas. McWilliams, from his late residence, 7 Romaine street to the Little Lake cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, had charge of the obsequies.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. G. Potter. Among the floral tributes was a wreath made in the form of three links, the emblem of Oddfellowship.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Robert Murdoff, E. Nicholl, Thomas Detcher, W. Mason, H. Sills and C. Parry.

LINDSAY MAN KICKS

Bridegroom From Scugogville Thinks Hotels Should Only Charge One Dollar Per Day.

A newly married couple arrived in the city on Wednesday night, and registered at a local hotel. The couple spent the night and had breakfast. When he had arranged to take the morning train for Lindsay, with his wife, the brand-new husband was horrified to find that among the dissipations of city life there are hotels which charge more than the usual $1 per day. He made a strenuous kick over putting up $1.50 for the accommodation afforded himself and bride. In fact, to show his cosmopolitan knowledge of hotel life, the groom stated he had once been in Toronto, and he knew that no hotels ever charge more than $1 a day.

The genial boniface settled the argument by remarking that, under the circumstances, double the price would be cheap.

The price demanded was paid and the happy couple departed with their carpet bag and strong opinions of Peterboro hotels, which swindle the travelling public and married couples out of more than $1 per day.

SOME REQUESTS FROM HAMILTON

Hamilton, March 30—At a meeting of the Hamilton Licensed Victualers' Association it was decided to send a deputation to Toronto to wait on Provincial Secretary Hanna, and ask for a Lower License fee than the one proposed by the new bill. A protest will be offered against licensing barbecues, and a plea will be made for shorter hours. The hotel men will ask that bars be allowed to be open until midnight every night, except Saturday and Sunday, and that on Saturday night the hour be 10 o'clock.

WHY SO WEARY?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous

You have to work hard. This uses up lots of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. Somehow you must get more vitality. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from over-powering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight backing cough also added to my burden.

"My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 56, I consider Ferrozone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE "FONETIK" TALKS

"Fonetik spelling" has been a fad with certain classes of would-be educators for half a century or more. It has been advocated by some learned professors, by some unlearned ones, by persons who could never learn to spell correctly, by others too lazy to learn, and by many sincere persons who believed that the adoption of the radical changes proposed by advocates of the "fonetik" system would be a blessing to humanity, a saving of space in books, newspapers, and other publications, and a great improvement upon present methods of English orthography. But, somehow, the movement has never become very popular among people of the English-speaking race. They have looked upon the efforts in behalf of "spelling reform" in an amused way, and rather more as a joke than as a serious attempt to accomplish beneficial results. They have persistently clung to the accepted orthography of the great majority of words, refusing to be beguiled into the shorter but rougher path of "fonetiks." Down to the present time the labors that have been expended in this particular line of "reform" have not been crowned with any alarming degree of success.

Some time ago a "board of educators" was formed in New York, with Brander Matthews as its president, to introduce certain changes in spelling. Prof. Matthews expressed himself as being much pleased with the progress made thus far, and says the movement has not met with the storm of criticism and dissent which he expected. Perhaps this is because of the fact that the board of which he is the head has done little or nothing to attract general attention, and few people are aware of its existence. The criticism and dissent will come fast enough when serious attempts are made to put the phonetic system into practice.

Prof. Matthews thinks that it is "an atrocious inconsistency that the most practical people in the world should have the worst spelling." Dr. Charles P. Scott, secretary of the simplified spelling board, believes that the best way to regulate spelling is "by a campaign of education rather than by forcing changes on the public." He declares, further, that his board proposes "to place spelling on the same plane with everything else. We alter our houses," he says, "our clothes, and we even change our religion. Spelling is no more sacred than religion. We want to take the English language and regulate and simplify it, and remove the abnormities. We think it wrong to be teaching the perverse spelling that oddens the brains of the children. We expect in time to spell 'definite' without the 'a,' 'philosophy' with two 'f's' ('filosofy'), and in general to do away with the 'gh's' and 'ph's' that worry children."

It is extremely doubtful whether the phonetic system can be brought into general use, for several generations, at least. The English language, whether spoken or written, is not susceptible to violent changes. Its orthography is slowly changing, new words are added, and old ones are discarded, from year to year, from age to age. But the radical changes which these "reformers" would introduce are not "persons grata" to the majority of English speakers and writers, and their adoption (if they be adopted at all) will be of slow accomplishment. The spelling of English words today is so different from the spelling of the same words in the days of Chaucer, or the days of Shakespeare, that their identity is hardly recognizable in many cases. Within the remembrance of men not yet so far past middle age as to be denominated old, there have been marked changes in the orthography of many words. But these changes are evolutionary rather than revolutionary. Evolution of the language is steady, practicable and inevitable. So violent a revolution as the phonetic system would bring will not be tolerated until there shall have been some radical change of public sentiment on the subject.

Every word in the language has a character, and individuality and a genealogy of its own. Words are not mere senseless things. They have features, expression, associations and often rare beauty. They are like old friends—and some are like old foes. "Fonetiks" would rob them of all these characteristics and would reduce them to the dull level of the commonplace. In numberless instances their derivation would be lost—and this would be a loss which the philologist could not easily forgive. Our beautiful and resourceful language would resemble Volapuk, or Welsh, or the impossible Polack orthography. We are getting along tolerably well at present, and perhaps it will be best "to let well enough alone."

Insurance Rates Go Up.

Chicago, March 29.—The grand lodge officers of the Ancient Order of United Workmen decided yesterday at a meeting here to raise the insurance rates of the order for members more than 65 years old. The increase will make the rates 25 per cent. higher than at present. The cause of the action was the inability to meet death claims that have accrued during the past three months.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as "21 The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maid in Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

such a pretty, trusting young wife made such a fool of as he is making of her. I shall always believe, after this, the stories of the ill-starred results of runaway marriages. She'd better have died than eloped with Waldemar Waldron."

She laid the letter down on the table again, took up a silver lamp, and the next moment had left the room.

It was but the work of an instant for the young detective to glide from his place of concealment, and secure the coveted letter, in Reine's own handwriting, addressed to the general.

No wonder the young detective's heart throbbed exultantly as he neared Fairlawn. His fame and success were assured things now; he had worked up successfully the great case of the day, that was agitating the public mind. He had solved the great mystery concerning the general's lovely young daughter, and had traced her whereabouts.

Bernard Chesleigh was sitting alone in the library when Gray entered unannounced. The moment their eyes met the young lawyer knew he had news for him.

"You have found her?" he asked, interrogatively, motioning Donald Gray to a seat opposite him. "Tell me all," he said, hoarsely, his handsome, noble face paling and flushing by turns. "I can bear anything but suspense."

"I have found the general's daughter, sir," said the detective. "I have been in her presence."

"Where is she?" gasped Bernard Chesleigh, in the greatest excitement. "Tell me quickly—is she alive and well?"

"She is alive and well, sir," responded the detective; "and is at this moment an inmate of Waldron Towers—the wedded wife of its master, Waldemar Waldron. It was with him she eloped on the night she was to have been wedded to you, sir."

"That has been my secret fear from the first," groaned Chesleigh. "Poor, little, tender Reine that villain's wife! No more cruel fate could have been meted out to her. Better had you found her lying cold in death in her coffin. Poor girl! she has sought death in life. I wonder how the general will bear this; she was the darling of his heart—his pride. This will be a sad blow to him."

There was no need to wonder how the news should be broken to the old soldier, for, glancing up suddenly, they saw him standing before them in the doorway like a marble statue. He had heard all that had passed between them, but neither a groan nor a sigh had escaped his ashen lips.

Married, was she! and to the man he detested! She had defied him, and fled with the lover whom he had sent away. Standing there, he remembered the vow he had made to Waldemar Waldron—"If my daughter marries you, not one dollar of my money shall she have. I'll leave it first to the paupers in the almshouse."

Bernard Chesleigh rose suddenly to his feet, advancing anxiously toward the general; but the old soldier waved him away.

"Leave me alone," he said, hoarsely. "It is the greatest kindness you can do me, to leave me by myself to fight out this fierce battle."

Not a muscle of his face moved as the detective laid the letter, in his darling's well-known, delicate chirography, before him; nor did his face soften when he had read that piteous appeal for forgiveness to the very end.

"She defied me, and chose that villain!" he said, harshly, as he locked the letter carefully out of sight in his private desk. He had loved her well, but never could he overlook this. In the future—he had no daughter.

By noon the next day the romantic story of Reine Hastings' marriage was flashed broadcast over the wires. It created a profound sensation. Women, of course, took sides with the lovely young bride who had fled with the lover she loved best. They said, too, that the old millionaire would be sure to forgive her. But those who knew the stern old general well, answered, "that not even in the hour of death would he pardon her."

CHAPTER XV.

Waldemar Waldron was amazed when he heard the next morning how cleverly the young detective had gained an entrance into the Towers, and had discovered the object of his search there. Still, he comforted himself with the fact that it saved him the trouble of breaking the intelligence in person to the irate old general.

All that day he confidently expected a summons from General Hastings, bidding him bring his wife at once to Fairlawn, but no such summons came. A second and a third day passed; still Reine's father maintained the most rigid silence toward them.

Waldemar Waldron was more disturbed by this line of action than he cared to own. His funds were running low. He should certainly be stranded unless the old gentleman came to his rescue without delay.

Reine was seated in her room that afternoon, when he entered hastily and unexpectedly.

"Have you heard from your father yet, Reine?" he asked anxiously.

Her fair face flushed with pleasure to see how earnestly he desired a reconciliation with her dear father. Ah, how kind of heart her handsome Waldemar was!

"No, dear," she answered, crossing over to the divan upon which he had flung himself, and twining her white arms round his neck in a caressing, pretty fashion.

"Hadn't you better write again?" he interrogated, impatiently.

A lovely smile dimpled the crimson [illegible] up to flushed lips as she rested her writing-desk at once and began another letter to the father who had so idolized her in the past.

Waldemar watched the white hand gliding swiftly over the page, and the lovely golden head bent over it; but it was not of her beauty he was thinking just then.

He was wondering in what words he should broach the subject of money to her, when she gave him the very opportunity he desired.

"Shall I tell papa we are going on a bridal tour, and if he wants to see me—and you, too, dear—that he must send for us at once?"

A deep sigh broke from his lips, and he covered his face with his hands.

"I fear we shall have to postpone it, my darling," he said; and then he told the same old story that is on the generality of men's tongues' end; that he had endorsed a note for a man, and now he had it to pay, and if he could not raise the amount ruin stared him in the face. It was always a man's supposed friend who beat him.

Poor Reine's lovely face grew white as a lily leaf with fear.

"Oh, Waldemar, you are so kind-hearted; of course, you couldn't refuse your friend. But, oh, what a predicament it leaves you in!"

Suddenly her lovely face brightened.

Feathers.

The naturalists declare that the feathers of birds are simply modified hairs.

Languages.

It is estimated that since the "confounding of languages" at Babel there have been something like 5,000 different forms of speech. This estimate reckons 1,500 distinct languages and 3,500 colloquials.

Teeth of the Sea Wolf.

The stones that were formerly passed from hand to hand as being the gems found in the head of the toad were fossil teeth of the sea wolf.

Fanciful Titles.

The titles of Jewish rabbinical writings are often fanciful. One commentary is called "The Heart of Aaron," the introduction to the Talmud is the "Bones of Joseph," and other treatises are termed "Garden of Nuts" and "Golden Apples."

Niagara.

It is estimated that the cataract of Niagara is 31,000 years old. The height of the falls was at one period 420 feet. It is now 160 feet.

Ancient Razors.

Many razors have been found in the ruins of Pompeii. They are of different shapes, some resembling knives, others being not unlike the razors of the present day. The barber shops of antiquity were also provided with bottles of perfume and boxes of pomatum.

The Caspian Sea.

The largest body of water in the world having no outlet in the ocean is the Caspian sea, it being 18,000 square miles in extent.

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of 10c cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

A SERIOUS CHARGE

Monaghan Farmer Tried Today for Cruelty to Cattle.

This afternoon, before County Magistrate Edmison, in the court house, a North Monaghan farmer, residing near the city will answer to a charge of cruelty to animals. It is alleged that six of his cattle were absolutely starved the death, whilst any amount of turnips, grain, hay and straw were stored in his barn. It is further said that his dogs were seen feeding on the carcases of his starved stock, and that other cattle still living are simply walking bone yards.

LOCAL ATHLETICS

It is Proposed to Form a Peterboro Athletic Association.

Some of Peterboro's most prominent advocates of athletics and outdoor sports of all kinds are now energetically advocating the formation of a local athletic club.

It is proposed to have this club a genuine substance not a shadow or thing on paper. Those at the back of this idea strongly advocate the erection of a handsome club house, so that members of the proposed club may have a home of their own, and that, by congregating at one common centre be encouraged to take practical and real interest in the objects of the same.

The plan is a good one and should be encouraged in every tangible way by those having the welfare of Peterboro's progress, but more to promoting the training up in our growing youth, at part.

Where we are, not yet, at liberty to name those at the back of the most commendable idea, we might say that the proposition has already attained such proportions that a site for the club house has been suggested, viz., on the fine grounds on Havelock park. This location seems most admirably adapted to the purpose; the position is central, the grounds are, in every respect suited to the requirements of athletic practices and contests; the location is healthy and a good swimming bath could, at little cost be placed at the river's edge, and a good revenue from gate receipts would follow on the joint work of club members, at every contest or games.

The proposed club house would likely be a three-storey building, with gymnasium, baths, club rooms, billiard parlors, libraries, boat house, etc. It would be a building which the rapid expansion of Peterboro has made necessary and there are hundreds of young men who would go there rather than promenade the streets at night, and there would be no difficulty in securing about five hundred members for a start.

"It's a good thing, push it along".

MR. ROGER'S SUCCESSOR

It is Rumored That Mr. E. J. Walsh Will Take Charge of T. V. C.

The Globe's Ottawa Correspondent says:—

It is reported that Mr. E. J. Walsh, C.E., will tomorrow be appointed superintending engineer of the Trent Valley Canal in place of Mr. R. B. Rogers. Mr. Walsh has for some time been in the employ of the Government and has been engaged in making a survey of the Trent Canal.

Absorbed by Peterboro Concern.

Lindsay Post: The tent and awning business we announced as being one of Lindsay's new enterprises, has already been absorbed. On Monday Mr. J. J. Turner, of Turner & Sons, Peterboro, came to town and made such terms with Mr. Wesley that his business was closed up in town, and he will resume his position with the Peterboro firm, who value his services too much to lose him. There are enough Turners in the Peterboro concern to spare us one of the enterprising chips off the old block and so give Lindsay a prosperous tent and awning factory.

NEW ASSOCIATION

Conservatives of Lakefield to Organize Tonight.

The Liberal-Conservatives of Lakefield, are getting busy and putting on their fighting armor, preparatory to the next great political battle.

An organization meeting for the purpose of forming a branch of the Liberal-Conservative Association in this riding will be held tonight in the Lakefield town hall, when Mr. J. P. Downey, M.P.P., of South Wellington, will deliver an address.

It is expected that a large number of local Conservatives will attend by taking the bus which will leave the Young Conservative Club rooms, George street, this evening at 6.30 o'clock.

Mr. Downey is one of the cleverest and brightest speakers in the province and a leading member of the legislature. He has been heard in Peterboro, and the address tonight in Lakefield, will doubtless be as able, logical and interesting as those delivered in other parts of the province.

As a speaker he is in greater demand than possibly any other member of the Government benches at Toronto. The hall is free to all desiring to take in the meeting.

Ensnaring Victims

Steps Should be Taken at Once to Prevent Further Trouble.

Here in Peterboro, as in other cities and towns, dyspepsia or stomach troubles are ensnaring victims in a most insidious way.

Nearly every mother's son of us and daughter, too, expects the stomach to accustom itself to all manner of ill-treatment, but the time comes when we cannot abuse it with impunity. How much better it would be to take steps at once to strengthen the stomach and prevent further trouble.

Use Mi-o-na now and soothe the irritated walls of the stomach. Add strengthen the gastric follicles so that they will pour out their daily supply of digestive materials with regularity. Then the headaches, sleeplessness, specks before the eyes, poor appetite, tired feelings and nervousness will disappear, and you can eat what you want at any time you like.

Mi-o-na is a combination of remedies, some of which are but little known in this country, and is a positive guaranteed cure for all diseases of the stomach excepting cancer.

Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box before meals, for a few days, and you will soon regain perfect health and strength, and have no fear of indigestion or stomach troubles.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The A. T. Booth Company, Illinois, U. S. A.

The Best Guaranty of Merit is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antispasmodic.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

AUSTRALIA SWEPT BY BIG BUSH FIRES

Pupils of School in Flames Heroically Saved by Their Teacher.

(Special Cable.)

Sidney, March 31.

For the second time in the space of two months, vast areas of the country are being swept by bush fires. A million acres between the Lachlan and Murrumbidgee rivers, in New South Wales, were devastated a few weeks ago, and now for some days past the Gippsland district of Victoria has been ablaze. Many lives have been lost and hundreds of homesteads, farm buildings and schools, together with numberless cattle, have been destroyed. The disaster is unprecedented in Australian history.

Many tales of heroic rescues are told. At one place in Gippsland the flames swept up to a school in which were eighteen children. The buildings were quickly in flames, but the teacher hurried his class into the garden, made them lie down and covered them with blankets. These he saturated with water from a tank, passing repeatedly through the flames to fetch the water. He was seriously injured, but succeeded in saving all the children.

A farmer, finding the fire unexpectedly upon him, stripped himself to the waist, and with his wife, his daughter, and a baby, fought his way with a flail through the burning bush.

Two farmers carried a delirious comrade for several miles through flames and smoke. A little girl, trying to protect her baby sister from the flames, had her own clothes set on fire. She tore them off, stamped out the sparks and wrapped the clothes round her little sister. She was terribly burned, but saved the baby's life.

MANY WANT TO WED CONVICT'S COMPANION

Woman Who Accompanied Absconding Bank Clerk Heroine of Day in Paris.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 31.

Calestine Merelli, the absconding bank clerk Galley's companion in his flight to Brazil, is still a popular heroine, and is receiving hundreds of letters daily. They come from clerks, engineers, lion tamers, and would-be borrowers, and Merelli has shown a few of them to a reporter of the Matin.

Many are couched in verse. One would-be suitor declares in metre: "Poor little bird, pursued without mercy, I am titled, rich and powerful, and I will cover you with gems and kisses." But the writer has turned out to be merely a humble engineer.

"I am the lion tamer Emmanuel," runs another letter. "My reputation is world wide. I offer you wonderful lions, very quiet, and capable of being controlled by a woman. We will announce 'La Merelli and her lions, the gift of the Bey of Tunis.' We shall make much money."

A letter from Galley tells Merelli that he sees a "field open to his activity" in French Guiana. "Perhaps I might get to be manager of a bank or of a theatre there. Alors, au diable l'Europe."

CAPTIVE ON ICE.

Large Field, Forced Away by Storm, Carries Off Fishermen and Property.

(Special Cable.)

St. Petersburg, March 31.—An agency sends particulars of the breaking away of an immense ice field in consequence of a great storm in the Gulf of Finland.

It was forced away from the Esthonian shore, with 1,500 fishermen and their property on it. On the same day 130 men, with fifty horses, were taken off near the lighthouse station of Somerzi, among the Finnish cliffs.

Since then further groups of fishermen have been forced onward to the same point. The total saved until March 3 was 350 men, with seventy-five horses, and they have been landed at Friedrichsham.

A subsequent telegram from Cronstadt says that the ice-breaker Ermak has left the port of Sormesi to take those who have been landed.

RECENT HALTING PLACES OF THE PRINCE OF WALES

The Prince of Wales has already completed one section of his great 10,000-mile tour in Calcutta, whence he left for Burmah on January 10. By the official programme he was to resume his tour by means of the great railway system of India at Madras. All this gigantic journey will be made in the special train with which the royal party has now become familiar. The new train was specially constructed in the carriage works of the East Indian Railway at Lillooah, near Calcutta. It consists of nine coaches, two of which are royal saloons; three cars for the staff, one dining car, one kitchen car and two brake vans. With the exception of the last-named, the coaches are seventy-one feet in length and run on six-wheel bogies. The entire train is 630 feet long, and is completely vestibuled from end to end. Electric fans and lights add to the comfort of the interior, while special arrangements have been made for keeping the carriages cool. The outside of the train is painted cream color, with mouldings in maroon picked out with fine gold lines, the royal arms being displayed at the ends of the coaches. It is the most elaborate train that has ever been constructed in India.

BOY HELD CAPTIVE BY BAND OF GYPSIES

Kidnapped Ten Years Ago, He Escapes on Reaching Native Village.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 31.

As a gypsy caravan was passing the police station at Mont Rouge yesterday, a boy of fifteen, in acrobat's costume, jumped out and ran into the station, asking to be protected from the gypsies, who had kidnapped him ten years ago.

He said his name was Albert Killinger, and that this was the first time during his ten years' captivity that the gypsy band had passed through his native place.

The boy's parents were sent for, and were overjoyed at the recovery of their lost child. The gypsy leadr, a man named Pardo, and his wife Leonora, were imprisoned.

FAMILY OF FIVE SHOT FOR A DEATH

Killed While Father Was Signing Receipt for Payment of the Money.

(Special Cable.)

Rome, March 31.—A telegram from Ajaccio states that a family of five people has been murdered as the result of a law trial.

The courts had ordered a man named Pola to pay a debt within three days to a neighbor named Bonci. On the third day Pola, accompanied by two men, went to Lenci's house and stated that he had brought the money with him.

He asked that Lenci's family might be present and witnesses to the transaction, and Lenci called in his sister and three daughters.

As Lenci took a pen to sign the receipt for the money the three visitors raised their rifles and fired two volleys, killing the entire family on the spot. The murderers were afterward arrested.

PRINCESS DISAPPEARS.

Imprisoned for Debt, She Was Liberated on Intervention of Relatives.

(Special Cable.)

Geneva, March 31.—Princess Alexandria von Teenburg Dudingen, who was recently imprisoned at Arbon, in the Canton of Thurgovie, for debt, and liberated on the intervention of her relatives and friends, has disappeared and cannot be traced.

The Princess' fad was to buy ancient chateaus and furnish them lavishly on credit. She had made several purchases of this kind in the Canton of Thurgovie, when the police intervened.

NEWSPAPER JUSTIFIES SERVIAN REGICIDES

Says That Assassination of Alexander and Draga Was a Patriotic Act.

(Special Cable.)

Belgrade, March 31.

The new regicide organ, which is named The New Movement, has made its appearance, and must have more than pleased its founders.

The first page contains a harrowing description of the strangulation of the Czar Paul; the appreciative greetings of European sovereigns to his son Alexander, who had been privy to the deed, and the immunity of the executioners.

Further, the journal enlarges on the thoroughness with which the Servian officers accomplished a similarly heroic act, and the noble disinterestedness with which they view the cold attitude of an ungrateful nation. They demand neither public testimonials nor hymns of praise, they only ask to be let alone—but this is denied them.

A group of the late King's sycophants, subventioned by English gold, are said to be poisoning the minds of the people against their deliverers, and trouble is ahead. The executioners of King Alexander do not blush for what they know to have been a patriotic, praiseworthy act; they would do it again for the sake of the fatherland.

The provincial news column is a record of the murders, outrages and robberies so prevalent in Servia under the new regime, so that readers of the New Movement will have occasion to compare and judge between occurrences of this description and the supreme deed of June 11.

By an extraordinary coincidence, the advertisements consist of a surgical apothecary's announcement that he has procured new supplies and the prospectus of a life insurance company.

KILLED BY AVALANCHES.

Many People Meet Death by Accidents on Peaks of Alps.

(Special Cable.)

Geneva, March 31.—A number of persons have been killed by avalanches during the last ten days.

Two Swiss were killed last week in the Canton Grisons. Two Italian smugglers were caught by a sudden fall of snow in the Muretto Pass, and their frozen bodies were discovered twenty-four hours later.

Forty-five workmen employed in the River Loentsch, in Canton Glaris, were overwhelmed by an avalanche from Grundkoff Mountain yesterday. They were carried nearly 100 feet, and many were injured. The workmen's barracks and stables were demolished.

MOTOR FIRE ENGINES.

Municipal Authorities in Berlin to Try a New Experiment.

(Special Cable.)

Berlin, March 31.—The municipal authorities are about to initiate an experiment in the use of motor fire engines in Berlin. Experiments in this direction have already been made in several other German towns.

At Hanover it was found that the annual cost of maintaining such a fire engine amounted to $500 as compared with $3,000 required to maintain a fire engine drawn by two horses. It was also found that the motor fire engine could leave the fire station more quickly and reach its destination with greater speed than the older type.

MODERN ARCHERY.

London, March 31.—No notably good marksmanship was seen at the indoor archery meeting, under the patronage of the Royal Toxophilite Society, at Olympia, yesterday.

The winners were respectively C. J. Perry Keene, with 168 hits, score 724; and Mrs. Spencer, 145 hits, score 672.

Seeing that archery has no possibilities nowadays, except as a select sport, it is not to be wondered at that the skill of the men has decidedly deteriorated.

But the women, according to an expert, have become more skilful. Two of them shot consistently well yesterday.

SACCO BREAKS HIS FORTY-FIVE DAYS' FAST

(Special Cable.)

London, March 24.—Sacco finished his fast of forty-five days at Hengler's Circus this week.

At that hour one of the large windows of his "hunger house" was broken. Mme. Janotha, the famous pianist, handed him a cup of cocoa, and after a few minutes Sacco walked down to the arena of the circus, where several presentations were made to him.

The circus authorities gave him a gold watch, some friends presented him with a diamond money, and Dr. Whitefoord, his medical adviser during the fast, handed him $25.

Then Sacco went home to his hotel in Little Sutton, where a reporter found him yesterday afternoon as he was about to take a stroll.

Sacco's cheeks were sunken and his eyes stared from hollow sockets. His white shirt front seemed to have receded from its proper place, and his waistcoat hung out several inches from his waistband. His thighs felt like a couple of table legs, and his arms were like the drumsticks of an Italian turkey.

SUCCI'S SECRETARY.

While Sacco smoked he explained how it was that he went into the fasting business.

"I was secretary to Succi when he made his great fasts," he said, "and when he retired I thought it was a pity not the business fall through, so I determined to go on the fasting myself."

"But, do you like fasting?" he was asked.

"Business is business," Sacco solemnly replied, shaking his head. "One must do something for a living, and I have a wife and two children at Cologne. I am going to see them as soon as I can get away, and I shall stay with them until my next fast."

Asked if fasting were a remunerative occupation, Sacco gave a hollow laugh, and said that he received $75 before he was sealed up and $50 when he finished his fast. When he had made enough money he would retire.

ERRONEOUS THEORY.

According to a theory which has been put forward, Sacco has succeeded in his fast by defying the ordinary law which says that oxygen is the secret of life. It is said that he was able to live without eating because the air of his cage was so vitiated that he had no appetite.

Sacco shook his head at this idea. He said that he had succeeded in spite of the lack of oxygen, not because of it, and that he believed he could fast longer on fresh air.

"I think of trying an open-air fast at Blackpool this summer," he said.

Sacco had tasted no solid food yesterday, contenting himself with milk, cocoa and eggs.

Sitting stiffly upright, and talking like an automaton, he declared that he felt quite well, but very weak. He never believed that his life was endangered by the fast.

The fasting record had been held previously by Succi, who abstained from food for thirty-nine days at the old Aquarium.

FROM BLACKSMITH TO AN OPERA SINGER

Man Who Worked for 62 Cents a Day Making Fortune by Voice.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 31.—M. Rousseliere, the Paris opera singer, who some years ago worked in a factory at 62 cents per day, has been engaged for a tour in the United States at a guaranteed fee of $1,000 for each evening.

M. Tousselliere's life story is a romantic one. He was a blacksmith, working in a foundry at Sidi-del-Abbes, in Algiers, at the time when M. Gailhard, of the Paris Opera, happened to go over to Algiers to spend a holiday.

M. Gailhard went to see over the foundry, and at the door of one of the shops he came to a standstill, fascinated by the magnificent voice of one of the workmen, who was singing as he plied his hammer on the anvil.

"What is that man's name?" asked M. Gailhard of the proprietor, and on being told he asked to see M. Rousseliere privately. The result was that he undertook the workman's education, and M. Rousseliere has now a larger income than any other opera singer in France.

AGRICULTUBAL CO-OPERATION.

London, March 31.—The farmers of Framlington, Suffolk, who, not quite three years ago formed a co-operative society, have found out the value of combination. In 1903, during the five months that the society was in existence, they sold through it 58,338 eggs. That increased to 468,979 in the following year, and last year to 932,760. During the present year it is expected that 1,200,000 eggs will be disposed of.

KILLS FATHER AND BROTHER FOR MONEY

Capetown, March 31.—For the last four days the whole of South Africa has been talking of nothing but the appalling revelations which have followed upon the disinterment of the body of a farmer named Schaefer, which was found buried in a fowl house on the premises of the murderer, Pierre Basson."

It is now established that Basson, who shot himself on seeing his victim's body exhumed, is responsible for at least nine murders, two of his victims being his father and his brother. Basson was only 25 years old at the time of his death.

GETS LIFE INSURED.

The motive was in every case the same. The murderer selected a victim who was pressed for money, lent him a fairly large sum and obtained his insurance policy as a guarantee of payment.

There seems little doubt that he was born a criminal of the worst type. His father, a fine type of the Cape Huguenot, despaired of his son's vicious tendencies when the latter was only 12 years old. It is related that he once roasted a cat alive over a slow fire, and throughout his childhood was guilty of numerous acts of atrocious cruelty to animals.

POISONS HIS FATHER.

His father, a man of robust health, who had never had an illness in his life, died suddenly on Oct. 15, 1900. No post-mortem was held, though the extraordinary suddenness of the death caused much comment, and there is little doubt that he was poisoned. He was insured for $12,500, the whole of which went to Pierre Basson.

Early in 1900 Basson returned home one day from a fishing expedition, and announced nonchalantly that his brother Jasper had been washed off a rock and drowned. Jasper was insured for $17,000, and it is remarkable that nearly the whole of this amount was in an accident policy, so that if Jasper had died a natural death Pierre would not have benefited.

BRITISH HUNTERS SEE BIG NEST OF PYTHONS

Five of the Snakes are Captured, but a Sixth Makes its Escape.

(Special Cable.)

Madras, March 31.—An extraordinary adventure befell Charles and William Theobald at Mysore while out shooting game yesterday for the Prince of Wales.

Coming across a cavity in the bank of a stream, one of them peeped in and saw something lying there, which, after a few seconds, was recognised as a python.

The mouth of the hole was enlarged to admit the hand, and the snake's tail was seized, and both men tugged as it till the python was dragged out. Then it was seized by the head, round which a piece of cloth was tied.

The Theobalds had another peep into the hole and were surprised to see another python. This also was seen captured and placed with the first.

They were about to leave the place, when a man called out that there was yet another python in the hole. This one, after some tugging, was pulled out and tied, and, to the surprise of the two young men, they found that there were still more left. They hauled the remainder out, with the exception of one, which retreated inward and could not be reached.

Five pythons were captured in all, and they were with difficulty carried to a degrart and brought into Mysore. They are all young and about ten or twelve feet long.

Such a large haul has not been known before.

Lisbon, March 31.—A sensational incident occurred at the Portuguese stock-breeding ranch at Barroosa during a visit of King Carlos and Queen Amelia yesterday.

While a magnificent bull was being exhibited to the royal visitors it broke loose and rushed at the royal carriages.

It missed that in which the King and Queen were seated, but struck the next one, in which there were several lords and ladies in waiting, and overturned it, killing one of the horses.

By a miracle, none of the occupants was injured. The animal was captured before any further damage was done.

HUNGARIAN COUNT ACCUSED OF MURDER

Said to Have Poisoned Woman Relative to Secure Inheritance of $100,000.

(Special Cable.)

Vienna, March 31.—A sensation has been caused in Hungary by the arrest of Count Otto Nayhaus on the charge of having poisoned his relative, Mme. de Benicsky.

Mme. de Benicsky, whose estate he managed, was perhaps the richest woman in Hungary, and she died a fortnight ago under suspicious circumstances. She had taken some soup, which, owing to its peculiar taste, was sent back to the kitchen and given to the dogs. Two of the dogs died shortly afterward, and Mme. de Benicsky died the same night in great pain.

As she was of advanced age, the doctor thought her death was due to natural causes and the body was buried.

The death of the dogs, however, aroused the housekeeper's suspicions, and she communicated with a member of the family. Mme. de Benicsky's body was then exhumed, and traces of arsenic found in the stomach.

Suspicion fell on Count Nayhaus, who had inherited $100,000 under Mme. de Benicsky's will, and an examination of his rooms revealed considerable quantities of arsenic. He declared he bought the poison to kill wolves on the estate, and stoutly denied the charge of murder.

Count Nayhaus comes of an old Prussian noble family, which enjoys the privilege of being allowed to intermarry with royalty. He quarreled with his family and was disinherited.

BISHOP ROBERT BRINDLE

This prelate, who is known as the famous English army chaplain, is Bishop of Nottingham. It was he who received the Princess Ena into the Catholic Church.

THRIFTLESS DUKE HAS STIPEND STOPPED

(Special Cable.)

Berlin, March 31.

Duke Paul Friedrich, of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and his wife, formerly Princess Marie of Windischgraets have been placed under the guardianship of the comptroller of the royal household by their nephew, the reigning Grand Duke.

The scandal has been caused by the ducal pair's passion for travelling, which grew out of Duke Paul's disgust at his exclusion from the Prussian army when he became a Catholic, shortly after his wedding in 1901. His conversion also cost him the succession to the Grand Duchy, which has never had a Catholic ruler.

The Duke's allowance was under $30,000, but expenses were never stinted on his journeys.

The final crash has been brought about by purely family and personal trouble. The reigning family will advance no more money, and Duke Paul's affairs must in consequence be made public.

His debts are said to reach $1,125,000.

Cardiff, March 31.—The education authorities at Penmaenmawr propose to start a class of instruction in cooking for boys intended for a seafaring or colonial life.

CUTTING GIRLS' HAIR THIS STUDENT'S MANIA

Tells Judge That He Cannot Resist the Temptation to Do So.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 31.

A most extraordinary story was told in the Central Criminal Court to-day by Robert Stoss, a student, 22 years of age, who was charged with causing bodily injury, public violence and theft.

These three charges were represented by Stoss having cut off the hair of sixteen young girls in the streets of Berlin.

Evidence was given that Stoss had passed all his examinations with honors and that he had special talent as a mathematician. He was an industrious, well behaved student.

When questioned by the presiding judge, Stoss said that his taste for beautiful, long hair was so intense that he could not resist it. He began cutting off girls' hair the day the Crown Princess made her public entrance into Berlin.

"I cannot explain why I could not resist temptation to cut off girls' hair," he said. "I perpetrated the second offence in November last, when the King of Spain arrived in Berlin, and the girl whose hair was cut off did not notice what had been done.

"What did you do with the hair?" asked the Judge.

"I took it home and kept it in a box labelled 'Reminiscences,'" replied Stoss.

"If you were liberated, would you promise never again to cut off girls' hair?" asked the Judge.

"I cannot promise; I cannot say whether I could resist the temptation," was the reply.

Stoss stated that he tied each trophy with a ribbon and labelled it with the date on which he obtained possession of it.

The court discharged Stoss, his relatives promising to place him under restraint.

WOMAN EXPLORES DARKEST OF AFRICA

Travels Continent From South to North and Thus Establishes a Record.

(Special Cable.)

Cairo, March 31—Miss Mary Hall, the lady explorer, who arrived lately at Krahtoum, after spending about eight months in travelling across Africa from south to north, has just arrived here.

It was about the middle of June last that she started on her journey from Chinde, on the coast of Portuguese East Africa. She had previously journeyed from the Cape to Victoria Falls, so that by the time she arrived in Cairo she would have traversed the whole continent of Africa, and thus achieved a feat unequalled by any other woman.

Starting from Chinde, Miss Hall sailed up the Zambesi and Shire rivers, until she arrived at Port Herald, whence she left by a new railway just opened to Chiromo. From the latter place she was carried on a hammock borne by natives to Blantyre, in Nyassaland, where there is an important Scotch mission and a beautiful cathedral.

From Karonga, on the northwest shore of the lake, she went to Mitata on a hammock, and thence to Abercorn, on the south of Lake Tanganyika. There she had to wait six weeks for a boat to take her across the lake.

After traversing it and visiting French missions (White Fathers) on the way, she crossed through German East Africa to Lake Victoria Nyanza.

During the whole twenty-eight days Miss Hall saw no white people, except two White Fathers missionaries.

HAD NEVER SEEN A WHITE WOMAN.

The women, who had never seen a white woman, would come and sit round her and occasionally feel her clothes. On one occasion her servants had a misunderstanding with the natives, and the latter, armed with spears, assembled as if in battle array.

Miss Hall suspected there there must be some reasons for this, and sent for their chief. After ascertaining the cause of the trouble, she explained away the misunderstanding. The chief was very pleased, and became extremely friendly.

The appearance of the assembled natives with their spears, said Miss Hall, presented against the sky a very fine silhouette.

Shortly after reaching Victoria Nyanza, that part of German East Africa which Miss Hall has just traversed was closed to white men, owing to the uprising of the natives.

At Kampala Miss Hall saw the boy King of Uganda, who has an English tutor, dressed in a jersey suit, with short knickerbockers, playing football.

Pale and Anxious

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated, Muscle and flesh are added, healthy color is restored and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 194 King St. East, Toronto, who says:

"After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would waken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

THE FAMINE IN JAPAN

According to a statement given out by the New York branch of the American National Red Cross, the famine in Japan is one of the most terrible starvation emergencies of modern times. Conservative Japanese estimates place the number of starving Japanese at from 200,000 to 1,000,000. Failure of the rice and other crops owing to excessive rains last summer has caused and is causing great suffering which has been increased by the rigors of an unusually severe winter. It is understood that a commissioner from Japan is now in this country soliciting help and arranging to send food products to his starving countrymen. In Toronto and elsewhere subscriptions are being received for aid.

While the entire civilized world will feel keen sympathy for the Japanese nation in its new adversity, and no doubt the subscriptions will be most liberal, it may not appear selfish or harsh to inquire why there is any necessity for outside help at this time. It is true that the Japanese financial resources were strained by the war with Russia, yet from all that can be learned the amount required to save those hundreds of thousands of starving Japanese is comparatively small. One estimate puts it at $16,000,000, which would allow each individual 10 cents a day for rations—enough, according to the Japanese standard, to tide all the needy over until the new crops can be harvested.

When the Japanese war broke out the nation hesitated not a moment to go into the markets of the world and borrow millions and millions of dollars. Only a little more than a year ago that government authorized a war issue of $150,000,000. At the close of the war Japan was badly in debt but not its credit was still unimpaired. Indeed the close of the war found financial confidence in Japanese securities better than when the issues of the war were somewhat doubtful. To-day Japan could raise the $16,000,000 without much effort and it would be but a drop in the bucket when added to its financial obligations. Instead of borrowing money to save its starving people the Japanese government is talking of issuing bonds to buy the railroads. The public ownership scheme as a national policy is not at this time a matter of discussion. The only thing about it is that public ownership is not an emergency and those advocating it could well afford to wait a year longer if by so doing they could divert some of the money necessary for the scheme to the saving of human lives. Japan should be abundantly able to take care of its own. If it can be shown that it is unable to do so, then not only Canada but Great Britain will come to the rescue.

—Mr. F. J. Daly, of Orillia, some years ago proprietor of the Gamon House, Lindsay, has purchased the Public House at North Bay, that town's leading hotel, and will take possession on April 1st.

Appropriations for Completion of Canal

Will be Made at November Session of Parliament---Hon. Wm. Patterson and Hon. C. S. Hyman will Support the Measures---Minister of Railways and Canals will Stay in Canal Business.

The 400 representative men who waited upon the Minister of Railways and Canals, on Thursday, at Ottawa, and unanimously but firmly asked that the Trent Valley canal be completed at the earliest possible date, have returned home fully satisfied that the Government recognizes the advisability of prosecuting this work without any further delay, other than is absolutely necessary. The big deputation marched in a body from the Russell House to the Railway Committee room of the Parliament Buildings, and one bystander, in commenting on its size, remarked that should Hon. H. R. Emmerson hand out shovels and pickaxes, the deputation was big and strong enough to themselves complete the remaining sections of the canal in quick time.

A pleasing feature of the proceedings was the fact that while two routes from Peterboro to Lake Ontario are being advocated, each and every speaker refrained from touching on the "outlet" phase of the project, and simply urged the completion of this waterway as soon as possible in the interests of the whole Dominion.

The big deputation presented a solid front on this auspicious occasion, worked in harmony, and followed previously their prearranged policy of leaving the question of where the canal's outlet should be with the Government.

The Hon. H. R. Emmerson's reception of the deputation was exceedingly warm and affable, and the result of the interview promises to be highly satisfactory in every way.

THE INTRODUCTION.

At ten o'clock Thursday morning the Minister of Railways and Canals entered the Railway Committee room in company with Hon. Wm. Patterson, Minister of Customs, and Hon. C. S. Hyman, Minister of Public Works. R. R. Hall, M.P. for West Peterboro, introduced the deputation as one composed of men who have devoted a good deal of time with a view to securing the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, before the end of the present administration.

THE MEMORIAL.

Mr. J. W. McLaughlin, K.C., of Lindsay, presented the memorial, and urged the completion of the canal in the interests of not only the districts which this waterway will traverse; but also to the welfare of the Dominion in general, for which the Trent Valley is a transportation center for north-west products. The whole project, Mr. McLaughlin urged, is one of National importance; and the recent visit of the route in question by the Hon. Mr. Emmerson had demonstrated without doubt the advisability of completing the project at the earliest possible moment. We appreciate, he continued, what the Government has already done; Sir Wilfrid has expended already three million dollars on this work, a guarantee that the present Liberal Government realizes the importance of the revenues and national resources of the T.V.C. There is no longer any financial reason why this work should not be completed at once.

We have faith to expect that the growth of the last ten years will be exceeded by the growth of the coming ten years, and we believe the freight and tonnages of this route is ready and waiting, no matter how quickly the remaining sections are finished. We ask for additional speed in completion. The "mouth" should be settled by the Government, and this Parliament should appropriate sufficient funds for the opening of at least one, probably two ends of the canal this year.

THE SPEECHES.

Mr. Barlow Cumberland of Port Hope, made a lengthy and convincing address, and urged the cutting of a 12-foot canal to Peterboro.

Mr. J. M. Kilburn, of Lakefield, pointed out the saving on freight to be realized when the canal is finished, and offered that a company of capitalists would be willing to take the case off the Government's hands, complete the work themselves, and then charge 25 per cent. less freight rates than at present prevailing on railway lines.

Mayor Miller of Orillia, emphasized the fact that the Trent Valley canal will be no stagnant ditch, but a main leading artery in the development of our great North-west. It is one essential work for the benefit of the whole of Canada; and he concluded, "We expect to be taken up in dead earnest."

Col. Farewell, of Whitby, said he and those he represented, wanted to know what in thunder is the matter that the canal is not yet finished and completed. "If the Government are in the canal business, they should go on with it; if not in the canal business, then in goodness make a drop of it."

The other speakers were Mr. C. Musson, Mayor of Cobourg; Messrs. A. A. Mathieland, Campbellford; A. W. Beardsley, Barrie; Dr. Jaques, Trenton, Mr. Bradan, Bobcaygeon; Dr. Simmons, Frankford; J. H. Delamere, Minden; T. Ribble, Belleville; J. Thompson, Havelock; W. P. Platt, Hastings.

WHAT IS PROMISED.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson, in reply again expressed his pleasure at meeting them, and since Sir Wilfrid Laurier was unable to be present, it developed on him to represent the Government, and say what probably Sir Wilfrid Laurier would say, only in a more feeble way, as to what the attitude of the Government would be. He was gratified at seeing such a large gathering behind a movement of this kind. He was personally deeply interested in the question of transportation, and was delighted that it had awakened so much interest, as was evidenced by the size of the deputation. He referred in a humorous vein to what he termed a deficit producer—the Intercolonial Railway, and remarked that while nominally, the Intercolonial Railway was what probably the Trent Canal would be—a deficit producer. It would in reality be a producer of revenues; the success to be, in the pockets of the people. Mr. Emmerson referred to his recent trip over the route of the canal, and said that it had impressed him with his necessity, the subject of which formed the object of the deputation's visit.

The arguments which they presented would, no doubt, have weight, and would convince his colleagues. He himself had long ago been convinced, a fact which spoke for itself in the action of the Government in its solicitation in providing for a complete survey of the route, and also in the work which had already been accomplished on the canal, since the present administration took office.

He wished to tell them now what the Government proposed to do. In the first place, the survey and field work had been completed, and the work of preparing the plans and estimates was being proceeded with as rapidly as possible. They were not ready yet, but for a very good reason. Mr. Butler, the Deputy Minister, was rushing this work, and at the earliest possible moment, the plans and estimates would be submitted to Parliament. Until that time, he could not say a word as to the route of the canal, but when the plans had been completed a definite decision would be reached on this point. The policy of the Government is certainly settled, and that policy would be seen in the work which had already been done. They could not go back on what they had already done, and therefore, they must proceed.

The plans and estimates would probably not be ready for Parliament at this session, which gave promise of being a short one, but they would be ready for the November session, and he gave the promise that their appropriations would be made, and amounts placed in the estimates for the completion of both outlet and inlet of the canal; a statement which was received with decided signs of approval by the deputation.

NOTES.

Credit is due Ald. Mason, the city's finance minister, for his energetic work in arranging and carrying out the details of Wednesday's deputation.

President D. Hughes-Charles, Treasurer H. Eardley-Wilmot, and Secretary T. G. Quarrington, backed after the Board of Trade's end of the event with highly satisfactory results.

W. S. Dodds, C.P.R. station agent, and W. McIlroy, C.P.R. city passenger agent, accompanied the deputation, and kept a fatherly eye over the comfort of the passengers.

The Minister of Public Works and the Minister of Customs both heartily endorsed the stand taken by their colleague, Hon. Mr. Emmerson, whose project for the completion of the canal will receive their fullest support.

PRACTICAL INSPECTION

Messrs Eyres and Blackwell Visit Ottawa Isolation Hospital.

As noted in yesterday's issue, Messrs. W. Eyres, chairman of the local board of health, and W. Blackwell, the well-known Peterboro architect, accompanied the T.V.C. deputation to Ottawa.

Whilst there these two gentlemen, both of whom are of course, deeply interested in the proposed isolation hospital, made a thorough inspection of the hospital for contagious diseases, in that city, to glean information of practical interest in view of the proposed similar institution to be built here.

They found the hospital at Ottawa to be commodious, and that it cost $5,000. Messrs. Eyres and Blackwell left their overcoats outside the building and before commencing the inspection were furnished with caps and long gowns, so that there was no danger of them carrying away the germs of disease. The hospital at Ottawa has accommodation for about 120 patients. There are only a few patients isolated at the present time, however, the majority of those being there suffering from scarlet fever.

The permanent staff consists of a medical superintendent and ten nurses.

The Board of Health will meet early next week when Mr. Eyres will make an official report of the inspection of the Ottawa hospital. Mr. Blackwell's experience and knowledge gained in Ottawa will be of material benefit when the local hospital is built.

Mr. Snowdon's Surprise.

Mr. Snowdon, the genial proprietor of the popular hostlery that bears his name, tells a good story on himself. Last year he went back for "a few days' fishing. In the party was a well known deacon, of the Presbyterian persuasion, who was also rooted for this piety and long prayers. On Sunday morning the boys all got up early and slipped away quietly with their fishing rods, so as not to awake the man of prayer. Mr. Snowdon, it appears, was not so fortunate. Just as he was about to start for the fishing grounds with rod in hand, the deacon opened his eyes and sat up in bed. When questioned the fisherman made all kinds of excuses, but finally added in desperation: "I suppose you would not care to go?" The reply was instantaneous. "Look here, William, I'd like to know what in the devil you have here for?" They went.

LIKE A DEMON grip has crossed the country, leaving behind scores of physical wrecks.

Victims of catarrh of the head, catarrh of the throat, catarrh of the lungs, catarrh of the stomach, catarrh of the kidneys, catarrh of the pelvic organs, are to be counted by hundreds of thousands.

Grip is epidemic catarrh, and sows the seed of chronic catarrh within the system.

This is so true that few grip sufferers are able to make a complete recovery until they have used Peruna.

Never in the history of medicine has a remedy received such unqualified and universal eulogies as Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

"I was prostrated with the grip last winter and it left me with a severe bronchial affection and catarrh of the larynx.

"The doctor's prescriptions seemed powerless and I was going from bad to worse, until I was advised to try Peruna.

"I took four bottles and it entirely removed the complaint. Words cannot express my appreciation for the good that Peruna did for me."—J. A. McGibbin.

PRICE FOR LIGHT

Peterboro Light & Power Co. Answers City Clerk.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, solicitor for the Peterboro Light and Power Co., has replied to the letter sent him by Mr. S. R. Armstrong, some time since, inquiring on what terms the company would supply power to the city or to industries locating here. Mr. Armstrong's enquiry also asked for information as to how long the company would give contracts, and what their available supply might amount to.

The Light and Power Co. have sent the following reply:—

S. R. Armstrong,
City Clerk,

Your letter of March 15 to Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, asking for a price at which the Peterboro Light and Power Company would be willing to supply power to manufacturers locating in Peterboro, and also to state what length of term the company will make a contract for, has been handed to us for attention. In reply we wish to say that the Peterboro Light and Power Co. will make contracts for terms up to ten years, to parties using 50 horse power, or more, at the rate of $20.00 per h. p. per year. Power will be supplied for 24 hours a day if a customer requires it.

The flow of water in the Otonabee has been so variable during the past few years, that it is impossible to tell just how much power was available, and for this reason the company decided to make only three-year contracts until such time as they would be sure what the minimum flow of water would be. Lately the Dominion Government has taken this matter up, and during the past year the flow of water has been more constant, therefore they are in a better position to tell what power they have to spare, and have for sale under present conditions as much as 6,000 h.p.

As you know the growth of Peterboro affects the company's interests very much and we will do all we possibly can to assist in bringing industries here. In a recent letter from Mr. Robert Stuart about this matter he says; "In case of the city bringing new industries we are willing to make exceptions in regard to the length of the contract where desired." Then he adds, "You will readily appreciate the fact that this company is as vitally interested in the growth and development of Peterboro as any one else could be, and when the location of a large manufacturing plant narrows down to a point where it depends upon the cost of the power or the length of the lease, this company stands ready and willing to negotiate with the idea of making such concessions as may be reasonable, and still assist Peterboro in locating industries. You will see by this that we are anxious to have new industries locate here, and we think any man who knows what it costs to develop steam power will consider our prices reasonable.

Yours truly,
S. H. LARMONTH.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being [illegible] eagle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz.: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tharsis mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Love," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

"Don't let it worry you, Waldemar, dear," she cried, with a dazzling smile. "I know where we can get the money. I will write to papa for it. He will send us double the amount."

"Perhaps it would be the correct thing to give the old gent a pretty strong hint as to how we are situated," he answered, trying hard to subdue the ring of triumph in his voice, "but be sure to add that I am working hard," he went on, crossing his white hands indolently on his lap, "and that we are wonderfully happy."

After she had written it, he took the letter in his hands, scanning it eagerly, pretending to admire the delicately curved chirography, but in reality to see if she had put it strong enough about the money. He was satisfied on that point, and the letter was sent to Fairlawn.

Reine never doubted but that her father would respond at once with a generous check.

She wrote so pleadingly, so earnestly, that the stern old general laid down the letter, completely unnerved by the reading of it.

"I shall not send it; certainly not," he said to Bernard Cheseigh. "I foresaw all this when that scoundrel asked me for my child. I knew he only wanted her money. Scarcely married a fortnight, and calling upon me for assistance. But not a farthing of my money shall go to the spendthrift who stole my daughter from me. I have sworn it, and a soldier never breaks a vow. I shall write and tell her I am sorry for her, but I cannot and will not send her a dollar. I shall tell her plainly that all such applications to me will meet with a prompt and decided refusal."

In vain Bernard Cheseigh attempted to use his influence with him in Reine's behalf; the old gentleman kept his words, adding, as a postscript, that it would be well for Waldemar Waldron if he never crossed his path.

Reine and her husband were at luncheon when the general's letter was brought them.

"Open the letter at once, Reine," said Waldemar eagerly, pushing his food away untasted. "Let us see how large a check he has sent us."

He could scarcely restrain his intense impatience until the envelope was torn open and the letter extracted.

Lo!—no check was visible! In the greatest dismay, Reine read aloud the few stern, terse lines her father had penned.

She had scarcely finished ere it was dashed from her hand, and Waldemar Waldron was crushing it beneath his heel, with a face so pale with passionate rage it was frightful to behold.

"So that's the stand the stupid old fool intends to take, is it?" he cried. "Who dreamed that he would stick to his miserable vow when once we were married?"

In vain his young bride tried to stem the torrent of the wild imprecations that he hurled upon the head of the offending general.

"Waldemar!" she cried, in horror, "remember you are speaking of the father whom I love."

But she might as well have attempted to stay the mighty current of lava of a burning volcano.

"Waldemar!" she sobbed, kneeling at his feet and raising her little white hands in terror, "I pray you to hush if you love me! Oh, my love! my love! you are breaking my heart! Do not make me regret the sacrifices I have made for your dear sake."

He turned on her like a flash.

"Sacrifices!" he sneered. "I wish to Heaven I had been two hours later on that accursed Christmas night! I see you are destined to be a millstone around my neck."

The girl rose from her knees with the dazed light of a stricken fawn shining in her lovely, tearful blue eyes.

"Waldemar," she said, and she wondered at the strange, hollow sound of her own voice, "tell me, do you love me less because my father refuses to send us money?"

"I certainly do not love you the better for it," he returned, harshly, caring little in his reckless rage how the cruel words hurt her.

At that moment her old father's words came back to her:

"He wants your fortune, my child, not you. Such a man is incapable of the beautiful sentiment, love. Money is his god."

She was only sixteen—little more than a dreaming child—yet she was beginning to dimly realize that there were indeed bitter drops in love's alluring cup that she had imagined would be always so sweet.

"Waldemar," she said, beating back the agony that was almost overpowering her, "tell me the truth. If I had been a penniless girl instead of the prospective heiress of Fairlawn, would you have married me?"

He might have spared that trusting, bleeding heart in his answer; but he did not.

"A man with my tastes, and with no means to gratify them, would be worse than a fool to throw himself away on a pretty pauper when there are so many women with plenty of money to be had. I thought, of course, that I was marrying an heiress, and a pretty mess I have made of it, it seems—curse the luck."

"Then the love you have lavished upon me was only a pretence. Ah, Heaven, Waldemar, could you, my idol, be so base?"

"Have done with this silly nonsense about love," he cried, impatiently. "Two weeks of it has sickened me almost to death of the very word."

She staggered back, leaning heavily against a marble Flora, her own face quite as pale and cold as the Ethian statue, sobbing out that "the heart in her bosom was breaking."

He cast a [illegible] through the girlish figure; he saw her raise her white arms as though in prayer. The golden lashes drooped piteously, the uplifted, appealing white arms [illegible] by her side, and she dropped, face downward, upon the floor at his feet. She uttered no cry, spoke no word, but fell in the silence and stillness of death.

He had not meant to go so far—to reveal to her what he was—a desperate fortune hunter; but the keen disappointment of finding no check, and awakening to the truth that he would get nothing from the general, enraged him beyond the pale of reason.

He looked down upon her for an instant. The golden hair, the still, white face, and the blue merino robe she wore all seemed one confused mass to him.

He raised her in his arms—striding hurriedly toward her own apartment—and laid her down—poor, crushed, bruised flower—laid her down with a muttered curse at the folly of marrying in haste.

He never kissed her, or took, with gentle hands, the tangled golden hair from her white face, but, ringing the bell sharply for Honora, her maid, he turned on his heel, and without one backward glance at the white face on the pillow, hastened from the room.

CHAPTER XVI.

Waldemar Waldron's romantic marriage with the general's pretty daughter was the principal theme for comment the whole country round. It was discussed in the drawing-room by the ladies, in the lobbies of the theatres by gentlemen; but nowhere was it discussed with more surprise than at the club which Waldron frequented.

The excitement was all the more intense because Bernard Cheseigh was a member of the same club, and more than one predicted when they did meet there would be a terrible reckoning between them. A duel, or something equally terrible, would be the outgrowth of this affair, even though the old couplet did say that "all was fair in love or war."

There was general surprise that the general's daughter should have chosen Waldron. Instead of Bernard Cheseigh, so noble, so courteous, and honorable. Still, there was no accounting for the tastes of young girls. They were really not expected to discriminate between gold and dross.

The gentlemen—even his warmest friends—were too courteous to mention the matter in Bernard Cheseigh's presence.

Waldron had taken good care to keep out of the way of his companions; but on the afternoon he had had his first quarrel with Reine, absorbed in his own thoughts, he turned recklessly toward his old haunts, and soon found himself in the very midst of a curious throng.

He was a capital story-teller, gay, debonair, and on the whole, was something of a favorite with a certain few of his companions, and for the while he was the hero of the hour.

He was just in the humor for drowning dull care and forgetting the unpleasantness which he had just passed through. Toasts were drank, and soon the bridegroom of a fortnight was in that mood which often overtakes a man who has lingered too long over the sparkling wine-cup—his wit was as keen as his tongue was loose.

He boasted openly and flippantly of his lucky marriage with the prettiest and richest girl in Virginia, and what a gay life he intended to have of it ere long, when the old governor relented.

"What if he still remains obdurate?" laughed a gay young captain of the Light Guards. "What will you do in that case?"

"Put my wife on the stage," he declared, with a rude laugh. "She's got a face like a June and a form like a Hebe. She could make a fortune for both of us, and—"

He never finished the sentence. Quick as a flash of lightning, some one who just entered the open door, pausing a moment on the threshold, and who had heard that last remark, sprang to Waldemar Waldron's side, and hurled him back from the banqueting board with his strong right hand.

It was Bernard Cheseigh.

"Hush!" he cried, sternly. "Not one word more! Not one, I say!"

Only Heaven knew how strong was the feeling within Bernard Cheseigh's heart to fell the scoundrel to the ground who dared breathe Reine's pure name thus, and crush his very life out of his miserable, worthless body, but he controlled himself by a super-human effort, and beat back the bitter anger that surged in his breast.

Waldron, no doubt [illegible] his companion was in no fit condition to defend himself.

Quick as thought Bernard Cheseigh had forced Waldron into an adjacent ante-room. There they were quite alone, and there they stood facing each other in utter silence—these two who had such cause for hating each other so bitterly.

It was Bernard Cheseigh who broke the terrible, oppressive silence. The blood was boiling in his veins, yet he spoke steadily, calmly, as his

Mullet Fish.

There is a species of mullet fish found among the coral islands of the Pacific which swims about in armies, with officers and van and rear guard. Each army is also provided with scouts above and below. When danger threatens from above the upper scouts plunge down. If the danger is from below, the lower scouts dart upward and thus warn the army.

Valuable Whales' Teeth.

In the Fiji islands whales' teeth form the coinage. They are painted white and red, the red are worth twenty times as much as the white. The natives carry their wealth in the shape of necklaces.

Clay Eaters.

A confirmed clay eater will take four, five or even six pounds a day. Water is drunk with it. At length the habit seems to give an aversion not only to other kinds of food, but also to alcoholic drinks. As soon as this stage is reached the eating of clay invariably causes death.

Bedding His Hours.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father (or mother).

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $5 per annum for an individual, and from $25 to $500 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the miner may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

Placer mineral claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable on the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

A Gentlemanly Robber

By C. B. LEWIS

Copyright, 1904, by K. A. Whitehead

Miss Lucy Davis, twenty years old and the daughter of a widow, was assistant bookkeeper and assistant cashier of the Flint woolen mills in the suburbs of a certain western city. It was one of the duties of the cashier to go to the bank in the city every Saturday forenoon and draw an amount sufficient to pay the wages of the employees, and he had never met with any adventure in so doing. One was coming, however.

There came a day when a stranger recognized him and tried to possess himself of the $2,500. He went over the ground from the bank to the mills and laid his plans, and a week before the event he felt certain that the boodle was his.

"Look here, Miss Davis," said the mill manager one Saturday forenoon, "I have word that Mr. Samson is sick and won't be down this morning. At 10 o'clock you will have to go to the bank in his place. You can go down on a street car and come back in a hansom."

The young lady was rather pleased and proud over the errand, and when the hour arrived she set out with never a thought that it was to be an eventful day in her life. As she boarded a car in front of the mill a good looking stranger about thirty years old got in and sat opposite her. Although she could not say that he ever glanced at her, she had several sly peeps at him and was quite favorably impressed with his appearance.

The check was promptly cashed at the bank, and with the money in her reticule the girl reached the door to find an empty carriage drawn up as if awaiting her.

"Keb, ma'am?" queried the driver, and next moment she was inside and being whirled away.

Miss Davis was so occupied with thoughts of something else that she did not notice the landmarks along the way. When the hack suddenly stopped she looked out and saw that she had not arrived at the mill. Instead of that she had arrived at a lone old house standing alone on the block, and the neighborhood was one she had never seen before.

She sprang to the ground and began to question the driver, but he wheeled and drove off without a reply, and out of the house stepped the man of the street car and raised his hat and bowed and smiled.

"Where am I? What does this mean?" asked the girl.

"If you will step inside I will explain," replied the man.

"But I shall not step inside. Why did the carriage bring me here? I shall not stay a minute."

But she did. The man stepped forward and passed an arm around her and carried her within in spite of her struggles. He seated her on a box in a bare room and smilingly said:

"Excuse me, please, but you were acting a bit foolish. You have asked several questions, and I will now proceed to answer them.

"You are in the suburbs. You were brought here to be robbed. You will be detained a few hours and then set at liberty. Had the cashier gone to the bank for the money he would now have been in your place. You will be held blameless in this matter, and you must see that you are also perfectly helpless. I can take the money from you. Better take a sensible view of things. How much money did you draw?"

"About $2,600," she replied as she handed over the reticule.

"Not a fortune, but fair pay for a day's work. Now, then, you have got to endure my society for an hour or two, and I hope you will try to make the best of it."

The door had been locked. He raised a window, drew up another box and continued:

"We may as well be sociable as to sit here and sulk. Has the thought ever occurred to you that you would be a heroine some day?"

"I never expected to fall into the hands of a robber."

"It was foreordained that you were to become a heroine that way. Your story will create a sensation. The three daily papers will send reporters to interview you. They will publish your picture. They will describe the color of your hair and eyes, praise your small hands and feet, tell how cool and calm you were in facing the robber. You will be called one of the most beautiful girls in the state."

"You are impudent," said the girl, with a toss of her head.

"Then forgive me. If you are not engaged you will have a score of opportunities to become so. You will receive letters from all over the state. As a heroine you will be pointed out on the street, and the reporters will follow you home and write articles on how you eat and sleep, your old shoes, your likes and dislikes, whether pickles agree with you or give you headache. Songs may be composed and sung in your honor, and it is certain that a brand of cigars will be named after you. Fame is surely about to knock at the door."

"But I want none of it," responded Miss Davis. "I want to appeal to your better nature to give me that money and let me go. You say you are a robber, but I am sure you are also a gentleman and not without honor and sentiment."

"Yes, I am a gentleman by birth and education, and I have my fair share of sentiment, but this is a worldly matter and must be discussed from a worldly standpoint. You have read in the papers, haven't you, that the mayor of your city is accused of boodling and that an effort will be made to impeach him?"

"Yes."

"There are two aldermen under indictment and two more suspected, while a building inspector has had to leave the country to escape arrest. You knew that, didn't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, some of them at least are gentlemen and all have more or less sentiment, but has anybody appealed to them on that score to surrender their boodle?"

"I—I guess not. But because another man commits crime you cannot be excused," replied the girl.

"That is ancient history," smiled the man. "There has been a new deal on for the last fifty years. In our haste to get rich we have put principle behind us. The motto of the average man today is, 'Get rich as fast as you can and any way you can, but don't get caught at it.' We haven't any use for the strictly honest man for many years past. He was sent to the poorhouse and died there before you were born. I freely admit that because some bank president steals the funds it doesn't follow that I am licensed to rob, but it does follow that if I am to get ahead in the world I must meet men on their own ground. For instance, the Flint woolen mills are supposed to turn out woolen clothes. As a matter of fact, they are mixing cotton with their goods and deceiving the public for gain. The public must get even or get left. I am one of the public."

"All this is rank sophistry," said Miss Davis when he had finished.

"Granted, my dear, but you cannot get over the fact that I have the money."

"And you will not return it?"

"I would not deprive you of the fame that awaits you. The chances are even up that this will bring you a rich husband. I am now going to take my departure. The door will be locked behind me, and you can't raise any of the sashes high enough to enable you to creep out. An hour hence the door will be unlocked, and you will be at liberty to go. I hope you will not blame me individually. I am as honest as other men—no more, no less. Goodby to you."

And in telling her story a hundred times over within the next ten days the girl always took pains to add:

"He was a robber, but he was a gentleman. I was really ashamed to ask him to give me back the money."

Libations and Perfumes.

In the libations of the Greeks, Egyptians and others perfume was largely used. Herodotus mentions the incident of the twelve kings of Egypt who were offering sacrifice in the temple of Vulcan. At the door of the temple on the great altar were laid bundles of sandalwood and cinnamon. Upon these the sacrificial boar was stretched, the fire lighted, pastils of incense thrown in and the smoke and "aidrous smells" rose high to heaven. Then into the inner courts marched the royal procession, preceded by incense burners, who bore golden delvers, and by the smaller altar the kings knelt in prayer. The priest, rising, sprinkled consecrated perfume over them and brought forth the golden beakers for libation. But the old man, a little muddle headed, counted eleven cups as twelve. Psammetichus, who was left without, took off his brass helmet and in that offered the perfumed wine to Vulcan, the fire god. Previous to this the oracle had declared that he who offered a libation in a cup of brass should be sole king of Egypt. Unconsciously Psammetichus had fulfilled the condition, and he was therewith proclaimed king.

How a Fire May Start.

The ease with which a fire may be started and the apparently inexplicable causes which may produce one are both emphasized by a happening in an uptown house last week. The mistress of the house was seated in the extension parlor in the afternoon alone and perfectly quiet, when without warning a hanging bookshelf broke from its fastenings and slipped to the floor. On its way it struck a small table standing beneath it and knocked over a box of matches, igniting two or three of them. These flew off, one touching the light gauze scarf which had hung from the table, which fell blazing against the lace curtain near by. The frightened screams of the mistress brought a servant, and it took energetic measures on the part of the two women to extinguish the rapidly spreading fire. Had the room been untenanted, as it had been all the morning and would have been again fifteen minutes later, it would have been a case of fire department succor to have saved the house.—New York Post.

Word Addition.

No man who is seeking political honors in these days is a "candidate," according to the true etymological significance of the word. Those who stood for office in ancient Rome were known as "candidati" because it was customary for them to wear a white toga ("candidus," white) as soon as their canvass had begun. The Latin for "canvassing," too, was either "ambitus" or "ambitio," according to its association with or freedom from bribery and corrupt practices. Both meant "going round." "Ambitio" was the good kind as opposed to "ambitus," which always implied dishonesty and unfairness.

"Shopping" was certainly a slang word until past the first quarter of the nineteenth century. Bee's Dictionary of Sports and Slang, published in 1825, defines the word as follows: "Shopping—Among women going about from shop to shop, buying little articles perhaps, perhaps not, but always gazing about great quantities of goods."

SLEEP IN THE FRESH AIR.

Of Benefit to Well People as Well as to Consumptives.

Almost ninety-nine people out of every hundred in town and country think there is something unhealthful, uncanny and surely hurtful about night air. This fear is the indirect cause of a large proportion of sickness and death. Two little fresh air and too much food and drink are the causes of most of the common ills that flesh is heir to.

In cold weather most people in the temperate zone sleep with their windows shut or open barely a crack. The house or room is heated by stove, furnace or other nonventilating system, compelling one to breathe bad air over and over again. Urge these people to turn off the heat and open the windows and sleep in plenty of fresh air, and they shudder and say, "I'll catch my death of cold." If that were true, how is it that a feeble, emaciated and run down consumptive, with one foot in the grave, can practically sleep outdoors in sure weather and with beneficial effects?

While the fresh air treatment of consumption has been recognized as meritorious for several years, it is only within two or three years that the public has realized that it is by no means always necessary for those threatened with consumption to go to the Adirondacks or Colorado or some other relatively high and dry climate, but that they can get fresh air by living outdoors in their own backyard or even by sleeping with their head only in the fresh air. But it does not seem to have entered the mind of our otherwise intelligent people that if fresh air is such an upbuilder of the sick and feeble how much more essential and beneficial must it be in maintaining a degree of health and strength that is the best possible insurance against any form of disease. I cannot speak too strongly on this subject. Of course people who are not accustomed to fresh air should not make the change too suddenly, but should gradually accustom themselves to more and more air until they at last sleep in absolutely pure and fresh air. —An Adirondack Physician in Good Housekeeping.

The Poor Bard.

She looked a little sadly around the poet's bleak, bare attic.

A nice enough room," she said, "but how do you heat it?"

"Well, when it gets too cold," said he, "I light a match."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Bargain.

"How would you like for me to be your big brother?" asked the kid's sister's suitor.

"Aw, g'wan!" said the kid. "If you ain't got the nerve to ask 'er I'll do it for ye for a quarter."—Indianapolis Star.

The Only Hope.

"Of course she's not a pretty baby now. Our only hope is that as she gets older she'll grow handsomer."

"Yes. I guess there's nothing for you to do but believe in 'age before beauty.'"—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE UNCROWNED QUEEN.

Mary Ellen Betty Smith
Thought woman's rights were not a myth.
Her life had only just begun;
She'd reached the age of twenty-one.
She would not marry—no, not she!
She'd rather independency.
She said that love was balderdash;
Bad, being very short of cash.
And having no old rich relation,
She had to take a situation.
A dry goods store she first essayed,
Although she rather balked at trade.
Here she was treated like a slave
Until she'd one foot in the grave.
She gave that up and blossomed forth
In something fitted for her worth—
Companion to a lady, then,
With salary increased to ten!
Ah, this was really very good!
She'd lots of cash and lots of food.
But here again 'twas very plain
She'd heaps of reason to complain,
For, over at her mistress' call,
She really was no one at all.
Maybe above the servant maid,
But that was all that could be said.
One day she woke up to the fact
That there was something still she lacked
To gain the liberty she craved
If woman's rights were to be saved.
Her trammels quickly off she shook
And straightway took a place as cook.
And now it is her vaunted boast
She rules the mistress—house and roast;
She bosses all, and that's the pith
Of woman's rights, says Mary Smith.
—La Touche Hancock in New York Press.

To Save Her Face.

Lady (to new cook)—But, Mary, what's the matter? What have you got that veil on for?

Cook—Sure, ma'am, I don't want to have my complexion spoiled while I'm cooking.—Fliegende Blatter.

Could Stand Another.

A commercial traveler tells the following of a little social gathering in eastern Ontario:

"Dinner was a little late. A guest asked the hostess to play something. Seating herself at the piano, the good woman executed a Chopin nocturne with precision. She finished, and there was still an interval of waiting to be bridged. In the grim silence she turned to an old gentleman on her right and said, 'Would you like a sonata before dinner?' He gave a start of surprise and pleasure. 'Why, yes, thankee!' he said. 'I had a couple on my way here, but I think I could stand another.'"

Man's Best Friend.

"Do you believe in the saying that a dog is man's best friend?"

"I certainly do. Where will you find a man who will stick to you through thick and thin, through joy and sorrow, clinging to you with faithful devotion, even though he be half fed and abused, and then at the last, when life has departed his body, offers it to you in the shape of sausage to eat with your steaming buckwheat cakes. Is he human? Of course I believe so."

Insurance Rates Go Up.

Chicago, March 30.—The grand lodge officers of the Ancient Order of United Workmen decided yesterday at a meeting here to raise the insurance rates of the order for members more than 65 years old. The increase will make the rates 25 per cent. higher than at present. The cause of the action was the inability to meet death claims that have accrued during the past three months.

The annual meeting of the Central Ontario Medical Association, which was to have been held Thursday night was adjourned until Thursday, April 8, when the election of officers will take place. Several of those who were to have given addresses Thursday night were called away.

Two Pupils of Local Vet. Succeed.

The result of the final examinations at the Ontario Veterinary College, Toronto, are announced, and among those who passed were Messrs. S. S. Westgate, of Pickering, Ont., and Mr. William O. Steele, of Grenada, B.W.I. Both these gentlemen were students in the office of Dr. Thomas Johnston, V.S., last summer, and are to be congratulated on their success. Dr. Johnston will shortly open a branch at Lakefield, and Dr. Westgate will take charge of it.

The Military Camp.

As strongly advised in our issue of Wednesday, a deputation, headed by Col. Miller, and composed of Capts. Clegg, Mills, Eastwood, Bennett and McWilliams, whilst in Ottawa, tried hard to interview the Minister of Militia, relative to the military camp being located in this city. Although they saw several of the principal officers of the Militia Department, it was impossible to see Sir Frederick Borden or any member of the military council, and therefore there was nothing accomplished as far as the camp was concerned. But another effort will be made when the matter comes up before the military council.

Market Notes of Local Interest.

Yesterday morning, "those who must do congregate," about the market square weigh scales, had good subject for conversation along some record animals they deal in.

On Thursday a farmer bought in a litter of hogs, the progeny of one mother at a birth to Fraserville for sale. The pigs were only five months and four days old and bought $184.80. This is possibly a record for Canada. The price paid was seven cents per pound.

Yesterday the heaviest bull that has been weighed in this city for many a month was that owned by Mr. Robert Jackson, Otonabee, and which turned the scales at 2280 pounds. It is a magnificent animal.

Cattle Brought Here in Waggons.

Yesterday perhaps the finest bunch of young fat cattle that ever came into this city arrived by ones and twos between five and six o'clock last night. This bunch consisting of 28 head of choice young fat cattle were the property of the well known raiser, Mr. Joplin of Emmismore. They were fattened by Mr. James Marshall of the same township, one of the best posted men in cattle raising in the county.

It is creditable both to Mr. Joplin and Mr. Marshall, and demonstrative of their ability in preparing cattle for the markets of the world that this bunch of cattle were so fat that although leaving Emmismore at about 5 a.m., they only arrived in the city at about 5.30 yesterday evening.

On the way these in charge nothing their above condition provided them, without painful effort, from getting along at all, had to engage waggons from Smithtown farms to haul six of them in on wheels.

By the time this bunch reached the 4th line of Smith, onward until arrival at destination, from time to time farmers' waggons had to be engaged to draw these Brobdignagian cattle in.

They were purchased by Messrs. Morris & Brown, the local cattle dealers, by whom they will be shipped to Montreal.

A HAVELOCK WEDDING

Miss E. E. Mathison Married to Mr. J. H. Davidson of Toronto.

Ethel E. Mathison, of Havelock, was joined in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Jas. Harcourt Davidson of Toronto Junction. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Camp, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mathison, of Havelock.

The pretty bride was gowned in cream crepe de chene, trimmed with lace and applique, and carried a beautiful bouquet of cream bridal roses. She was assisted by Miss E. Wright, who also carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The groom was supported by Mr. Harvey Daly, of Toronto Junction.

Locks Opened First Time This Year

Yesterday, Mr. W. Collins, the lock master had the lock gates, just below the little lake opened for the first time this season, to enable Mr. Feirer of the dredge to make some measurements. Mr. Collins reports that there is no ice either above or below the locks, and very little in the locks. Mr. Collins has, all through last winter took the precaution to keep the space between the upper and lower locks clear of heavy ice.

An Early Canoe Trip.

On Thursday the first voyageur via the Otonabee river to Peterboro for the season, arrived by canoe. Mr. Jas. Wedlock, proprietor of the pretty little summer resort, situated about two and a half miles above Jubilee Point, had occasion to come to the Petty, in connection with machinery for his steam launch, and paddled the whole way up. He found no ice in the river until he reached the locks and there there was a little ice. He reported that the paddle was a hard one, the current being very stiff. Mr. Wedlock reports that Rice Lake is still covered by ice.

Division Court Notes.

The case of the horse, which in front of Messrs. E. F. Mason & Company's grocery store, jumped into a buggy, containing two ladies and a child, destroying the buggy, was tried in the division court yesterday. Judgment was reserved.

A case that attracted some attention at yesterday's division court, was the suit of Mr. Staples vs. Graham Bros. of Claremont. This case arose out of two notes given by Graham Bros.' agent, to Staples for nearly $300, for services rendered by their agent in purchasing a hackney stallion for $2100. Judge Weller gave a decision in favor of Staples, amounting to nearly $300. Local horsemen last night, commenting on the case, thought the judge gave a well timed decision.

JOSEPH PHILLIPS ARRESTED

Sensational Turn in York Loan Case—Things Looking Worse.

At the close of yesterday morning's police court in Toronto, after some evidence had been given in the York Loan case, in which so many local citizens are interested, Magistrate Denison refused to accept bail for Joseph Phillips, who was then placed under arrest.

The magistrate's refusal to give bail was coupled with the words, "The farther we get into this matter, the worse it looks."

The magistrate, after Mr. Carry had asked that it be raised to $6,000, demanded $8,000. Afterwards he decided not to accept bail at all.

The magistrate later on said, "I think the evidence has shown that there was a straight steal. There has been a large amount of money involved in the piano company, and $1500 to $1800 in the printing business. It has been paid to Phillips and there is no record of us going into the York Loan."

Mr. Jones said he could not get the securities secured just at present, so Mr. Denison replied, "Then we can look after Mr. Phillips here."

Miss Eva Hall, bookkeeper, said most of the large cheques, totaling the $6000 one were paid into the York Loan Co.

NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY

Four Years Ago Today, the Battle of Hart's River was Fought.

It was just four years ago today that the notable battle between the soldiers of the British Empire and the Boers was fought.

As noted in yesterday's issue, the Harts River Veterans will hold a banquet at Morgan's in Toronto, on April 28, followed by a meeting next evening of the veterans who risked their lives at that contest.

A meeting of the local veterans of Harts Rivers will be held this evening for the purpose of choosing a delegate or delegates, to attend the Toronto banquet and meeting.

Among those Canadians who fought in this memorable battle, are the following men who enlisted in Peterboro, viz.:

Dr. Shanahard.
George Might.
Lee. O'Connor.
Michael Murphy, wounded in battle Perey Price.
Richard Boyle.
Col. Brown, 3rd Prince Wales Dragoons.

DEAD AMIDST PLENTY

B. Navin of Monaghan on Trial for Cruelty to Cattle.

Yesterday afternoon the county court room was crowded with spectators, whose glances towards the defendant in the case were not of the most friendly description.

Barney Navin, a farmer of North Monaghan, whose farm is situated a short distance outside the city and close to Mr. Gile's market garden, was charged with cruelty to animals. Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. O'Connel acted for the defendant. County Magistrate Edmison presiding.

The first witness who laid the information, was a young man named Giles, living near defendant, who said, judging by appearance of the cattle he saw on Navin's property, they must have been dead a month or more. There were seven cattle dead in the building. Hogs which had eaten the cattle in the cow byre, were running loose. The front legs on the cattle had been eaten to the bone.

Mr. Giles testified to there being no sign of feed of any kind where the cattle were confined, although in another part of the barn there were tons of hay, turnips and grain.

Clifford Gile, a brother of the last witness, and only a small boy, testified to having smelt the decaying dead animals. Whilst playing with other boys he had entered Navin's barn, and saw the cattle lying dead and saw others in very poor condition. During the last thaw had smelt the dead cattle two blocks away.

Harold Rowland, another boy, corroborated Clifford Gile's evidence.

Mr. Henry, caretaker of the Children's Aid Home, on request of Mr. Geo. Cochran, went to Navin's last Thursday. On arrival Navin told him the dead cattle had been buried, and that Navin said he wanted the matter hushed up. Navin told him the dead cattle had been skinned. Saw the skin of one cow which showed that the poor brute had worn the skin covering the knees of its front legs through in its efforts to get up, presumably to try and seek food. The floor of the barn and stable had been licked clean of every thing eatable. Heard the surviving cattle moaning out as far as the road.

Two of the dead cattle were outside the barn, one fastened by a chain. There was no food for them of any kind.

County Constable Cochrane next went into the box and said that when, last Thursday, he went to Navin's place, the latter said he would sooner plead guilty than come to court. Witness saw sheep, cattle and horses, jammed together in a dark barn. Navin told them one of the dead cows had fallen through a trap door, (said by another witness to be 2x3 feet in size) and broken its back. Mr. Cochran's story of the alleged starvation was most pitiable. He had heard the live animals lowing and moaning.

The defendant, in the box, said he had fed his stock well, but that about the last of March several of them suddenly died.

Only one witness for the defence, Mr. McKeon, said Navin did not have enough fodder for all his cattle.

Magistrate Edmison reserved judgment until three o'clock next Tuesday, when Mr. O'Connell will address the court on behalf of his client.

MR. LYNCH'S DEATH

Mr. Edward Lynch Passes Away in St. Joseph's Hospital.

At noon yesterday there passed away a gentleman not only known and respected, but born some 37 years ago, in this city, in the person of Mr. Edward Lynch.

The deceased, who left here about fifteen years ago, was taken sick about ten weeks ago in Chicago and was brought here, a month ago for treatment.

The late Mr. Lynch leaves to mourn his departure, his mother, Mrs. John Lynch, corner of Park and Elm streets, three brothers and two sisters. The brothers are J. J. James and George, all of this city, Miss Margaret Lynch of Montreal, and Mrs. Wm. Bilmer of Lindsay, are sisters of deceased.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. John Lynch, corner of Park and Elm streets, to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, and will proceed to St. Peter's Cathedral, and the Roman Catholic cemetery.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—The City Council will hold a regular meeting on Monday night.

—The regular monthly sitting of the Division Court was held yesterday before his Honor, Judge Weller.

—Mr. J. H. Burnham of Peterboro, delivered a lecture on "Astronomy" at the Grove, Lakefield, last night.

—None too early to send Easter cards to friends at a distance, see the nice assortment at Times Bookstore.

—An attempt is being made by the Norwood council to enforce the law regarding the sale of cigarettes to minors.

—The annual meeting of Knox church was held yesterday evening, after which a good program was rendered.

—At the Saturday Bible Club at the Y.M.C.A. today, N. A. Howard-Moore will sing, "The Palms." The club meets at 7.45 o'clock.

—Mr. M. Fisher has disposed of his tailoring business in Lakefield to Mr. Chas. Thomson, who will in future conduct the business at the old stand.

—Rev. Mr. McQuade of Bridgenorth is confined to his bed with a severe attack of la grippe. Mr. Sutherland of Peterboro, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church there on Sunday night.

—Mr. Michael Donoghue has bought out the blacksmithing business of Mr. John Isbister, corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, who conducted the business for fifteen years. Mr. Donoghue takes possession next week.

—Pastor A. E. Stevenagal will give the concluding sermon on the "Signs of the Times," at the Tabernacle tomorrow evening. The discourse will include the political, Jewish, religious Satanic and spiritual evidences of the approaching end of the age. The men of the church and community are especially invited.

—The Mirror says: Omemee is destined to be one of the greatest railroad and steamboat centers in the province, says a close observer, and adds that speculators with a little capital to invest in real estate or steamboat stock, could do well here. Our city fathers are thinking of reinforcing the police force to protect speculators, as a large number are expected this summer. J. U. and its lion tamer will back Omemee against the world.

—The death occurred at Hastings on Tuesday of Agnes Fife, wife of the late Duncan Tucker Sr. of that place and mother of Mrs. A. A. Fife of Asphodel and Miss Mary Tucker of this village. Deceased was 70 years of age and had been ill for some time. The funeral will take place this Thursday afternoon at Hastings. Service will be held in the Presbyterian church, following which the remains will be interred in the Trent Valley cemetery.—Norwood Register.

102 YEARS OLD

Mr. J. Bryans Lindsay, Has Passed the Century Mark.

The Lindsay Post says:—The many friends of Mr. John Bryans, Lindsay's centenarian, who has been seriously ill for days, will be pleased to know that the old gentleman is much better in health and able to be about again, and while he can now boast of having 102 years to his credit, may yet see several more. On Friday last his son James, of Morden, Southern Manitoba, received word that his father was dying, and twenty minutes later he was aboard the C.P.R. train hurrying eastward. On arriving he found his father very ill, but the pleasure of seeing his son caused a reaction and soon the symptoms showed a marked improvement. This morning he was able to dress himself and was walking on the verandah. A citizen remarked this afternoon that the father's new lease of life was not to be wondered at as the good-natured and genial countenance and hearty grasp of the hand—characteristic of Mr. James Bryans of Morden—constitute a potent elixir that benefits everyone with whom he comes in contact.

A CHEAP TRIP

About 300 Delegates to Ontario License Holders Protective Assoc.

Yesterday Mr. A. Spearman, secretary of the local branch of the Ontario License Holders' Protective Association, received a circular from Mr. E. Dinkle, secretary of the Provincial Association, Toronto, giving information regarding the great excursion to be held soon to Toronto. Reduced rates have been secured on all railways converging into Toronto. Provided that over 300 hundred tickets are sold, which is easily assured, the return fare for the trip will be first-class single fare, plus 25 cents. The tickets will be good from April 1st to April 8th.

It is expected that over fifty from Peterboro will be on this expedition. The local License Holders' Association has a membership of twenty-seven, and it is said that a number of other persons who have objections to the Hanna bill will accompany the Hanna holders.

The deputation will wait on the Government on Wednesday morning April 4th. It is expected that the deputation will be a large one, and carry considerable weight.

102 YEARS OLD

Mr. J. Bryans Lindsay, Has Passed the Century Mark.

The Lindsay Post says:—The many friends of Mr. John Bryans, Lindsay's centenarian, who has been seriously ill for days, will be pleased to know that the old gentleman is much better in health and able to be about again, and while he can now boast of having 102 years to his credit, may yet see several more. On Friday last his son James, of Morden, Southern Manitoba, received word that his father was dying, and twenty minutes later he was aboard the C.P.R. train hurrying eastward. On arriving he found his father very ill, but the pleasure of seeing his son caused a reaction and soon the symptoms showed a marked improvement. This morning he was able to dress himself and was walking on the verandah. A citizen remarked this afternoon that the father's new lease of life was not to be wondered at as the good-natured and genial countenance and hearty grasp of the hand—characteristic of Mr. James Bryans of Morden—constitute a potent elixir that benefits everyone with whom he comes in contact.

A Scrap at Tweed.

A few days ago "Mart" Simmons, a well known character of Tweed, who poses as a sort of desperado, started out to look for trouble and found it, but found rather more of it than he wanted. In the course of his search he ran up against Mr. Richard Coulter. He proceeded to make himself troublesome to Mr. Coulter, although the latter did all in his power to avoid a "scrap." In the tussle Simmons received a much deserved pounding, but made his escape after losing a good quantity of blood. A revolver, which had dropped from his pocket, was found where the scrap took place and is now in the hands of the authorities. A warrant for his arrest was sworn out later, but, being warned by his friends, Simmons jumped a freight train and escaped.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Ontario Government Encouraging Volunteer Fire Brigades.

Bill No. 182 of the Ontario Government is directed towards assisting volunteer firemen's associations. The bill in fewest words enacts that any life insurance agent, doing business in any city, town or village, in which there is a volunteer fire brigade, shall notify the treasurer of such place, the amount of premiums he has collected during the year. Every such agent shall pay to the treasurer of the city or town where he is in business $2 on every $100 of premiums collected by such agent. The fire insurance company shall also pay $2 on every $100 they get in premiums.

The treasurer of the city or town shall hand over all the monies so taken to the treasurer of the volunteer fire department of his locality.

Again the local volunteer fire department shall turn over the money so received to the treasurer of the Volunteer Firemens' Association of Ontario, and shall be apposed in such manner as may be directed by the regulations of such association towards increasing the general proficiency of volunteer fire departments throughout the province, and towards the establishment of a provincial home for the care and maintenance of infirm and disabled firemen.

The words "volunteer fire department" shall mean a fire company, or fire department, or fire brigade, the members of which are not in receipt of any regular wages or salary from the municipal corporation.

This act shall not apply to any city, town or village in which there is a fire department or fire brigade maintained wholly out of the municipal rates.

THE LAST CHANCE

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Owing to lack of sunshine and consequent warm brick walls to assist in holding up, the "Doolittle and Porter and Sugar Clube" sent a strong deputation to the Police Court. However, they were somewhat disappointed, the session being a very short one. Only one young man, a local citizen, was charged with having lingered longer with the seductive "brain twister" than was discreet, and who, when he had taken on a good, big cargo, became abusive, was assessed $10, to be paid in ten days, with an alternative of twenty days at Castle Nesbitt, including the city regalia of black and yellow. The fine will be paid.

Hotel Hustler Badly Burned.

A serious, if not fatal, burning accident occurred Wednesday night at the Morgan House, Warsaw, when Joseph Toomey, a hustler at the hotel, was burned in his room. He went up to his room about 11.30 and those downstairs heard him calling, and rushed upstairs to find his clothing in flames. Toomey was seriously burned about the arms and chest. ## KEENE

On Tuesday evening the hall of wisdom was well filled with members of the Sons of Rest. At ten minutes to eight the members became anxious as the president was not present, but Fighting Archy arrived and informed the brethren that Minney Wale was not able to attend, as he was suffering with toothache. Fighting Archy took the chair, and after he opened the meeting he rose to his feet and spoke as follows: Brethren, it has been the height of my ambition for some time to have the honor as well as the opportunity of sitting in the president's chair. I feel elated tonight that my desire has been gratified. In my estimate, your president at your last meeting made several statements which he cannot back up. He endeavored to influence you to believe that I circulated false statements regarding him in the past section. He even insinuated that I was a liar and told deliberate untruths. Now, brethren, I stand before you tonight and conscientiously tell you that I am no liar nor did I circulate any untruths about your president. I did say that he used corruption in his election, and I say so now. Ask Fatty Drummond what he gave him for his vote, and he will make no bones about it that he received ten dollars for his vote and influence. I could give you a dozen of such instances, but I don't purpose to take up any more of your valuable time, but before I take my seat allow me to make the statement that your present president was elected by corruption in the highest degree and if you think it right to discharge him I am your huckleberry every time. I will now take my seat and let you go on with your general business. Limber Jack rose and laid a charge against Farmer Pus for carrying and openly exposing firearms in the skating rink. Fighting Archy imposed a fine of fifty dollars to be paid in two days or one year less one day in jail. Farmer Eson laid a charge against Noah McNevan for moving Joe Taylor's bed from the house into the granary on the night of his wedding. Fighting Archy rose to his feet with fire in me eyes and declared that such doings were preposterous, and certainly would or could not go unpunished. He therefore would fine Noah three hundred dollars, to be paid in two days. Ponty Mac laid a charge against Fatty Drummond for selling candles saturated with red pepper. Fighting Archy fined Fatty one hundred dollars, to be paid at once. Fatty paid the fine and declared that he would never again sell pepper candles. Penny Moore laid a charge against Gentleman Doris for deserting our village for five days. Fighting Archy fined him five dollars. He paid the fine and took his departure. Skunk-hunter Bennie laid a charge against Tom Decackey for making love to a lady on the street before he had his breakfast. Archy fined Decackey forty dollars, to be paid in one week or two months in jail. Tea-merchant Kenealey laid a charge against Hosier Roach for drawing cordwood into the village on stormy days. Fighting Archy fined Hosier ten dollars, with a warning to leave his horses in the stable during stormy weather. Fighting Archy now rose and informed the brethren that the time for closing had arrived, and he therefore would ask Banker Secombe and Toban Brown to sing the closing ode. You may talk about singing, but if you had heard them! It was perfectly harmonious, and received loud applause. The meeting was then duly closed until next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock sharp.

"God Save The King.

NO MORE WOODEN LEGS

If Belgium Physician's Work is Duplicated.

Chicago, March 28.—Wooden legs will soon be a thing of the past, as extinct as the dodo, if the surgical work of Dr. Emil Maertens, of Ghent, Belgium, is duplicated by the surgeons of the world.

He has succeeded in growing new bone through artificial means. Paraffin is the agent which has made it possible for the Belgian to restore the use of the femur or thigh bone in nine out of eleven cases of compound comminuted fracture.

He told members of the Chicago Medical Society at their meeting in the public library hall that the tortures of amputation had been nullified for the nine patients whom he had successfully treated.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all internal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither —being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the medical writers in all sections, as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted free, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Agreement on All Points is Reached

France, in Policing Arrangements, Gets Control of Four Atlantic Ports and, in State Bank Division, is Given Three Shares.

Algeciras, Spain, April 1. — The committee of the conference on Morocco reforms reached an agreement on all points yesterday morning, and the agreement was sanctioned at the plenary session of the conference in the afternoon.

The division and the policing of the ports of Morocco was arranged as follows;

Spain polices Tetuan and Larache; a Franco-Spanish mixed police will be established at Casablanca and Tangier, and a French police force at once will have charge of Mogador, Saffi, Mazagan and Rabat. This gives France four Atlantic ports. The duration of this police agreement was fixed at five years.

The settlement of the question of the state bank of Morocco gives France three shares, including those of the French syndicate. The other nations have one share. Four Bank supervisors will be appointed by the Bank of England, the Bank of France, the Imperial Bank of Germany, and the Bank of Spain.

GERMANY WITHOUT FRIENDS.

Berlin, April 1. — The gains and losses due to Germany's Moroccan policy are being reckoned up at the foreign office. That it is Germany's purpose to be consulted when other powers are arranging the future of weak states now is regarded as established. In face of the diplomatic resistance of France, Great Britain, Italy, Spain and Russia, the Germans throughout the long controversy have been compelled to recognize that they have not a friend in Europe except Austria.

The triple alliance failed to hold Italy to the support of Germany. The strain of these months revealed that Italy is in secret agreement with France, and the triple alliance, although existing, as before, on parchment, is considered to be virtually ended. Diplomacy may reconstruct the alliance at the expiration of its terms, but the reliance of Germany on the constancy of Italy has been shaken for the present.

FINDING HIS FRIENDS.

Russia also upon whom Germany counted as remaining neutral in the discussions of the Moroccan questions has been against her. Germans, however, it is pointed out, regard it as a great gain to learn that they cannot rely in international politics on anyone except themselves and Austria.

Respecting Morocco itself Germany has secured equal trade for the future and has checked for some years the development of French political designs.

The losses sustained by Germany and they are deemed great ones by those who are opposed to her Moroccan policy, are that a reconciliation with France has been destroyed indefinitely, while France and Great Britain have been pressed closely together in their mutual dislike of Germany.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

ADMITTED THIS WEEK

Candidates for the Kindergarten and Primary Schools.

New pupils will be admitted into the kindergarten and primary classes of the city public schools during the week beginning April 3rd, and during that period parents should send to the schools all children whom they wish to have admitted before the midsummer vacation.

THE ENGINEER'S OPINION

Mr. T. A. Hay, City Engineer Reports on the Recent Electrocution.

At the last meeting of the Board of Works, Mr. Hay, city engineer sent in a report, which sufficiently explains itself, and reads as follows;

Ald. Hicks,

Chairman, Board of Works;

Dear Sir,—I beg to report that on Tuesday, March 27th, at 9.15 p.m., through a leakage of electric current at the corner of George and MacDonell streets, a team of horses, the property of Mr. R. Gibbs, Everyman, were killed.

It appears that a leakage at this point had been observed by several persons between seven and nine p.m. and reported to the police, who notified the officials of the Peterboro Light & Power Co. A man from that company was sent to the place, but was unable at once to locate the cause of the trouble.

I was notified at 9.30 p.m., and when I arrived there I found the officials of the Peterboro Light and Power Co., the Canadian Machine Telephone Co., and the Ontario Power Co., who had taken steps to prevent further danger of injury.

From what information could be obtained it appears that the current was conducted from the Peterboro Light & Power Co's wire to a pole of the Machine Telephone Co., which stands on the north side of McDonnell street, near the corner of George, and which has a naked ground wire. The top of this pole projects through the power wires without a cross arm or insulators. These power wires came in contact with the naked ground wire and thence through the ground to the rails of the street railway. The horses were shot on the rails when struck and several persons on the sidewalks received slight shocks which would indicate that the ground in the vicinity was highly charged.

As this has occurred before and is liable to occur again, I am of the opinion that an investigation should be held to enquire into the whole matter of installation of high voltage lines, and if any further steps are required to ensure safety, that the companies be compelled to adopt them.

(Signed.) T. A. S. HAY
City Engineer.

GOOD BUSINESS METHODS

The Sun Life Co. Proved to be Stronger Than Ever.

An interesting feature of the investigations made, and to be made, by the Insurance Commission of the modus operandi of Canada's insurance companies is the position of the Sun Life Assurance Co., of Canada. This strong company are inviting a thorough and comprehensive investigation of every detail of their business.

It might be noted that in the years 1903 and 1904 considerable correspondence passed between the Minister of Finance, the Superintendent of Insurance and the united Canadian insurance companies relative to extension of their investment powers. As a result the minister expressed a willingness to eliminate the restrictions on the amount of investments outside of Canada, provided certain changes were made, and there was every reason to believe that those changes would be introduced in a bill by Parliament.

Influenced by the promises of the minister, and relying on the legislation expected, the Sun Life Co. increased its American holdings.

However the expected bill was not brought before Parliament, so, in good faith the officers of the company wrote the superintendent that they would reduce these American securities, although it would materially increase the amount of their invested funds for Canada. The result was that, loyally keeping their promises, the company in one year reduced the amount of their foreign investments, over legal limit by over $350,000. which gave them in cash in banks, on Dec. 31st, 1905, the enormous uninvested sum of $990,000. The company being managed on strictly conservative lines, actually reduced the amount of their published securities by $300,000 less than they could have claimed.

Their statement, given in another column, regarding management of their securities is not only comprehensive and lucid but most encouraging to all interested, in view of the insurance investigations.

Mr. W. H. Hill the local manager of the Sun Life Assurance Co., one of the best posted insurance men in Canada, can furnish any and all information regarding this strong Canadian company.

A Splendid Exhibition.

On Saturday evening in the Y.M.C.A., a very large audience welcomed the thirty young ladies, who came here that morning from the Toronto School of Expression. Their exhibition was unique and gave great satisfaction the young ladies showing careful training and practical knowledge of their specialities. The entertainment was given under personal direction of Miss Adelaide Heath of the Peterboro Conservatory of Music.

R., 10 King street east, Toronto. Guides of Washington and Philadelphia free. Grand excursion to New York, Friday April 27th. Tickets only $9.00, good ten days.

Gov't Aid for New Keene Bridge.

A Peterboro deputation, last week waited upon the Minister of Railways and asked for Government aid towards the cost of a large bridge at Keene, on the Indian river. A larger structure is needed owing to the height of the water, caused by raising the dam on the Trent Valley Canal. Mr. Emmerson promised consideration.

More Houses For Peterboro.

Mr. J. E. Brown, late market clerk, whose time for possession of the market table expired Saturday night, and who this morning will be succeeded by Mr. H. Gaspar, has 20,000 feet of lumber coming in from Lakefield. Mr. Brown will this week begin the erection of four brick veneered houses, two on John street, and two on Sherbrooke street. These four houses will complete ten that Mr. Brown has built in the past three years. He will later on in the summer erect still another house on Sherbrooke.

Grand Trunk Pacific Contracts.

Ottawa, April 2.—The Transcontinental Railway tenders are now in the hands of Mr. Schreiber, consulting engineer of the Government, and the contract will probably be let this week.

HIGHER HOTEL PRICES

Local Hotelmen Decide to Double the Prices for Accomodation.

Owing to the provision of the contemplated amendments to the Licenses law, which so materially increases the annual charges for licenses, the Peterboro Licensed Holders' Protective Association, at a meeting held to discuss this contemplated advance, decided, if the Hanna bill gets a third reading, to raise the rates at the present one dollar per day houses to $2 per day, and to scale the rates at the two dollar per day houses accordingly. A charge will also be made for the use of the sheds.

The hotel men say that it is impossible to make a reasonable profit from their business at the present charges for accommodation, the use of the sheds have of course, always been gratis.

The subject of increased prices, or otherwise for liquors was not brought before the meeting.

The local association will send a strong deputation to Toronto on the fourth of April, when a deputation of the License Holders of the Province will wait on the Government and lodge objections against, and propose amendments to the "Hanna Bill." It is thought in fact that every License Holder in this city will go to Toronto. Especially so, as arrangements have been concluded when by return tickets good from April 1st to April 8th will be issued at single fare, provided 300 delegates take in the excursion. If less than 300 go up to Toronto return tickets will be a fare and a third, good for the same length of time.

THAT HUNTING MEMORIAL

Correct Account of Jack's Lake Hunting Club's Memorial.

Owing to two typographical errors made in the report given, in an evening contemporary, of the memorial to be sent by Jack's Lake Hunting Club to the Ontario Government, and which, in great measure, destroy the purport of the whole document, we, by request of a member of the club, publish below a correct account.

The resolutions presented by the club are as follows;

1. That water hunting with dogs be continued.

(c) As affording the maximum enjoyment of an outing, had only for pleasure and sport combined.

(b) As giving us daily opportunities of participating in one of the most healthful of all Canadian recreations, viz., paddling the boat so dear to us, the canoe, on one of the finest systems of lakes and rivers in the world, at the best time of the year.

(c) The deer are killed in the most merciful manner, the meat is properly dressed and conveyed to camp, and hung up without being bruised or injured in the slightest the result is venison fit to eat.

(d) The music of the hounds is not the least enjoyable part of the day's outing, and it is listened for by everyone on the watch, whilst the breeding, rearing, training and hunting of the dogs, by the respective owners, is of keen interest and rivalry year by year.

2. That still hunting, or runway hunting, be discontinued and made illegal, in this section of the Province at least, during the water hunting season.

(a) On the ground that it is dangerous, sneaky and unsportsmanlike.

(b) A large percentage of deer shot are not killed outright, run for miles and die after severe suffering in swamps or marshes and are never recovered.

(c) Most of those killed on the runway are generally miles from camp, and if taken out are dragged and hauled so as to be unfit for food; the danger the animal the less likelihood of getting it to camp in a state fit for human consumption, and if hung on the runway awaiting opportunities of getting it to camp, so many are available of properly cleaning and dressing, and a large number are never taken down and removed. After being shot through the body, harassed by dragging and handling, and the fly—in a few hours the meat is rendered unfit for food, especially in hot or damp weather.

(d) It is dangerous to every one engaged in this means of killing or shooting at deer. Hunters following deer meet others on a runway, or swamp waiting, and this yearly deaths occur, as, of course, they are almost unavoidable. A hunter following a deer, especially a wounded one, steals along as noiselessly as possible, with senses alert for every movement or noise, one or both occur, imagination does the rest, and a hunter is shot at, killed or wounded.

3. The license fee should be a party one, only regulated by the number forming the party.

(a) As at present if a hunter kills the number of deer he is entitled to by law, the first day, he should then go home at once, his usefulness in camp, in fact, his presence is detrimental to the enjoyment and success of the balance of the party; his share of the expenses may be from thirty to fifty dollars; his outing is not for the purpose of killing deer only, but for health and sport as well. Unless he breaks the law he can only go on the runway as a spectator, on the water watch as a paddler, and most sportsmen prefer to paddle their own canoe, and snaided, kill their deer. At the end of fifteen days one or two may be left to man the watches, with very little chance of killing the deer their thrown entirely upon them to.

(b) One deer per man, if the deer are scarce, is acceptable to us, providing the number of deer is limited to the number of the party.

(c) One of the party, who is to be nominated in writing as captain, should be required to forward the Department wishes, may ten days, a statutory declaration, to be furnished by the Department, that the game laws of the Province have been properly kept and not violated by any members of the party.

4. The bounty on wolves should be increased to twenty-five dollars, for a period of years, as they are getting more numerous in this section every year.

(a) Because a pack of wolves will kill and drive away more deer in a few days than hunters will kill in several season, and at a time of life, with this does, when they should be especially protected.

5. Long range rifles should be prohibited entirely.

(a) As being useless in the killing of the deer, and most dangerous to men in the neighborhood. A long range with steel bullets will kill at a distance of from one to two miles, whilst very few deer are seen at a distance of one hundred and fifty yards, and if hit at that or a greater distance, are generally only wounded and get away to die.

ALL ARE INVITED

Important Fish and Game Protection Meeting Next Friday.

As noted in a former issue, a branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association, is about to be established in this city. It behooves all those interested in the protection of our fast failing supply of game and game fish, to attend the important meeting to be held in the city council chamber on Friday evening, April 6th, for the purpose of forming a local branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association.

The Ontario association is a strong factor in the protection of every class of game, and compelling observance of the law.

Mr. A. Kelly Evans, secretary for the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association and Mr. Oliver Adams, of the Toronto branch, will outline the objects and methods of the genera! scheme.

Remember the date—Friday, April 6th, in city council chamber, at eight p.m. Everyone is cordially invited.

DIED AT AUBURN

Sad Death of Mrs. W. H. Carter Lisburn Street.

A particularly sad death is that of the late Mrs. W. H. Carter, Lisburn street, Auburn, who leaves a baby only six weeks old.

The late Mrs. Carter's death, which occurred Friday evening, was due to pneumonia, following on a cold contracted only a few days ago.

Mrs. Carter was the only daughter of the late Mr. Mark Shaw, Lisburn street. She was married in January, 1903 to Mr. W. H. Carter, who with four children, survive her. Mrs. Carter was thirty-five years of age, and much beloved by a host of friends. She was a life-long member of the Church of England and attended St. Luke's church.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2.30 from her late residence on Lisburn street, Auburn, and proceed to Little Lake Cemetery.

Making Clean Sweep.

Rossland, B. C., March 31. — At a meeting of the Rossland Miners' Union, No. 38, of the Western Federation of Miners, the executive committee presented a preamble and resolutions expressing confidence in Charles Moyer, W. D. Haywood, George Pettibone and other of their brothers who are charged with heinous crimes. It was decided to levy an assessment of $1 each on the 600 members of the union and to forward the sum so raised to the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners not later than May 20. The preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

"COFFEE JAGS"

The Doctor Named Them Correctly.

Some one said 'Coffee never hurts anyone." Enquire of your friends and note their experiences.

A Phila. woman says

"During the last 2 or 3 years I became subject to what the doctor called 'coffee jags' and felt like I have heard men say they feel who have drunk too much rum. It nauseated me, and I felt as though there was nothing but coffee flowing through my veins.

"Coffee agreed well enough for a time, but for a number of years I have known that it was doing me great harm, but, like the rum toper, I thought I could not get along without it. It made me nervous, disordered my digestion, destroyed my sleep and brought on frequent and very distressing headaches.

"When I got what the doctor called a 'coffee jag' on, I would give up drinking it for a few days till my stomach regained a little strength, but I was always fretful and worried and nervous till I was able to resume the use of the drug.

"About a year ago I was persuaded to try Postum, but as I got it in restaurants it was nothing but a sloppy mess, sometimes cold, and always weak, and of course I didn't like it. Finally I prepared some myself, at home, following the directions carefully, and found it delicious. I persevered in its use, quitting the old coffee entirely, and feeling better and better each day, till I found at last, to my great joy, that my ailments had all disappeared and my longing for coffee had come to an end.

"I have heretofore suffered intensely from utter exhaustion, besides the other ailments and troubles, but this summer, using Postum, I have felt fine." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

Restaurant cooks rarely prepare Postum Coffee properly. They do not let it boil long enough.

May End The Impending Coal Strike

Conference With Hard Coal Operators to Be Held Tomorrow---Miners Work on Where Demands Are Met---Men to Get Increase

New York, April 1.—The anthracite mine operators decided yesterday to meet the miners' committee in this city on tomorrow, as requested by John Mitchell of the miners, for a further conference on the wage scale in the anthracite coal fields. It had been reported that the operators would refuse because the miners were ordered to strike, but late in the day A telegram from Geo. F. Baer, chairman of the operators' to President Mitchell, accepted the offer.

The threatened bituminous strike is ameliorated because of the arrangement by which miners may sign the wage scale wherever the advance of 5.55 per cent. is offered. A number of operators have signified their willingness to give the increase, which will reduce the intending strikers by many thousands, and insure production that will neutralize the shortage.

MINERS ENDORSE MITCHELL.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 1. — The Nationa' Convention of the United Mine Workers yesterday afternoon at 3.35 p.m adopted a resolution offered by President H. C. Perry of the Illinois miners, permitting the miners to sign the 1906 wage scale wherever it is offered by the operators.

In reference to this resolution, Mr. Mitchell said;

"Let me make this declaration so plain that there can be no possible misunderstanding. Just so soon as I fail to have the confidence and sincere respect of the miners, not only as to my personal integrity, but also as to my judgment as to what is best for them, then I ask you men to relieve me of my responsibility. You shall know what policy I believe would best conserve your interests. I am concerned for the people who mine coal and who depend upon coal-mining for their livelihood I am also concerned about the people of this country. I know how popular it is to talk strike, but I also know what a difference there is when passion has cooled. I know there have been large operators who have opposed an advance who will not wait ten days before signing the scale. My best judgment is that we should make settlements with those operators who will pay our scale and employ union men. I shall not be a party to and there shall be no signature from the national office attached to any contract, if the Perry resolution is adopted, that does not carry with it the employment of union men, the scale of 1903, and in the south-west an advance of three cents per ton at the basing points, run of mine, and the full enjoyment of every privilege heretofore enjoyed."

BOOSTING COAL PRICES.

New York, April 1.—The Coal Merchants Association, comprising 165 retail coal dealers in Manhattan and the Bronx last night decided to increase the price of domestic sizes of anthracite coal to 50 and 75 cents per ton, making the prices $7 and $7.75 for different qualities.

COAL STOCKS DECLINE.

New York, April 1.—The stocks of the anthracite coal roads broke severely at the opening of the stock market yesterday. Jersey Central declined 3 points, Philadelphia & Reading 2 1-4, and Delaware & Hudson 2. The entire market was heavy in sympathy with these declines.

MR. FIFE'S SUCCESSOR

Mr. Merritt B.A. Appointed Mathematical Master.

As noted in a former issue, Mr. Jas. A Fife, who for some years has been mathematical and science master has resigned his position, as he will leave Peterboro at Easter for Edmonton, where he has accepted a similar position in the collegiate in that city.

The committee on appointments connected with the Board of Education received twenty-one applications, and Mr. R. N. Merritt, B.A., of Goderich, was chosen at an initial salary of $1,000 per year. Mr. Merritt is a single man, and has had some years' experience as a teacher. His first school was at Norwood and from there he went to Markham, and thence to Goderich, where he has been for the past three years. Mr. Merritt will begin his duties in the Peterboro Collegiate immediately after the Easter holidays.

An Explanation.

To the Public—

As I see most people use printers ink, when anything on an insinuating nature is being said about them, I wish to say a word, owing to a rumor of an insinuating nature which has been circulated throughout the city concerning me without any foundation. The parties thinking by so doing they might benefit themselves. Now, I am prepared to prove this, and have their names published, with full particulars, and also take it further if necessary.

G. GRIFFIN.

To Assist the Alleged Murderers.

New York, N. Y., April 2.—The death knell has been sounded for all negro dives. "black and tan" joints, "white slave" resorts, dance halls where blacks and whites congregate, and colored disorderly houses in the city. The initial step toward elimination "plate" was taken yesterday, when Inspector Schmittberger, with Captain Ward, of West Thirty-seventh street station; Captain Hodgins, of Tenderloin, and squads of plain clothes men visited a large number of places of both precincts and cleaned them out.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler Surprised.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Fowler, Westcott street, who will shortly remove to Havelock to live, were on Friday night surprised at a surprise party, composed of some 25 of their friends. Their callers came well armed with gifts embracing all kinds of kitchen utensils. A very pleasant evening was spent, and the host and hostess wished every success in their new home.

Dealing With the Lepers.

Ottawa, April 2.—Hon. Mr. Fisher gives notice of a bill to enable the Government to compel lepers to accept life in the detention hospital. Hitherto most of the lepers found in the Maritime Provinces have voluntarily gone to the Lazaretto at Tracadie, N. B., but some have refused, and the Dominion authorities could not compel them to go.

Smallpox at Kingston.

Kingston, April 2.—The local board of health has taken action in regard to a woman named Mrs. Edward Watkins, who came here from near Sharbot Lake, about a week ago. Since she came a case of smallpox has broken out in her home. The house where she is boarding in the city has been placed under quarantine.

MILITARY NEWS

Composite Regiment, Including Two Companies of 57th to be Formed.

There is good reason for believing that whether Cobourg or Peterboro gets the military camp, or whether the Department decides to keep it at Kingston, next season, there will be a "composite regiment," made up of six companies—two from each city regiment. This will mean that two companies will be selected from the 14th of Kingston, the 15th of Belleville, and the 57th of Peterboro. The two companies from each corps will consist of 84 officers and men all told.

The officers and men will remain at the camp for two weeks. At the Niagara camp last year there was a "composite regiment" from the different corps in Toronto and the privilege will be extended to the city corps of district No. 3 this year, no matter where the camp is to be held.

WANTS HALF MILLION

Prince Edward Island Will Borrow Amount From Its Own People.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 2.—The Legislature on a straight party division, passed a bill empowering the Government to borrow as a temporary loan $500,000. The money can be secured in that province at 4 per cent, 1 per cent higher than the savings banks pay, and people will, therefore, be given an opportunity of investment.

At present the Government is paying banks 5 per cent. on an overdraft. With money raised on temporary loan the banks will be paid off. The above course was adopted in preference to issuing debentures for which authority was given by statute last year. The bill was opposed by the Conservatives on the ground that it was practically establishing savings banks, which no provincial government could do, and that it was unsafe to have such large amounts on call.

Fifty are Named.

New York, April 2.—Fifty policemen of all ranks may be forced to quit the department and a number may be sent to prison if evidence is obtained to corroborate the confession made by Sallie Bennett and Bertha Claiche. The Bennett woman gave to Assistant District Attorney the names of police captains, sergeants, roundsmen and patrolmen, to whom she had paid money during the years she was a keeper of "slave dens."

British Columbia Seeks Population.

Nelson, B. C., April 2.—A million club is being formed spontaneously to get a million population for British Columbia. The idea is for each citizen of the province to send the facts about British Columbia to at least one person in another part of the world, and invite correspondence with a local committee that will tell the truth about the land and the opportunities for success offered by each part of the province.

SERIOUS PLAGUE RIOT.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—A despatch from Teheran describes a serious plague riot at Shiraz. The European plague hospital there was demolished and the mob attacked the British consulate and beat the consul and a British doctor with sticks. The rioting was stopped by Cossacks.

Your 'Fagged' Feeling is Spring Sickness

This Unhealthy Weather Will Intensify Your Exhaustion Unless You Have Good Medicine.

Time won't help; matters grow worse instead of better if your system isn't rid of its poisonous burden.

cumulation of wastes.

A stimulating blood tonic is required.

What's it going to be?

No bitters or alcoholic dope, but concentrated cure in the form of "Ferrozone" which is known as the best of all spring rejuvenators.

It creates keen appetite.

Produces prodigious digestion.

Converts food into nourishment.

Gives richness and vitality to the blood.

Makes strong nerves and hardy muscles.

Ferrozone possesses power that can't be doubted. It will do for you what it did for Walter Wood, of Beaufort Car Co., N. B., who writes. "I can say that Ferrozone has given me a new lease of life. A year ago I suffered much from nervous weakness. I was really scarcely able to drag myself around. My appetite was gone, I had no color or ambition and felt generally used up. The first box of Ferrozone started me back to health. I took a number of boxes, but it was worth while as my health was completely restored."

Get back to health with Ferrozone. Your druggist sells it, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

SEETHING UNREST IN CHINA

There was general surprise when the Government at Washington took with seeming complacency the savage murder of five American citizens engaged in missionary labor in China. The Lieu-Chan massacre, as it was called, was peculiarly atrocious, more befitting barbarians in the heart of Africa than men living in one of the most civilized parts of China. Yet for reasons urged by the missionary authorities at home, no official action was taken, even to press a claim for damages. Thus leniency was due to the ticklish state of commercial affairs, American goods being under a heavy and angry boycott, and secondly to the uncertainty existing as to the circumstances surrounding the butchery, it not being quite clear that the altercation which led to it was not altogether unprovoked. Anyway the missionary board in the United States hesitated to plunge their Government into difficulties, the end of which could not be foreseen, by demanding satisfaction. There seems, however, to be a limit to the patience of the people of the United States with regard to those murders and the increasing arrogance among the Chinese upon finding themselves let down so easily. Presuming upon the Government's inaction the unrest in China has grown of late to an extent that threatens to become intolerable not only against Americans but foreigners generally, so much so that an outbreak similar to the Boxer movement in 1899 is to be looked for by early springtime. To meet such emergency American troops, artillery and infantry are under orders for the Philippines to be in readiness for whatever happens. Two battleships will also be sent to reinforce the fleet in Chinese waters.

It is an odd turn of events that thus threatens to bring the United States so strongly into the limelight of Asiatic affairs. But the irritations of the Chinese caused by American immigration laws is closely restrictive and enforced with drastic severity, and their hostile attitude toward American commerce could have no other effect. Assailed with the murder of its citizens and with commercial insult, the United States must assume its share of the "white man's burden" in the maintenance of order in Asiatic intercourse.

That other nations are equally interested is shown by the results of inquiries among the different missionary societies working in China. On all hands the state of public feeling in that country is reported as critical.

In some quarters there is considerable apprehension of a general uprising. The movement of unrest is said to be due in a measure to the partial knowledge existing among the Chinese of the new conditions resulting from the war. In South China the feeling is "seething," and the missionaries have come in from the country. "The state of the native mind is such," says a letter to the English Wesleyan mission, "that no guarantee can be offered as to what any few days may develop. Meanwhile a second attack has been made on the American mission at Ying Tak." This fact together with the receipt of details of the Lien Chan atrocity, showing its utter wantonness and barbarity, is felt to be full warrant for the United States to put itself in a position of resistance by sending more troops to the Philippines, Manila being only six hundred miles from Hong Kong.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

BASEBALL.

The Lindsay Post says: Peterboro claim that this year they will have no difficulty in rounding up a fast senior nine to enter the Midland League, but they are in need of an energetic and capable manager. Of last year's nine Peterboro still have Quinlan, the clever young twirler, who won glory for himself last season; Chris. Graham, the redoubtable veteran; Callaghan, "Dubbie" Shea who held the position of short stop down pat in 1905; Connors, Sheridan, and the little badge-seller of the nine, "Teddy" Pilling, without whom the Peterboro men would be incomplete; then there is Rattray, the lanky backstop of Toronto, who is somewhat of a jollier as well as a catcher. Then there are others to fall back on. Jack Pilling and Stroud, the latter the manipulator of the famous "Stroud" tea, of which the Review makes headlines. And then there is "dear old Maggie" Whitcroft, he of hockey fame. Fred, it is rumored, will again don the old blue and white duds and get into the game, probably in his same old position at second bag, where he officiated as captain once upon a time, and did good work too. Who will do the twirling is hard to guess. Of course there is Quinlan, but he is younmg yet. Anyway it won't be "Mull" Douglas, and "Danny" McCabe will be kept busy getting his Lakefield suburbanites into shape.

Planning to Seize Coal.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—As a strike in the bituminous coal fields is considered certain a tremendous rush for soft coal is expected immediately. In Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, in particular, railways are planning to confiscate every ton of coal they can lay hands upon. Under the Interstate Commerce Act, railways claim the right to pursue this course, in order to prevent interruption of traffic.

Mr. J. H. Made Chairman.

Mr. J. H. Carmichael, at the first meeting of the Public Accounts Committee of the Ontario Legislature, was elected chairman, and orders were given for the production of the details of the $6,600 spent in connection with the Hydro-Electro Power Commission, and the payments to Mr. Thorne, the expert accountant.

Making Linen White.

To whiten linen that has turned yellow cut up a pound of fine white soap into a gallon of milk and hang it over a fire in a wash kettle. When the soap has completely melted put in the linen and boil it half an hour; then take it out. Have ready a lather of soap and water, wash the linen in it and then rinse it through two cold waters, with a very little blue in the last.

Dirty Lamps.

When lamps become very dirty a teaspoonful of soda to a quart of hot soapsuds will cleanse them thoroughly, but the washing should be quickly done, lest the soda injure the outside metal, bronze or decorated china. And the drying is as important as the washing, for if a lamp is to be safe it must be perfectly dry.

Wardrobe Hint.

Don't hang skirts wrong side out when putting them away. They are bound to crease, and with light ones (so a professional dressmaker says) whatever dust has been collected by the lining and clung in spite of your brushing is bound to sift through to the right side and stick.

Old Lace.

It is a very great mistake to keep choice lace for years without washing. Many women believe that it is ruined by soap and water and will keep some cherished length for years and years, turning yellow with age and rotting with the dust it has accumulated till it really drops to pieces.

I have known women whose good temper was entirely dependent on their hats, and the consciousness of "looking nice" will brace the feminine will to meet any troubles with cheerfulness.—London Lady.

Mildew or stains of any kind may safely be removed from leather with a little pure vaseline. Rub in the vaseline till absorbed and then polish with a chamois leather.

Two potatoes grated into a basin of warm water will give better results than soap in washing delicate flannel or woolen goods, ribbons, etc.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great copper mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

stern gaze fell upon the rival who had won Reine from him at the very altar.

Waldron attempted to speak, but the other held up his hand with a quick gesture.

"Not one word will I hear," exclaimed Bernard, white to the lips—"not one word that you can offer in extenuation of the words that fell from your lips in reference to—Reine."

"Well!" exclaimed the other coolly—by this time regaining his insolent composure,—"as the husband of the lady in question, I demand to know by what right you shall dictate in what terms I use her name."

"As her friend, and her father's friend, I cannot stand by and hear her name mentioned lightly—even by you, who should have all respect for it."

"How could my wife's old lover prevent me from speaking of her as I will?" sneered Waldron,—"to attempt to interfere would be to bring about that which you should wish to avoid; her name being bandied about all the more.

"You interfered in my affairs once before, Chesleigh, and I vowed that I would be even with you, and I flatter myself I have paid off that old score with interest."

The remark made Bernard Chesleigh fairly tremble with rage; his pride was stung to the quick, but he dared not give way to the passion that was struggling in his heart for mastery.

It was well for Waldemar Waldron, perhaps, that he turned at that moment on his heel and left the clubhouse by a private entrance—left Bernard Chesleigh standing there like a man turned to marble.

As Waldemar Waldron walked homeward through the sunlit streets, his head held high, his fair handsome face gay in its triumph over the humiliation of Reine's old lover, people turned to look after the hero of the day—young girls with admiring eyes, men with something very like envy. If his heart could have been read, not one of those who passed him by would have changed places with him.

It was in no enviable mood that he returned to Reine. She was sitting by the window, her beautiful golden head bent dejectedly on her hand. She was just beginning to realize that life was not the golden dream that she had pictured it.

She rose mechanically as he entered and advanced toward him, an open letter in her white hand.

"It is from papa, Waldemar," she said, timidly. "He says he has boxed up all my belongings and sent them to me. Here is a list of the articles. He says that in future a rigid silence shall be maintained between us, and that he will never forgive me."

Reine's diamonds—her father's and also Bernard Chesleigh's magnificent gift to her—headed the list.

Her superb wardrobe, her books, bric-a-brac and pictures, even her pony and phaeton, were to be sent her—all she had ever possessed at Fairlawn—together with a check her poor dead mother had placed to her credit when Reine was a small child.

It had accumulated with gathering interest to the snug little sum of eight thousand dollars now.

Waldemar Waldron's eyes brightened as he read—eight thousand dollars. Ah, it was certainly a godsend to him.

"How much are your diamonds worth, love?" he said, passing one arm caressingly around the slender waist, and assuming the old lover-like fondness.

"They are worth at least ten thousand," said Reine. "There is a pair of beautiful solitaire earrings, diamond studded bracelets, and a superb necklace of small, white stones."

There was the stylish turnout and the pictures. That meant a thousand more in cash. No wonder Waldemar Waldron, whose god was glittering gold, was highly elated at the gold mine that was to be laid at his feet.

Ah! what a glorious life they would have of it while the money lasted. That afternoon, just as the sun was setting, Reine received the heavy-loaded boxes her father had sent her from Fairlawn. A trusted servant was sent on before with the cases of diamonds and the check her mother had left her. Who had dreamed, in that distant past, that the day would come when poor Reine would need it so sadly.

Waldemar Waldron set himself to work at once to regain the love and esteem in Reine's heart that he had shaken so fatally. She was so young and so trusting, and loved him so, and was so pleased to look on the bright side of life, that the task he set for himself was not difficult to accomplish.

He took her in his arms, praying her to forgive the hasty words he had uttered that morning, telling her that she ought to have known he never meant them.

The upshot of the whole matter was, that they made up their differences with love's forgiving kisses, and again poor Reine was in Paradise; Waldemar was so kind and affectionate to her.

It was like beginning their honeymoon over again, and after all, she had heard that the course of true love did not run smooth at all times, and that the making up between lovers was all the sweeter for the little rift in the lute of domestic felicity.

That evening Waldemar took Reine to the opera. They were the cynosure of all eyes. Many of Waldemar's companions of the club were there; and as they looked at the exquisitely lovely face of the little blonde bride, more than one of them thought of the remark, her handsome, dissipated young husband had made—of putting her on the stage; while she, poor little soul, sat beside him, never dreaming why he turned so ostentatiously away from them and riveted his eyes so fixedly on the beauties behind the footlights.

Reine's meteoric happiness lasted just the few hours she sat beside Waldemar Waldron in the crowded theatre.

On the morrow a strange and unlooked-for event was to happen.

CHAPTER XVII.

When Bernard Chesleigh returned to Fairlawn he refrained from mentioning to the general the episode that had taken place at the club that afternoon.

For long hours he sat by the glowing embers of the library grate buried in his own thoughts.

Now that his meeting with Waldemar Waldron was over and past, he wondered how he had so far controlled his bitter anger against the man who had won Reine from him in so cowardly and dastardly a manner, as to refrain from challenging him to a duel on sight.

He had realised that a blow struck at Waldemar Waldron would pierce Reine's heart first.

What a pitiful trial it must have been to Reine to have greeted him in the plight in which he had returned home to her. With all her love, how her pure soul must have shrunk from him.

He had no respect for his young bride, that he dared return to his old vices before he had been wedded

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (excepting 8 and 26), not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $20 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15.0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Nothing doing at Saturday's police court.

—For Easter novelties come to Times Bookstore.

—No arrests made either Saturday, Sunday. A pretty good record for a full fledged factory city.

—Mrs. M. E. Morrow spoke on "Indian Life on the Pacific Coast," at the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. C. B. McAllister sang.

—The Board of Works has decided to purchase a portable stone crusher from the Sawyer-Massey Co., for $1,125.

—Reward offered of any boy, between the ages of ten and eighteen, who did not "April Fool" some one yesterday.

—None too early to send Easter cards to friends at a distance, see the nice assortment at Times Bookstore.

—Yesterday morning Rev. J. G. Potter preached an eloquent sermon on "Supposing and Sorrow," in St. Andrew's church.

—Easter novelties in opal ware, hand painted, greetings on each, on bargain at two places for 25 cents. See them. Times Bookstore.

—City Engineer Hay has placed a man on guard at the Smith street bridge to warn farmers that the bridge is unsafe until repaired.

—Local steamboat captains who have been attending this meeting to arrange financial matters for the coming season, returned home Saturday.

—Still the people flock to the scene of the recent T.V.C. wash-out. Fully one hundred and fifty took advantage of yesterday's fine weather to walk over.

—The local livery stables report a rushing business yesterday owing to the beautiful weather. McCollum Bros. had every available rig out, as did Bruce Lee & Co.

—The coroner's jury, investigating the death of J. D. Roddick, who died suddenly on March 7th, at Cobourg, brought in a verdict of accidental death, due to taking an overdose of headach wafers.

—The fire brigade was given a run to Ashburnham on Saturday afternoon to extinguish a small blaze in Mr. Jas Murphy's house on Dorchester street. The fire was put out before serious damage was done.

—Guelph does not believe in control by commissioners. On Friday the Royal City turned down two propositions one for control of the city water works, and one for control of their city parks, by commissioners.

—Now is the farmer's golden opportunity to secure English labor, if wanted, as tomorrow or Wednesday, another batch of young Englishmen imported by the Salvation Army will arrive in the city, by S.S. Virginian.

—Mr. J. M. Greene, the George street musical instrument dealer, has just received a splendid consignment of band instruments from the Buescher Instrument Co., of Elkhart, Ind. They are now on view in bicstore window.

—Did your small boy yesterday about with demoniacal glee when you failed to find that cat under the stable, or a rat in the trap, and yell "April Fool!" We venture to say you "bit" at least once, if only to please the boy.

The Pavement Pounder" and "Sensation Seeking" clubs had a poor morning last Saturday. No police court and hence no foundation for subsequent gossip. The usual attendants at this fountain of talk had to content their souls with figuring on the possibilities of next week.

—This morning Mr. Snyder takes possession of the market weigh scales and market building. We hope his venture will prove successful, and doubt less it will as Mr. Snyder has before this, had the market business. In any event the market will be as well attended to in the future as in the past, as Mr. Snyder was a most efficient officer whilst looking after the tolls.

—Yesterday morning, as a leading member of the local bar was on his way to church, a small boy coming up to him, said, "Say, Mister, you are wanted, right away at the police station, the chief wants to see you." This usually keen limb of the law, possibly scenting future business, took the boy at his word, went to the station, and asked the officer on duty what he was wanted accost. The policeman expressed entire ignorance of any matter demanding the lawyer's attention. By the time the lawyer strolled at his church, a good part of the service was over. However he was in time to chip in for the collection. On his way home to dinner it occurred to him that yesterday was the 1st of April.

READ AND YOU WILL LEARN

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Barnholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and dozens of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisons or harmful agents and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful ingredient in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

Keeps Up With Times

New Remedy for Stomach Troubles That Will Cure.

In keeping with their custom of always ordering a supply of new remedies as soon as their value has been established, our leading druggists have obtained a supply of Mi-o-na, a remedy for stomach troubles that absolutely cures and restores lost functions of the digestive organs.

Until recently it was thought that pepsin was valuable in the treatment of stomach troubles, but it is now known that while pepsin aids in digesting meats, it has no effect upon starchy foods, such as potatoes, rice, bread, corn meals, etc. As the majority of stomach troubles comes from indigestion of starchy foods, this makes pepsin absolutely useless in most cases.

On the other hand, Mi-o-na contains no pepsin, acts directly upon the gastric glands, restores the lost functions of the digestive organs, revives lagging nutrition, aids in assimilation of food and, in fact, so strengthens the whole digestive system that you can eat anything at any time without fear of indigestion.

Weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, pain and distress after eating, and debility are the result of a weak and faulty digestion. Use Mi-o-na, and all these symptoms will be overcome, and you will have perfect health.

Get a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na tablets today.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

Sun Life Assurance Company

OF CANADA

Evidence Before Commission Emphasizes ITS STRONG POSITION AND CONSERVATIVE METHODS

About Two Million Dollars Better Off Than It Claimed to Be.

Comments by the Company.

As some time may elapse before the companies will be heard before the Insurance Commission, the managers of the Sun Life Assurance Company desire to refer briefly to points regarding that office which have been brought out in the examination of the officers of the Insurance Department.

INVESTMENTS OUTSIDE OF CANADA.

In 1903 and 1904 extended negotiations took place between the Finance Minister, the Superintendent of Insurance and the united Canadian companies, with regard to extension of their investment powers. The minister expressed his willingness to eliminate the restrictions on the amount of investments outside of Canada, if certain other changes were made, and it was fully believed that a bill to this effect would be introduced by the government in the session of 1904. For reasons brought out before the commission, however, this bill was postponed from time to time, and has even now not been brought forward. Acting on the belief that the law was about to be changed, the Sun Company increased its American holdings. This, of course, it should not have done, although under the circumstances it perhaps was slightly excusable. When the session passed without the expected bill being brought in, the company wrote to the Minister of Finance, expressing its regret, and frankly stating that it had been led into increasing its American holdings in view of the expected amendment. The officers told the superintendent that they would loyally endeavor to reduce the excess of American securities, although this would probably result in their having a large amount of uninvested funds on hand, as Canadian securities that are thoroughly safe, and at the same time profitable, are somewhat scarce. How the company fulfilled its promise may be seen from the following figures given in his evidence by Mr. Fitzgerald:

|---|---|
| Cash in banks Dec. 31, 1903... | 146,000 |

SECURITIES WRITTEN DOWN.

The company has been so remarkably successful with its investments of recent years that we have felt that it can afford to be unusually conservative. We have always considered it our duty to make as good terms as possible when purchasing securities, and in this way, besides having handsome cash profits, have obtained large amounts of bonus stocks. At the end of 1904 some of these had become sufficiently valuable to justify us in placing them in our published list of assets. We were thus in a position to increase both our published assets and surplus by large amounts. The question arose whether we should not take a conservative course, and while transferring some of the new securities from the inactive or contingent list to the published list, at the same time transfer from the published list to inactive list some others, which, while not bad, were yet not really gilt-edged. In other words, instead of taking credit for the entire amount of these new securities, as an addition to our assets, we proposed to use them in part to write down some other securities by merely substituting the new assets for the old to that extent in the published list. This was beyond question a prudent and conservative course, and its effect was to reduce our published surplus by at least $900,000 below what we could have claimed had we acted otherwise. The criticisms which have appeared in this connection upon the evidence as brought out by the commission, are due to an entire misconception. The course followed was merely in keeping with our ambition to be at all times better than we actually claimed to be.

From the fact that the securities named were "written down," or rather, transferred to the inactive list, it must not be supposed that they are bad debts. On the contrary, arrangements have already been made to sell about two-thirds of the entire amount at prices which will save the company from any loss whatever. Mr. Blackadar distinctly stated in his evidence that these securities were not necessarily bad debts at all.

But in any case there is nothing new in all this. To refer to it as a 'disclosure' brought out by the Commission is an error. The facts have all along been open to the public. Any one who turns to the Insurance Blue Book will find on page 369, in the company's annual statement, under the heading of "Synopsis of the Ledger Accounts," the whole transaction clearly set forth in unmistakable language.

SUPPOSED SALE OF ILLINOIS TRACTION STOCK TO DIRECTORS.

This is a mare's nest. There was no such sale as supposed at all. The facts are as follows:—In December, 1904, the company had an opportunity to buy $500,000 of this stock on very favorable terms, the proceeds to be paid in bonds. The company already owned a very large amount of this same stock, and it was not desirable to materially increase its holding, even though the terms were attractive. Some of the directors had expressed a desire to take a portion of the stock on precisely the same terms as the company, and it was understood that the block would be divided. By error, however, the directors were not told when the transaction was about to be completed, and the company took up not merely its own share, but those of the directors. This was on December 31, 1904. The error was discovered within a few days, and was immediately corrected by the directors taking from the company their shares, and merely reversing the entries. This was not a sale, but a mere correction of an error, which had inadvertently been made a few days previously. It did not involve any question of either profit or loss to the company. These facts are not disputed, but on the contrary, were clearly stated by Mr. Blackadar in his evidence. No injury whatever accrued to the company, which had merely parted with some of its bonds for a few days, holding the stock instead thereof for that time. Absolutely no change whatever took place during those days in the value of the stock. As far as known, not one share of stock has been sold in the interval, and no development of any kind had occurred. Of the $500,000 of stock, $223,100 was taken by the directors and $276,900 remained with the company. In extenuation of this error, it should be remembered that it happened on December 31, when the staff are more busy than on any other day of the year. We emphatically reiterate that the entry was a mere correction of a mistake, and nothing else, and that the directors derived absolutely no advantage beyond what they would have received had they taken up their stock ten days previously, as intended.

It must also be remembered that just at that time the company was being criticised by the Insurance Department for holding too large an amount in American securities, and was endeavoring to reduce the value of such holdings in order to comply with the law.

INACTIVE ASSETS.

We have been reproached with having "silent assets," or bonus stocks. We certainly have them, and are very proud of having them, and our policyholders also should be remarkably well satisfied that we have them. Their possession merely shows that we occupy a vastly stronger position than we have ever publicly claimed.

While these inactive assets have not been advertised or included in our published lists, no secret has been made of their existence, and Mr. Blackadar testified that detailed lists had been furnished to him both last year and this year, and that these securities had been checked exactly as the other securities of the company. He produced statements of these securities, which had been furnished by the company to the department. He admitted that to the extent of their value the company was that much better off than it claimed to be, and that a valuation of this contingent fund made for the department by the company in November last amounted to $1,968,000. The par value of the securities exceeds $5,000,000.

STRENGTH OF THE COMPANY.

In the year 1905 the profit made by the company from all sources amounted to $1,344,271.89. Of this amount, $166,541 was paid to policy-holders whose policies were entitled to participation in that year. Of the balance, $616,511 was set aside to complete the placing of all reserves on the three and a half per cent basis, and $661,252.50 was added to the published surplus, bringing the total surplus claimed up to $1,713,698.50 over all liabilities and capital stock, even on this severe standard of valuation. The evidence before the commission has now brought out that even these figures, splendid though they are, tell but part of the story, for the company is really about two million dollars better off than even it claimed to be.

This highly prosperous condition has already benefited our policy-holders both as regards security and profitableness. The large surplus makes the company one of the most powerful financial corporations on the continent in proportion to its size, and when to this we add the two millions of inactive securities it is seen to be a veritable tower of strength. In regard to profitableness, the company has been able to make the change to the three and a half per cent basis with comparatively little hardship to the policy-holders. The total amount which has been set aside for the increase of its reserves on old policies since the passing of the act of 1899 has been $1,186,111.41, and less than one-sixth of this amount has been raised by reduction of the profits of policy-holders, more than five-sixths having been obtained from profits on the company's investments. Moreover, the basis for the distribution of cash profits in 1905 was higher than for 1904, and that for 1906 in its turn higher than for 1905, so that the profits being paid are already based on a highly satisfactory basis, even after complying with the change in the law, while the present strong position of the company warrants some enthusiasm as to what the future profits will probably be.

The management consider that the facts brought out before the commission, when understood, reflect the highest credit upon the company, and are the subject of legitimate pride. The probing into the affairs of the Sun Life has but revealed greater strength and very conservative methods.

WYOMING COPPER

Would you be open for an investment which will yield, with reasonable assurance, from 50% to 100% each year? We consider the AMALGAMATED MINING AND EXTRACTION CO., a safe, sound, high-class legitimate enterprize, and the stock at the present ground floor price of 10 Cents per Share, is without doubt a bargain which should certainly be taken advantage of by all conservative investors. We don't see how failure is possible; we have a great property which we can recommend without a shadow of a doubt. We have paying ore at grass roots. We need not go into details here as to our holdings. They are fully described in our prospectus which you may have for the asking. As this stock will rapidly increase in value we should suggest that you send in your order at once, while you have the chance to purchase at this low price of 10 Cents per share, as it will advance on the first of July. ## Damp Spring Weather Ruinous to Health

Causes Weakness, Headaches and Feeling of Unrest; the Cure is Simple.

That peculiar weakness so common in the spring, is demoralizing to body and mind alike.

Stupid, absent-minded and dull,—You feel the need of a stimulating tonic.

To impart quickness and great vitality to the entire system nothing acts like Ferrozone.

In a short time it makes you feel fit and fine, creates a feeling of youth and strength that's surprising.

Ferrozone revives and braces the sickly because it nourishes and builds up the organs that are weak. As a spring tonic, appetizer and blood-strengthener it is unequaled.

A well known resident of Utopia, Ont., Mr H. H. Postle, writes: "From long experience I am convinced that everyone requires medicine in the spring. As a rule the blood is thin and impure and the whole system is congested with poisons that should be carried off. I use Ferrozone because it clears up the system, gives you an appetite and makes you sleep well. One winter I had serious palpitation of the heart, nervous headaches, and an extreme tired feeling. Sleep was not restful and by spring I was in bad shape. I took six boxes of Ferrozone and was made the picture of health."

Ferrozone makes permanent cures. Absolutely safe because it is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol. Concentrated cure in tablet form, — that's Ferrozone, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

LACK OF SERIOUS CONVICTIONS.

As a people, Canadians are lacking in serious convictions on most subjects. They stand indifferent in the presence of the gravest problems that confront us all. Will it pay? is the only question that stirs them from their usual lethargy. Everything simmers down to a question of dollars and cents. If a man writes a book that becomes the best seller of the season, he is credited with being a "smart fellow," though the work itself be an insult to human intelligence. If a man makes a new discovery the main interest taken in it is the amount of cold cash that the discoverer will make as profit. If a man goes into politics it is taken for granted that his motive is graft. No class or profession appears to be exempt from suspicion. Even of the clergyman, one often hears it said that "he has chosen the easiest way known of making a living." The grafter of every description is spoken of with respect. "He has only done," we are told, "what everybody else would do if he got a chance." Honesty would appear to have few to go for as to do it reverence. Belief in innate nobility is counted a superstition, like the story of Jonah and the big fish. One has no reason for being surprised at the disgusting political and business revelations of the past year in view of what any man who keeps his ears open might have learned of the average man's lack of serious conviction in ethical matters.

The Canadian public long since reached the accommodating attitude that everything is right so long as it pays. Man would go one night to listen to Robert Ingersoll, and the next night to hear Moody. At first blush this might seem evidence of broad mindedness. But when one heard the same comment upon both, "He's a smart fellow; he gets $500 a night for talking," the broad mindedness did not seem so evident. What was evident was the lack of serious convictions on the subject of religion, and even a lack of desire for such convictions. To get definite opinions from the average man on any important subject seems to be almost an impossibility. The average man goes about with an apologetic air, and does not like to commit himself.

To this it may be replied that the average man recognizes his deficiencies; he knows he is not qualified to express an opinion. Such modesty as this would be very becoming if it were coupled with an intense desire to ascertain the data required to express an intelligent opinion, but there is no such desire. Men allow themselves to drift aimlessly. They vote the way their fathers voted, and because their fathers voted that way; they go to a certain church because their wives or sweethearts wish them to, but the grave questions of politics and theology do not get studied.

Physically the Canadian is active; mentally he is also active if there be a dollar in sight; but intellectually he is the laziest man in all the lands of civilization. He follows the line of least resistance until it brings him up against an impenetrable wall, and then he does not know what to do.

Look at the vast amount of over-legislation in this country, thousands of laws getting passed every year for which there is no occasion and which will never be enforced! Does any sane man fancy these laws would be passed if the legislators, and the people who elected the legislators, stopped seriously to consider them? As a matter of fact, a goodly proportion of these laws are passed to please one set of the people, while to please the other the officers of the law are told to let them sink into innocuous desuetude. The average legislator found a good representative in the member from the east. When a bill to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors came up in the legislature, his vote was one of the loudest heard, but at night some of his brother legislators, calling upon him, found him busy with a bottle of whisky, lemons and sugar. "Why," said one of them, "we thought you were a prohibitionist." "So I am," came the unblushing reply, "so I am, but I am not a bigoted one." His attitude was undoubtedly the same as that of the judge who favored the local option law, but was violently opposed to its enforcement.

True, we have some people among us with serious convictions. We have the men and women with one idea. The trouble with these people is that they have never taken the time to study their problem. They are governed by emotions rather than by reason. We have societies organized to fight rum and tobacco, and everything else, but what do they amount to when considered from the side of the intellect. They do not look at the problem from all sides, and until a problem is looked at from all sides, it is not clearly seen at all. The truth is that if we had a few more societies to study things, we could afford to dispense with the societies which are organized only to fight things. If men would only study things, and then discuss them in a spirit of sweet reasonableness, some serious convictions might be formed, and by concerted effort some of our evils wiped out.

Holding For a Rise.

To hold stock for a rise requires thorough knowledge of the property represented, certainly that its merits are such as to carry it eventually to a higher value, and a mind sufficiently serene and firm to witness undisturbed the ebb and flow of market prices. It is by this policy of patience and serenity that the Rothschilds and others have made great fortunes by locking up stocks when they were cheap and awaiting the progress of the years to give them value. How much can sometimes be made in this way may be judged from the fact that an investor who had put $36,875, including commissions, into 1,000 shares of American Smelting common stock when it was selling for 89½ in October, 1903, would have been able to realise $157,000, or a profit of $120,000, in November, 1905. Yet it is doubtful if one man in America outside of original holders, who were unmoved by market fluctuations, had the patience and foresight to pursue this course.—Charles A. Conant in Atlantic.

Kept the Letters.

"I learned the game of love once," sighed the young man in the blue waistcoat.

"So?" asked his chum.

"Yes; through a school of correspondence. I took ten lessons."

"And did you realise anything?"

"Only that I was a lobster. She kept the letters and sued me for breach of promise."—Detroit Tribune.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 200 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 400 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its per value is is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this comyany, neither are there any salaried officers ensconed in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personol holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. No we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 19th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is obvious, consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations, can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The aut. of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

a fortnight? How Bernard's blood boiled with indignation as he thought of poor Reine's humiliation!

"I could not endure remaining here and witnessing all that I should be compelled to see," he ruminated. "I must leave Fairlawn and this vicinity—at once."

It was a sorrowful parting between General Hastings and Bernard Cheseigh, yet the general did not press him to remain. He well knew the true reason that actuated his immediate departure for New York city.

He was young, wealthy and energetic; he would be sure to hold his own in the great metropolis, if any one could.

Without even mentioning the name so dear to him, Bernard Cheseigh turned away, little caring whether he ever saw the hills and vales of old Virginia again or not. He was equally indifferent as to what became of him.

Some men would have sought to drown sorrow in dissipation. He was of the class that turned to hard work as a panacea for all human ills.

He had scarcely been in New York a week, when, glancing over the personals in a moment of leisure one morning he read, in extreme astonishment and dismay, that Mr. Waldemar Waldron and wife—nee Miss Hastings, daughter of General Hastings, of Virginia—had taken up their residence at No. —— Madison Avenue and that they intended to make New York city their future home.

Bernard Cheseigh laid down the paper with a disturbed face. He had exiled himself from home and friends in order that he might be spared meeting them; but now here they were in New York city. Of course, if they went into society, he could not help meeting them sooner or later. How unkind of fate to have brought them here.

He was not a block of marble nor an icicle in human form, such as we often read of in the pages of very proxy books. He was simply a man, who had loved with all the fulness and passionate strength of his noble nature, and it was no light matter to look forward to meeting the woman he loved as the wife of his rival.

When Waldemar Waldron received Reine's belongings from Fairlawn he turned every available article into cash, and proposed to Reine that they should leave Waldron Towers at once for New York city.

"We shall see plenty of life there," he said, enthusiastically. "The metropolis is always gay in winter."

He well knew that the name of General Hastings would be received into the best and most exclusive society.

They took up their residence on one of the most fashionable avenues; and there Waldemar Waldron commenced in earnest the life suited to his taste—a gay life and a merry one as long as the cash lasted.

Reine had not the faintest notion of where the money came from to furnish all the luxury they were enjoying. She quite imagined that her young husband must have some sort of an income. It never occurred to her that it was the money realized from her check and the sale of her diamonds, that furnished all this.

Waldemar Waldron was quite right in his surmise. The elite society of New York opened its arms to General Hastings' daughter and her handsome young husband.

But with this new life came quite a change for the pretty young bride. At first Waldemar began simply to neglect her. At last he spent whole nights, and sometimes days at a time, away from her.

He considered it quite a fine lark to fascinate, wherever it was not known otherwise, that he was single free to woo and win any fair maid who might please his fancy.

"It could do no harm to Reine, carrying out this little joke," he told himself, complacently.

He liked to see young girls' eyes brighten at his approach—to know that their hearts beat quicker at the sound of his voice; and that their blushes were for him. Of course, all this would be at an end if they were to find out he was married; so, why inform them of the fact when the information was not called for?

When they had no visitors at home, or had no invitations out, Waldemar Waldron spent his time as he liked. Perhaps it was quite as well that Reine did not know how he spent the hours that she found so sad and lonely.

Three months had passed; and those months had made a sad change in Reine. She was thinner and paler. The lovely blue eyes looked as though showers of hot tears had dimmed their lustre. The fair, rounded cheek had lost its delicate contour; and if one came upon her suddenly, they might have seen tears on the lovely, drooping lashes.

But she was so loyal to her handsome, debonair husband; she would not even own to herself that she was disappointed in her marriage. She was so young and loving. She longed for kind words and caresses. She longed for such expressions of fondness as Waldemar had shown her before she had married him.

It almost seemed to her that the whole world knew that her husband did not care for her, and that she was a neglected, desolate bride.

It was a sad thing for one so young to be so lonely, and to be so utterly neglected. Once or twice she had timidly gone to Waldemar, with tears in her lovely eyes, to plead with him to show a little more consideration toward her.

He caught up his hat and sloves, looking at the tear-stained, grieved face with an impatient frown.

"If there is anything I do detest, it is a crying woman," he observed, angrily. "Do not repeat this scene again, Reine. I really cannot endure it. I shall not return home to-day if I feel quite certain you can stop this crying scene."

He strode out of the room, and again the wretched girl-wife fell face downward on the velvet carpet. There, long afterward, the servant found her, unconscious still.

In vain they chafed the little white hands and blue-veined temples. The fluttering breath grew fainter and fainter. Kindly hands unfastened the amber satin dress she wore, and took from the twining golden curls the pale roses that clustered among them, laying her on the lace-draped couch, and a physician was quickly summoned.

When he heard the moans and bitter sighs that quivered on the pale lips of the miserable young bride, he knew perfectly well it was not a case for drugs.

"Who could minister to a mind diseased?" He left her a quieting compound, and recommended that her husband should be sent for.

In vain messengers were sent here and there for him. Waldemar Waldron was not to be found. That evening, while strangers gathered around Reine's pillow—who had summoned the physician again, for she was growing rapidly worse—at the self-same moment the physician was gravely counting the strokes of Reine's pulse, solemnly shaking his head, while those around her were weeping silently—at that moment Waldemar Waldron was seated at the head of a banquet table, odorous with the breath of roses, making a speech of welcome to the gay, piquant opera singer whose dashing beauty had taken New York by

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

NEW AND WONDERFUL

Exhaustion All Gone!

To-day She is Buoyant With Health and Vital Energy Given by A Medicine Suited to the Female Sex

There is no medicine for health and strength that accomplishes so much as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For womanly troubles they have no equal.

Miss Katie E. Emerson, one of Brockton's popular young ladies, in the following letter voices the conviction of hosts of her friends:

"Two months ago I was completely used up. I was weak and miserable. My strength was gone, and I had no appetite or energy left. What I needed was a blood purifier and nystematic tonic which I found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills. To-day I am brimming over with spirits and virile good health that came from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

No one can over-estimate the true worth of Dr. Hamilton's Pills Their enormous curative power makes one marvel. You soon have richer blood, better appetite, clearer complexion, freedom from weakness and ill-health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are sold everywhere 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

New George St. Organist Played.

The musical part of the services at George street church on Sunday, were in charge of Mr. McCann, the new organist. He showed a complete mastery of the organ and made a decidedly favorable impression upon the large number present.

Little Bertha Brousseau Breaks Arm

Bertha Brousseau, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. Geo. Brousseau, barber, met with a very painful accident last week. While playing in the house with several other children, in some manner she fell or was knocked down, fracturing her arm. She is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

More Light For St. Andrews.

A new electric chandelier will be placed in St. Andrew's church. The chandelier will be a most handsome one and will no doubt prove an artistic acquisition to the church. The young men of the congregation are donating the funds for it, and it will be installed before the reopening of the church on Easter Sunday.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to all the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

Signs of Spring.

Mr. James Crough, while driving the stage from Warsaw yesterday morning, saw a large flock of wild geese about four or five miles out of the city. They were flying northwards and were quite low. A man with a gun failed to bring any down. The geese are on their way to the northern lakes, where they hatch during the summer.

Orphans for Forresters' Home.

Orphans have now begun to pour into the Orphans' Home, erected by the I.O.F., on Forresters' Island, Deseronto. This home is one of Dr. Oronhyatekha's pet projects, and deserves popular support. The first arrival was a little five-year-old girl from London, England; others have come or are on the way from New Brunswick, Ontario, Indiana, Maine and elsewhere.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—The Epworth League of Charlotte street church met last night.

—For Easter novelties come to Times Bookstore.

—A meeting of the trustees of the George street church will be held tomorrow evening.

—The Ladies Aid Society of Charlotte street church will meet this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

—None too early to send Easter cards to friends at a distance, see the nice assortment at Times Bookstore.

—A practice for the Temple of Fame will be held at the Charlotte street manse tonight at 7.30 o'clock sharp.

—Mr. Mark Curtis, the well-known brick manufacturer, is authority for saying that the frogs are croaking. This looks like spring.

—The city fathers met in solemn conclave last night. The result of their deliberations appear in another part of this issue.

—A quarter of a ton of pickrel, consigned, against the law, to U.S. markets, has been seized by Fishing Inspector Weldon at London, Ont.

—A paper on missions will be read by Miss Weir at the monthly meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of Murray street Baptist church this afternoon at 3.45.

—Now the coal strike is on. Unless there comes a coalition between operators and strikers, local citizens, next winter, will have to watch their fence rails and dry goods boxes.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of Murray street church will meet this afternoon at three o'clock. The Women's Mission Circle will meet at 3.45 and the Willing Workers at eight o'clock.

—Mr. W. Green, city tax collector, is on the warpath after delinquent taxpayers. The majority of those whose scalps Mr. Green is after, are short on local improvement taxes, such as sewers etc.

—An Italian named Scardapani, who was charged in the police court a couple of weeks ago with drawing a knife, appeared before the county judge yesterday morning. Scardapani was unable to procure sureties, but when the judge considered the case he let the Italian off with a severe warning.

INSURANCE SHAREHOLDERS

Insurance Stockholders Living, or Known, in Peterboro.

In view of the fact that the Dominion Government may, as a result of the insurance investigations, ask insurance companies to sell their stock and confine their investments, in future to bonds, it is interesting to learn that the following people, either in this city or with interests therein, hold considerable blocks of stock in the Canada Life and Sun Insurance companies:

MR. HAY HUSTLING

City Engineer Puts Men to Work on King Street Sewer.

Yesterday morning City Engineer T. A. S. Hay started the contractors to work on the sewers which were abandoned last fall on account of the cold weather. Mr. John Robson, the first to start, put a gang on the King street portion yesterday morning, where they left off in the fall. He will put as many men as possible on the job and rush it through. Mr. R. Moody will resume work on his contract in a day or two. He will start in Ashburnham, and would be working now but the ground is hardly in shape yet. The other contractors will be started as soon as possible.

New C.P.R. Steamers for Atlantic.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has just issued a very neatly gotten up notice, that the magnificent passenger steamships "Empress of Britain" and "Empress of Ireland," now nearing completion on the Clyde, will be placed on the St. Lawrence, Liverpool route in May. These ships are of 14,500 tons, and their sea speed will be 18 1-2 knots. Every known device to ensure safety, comfort and luxury, is being introduced in their construction and appointments.

Died in St. Joseph's Hospital.

On Sunday night there passed away in St. Joseph's hospital, the late Mr. Richard Harris, a former resident of the 14th concession of Ottonabee. The deceased had only been an inmate of the hospital for five days previous to his death, having been conveyed there, suffering from pneumonia, and hearg trouble, and he gradually sank until death came Sunday night. Deceased was sixty-nine years of age, and was born and had lived in Ottonabee all his life. He was unmarried, and all his brothers and sisters are dead. The last surviving member of the family a sister, died a year and six months ago.

Fire in Township of Deore.

Last Saturday afternoon, Mr. Patrick Murphy's house, situated about three miles west of Douro post office, was destroyed by fire, supposed to originating in a defective chimney. The house, which was a frame structure, was completely destroyed, but some of the furniture was saved. The loss is about $600.

"Thou Shalt Not!"

The Ontario Government has decided definitely that issuers of marriage licenses may not issue the document necessary and preparatory to matrimony to any man wanting to marry his brother's widow. It seems that of late, several applications have been received from men desirous of taking to their hearts and hearths the widows of their departed brothers. This cannot now legally be done.

A Good Clean Show.

Miss May Belle Marks, leading lady in the strong company now being presented by Messrs. Marks Bros., the old-time Peterboro favorites, is making many new friends here by her excellent acting and splendid voice. This company is presenting a strong repertoire and their plays for this week are very far above the average. They have an entire change, and their specialities are well worth going far to see. The company has, by special request, consented to hold matinees on Wednesday and Saturday of this week, which will probably be attended by crowded houses.

REMARKABLE TEST

Hyomei Has Been Known for Years and is Guaranteed to Cure Catarrh

We have given Hyomei a most thorough and remarkable test.

The remedy has made so many cures that we have urged its use in the most chronic cases of catarrh.

Breathed for a few minutes four times a day, through an inhaler that comes with every outfit, it soothes the irritated mucous membranes of the nose, throat, and lungs, kills the catarrhal germs, and restores complete health. Its healing, antiseptic fragrance penetrates to the most remote air passages, as no medicine taken into the stomach can possibly do. Immediate relief almost always follows the use of Hyomei, and great benefit is seen after a few days' treatment.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs only $1, and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the pocket or purse, and will last a lifetime, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. If this is not sufficient for a complete cure, additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will enable you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

Eminent Doctors Praise Its Ingredients.

We refer to that born to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE EUCLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this partial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhœa; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the respective organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding) due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; menorrhœa (suppressed or absent monthly periods) arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anæmia (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations to the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which is most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says: "It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general debilitement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root: "In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is undoubtedly regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal: "Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhœa (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Hard Coal Miners are Hopeful of Settlement

Feeling of Optimism as Regards Conference Held---Mitchell Says Men Will Make No More Concessions.

New York, April 4.—President Mitchell and the other members of the Anthracite Miners' Committee reached the conference room in the Jersey Central Building, where they were to meet the operators. Just before going into conference, President Mitchell said: "There has been no change in the situation. I have nothing to say regarding the anthracite coal dispute."

Although nothing has occurred to change the situation, there was a general expectation that the conference would bear fruit. There was a strong optimistic feeling among the representatives of the miners that something would occur to greatly relieve the situation. President Mitchell during the forenoon said there was no change in the situation so far as the miners are concerned. The men will stand firm for what they have asked, and he felt confident that the operators would not continue to maintain the attitude they have assumed up to the present time.

NO CONCESSIONS BY MEN.

Mr. Mitchell denied all rumors that concessions would be made by him. All reports of that character, he said, were mere speculation. It had been reported that the miners would not press all the demands that they had made if the mine owners showed a disposition to meet them half-way. Notwithstanding Mr. Mitchell's firm stand, it is considered quite likely that the Shamokin Scale Committee will make concessions rather than declare a strike at this time.

The members of the Shamokin Scale Committee, who number 36, began arriving here during the forenoon. It has been planned to hold a meeting of this committee to receive a report from the sub-committee of seven. Whether this meeting will be held, depends upon what occurs at this afternoon conference.

SOFT COAL OUTLOOK.

President Mitchell received another large number of telegrams yesterday from the various bituminous districts of the union. He informed a reporter for the Associated press that affairs in the soft coal sections are working themselves out just as he had expected they would. All his information, he said, was of a favorable character, thousands of men have returned to the mines at increased pay, and he expected to hear during the day that many more soft coal companies had agreed to the 1903 scale.

PRES BAER ON HAND.

President Baer, of the Reading Company, arrived here from Philadelphia, and immediately went into conference with officials of other coal-carrying roads. It was the original intention to hold the meeting of the sub-committees of the operators and miners in the forenoon, but the conference by agreement was delayed until afternoon, in order to give the operators an opportunity to confer with one another.

A PLEASING FUNCTION

Mr. Jas. A. Fife Presented with Bible and Address.

Mr. James A. Fife, who has not only been so efficient a teacher in our local seat of learning, but has been prominently identified with the Sunday school of St. Paul's church, and who is leaving for the west, was Monday evening presented with a handsome Bible and an eulogistic address by the officers and teachers of the school. The presentation was held in the Sunday school room, which was comfortably filled. Deep regret was expressed at Mr. Fife's early departure. The address was read by the superintendent of the school, Mr. William Madill, and Miss Martha Dinkson made the presentation. The address alluded to Mr. Fife's active work in connection with the Sunday school of St. Paul's church. Addresses, of regret at the departure of Mr. Fife, were made by Rev. Dr. Torrance, Sheriff Hall and others.

During the evening vocal solos rendered by Mr. Green and Mr. Jas. Dawson, and a piano solo by Miss Alice Roger.

A complimentary supper was festooned.

CHARTER GRANTED

To Local Curling Club, Charter to Cover Other Athletics.

The Ontario Gazette has The following:

Public notice is hereby given that under the Ontario Companies' Act, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, has by letters patent under the great seal of the Province of Ontario, bearing date 21st day of March, 1906, been pleased to grant a charter creating and constituting Thomas Brightman, Robert Neild, John Samuel Knapman, and John Edward Alexander Fitzgerald, merchants; John Athelmer Aylmer, civil engineer; Jas Bogue and Andrew Henry Webb, contractors; Thomas Francis Matthews, manufacturer; Robert Rolland McClelland Waddell, gentleman; William George Morrow, manager, and Thomas Newton Greer, physician, all of the city of Peterboro, in the county of Peterboro, and provisional directors of the company to be thereby incorporated, under the name of "The Peterboro Curling Rink Company, Limited," for the purpose of providing for the members of the company and their families and friends a curling rink and other accessories of an athletic and social club, and to take over and acquire the curling rink property on Charlotte street in the said city of Peterboro, to lot such portion of the property as shall not be required for curling purposes, and to make necessary improvements and alterations for that purpose, the corporate name of the company to be the Peterboro Curling Rink Company, Limited; the share capital of the company to be ten thousand dollars divided into one thousand shares of ten dollars each, the head office of the company to be at the said city of Peterboro, and the provisional directors of the company to be Thos. Brightman, Robert Neild, John Athelmer Aylmer, James Bogue, John Samuel Knapman, Thomas Francis Matthews, Robert Rolland McClelland Waddell, William George Morrow, Thomas Newton Greer, and John Edward Alexander Fitzgerald, hereinbefore mentioned.

Provincial Secretary.

THE PROPOSED LAW

Dominion Alliance Strongly Opposes the Three-Fifths Majority Clause

The Dominion Alliance, with headquarters in Toronto, have just issued the draft of a long address issued by the Executive Committe, regarding the proposed license law amendments.

The association claims therein that "A sudden and serious peril threatens the temperance cause." The address claims further that the proposed changes "will be immensely advantageous to the Liquor traffic.

The address is in favor of the section,

"To compel municipal councils to submit prohibitory bylaws to a vote of the electors when twenty-five per cent. of the electors petition for a vote, and to pass such bylaws if the people adopt them. But this advantage is partly counterbalanced by the unwise proposal that a repeal contest may be brought on in two years, instead of a three years' trial being given the new plan, as the law now provides."

The address is unqualifiedly antagonistic to the three-fifths' vote, thinking that such a vote must mean defeat of local option bylaws.

The address notes that 106 municipalities have carried local option, closing 250 drinking places, whilst under the three-fifths' vote in would only have meant respectively 56 places carrying the bylaw, and 118 drinking places closed.

Regarding the argument by advocates of the three-fifths' vote, that it is just, because it takes a three-fifths vote to repeal the bylaw, when in force, the address claims that such argument is unfair, claiming that when once local option comes in force it is sure to stay.

The matter of increased license fees is not touched upon.

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Miller Celebrate 50th Anniversary.

Yesterday was a red-letter day at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Miller, 611 Stewart street, it being the exact anniversary of a half century's connubial happiness.

Both these veterans of the joys of wedded life are in the best of health and, we trust, will see many more anniversaries of their wedding day.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller have resided in Peterboro for sixteen years, coming here from Emily where they had resided formerly.

Mrs Miller is now seventy-seven years of age, and Mr. Miller is seventy two. They were married on April 3, 1856, by Rev. W. Bryden, Methodist minister of Emily.

A social time was spent at Mr. Miller's home yesterday afternoon, a number of friends gladly assisting them to celebrate the happy event. A number of valuable presents were received.

ST. JOHN'S A. Y. P. A.

Regular Meeting Held Where Business and Pleasure Were Combined.

A very pleasant, and, at the same time, business like meeting was that held Monday night by the St. John's church A.Y.P.A.

The special committee appointed to consider an entertainment, showed that considerable work had been done along that line. A series of moving tableaux will be put on, on April 25, illustrating old songs, camping scenes, etc.

A report was also read from the special committee appointed to consider the advisability of organizing a tennis club. The report was endorsed by the society and the committee will proceed to make further arrangements.

A paper was read by Mr. A. E. Walker on "Hymns and Music in the Church."

Mr. Jos. S. Ball also read an excellent paper, the title of which was "Catholicity of the Church."

A question drawer was opened and presided over by the rector. Many questions were asked and answered in a clear and comprehensive manner by Rev. Canon Davidson.

The next regular meeting of the society will take the form of a social and will be held on April 23rd.

Nurses Cannot Take Legacies.

Boston, Mass., April 3.—The question whether nurses or other employes of the Newton hospital may receive gratuities was not broached in the quarterly meeting of the board of trustees, held yesterday. After the meeting it was stated that the controversy over the gratuities left to three nurses, so far as Senator Fulford's case was concerned, had been settled by the trustees several months ago.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Arguments That Will Be Used at Today's Meeting in Toronto.

As a large deputation of local licensed hotelkeepers will attend the meeting, it is of interest to learn the one great argument which will be used by the Licensed Holders' Protective Association at today's meeting with the Ontario Government representatives, is that,

"Under the new assessment act, as against the old act, the hotel taxes on personalty are now almost seven times greater.

"Substantial increases in rentals in the past five years.

"Marked increase in labor wages.

"The expenses of maintaining the internal and external condition of hotels such as painting, decorating, renewals of furnishings and chattels and general repairs, call for a big yearly outlay, at increased cost per year.

"That food supplies and bar supplies are from 25 to 50 per cent. higher than two years ago, and if high license becomes law, the public in general will see a big advance in the prices of eatables and drinkables.

"That the suggested high license would result in the closing of a great many of the at present licensed hotels which would unquestionably lead to illicit selling in unlicensed places, dives, etc.

"That irrespective of the population of a town or city, different conditions exist in the public themselves as well as in localities, and the small though undeservedly alleged 'ill-kept' hotel, which we have so often heard referred to recently, is as necessary as the so-called first-class and best run hotels.

"That the Government permit the opening of the hotel bar after the polls close.

"That in many cities, as we have to compete with unlicensed clubs which are permitted to do business at all times, that a twelve o'clock midnight closing and ten o'clock Saturday night closing become a provincial law for the cities.

"That the transfer fee is out of all proportion to the license fee, and that it be considerably modified.

"We heartily endorse in its entirety the terms of the bill regarding local option, for the reason that it is equitable and does not discriminate as heretofore against the hotel interests, and we hope it will not be changed."

AN IRATE FEMALE

Mrs. Armstrong Puts Lindsay House of Refuge on the Rough.

The Lindsay Post says;

Mrs Armstrong, the old woman who attempted to run away from the House of Refuge last week, to her home in Sebright, but who only covered a distance of some five miles, put fear and disgust into the hearts of some of the fair sex, who attended the meeting at the refuge yesterday afternoon. The woman who is of big frame and a trifle weak in her mind, caused considerable disturbance by commencing to tell of her experience of last week, and at the same time, directing language of an evil trend at the matron. She, also, so it is said, slammed down a window, upset a table, and threatened to run away again. She was lodged in the cell for the balance of the day.

LOST A LEG

Lindsay Lady Horrified to See a Legless Man Taken Home.

Watchman-Warden Lindsay is not noted for evil deeds and scenes of horror are the exception here, so that what follows can be easily credited. A certain young lady was watching from an office window the other day, and saw a man, minus one leg carried from a stable and placed in a cab. Shortly soon a man followed with a boot in which was the missing leg, and threw it into the cab also. The young lady, believing that foul play was being done, was horrified, and fainted dead away. The gentleman of the office hurried to her assistance, and when she was brought to consciousness she told her story. Upon investigation it was discovered that Bob Douglass had broken his wooden leg and was being taken home.

ENGLISH IMMIGRANTS

"Workingman" Thinks Labor Should Be Given to Canadians First.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—Knowing that your paper is always willing to help the working man and specially the Canadian workman, I would like to write a few lines about the English immigrants now being brought in droves by the Salvation Army. In bring out these English immigrants I give the army credit for doing a good work as far as their knowledge goes, but it seems to me that their work in sending out the thousands of Englishmen they are now engaged in, is a one-sided deal.

They are helping to relieve the congested labor markets of England at the expense of the Canadian laborer, who owns his house, or pays rent and who, in either case, whether directly or in his rent, is a heavy taxpayer.

Now these English immigrants are simply young men with no stake in the country, who pay no taxes, and in a majority of cases, have no families, as has the Canadian laborer, dependent upon them. Thus they can afford to work for cheaper wages and put up with less accommodation than can the Canadian workingman with a family.

I think Mr. Editor, that it is the bounden duty of every man employing labor to give a preference to the Canadian born laborer or mechanic who has been for years, and is burdened with heavy taxation.

Yours truly,
WORKINGMAN.

SMITH LADY GONE

Death of Mrs. Alex Roseborough An Old Resident.

This afternoon the last mortal remains of the late Mrs. Alexander Roseborough, of the 7th line of Smith, who passed away Monday evening, at her residence, will be laid to rest in the Lakefield cemetery.

The late Mrs. Roseborough had been ill for some years. Her husband predeceased her about a year ago, after having been married about forty years. Mrs. Roseborough who had always resided in Smith township, and was highly respected in the community, where she resided, is survived by five sons, William, Herbery, Fred, Ernest and Joseph, all of Smith.

Danish Butter Excells.

Ottawa, April 3.—Professor J. A. Ruddick, Dairy Commissioner, told the House of Commons committee on agriculture that Danish butter was liked better than the Canadian article in England, because it was more uniformly good. The Danish people put the great bulk of their butter up in keels or firkins, and Canadians would get a bigger share of the trade if they would put a large proportion of their product up in firkins, there being a prejudice among the British people for butter done up in this way.

License Holders Leave for Toronto

Members of the local License Holders' Protective Association have decided, should the proposed amendments to the license act go into force to charge for use of hotel sheds and yards.

The Peterboro deputation from the local association will wait upon Hon. Mr Hanna and other members of the Government this morning at eleven o'clock. Mr. J. M. Brooks president of the local association, left for Toronto yesterday morning to attend a meeting of the executive of the Provincial Association, and Mr. Arthur Rountree, local secretary, left during the afternoon.

Out of Politics.

Montreal, April 3.—The report that Hon. J. I. Tarte intends contesting Nicolet for the House of Commons is not correct. It is true that the ex-minister of public works was asked by a deputation to do so, but he has declined. Mr. Tarte has got all the honors that are to be had in public life and he has now settled down to his old profession as director of La Patrie, and is doing excellent work.

Union's Awful Weapon.

Boise, Idaho, April 3.—Stephen Adams, one of the men who confessed connection with crimes charged against the "inner circle" of the Western Federation of Miners, was taken to Pocatello yesterday to dig up a lot of material known as Greek fire, which he claims to have buried there in 1903 after his plans to kill a carload of nonunion miners with it miscarried.

To Kill Spanish King.

Madrid, April 3.—The Spanish authorities have discovered an anarchists' plot at Lebrija, twenty-nine miles from Seville, the notorious centre of the Black Hands, to assassinate the Royal family during the visit of King Alfonso, the Dowager Queen Christiana and the sister of the King, the Infanta Maria Teresa, to Seville during Holy week.

The censorship prevents the sending of details regarding the conspiracy.

Dowie Down and Out.

Chicago, April 4.—At a meeting of five thousand adherents to the Christian Catholic Church at Zion City, of which John Alexander Dowie is the founder and first apostle, Dowie's authority was repudiated, and Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who for some time has been conducting the affairs of the church, was elected in his stead. Mrs Dowie also repudiated her husband, and their son, Gladstone Dowie, cast his lot with his mother and the new leader, Voliva.

FEAR EASTER MASSACRE.

Kieff, Russia, April 3.—Many Jewish families are leaving this city, frightened by the rumors of a massacre at Easter.

The authorities announce that they have taken every precaution and that at the first sign of trouble the troops will be employed to restore order.

St. Petersburg, April 3.—Agrarian disorders continue to be reported at various places. Near Anatolieffka, Province of Oberman, a collision has occurred between rural guards armed with a machine gun, and a crowd of peasants, who had begun to seize and plow property belonging to the landlords. A score of peasants were killed or wounded.

In Chernigoff Province the peasants are boasting that they intend taking possession of the land, and the governor has instructions from Interior Minister Durnovo not to spare the troops in suppressing an outbreak. In the Province of Vitebsk, the peasants have risen, and a punitive detachment is marching through the country.

Ontario Teachers Off For Saskatchewan

Twenty-Six Ladies and Eleven Young Men in the Big Excursion that Left Toronto Yesterday---Much Better Salaries in West.

Toronto, Apr. 4.—Away to the golden Western Land of Opportunity steamed another three train of eager, ambitious Ontarions yesterday afternoon.

The passengers numbered fully 2,500, and included men and women in all spheres of life, from the hoary-haired patriarch who travelled to join his successful son in the "new country," to the youthful swain who had dreamed ambitious dreams and started in quest of fortune. Scores of farmers and their wives were among the travellers—people who had disposed of their Ontario lands and had already purchased homesteads in the West—in fact, the railway officials estimate that nine-tenths of the number were of this class.

But the most unique feature of the excursions was, perhaps the fact that the passenger list embraced a delegation of some 37 Public School teachers, 26 young ladies and 11 young men, all of whom purpose taking up their profession in the Western Provinces, the greater number bound for Saskatchewan.

In view of the fact that the press of our own Province is bulging with advertisements for teachers at home, the exit of so large a number of duly qualified and experienced members of the profession occasioned more than passing interest. A press correspondent secured a brief interview with one of the young ladies at the Union Depot. She held a first-class professional certificate and had taught for nearly five years in the public school of one of Ontario's smaller cities. She proved an entertaining talker.

"The salary I have thus far obtained in Ontario," she said, "is $440 per annum, and I see no immediate probability of bettering that position in the public school service, and did not feel competent to take charge of the larger boys you meet in the High schools.

"The salaries paid to teachers in Ontario are surely hopelessly unfair and inadequate. I am glad to see that the present Provincial Government intends to do something for them, surely not before it was required. I am more than doubling the salary I was getting here as a commencement in Saskatchewan.

"There seems no little future for the teacher in Ontario. No matter how honestly and conscientiously she may interest herself in her work, it does become as the years go by little better than a niggardly drudgery. This may sound like the plaint of a chronic grumbler, yet it is a serious condition, and the discontent is often bravely borne.

"You know," she added smilingly, "that teaching is the one profession in which the longer you are, the more poorly you are estimated. Unless a girl is fortunate enough—or unfortunate enough, as you view it—to get married or leave it for some other sphere, she finds in time she has given the best of her life to it, and that old age and old maidism are upon her with little laid by, so scant can be her savings out of her meagre stipend.

A number of farmers' sons were going out to become "homesteaders," and establish farms for themselves, and not a few farmers purpose making a new start in the west.

For six weeks these excursions have been running regularly, and the station officials estimate that they have averaged 2,700 Ontario passengers.

THOSE STARVED CATTLE

Magistrate Edmison Reserves Judgement Until Next Monday.

Yesterday afternoon the case of Bernard Naven, the North Monaghan farmer, charged some days ago, in the county police court, with having starved seven cattle to death, and having half starved others, was up again for judgment before County Magistrate Edmison. Mr. D. O'Connell addressed his Worship on behalf of the defendant, while Mr. Wood appeared for the Crown.

Mr. O'Connell on behalf of his client argued that no case had been made. That there was lots of hay, etc., in the barns, that it was improbable a farmer would let his cattle die knowingly, and that the cattle died from disease.

Mr. Wood, for the prosecution, contended that either Naven was insane for killing his cattle, clearly proven to have died from lack of food, when he had plenty of fodder to give them or else it was the meanest instincts of a miser, who grudged the food. Mr. Wood claimed that Naven's actions in short were not those of an insane man, but that he was too much of a miser to feed the cattle. This argument he backed by showing that the evidence clearly proved that, although Naven had hay where the cattle could not get it, not one stalk of hay or straw was in the passengers or near, where the poor starved to death animals were confined. Their condition showed that the cattle did not die of disease but starvation.

Judge Edmison, who evidently was suffering with a severe cold and too hoarse to speak, above a whisper, said he would not deliver judgment without giving his reasons in full, and being physically unable to do this, withheld judgment until next Monday.

Preparing to Save Coal.

St. Thomas, April 4.—Fifty-six men were yesterday laid off in the Pere Marquette shops for 60 days owing to shortage of coal, and in view of the coal strike train No. 21 over the M. C. R. was discontinued.

TO RECOVER THE GIFTS.

New York, April 1.—The Truesdale's committee's report on the Mutual Life was made public Saturday, and says it is advised that such of the company's funds as were donated for political or campaign purposes were unlawfully disbursed and recovery can be had in behalf of the company from the officers of trustees responsible therefor. The committee understands from the president that he has already consulted counsel with regard as to what legal steps be taken to secure the recovery of these moneys, and that he will act accordingly.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Window Falls on Young Lady's Hands Inflicting Severe Cuts.

Yesterday as Miss Annie Brooks, daughter of Mr. J. M. Brooks, proprietor of the Palace Restaurant, was lowering a window in the private apartments of the family, the heavy sash, fitted with extra thick glass, fell suddenly on the backs of her hands. The window is not furnished with weights, but held up, when raised, by a stick. Miss Brooks was attempting to close the window, which was raised some twenty-four inches high, and as soon as she tried to pull out the supporting stick, the heavy sash fell before she could grasp it.

As it fell the window caught her hands, palms downwards at the lower part of the frame passing them securely. The injury was made worse and more painful as Miss Brook's hands were caught in a slanting position as she tried, ineffectually, to get them out of the way in time. The backs of her hands were severely cut and bruised. Dr. Bradd was called, and attended her injuries. Fortunately no bones were broken.

THE GAME QUESTION

A Leading Trade Paper Advocates Forming Bunches of Ontario P. & G. P. Association.

"Hardware and Metal," one of the leading trade papers of the Dominion, has a long article in their last issue, regarding the protection of Ontario's game and fish.

This article is written solely from a business standpoint, not from the more significant standpoint of the sportsman.

The article shows clearly that it is in the interests of the merchants and more particularly the hardware men, who supply the larger part of sportsmen's and cottagers' supplies, to have Ontario's fish and game supplies preserved.

The preservation of game, will mean more money spent in cottages, club houses, boat houses, boats, etc., in the employment of guides, more received by farmers and boatsmen, and the circulation of the constantly increasing annual expenditure of money earned outside of Ontario, and which is all clear profit.

This journal says further, "It is stated without fear of denial that the game fish of Muskoka lakes have almost disappeared, and those of Kawartha Lakes are rapidly disappearing by netting out of season."

All the foregoing proves that local sportsmen should attend the meeting for formation of a local branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association.

Pin Your Faith on Ferrozone

A Time Honored Cure for Spring Ailments that Every Physician Recommends.

But every year has seen the popularity of Ferrozone increase, and today it is used by the people of many nations for weakness, debility and the characteristic ailments of spring.

Let Ferrozone help you:

It enriches the blood supply and thereby vitalizes the quickens the whole body.

Humors and impurities are driven off. Disease germs of every kind are destroyed.

Nutritious material is supplied for restoring the waste, and day by day the process of rebuilding goes on till health that outlasts old age is established.

Mr. W. A. Renwick, of 235 Hunter street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "A year ago I became run down and lost my health. My strength was greatly reduced and on account of the weakness of my heart I was afraid to take up work.

"On going up stairs or walking fast my heart would beat like an engine. I would gasp for breath and get exhausted quickly. At night I would wake up in an excited condition and find my heart going like mad.

"In this terrible state nothing helped me but Ferrozone. Such good it did me I can hardly explain. It built up my strength, put new life in my heart and made me feel like a new man."

Even in advanced cases of weakness Ferrozone is unfailing. Your druggist sells it at 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE SUNDAY BILL.

It looks much as if the hopes of all from Quebec which have been entertained by the Sabbatarians, are not justified. Mgr. Bruchesi has been giving his opinion on the Sabbath observance bill, and what Mgr. Bruchesi says is very apt to go with the Laurier government. Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick having asked the archbishop for his opinion of the bill, the latter has said:

Your bill might be relaxed in certain of its clauses, but on the whole it appears to strike the right note. For my part I have felt it to be my duty to prohibit in my diocese several things dealt with in the bill. Without firm and precise legislation our Canada will be before long like certain countries of Europe, where there is no possible respect for the Lord's day. I hold that it is quite proper that the liquor traffic should be forbidden on Sunday, unless there is real necessity.

As for trains and steamers for passengers, they should be run less frequently on Sunday, although I would not ask that they be altogether suppressed. It is necessary that our people, especially the working people, should have the opportunity of leaving the towns and making trips which they are unable to make on week days. I am, however, absolutely opposed to the organizing of public excursions with the object of pleasure or making money. I entirely approve of these clauses in the bill which prohibit theatrical exhibitions, concerts, etc., given as public and paying ventures.

His grace adds that it would not be wise to prohibit people from going quietly on a hunting or fishing excursion, or to take the fresh air, but he holds that a law for the observance of the Sabbath is opportune and hopes that it may be voted by the Canadian parliament.

If passenger trains and steamers are to be allowed to run on Sunday, and freight trains, too, when the railway companies find them to be "real necessity," if the working people are to be allowed facilities "for leaving the towns and making trips, and if people are to be allowed to hunt and fish, and otherwise take the fresh air," the Ontario Sabbatarians will be highly displeased, for these are the very things to which they mostly zealously object.

EASTERN BANKS BRANCH OUT

Far Larger Share of Business is the West.

Montreal, April 3.—Toronto banks have hitherto had practically a monopoly of banking business throughout the west, but eastern banks have decided to invade this territory and competition will be very keen in the near future.

The Merchants Bank, whose headquarters are in Montreal, yesterday announced that it had established six branches in the west within the past three weeks. These branches are situated at Alix, Streetler and Daisland, in Alberta; Shoal Lake and Russell, in Manitoba, and Vancouver, B.C.

The Molsons Bank will establish branches at Edmonton and Vancouver.

The Bank of Hochelaga will establish a branch at Vancouver, and later branches at most of the bigger towns throughout the west.

The Royal Bank announces that it will build a large office in Winnipeg, and will as soon as possible establish a chain of branches extending through the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

THE LONDON LIFE INSURANCE CO.

The thirty-first annual meeting of the shareholders and policyholders of the London Life Insurance Company was held at the company's new head offices, Nos. 422 to 426 Wellington street, London, Canada, February 12th, 1906.

The president, Mr. John McClary, occupied the chair, and there were present a number of shareholders and policyholders.

The notice calling the meeting was read by the manager and secretary, J. G. Richter, F.A.S., after which the following report and financial statement were submitted:

THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.

The directors of the company beg to submit annual report and duly audited financial statement for year ending December 31st, 1905.

During the year, 15,513 applications for insurance, amounting to $3,760,-805.50, were accepted and policies issued therefor.

The net premium and interest receipts of the year were respectively $364,142.33, and $90,877.07, totalling $475,019.40, an increase of $45,188.79 over the previous year.

The sum of $99,779.81 was paid for death claims, matured endowments, surrendered policies and cash profits during the year, an increase of $533.61 over previous year.

The insurance in force on the company's books at the close of the year, after deducting all re-insurances, amounted to $9,113,981.31, under 4,751 "Ordinary," and 65,634 "Industrial" policies—an increase of 2,572 policies for insurance of $912,764.00 for the year.

The assets of the company, exclusive of uncalled but subscribed capital, amount to $1,886,455.80, an increase of $223,141.53 for the year. The company's investments are of undoubted character, and would in the aggregate yield considerably more if realised on, than the amount at which same are taken into account in the financial statement.

The liabilities of the company, under existing policies, and in all other respects, have been provided for in the most ample manner, the whole amounting to $1,786,277.54. The surplus on policyholders' account, exclusive of uncalled but subscribed capital, is on the company's standard, $111,148.26, and after deducting paid-up capital, there remains a net surplus over all liabilities and capital, of $61,148.26, an increase of $16,667.67 for the year.

The company's business having outgrown the available accommodation for rental, it was necessary to purchase a building for head office requirements. The Directors beg to report that they purchased building Nos. 422, 424 and 426 Wellington street, this city, which is being remodelled in such manner as will answer the company's probable requirements in this connection for many years to come. The contemplated improvements were only partially completed at the close of the year, and the building was taken into account in the financial statement at the conservative valuation of $16,000, in accordance with its then state of advancement.

JOHN McCLARY,
President.

JOHN G. RICHTER, F.A.S.,
Manager and Secretary.

ACTUARY'S REPORT.

In harmony with the practice of the past six years, the bases upon which the reserve liabilities of the company have been computed are as follows. For all business issued previous to January 1st, 1900, the interest basis is four per cent. in both the Industrial and Ordinary branches, and for the business issued since that date, the interest basis is 3 per cent. in the Industrial branch, and 3½ per cent. in the Ordinary branch. Not only is the basis upon which the reserves are computed in itself more stringent than the law requires, but in the details of the valuation, particularly in the Industrial branch, reserves are provided by this company in a much more comprehensive manner than is customary with companies doing an Industrial business. As an example of this, it may be mentioned that for whole life policies the reserve is provided from date of issue both for infantile and adult ages. The almost universal practice with industrial companies is to provide no reserve for the new whole life business for year of issue; and no infantile policies to provide a reserve only after the insured have reached the age at which the maximum benefit is attained.

In addition to the extra reserve resulting from the practice of the company as above indicated, a special reserve is being accumulated for the purpose of placing all the old business on a 3½ per cent. interest basis. This fund, with the contingent fund, now amounts to $15,000.

The plan of dealing with accruing but unallotted profits, which has been followed by this company for many years and which has always been one of the distinguishing characteristics of the annual statement, has been continued, as strict regard being given to the future liabilities of the company in this connection, as to the liabilities under the guarantees in the policies.

If the reserves were computed strictly in accordance with the Government requirements and no special provision for unapportioned profits made, the surplus on policyholders' account would be $230,000 instead of $111,000, as shown by the statement.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 280 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionaires in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconed in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 19th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

¶ Would you be open for an investment which will yield, with reasonable assurance, from 50% to 100% each year? We consider the AMALGAMATED MINING AND EXTRACTION CO., a safe, sound, high-class legitimate enterprize, and the stock at the present ground floor price of 10 Cents per Share, is without doubt a bargain which should certainly be taken advantage of by all conservative investors. We don't see how failure is possible; we have a great property which we can recommend without a shadow of a doubt. We have paying ore at grass roots. We need not go into details here as to our holdings. They are fully described in our prospectus which you may have for the asking. As this stock will rapidly increase in value we should suggest that you send in your order at once, while you have the chance to purchase at this low price of 10 Cents per share, as it will advance on the first of July. # STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearance of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 25 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz.: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

storm, and in whose honor he had given this elegant supper.

It was three days ere the notion occurred to him that it was about time to return home to Reine.

He quite expected a storm of reproaches and tears as he entered his wife's pretty blue-and-gold morning room. The slender, girlish form he expected to see was not there. He ran lightly up the stairs to her boudoir. She was seated, in a white cashmere wrapper, before the fire, gazing thoughtfully at the pictures the glowing coals made.

She was looking wofully thin and pale and dull. She greeted him gravely, answering his questions when he spoke to her, in clear, steady tones.

He would not believe that she had been ill.

"It was quite an ingenious little story to greet him with," he declared, "but she could not make him believe it."

He never did credit it—not until the doctor sent in his little bill, days after.

"I had intending taking you to a grand concert to-night," he said. "I secured the tickets already."

"We cannot go, Waldemar, because I am so ill," she said plaintively.

"If you choose to stay at home, that will not alter my intention," he said, brusquely. "I shall go all the same."

And, without a word of compassion or pity for her illness, he left the house again—left her alone in her pitiful despair. Only the angels knew what she suffered in the hours that followed, while her husband was thoroughly enjoying the lights and music at the grand concert, amusing himself by scanning the prettiest faces in the audience.

There was one lady whom Waldron had introduced to Reine to whom she had taken a decided dislike, much to her husband's annoyance.

"Mrs. Smith wants to be fast friends with you," he declared, with a frown, one day,—"what's the reason you don't like her?"

"I do not know, Waldemar," she returned, slowly, "there is something about her—not quite—congenial."

The frown deepened on his face.

"She is not an educated lady," she went on; "her manners are quite vulgar, and—she paints her face."

Her husband laughed long and loud at that.

"I do not like her lady friends whom she brings here with her, any more than I like herself—they actually seem to have lived in a different world from me—I do not understand them."

Again Waldron laughed loud and long, although Reine could not see anything particularly amusing in what she had said.

"I have invited Mrs. Smith to accompany us to the opera," he said; "see that you treat her well—she don't like your cold way—mind, she's not to be slighted."

"It would not be agreeable to me to have her accompany us, Waldemar," said Reine; "you ought certainly to have consulted me before asking her."

"Nonsense," he declared. "She's the rage of New York—there's not a man but—" he stopped short, and looked a little embarrassed, Reine thought—"but," he added, after stopping to cough slightly, "but would be delighted to have her in their box—with his wife."

Reine sighed, telling herself silently that the presence of Mr. Smith would spoil her pleasure of hearing "Norma."

"I invited her here to dine with us," he explained, "thinking that would please you."

Mrs. Smith arrived late, and when she had thrown off her wraps, Reine looked at her in amazement,—her style of costume was a little peculiar. Mrs. Smith evidently observed it. She said, somchalantly.

"I came prepared to go to the opera,—we must go early, my dear Mrs. Waldron. It is to be a gala night; there will be quite a crush of all the upper crust of New York—all the elite I mean."

Reine did not reply.

Very soon Waldemar joined them, and it almost seemed to Reine her husband actually forgot her presence, he was so engrossed in bandying jokes—yes, jokes—with the golden haired Mrs. Smith.

For a few moments after dinner, Reine found herself alone with her husband,—she hurried to his side with a pale, perturbed face.

"Oh, Waldemar," she cried in distress, "I cannot go to the opera with Mrs. Smith in that—that dress. I—I—should died of mortification."

"What is the matter with it?" he demanded. "I thought it was something stunning."

Reine's face flushed in dismay—"I should think you would see for yourself, Waldemar," she murmured,—"there—there is not much—to—to the waist."

"Humph!" sneered Waldron, "that's only your prudish taste. That's called decollette by women of fashion. I should think you would know that."

"I call it by another name, Waldemar," she replied, "it is—immodest. I—I—think I should die of shame if I had to sit beside Mrs. Smith in that dress."

"Don't make a fool of yourself, Reine," he cried, seizing her arm roughly. "Don't dare tell Mrs. Smith that; you would make an enemy of her for life."

"Well, what if I do?" she answered, spiritedly.

"You would rue it to the last day of your life," he hissed. "You shall go to the opera with her and make yourself as agreeable as you know how."

Reine went, but it was with one of the bravest of hearts. As she had expected, all the lorgnettes in the house were repeatedly turned to their box. Reine shrank behind the silken curtains. Mrs. Smith seemed to enjoy this close scrutiny hugely. It was a great relief to Reine when the long evening was over, and they were en route home.

"I never enjoyed myself so well in all my life," declared Mrs. Smith, enthusiastically, as she parted from Reine. "It was a grand social triumph for me."

Those words puzzled Reine for long hours afterward. She was to know the meaning of them all too soon. On the day following this event a lady called, whose friendship Reine prized highly.

She greeted Reine with a grave face, and during the course of the conversation, the lady brought around the subject of the opera of the previous evening.

"I saw you in your box, Mrs. Waldron," she said, "but—for the moment, I could hardly persuade myself that it really was your box."

"Why?" asked Reine, smiling.

"I do not know as I should speak about it; still, I feel it is my duty to enlighten you, my dear," returned the lady. "Please remember it is only the friendly interest I feel in you that forces me as it were, to speak; to put it plainly, the person who was with you, is a creature no lady who values her reputation can be seen speaking to. Of course you did not know; she is a near neighbor and appears to be a woman of wealth, but ah, my dear, such as she are the world's sharks. I pray you, close your doors against her. Do you comprehend me?"

Reine was too shocked for utterance.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15.0x1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Does Mining Pay?

Some say it does not—Let us see. During the year 1905 the production of gold was as follows:

|---|---|
| United States | $ 83,700,000 |
| Mexico | 12,600,000 |
| Africa | 86,000,000 |
| Australia | 87,700,000 |
| Total for the world | $375,000,000 |

Add to this the production of other metals, and we get a sum beyond the comprehension of the human mind.

¶ PALMER MOUNTAIN TUNNEL AND POWER COMPANY mines will soon be adding their quota to the world's production.

We offer stock in this Company with confidence.

The great progress which has been made in opening and equipping these mines renders it certain that present price of stock will soon be advanced.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

THE LONDON LIFE INSURANCE CO.

In the case of outstanding and deferred premiums, deduction is made for the collection of both renewal and new premiums. In the latter case, although the bulk of the business has been actually paid for, only 60 per cent. of the premium is treated as an asset. If this item were taken into account at full face value, as is often done, the surplus would be further increased accordingly.

The amount of insurance represented as being in force is very considerably less than would be the case if all the industrial infantile policies were counted in full benefit as is the general practice. Since 1900 the policies issued at ages under ten have been treated as being in force only for the amount payable in case of death, and not for the maximum amount for which the policy will ultimately be in benefit. This applies to all plans and necessarily results in making the showing in regard to business issued and in force, considerably smaller than would be his case were the ordinary methods followed.

It is satisfactory to again note the fact that the profits estimated five years ago have been fully realized.

ED. E. REID, A.I.A., Actuary.

The president, Mr. John McClary, in moving the adoption of the report, said:

The directors' report and accompanying financial statement present the year's operations, and the position of the company at the close of the year, in such detail as to be readily comprehended by anyone having even a limited knowledge of the matters dealt with.

The record of substantial progress that has been characteristic of the company in the past, has been added to the past year; steady and solid progress being apparent in every department of the company's affairs. The new business of the company exceeded the like business of any previous year, and the net increase in total business in force on the company's books at the close of the year also shows a very substantial increase over the business previously in force.

The particulars of the company's investments show that about 85 per cent. of the company's funds are invested in mortgages on real estate. It affords me very great pleasure to be able to say that notwithstanding the large percentage of mortgage investments, yielding a much larger interest return than would bonds and debentures, the company has never lost a dollar on this class of investments because of insufficient security, while the losses from every source in this connection aggregate less than $300 during the whole period of the company's history. The other assets of the company are all of undoubted character, and are taken this account at a valuation which is considerably below what could be realized at the present time if it were necessary, or advisable to dispose of these securities.

While it is of the greatest importance that the funds of the company be safely and profitably invested, it is of equal importance that the liabilities of the company in respect of its outstanding obligations, be ascertained and recognized in a proper manner. The real test of solvency is not determinable by taking into account the assets of a company only, but rather by a surplus of assets over liabilities fully ascertained and recognized. The certificate of the actuary shows how fully every requirement has been met, and that the company's own standard in this connection is much more stringent than the law requires.

With the assets of the company on a thoroughly sound basis, and the liabilities provided for in the most comprehensive manner, the surplus of $61,149.76 over all liabilities and capital, proves beyond question that the company's position financially is all that could reasonably be desired.

I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the report.

The vice-president, Mr. A. O. Jeffery, K.C., LL.D., D.C.L., in seconding the adoption of the report, said:

As the president has dealt more particularly with the financial position of the company, I wish to direct your attention to other features of the report.

The business issued during the year shows an increase of 14 per cent., the amount in force shows an increase of 11 per cent., and the amount gained, an increase of 34 per cent. over the previous year.

These favorable results have been accomplished without any increase in the ratio of expense to income. Leaving out of account the cost of alterations in office building, this ratio was nearly 2 per cent. le[illegible] the year previous, or [illegible] very low rate for a company conducting an "Industrial" as well as an "Ordinary" branch.

The interest receipts for the year exceeded the amounts paid for claims, dividends to stockholders, rent of head office, and salaries of head office staff. Such a statement cannot probably be paralleled in the history of Industrial Life Insurance companies.

In view of the more enlightened interest taken by the public in regard to life insurance matters, it may be noted with satisfaction that this company has never issued tontine policies in the ordinary sense of the term; that an annual accounting of profits has always been made; that the estimates placed in the hands of agents have been fair and honest, as is indicated in the last clause of the actuary's report; that the investments are made on an absolutely non-speculative basis, and that in all respects the interests of the policyholders are carefully safeguarded.

The position of Canadian companies in the estimation of the people of this country is unquestionably more favorable than ever before; and inasmuch as the unsound basis upon which assessment organizations are working is becoming more and more apparent this company may confidently look forward to a constantly increasing patronage.

The report was adopted unanimously.

The following directors were reelected for the current year, viz.

John McClary, president; Mr. A. O. Jeffery, vice-president; Wm. Bowman, A. N. Emery, W. F. Bullen, George C. Gibbons, Thos. H. Smallman, T. W. Baker and Judge Bell.

A KNOWING BIRD

Lindsay Veteran Recognized By An Old Friend Robin.

Lindsay Post says that for several years past a pair of robins have nested in a maple tree on Sergt.-Major Martin's property on Russell street, west, and the old veteran has always taken a deep interest in their arrival. When the sergeant read in Saturday's Post that Mr. M. Paton and others had been seeing robins, he feared that his bird friends had either deserted the old nest or had become the prey of enemies on their way up from the sunny south.

While standing on his verandah last evening about 6.20, he heard a chirp, and casting his glance upward saw, perched on the tall flag-staff, a robin. The bird preened its feathers, and then, cocking its eye coquettishly at the delighted sergeant, it whistled a bar or two of the veteran's red favorite, "The Protestant Boys," in fine style. Then, with a flirt of its tail feathers, the robin flew down to the old trees to inspect last year's nest.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday owing to the genial warmth of the various brick walls throughout the city, the "five-cent Rye League" did not attend the police court in large numbers.

The first case tried was that of a boy named Dennis F. Jones, 17 years of age, charged with having at Lakefield on Monday, April 1st, obtained from F. Bullen, the sum of $2.50, and having stolen the same. Although no witness were heard, further than Chief Rossel, it seems that Jones, who is about 17 years of age, has been, for a short time working for Mr. Gibbs the local livery man.

On Sunday last Mr. Gibbs sent Jones to Lakefield, with a rig, to drive up Mr. Bullen, who is installing some machinery in the Lakefield Cement Company's Works.

It is alleged that on arrival at Lakefield, when Mr. Bullen went to pay Jones the charge for his conveyance, $1.50, the former handed Jones a $4 bill, and Jones had no change. Mr. Bullen told Jones to leave the change, $2.50 at a certain store. Jones omitted to leave the $2.50 and on arrival at Mr. Gibbs' barns, told the latter he had not been paid the money, thus making an illegal rake-off from each end of the game.

The chief, after Jones had pleaded guilty, asked that judgment be reserved for one week, saying he had reason to believe that Jones had swindled several other people, and he, the chief, wanted time to investigate.

Rev. Canon Davidson, who was present, asked also that the sentence of the court be reserved, explaining that Gonse had been brought out to Canada by a society and he, Rev. Mr. Davidson, wanted also to have the matter looked into. Mr. Davidson explained to the court that Jones had worked in several places in Canada, and that this society decided recently to have the boy sent to Apsley, where he has been working with a clergyman.

The Magistrate said that when the society sent Jones to Apsley, it looked as though his record must be bad and that they had sent him there where he would have no opportunity to go wrong. Rev. Mr. Davidson said that, as far as he could judge, the boy's record was not of the best.

The case was held over for one week.

A young man 18 years old, was charged with having committed trespass upon the private property of a local citizen living on Stewart St. A relative of the boy, his grandfather, after defendant had pleaded not guilty, said the boy had been living with him for several years. The lad had been working intermittently but will not hold a regular job. He had gotten him a place with a farmer, but the lad had came in, in twoday's time.

The boy, the grandfather said, stays out at night, in the pool rooms. The witness then produced the notice he had served on the lad notifying him he would have to leave his house, as he would not pay his board, which was placed at a nominal sum.

The boy explained his side of the story, but the magistrate decided that the complainant was master in his own house and as the lad was earning $1.10 a day he could pay board.

The lad then produced a letter from his grandmother, giving him permission to live in the house, but this was explained away by complainant, who said, "The boy feels [illegible] before anything be done."

His Worship told the lad that he must stay away from his grandfather's house, and if at the end of this time he had obeyed orders he would know how to deal with him; on the other hand, if he persisted in going to the House he would also know how to deal with him in another way.

License Holders Not Encouraged

Ontario Government Considers That Increased License Fees Are Only a Fair Return for Monopoly Made By Law.

(Special Staff Correspondence.)

Toronto, April 5.—Yesterday about 500 members of the Ontario Licensed Holders' Protective Association, among which were about thirty delegates from Peterboro, gathered at the Parliament buildings to note their objections to the proposed amendments to the license law, and to ask for modification of the same.

So large was the deputation that it could only be received on the main stairway. The Ministers and leaders of the deputation stood on the upper steps and the hotelmen filled the stairs and the main entrance hall right to the doors. All parts of the Province were represented. The deputation assembled in Victoria Hall and went to the Legislative buildings in special cars, arriving there at eleven o'clock.

Mr. J. Hartnett, Windsor, president of the association, introduced the deputation to the Minister.

Mr. James Haverson, K.C., stated that the license holders were as much interested in the maintenance of the law as any other class, having their all invested in their business. There were many difficulties surrounding the business. A typical one was that regarding supplying liquor to guests at meals on Sunday. It was done, although not legal, and the law should permit it and so avoid breaches of the law, three of which would be enough to cancel a man's license.

In speaking of the fee Mr. Haverson said that the license charged was altogether inadequate to the amount of liquor consumed in this Province. In Montreal there was a larger consumption and longer hours, but the fee was much lower.

"One-third of the fees proposed in this bill would be enough," said Mr. Haverson.

WANT A LIMIT.

Mr. Harverson approved of the principle that there should be a limit to the increased fee which cities could impose, and argued that this should apply as well to towns and country hotels. Transfers should be subject to a nominal fee and not to the large fee proposed. The right of municipalities to decrease the number of licenses, he said, should be taken away.

Mr. H. N. Kittson, wholesale grocer, Hamilton, acknowledged that the trade had got substantial justice, but he could see no grounds for the increase in fees. The tax on the trade now was some $377,000, while the new fees would raise this to $800,000. This was an unjust share of the revenue to exact from one class.

MR. HANNA'S REPLY.

The Provincial Secretary was glad to know the better class of hotelmen were interested in the proper enforcement of the law. The sooner those engaged in the traffic interested themselves in the enforcement of this law, not only on their own premises, but generally, the better he would like it, and he would welcome the aid of the trade. As to the increase in fees he pointed out that a monopoly had been created through the steady reduction in licenses, and it was only fair that some portion of this should return to the people. Protection of honest witnesses should be [illegible] fraction of the offences entailing cancellation was promised. The tied house being an evil growing out of the law the Government proposed to discourage it. Sale until 12 p.m. could not be allowed, public sentiment being against it.

"We have no intention to inflict hardship for the sake of severity, but we intend to go as far as we can to give a strict enforcement of the law. Our one thought is to ask not only those outside, but those in the trade to aid us in that. I can assure you it will be protecting your own business within legitimate lines to see that the law is not being violated, and that those who disagree with you will have nothing to complain of as to the manner in which the trade is being carried on."

PREMIER WHITNEY.

Premier Whitney added a few words out of courtesy to the deputation. The Government were ever watchful of public opinion on great questions, he said, and he was sure the new bill fairly represented the opinion of the great majority. The views expressed by Mr. Haverson proved that the charge that the Government, in framing the measure, had been animated by flood-feeling towards the liquor trade, made by Mr. Spence, was untrue. It was pleasing to know that the best section of the trade, becoming the great majority of that trade, was at one with the Government in enforcing the law.

A synopsis of the changes asked for at the meeting were contained in The Times of yesterday's issue.

THE NEW SCHOOL

Tenders Will Probably Be Advertised for After Next Monday's Meeting

It is expected that the Board of Education at their regular meeting next Monday night, will prepare to advertise for tenders for the new south ward school. A meeting of the Property and School Accommodation Committee was held Tuesday night and approved of the plans for the new school, and issued instructions to the architect to have them ready to present to the Board of Education on Monday night, to be finally approved.

MR. FRANCIS RESIGNS

Prominent Engineer of the Trent Valley Canal Leaving for British Columbia.

As an aftermath of the recent wholesale resignations of prominent engineers, who have so ably contributed their services towards completion of Canada's great undertaking, the Trent Valley canal, the many friends of Mr. W. J. Francis, engineer of hydraulic locks, has tendered his resignation, and the resignation has been accepted.

Mr. Francis, who is a most capable engineer has decided to move to British Columbia, where he has accepted the management of the works connected with one of the largest power developments in the Dominion.

Mr. Francis came to Peterboro ten years ago, as chief draughtsman for the Central Bridge and Engineering Co., and afterwards was engaged to design the steel work of the hydraulic lift lock on the Trent canal here, succeeding Mr. H. S. Greenwood, division engineer, who went with the the troops to South Africa. On the completion of the Peterboro-Lakefield section of the Trent canal, Mr. Francis was appointed engineer of hydraulic locks and since has had charge of the work both at Peterboro and at Kirkfield.

Mr. Francis leaves in about two weeks for the West, his family accompanying him.

MACHINERY HERE

Sandstone Brick Co. Gets Their Machinery, and are Ready for its Installment.

Work is going on apace on the new Sandstone Brick Company's plant, on the Monaghan road. The first shipment of machinery has arrived, and will be unloaded as soon as the C.P.R. car complete the siding into the company's yards, which will be done in a day or two. The buildings are now in readiness to have the machinery installed.

Mr. Williamson, of the American Sandstone Brick Machinery Company of Saginaw, Mich., is in the city and will superintendent the installation of the Peterboro plant. It is fully expected that the company will be ready to start by the first of May, to turn out 22,000 bricks per day.

FARMERS GET HELP

Adj. Jennings Brings Men Here to Hire With Farmers.

The Salvation Army immigration agents are certainly busy these days. On Tuesday evening, Adjutant Jennings arrived here from a trip to Toronto, where he secured nearly twenty English immigrants, sent out by the Army, bringing with him five of the men he had secured. The remainder arrived here yesterday morning. The following farmers of the district have engaged immigrants:

Mr. Robert Jackson, of Bear's Station.
Edward Mabood, Bear's Station.
Wm. Jackson, Bear's Station.
Edward Corkery, Bensmore.
Jas. H. Northey, Smith.
Jas. Tyndit, Bridgenorth.
F. E. A. Sanders, Springville.
John Appleby, Carnarvon.
Sidney Rutherford, Graystock.
R. B. Jackson, Omemee.
R. G. Thompson, Omemee.

Large Crowd Went to Toronto.

The meeting of provincial license holders, which yesterday waited on the Ontario Government, in regard to recent amendments to the license Act, was attended by nearly every license holder in this city. In addition to the license holders of the city, the excursion was patronized by a very large crowd of local citizens, who took advantage of the cheap return fare. The early C.P.R. train was simply packed by local citizens, many being unable to gain seating accommodation.

Banwell's New Job.

Kingston, April 5.—Banwell will still be concerned in bookkeeping at the penitentiary, but his work will be in the library and not as accountant.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Toronto Press Refer to Mr. H. P. Kennedy Peterboro's Meat Market Man.

The Toronto World says:—The best load of straights butcher cattle on the market today was sent in by Mr. John Hutchinson, of Tavistock, and was sold by Maybee, Wilson & Hall to H. P. Kennedy, of Peterboro. They averaged 1,120 lbs. in weight, and sold for $5.30 per cwt. They were a mixed load of steers and heifers, mostly 2-year-olds, and were bred from the heels up. Mr. Kennedy intends them [illegible] Peterboro. He has now the finest provision store in Ontario, and his trade requirements call for the best beef that Ontario can produce.

The Globe also contains the following reference to Mr. Kennedy:—Maybee, Wilson & Hall claimed to have the best load of straight butcher cattle on the market. It was sent in by Mr. John Hutchinson, of Tavistock, and was sold by Maybee, Wilson & Hall to Mr. H. P. Kennedy of Peterboro. They averaged 1,120 lbs. in weight, and sold for 5.30 per cwt. They were a mixed load of steers and heifers, mostly two-year-olds, and were "beef from the heels up. Mr. Kennedy intends them for his Easter trade in Peterboro.

GOOD BANK STOCK

Farmers' Bank of Canada Offering Stock on Easy Terms.

A very limited acquaintance with the innumerable opportunities for investment now offered to capital show that the safest, most conservative and, at the same time, profitable channel for such investment is in Canadian bank stocks.

Those who got in on the ground floor," of nearly every bank in this Dominion are now reaping large fiscal harvests on capital that is as safe as British consols.

The Farmers' Bank of Canada, incorporated by special act of the Dominion Government, with headquarters in Toronto, with a capital of $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares at a par value of $100, is now offering 5,000 shares at par.

The terms for payment of such stock, which will undoubtedly soon be at a good premium, and, on each share, $10 down on application, $20 on allotment, and the balance payable in seven equal monthly payments of $10 per share. This it will be noticed gives investors who are not prepared to pay the whole amount down in a lump sum to spread their payments over a considerable time, and also offers a good opportunity for those wanting to lay by their monthly savings.

As will be noted in the adv. of the Farmers' Bank in another column of this issue, the directors of the new bank are gentlemen of undoubted integrity and standing, well known throughout the Dominion.

For full particulars address Mr. C. H. Smith, Secy., 118 King street west, North American Ins. Bldg., Toronto.

Desertions at Kingston.

Kingston, April 5.—There are numerous desertions just now at the barracks. Already nearly a dozen men have taken French leave. This is usual when spring begins to manifest itself. A deserter has been run down at Tweed and will be brought back for court martial.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 5.—The saw mill of Edward Diefandorf at Chittenango was blown up by a boiler explosion. Edward Diefandorf, jr. and Patrick Baker were instantly killed and John Higgins and Jesse Kelsey fatally injured.

The Japanese Thank Canada.

Ottawa, April, 5. — Consul-General Nosse has received a cable from the Premier of Japan and Minister of Foreign Affairs, asking him to convey to the Canadian Government the sincere thanks of the Imperial Japanese Government for their philanthropic donation in relief of the famine sufferers.

Island's Insane People.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., April 5.—Annual report of the Provincial Insane Hospital, tabled yesterday in the Legislature, shows a total number admitted during the year, of 48, about 2 1-3 per cent. of the population. This was the largest in the history of the institution.

HYOMEI CURES CATARRH

Its Healing Balsams Kill All Catarrhal Germs.

There is no more common disease than catarrh, and none that is more dangerous. It weakens and debilitates the whole system, if it is allowed to run, leads to serious and sometimes fatal complications.

No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used. Breathed through the small pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, its healing balsams penetrate to the most remote cells of the throat, nose, and lungs, killing the germs of catarrh, healing the irritated mucous membrane, and making complete and lasting cures.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1. The inhaler will last a lifetime, while extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured, whenever needed, for only 50 cents.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

JUDGEMENT RESERVED

The Division Court Case of Mackay vs. McBain Concluded.

Yesterday the division court case of Hugh Mackay vs. J. J. McBain, was concluded.

It will be remembered that in this case, the plaintiff sought to recover $60 for damage done to crop owing to the presence of surface water. Mackay claimed that McBain had obstructed the free passage of surface water across his lands, and he claimed $60 for loss of crop.

Mr. McBain contended that he had not obstructed the passage of the water in the manner that Mackay had a right to throw surface water on his land. Judgment was reserved. Messrs. Hall & Hayes for the plaintiff and Messrs. Denniston, Beck, and Kerr for the defendants.

UNDERGROUND WIRES

Lindsay Will Insist on All Electric Wires Being Put Out of Sight

The Lindsay Post says:—There are, no doubt, some citizens who would have preferred that the town council had granted an exclusive franchise to the Bell Telephone Company recently, and compelled them to lay all their wires on the main street underground. Sarnia has been one of the first of the smaller towns to insist upon the wires being placed underground, but before doing so the Bell Company secured an exclusive franchise for five years. With the fine main street that Lindsay is proud to boast of, would not our citizens rejoice if the poles that now disfigure the thoroughfare were done away with, and the wires installed underground? Even an exclusive franchise for five years might be conceded if in return we could secure so desirable an improvement as the removal of the poles and wires—because the telegraph companies could use the same conduits.

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Only one case was tried at yesterday morning's police court, much to the disgust of those delegates present from the "Work Weary" and "Three-hour System" clubs. Richard Walters, a son of Albion, who has seen the snows of seventy-one years, and who came to the station on Tuesday night asking to be "sent up" discovered, when the eagle eye of the Worship pierced him, that Peterboro is not advertising herself as a dumping ground for "vags." The magistrate told him to get out of town at once or he may get a longer term than Richard was asking for, and that, not amid the balmy breezes and song bird enlivened music of Castle Nesbitt.

BOARD OF WORKS

Will Advertise For Tenders for Over Eight Miles of New Pavements.

Last night in the committee room the Board of Works met and held a long session. There were present; Ald. Hicks in the chair, Mayor Beat, Aldermen Graham, Elliott, Wilson, and McIntyre, also City Engineer Hay, and Street Inspector Evans. Ex-Ald. H. Winch was also present.

A long and red hot investigation, concerning that portion of the city engineer's report, referring to wooden sidewalks, which he advocated replacing by pavements, was held.

After spending some considerable time in taking up each stretch mentioned and considering each on its merits, the Board decided to advertise for tenders for the whole amount of the pavements recommended by the engineer, and then decide afterwards which should be built.

The aggregate of the pavements suggested amounts to over eight miles in length, which will, in the majority of cases be placed during the summer.

Other matters were also discussed which lack of space necessitates holding over for tomorrow's issue.

Killed in Railway Accident.

Franklin, Pa., April 5.—A work train on the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania Railroad was running from Pennadrell to Emlenton, to help repair a wreck at the latter place, when the engine jumped the track at Rockland, killing Engineer Robert Burkart, of Pittsburg, and Supervisor F. C. Shipman, of Oil City.

Smelter to Cost $75,000.

Toronto, April 5.—According to a Cobalt authority just down from the North, Augustus Heins, of Butte, Montana, is said to be behind the establishment of a smelter that is to be erected two miles south of Haileybury. About 670 acres are included in the site secured, and it is proposed to secure water power by diverting Fire Creek. The cost of the smelter is estimated at $75,000.

Boston Colony for the West.

Boston, Mass., April 5.—The Newcomale is the title of the organized band of thirty young men of Boston and vicinity which left last night for the newly opened territory in the Canadian North-West. Each of them intends to settle on the 160 acres given free to every one of them by the Government. Eight of the party are married and some have children. They will develop their land by a sort of co-operative system. Their settlement will be 160 miles from Saskatoon.

Departments Clash Over Immigrants

Both Dominion and Ontario Governments Claim Superior Men Who Arrived at Halifax--- Farmers Hungry for Help.

Toronto, April 5.—A clash has occurred between the Immigration Department of the Dominion and [illegible] Provincial Government over the allotment of a party of English farm laborers, who arrived at Halifax the end of last week, which promises to cause some interesting complications, the result of which will materially affect agriculturists who have made arrangements for "help" with the respective government agencies.

Of the immigration party allotted to the Provincial Government, Mr. Hugh Clark, M.P.P., Center Bruce, made arrangements for some 30 of the most promising members to be sent up to farmers in Bruce county. The Provincial Government endorsed his selection and the names of the men and the directions for their destination were issued.

On their arrival at Halifax, however, the men selected were found to be of a very superior character, and the Immigration Agent of the Dominion Government stepped in at Halifax, and ordered the men to Oxford county, whither, after protest, they were sent. Mr. Clark took the matter up to the Provincial Government, and Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, at once lodged a protest with the department at Ottawa, the immigrants in question belonging to the Provincial Government's quota. The Dominion department undertook to look into the action, but were inclined to claim the men. The Ontario Government is awaiting further action.

HUNGRY FOR HELP.

Mr. J. R. Darnavel, Leeds, has located a number of men in his county between the Immigration Department and himself, following an interesting plan. "I caused it to be known, through the local press, he said, "that I would undertake to furnish my constituents with help, if they would make their wants known to me. Within a few days I was inundated with applications, principally for farm help. I secured one entire carload of Lord Ro Lochid's lot, consisting of married men, and although they were not experienced farmers, they were anxious to go on farms, and I had no difficulty in placing them.

"For the last two weeks I have been haunting the Immigration Office," continued Mr. Dargavel, smiling, "and have picked up from day to day a number of fine, lusty young men, who, I am sure, will make good citizens, and will help to relieve the stringency of the labor market.

SATISFIED WITH THE MEN.

"When home last Saturday I heard from nearly all the farmers who had received these men, and they were much pleased with them. I sent four more strapping fellows down by train yesterday. I believe these men will prove a great boon to the farming community in Leeds County."

Mr. Fred W. Lewis, Dufferin, has also located a number in his district. "I received many applications from the farmers," he said, "and I try to pick as likely looking individuals as possible. They are paying from $180 to $30f per year, and board, and I have applications for many more men."

Mr. J. Kobler, Haldimand, has also placed a number of men in his constituency, and has applications for others.

WHITBY SUGAR CO.

Will Operate the Wiarton Plant This Season.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, the Keystone Sugar Company of Whitby, whilst pushing forward their works as fast as possible, are uncertain as to whether they will be able to handle this season's crop of beets. The company has now decided to operate the Wiarton sugar plant this year in consequence of the above possibility.

The reason for delay in completion of the Whitby plant, is due to a misunderstanding over the harbor deal and consequent inability to secure possession of the site that had been selected alongside the wharf. It is the intention to erect the plant at Whitby in time for the 1907 crop. Meantime the several thousand acres of beets under contract for delivery at Whitby this fall will be sent to Wiarton.

FRED BROPHY LOWER.

Montreal, April 5.—Fred Brophy, the hockey player who was injured at Ottawa, while playing with Montreal against the Ottawas on March 3, is gradually growing worse. Since yesterday the young man has been in a stupor and cannot be aroused. It is feared that the blow which broke Mr. Brophy's nose also injured his brain and that an abscess has formed. Those in attendance on the unfortunate youth are of the opinion that he will not recover, or, at least, that he will never become himself again.

DAVID HARUM'S HAUNTS

Where the Winters Are Cold and the Snows Deep.

Writing from the vicinity of David Harum made famous, a man says that he was an habitual coffee drinker, and, although he knew it was doing him harm, was too obstinate to give it up, till all at once he went to pieces with nervousness and insomnia, loss of appetite, weakness, and a generally used-up feeling, which practically unfitted him for his arduous occupation, and kept him on a couch at home when his duty did not call him out.

"While in this condition Grape-Nuts food was suggested to me, and abandoning coffee, I began to use it. Although it was in the middle of winter and the thermometer was often below zero, my entire living for about six weeks of severe exposure was Grape-Nuts with a little bread and butter and a cup of hot water, till I was wise enough to make Postum Food Coffee my table beverage.

"After the first two weeks I began to feel better and during the whole winter I never lost a trip on my mail route, frequently being on the road 7 or 8 hours at a time. The constant marvel to me was how a person could do the amount of work and endure the fatigue and hardship as I did, on so small an amount of food. But I found my new rations so perfectly satisfactory that I have continued them—using both Postum and Grape-Nuts at every meal. All my nervousness, irritability and insomnia have disappeared and healthy, natural sleep has come back to me.

"But what has been perhaps the greatest surprise to me is the fact that with the benefit to my general health has come a remarkable improvement in my eye-sight.

"If a good appetite, good digestion, good eye-sight, strong nerves, and an active brain are to be desired, I can say from my own experience that Grape-Nuts and Postum will supply them." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

ENGLISHMAN TALKS

Correspondent Objects to Letter in Yesterday's Issue.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—In your paper of yesterday I observed a letter signed "Workingman," in which the gentleman writing it cast some very unnecessary slurs on the English working men assisted in their passage by the Salvation Army.

Although I have been in Canada for some years, I am still an Englishman, and as such, have much sympathy for my fellow countrymen.

Workingman's letter, I think, is unjust to the Army, which is doing a most admirable work in helping the destitute working people of England to get passage to this country where they can get better wages.

Workingman in his letter, printed in your paper of yesterday, advises employers to hire Canadians in preference to Englishmen, because the Canadian laborer is a taxpayer, and in most cases, a man with a family.

There may be good argument in one way, but how can England, the Mother Country, deal with her unemployed if they do not emigrate to the colonies.

As far as the Canadian laborer being a taxpayer is concerned, how can the newly arrived Englishman pay taxes until he gets a home?

About the Canadian laborer being a man with a family to keep, I think you or anyone else knows that Englishmen are known all over the world as raising large families. Give the new arrived Englishman a chance to get a few pounds to the better and he will soon get the wife and the family. If employers are just they will give the new-come Englishman a chance.

Yours truly,
ENGLISHMAN.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Crown Claims That Adam Lloyd Killed His Wife and Attempted to Cremate the Remains.

Belleville, April 5.—The trial of Adam Lloyd, the aged Hungerford farmer, charged with killing, and afterwards trying to cremate his aged wife, was commenced at the Assizes here this morning, before Chief Justice Falconbridge. The prisoner, who has been in jail for about nine months, pleaded not guilty. Mr. E. Guss Porter, M.P., is defending him.

The facts of the case are that Adam Lloyd and his wife lived together on a farm. The old man said that one morning he went out to the barn to do the chores, and when he returned to the house he found his wife dead in a chair, with her clothes partly burned off. The case was first looked on as an accident, but subsequently a wound was found on the woman's head, which the doctors said had been made before death.

Other suspicious circumstances led to the arrest and committal of Lloyd.

GOLD AT NEW LISKEARD

Cobalt, April 5. — Gold is reported twenty miles north of New Liskeard. As a result, some twenty prospectors left Haileybury and New Liskeard for McCullough's Landing yesterday morning. Though the rock is exposed in places it is doubtful if much active prospecting can take place until the snow goes, which will not be until the end of the month, as in places it is four feet deep in the woods.

The Warren claim in Lundy township was recently sold to a local syndicate. A shaft has been sunk four feet, and a vein of copper, silver and gold on quartz has been discovered.

Terror of Spring is Sickness

What Are You Doing to Protect Your Weak Body Against Spring Fevers?

A delay gives the germs and weakness a better chance to take hold.

Don't wait, think of your small resisting powers, and begin building up today!

For weakness, overwork and debility the doctors prescribe Ferrozone: let it help you now.

Vitality and power are instilled into the blood; this means new strength for all weak organs.

The fire of youth will dance in your veins, and new found energy will increase your desire to work.

Ferrozone supplies the nourishment and tissue-building material your system lacks. Isn't this a reason why?

From Combermere, Ont., Mrs Jno. Oram writes as follows: "For a number of years I was sickly in the springtime. I felt tired, nervous and had headaches. My blood was weak and damp days brought on rheumatism. My nerves system was shattered, and I felt utterly worn out. Ferrozone revived me in a short time. In two days my appetite increased and I could feel a building up process going on. This great tonic made a new person of me, and I don't think a more strengthening medicine for the spring can be found."

Wouldn't it be just fine to get back your old time spirits and vigor? Easily done with "Ferrozone;" commence today. Sold by all dealers, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE COAL STRIKE

There is as yet no coal strike; but the man with the coal bin will note that there is no hard coal being mined. The miners have not struck; they have simply quit work at the end of their engagement until the operators and their leaders can agree upon the terms of a new engagement. It is a simple step; and quite understandable when the relations between employer and employed are so near to industrial war as they are in the coal regions.

It is unfortunate that new terms were not agreed upon before this necessity arose; but we shall apparently be lucky if terms are agreed upon before the "suspension" hardens into a "strike." Just how firmly the operators are prepared to stand by their present position, it is impossible to tell in this period of "bluff;" but the common people will not forget that they displayed great staying power, with far less preparation than they have now, at the time of the last disastrous strike. Ability to wait is one of the strong cards of capital.

Three years ago, the final "trump" was played by the representative of the common people in President Roosevelt. And today it is not at all likely that the same common people will wait so long before playing. The friends of the operators are telling us with great unction that public opinion is against the miners this time, and that consequently they must lose. The truth probably is that public opinion has not yet taken form on the question at all, but is showing some natural irritation at the threat of another "coal strike," no matter who may be to blame. That it will finally be found to be against the miners with their hard and perilous lives and their pinched wage, seems improbable; not even if President Baer claims again to be a trustee for the Deity.

But, in any case, the man now in control of the coal mines will be taking a very perilous step if they permit the people of the United States to go into another winter with a meagre supply of coal. The cry of "nationalization" has been heard already in authoritative quarters; and, if it be proven that the present "trustees" for the national coal supply cannot manage to get it mined to meet the needs of the people, the people will be very strongly inclined to see what they can do themselves. The commanding necessity of the situation is an adequate coal supply. The profits of the operators and even the wages of the miners will not seem so important to the vast army of the consumers. They will regard it as an intolerable outrage if again they must face a season of scanty coal deliveries and sky-high prices when there is lots of coal in the bowels of the earth and thousands of men eager to mine it.

If the coal operators permit this feeling to be aroused as the autumn draws on and the November Congressional elections approach, they may expect to see at Washington, next spring, a House of Representatives pledged to the nationalization of coal lands. Nothing can prevent "the empty coal bin" from becoming the chief popular issue of the campaign if it exists. Thus the operators go into the conference between two fires—the coal consumers on the one side and the coal miners on the other. Nor will it help them to cast the blame on the miners; for obviously the people can get no relief by objurgating the miners. Their sole remedy is to take possession of the mines; and this will prove a blessing to the miners while wiping the operators out of existence.

AIDS TO BEAUTY.

Simple aids to beauty are apt to be forgotten in these days of facial massage, electrolysis and lotions for the skin, and yet there are a few which still receive the indorsement of the best authorities. One of these, and one which helps do away with the necessity of buying cold creams, is the constant use of rain water on the face. A famous skin specialist who commanded enormous prices when beauty doctors were fewer and farther between was asked just before she died what was the greatest beauty aid which she could truthfully recommend. She answered, "Eau de ciel." Even now this remains one of the best and simplest remedies for the skin, and yet it is one which nobody takes any trouble to preserve. A woman past middle age, who has a skin as pure as a girl's, manages to keep a small barrel always full. In the winter snow is melted, and in the summer between rains she uses the meltings from the refrigerator. The rain water that is caught outside is filtered through a coarse canvas fastened loosely on the barrel so that the water drips through it. This is kept clean, and the water is kept fresh and pure by being exposed to the air and never bottled in tight jugs. Another thing which a physician stipulates as being one of the things essential to both beauty of face and figure is to abstain from dope of all kinds, beginning with alcoholic drinks, tea and coffee and extending to all nerve or sleeping medicines.—Chicago Tribune.

THE DAILY NAP.

How the Sleepless Woman May Woo Restful Slumber.

To win sleep in two minutes the following rules are given to busy women to whom the fifteen minute nap daily is a necessity:

Sit in a reclining chair or rocker; tip the chair to a comfortable angle for the body (not enough to cause any perceptible weight on the back) and to a restful position for the head; place the feet on a chair as high as or higher than that upon which you are sitting; cross the limbs at the ankles (this closes one end of the circuit); put the hands together by interlacing the fingers (this closes the other end of the circuit); drop the hands loosely in the lap; close the eyes; let go; relax the body and mind; relieve yourself of all muscular and nervous tension; think of nothing except sleep; if you find the mind wandering in strange and forbidden or even in too frequented paths bring it back and quietly concentrate it on the deep, slow, rhythmical breathing. As you inhale think sleep; as you exhale think sleep.

Twere better not to lie down, especially if the nap is taken directly after a hearty meal, as the digestive organs are more or less crowded and the circulation interfered with. Besides, if you do not lie down you will not have to get up—quite an item with some people.

DRESS HINTS.

If you have any bits of fine old lace carry them to the milliner and have them made into an evening hat.

It is the mark of a true gentlewoman never under any circumstances to wear anything that suggests untidiness.

If you can manage a wet weather costume in waterproof red—hat, umbrella and all—do so. It is surprisingly cheery on a dull day.

Every wardrobe should include in its contents at least one well made and perfectly fitting black stock, to be worn with a touch of white at the neck.

For an awkward tear at the corner of a glove seam buttonhole the edges loosely with cotton that matches the kid and draw the edges of the buttonholing together.

If one requires to possess a slim waist, a good plan is to let the skirt bands be loose and below the usual waist line. The desired effect is obtained without any injurious squeezing.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 280 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 400 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconed in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 19th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and, horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

"I told my husband from the very first I did not like Mrs. Smith," she said.

"Smith!" cut in Reine's friend; "why, my dear, that is not her name, she is called the notorious Madame Eglantine. She has wealth and beauty that a princess might envy, but good women shun her as they would a scorpion."

"It is so strange that my husband did not know," said innocent Reine; "but then we have not been long in New York city."

"Very strange," repeated the lady; and she soon after took her leave, congratulating herself as she rolled away in her carriage, that she had opened Mrs. Waldron's eyes to what was going on; it was her duty to do so.

Wife-like, the moment Waldemar came in she told him of what she had heard.

"It isn't true," he declared, a dull, red flush suffusing his face. "If you believe all these tattling old busybodies have to say, you would have enough to do. Why, when a pack of them get together, they'd blast the reputation of the Virgin Mary if they could. Mrs. Smith is a gay young widow; these homely old women are simply jealous of her, that's all."

"Is her name Mrs. Smith, or Madame Eglantine, Waldemar?" she asked, firmly, "and how did you come to know her?"

"I do not recollect now," he replied, adding, "She is to go with us to the concert to-night, again."

"If she goes, I stay at home," said Reine. "I am amazed that you should expect me to associate with one against whose fair fame there is even the slightest stain."

With a muttered imprecation, Waldron strode from the room, vowing that he should take Mrs. Smith to the concert that night in spite of all the prudes in Christendom, and if she would not go with him, that he should go alone.

CHAPTER XVIII.

When Reine had come to New York from Waldron Towers, she had insisted upon bringing Honora Allen, her maid, with her.

"I have never been among strangers, Waldemar," she said. "I must see a few familiar faces about me."

Her husband had demurred at first. He could not endure the girl who was so devoted to his wife, and who seemed to have such a cordial dislike of himself; but in the end Reine's maid went with her.

And the time came when she was more like a counsellor and trusted friend to the desolate little bride than a paid companion. She had seen from the first how this ill-starred marriage would turn out. She was not surprised that Mr. Waldron had gone to the grand concert leaving his sick wife at home.

She found Reine still seated in her arm-chair by the glowing fire, sobbing as though her heart would break.

"Oh, my lady," cried the girl distressedly, "you must not take on so, and you so weak and sick; indeed, you must not."

Reine struck her little white, fluttering hands together with passionate fervor.

"I cannot help it," she cried. "I am so wretched, Honora; my heart is dead—my life is empty. He can go to the concert to-night knowing I am ill."

She crept up nearer to faithful Honora, clutching her hands with a gasping sob.

"He would not care if I were to die," she said, despairingly. "He would not miss me. No stranger could be more cold and more careless to me," she went on. "I am growing frightened at myself, Honora. I cannot tell—I dare not think—how it will end. I loved him better than all the world, when I married him, but now—I am beginning to dislike him. It has come to that at last."

"Oh, my dear lady, that is very wrong—very wrong indeed! A wife should never dislike her husband."

"Should a husband ever dislike his wife?" cried Reine, hoarsely. "Because my husband does dislike me, I am frightened at myself, Honora; for, if matters go on this way much longer, I shall hate him!"

That night no sleep came to her. She was thinking, hour after hour, what was she to do. She saw no light in the dark clouds which obscured the future—no hope for her. The years stretched out dark and gloomy. And this was the man for whom she had thrown away another love, which was as noble as it was tender and devoted. Then, for the first time, she commenced to compare Waldemar Waldron with Bernard Cheleigh.

She knew, Heaven help her, that she had chosen glittering tinsel instead of solid gold.

It was too late for regrets now. She had sealed her own doom—walked into the pit with open eyes. In open defiance, she had married the man they had warned her against, and now her folly had come home to her.

The sight would have stricken the old general mad, could he have seen his beautiful daughter pacing up and down her room, crying out that life was too bitter to bear. If he could but have seen how she struck her white breast with clasped, clenched hands, praying to die; only those who know what it is to be a neglected, unloved wife can realize what she suffered, when she was praying to die and end it all.

The servants—those secret messengers in households—soon gossiped the story about that his pretty young bride did not have any too much attraction for Waldemar Waldron. Bernard Cheleigh heard these gossips, and was the only one who looked on with sorrowful regret.

He did not wonder that she threw herself into the whirlpool of fashionable life.

Those who met her, told how gay, brilliant, polished, sarcastic and animated Waldemar Waldron's young wife was becoming. She seemed possessed of a restless idea of always wanting excitement.

An hour's quiet was more than she could endure, and people who wondered at her high spirits, her brilliant smiles, her clever repartees, never guessed that all this covered the sorest of hearts.

She was becoming quite noted in society as a beauty too.

Waldemar Waldron was quite astonished. He wondered curiously what people could see in Reine to rave over. As for himself, he never considered any one save dazzling brunettes particularly beautiful.

Bernard Cheleigh had avoided meeting Reine. He knew that it would affect him greatly to see such a change in her as he knew must have taken place. How he pitied her when he heard the whispers that floated now and then to his troubled ears.

"She is trying to drown her sorrow in the continual whirl of excitement," he thought; "but she will not succeed, and the reaction, when it comes, will be terrible for her."

He longed for a chance of speaking to her without seeming to interfere. That chance came at last.

Does Mining Pay?

Some say it does not—Let us see. During the year 1905 the production of gold was as follows:

|---|---|
| United States | $ 82,700,000 |
| Mexico | 12,600,000 |
| Africa | 86,000,000 |
| Australia | 87,700,000 |
| Total for the world | $375,000,000 |

Add to this the production of other metals, and we get a sum beyond the comprehension of the human mind.

¶ PALMER MOUNTAIN TUNNEL AND POWER COMPANY mines will soon be adding their quota to the world's production.

We offer stock in this Company with confidence.

The great progress which has been made in opening and equipping these mines renders it certain that present price of stock will soon be advanced.

Sleeplessness

Weak, Listless, Sleepless Men and Women Cured Every Day by Dr Hamilton's Pills.

The physical suffering and mental anguish that victims of sleeplessness endure is indeed a sad story. But in Dr. Hamilton's Pills there is swift relief from this awful condition Thousands have proved the merit of this grand medicine, among them Mrs. G. T. Lyons, one of the best known residents of Geneva, who writes: "My health ran down and I was unable to sleep. I had headache and pains in different parts of my body. In the morning I was weary and exhausted—no rest or comfort came from the snatches of sleep I got.

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills braced me at once. After the first night I got refreshing sleep, that extreme weariness left me and I recovered very fast.

"No medicine I ever used gave such telling results as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills."

Don't let sleeplessness drive you crazy, take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and get well. You will increase in flesh, your appetite will be vigorous, force and energy will be instilled into your nervous system.

By nourishing and purifying the blood and by stimulating the action of the kidneys, liver and stomach. Dr. Hamilton's Pills accomplish wonders. Try a 25c. box, or five boxes for $1; at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Work on East Ward Sewer.

Yesterday morning, work on the uncompleted east ward outfall sewer, was resumed by Contractor James Bogue. Owing to exigencies of the occasion, Mr. Bogue has as yet only placed a few men to work, engaged in filling in that portion where pipes were laid last fall, but not completed. As soon as possible more men will be engaged and the work rushed. This is the contract in which this contractor claims to be unfairly used, he, stating that his work was delayed through the fault of the city more than his own, and on which an excessive amount of his pay has been withheld.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—See Times Bookstore window display for bargains.

—A meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee has been called for tonight.

—Mr. M. A. MacNamara has commenced the erection of a handsome double house on Smith street.

—None too early to send Easter cards to friends at a distance, see the nice assortment at Times Bookstore.

—Mr. Roland Deane, has put a new façade to his flour and feed store, 336 George street, which much improves its appearance.

—The special services which have been held in George street church, during the past three weeks, will be discontinued after this week.

—Don't be without plenty of good tread paper for underlaying carpets when you can get four large packages at Times Bookstore for 10 cents.

—A great number of the farmers have commenced their disc harrowing and ploughing already. This is much earlier than in previous years.

—Burglars are busy in Belleville. On Sunday night over $100 worth of furs and jewellery were stole from Mr. Carnrite's residence, on Commercial street.

—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Moyean Smoce, 22 Aylmer street, will sympathize with them in the death of their infant daughter, which occurred yesterday morning.

—It is rumored that there are two more Provincial Government "spotters" in the city. One is described as a large stout man with light moustache, the other a short stout man with a similar hirsute appendage.

—Banwell the Toronto bank clerk, who flitted with $40,000 of his bank's funds to Kingston, Jamaica, and wound up in Kingston, Ont., has been assigned to a place in the penetentiary library. Of course the pay will be small, but the job is steady.

—Rev. Dr. Clarke, of Trinity University, Toronto, has consented to address the evening meeting of the City of Peterboro Teachers' Association on May 4th. Prof. Clarke, who has many friends in Peterboro, will speak on "Books and Reading."

—It is expected that the new hotel at Burleigh Falls will be ready for opening on May 1st. Messrs. McGregor & Reid, who have the contract for the plumbing, have nearly completed their work. The new building will be lighted by acetylene gas.

—Yesterday morning residents of Water, Brock, and Murray streets, fronting on Victoria park, were gratified to hear the robins once more chirping and whistling merrily. Truly it looks as though the rule of the coal barons is suspended for one year more.

—The fatal accident at Peterboro by which a team of horses were electrocuted is likely to result in a thorough inspection by an expert electrician. No town should permit electric wiring on its streets without a guarantee against accidents of this nature. Who is responsible in a case of this character if the town is not secured in its contract with the electric companies.—Bowmanville Statesman.

Remember the Meeting Friday Night.

Don't forget the important meeting tomorrow night in the council chambers when a local branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association will be formed. Mr. A. Kelly Evans, secretary for the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association, and Mr. Oliver Adams, of the Toronto branch, will outline the objects and methods of the general scheme. This is a matter that is of practical interest to not only sportsmen alone, but to every business man in Peterboro.

Mr. H. S. Macdonald Better.

We are pleased to say that Mrs. H. S Macdonald, who has been spending the past few weeks visiting her husband at Mr. Clemens, Mich., and who has returned home, reports that Mr. Macdonald's health is much improved.

Mr. J. Logan Gets Good Job.

Peterboro citizens, like corks in water, seem to "bob up serenely" to the top. Yesterday, Mr. James Logan, marine engineer of the east ward, received official notice of his appointment as second engineer of the Steamer Norseman. Mr. Logan was engineer of the Water Lily, one of the Calcutt line steamers, last year.

Board of Works Busy Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the Board of Works took their annual tour of inspection of the city under their charge. Every street which needs or might need repairs, was visited and carefully inspected. The Board met last night and discussed the result of their investigations. The matter of the dispensing of the Trent Valley canal excavation products was also discussed.

Market Notes.

Yesterday morning perhaps the busiest man in Peterboro, was Mr. Harry Snider, who on the 2nd of April took charge of the local market. Yesterday morning Mr. Snider had hard work to keep up with the ever incoming loads of hogs, cattle and other farm products. At one time there were eleven wagon loads of hogs awaiting their turn at the market scales.

Fine Easter Cattle.

Yesterday morning the market weigh scales office was crowded like a sardine box, with butchers, drovers, cattle shippers and others interested in live stock, waiting to see four head of cattle from Mr. McKee, of Smith. These four head weighed 5,200 pounds, and are all prime young cattle sent as are used for the best export trade. Two of them weighing 2320 were for Mr. M. W. Porter, George street, and two for Mr. J. Mervin, the old reliable Hunter St. dealer.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mrs. Wm. Croft left yesterday for a short visit to Cobourg.

—Mr. Geo. B. Wyatt, Buffalo, N.Y., is in the city on business a guest at the Oriental.

—Mr. D. H. Chamberlain, Port Hope, was in the city yesterday, registered at the Oriental.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tindall left on the C.P.R. yesterday morning for Winnipeg, Man.

—Mr. W. Alfred Smith, was in Colborne yesterday, attending the wedding of his sister.

—Mr. Robt. Stuart, of Chicago, arrived in the city at noon yesterday, to spend a few days.

—Mr. Jas. Head, proprietor of the Clancy House, took in the L.H.P.A. excursion yesterday to Toronto.

Mr. J. Balfour of Hamilton, one of Canada's veteran commercial men, is registered at the Snowden House.

—Mr. T. W. R. Black, of the Bank of Toronto, has returned from Keene where he has been relieving for the past few days.

—Miss Emma Wallbank, of Bobcaygeon, returned to her home yesterday after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. W. Lundy.

Dates When Fishing is Legal.

Mr. John Watt, fishery inspector, reports that the close season for all game fish is from April 15th to June 15th, and not June 1st, as stated recently. In the foregoing both dates are inclusive in the close season. Mr. Watt states that no gaffing will be permitted this year and he intends to keep a sharp outlook for all offenders.

Local Citizens Well Heared.

Mr. W. E. Boynton, Buffalo, was registered yesterday at the Snowden House. Several people recognizing the name as that of the swimmer who crossed the English Channel, but not paying attention to the initials, "Paul," being the name of Capt. Boynton the swimmer, got one of their number to interview the gentleman, and ascertain whether he was the gentleman who had accomplished the great swim. Capt. Boynton having possibly encountered the same mistake before, entered into a little joke, and whilst not absolutely saying he was the man who swam the English Channel, simply looked wise and remarked, "Well, I was pretty tired that time."

Those who had delegated the interviewer to interrogate Mr. Boynton, quickly made his acquaintance, thinking he was the swimmer (now dead), and copious libations to Bacchus were offered on the altar of hospitality. Among those putting up the cigars, etc., to the "good swimmer," were two leading merchants and a prominent manufacturer of this city.

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest, plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's peculiar diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which in the long run so harmful to women's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

British Troops Defeated in South Africa

Natal Field Force Attacked and Routed By Overwhelming Numbers of Rebellious Natives--Officials Fear Further Excesses.

Greytown, Natal, April 6. — The colonial field force which was concentrating at Igansa, 12 miles northwest of Greytown, for operations against the insurgent chief Bambatz, the deposed regent of the Greytown district, has been compelled to abandon its laager after heavy fighting, and retire to Greytown.

A portion of the force sent to rescue the women and children isolated at Keates' Drift succeeded in so doing, but while returning was attacked by rebellious natives. A running fight was kept up for six miles, the Zulus continuing the pursuit until within a mile of Greytown. Three of the colonial police were killed, and REINFORCEMENTS COMING.

The police report that the rebels are in strong numbers and flushed with victory and the officials fear further excesses. A strong force of artillery, infantry and mounted men is moving out of Greytown today to operate against the rebels.

A laager has been formed here, and every preparation has been made to defend Greytown in case of attack. An assault on the town, however, is considered unlikely to occur, the Zulus preferring to fight in the rugged country outside.

The British field force, at present only numbering a few hundred men, will be strongly reinforced during the next 24 hours.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday at noon, as P. C. Stewart, was travelling afoot eastwards on thoughts of dinner intent, he found an old man, Patrick Conway, by name, lying on the road on the other side of the bridge, thoroughly knocked out by a too steady and abnormal consumption of the extract which insidiously exhilarates and then gets its terrible work in. Conway, who is an inmate of the house of refuge, but who, on his trip to this side of the river, succumbed to the facinations of his old enemy, was too much under the influence to navigate; the officer gently assisted Pat into the interior department of a passing express wagon, and had him taken to the station, C.O.D. Up to time of going to press, Pat was snoring in accents reminding the unfortunate bearer of a steam piano suffering with influenza. He will appear for trial this morning.

Lindsay Educationalists.

It seems that Lindsay has a Board of Education, that at times when meetings are to be held remember the old familiar "I have taken a wife I pray thee have me excused," or similar reasons for not doing their duty. The Post says:

"Last night at eight o'clock, the hour set for meeting, four members of the Board were on hand, at 8.10 five, and at 8.40 a.m. and the needed seventh did not put in an appearance at all. One of the absentees was ill; a third was in the country on business; a fourth, when seen about 7.30, didn't know whether he would be able to come or not, another was enjoying a good church concert; and the sixth couldn't be present owing to social events — and there you are! How about imposing a fine on all delinquents?"

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. H. P. Kennedy Refers to Past and Desired Future Patronage.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—

I wish to say a few words in reference to the reopening of my renovated and up-to-date place of business, which takes place on Saturday next, April 7.

Ten years ago I opened up a meat market on George street after having been six years in the live stock business. From the day that I started in the retail business, I have always done a successful trade — one that has increased in volume from year to year—thanks to the liberal patronage and appreciation of the public.

I have always endeavored to live strictly up to what I have proclaimed and to furnish the very finest beef and meats at the lowest prices. I have secured a lease for another ten years, of my present stand—340 George street—and have fitted the premises up in a thoroughly up-to-date and modern style, avoiding anything flashy or cheap, but embodying all the latest sanitary ideas and devices, for the proper display, handling, care and use of meats and provisions. My extensive experience on the outside markets has enabled me to gain many valuable pointers, which I have sought to embody in the renovation of my premises. I purpose branching out, and keeping on hand, a large and select stock of eggs, butter, cheese, bacons, all kinds of canned goods, pickles, vegetables, and lines of canned fruits to meet all the requirements of my many customers. In fact, everything that a housekeeper needs in the provision line.

I wish to sincerely thank all my friends and patrons for their generous consideration in the past and to assure them that, in my new enlarged and thoroughly modern establishment, I will be in a better position than ever to serve them.

I also desire to thank them for putting up with the inconvenience occasioned by the recent alterations and to express my deep obligation to Mr. R. Deene for his kindly placing his store at my disposal.

Although I am absent from the city a great deal in connection with the live stock trade still I feel that I have competent and obliging employes, who faithfully look after my interest and the needs and requirements of the public.

With my long experience in buying I feel that I am in a position unsurpassed to procure and supply the very choicest beef on the Canadian market for my customers and at the lowest prevailing price.

After thanking all those who have so liberally patronized me in the past and trusting for a continuance of their favors in my new and commodious establishment, which will be reopened on Saturday next, to-morrow.

I remain,

Gratefully yours,

H. P. KENNEDY.

A RARE CHANCE

Investors Have Notably Good Oil Proposition Open.

In these days of numerous business propositions offered capitalists and the general investing public, none offer greater inducements or more conservative security for funds invested than "oil."

In view of the millions made by the Rockefellers, Rogers and other kings of finance, any good oil property deserving investigation, and oil properties have been numerous of late, up and tested, and found to produce the inodorous but immensly paying article, are the safest and most lucrative investment on the fiscal market.

Geo. W. P. Fife, representing the Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Co., of Erie, Kansas, is now offering, for a limited time, stock in that company, in blocks, from $250 to $10,000 worth.

The company has now in actual operation a 1,000-barrel plant, with 18 miles of pipe lines, 14 tanks ranging in capacity from 600 to 11,000 barrels each.

One great feature, which will commend itself to economists investigating the proposition, is that on the company's property are their almost unlimited gas wells furnishing fuel sufficient to run the entire plant.

The company, besides their already acquired property have leases on hundreds of acres of valuable oil lands which will produce from 400 to 600 wells.

These properties are worth $300,000, and they have $100.000 in bank and bills receivable.

In order to increase the capacity of their output the company will, for a limited time only, sell stock, to a certain amount, at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.

As the company gives as references such world-wide known concerns as Dun's and Bradstreet's commercial agencies, and several banks, as noted in their adv. in another column, this proposition is well worth consideration by local investors.

WEDDING BELLS

Miss Goldsmith Becomes the Bride of Mr. Norman G. Evans.

A wedding which is of considerable local interest, as both the fair bride and her father are former citizens of Peterboro, was celebrated in Belleville on Wednesday.

Miss Helen Mary Goldsmith, daughter of ex-Ald. and Mrs. Goldsmith, became the bride of Mr. Norman Dundry Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Evans, 62 Spadina road, Toronto. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room of spacious "Maplehurst," by Rev. Geo. Brown, pastor of the Tabernacle, in the presence of about 100 guests.

The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome gown of white spangled satin en Princess, draped over white shirred chiffon with bolero and trimming of point lace. She wore a coronet of orange blossoms with tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of violets.

Miss Nellie Goldsmith, sister of the bride, who was bridesmaid, wore pale blue chiffon taffeta, trimmed with baby Irish insertion, and carried pink roses.

The groom was supported by Mr. Norman Gibson, of Niagara Falls. Little Miss Ruth Honey, the groom's niece, acted as flower girl, and carried a sheaf of white Easter lilies, with the ring concealed in one.

Mrs. Goldsmith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome grey silk gown with insertions of Irish point lace.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Evans, Mrs. Grantley, Mr. Owen Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Honey, Mr. H. S. Rimmer, Mrs. Tom Brown, of Toronto; Miss Grace Gundry, of Baltimore; Mrs. O'Flynd, of Madoc; Mrs. Clarke, of St. Catharines; Dr. and Mrs. Dean, of Stirling.

After the ceremony the bride held a reception, and after the wedding breakfast the happy couple left on a trip to Washington and the southern States.

The exceedingly numerous and handsome presents included a case of solid silver and cutlery from the staff of the Dominion Bank, Toronto, the associates of the groom.

A BREWERY STRIKE

Port Hope Brewery Employees Object to Interference With Beer Privileges.

Yesterday quite a considerable amount of talk was current through this city owing to the report of a strike now on at the Port Hope Brewery, which is largely owned by Peterboro citizens.

The Port Hope Guide says:

There was something doing at the brewery last night and this morning, and the result now is that the most of the employes are now out on strike. The trouble arose over the time taken by the employes to partake of their beer. According to a large placard which hangs in the brewery, the employes are entitled to six intervals each day of ten minutes each to partake of their beer. In the morning they are supposed to assemble at 8.30, again at 10 and again at 11.50. In the afternoon at 2.30, 4. and 5.50 o'clock. In case the employes are detained at these different periods they shall apply at the office, when, upon a satisfactory explanation, they shall be supplied with the beer.

Yesterday afternoon everything was going along as usual until the men were partaking of their first drink. The manager, Mr. Horeman, appeared on the scene and informed the men that it was past the hour for refreshments and as a result of this he would deprive them of any beer for several days. At 5.50, the next period allotted for the refreshments, the employes came forth but the manager had the tap locked and refused to allow them to open it. As a result the number known as the "brewery employes" did not put in an appearance this morning.

The manager waited upon a couple of the employes of the bottling cellar to have them attend the fires during the absence of the regular firemen. They informed him that they did not understand the boiler or engine, and refused to take the responsibility. They were told then that their services were no longer required. The other employes of the bottling cellar, followed, and by nine o'clock, seventeen of the men were out on strike. The manager at once telephoned to Toronto, and expects fourteen men down on the 4.30 train this afternoon.

The brewery employes consider the whole thing a small piece of business on the part of the manager. They all state that it was exactly twenty-five minutes to three when the manager met them at the refreshment counter, and that he had no occasion whatever to find fault. They have agreed not to return unless every man is taken back, and just at present it is difficult to say how the matter will end.

THE GREAT CANADIAN WEST

Abounds in Petrolium-Successful Developments in the Flathead Valley British Columbia.

It has long been known that south of the Crow's Nest Pass coalfields in British Columbia there existed an oil field of unknown dimensions, but whose surface indications of oil surpass those in Pennsylvania, whose development led to the discovery of mineral oil in liquid form in commercial quantities.

As long ago as 1891, Professor Selwyn, of the Canadian Geological Department, examined and described the field. But at that time a few Mormon farmers were the sole population of South-Western Alberta, and South-Eastern British Columbia was a trackless wilderness, save for ancient Indian trails.

Had the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway utilized the South Kootenay Pass, as it might have done had it not been too close to a foreign frontier, things would have been entirely different. The railway would have traversed the richest portion of this continent, instead of one of the poorest, and the Province of British Columbia would have earlier lost his stigma as a "Sea of Mountains."

Conditions now have changed. The development of copper and lead mining farther west led to a demand for coal and coke, and the Crow's Nest mines were opened and a railway built within striking distance of the oil fields.

For the last four or five years pioneer have been busy exploring and locating these fields. The difficulties of taking the first drilling rigs into the country were enormous, but now these difficulties have been overcome and the work of the pioneers is approaching its denouement. The tremendous developments which marked the discovery of oil in California, Texas and Kansas are about to be repeated on the Canadian side of the line.

The pioneer company formed to operate in British Columbia for oil was the Flathead Valley Oil Lands Development Company, Ltd. of British Columbia. It was shortly followed by the organization of the South-East British Columbia Land and Oil Company of The Dalles, Oregon. These companies had to face the problem of connecting a road from Belton, Montana, with another from Pincher Creek, Alberta, in order to open up their property at Akamina, where between them they control the available oil territory.

Akamina is located at the junction of the two branches of the South Kootenay Pass. It is a beautiful little prairie with gently rising benches snugly hidden at the base of the main range of the Rocky Mountains. Till within a year ago the white men who had ever seen the spot were few in numbers. Today it is alive with activity. In a few years it will be the site of an active and progressive little city based on the enormous reservoirs of petroleum lying beneath the capping of the rocks.

The development of this field has now acquired sufficient momentum and received sufficient encouragement to make its future progress irresistible. The harvest of years is almost ripe, and fortunes await those who even now take the initiative of investing, provided they use ordinary common sense in buying the shares of a reputable company.

MR. GLIDDON APPRECIATED

George St. Methodist Church Trustees Pass Complimentary Resolution.

The trustees of the George Street Methodist church, have passed unanimously, the following resolution, which sufficiently explains itself;

That this trustee board desires to place on record an expression of its appreciation of Professor Gliddon's kindness in continuing to act as choirmaster, after the expiration of the time on which he asked so be relieved of that position. In all his relations to the members of this board, to the choir and to the whole church he has been both gentlemanly and kind and we say to him that, although resigning his position we will still continue to follow him with our best wishes, and we sincerely hope that the Conservatory of Music, to which he now wishes to devote more of his time, will under his able direction, prove successful beyond all his best expectations.

Also that a copy of this resolution be sent by the secretary to Professor Gliddon.

AN ARREST SOON

Police Close on the Tracks of Doyle, Who is Suspected of a Cowardly Murder.

Snowflake, Man., April 6.—The inquest on the body of Vincent Weller concluded, the jury gave their verdict as follows; "That Vincent Weller came to his death by a bullet in the head, and that Martin Doyle, senior, maliciously and with intent to kill did fire the same from some firearm."

It appears that Doyle desired to secure possession of three homesteads, his victim had located near Battleford for himself and son.

Winnipeg, April 6.—Doyle was seen here on Saturday and left in the evening for Battleford to take the homesteads he coveted so much. The police are now close on his trail and his arrest is expected at any time.

LIONS HAD A FIGHT

Fought in Cage During a Performance at St. Catherines.

St. Catharines, April 6.—Leslie's educated lions have been playing an engagement here, and last night two of the lions had something like a stand-up fight in the cage on the stage. While performing one of the lions was stepped on accidentally by another, and he started in to take his revenge. The other was ready for him, and for a time the audience was treated to a pretty good imitation of a jungle scene, the angry roaring of the lions making a terrifying sound. Senor Condora, the trainer, held his ground, and unmercifully beat the brutes over the headsheads with his whip, but it was several minutes before he got them separated. The audience expected to see the brutes turn on their trainer any moment, but he was safe enough, because half a dozen men with loaded revolvers were standing in the wings, ready for such a contingency, and Condora was well armed himself. The fight died away in low mutterings from the lions.

It was an unfortunate night for the company. One of the Japanese trapeze performers fell 20 feet from a swing and alighted on his head on the hard floor. He was not seriously injured.

FOOTBALL.

The annual meeting of the Midland Football League will be held in this city on Saturday, April 7th, at one o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, when reports of the officers will be received and new officers elected for the coming year.

It is now up to the various clubs wanting to enter the league this year to send representatives.

Local Carter's Horse Dead.

Yesterday morning when Mr. J. Duckford, carter, Aylmer street, visited his horse stable, he discovered, to his dismay, that one of his horses, which had done him good service, had, to use Lord Chesterfield's language, "passed in his checks," and "gone to the sweet subsequently."

The horse was apparently alright when he was stabled Wednesday night, and the cause of his rapid transit from this mortal coil is somewhat strange.

Thousands Will Lose Jobs.

Columbus, O., April 6—Thousands of men will be thrown out of employment by the enforcement of the Aiken $1000 liquor law, which has just been passed.

The 1600 proprietors of the saloons that will close will be out of employment. At least half of them have barkeepers, making 3200 more. Many porters, men who get up the saloon lunches, and bakers will lose their jobs. Brewery drivers and other employes at the breweries will also suffer, and it is said today that between 10,000 and 15,000 people in all will be out of employment. Representative Aiken estimates that the gain in the State's revenue will be about $3,450,000.

Changes Made in the Time Schedule of Examinations.

The Provincial Department of Education has made some changes in the time for the summer examinations. The dates for this summer's examinations are;

Wednesday, June 27th, 8.45 to 9 a.m., reading instructions; 9 to 11 a.m., composition; 11.10 to 11.55 a.m., spelling. Afternoon, 1.30 to 3.30, geography. Thursday, June 28th, 9 to 11.30 a.m., arithmetic. Afternoon, 1.30 to 4, written reading. Friday, June 29th, 9 to 11 a.m., English grammar; 11.10 to 12, writing. Oral reading may be taken either Friday afternoon or at other hours convenient to the examiner and candidate, but not to conflict with other subjects as heretofore.

A LOCAL ARTISTE

Miss Helen Davies Captures the City of London By Her Voice.

Miss Helen Davies, the local Queen of Song, who sang in London, Ont., on Tuesday evening and who had a most enthusiastic reception from an audience which filled the concert Hall of the Y.M.C.A. every number contributed by her, has returned home.

This is Miss Davies second visit to London as a soloist in three weeks. Immediately after her return, a telephone message was received, asking her to take the soprano solos in Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation," which is to be given in London on Easter Monday. She will not, however be able to accept the engagement on account of her Sunday duties in Peterboro.

JOE'S LUCK

Drew a Prize in Matrimonial Lottery.

"Before we were married my husband was a coffee drinker and subject to severe attacks of sick-headache, which interfered with his duties as supt of a large factory," writes a young Mass. matron.

"I had made up my mind that coffee was at least partly to blame, and that I could cure him after marriage by the use of Postum Food Coffee.

"When I told my younger sister about it, she laughed and said, 'Just wait and see! After you are married you'll find that Joe will have his coffee anyway.'

"I proceeded gradually, first eliminating by degrees the pastry and sweets from the daily menu, and as his meals were always daintily served and appetizing he began to have faith in his wife's ability as a cook.

"Meantime his headaches became less frequent, but did not cease altogether. When the time was ripe and I proposed to use Postum Food Coffee he consented upon the promise that he should have the old kind of coffee at his Sunday breakfast. He grew fond of the new food drink, however, and noted that after drinking the old coffee on Sundays he suffered from unsteady nerves and a dull heavy feeling that he never had on the days when he drank Postum. The result was that at last he said, 'I would rather have the Postum Food Coffee Sunday morning, too, if you don't mind, my dear. The old kind makes me feel like a fool all day.' You may imagine how ready I was to fall in with this suggestion. The old kind of coffee has been banished from our table for more than 3 years now; Joe's headaches are only a memory and he always has steady nerves and a clear brain to meet the exacting demands of his business. On hot summer days he relishes a glass of clear, cold Postum with a squeeze of lemon, at noon, finding it most refreshing.

"In the winter I make up a pot of Postum Coffee in the evening, boiling it 15 minutes, and let it set on the back of the range till morning, when it is heated and ready to serve in a few minutes." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

Fire, Water and Light Com. Meet

Detailed Report on the Proposed New Electrical Fire Alarm System to Be Prepared---New Flag for City Hall.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council met in the committee room last night. There were present, Mayor Henry, Chairman Frank Adams, and Aldermen Graham, Geo. Elliott, E. F. Mason, Ball and Duncan.

NEW FIRE ALARM.

The question of installing a new fire alarm system was taken up. Fire Chief Rutherford suggested that a skeleton plan showing all hydrants and alarm boxes should be carefully prepared. Also which company's telephone system it will be advisable to use.

Ald. Ball moved, seconded by Ald. Mason,—That Chairman Ald. Adams, Chief Rutherford, the city engineer and Ald. Ball be a committee to report on the matter of alarm boxes and their location.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS WANTED.

Petitions for two lamps on Crescent street between Lock and Haggart streets, and one on Carlisle Ave. were considered. Also a request to change the lamp on the north-east corner of Rubidge and Dublin Sts. to the south-east corner. The committee will personally investigate these localities before coming to any decision.

FOR POSITION OF ENGINEER.

Geo. A. Smith, of Ottawa, applied for the position of engineer in the fire hall. He has recently left the employ of the G.T.R., a 37 years old, and has had 20 years experience with engines of all kinds. No action was taken.

NEW FLAG.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons., and A. Kingsmote tendered for a new flag for the city hall. On motion of Ald. Ball, seconded by Ald. Mason, it was decided to purchase an 1899 Dominion ensign from J. J. Turner & Sons, at a cost of $15.75.

SMOKE TESTING MACHINE.

The request of Assistant Plumbing Inspector Thompson for a smoke testing machine with which to test plumbing work, in compliance with the plumbing inspection bylaw, was the next business on the list, and

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Mason,—That the city purchase a smoke testing machine, the cost not to exceed $35.—Carried.

The question of supplying the inspector with help to handle the machine was left in abeyance.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That the policy of insurance and inspection of the steam fire engine be discontinued.—Carried.

Fire Chief Rutherford will be asked to report on the condition of the hydrant at the Peter Hamilton Co's Works, it being difficult to screw fire hose on the nozzle. Also as to the length of hose that burst when the new fire engine was being tested.

Ald. Duncan stated that Mr. Wm. Lytle of the Peterboro Light and Power Co. is willing to accompany the Fire, Water and Light Committee on a tour of inspection of the poles and wires of the several light and power and telephone companies. In many cases, he said, the poles of one company run up through the wires of another company, without sufficient safeguard against the possibility of crossed wires lying against a pole and conducting a high voltage of electricity to the ground, as experienced the night Mr. Gibb's team were killed.

No definite action was taken in this matter, as an expert examination of the electric poles and wires in the city has been decided on. The committee, however, concurred in Ald. Duncan's views that no alone must be left unturned to guard the public against injury, possibly death, from escaped electricity.

Ald. Ball offered that all electric wires should be underground.

The committee then adjourned.

BUDDING ORATORS

Prizes For Best Speakers at Philomathean Society on Monday Night.

Much interest is being taken in the local Collegiate Institute Philomathean Society's meeting for Monday night.

A splendid program will be presented in the Y.M.C.A. Hall.

Besides several musical numbers provided by pupils and ex-pupils of the institute, speeches upon historical subjects will be delivered by students. A month ago, the executive of this thriving society offered to award prizes for the best ten minute speeches, and on Monday evening this contest is to take place. Messrs. R. M. Dunnicoun, D. O'Connell and D. Walker have consented to act as judges.

LAKEFIELD SAYS "NO"

By-law to Purchase Electric Light Plant Negotiated.

Very little interest was taken in Lakefield yesterday over be proposed by-law to purchase the electric light plant, the vote polled not being one-third of the regular number. It was defeated by 12.

The proposition was to expend $8,000 in the purchase of the plant and $3,000 more in improvements and repairs—$8,000 all told. It is said that a large number either voted against the measure or did not vote at all on the ground that they were afraid the purchase of the plant would increase their taxes. The argument used by those in favor of municipal ownership was that the village is paying $552 per year for electric light, and by paying $560.00, or only $8 more than at present the village would own the plant.

Am Looking for Large Investors

to Buy Stock in

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 600 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 53 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $300,000, $100,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $250 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

If you desire other information, write for same, Address all communications, make all checks payable to W. P. FIFE,

REBUILD YOUR TIRED, ACHING BODY

Winter has left you in a state of fatigue and weariness.

The vitality of your blood is gone.

Your nerves are wretchedly weak and you find it hard to sleep.

The temptation to "brace up" with an alcoholic mixture is great,—but its uselessness is plain, to everyone.

Better follow Nature's plan: it's always a sure one.

First create new appetite.

Improve your digestion.

Perfect the process of assimilation.

This will ensure a supply of rich, nourishing blood.

Healthy blood soon makes a healthy body, and a system fed by pure, rich blood is bound to gain in energy and strength.

To get well and stay well, use the food tonic "Ferrozone" which is composed of concentrated vegetable extracts that supply nutrition that every sickly person needs.

No matter how long you've been in poor health, Ferrozone will win you back like it did Mrs. Sadie V. Hislop, of Whitby, Ont., who writes: "Ferrozone not only brings health to the sick, but has power to cure quickly. After being confined to bed with sickness, I seemed unable to make any headway on the road to complete health. My vitality was low and I was in great need of strength. My nerve force was gone, and from headaches and poor sleep I was in bad straits. Ferrozone was just what I needed. It increased my strength, gave me a new feeling entirely. I used about eight boxes and was made perfectly well. My doctor thinks Ferrozone a wonderful cure."

Your druggist sells it in 50c. boxes or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

KEENE

About fifty members of the Sons of Rest assembled in the hall of wisdom on Tuesday evening. Minney Wale, the president, was on hand at the opening hour, but was minus his teeth, as Fatty Drummond pulled them out with a pair of ice tongs, and cut his hair with a pair of sheep shears. After he opened the meeting he informed the brethren that the date appointed for the ball and oyster supper was approaching, and it was his intention to make it a decided success in every way. He also intimated that it was his intention to repay the members of this club in some tangible way for their able support in the past campaign and that he purposed to take advantage of the present opportunity by presenting them with a two hundred dollar check on the bank of Toronto to defray expenses of ball and oyster supper. He said that in order to make it a success that the very best talent should be secured at once. He therefore would appoint Poney Moore as floor manager, with power to engage McFarlane and Miller's string band, and also to engage Mr. George Lake to render selections on the gramotalkophone. Bob-tail Pue shouted out: Mr. president, excuse me, but don't you mean gramosingophone. No, says Minney Wale, I mean gramotalkophone, and gramotalkophone it is; I guess I know what I am talking about, and don't wish to be corrected or interrupted by the likes of you when I am addressing brethren. Now, brethren, if you will comply to my requests, which I trust you will, I feel confident that everything in connection with the affair will be all O. K. I now will take my seat and leave the meeting open for business. Skunk-hunter Rennie laid a charge against Bob-tail Pue and Trapper Dickson for desecrating the Sabbath day by driving to the city of Peterboro and transacting business with the Cold Storage company. Minney Wale bounded to his feet and informed the two guilty members that he undoubtedly was ashamed of them for their sinful behavior, and in order to teach them a lesson he would impose a fine of fifty dollars each, to be paid in one day, or six years in Central prison. Ponty Mac laid a charge against Tom Decackey, the district organizer, for kissing a squaw at Hiawatha. Minney Wale fined Decackey twenty dollars, to be paid in two days, or six months in jail. Tea-merchant Kennaley laid a charge against Ponty Mac for killing a cat at Buckshaw Carter's gate and leaving it unburied. The president fined Ponty fifty dollars, to be paid at once, with a warning to bury all dead cats in the future. Wolf Howson laid a charge against Harness-maker Stillman for selling the parson a pair of lines that were too short to reach to his buggy. The president imposed a fine of four hundred dollars for cheating the parson. Barber Quinn laid a charge against Flat Roach for sneezing in his sleep. The president fined Flat ten dollars and cautioned him to put a pug in his nose every night. Howden Doris laid a charge against Montgomery McCarthy for buckseawing wood after six o'clock. He was fined five dollars to be paid in three days. The president now rose and said that the meeting must now be closed as it just lacked one minute of being twelve o'clock. He asked Bush-pew Carter and Fighting Archy to sing the closing ode, and without exaggeration they surpassed anything on record. It was soul inspiring and worthy of merit. The meeting was then closed until next Tuesday evening.

God Save The King.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Crown Claims That Adam Lloyd Killed His Wife and Attempted to Cremate the Remains.

Belleville, April 5.—The trial of Adam Lloyd, the aged Hungerford farmer, charged with killing, and afterwards trying to cremate his aged wife, was commenced at the Assizes here this morning, before Chief Justice Falconbridge. The prisoner, who has been in jail for about nine months, pleaded not guilty. Mr. E. Guss Porter, M.P., is defending him.

The facts of the case are that Adam Lloyd and his wife lived together on a farm. The old man said that one morning he went out to the barn to do the chores, and when he returned to the house he found his wife dead in a chair, with her clothes partly burned off. The case was first looked on as an accident, but subsequently a wound was found on the woman's head, which the doctors said had been made before death.

Other suspicious circumstances led to the arrest and committal of Lloyd.

GOLD AT NEW LISKEARD

Cobalt, April 5. — Gold is reported twenty miles north of New Liskeard. As a result, some twenty prospectors left Haileybury and New Liskeard for McCullough's Landing yesterday morning. Though the rock is exposed in places it is doubtful if much active prospecting can take place until the snow goes, which will not be until the end of the month, as in places it is four feet deep in the woods.

The Warren claim in Lundy township was recently sold to a local syndicate. A shaft has been sunk four feet, and a vein of copper, silver and gold on quartz has been discovered.

SPORTING NOTES

Dan McCorry, the local twirler, left yesterday for Havelock, where he will play this season.

It's getting nigh time something was doing in the way of organizing the Peterboro Baseball club.

* * * * *

A couple of the best players of last year's senior team will likely remove to Havelock this week.

* * * * *

Manager Barrow was instructing the Toronto players at Preston yesterday, when he incidentally remarked that he wanted harmony in the team. Then up spoke one of the new-comers: "Oh, Gee, What do we want with Harmony. We've got too many players now."

* * * * *

President J. J. McCaffrey, of the Toronto Baseball Club, has invited the sporting writers to accompany him to Preston the end of the week.

The Toronto bowlers might get in line and enter a protest against somebody or something at the Louisville tournament. They could say they were outclassed.

Montreal, April 5.—After a long absence the Stanley Cup has returned to Montreal.

The cup had been packed in a wooden box addressed to the captain of the Wanderer Hockey Club. In addition to the address there were various other inscriptions. One announced that the value of the enclosed was $4,000, which amount, by a curious coincidence, is said to be the amount of hard cash collected by the Ottawa Hockey Club during the season just ended.

FRED BROPHY LOWER

Montreal, April 5.—Fred Brophy, the hockey player who was injured at Ottawa, while playing with Montreal against the Ottawas on March 3, is gradually growing worse. Since yesterday the young man has been in a stupor and cannot be aroused. It is feared that the blow which broke Mr. Broth's nose also injured his brain and that an abscess has formed. Those in attendance on the unfortunate youth are of the opinion that he will not recover, or, at least, that he will never become himself again.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 280 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps, and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 300 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconed in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 19th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

¶ Would you be open for an investment which will yield, with reasonable assurance, from 50% to 100% each year? We consider the AMALGAMATED MINING AND EXTRACTION CO., a safe, sound, high-class legitimate enterprize, and the stock at the present ground floor price of 10 Cents per Share, is without doubt a bargain which should certainly be taken advantage of by all conservative investors. We don't see how failure is possible; we have a great property which we can recommend without a shadow of a doubt. We have paying ore at grass roots. We need not go into details here as to our holdings. They are fully described in our prospectus which you may have for the asking. As this stock will rapidly increase in value we should suggest that you send in your order at once, while you have the chance to purchase at this low price of 10 Cents per share, as it will advance on the first of July. Forward your order today and own an interest in a winner.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

He had attended a grand ball at one of the fashionable residences of Gramercy Park. He had scarcely entered the spacious ball-room ere his host touched him lightly on the shoulder.

"Come with me, Chesleigh," he said. "I have an excellent partner for you for the next waltz—the most graceful as well as the most beautiful lady in the room. Come and let me present you."

Thoughtlessly enough, he went with him to the end of the rose-embowered ball-room. A slight, graceful figure was seated on a rustic bench, surrounded by a circle of admirers, who reluctantly drew back and made way for their host and the tall, commanding stranger.

Reine—for it was she—turned carelessly to see who the newcomer was who stood before her.

One glance. Ah, Heaven! It was a wonder she did not fall dead at his feet. It was Bernard Chesleigh who stood before her. Would he turn from her in haughty, withering scorn? Or would he denounce her before that brilliant gathering, crying out, sternly and rebukingly:

"So it is thus that we meet again, is it, my fair love, who deserted me and disgraced me so heartlessly at the altar?"

Perhaps he would curse her. She had borne so much already, one bitter word would slay her.

Over the crash of the gay dance music she heard their host go through the formula of introducing them.

Not one muscle of the girl's beautiful white face quivered. The little hand that held the bouquet of rare white blossoms did not tremble. She stood before the man she had so cruelly slighted, like a white fawn at read the dumb agony she was enduring in the piteous, appealing eyes so fixed and intense on hers. She knew she lay awaiting her doom. Perhaps he depths.

But the doom she was expecting did not fall then on that beautiful golden head. Was she mad, or dreaming? Bernard Chesleigh held out his strong white hand to her with a grave, sorrowful smile.

"This lady and I are old friends," he explained. Then their host went away, leaving them alone together.

"Do not shrink from me, Reine," he said, gently. "The past is over between us; I have forgiven and forgotten long ago. I cannot bring myself to feel anything but friendship for you. I do not blame or reprove you. It was not your fault, my poor child, if you could not love me."

She could scarcely believe that she saw and heard aright. Was he holding out his hand—that noble hand that she had scorned—and was he speaking kindly to her?

A torrent of tears rushed to her eyes, her face grew deadly pale. Of the two, she was most likely to create a scene by breaking down completely—her heart was so sore, so desolate and lonely, kind words had overpowered her.

"Come out into the conservatory, Reine," he said, drawing the little, ice-cold hand—ah! so cold, even through the tiny glove—within his arm. "Do not attempt to speak until you can control your emotions. See, people are watching us. Keep tears back from your eyes; force a smile to your lips, I pray you."

Silently he lead her from the glittering ball-room, from among the sheen of satin and glimmering diamonds, out among the cool, green shadows and softened lights of the fernery.

He stood quietly before her, his arms folded thoughtfully over his breast, while the tears fell like rain from her lovely eyes. He did not attempt to break in upon her thoughts.

Perhaps the sight of his face reminded her all too painfully of the days when she was the loved and petted heiress of dear old Fairlawn.

"You are good to think so kindly of me, Mr. Chesleigh," she faltered. "I did you an irreparable wrong, but I have been sufficiently punished for it."

She turned away in confusion. Not for worlds would she have him know that life was going all wrong with her; that the idol she had flung away his honest, noble love for, she had found sordid clay. Not for worlds would she have him know she was that most pitiful of all God's creatures, a neglected, desolate, unloved wife.

Every sigh that fell from her lips, every tear from her lovely eyes, touched him keenly to the heart, like the sharp thrust of a sword. He would have laid down his life if the sacrifice of it could but have made her happy.

At that moment she remembered that Waldemar had asked her to dance the Lancers with him, and the music was striking up already. What would the consequence be if he came to look for her, and found her sitting there talking to the one man above all others whom he hated—her old lover? There might be a fierce quarrel between them. Her heart beat; she grew strangely nervous. She must get back to the ball-room at once. Before she could put the resolve into execution, hurried steps were heard approaching. She sank back, pale, breathless and trembling, almost fainting, as she heard her name called in a quick, impatient voice.

CHAPTER XIX.

"I am here," said Reine, pushing back the thick, clustering magnolia branches that screened her from view.

It was one of the servants. He looked at the beautiful, pale-faced girl, slightly abashed, as though uncertain how to proceed with the delicate mission upon which he had been sent.

"What did you want of me?" asked Reine, nervously clutching some tightly at the flowers she held in her cold, trembling fingers.

A moment only the man hesitated. It was a thousand pities to tell her what he had come there to say, but it must be done. He touched his cap respectfully, making slightly.

"If you please, madam, I would like you to use your influence with your husband to restrain him from going to the ball-room just now. He looks—quite—quite—ill."

No word broke from Reine Waldron's white, set lips. She knew as well as the servant did what was the matter with her reckless, handsome husband, and why they were so fearful he should re-enter the ball-room.

"Where is he?" she asked, in a frightened voice. "Conduct me to him at once, please."

Bernard Chesleigh drew her back.

"Let me attend to this matter for you," he said, pityingly.

She drew back with something very like the old pride.

She could not bear the thought that he should see Waldemar Waldron in the way in which she knew she should find him.

"You could not help me in the matter. I thank you, though, for the proffered kindness. If you will conduct me to the clock-room to get my wraps, I shall be much obliged. I shall not return to the ball-room again. If my husband is ill, I must see that he is taken home at once."

Bernard Chesleigh offered her his arm in silence. He could feel the slight form that clung to his arm

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500 by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Does Mining Pay?

Some say it does not—Let us see. During the year 1905 the production of gold was as follows:

|---|---|
| United States | $ 81,700,000 |
| Mexico | 12,600,000 |
| Africa | 86,000,000 |
| Australia | 87,700,000 |
| Total for the world | $375,000,000 |

Add to this the production of other metals, and we get a sum beyond the comprehension of the human mind.

¶ PALMER MOUNTAIN TUNNEL AND POWER COMPANY mines will soon be adding their quota to the world's production.

We offer stock in this Company with confidence.

The great progress which has been made in opening and equipping these mines renders it certain that present price of stock will soon be advanced.

New Steel Bridge at Smith St.

The Board of Works, the report of whose meeting of Wednesday evening was necessarily curtailed in yesterday's issue, have decided to replace the old wooden bridge across the river on Smith street, by an up-to-date steel structure. It would take over $6000 to repair the old structure, and such repairs could only be of a temporary nature, so the Board made the above decision. As soon as the city engineer has time to make his calculations, the estimated cost of the structure, which the township of Smith, would have to share, will be furnished the public. In the meantime all traffic by the old bridge is suspended.

—Lindsay Post says: Peterboro carpenters start Monday morning on a new wage scale of 25c. per hour.

—Boys too young to send Times cards to friends at a distance, see the nice assortment at Times Bookstore.

—Miss Helen Hay, who underwent an operation a few days ago is making very satisfactory progress toward recovery.

—The handsome new St. Peter's Separate School is now completed and will be occupied after the Easter holidays.

—Cobourg have organized their Midland League nine for 1906, with Archie Balaster, as manager, and James Rooney, as captain.

—Mr. D. Bellegham, the Hunter St. "Furniture King," has had his store front finished with a new dressing of paint. The place looks well.

—Don't be without plenty of good fresh paper for underlaying carpets when you can get four large packages at Times Bookstore for 10 cents.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's church will hold their regular monthly meeting this afternoon at half-past three o'clock in the church parlor.

—Don't forget the important meeting tonight in the council chamber, at which a local branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protection Association will be formed.

—The primary and junior union of Sunday school teachers will meet at eight o'clock tonight in St. Paul's church. St. Andrew's Sunday school will have charge of the meeting.

—At the Y.M.C.A. boys' meeting today at four o'clock, four boys will speak on Pilate, a man who was afraid to sacrifice for right. Every boy over 12 years of age is invited.

—Rev. W. M. Mackay will preach his closing sermon in St. Paul's church on Sunday morning, and in Knox church in the evening. He will leave on Thursday next for Toronto.

—The sergeants of the 57th Regiment, at the meeting held on Wednesday evening, in the mess rooms discussed the coming Brantford trip They will hold another meeting on Tuesday night next.

—The R. W. Marks Co. last night presented "For His Sake," before a fairly good but thoroughly delighted audience. This is one of the strongest companies the local opera house has secured this season.

—The new tower on the western Departmental Building at Ottawa, fell to the ground yesterday. Fortunately premonitory symptons warned all present to leave in time. Sixty feet of the tower fell at a loss of $10,000.

—An adjourned meeting of the Central Ontario Medical Association was held in the Ontario Bank Chambers, yesterday evening, when the election of officers for the ensuing year took place and other important business was attended to.

—The nurses in Kingston's general hospital are up in arms because the directors have decided that their regulation costume will be blue instead of red and white, as heretofore. The nurses call the new uniform a "dirty blue," The color may be changed.

—"Take a dip!" Do not lean against the recently painted water wagon, No. 1, or you will carry away paint belonging to the city on your clothing. This wagon has been painted for a week now, but if a cross-eyed man looks at the wagon, its newly donned paint drops off.

—Hamilton ice dealers when asked by the city hospital authorities for a tender for the summer's supply, put in the lowest tender at $4 per ton. The hospital governors procured 250 tons from Simcoe at half the price. The saving for one year paid for the ice house the hospital had to erect to store the ice.

—Last night the local parks resembled scenes from Fairyland. The freshly fallen snow, owing to mild weather, gathered on the branches of the trees making them veritable scenes of beauty. The poor disguided robins, arrived too early, gave forth notes comprehensive of their disgust at the early date they had taken the northern trip.

C. O. F. to Attend St. Peter's.

St. Peter's Court Catholic Order of Foresters, will receive Holy Communion at the eight o'clock mass in St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday morning. They will meet at their hall on Hunter street and march in a body to the church. A portion of the church will be reserved for them.

Mr. Maguire Leaves for B. C.

The Port Hope Guide says—Mr. W. A. Maguire, who for some time has had charge of the physical work of the Y.M.C.A. here, left on Saturday for Peterboro for a ten days visit before going to open and take charge of a Y.M.C.A. at Revelstoke, B.C.

Mr. Maguire is a gentleman well known in this city.

City Water will Not be Filtered.

Mr. W. H. Moore, one of the local water commissioners now says that there is no intention of introducing the talked of water filters. Mr. Hazen's report, recently given, in these columns, shows that the price, about $80,000, is too much for the city to pay just at present. As it is Peterboro's drinking water is way above the average.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Ball Accident at East Ward School.

On Wednesday afternoon as some boys were playing ball at the east ward school, two sons of Mr. C. B. McAllister, Masters Charlie and Niel, came to an accident. It seems that a comrade of their's had obtained possession of the ball which they were playing with and commenced to run. The McAllister boys in their attempts to regain it, came in collision with the result that Charlie's teeth entered Niel's forehead. Dr. Barber was summoned and attended to the wound.

History of Smith St. Bridge.

In view of the fact that the Board of Works, at their Wednesday night's session, decided to replace the now antiquated and dangerously worn out bridge on Smith street, with a new modern steel structure, it may be of interest to note that the present Smith street bridge was built 30 years ago this spring. Mr John Boyd being the contractor. Mr. Angus McWilliams had the contract, the preceding winter, for cutting down the hill to the east side of the river. The town and the township sharing the expense of cutting down this hill. This was done whilst Mr. O'Toole was mayor and the men working on the job were only paid 80 cents a day. "Tempora mutantur" and also wages, not to mention expenses of living.

The convention was characterized by Mr. Connal as very successful. There being grocery present from every portion of the province. Mr. Connal will make a report of the convention at the next meeting of the local branch of the Retail Merchants' Association.

Kennedy's Store Opens Tomorrow.

Considerable excitement is noticeable among local shoppers over the opening of Mr. H. P. Kennedy's fine new meat market on Saturday morning. Mr. Kennedy has now one of the finest, most complete and most modern meat markets in Canada. A full description of Mr. Kennedy's new premises will appear in next Tuesday's issue.

Secret Is Out

Formula of Mi-o-na Made Public--A Cure for Stomach Troubles.

Our leading druggists are very anxious to have Mi-o-na, a remedy which they sell as a cure for stomach troubles, tested rigidly in every case of heart-burn, acute dyspepsia, wind on the stomach, loss of appetite, annoying dreams, sleeplessness, general weakness and debility, or where the digestive organs do not act as they should.

Mi-o-na is composed of bismuth subgallate, by all odds the very best medicine known for intestinal diseases. It combines with the free sulphur compounds in the bowels forming a black substance which is passed off from the body without harm. It also has a soothing effect upon the nerve endings in the stomach.

With this is combined cerium oxalate, a standard remedy in the treatment of all irritations of the stomach and digestive organs.

Sodium bicarbonate if then added to overcome the excessive acidity usually present in stomach troubles, and nux vomica for its general tonic and nerve-strengthening powers.

This combination of reliable remedies makes Mi-o-na a positive cure for all stomach troubles, and, perhaps the only one that can be sold under a guarantee that it costs nothing unless it cures.

A large box of Mi-o-na tablets is sold for 50 cents.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist, which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth, Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

Are You Tired, Nervous and Sleepless?

Nervousness and sleeplessness are usually due to the fact that the nerves are not fed on properly nourishing blood; they are starved nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood, and thereby the nerves are properly nourished and all the organs of the body are run as smoothly as machinery which runs in oil. In this way you feel clean, strong and strenuous—you are toned up and invigorated, and you are good for a whole lot of physical or mental work. Best of all, the strength and increase in vitality and health are lasting.

The trouble with most tonics and medicines which have a large, booming sale for a short time, is that they are largely composed of alcohol holding the drugs in solution. This alcohol shrinks up the red blood corpuscles, and in the long run greatly injures the system. One may feel exhilarated and better for the time being, yet in the end weakened and with vitality decreased. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol. Every bottle of it bears upon its wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in a full list of all its several ingredients. For the druggist to offer you something he claims is "just as good" is to insult your intelligence.

Every ingredient entering into the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" has the unanimous approval and endorsement of the leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice. No other medicine sold through druggists for like purposes has any such endorsement.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only produces all the good effects to be obtained from the use of Golden Seal root, in all stomach, liver and bowel troubles, as in dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments, but the Golden Seal root used in its compounding is greatly enhanced in its curative action by other ingredients such as Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure triple-refined glycerine.

"The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. For 50 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, biliousness and headache.

DAN CUPID STARTS A SPECIAL JOURNAL

GENEVA, April 7.

The "Engaged Couples' Advertiser," or, to give its more sonorous German title, the "Schweizerischer Verlobungs-Anzeiger"—assuredly one of the most remarkable enterprises either in journalism or trade ever launched on a long-suffering public—is rapidly becoming a success in Switzerland.

The paper, which is published once a week at Zurich, is run on remarkably simple and at the same time effective lines. Agents are at work all over the country ascertaining the name of every girl who is engaged to be married, and that of her prospective husband. These agents send the names to the head office at Zurich, and they are printed every week in the "Engaged Couples' Advertiser" under the name of the district in which the sweethearts live, with the addition of the address of the girl and her sweetheart, and a description of their social position.

In the last issue the number of engagements announced had reached 1721. With the addition of a few advertisements, the contents of the paper are exclusively the announcement of engagements. The front page appropriately bears pictures of Cupid, a loving couple discussing the purchase of household goods and a furniture van outside a large outfitter's shop.

The paper is sent free for one year to each girl whose engagement is announced in it, but a considerable revenue is derived from manufacturers of every kind of household commodity, who make use of the information contained in its pages by circularizing all the lovers.

MANY SAMPLES.

Circulars and samples of everything from a pot of jam to a drawing room carpet begin to pour in upon the happy girl. The following is a sample of the communications sent out by the enterprising tradesman:

"Mademoiselle: We beg to congratulate you upon the occasion of your forthcoming marriage, and to wish you every happiness in the future. The desire to facilitate your task as a good housekeeper prompts us to inclose our price list. We specially desire to call your attention to our jams, of which we send you a sample so that you may judge for yourself of the excellence of our preparations. We beg you to accept this as a token of our desire to number you among our clients. Always at your service for any information you may require. Yours, etc."

At the end of a week after the insertion of the announcement of her engagement a girl finds herself almost in a position to start a small general store, so numerous are the samples she has received from the subscribers to the "Engaged Couples' Advertiser."

PREVENTION OF JILTING.

The majority of the couples whose names appear in the Advertiser belong to the middle classes, and they do not appear to object to the publication of their names. The announcements, moreover, act to some extent as an insurance against the defection of timid lovers, and prevent them from jilting. When an address is sent to the office the following circular is forwarded to the fiancee:

"Mademoiselle: We learn to-day of your engagement to M—, and we beg to send you our paper free of charge for one year. We specially wish to call your attention to the names of the firms advertising in our columns. We request you to keep all the numbers of this paper to recall in future the happy memories connected with the time of your engagement. If you can send us the addresses of other persons similarly engaged, we should be greatly obliged."

Hundreds of manufacturing firms have found the paper a great boon, and have become subscribers and advertisers.

The representative states that he considers the supply of "copy" for the Engaged Couples' Advertiser is unlimited, and he is looking forward to a long and successful career. Doubtless when sufficient time has elapsed to allow the insertion of notices of marriages and later still of births the paper will be able to enlarge its sphere of usefulness.

HUNGARIAN STUDENTS FIGHT WITH POLICE

BUDAPEST, April 7.

The university was closed to-day, owing to the authorities' fears of students' demonstrations. The students, furious at this step, gathered outside the university and were engaged in excited discussion, when, without provocation, they were charged by mounted police with drawn swords.

The students armed themselves with fragments of chairs and tables from a joiner's shop, and made a vigorous resistance before being dispersed by the police. Many arrests were made. They afterward assembled at the Geographical Institute and drew up a memorandum addressed to the Pope.

PINS IN HER CAKE.

London, March 31.—The wife of a farmer at Peterborough had a narrow escape from being choked by a two-inch pin in a piece of cake she was eating. The pin stuck across her throat, and was dislodged by a fit of coughing. Four more pins were found attaching the frilling with which the cake was adorned.

MEALS EVERY THREE HOURS.

London, March 31.—Joseph Halbett Fraser, a convict on license, was committed for trial recently at Brigley-ham for theft and obtaining food and lodging by false pretenses. He posed as "Captain" Fraser at a Birmingham working house, where he spent eight days in bed and was served with bread, cautions tea and dish every three hours.

SOME OF THOSE PRESENTED AT DUBLIN CASTLE.

MANY CHARMING DEBUTANTES MAKE THEIR BOWS AT IRISH VICEREGAL BALL

DUBLIN, April 7.

The first Dublin Drawing Room held by their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen was one of the largest on record. Instead of the numbers decreasing, as is often the case in connection with any postponed entertainment, they had very largely increased, owing to the universal desire of several hundred people to show their appreciation of their Excellencies' kind hospitality, as without ceasing they have entertained royally since they arrived in Dublin about six weeks ago.

The presentations alone numbered 213, and it is estimated that the entire company present could not have been less than 1400. It was almost impossible to move in St. Patrick's Hall about midnight, and later on it became even more congested, when the Viceregal procession, which always brings these state functions to a close, passed through, en route to supper. Refreshments were served both in St. Patrick's Hall and the few of the more important people picture gallery for all present, but a joined their Excellencies and staff in an adjoining room.

Both Lord and Lady Aberdeen, who stood in the usual place under the canopy in the throne room, shook hands with every lady as she bowed before them, whether she was presented for the first time or not, and owing to His Majesty's decision to allow court mourning to be suspended for this particular occasion, the brilliancy of the assembly was in no way dampened by sombre garments, as a variety of colorings was noticeable, and many beautiful jewels worn.

BEARS HOLD CHURCH AGAINST INSPECTORS

PARIS, March 7.

These hungry black bears successfully hold the Cathedral of Cominac, in the Department of Ariege, against the government inspector who wished to take an official inventory.

A committee of townspeople purchased the bears from a travelling showman last week, after the Cathedral authorities had been notified of the forthcoming visitation.

The showman agreed to return half the purchase money if the bears survived the siege and were afterward delivered to him in good condition.

The animals were locked in a coal cellar adjoining the cathedral, and for two days before the expected visitation were deprived of food. As the inspector unexpectedly delayed his visit a day, they were ravenously hungry, as well as angry, when he finally arrived before the west door of the cathedral with his papers and a military escort.

DISCOVERS HIS FOE.

To the surprise of the inspector, his demand for admittance to the cathedral was instantly complied with. But no sooner had he stepped inside, with his escort, than the great door was shut and bolted.

A moment later the startled inspector discovered the bears. They had been sniffing hungrily around the choir, but the noise of the closing door attracted their attention, and they trotted down the central aisle of the nave to investigate the newcomers.

The inspector and the soldiers made frantic efforts to reopen the door. This caused derisive laughter on the outside. Then the frightened official vaulted over some chairs and climbed on top of a confessional, while his terror-stricken companions ran down the side aisles shrieking wildly for help.

The soldiers finally managed to secrete themselves in a side chapel. Then a townsman, representing the bears, opened negotiations with the inspector.

ARE LIBERATED.

"Will you go away if we open the door?" he called.

"At once," replied the inspector.

The door was opened a little way, and the inspector, sliding down from his confessional, made a dash and squeezed through just in time. A second later one of the bears was clawing the closed door.

Eventually the showman was induced to recapture the bears, and they were fed, afterward being locked up again in the coal cellar to await further government attacks.

PROPS FOR THEIR OLD AGE.

Tokio, March 31.—On account of advanced age, Count Takayuki Sasaki, who is 78, and Viscount Tomoyuki Hirayash, who has reached the age of 84, have been granted the privilege of carrying sticks in the Imperial Palace at Tokio.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

London, March 31.—Baron Rothchild, Prince Frederick Charles Child and Percy Whit Child—so called because he was born on Whit Monday—were the names of three litigants in the Chancery division. They have a brother named Lord Roberts Child.

WOMEN IN THE PULPIT.

London, March 31. — A religious service at the Unitarian Church, Burnley, yesterday was conducted entirely by women. Miss Elizabeth Bibby, Mrs. William Marsden and Miss Blanche Mackie appeared in the pulpit. Miss Mabel Mackie played the organ and Miss Marian Bailey was soloist.

ROOTS BLOCK DRAINAGE PIPE.

London, March 31.—At a meeting of the Spear Valley drainage board at Rowley yesterday, a remarkable obstruction was reported in a 15-inch drainage pipe at Whittington. Through the joints of the pipes are sealed with cement, a long from the roots of a [illegible] penetrated the pipe and produced [illegible]

GIRL IN HER TEENS BECOMES INVENTOR

LONDON, April 7.

A girl of this town, not yet 15 years old, has patented a remarkable invention consisting of a turntable for reversing the direction of motor cars. The apparatus is fixed on the chassis, which has a driving wheel at each end, and is worked by an electric motor. The invention was the outcome of watching the difficulty of manoeuvring heavy motor wagons in the Antwerp streets.

After watching the motor wagons for some time one day, the girl went home and by the next morning had a complete scheme for the turntable. Two motorists who were visiting her father fetched a designer, and the plans were at once drawn up at the child's direction.

The patent for the invention has been secured in the name of the Esther de Susi, daughter of the Countess de Susi. To-day the house was besieged by inquirers and government engineers. Mlle de Susi is a tall, well-built girl, with a bright face, fair hair and brown eyes.

Experts declare that the new turntable will be of enormous value, and a fortune is in prospect for the girl and her mother.

HANDSOME MEN ARE SHY IN ENGLAND

Mrs Ada Ballin, the health and beauty specialist, is offering three guineas for the photograph of the handsomest man in the country, to be exhibited in the health, beauty and toilet exhibition in the Grafton Galleries next month, but only one man has as yet forwarded his portrait; and there is still room for improvement.

Only one restriction is made," said Mrs Ballin yesterday. "Bald-headed men need not apply."

"They haven't got the remotest chance of winning, however handsome they may otherwise be," she said. "If a bald-headed man wishes to enter, he must purchase a wig, and be photographed in that. It would be difficult to detect in a photograph, and I shall not be as strict as all that."

The beauty competition is divided into three sections, and prizes will be awarded for the photographs of the most beautiful women, the handsomest men and the loveliest child. Mrs. Ballin has already received a good many photographs, the majority being of children.

Mrs. Ballin described the "artist" features in a handsome man as consisting of the conformation of his head, the position of his ears, the shape of his nose, chin and mouth, the distance between his eyes, and the shape of his eyebrows.

"I judge his appearance," she said candidly, "just as I should judge the points of a horse. Under ordinary circumstances I should pay great attention to his complexion, but unfortunately this cannot be taken into account in a photograph."

The entries will close on Monday, and the result will be announced at the exhibition.

WORKMEN UNEARTH COFFIN OF GIANT

LONDON, April 7.

Workmen frequently come upon curious things in their street excavations, but it is not every day they disturb the last resting place of a famous giant.

Some workmen had this uncanny experience while digging in Trenchard street, Bristol, recently.

Their picks and shovels grated against the leaden coffin of Patrick Cotter O'Brien, whose immense stature of eight feet three inches made his name a household word a century ago.

There was no mistaking the identity of the coffin, for the plate, thereon bore the following quaint inscription:

PATRICK COTTER O'BRIEN.
Whose name was Cotter,
But he called himself O'Brien,
Whose stature was 8ft. 4in.
He died on 8th Sept., 1806
Aged 16.

Patrick, it appears, was as gigantic in graces as inches.

A native of Kinsale, Ireland, local history records that his manners were amiable and unoffending, and the inflexible integrity of his conduct through life, united to the calm resignation with which he awaited the approach of death, proved that his principles were strictly virtuous.

It is said that O'Brien hated the idea of exhibiting himself, and he directed that his body should be so buried as to cheat the grave robbers that gave additional terror to death in those days.

Accordingly, his friends provided a leaden coffin and had it interred at a great depth, iron bars being placed in the sides of the rock to render removal impossible.

The local authorities at Bristol are proud of their find, and it is thought they will resist any overtures from the Green Isle to recover the remains of their biggest "bhoy."

GIRL SUPPOSED DEAD REVIVES IN COFFIN

ROME, April 7.

A young girl of Rivisnana, in Northern Italy, was found apparently dead in her bed on Wednesday last. A doctor, after a very minute examination, certified that she had died of heart failure, and issued the necessary documents for her burial.

As the last screw of the coffin lid was being fastened down yesterday, the supposed corpse began to kick violently and to call for help. The girl was at once removed from the coffin and was found to be in almost normal health after a cataleptic fit.

LAUGHED TOO HEARTILY.

London, March 31.—Louisa Whitnall, of Hemmerdeek Road, Clapham, laughed so heartily while attending a performance at the Tivoli Music Hall yesterday evening that she dislocated her lower jaw. She was taken to Charing Cross Hospital.

BURNS' BRIDGE DOOMED.

Edinburgh, March 31.—Barskimming bridge, over the Ayr, near Mossgiel, which is associated why Burns' "Man Was Made to Mourn," is doomed.

DIGSUISED AS NUN, PRISONER ESCAPES

WARSAW, April 7.

A political prisoner named Radke was carried off from a hospital in Warsaw by revolutionaries in most daring fashion yesterday.

Radke, who was suspected of having thrown a bomb from his house in Grodzienska street, kept the soldiers who came to arrest him at bay by revolver shots for two hours, and was only taken after being severely wounded. He was then placed in hospital under the guardianship of two gendarmes.

Twenty armed revolutionaries appeared suddenly before the door of the hospital yesterday, and bound the porter. They then went to the rooms occupied by nuns, who act as nurses in the institution, and finding only one there ordered her to take off her habit.

Meantime several of the band had bound the two gendarmes guarding the prisoner. Radke then dressed the nun's clothing, and in this disguise left the hospital. He has not been traced.

ANTI-TOBACCO CRUSADERS.

Bristol, April 7.—In Bristol, where there is a strong branch of the Anti-Narcotic League, a system of volunteer recruiters has been inaugurated. Young people are supplied with blank pledges, and obtain signatures from their companions in day and Sunday schools. During the last year these young recruiters obtained 8770 pledges against smoking.

LIFE BOAT MEN IDLE WHILE CREW DROWNS

BRUSSELS, April 7.

Grave allegations are made by the Etoile Belge against the Ostend lifeboat authorities for their dilatory conduct when a sloop was wrecked there two days ago and six men were drowned.

The crew were seen clinging desperately to the rigging, and thousands of people watched from the shore, expecting to see the lifeboat put off to the rescue. But the delay was so great, says the journal, that the crowd lost patience and ran in a body to the harbor.

Many willing volunteers offered to man the lifeboat, but the officer in charge refused to unlock the boathouse until he had the regular official permission.

The crowd thereupon threatened to lynch him, and ultimately he unlocked the door.

The boat was launched, but was too late to save the men, who had meantime been washed from the rigging and drowned. An official enquiry has been instituted.

BOMBS TO FIGURE IN NEW RUSSIAN REVOLT.

BERLIN, April 7.

Information published here states that a renewed outbreak of the Russian revolution is imminent.

The Central Revolutionary Executive Committee are distributing great quantities of arms and ammunition, particularly bombs. On this occasion the revolutionists will not fight in masses, but in small flying columns, which will employ the bombs as their principal instruments of destruction.

One of the most remarkable features of the movement is the enormous quantities of small bombs available for use. The scheme is to destroy the permanent way of railways and cut telegraph wires simultaneously in many different parts throughout the country. The prosperous quarters of many towns are also to be set on fire at a given moment.

BRONZE AGE MURDER IS JUST DISCOVERED

LONDON, April 7.

A tragedy dating back to the bronze age, which terminated in Great Britain about 500 B.C., has been discovered by the members of the Yorkshire Ramblers' Club in the course of an exploration of Littondale Cave, near the village of Arncliffe.

Various portions of human skeleton were found, including the skull, some being buried in stalagmite, and all bearing evidence of extreme age.

Professor Boyd Dawkins, to whom the skull was submitted, believes it belonged to a female Celt, who probably lived toward the termination of the bronze age, says a correspondent of the Yorkshire Observer. She was apparently about 40 years of and was not good-looking, for her upper teeth projected and her nose stood nearly at right angles to her face.

The owner of the skull evidently met her death from a blow by some sharp-pointed weapon, as there is a small irregularly shaped hole, penetrating the inner table of the skull. Probably the blow dir not prove instantly fatal and she crawled up the cave to its innermost recesses to die, the position in which the bones were found precluding the idea of burial.

A HEAVY RAINFALL.

London, March 31.—Every farmer in the Southmolton district of Devon has received 9,500 tons of water on every acre of his land since the beginning of the year. The oldest inhabitant cannot remember such a wet time.

DESPERATE CRIMINAL ARRESTED AT LAST

BERLIN, April 7.

Rudolph Hennig, the man who made a remarkable escape from the hands of the Berlin police after being arrested on February 6 last for murder, was recaptured at Stettin today.

His capture was as sensational as his escape, and was brought about by an impudent attempt at theft, carried out under the very noses of the police.

Just before noon a youth left his bicycle leaning against a lamp-post while he entered a shop close at hand, opposite which stands the police station of the Sixth district of Stettin.

A policeman in uniform was standing half a dozen paces away. Hennig ignored his presence, and stepping forward, seized the bicycle. He was about to mount, when the policeman, who noticed the proceeding, endeavored to arrest him, not knowing what a formidable antagonist he had to face.

THE CAPTURE.

Hennig's right hand instantly dived into his hip pocket, and he drew a revolver, which he fired point blank in the policeman's face. As Hennig took aim the policeman drew his truncheon, and struck at his assailant's head. Scarcely had Hennig fired when the truncheon descended on his shoulder with terrific force and knocked him down.

As soon as the policeman had dealt the blow he fell senseless to the ground, bleeding from a severe wound inflicted by the bullet.

Hennig was stunned by the force of the blow he received, but picked himself up with the intention of running away, when a butcher from a neighboring shop seized him, and with the help of other bystanders overpowered him. Two more policemen were then fetched from the station, and dragged him handcuffed into their quarters.

His identity was still unknown, but his remarkable resemblance to the photograph of the fugitive circulated throughout Germany attracted the attention of the police immediately.

When they had taken his exact measurements they discovered for certain that the long-sought-for Hennig had at last fallen into their hands, and the welcome news was communicated to the headquarters of the police in Berlin by means of an urgent telephone message. There was great rejoicing among the German police, who have been much chagrined at the clever way in which Hennig eluded them a month ago.

HOW HE ESCAPED.

When Hennig recognised that denials of his identity were futile, he admitted that he was the man they wanted, and proceeded in a boastful way to give some account of his amazing adventures since his escape. When last seen on the outskirts of Berlin he was wearing a bricklayer's pockets, but he procured a new suit clothes, without a farthing in his of good clothes by a b[illegible] ried out in a western suburb of the city.

Afterward he lived for several days in Grunewald Forest, which covers a large extent of land westward of Berlin. From time to time he boldly entered Berlin to purchase provisions.

On such occasion he chose the busiest streets, and entered the largest shops, where he rightly calculated there was the least chance of detection. When the proceeds of his burglary were exhausted, he committed a murder in Grunewald Forest. His victim was an aged retired officer, who went for an afternoon walk in the forest, which is much frequented by Berlin excursionists.

Hennig shot his victim and rifled his pockets, seizing a considerable sum of money, as well as a gold watch.

The victim's body was found fortnight ago, and the police at once suspected Hennig as the perpetrator.

Then Hennig began to t[illegible] through the country, makin[illegible] way toward the coast, with th[illegible] tention of getting aboard a ship [illegible] leaving the country.

ANOTHER CRIME.

A wee ago, however, he committed another violent crime in an express train between Berlin and Koenigsberg. He traveled in a first-class compartment, and during the journey he suddenly attacked an elderly gentleman sitting opposite him, firing his revolver point-blank at his victim. After wounding him, he rifled his pockets, again obtaining rich plunder. Then he opened to door of the compartment, hung on the footboard and sprang off, witout injuring himself, when the train slowed down before entering the next station.

His victim received medical aid at a station further on, and when able to give an account of the outrage described his assailant in a manner which convinced the police that Hennig was again the perpetrator.

Hennig probably committed other crimes of greater or less magnitude which have yet to be brought to light. If he had not attempted to perpetrate theft under such reckless conditions, he would probably have succeeded in leaving the coutry.

To policeman who effected Hennig's arrest receives the reward of $750 offered by the authorities, and an additional $250 offered by a Berlin newspaper.

The news of the arrest created an immense sensation in Berlin. The evening papers issued special editions, which obtained an unprecedented sale. The newsboys were surrounded by large crowds of people, who literally tore the papers out of their hands.

BERLIN, April 7.—The Kaiser has recently painted two pictures symbolic of his views of a happy marriage.

One he has presented as a wedding gift to Prince Eitel Friedrich and the other he gave to the Kaiserin as a memento of their silver wedding.

CAN YOU RESIST DISEASE GERMS?

Yes, and becomes "Germ-proof" by Driving Out Blood Humors and Restoring the System.

Why are doctors and hospitals so busy in spring-time? Easily answered. People haven't made surplus vigor in the spring; it was all used up in fighting off colds through the winter.

With thin blood and low vitality, the germs of disease become active and cause fevers and debility.

Your one protection is to get the abundant vigor that Ferrozone so quickly supplies; it gives spring sickness that "tired feeling," restores nerve energy and instills vim and force into every ailing organ of the body.

No abler restorative is known than Ferrozone; its influence is not temporary but lasting, laying a sound foundation of health that lasts till old age.

Mr. Nazaire Begin, of Watton, P.Q., Que., who received enormous benefit from Ferrozone, writes: "I cannot speak too highly in praise of Ferrozone. If any one had told me that any remedy could build up my nervous system so well, I wouldn't have believed it.

"Before using Ferrozone I was run down in nerve and vital energy, and in very weak health.

"I didn't get enough sleep at night and felt poorly in the day time.

"Ferrozone has filled me up with energy and vim, increased my weight and made a new man of me."

Your health through the summer depends on clearing away all traces of spring sickness; the remedy is Ferrozone. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE REPUBLICANS AND THE COAL STRIKE.

The Montreal Star thinks that the brightest gleam of hope in the coal situation is that reflected from the armor of the Republican party. Party politics is sometimes a blessing. The party leaders must at all events do what the people want very badly; and they have in their hands enormous power when they control the legislative and administrative functions of government. The Republican leaders know perfectly well that if they permit a great coal strike to hang like a menace over the American people all through the summer and to raise the price of coal sharply in the autumn, the Democratic leaders will put "nationalization of coal lands" in their party platform and will carry the Congressional elections of the autumn two to one. Consequently the Republican leaders do not want a strike.

And they can do a great deal to teach the operators reason. The owners of railways and of coal mines are in no position to deny a body of men who have a majority in both Houses of Congress and whose President sits in the White House. A strike in the coal mines may have few terrors for them; but a strike in the lobbies at Washington might be very effective. If the coal consumers of the United States are wise, they will concentrate their fire upon their Congressmen. We, in Canada, are a trifle out of range, though we will be [illegible] on the firing line when the coal scarcity begins to make of this "firing line" a decidedly cold place.

It is altogether likely that John Mitchell, being a good general, understands the advantages of the position he has taken up. He knows as well as another that a second coal strike within three or four years is not likely to attract much public sympathy. The people might be willing to suffer once for the "poor miners"; but their philanthropic zeal will begin to get a trifle cool at the prospect of a second opportunity for sacrifice so soon. No wise church passes the poor box twice at the same service.

Hence it behooves the miners to secure a substitute for public sympathy if they are to enter upon another struggle; and the best substitute they can get is public irritation at the entire situation. This public irritation will clamor for Government control, if not Government ownership; and both of these policies are more easily taken up by the party which is out of office and free from the responsibility of immediate action. A coal strike will put the ball at the feet of the Democrats with the Radical section in front; and this will be precisely what the mine operators and their friends will like least. Party politics may thus give us a full coal bin next winter—an act of charity which will cover a great multitude of sins.

Liberal Terms for New Industries

Will be Embodied in the Application for Legislative Authority to Annex Beet Sugar Property---City Council in Special Session.

The city fathers met in special session last night, when there were present, His Worship Mayor Henry Best, and Aldermen McWilliams, Hicks, McIntyre, Duncan, Adams, Elliott, Graham, Wilson, Hall and Mason.

The main question under consideration was the proposed annexation of the old beet sugar factory property, North Monaghan, to the City of Peterboro.

This property has been acquired by the Toronto Savings & Loan Company, and will be held for manufacturing purposes. The Brinton Carpet Company will locate on a portion of it, and in order that the city may carry out its agreement with this company as to fixed assessment, etc., the lands must become part and parcel of the City of Peterboro.

Town Solicitor E. H. D. Hall, explained that the owners of fourteen or fifteen lots on the south side of Lansdowne street immediately fronting the beet sugar property were opposed to annexation on the latter land, unless they are brought into the city under their present township rate.

The Council decided that if these people want to be absorbed by the city they must come in under the ordinary city rate, in fairness to present citizens. Should they wish to continue paying township rates they must be content with township privileges. Consequently the city will not include these lots in their application for annexation unless their owners petition for such a course on general principles only.

Ald. Hicks did not think the city would suffer were terms for assessment and taxation for this property made with Monaghan instead of the city. In such an event arrangements would have to be made with the city for supplying their factories with water and sewer services.

Ald. McWilliams thought the city should apply for annexation of the beet sugar property on terms providing for a fixed assessment, and the present township rate, the same as the legislature allowed the City of Hamilton under similar conditions. This of course would be a big bonus, but the legislature could not very well refuse Peterboro what which they conceded the "Ambitious City," and Peterboro must keep pace with her competitors in the race for industries.

Ald. Elliott concurred in Ald. McWilliam's opinion, and urged that Peterboro seek legislative authority for the most liberal terms possible to grant the Brinton Carpet Co., and to offer other industries seeking location here.

The town solicitor explained that the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council could sanction the application of the beet sugar property upon such terms as he thinks advisable, although the quickest and most reliable procedure is to apply to the Legislature direct.

The power of the Lieut.-Governor in council in this respect is defined in the Municipal Act as follows:

"The Lieut.-Governor in Council may, by proclamation to take effect on some date to be named therein, add to any city or town any part or parts of an adjacent township or townships which he may consider it advisable to attach to such city or town.

"Any such addition may be made upon the application of the ratepayers of the territory proposed to be added, or any of them, or upon the application of the council of the city or town, and after such notice to the municipalities and persons interested as to the Lieut.-Governor may seem meet.

"The Lieut.-Governor in council may settle and determine the terms and conditions as to taxation, assessment, improvements and otherwise, upon and subject to which any such addition shall be made."

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks,—That the city apply to the legislature for the annexation to Peterboro of the old beet sugar property, now owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, on the terms that the assessment and taxation for such portion as is used or held exclusively for manufacturing purposes be fixed as at present, for a period of twenty years, dating from January 1st, 1907.—Carried.

The property in question is lot 15, con. 11, Township North Monaghan, and if sanctioned by legislation, the assessment will be this present value of the land, and the taxation the present township rate.

RATE FOR POWER.

When the city's application to the legislature for authority to generate and handle its own power comes up again before the Private Bills Committee next week, a statement as to what the present power companies will furnish power for one long term contracts is to be submitted. The price offered is $30 per horse power on 10-year contracts. The Manufacturers' Committee interviewed Mr. Stuart of the Peterboro Light & Power Co., yesterday, with a view to securing a better rate. Mr. Stuart replied that his company could not afford to retail power at less than $30, and personally he would not care to make any 10-year contracts, for the reason that when the canal is completed and all its proposed works established they would not have an ounce of power available for other concerns.

BYLAWS.

A bylaw authorizing the execution of a contract with the Peterboro Hardware Co., for furnishing the city with this season's cement passed its several readings.

A bylaw to authorize the construction of a sewer on Simcoe street as a local improvement passed its several readings.

A. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Mason,—That the clerk's compensation for acting as secretary for the police magistrate be $50 for this year.—Carried.

Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. McWilliams—That the clerk be authorized to employ some one to deliver notices of permanent improvements.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

PRESENTATION TO MR. FIFE

300 LOCAL STUDENTS GATHER IN THE Y. M. C. A. HALL

Handsome Fur Lined Coat and Dress Suit Given by Staff and Students.

Yesterday afternoon shortly after half-past three, the fine Y.M.C.A. building was invaded by eager-eyed and ruddy faced students of the Peterboro Collegiate Institute, who had come to do honor to, and express their regret over the approaching departure to Edmonton, of Mr. Jas. Fife, who for many years has very ably filled the position of science and mathematical teacher in the Institute.

The Y.M.C.A. Hall was quickly filled to overflowing, so that the adjoining rooms had also to be called into requisition to hold the crowd.

As soon as the scholars had taken their seats, Mr. Carter Fessenden principal of the Collegiate Institute, mounted the platform, and in a few well chosen and evidently deep-felt words expressed his regret at the departure of Mr. Fife. He said in part, "We are here to say good-bye to a beloved member of the school staff. My feelings are too strong to convey them by words."

Mr. Fessenden then called upon Mr. Fife, who, at his request mounted the platform.

As soon as Mr. Fife had taken his place on the stage, Miss Laura Smithson, one of the young lady students, in good voice and perfect enunciation read the following address;

Peterboro, April 6, 1906.

To Mr. James Fife;

Dear Mr. Fife,—Our purpose of meeting tonight is to express, in some degree, the great regret felt by the teachers and pupils alike at your impending departure for the North-west. In so doing, we represent, not only those who now frequent our halls of learning, but also those who have done so during almost two decades in the past. To the many students who have worked under your tuition at that time, not only has your academic teaching greatly benefited, but also the strong personal influence you have exerted over them. Your unfailing kindness, your patience and your tireless efforts in our behalf have won our sincere esteem and gratitude. Accordingly we feel the deepest regret at your departure, but you go with our heartfelt wishes for a long, happy, prosperous and eminently successful life in your new field of labor.

And we have felt too, that it is most fitting on this, the occasion of your leaving us, to present you with these tokens of our regard which may serve to remind you in future times of the pleasant days spent in our midst, and of the warm hearts you left behind you in the Peterboro Collegiate Institute.

With the heartiest of hearty wishes that every success may attend you we[illegible] yours.

Signed on behalf of the staff and pupils;

C. Fessenden.
John Jeffers.
H. B. H. Keuffer,
E. C. Smedley.
Alma Weir.
J. E. Hodgson.
Hazel Sanderson.
Lilian Dean.
Francis Routley.
Margaret McGrath.
Edneen Coughlin.
Muriel Burritt.
Wilfred Cox.
Magwell Dobbs.
Arthur Stevens.
Edward Mann.
Hart Miller.
Cecil Arnott.

Messrs Edward Mann and Chris Leeb, also students at the Institute, then came on the platform, the former carrying a handsome black beaver cloth, tailor made over coat, lined with selected spring muskrat and having a Persian lamb collar of selected skins, supplied by Mr. F. A. Clarke, George street.

Mr. Mann, amidst general applause, insisted upon Mr. Fife's putting the coat on.

Mr. Leeb then presented him with a very handsome leather dress suit case, from the establishment of Mr. Shortley.

Mr. Fife, in tones that showed how deeply he felt the honor done him, gave a short, but feeling extemporaneous response, beginning;

"Fellow teachers and pupils, I should, if possible be eloquent now. I wish I were like Mr. Kenner with his silver-tongued oratory or Mr. Mr. Fessenden here. I am sure I am grateful indeed. With regard to your beautiful gifts, I prize them very highly, not so much for their intrinsic value, but for the kind expression of your feelings. I have been for a long time in the school, and I appreciate your kindness very highly, especially the kind words in your address. So many kind words have been said to me, since thinking of leaving Peterboro, that perhaps I have made a mistake in going away."

Mr. Fife, then illustrated his feelings about going away by a humorous story of a Scotch pastor, who was called to another parish, but, who when his parishioners displayed an evident reluctance at his leaving, resigned the proffered new position.

However he was afraid things had gone too far towards his leaving for him to withdraw. He would like to have been with the pupils to have seen the last of the old corridors in the school, and to have seen the old laboratory buried.

He then went on in sarcastic humor, to describe the laboratory as it does not exist. His mantle has fallen on broader, and perhaps more worthy shoulders. His connection with the staff has been of the most kind and cordial kind. As regards the pupils, he has invariably received kindness at their hands. He will always be glad to hear of the success of the Peterboro pupils.

Mr. Fessenden then wound up the proceedings by a few last words of regret at Mr. Fife's departure from the school and from Peterboro.

Coal Thieves at Lindsay.

The Lindsay Post says,

Evidently there is some one in town who is doubtful as to whether King Winter has really left us or not, and residents living in the vicinity of the Grand Trunk depot would do well to put their coal bins under lock and key before they retire for another peaceful night's repose. Of late one resident on Melbourne street, who had not used much of a recently purchased ton, has discovered that someone else has fallen into the habit of helping himself without so much as a "thank you." To prevent another $7.50 going to the coal dealers' pocket this season, the has wisely put his coal house under padlock.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Mr. W. Eyres, Chairman Reads Report on Ottawa Isolation Hospital

Yesterday morning the local Board of Health, with Mr. William Eyres, presiding, got down to work. Mrs. D. Knox, the Queen street mineral water manufacturer, called attention to the fact that by the erection of the Peterboro Cereal Co's Works, the Queen street sewer, which empties into the river had been blocked, and was dangerous to health.

This was left to consideration of the city engineer.

Mr. William Eyres, who, with Mr. W. Blackwell, the Water street architect, had visited and inspected the Ottawa isolation hospital, read a report of what he had seen there. That hospital about two miles from the heart of the city, is a substantial three storey building, costing about $60,000.

Mr. Eyres, though pleased with the Ottawa hospital, thought it too expensive for Peterboro.

Mr. Blackwell presented a sketch of a cottage, such as is used in Montreal, which would be cheaper, and serve the purpose equally well.

The Board then adjourned, and with the members of the Finance Committee, went to the Hilliard property to select a site for the isolation hospital.

HOW TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN ESCAPED PELVIC CATARRH BY AID OF PE-RU-NA.

Female Weakness Is Usually Pelvic Catarrh. Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Mrs. Lizzie Redding, 3134 B Clifton Place, St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"I found after trying many different medicines to restore me to health, that Peruna was the only thing which could be depended upon. I began taking it when I was in a decline, induced by female weakness and overwrought nerves.

"I began to feel stronger during the first week I took Peruna and my health improved daily until now I am in perfect health and enjoy life as I never did before."---Lizzie Redding.

Mrs. Mable Bradford, 13 Church street, Burlington, Vt., Secretary Whittier Oratorio Society, writes:

"Peruna is certainly a wonderful medicine for the ills of women. I have heard it spoken of in the highest praise by many, and certainly my experience is well worthy of a good word.

"I began to have severe pains across my back about a year ago, brought on by a cold, and each subsequent month brought me pain and distress.

"Your remedy was prescribed, and the way it acted upon my system was almost too good to be true. I certainly have regained my health and strength, and I no longer suffer periodical pains and extreme lassitude."---Mable Bradford.

Thousands of Women Cured Every Year by Correspondence--This is What Dr. Hartman Proposes to Do For You Without Charge.

Women who suffer should read the evidences presented here. We have thousands of letters from grateful friends who tell the same story.

Half the ills that are peculiarly woman's own are of a catarrhal character. Female weakness was not understood for many years.

Dr. Hartman deserves the credit of having determined its real character. He has made catarrh and catarrhal diseases, including pelvic catarrh a life long study.

In Peruna these women find a prompt and permanent cure.

Peruna cures catarrh, whether of the pelvic organs or any other organ of the human body.

Pe-ru-na, a Natural Beautifier.

Peruna produces clean, mucous membranes, the basis of facial symmetry and a perfect complexion.

The women have not been slow to discover that a course of Peruna will do more toward restoring youthful beauty than all the devices known to science.

Many a girl has regained her faded beauty, many a matron has lengthened the days of her comely appearance by using Peruna.

Thousands of testimonials to this effect are received by Dr. Hartman every year. The good that Peruna has accomplished in this class of cases can scarcely be over-estimated.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS MARION TALBOT.

She Is Dean of Women In the University of Chicago.

Miss Marion Talbot of the University of Chicago is making an enviable record in the educational field. Born in New England, Miss Talbot received her early education at the Chauncy Hall school, Boston, and in Germany and Switzerland.

Such is the woman who today is dean of women, head of Green Hall and associate professor of sanitary science in the University of Chicago.

As administrative officer she holds the title "dean of women." As adviser she registers all the women students who over twenty-one years of age show their ability to follow special lines of work and are allowed to do so. The problems arising in connection with this body of students are individual ones, requiring great tact, insight and sympathy on the part of the dean.

Miss Talbot has also to superintend the registration of the undergraduate women for physical culture and to pass on all unusual situations in which women students may be involved, as the curbing of the efforts of the over ambitious girl, the stimulating of the idle, the regulating or removal of the frivolous.

But perhaps the most valuable part of Miss Talbot's duties may not be defined, being the unexpected ones growing out of the constantly changing conditions of a complex community life, each day bringing her new opportunities for directing public sentiment, upholding fine ideals and setting standards of dignity and scholarship.

As a member of the faculty Miss Talbot gives instruction in sanitation, hygiene and household economy. Her work is of a highly scientific character and attracts men as well as women.—Ella Morris Kretschmar in Progress.

Morris' Ideal Sitting Room.

Morris describes the sitting room of a healthy person thus: "Besides the table that will keep steady when you work upon it and the chairs that you can move about, the good floor and the small carpet which can be bundled out of the room in two minutes, there must be a bookcase with a great many books in it, a bench that you can sit or lie upon, a cupboard with drawers and, unless either the bookcase or the cupboard be very beautiful with painting or carving, pictures and engravings on the walls, or else the wall itself must be ornamented with some beautiful and restful pattern, then a vase or two and fireplaces as unlike as possible to the modern mean, miserable and showy affairs, plastered about with wretched sham ornament, trumpery of cast iron and brass and polished steel, offensive to look at and a nuisance to clean. To these necessaries—unless we are musical and need a piano, in which case, as far as beauty is concerned, we are in a bad way—we can add very little without troubling ourselves and hindering our work, our thought and our rest."—Harper's Bazar.

Children's Toys.

One of the most perplexing problems with which the order loving mother has to contend is to decide where to put the children's toys. If placed in the cupboard they keep the floor in an unsightly litter, and the dust gathers quickly under them.

One of the most convenient devices is a box couch seven feet in length, three feet wide and three feet deep. To this is a hinged top. The box is covered with a deep red cretonne, and on the lid is fitted and securely fastened a hair mattress, also covered with cretonne. Into this thoroughly ornamental piece of furniture the toys may be stored every night, it being the children's duty to pick everything from the floor and put it away in a neat and orderly manner.

They become accustomed to this task and perform it with perfect cheerfulness and with a delightfully pleasant conviction that they are helping mother.

Upon this couch a number of cushions of bright cretonne and a folded rug add to the cheerfulness and comfort.

Hair That Splits.

Many girls are troubled with the splitting of the ends of the hair. This indicates a lack of vitality, and such hair is almost invariably dry. These ends should be clipped, but never singed. The old idea that the hair when cut "bleeds" is a very foolish one and deserves no attention. Some hairdressers will tell you that "singeing closes up the 'tube' of the hair and thus prevents its bleeding." Much harm has been done by such unscientific treatment, for the hair is not a hollow tube; neither does it "bleed." In clipping uneven and split ends of hair the most thorough method consists in taking a strand at a time, twisting it tightly and then, while holding it at its tip with one hand, rough it up by running the finger tip and thumb quickly up toward the scalp. In this way nearly all of the hair ends will be made to stand up and can then be clipped with the scissors. Many hairdressers clip the ends of new hairs all over the scalp. This greatly strengthens their growth after a few months.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Always Speak Hopefully.

If you find any one determined to talk failure and illness and misfortune and disaster, walk away, says Woman's Life. You would not permit the dearest person on earth to administer slow poison to you if you knew it. Then why think it your duty to take mental foods which paralyze your courage and kill your happiness? Do what you can to change their current of thought, but do not associate intimately with them until they have learned to keep silent—at least if they cannot speak hopefully. Many a vivacious young girl has come under the influence of just such a wet blanket and had all the joy of life talked out of her. Sunshiny wives are wanted in these days of hard toil and still harder competition.

Five Minute Naps.

Every housewife should cultivate the habit of five minute naps. After working hard a few hours a woman is apt to feel sleepy or "dragged out" and imagines that it is only that ordinary sin of the flesh—laziness. But if she gives in to the feeling and rests for a short time on a comfortable lounge she will feel wonderfully freshened and will do better and quicker work than if she had foregone her cat nap. A successful business man declares that he owes his long life and great youthfulness to "five minute naps," which he has always taken in his chair.—New Orleans Picayune.

Musty Bread.

When bread molds or tastes musty in a day or two after it is baked it shows that there is something wrong with the flour. There are several kinds of molds which will give a musty smell to the bread without decomposing it. These are apt to be present in flour that has been kept in a damp place, and low grade flour often contains them in a large quantity. The baking process kills the organisms, but the musty flavor is not killed even by the heat. Also the chemical character of the bread is changed to one which favors the growth of any bacteria which may exist.

VILLAGE OF TENTS TO CITY OF HOMES

Marvelous Rapidity in Growth of New Nevada Mining Camp.

THOUSANDS ARE GETTING RICH

When interviewed today R. B. Hagbee, the expert broker, stated that before his very eyes he saw the mountain valley village of a few canvas tents on the outskirts of the Great Nevada desert, 61 miles north of Tonopah, grow into one of the most bustling business centers of several thousand inhabitants in the space of a few brief days.

Tremendous surface findings have made men wild with excitement. Two hundred dollars a day has been offered for automobiles by those anxious to get there quick. Many hundreds of teams line the road across the desert and crowded stages and wagons, ardand with lumber and supplies cannot be hurried fast enough.

Town lots have jumped from $25 to $2,500 and $3,000 and a 25-foot from single claims have sold as high as $100,000. Manhattan, however, is a poor man's camp.

The gold is free milling and is found on the surface with little work, the greatest showings of free gold ever found in Nevada are credited to the camp. It is not known whether values continue to a great depth, but some shafts down now to 100 feet show no change on every hand-side may be seen hundreds of men panning sacking and sorting ore right from the grass roots. Every rock is suspected of being gold-bearing in fact the whole hills are fitterally impregnated with gold. The streets in Goldfield have a deserted look and thousands have left their famous camp in the mad rush to this new gold district, 100 miles across the desert. It is estimated that 300 shafts are being sunk at the present time; numerous claims are already shipping ore to the smelters at Salt Lake City, and in half of the others ore of a good milling grade has been opened up; in most cases the veins are said to be fissures, one of the surest signs of permanency known to miners.

Strikes of ore were being reported hourly in the town of Manhattan, and hundreds of men were clamoring for fifty on the claims of the fortunate locators.

The town is saloon-free and unbridled gambling is rife; liquor flows in a continuous stream on every side, but rowdyism is soonest checked by the stronger men who take the law into their own hands.

"When I first reached the camp I could hardly find a place to sleep," said Mr. Hagbee, "but in a few days lumber arrived by hundreds of teams from Tonopah, and canvas and lumber shacks were built. Soon barbers arrived, eating houses sprang up, and in short, facilities were provided which made the camp take on the air of a modern city, and made the hardships seem like those of a great country picnic. While every man carries a gun he seldom flourishes his arsenal, and I never heard of one being used in the camp; life is too full and everyone too anxious to make a fortune to think of [illegible] own life by getting into a quarrel. Bright specimens of ore, threaded and seamed with gold, set men wild to get there quick. Many assays have run as high as $5,000 a ton, and such men as Schwab, McClure, Winnifield and Nixon have already secured large holdings in the district.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 200 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 395 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 19th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great copper mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

trembled like a leaf in a storm. He saw the lovely face flush and pale; and the feverish light deepened in the blue eyes.

They had to pass from the conservatory through the lower end of the ball-room, in order to reach the cloak-room and suite of apartments beyond, in which she was told she would find Waldemar.

Gently Bernard Cheseleigh folded her velvet wrap about her. The snowy swan's-down that bordered it was not more white than Reine's pallid face.

One moment she glances at the brilliant ball-room which she must leave ere the mirth of the evening is fairly begun; and in that moment some one rushes past her toward the green-arched ball-room, and stands, flushed and excited, on the threshold.

A low cry breaks from Reine's lips. It is Waldemar. She sees plainly that the servant is right. He must not enter the ball-room again. Quick as thought she is by his side. Her little white hands clutch his arm. Her piteous eyes are raised to his face.

"Waldemar," she whispers, hoarsely, "you must take me home at once, dear. I was just going to send for you."

He shook off the clinging hands angrily enough.

"What! go home when the ball has but just commenced? I shall do nothing of the kind," he answered, turning his flushed face impatiently from the imploring white one.

Ah, why was she unwise enough to tell him the true reason why she wished to go, and plead with him with tears and prayers?

"Upon my word, this is like a scene from a French drama," he sneered. He taunted her, and laughed at her, telling her that he intended to stay until the very last one; and as for indulging in wine, he had not taken the half of what he intended to; that he knew his own business, and would brook no interference from her.

She redoubled her piteous entreaties, raising her white face to his. She angered him beyond all measure. He raised his hand and struck her, leaving a red mark on the white cheek—struck the face the old general worshipped so fondly—the lovely face that Bernard Cheseleigh loved so well.

She had drawn him forcibly back into the cloak room. The music drowned his angry voice. The gay dancers had not seen the tragedy enacted so near them. No one saw but Bernard Cheseleigh, who had stood near, almost fearing to leave her.

Before Bernard Cheseleigh could reach her side Waldemar Waldron had fled—not into the ball-room again, but out of the house, into the street. He scarcely realized in his hot anger that he had raised his hand against her.

Reine did not faint—did not cry out; she stood in the exact spot Waldemar had left her, looking like a statue carved in marble—all save the faint crimson mark on the pale cheek.

As Bernard Cheseleigh reached her side, her pride, her reserve, her grand courage, all gave way. She was humbled, humiliated to the very dust.

She laid her face on her hands with a low, wailing cry that seemed to freeze the blood in his veins as he listened.

She crept up to him as she had been wont to do in that dim past. She had always found him her champion—her true, noble friend. He was her friend still.

"Bernard!" she sobbed, "what shall I do? I am so miserable that I wish I were dead. Take me away, Bernard! Take me home quick. He has gone. He will not return for me. An hour hence he will have forgotten me, and that I am waiting here. Take me home, Bernard."

He saw that she was in a state of wildest alarm. Gravely he led her through the brilliant rooms out into the cold, starlit night. Their carriage had been ordered, and was awaiting them. He must see her safely home. So, when he placed her within the coach, he seated himself opposite her.

What a blessing his love was to her in this hour of need; what a haven of rest this unswerving friendship seemed.

Here was a man who was constant to friendship, even as the needle to the pole. What a firm rock for a woman to cling to, when the waves of adversity tossed her about life's ocean!

How true and noble a friend he proved himself! Some men might have taken advantage of her pique and annoyance to have ingratiated themselves into her good graces by denouncing Waldemar Waldron and traducing him. Not so Bernard Cheseleigh. He was so careful of her, he might have been a guardian angel shielding her from harm—this beautiful girl whom he would have given his very life blood to have seen smiling and happy—like the capricious, wilful, little beauty of old.

He left her at her own door. She held out her hand to him with a faint smile.

"You have forgiven me, and you are my true friend still," she said, wistfully. "If we never meet again, I shall always remember how kind you have been to me to-night."

She turned away abruptly. The door opened and closed again hurriedly, and he was alone again with the starlit night—alone with these words sounding like sweetest music in his ears:

"You are my true and noble friend still."

Ah, Heaven, if he had but had the right to protect her—to revenge that cowardly blow. He longed, with all the mighty passion in his soul, to smite the hand that had been raised against the only being whom he had ever loved.

As for Reine, she walked slowly and hesitatingly up the broad staircase and on to her boudoir. No tears blinded her blue eyes. No quivering sob broke the straight tension of those white compressed lips. Nothing could ever pain her after what she had suffered to-night. She had reached the climax of human woe and human endurance.

Her maid cried out in alarm when she opened the door for her, and saw her standing there so pale and death-like on the threshold, with that crimson stain on her white face.

Why was she home so early from the grand ball? What had happened?

"I shall not need you to-night, Honora," she said, wearily, throwing off the heavy white velvet cloak. "You can go to your room."

In vain the maid protested that she looked ill; that she was sure she needed her. Reine shook her head.

"Ill!" sobbed Reine, when she found herself alone. What was all the illness in the world compared to what she was suffering then?

She went to the window, and drawing aside the heavy silken drapery, raised her white arms to the star-gemmed night sky.

"Mother! Mother!" she wailed, with gasping sobs, "if you are looking down upon me from yonder clouds—if you can see and know all that has happened to your most unfortunate child—oh, gentle mother, you will plead hard with the angels to pardon me for what I am about to do to-night. I am driven to it. Yes driven to it."

CHAPTER XX.

There was a brief but terrible struggle in the heart of beautiful, hapless Reine, as she stood by the window, with her white face mutely raised to the night sky.

The golden stars had died out long since. Dark clouds, presaging the coming storm, obscured the face of the heavens, and ere long a blinding snowstorm set in.

The snow outside was not more cold than the girl's heart.

"I cannot endure it longer," she told herself, bitterly. "When Waldemar returns he shall not find me here. He has driven me to it."

She turned hurriedly to her wardrobe. By chance, Honora's long, dark cloak hung there. She donned it mechanically, tied a dark veil over her face, then, with cautious, quiet steps, she went down the stairs, and out of the hall door into the terrible storm of the night.

No one heard the door open. No one heard it close again.

Like one mad, Reine fled through the darkness and the storm, little heeding whither she went.

So delicately nurtured, so tenderly reared had the general's darling been, that the bitter cold soon told upon her.

She looked at the white, falling snow, stretching like a shroud over the deserted streets and the housetops. Would it be her winding sheet?

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land as $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Does Mining Pay?

Some say it does not—Let us see. During the year 1905 the production of gold was as follows:

|---|---|
| United States | $ 82,700,000 |
| Mexico | 12,000,000 |
| Africa | 86,000,000 |
| Australia | 87,700,000 |
| Total for the world | $375,000,000 |

Add to this the production of other metals, and we get a sum beyond the comprehension of the human mind.

¶ PALMER MOUNTAIN TUNNEL AND POWER COMPANY mines will soon be adding their quota to the world's production.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Mr. George J. Sherry, barrister, of Norwood, has opened a branch office in Havelock.

—It is said there are prospects that Delora Mine will shortly start up. Arsenic is now $130 a ton, while formerly Deloro gold is at from $60 to $90.

—Yesterday afternoon a number of Indians, each armed with his dunnage bag of personal effects, passed through the city from Hiawatha, bound to Trout Creek.

—Wm. Haughton, of the West End, has been appointed pound keeper for 1906. Mr Haughton should have no difficulty at present in impounding numerous four footed beasts.—Havelock Standard.

—Lindsay has formed a branch of the Ontario Fish & Game Protection Association, with Mr. F. D. Moore; president, and Mr. C. A. Frost, secretary. A large number signed for membership.

—Water boils at a temperature of 212 and maple sap at 213 degrees. Taking the weight of water as zero, maple sap weighs 1; standard quality of maple syrup hot weighs 30 1-2, and cold standard syrup 35 1-2.

—Mr. Wm. Kenney left on Monday morning for Cobalt, where he will open a shoe shop. Mr. R. N. Simpson is also endeavoring to make his fortune in that town of almost instantaneous appearance. Mr. Simpson will be in the meat business.—Campbellford Herald.

—Several people have made be re mark on the streets today that the Y.M.C.A was closed for good. This is very far from the truth. Elaborate preparations are being made for the Senior banquet tonight at seven sharp, in the gymnasium. A large and representative gathering of men is expected.—Lindsay Post.

—On Monday night of last week the Junior league of the Methodist church held a social in the basement, and during the evening, Miss Edythe Poulton, who leaves for Calgary, Alta. this month, and who was superintendent of the league, was presented with an address and a gold locket. Miss Poulton has always been a prominent and active official and the loss occasioned by her departure will be sorely felt by the league.—Havelock Standard.

A PETERBORO MAN'S LUCK

MR. GEO. RITCHIE DISCOVERS A RICH MINE

The Ore of Mr. Ritchie's Mine Assays Sixty Per Cent. of Silver and Contains Traces of Gold and will Probably Produce Futures.

The many friends, in this city of Mr. George Ritchie, will be rejoiced to hear that he has discovered an abnormally rich silver mine, located several hundred miles from Cobalt, and which gives promises of as great wealth as even the far-famed mines of that argentiferous locality.

The good news was brought to the city by Mr. T. Armstrong, who has returned from the North Shore lumber camps where he has been engaged since last July.

Mr. Ritchie, who is a Peterboro man, and is foreman for the Cook Bros. Lumber Co. at Blind River.

Samples of the ore discovered by Mr. Ritchie have been assayed and show that it contains sixty per cent. of silver, and has also traces of gold.

Capitalists have already made heavy offers for the mine, which will undoubtedly prove one of the richest in Canada, and which proves conclusively that this part of Canada is abundantly enriched by immense quantities of valuable mines.

Mrs. Ritchie who lives on McDonnel street, will probably be heartily congratulated on her husband's good fortune.

County Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the county council has been called for a week today for the purpose of confirming by-laws for the building of the House of Refuge and the two new bridges.

St. Paul's to Entertain Y. M. C.

The ladies of St. Paul's Guild will entertain the members of the Young Men's Guild to a banquet, which will be held in the Sunday school room some night next week, yet to be agreed upon. It is likely that the members of the choir will also be guests at the banquet.

Chas. Parks, in Bicycle Accident.

Yesterday morning as Mr. Charles Parks, was riding his bicycle on the way to work he met with an accident in front of the Queen's Hotel, in some manner he was thrown off the wheel and fell, striking his knee on the frozen earth, and injuring it severely. A doctor attended to his injuries at the Queen's Hotel. He will be laid up for a couple of days.

Cobourg Spending $40,390.

The town of Cobourg has accepted tenders for the new jail, running from $14,18- for masonry, $16,987 for steel cells, to $700 for painting, amounting in all to $41,745, with $2,645 for a house of refuge amounting in all to $60,390. This does not include cost of land, equipment, fencing furnishing and sundries innumerable, meetings of committees, so that $100,000, will be required before the Cobourgers are satisfied. Happy Cobourg, unhappy taxpayers.

Mr. Wilhelmy's Big Purchase.

Mr. C. Wilhelmy has just returned from Montreal, where he purchased a large stock of electric fixtures, consisting of chandeliers, 500 assorted bindus heaters, smoothing irons, etc. The above was purchased at a forced sale, and will be disposed of at factory prices. Those wishing to have their houses wired, should call and inspect this stock before going elsewhere. Remember the place, 458 George street, above Brock street.

TO PROTECT GAME

Peterboro Forms Branch of Ontario Fish and Game P. Association

Last night about sixty-five gentlemen, interested in preserving the fast disappearing game, not only of this county, but the Province at large, assembled in the Council chamber, to form a local branch of the Ontario Fish & Game Protective Association. There were representatives from the Edge Lake, Ketcheeum Lake, Gobl Lake, Jack's Lake, Parry Harbor, and C.G.F. Angling clubs.

Those present were, Messrs T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., R. Winch, H. Winch, H. Neil, Geo. Colbraae, A. H. Webb, Meaford, G. W. Hatton, J. Watt, C. Westlake, W. Howland, Geo. Bennett, Layfield, Bousfield, Chas. Woods, Pentland, Hartaborn, Geo. Fitzgerald, J. D. Collins, Noah La Plante, R. Lundy, R. A. Morrow, J. [illegible], R. [illegible], [illegible]ingham, R. M. Rogers, Arthur Stevenson, A. M. Hayes and many others.

Mr. Bradburn moved that Mr. R. Neil take the chair; on Mr. Neil's declining, Mr. G. W. Hatton's name was brought forward, however he nominated Mr. Harry Winch, "who had taken him, and his father before him out hunting."

Mr. Winch then took the chair, and opened the meeting by "Gentlemen or rather fellow sports." He then said that Messrs. Evans, secretary, and Adams, vice-president of the Toronto branch, would be heard.

Mr. Evans, secretary of the O.F. & G.P. Association, was glad to see so large a gathering, but only expected such as Peterboro as the gate way to a hunter's paradise. There are two ways of looking at local game protection, that of the sportsman and the business man. He first took up the matter for the sportsman's point of view. Many similar societies had been formed and died. There have been diverse opinions and contrary requests have been made to the Ontario Government.

The members joining such a society as advocated, simply agrees to keep the laws of the Province. He next went into the details of the constitution, explaining the various details. Ministers of the Gospel and school teachers are asked to join owing to the chances of educating the public. He referred to the coming meeting in Toronto, at the time of the Toronto Exhibition.

Each branch association will be asked to thoroughly discuss all matters of interest and report accordingly to the general headquarters. He had suggested to Hon. Dr. Pyne, that the next issue of school books should contain a few pages relative to protection of insectivenous birds' nests and eggs, the headmaster of Upper Canada College has promised to condense such matter as may be available for such purpose. Mr. Arnold Haultain, Prof. Goldwin Smith's private secretary (an old Peterboro boy) has promised to assist.

To the business men he said that absolute statistics show, that, in the State of Maine, which greatly resembles Canada, had, under protection, greatly increased the supply of game, this has brought in over $15,000,000, from outside sportsmen. Maine cannot now take care of its hunting and fishing visitors, as Canada might as well get them and their money. By protecting our game we would have enough to supply hundreds of visitors with lots of money to spend, and still have sufficient for ourselves.

Those in Peterboro sit at the gate way of the most wonderful sporting game lands in the world. He knows that tons of fish are annually netted and smuggled away and sold in the United States.

Mr. Bradburn who was present, believed to be personally interested in game protection. If we persist in protecting the game, and especially the fish, there will, on completion of the T.V. canal, simply be an annual procession of yachts and houseboats along its course.

Mr. O. Adams, vice-president of the Toronto branch followed in a stirring speech, advocating protection of Canada's game.

PETERBORO BRANCH.

After the speakers had been delivered, a Peterboro branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association was formed, the following officers being elected for the current year, viz.:

OFFICERS ELECTED.

President—J. D. Collins.
1st Vice-Pres.—R. E. Layfield.
2nd Vice-Pres.—H. Winch.

The secretary-treasurer will be appointed by president and vice-presidents later on.

Executive Committee—R. Neill, Geo. Bennett, Tom Brightman, J. E. Fitzgerald and G. W. Hatton.

NAVIGATION OPEN

T. V. C. will Open for Steamers on Thursday, April 13th.

The Trent Valley canal authorities yesterday were notified that navigation in the canal will be opened on Thursday next, April 13th, between Peterboro and Hastings, providing the ice will permit. This is a little earlier than usual.

Other branches of the canal will not be opened for some time yet. The repairs on the lift lock and the break in the canal bank above the lock will have to be made before the water is let into the lift lock again.

Nothing definite has yet been decided about the other stretches. The Government having the matter under consideration.

Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its extra demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, displacements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of such cases of woman's suffering is that poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to obtain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much on for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mrs R. A. Sanderson, Lindsay, was in the city yesterday registered at the Snowden House.

—Mr W. W. McCracken, Minden, was in the city on business yesterday a guest at the Snowden House.

—The many friends, in this city, of Mr W. J. Sherwood, will regret to hear that he is laid up in Brockville suffering from an attack of appendicitis. Mrs. Sherwood was called there yesterday by wire. We trust that he may have a speedy recovery.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE

Valuable Thoroughbred Fowl of Mr. McAllister's Burnt to Death.

Yesterday afternoon, just about the time the firemen were lighting their after dinner pipes, an alarm of fire summoned them to the post of duty.

The fire was located in a hen house just to the rear of Mr. C. B. McAllister's handsome east side residence, and was reached in the local brigade's usual quick time. The brigade did their usual and intelligent work, and thus saved what threatened to be a bad fire.

The blaze started in the brooder, and as it was perfectly dry, the flames had no difficulty in getting a good start. When discovered the fire was burning briskly, but all the doors kept closed, and as a result the fire was held in check until the firemen arrived. The loss will amount to about $200, including 110 chicks only eight days old, 15 hens, the brooder and part of the floor and ceiling of the hen house.

DIED IN ST. JOSEPH'S

Death of Mrs. Marie Louise Lavasseur Yesterday.

Mrs Marie Louise Lavasseur, wife of Mr. E Lavasseur, 210 Perry street, passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital between 3 and 4 a.m., yesterday. The deceased, who was 38 years old, had undergone several operations in the hospital and finally succumbed.

Mrs. Lavasseur leaves to mourn her loss her husband, three children, all young, Elma, Welbourne, and Alphonse her uncles, Theophilus, John and Patrick Delaire, all of Peterboro. Her father was Mr. Joseph Delaire, who returned from a nine months' absence on the North Shore of Lake Superior, but who fortunately arrived in time to see his daughter alive.

The funeral will take place from 210 Perry street, on Sunday afternoon at 2.10 to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery for interment.

Ontario Bank in Warsaw.

The Ontario Bank with its conservative banking way of doing business will on Monday, open up a local branch in the village of Warsaw. There is a good opportunity for bank ing business in that burg owing to the fine stretch of country surrounding the place. Mr. Orans the local manager of this bank will probably keep a fatherly eye on the new branch and give its manager the benefit of his extended experience in banking matters.

The Engineering Magazine.

The Engineering Magazine for April gives the leading position to twin articles on the deplorable position of engineering in the Navy, and the vital danger to National sea-power it entails. The first is by W. M. McFarland, long chief assistant to Admiral Melville, head of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, U.S.N.; the second is by a "British Naval Contributor," who remains anonymous but evidently is of high rank. Both agree as to the grave danger of present conditions — evidenced startling to the world at large by the recent accident on the U.S.S. Pennsylvania; and Mr. McFarland seems to strike the key to the solution in urging the acceptance of new ideals by naval officers of high rank. When the engine room is given its true position in their eyes, as co-equal with the deck in importance and dignity of service and honor of recognized achievement, young officers with seek it as they do now executive commands, and the efficiency of the whole naval establishment, now endangered, will be amply restored.

Mr. Fullerton L. Waldo has an interesting illustrated account of the sanitation work and domestic life on the Isthmus; Mr. L. M. Terry writes very entertainingly of "Outfitting for the Prospecting Trail," his article being accompanied by a number of good photographs; Mr. Charles P. Scott contributes a richly illustrated paper on the use and control of electric motors, and another illustrated article by Mr. O. M. Becker concludes his review of "The Square Deal in Works Management." There are also articles on the economy of the power station, by Mr. A. S. Mann, and on the machinist's point of view of the new wage systems, by Mr. W. Sarns. The number concludes with the Review and Index of the Engineering Press of the world.—The Engineering Magazine, New York.

G. Matthews Co's New Store.

This morning the George Matthews Company, will open their new store at the corner of George and Brock streets. This store has been thoroughly overhauled and remodelled under charge of A'd. Graham, and now presents a very handsome and inviting appearance. Starting Saturday morning four deliveries per day will be made, at 9 and 10.45 a.m., and 2.30 and 4.30 p.m. On Saturday nights at 7.15 and 9 p.m.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the "Leisure Loving League" sent a deputation to that highly assisted seat of justice, the police court, there being several cases on the docket. Shortly two ladies entering the portals, a few of the "Scandal Seekers" club also took in the sport, only to be disappointed, as the ladies were only present over the case of a small boy, about the size of a healthy grasshopper, charged with breaking a window in the door of Mrs. Bunn's George street store. The little fellow explained that he smashed it by accident with a marble. His Worship asked him, "Why didn't you say 'fan-smash,' when you threw the marble?"

He notified the boy's mother she would have to replace the window.

Paddy Conway, an old man from the St. Joseph's Home, East Ward, who on Thursday strayed across the bridge and from the paths of sobriety, having to be taken to the station in an express wagon, and whose face showed signs of an attempt to effect a entrance a telephone pole, or some other oath, was fined $5 to expedite arithmetic, or twenty days on the hill. As Pat's bank account had evidently been overdrawn he will wear the yellow and black livery for the twenty days.

A local autisan who occasionally tries to "Take a fall" out of corn juice, and always gets the worst of it, was allowed to go on his promising as usual, to "cut out" the whiskey.

Mrs. M. M. Stevens, the keeper of a junk shop, was charged with not having, as required by by-law No. 1495 of the City of Peterboro, kept a proper book setting forth the purchases of goods, dates, and the names and addresses of those from whom she purchased them.

Mr. Wood who appeared for the prosecution, gave formal notice that the by-law referred only to men keeping junk shop, whilst his client was a lady. Mr Wood produced such documents, as the defendant's husband used for noting purchases from time to time. He explained that such people as kept junk shops are not highly educated and able to keep regular books. The documents produced, although very crude, showed purchases made.

Mr. George Stevens, husband of the defendant, explained to the magistrate how he kept tally of his purchases.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall, who appeared for the city submitted that Steven's records did not fit all comply with the by-law. He called Stevens to show by his records what brass he had purchased during the month of February. The papers showed certain purchases of brass, but did not show from whom it was bought.

The magistrate remarked that there was no attempt whatever made to show from whom the goods were bought, the only thing for which the act had been passed to trace stolen property. He imposed a fine of $5 with $2.50 costs. He then informed Mr. Stevens that a by-law will be passed in a few days, by which junk dealers would be supplied with books by the city, in which every purchase with full dates, addresses and description of purchases would be noted.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 600 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 33 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $750,000, $100,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $250 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 60 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

Dr. Hamilton Cures Rheumatism

You Use His Mandrake and Buttermilk Pills—He Guarantees a Lasting Cure.

Rheumatism begins and ends in the blood which at no time is ever free from poison. But if the kidneys are healthy, they will filter out the wastes and poisons.

In case of rheumatism, the kidneys are not doing their work. As a result poisons crystalize around the joints and cause pain almost akin to torture.

There can be no cure, no permanent relief until the kidneys are stimulated. First get them into working order. For this purpose Dr. Hamilton's Pills excel all other remedies: they heal and strengthen the kidneys as no other poisons depart from the blood and all medicine can do. Once the kidneys are renewed by Dr. Hamilton's Pills the trace of rheumatism disappears.

No Case is Too Chronic to Yield to the Marvellous Influence of Dr. Hamilton Pills.

"I spent nearly three years experimenting with rheumatic remedies," writes Geo. K. Hanbury, of Portland. "I had almost given up hope, when I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they completely cured me. No remedy could be better."

You will never regret using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Get a supply today from your druggist, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Modest Editor's Mission.

An esteemed contemporary holds that no editor should become a candidate for office. This g. f. j. has long held that it is the duty of editors to manufacture great men, sometimes out of very unpromising material, and not to try to become great men themselves.

Tired of Municipal Ownership.

While other towns are becoming frantic for municipal ownership of water works and other public service corporations, Phillipsburg, Kansas, which has had some experience with municipal ownership, is talking of selling its water plant to a private corporation in order to get good service and good water cheap. This should be a pointer for Peterboro.

Steamer North King.

Officers appointed to the steamers of the Lake Ontario and Bay of Quinte Steamboat Company for the coming season are as follows: North King, Captain, John Jarrell; George Boyd, engineer. Canada, Captain, William Bloomfield; G. J. Hickey, engineer. The date that the above steamers will commence running has not yet been announced.

Settlers Low Rates West.

After the Grocers.

During the last couple of weeks a government detective or inspector has made his appearance in a number of the rural country grocery stores in quest of information. It seems that they are not allowed to sell carbolic acid, but it has been done. One or two of the merchants have been caught in the act and have had to pay the fine of $20.

Culverwell vs. Campbell.

Port Hope Times: The case of Culverwell vs. Campbell came up at the Assizes at Cobourg last week. It was an action over land at Campbellford. Mr. Culverwell got an option on a piece of land. After three years he tried to buy the land, which had been sold in the meantime. Verdict for the defendant with costs. The land in question is at Campbellford and is not connected with Healy Falls properties. Mr. Culverwell will appeal.

Readily Righted.

A little Peterboro girl was addicted to exaggeration, says a reader of The Times, and one day she informed her mother that she had seen an elephant in the garden back of the house. Her mother thought this an opportunity to shut down on the little girl's imagination, so she told her to go to her room and ask God's forgiveness for the false statement. Five minutes later the child returned cheerfully. "You did as I told you?" asked the mother. "Yes," replied the child, "and God said, 'I don't blame you, Miss Jenkins; I thought it was an elephant myself.'"

Sunday Observances.

Speaking of the question of Sunday observance, Goldwin Smith says: "The subject is one on which reason and mutual toleration ought especially to prevail. An attempt violently to enforce the religious observance of the Lord's Day may imperil the observance of the day of rest." There is much truth in that. If extremists provoke hostility to reasonable laws for its preservation, we may find that instead of helping to save it they are its worst enemies. It is a time for caution, toleration and education.

C. P. R.'s Asthetic Tastes.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is now distributing its spring packages of flower seeds, to be used in ornamenting the stations and office grounds of the system, from ocean to ocean. The employes are encouraged to take an interest in growing flowers, and there is much friendly rivalry between the stations, each trying to make a handsomer showing than the others. He who rides on the C. P. R. in the flower season, and takes note of the surroundings of the stations, great and small, will readily agree that the result is well worth the money expended.

Meanest of All.

An esteemed contemporary has spotted the meanest man in the country, and tells about him as follows: "A man may use the mole on the back of his neck for a collar button; he may ride a freight to save three cents per mile; he may light the lamp with a splinter to save matches; he may stop his watch at night to save wear; use a period for a semicolon to save ink; pasture his grandmother's grave to save hay; but a man of this kind is a scholar and a gentleman compared to a man who will take a newspaper and when asked to pay for it, put it back in the postoffice, marked refused."

A Dastardly Trick

A dastardly trick was recently played upon a popular young man of this city, whose name is withheld for the present. It appears that the said p. y. m. went to a country dance with his best young lady recently and managed to incur the fair one's displeasure. In short, what is technically known as a "spat" occurred. However, the miserable young man thought that all could be patched up on the way home, but the "boys" discovered what was the matter and one of them adorned himself with the wraps of the fair one and took her place in the buggy, trusting to the silence prevailing between them to conceal his identity. They were half-way home before the deception was discovered and now the mean joker has told all the nice things that the unhappy suitor said to him before he found out his mistake.

INS AND OUTS

The rumor that our local coal barons know nothing about work, is a mistake. They worked the unsuspecting public with exceptional skill during the past few months.

* * * * *

There is a period in every woman's life when she feels the superiority of her sex, and that is when she sees a man trying to thread a needle.

* * * * *

We can only hope that the present spring will be as beautiful as the one in January.

* * * * *

If, as is claimed, temperance hotels do not pay, it appears to this g. f. j. it is somewhat of an injustice to make a drinking man pay for a temperance man's dinner.

* * * * *

With all their faults our esteemed local George street contemporary has not yet demonstrated that the members of the school board or town council ever robbed their neighbor's hen roosts.

* * * * *

The best brands of coal sold during the past winter in Toronto and Hamilton for $5.75 per ton, while the local coal barons charged $7.50. Unfortunately for us, Peterboro users could not burn coal at a distance.

* * * * *

This g. f. j. would suggest this thought for the evening: You can't stay young by stopping the clock.

* * * * *

It is because truth is stranger than fiction that a man makes up a little story to tell his wife when he has been out late.

Entrance Examinations.

At a meeting of the examiners at the Educational Department, Toronto, the Minister of Education was requested to have the entrance examination time changed, and as a result the following time table for the examinations for 1906 has been issued: Wednesday, June 27th, 8.45 to 9 a.m., reading instructions; 9 to 11 a.m., composition; 11.10 to 11.55 a.m., spelling. Afternoon, 1.30 to 2.30, geography. Thursday, June 28th, 9 to 11.30 a.m., arithmetic. Afternoon, 1.30 to 4, written reading. Friday, June 29th, 9 to 11 a.m., English grammar; 11.10 to 12, writing. Oral reading may be taken either Friday afternoon or at other hours convenient to the examiner and candidate, but not to conflict with other subjects as heretofore.

Emergency Treatment

An esteemed subscriber asks this great family journal: "What is the proper thing to say and do when you happen to walk suddenly into a room and find a young lady sitting on a young man's lap?" The society editor of this g. f. j. never had an experience of this kind. If anything of this kind ever did happen, he was undoubtedly the fellow in the room. Besides, he is a bachelor, and naturally would feel embarrassed in such a situation. There are, however, three things which will relieve the pressure. The first and perhaps the best is to cry "fire" and run screaming to the neighbors. The second is to point the finger of scorn at the guilty pair, and taking a hammer and tacks from the right hand coat pocket, stoop down and nail one's feet to the floor and stand there until the disgusting scene had been successfully disarranged. The third and most supinely weak and unnatural thing to do is to crawfish gently out of the room, close the door quietly, letting the knob slip around to its place without a click, and then go out under the blue vault of heaven and look up at the eternal stars and "dream of the days that are gone, Maggie, when you and I were young." This g. f. j. trusts that the red-headed human woodpecker who seeks this valuable information will place it where it will do the most good.

Little Boy's Body Found Yesterday

Remains of Little Son of Mr. William Bell, Who Was Drowned in Canal Last Fall, Found Yesterday Morning.

Our readers will remember the sad the boy was making a last search circumstances surrounding the sud- at the canal, within a very short den disappearance of a little son of distance of the spot where he evi- Mr. Wm. Bell, who conducts a groc- dently fell in and met his death, the ery store in the north ward. brother noticed a peculiar spot

The little fellow was known to have gone out skating but never returned. At the time most diligent search was made, every portion of the canal both above and below where articles belonging to the little fellow were found was minutely inspected; even the water in the canal was lowered to assist the distracted relatives in their work. However although many citizens assisted the relatives in their work of love, no trace of the missing boy could be found. It was even surmised by quite a number of people that this boy had not been drowned but had left home to go and work for himself.

Yesterday morning as a brother of in the ice making a closer examination discovered the body of the long lost brother lying half below the ice face downwards. Calling some men to his aid the brother succeeded in getting the remains to shore, and at once notified Mr. Comstock the George st. undertaker.

As the remains were in a terrible state of decomposition, Mr. Comstock had the body taken direct to his undertaking establishment. The funeral will take place from there to the Little Lake cemetery at ten o'clock this morning. They body was decomposed altogether beyond possible recognition, but was easily identified by the clothing.

A NEW ASSOCIATION

Local Manufacturers to Form an Association.

Mr. E. G. Patterson, manager of the Canadian General Electric Co., this town a letter which sufficiently explains itself, and which will probably attract much interest throughout the city. The outcome of the organization of such a body will not only prove beneficial to our local manufacturers but have a tendency to help the city as a whole.

Mr. Patterson's letter to the various manufacturers and other leading men of the city was as follows;

Peterboro, April 6, 1906.

Dear Sir,—Last week a meeting was held by half a dozen or so of the manufacturers to discuss a matter that affected their interest. After the matter had been discussed and settled. I suggested that it would be the proper thing for an association to be formed by the manufacturers of Peterboro for mutual benefit, and to take up any subject that the association deemed desirable at any time. I have no doubt that if this association was formed and interest taken in it, it would be a power for good in the city both locally and also in dealing with railroads and other subjects of a broad nature.

You are cordially invited to attend a meeting to be held in Donnistoun, Peak, & Kerr's office on Wednesday, the 11th at eight o'clock.

Yours truly,

E. G. PATTERSON.

MR. DENNISTOUN LEADS

Local Barrister Still Ahead in New Candidates.

In the election for Benchers by the Law Society of Upper Canada, it looks as though Tom new men would oust as many old ones from their places. The following are the leading new men who are showing up well at the finish of Saturday's count;

Donnistoun, 1st.
Northrup, 191.
McPherson, 188.
Bicknell, 185.
Owens, 179.
Barnhart, 169.
Farewell, 168.
McMaster, 168.
McIntyre, 164.
Wilkes, 164.
Minster, 161.
Detaghe, 143.

Among those leading the old members are;

Strathy, 202.
Shepley, 178.
Wilkes, 171.
Chrysler, 169.
Bicknell, 168.

About a third of the vote has been counted up to date. The counting will continue this week.

PLATE GLASS BROKEN

One of Mr. H. P. Kennedy's Show Windows Smashed.

On Saturday morning an unfortunate accident occurred at Mr. H. P. Kennedy's new store, which has marred the appearance of the front for the opening day. A big pain of hard had been placed in the window on the marble floor, and the jar from the door started the pain sliding and it went right through the big plate glass. The glass was covered by boards and will be replaced today.

As a example of quick business methods, it might be noted that within five minutes after the window was smashed, Mr. Kennedy had completed all arrangements with the insurance company for replacing the glass.

Dogs.

The Times job department has just issued "Dog Tags" notices for use of the city. These large posters notifying the public that it will be necessary for owners of dogs to pay their licenses, and procure tags for them at once. The police had been instructed to see that this provision of this bylaw are strictly enforced. Get a tag and save Fido from becoming a target for pistol practice.

—Don't be without plenty of good fresh paper for underlaying carpets when you can get four large packages for 25 Times Stationers for 10 cents.

NEW GAS HOLDER

Local Gas Works to Add a 150,000 Tank.

As foretold some months ago in The Times, Mr. Larmouth, the energetic manager of the Peterboro Light & Power Co., which owns the local gas works, had decided to add to their gas storage capacity, and is now busy preparing a plan for new gas mains and also the old ones, which are to be replaced, in order to accommodate the output of gas soon to be accomplished.

It has been decided to make immediate extensions to the gas plant. The improvements will include a new gas holder, with a capacity of 150,000 cubic feet. About two miles of new mains will also be laid, and many of the old mains will be replaced with new and larger ones.

Peterboro's Banks Increased Today

Ontario Bank Opens a Branch Bank---The South Ward to Meet Growing Demand.

Today, the already numerous banking institutions of this city, and which are already comparatively large in proportion to Peterboro's population, will be augmented by a new and supplementary branch of the Ontario Bank.

As is well known the southern part of the city is rapidly giving location to numerous and important factories, and consequently numbers of dwellers and shops attracted to this busy section.

With his proverbial farsightedness and energetic endeavor to advance the interests of both the bank and its customers, Mr. John Crane, local manager of the Ontario Bank, has already provided for the increasing demands for banking facilities in that part of the city by securing premises for an additional and supplementary branch of the bank.

The new local Ontario Bank branch will open this morning at the corner of Rutledge and Townsend streets.

This new branch which will be under supervision of Mr. Crane's branch, will undoubtedly not only succeed in doing a large business, but will be a great convenience for citizens of the south ward.

ACCUSED OF MURDER

Montreal Police Unable to Make Case Against Bradley.

Montreal, April 8.—Shortly before 9 o'clock yesterday Bradley, the man arrested as a suspect in the Ahern murder, who called from his cell, where he was enjoying a morning smoke. A couple of the Cote St. Paul people had arrived, in charge of Police Captain Mhane, and Bradley was wanted to pass in front. The early visitors were the young girls Eugenie Ledue and Beatrice Lapiere, who saw the unfortunate victim of the assault and the man together, and they were placed in a private room of the detective department, from which they could have a good view of Bradley. Both girls looked up and down, slowly and with deliberation, and studied the face from various positions, and the verdict seemed to favor Bradley.

He was like the man they saw in the neighborhood of Cote St. Paul on Tuesday evening, coming out of the bush, carrying a bundle under his coat, but neither of them was prepared to say positively that Bradley was the man. After about twenty minutes he was taken back to the police cell.

Eugenie Ledue, who appears a robust, was instrumental to feel sick shortly after being confronted by Bradley, and only by an effort was prevented from going into a faint.

A man named James Woods, 208 Cadieux street, came to see Detective Lapointe this morning. He is positive he saw a man exactly answering the description of the murderer leaving Bonaventure station at 8.40 on Wednesday morning for some American point. He says the man was about 5ft. 6in. in height, with high cheek bones, pock-marked, blonde drooping moustache, shabby brown fedora hat, faded dark coat. He was a tough-looking individual and carried a couple of bottles of beer in his pockets. He was evidently very much excited, so much so he attracted the attention of Station-master Caron, who followed him while train to get on.

Referring to the terrible death of little Ida Ahern, Le Canada says; "Beings like the one who killed little Ida Ahern are evidently degenerates, and a degeneracy that constitutes a danger to society. The most severe repression cannot protect us against these monsters, who, in the delirium of alcohol, or in the collapse of their mental faculties, no longer preserve the power of reasoning and do not reckon the result of their acts. Society certainly has the right to protect itself by placing the guilty person in the physical impossibility of repeating the crime, but it strikes us that matter is one pertaining especially to mental pathology, and that it now have the right to protect ourselves against the unconscious ourselves against the unconscious acts of violent, insane people by placing them in asylums, we should also have the right to adopt measures of protection against the fits of horrible bestiality that alcohol may produce in degenerates of that kind. Society demands protection against attacks not only from justice which punishes but also from science which foresees and prevents."

TRENT RIVER POWER

Mr. Alex Culverwell Buys Property on Trent River.

The Port Hope Guide says that Mr. J. A. Culverwell, has recently purchased and acquired the deeds for several portions of the water power, south of Crow Bay, on Trent river, adjoining the north limits of the town of Campbellford.

This deeds cover the Denmark property river frontage of twelve chains including that the river flow, and also the Hubble property frontage of twenty chains on both sides of the river which includes the while flow.

Another portion, in between these properties, viz., the Campbell piece, is now in dispute in the courts, Mr. Culverwell's suit against Campbell & Son for specific performance of contract, of purchase and sale, being dismissed at the sittings. This will be appealed by Mr. Culverwell.

O SAMUEL GARVATH DEAD.

Windsor, April 8.—Samuel McGarvah, one of the best known bridge contractors in Ontario, is dead here.

AT THE RECEPTION

Local Citizen Attends Prominent Social Function in Toronto.

Mr. M. C. Tobey of the city, who has returned after several days visiting with Ald. W. T. Stewart, of Toronto, last week attended a large social gathering at the residence of his guest's father, Mr. W. Stewart, Morris street, Toronto. The reception was given to celebrate the old gentleman's returns from a long tour in Cuba and other West Indian islands.

The Mayor of Toronto, Controller Hubbard and several of the city aldermen were there respective wives. The Toronto Star, reporting the event said that over 200 were present.

The refreshments were most admirably served by McCoukey, the celebrated caterer.

ATHLETIC WORLD

LACROSSE.

The Peterboro Lacrosse Club, at a meeting held in the Oriental Hotel, with Mr. W. D. Davidson in the chair, have reorganized for the coming summer. The financial statement was read by the secretary, Mr. E. M. Best.

The election of officers resulted in the return of all last year's officials. The name of Mr. Geo. Lynch was added to the executive committee. Mr. Walter Davidson and Mr. E. M. Best were appointed delegates to the C. L. A. convention in Toronto on Good Friday. Mr. Best's candidature for the C.L.A. council will be strongly supported.

No decision was arrived at as to which series of the association, the Peterboro team will enter. This will be settled later. The proposed amendments to the C.L.A. constitution were discussed and the delegates were instructed to support the amendments providing for a junior series. The delegates were given the privilege of supporting the man they thought best for the office of president of the association.

The prospects are bright for a fast team in Peterboro this season as practically all of last year's team will turn out, and there is abundance of young material to draw on.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Saturday was "Sons of Rest" and "Police Court Plugs" sent delegates to see how much Mr. Thos. Windsor would be assessed for having expectorated on the opera house floor on Thursday night.

Windsor, who was seen by P. C. Miller to have committed the offence, that several former spitters at Peterboro's home of the drama, had previously paid fines varying from $2 to $5 for, pleaded guilty, and was fined $5. The fine was paid.

Two young men, about 18 years of age, were charged with a very serious offence, and one that is punishable, at the magistrate's option, with two years in jail. The information read that they did unlawfully and wilfully damage the working of the electric light circuits of the Otonabee Power Co, by throwing a wire over the feed wires of the said circuits contrary to the criminal code, section 498.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum, managing director of the Otonabee Power Company, gave evidence against the lads. Mr. Meldrum explained how the wire thrown across the feed wires had short circuited the whole system, putting out all their lights from four p.m. to six p.m., causing great loss and inconvenience to the company and their customers. He explained how the wire thrown by the boys, had crossed two of their live wires thus short circuiting them, and that had a man in the power house gone to the switch board at this time it would have resulted in his death.

The young men did not deny committing the offence, but claimed they did not know the harm they were doing.

The magistrate explained to them that they knew, being quite 18 years old, thus they were doing wrong in interfering with other people's property, and called their attention to the recent killing of Mr. Gibbs' team by live wires. He imposed a fine of $5 each to be paid forthwith or fifteen days in jail, adding "You will pay, or in jail unless your fines are paid, and if any one does pay the fines, I hope he will warm your jackets."

His Worship said, further, that if any one else is proved to have tampered with electric light wires in any way that he would impose a very heavy penalty.

Their respective fathers called shortly after adjournment of the court and paid their sons' fines.

In the matter it would be well for the public, and boys in particular to note, that such an offence as committed by these boys is a most serious one, and one that could easily lead to loss, not only of property, but of human life. The punishment for such offences, as noted before, is two years in jail.

Eye witnesses of the wire throwing by the prisoners say that whilst the wire thrown by the lads was across the electric light wires, that sparks and flame shot quite two feet in the air when the occurrence took place. As soon as the crossing was burnt through and dropped, the electric plugs all along the line were burnt out, causing great inconvenience and expense.

FORETOLD THE FINDING

Prof. D'Arville Tells Where Drowned Boy's Body Was.

A curious feature of the finding of little Bell's body yesterday, as noted in another part of this issue, was that, last Monday, Mrs. Mowry, a sister of the poor little boy, went to Prof. A. D'Arville, the palmist, on Queen street for a "reading."

During course of the seance the subject of the little fellow's death was introduced, and Prof. D'Arville told her that the reports as to the boy having the city alive were absolutely untrue, and that the remains would be found, within a very few feet of the scene of his death before May 6th.

His prognostications were verified yesterday morning. This is the third drowned body that has been found under circumstances foretold by this gentleman, the one immediately prior to yesterday's being at Hamilton.

It might be noted that when the Fays were in the Opera House here, Mrs. Fay foretold that the body would be found below the locks.

THE MATTHEWS' STORE

Messrs Matthews' Fine New Branch Store Opened Saturday.

On Saturday morning George street's fine array of up-to-date mercantile institutions was augmented by one of the most modern and appropriately fitted up meat markets in the Dominion.

Some months ago Mr. T. F. Matthews, the local member of the Messrs. Geo Matthews' Co., secured a lease of that finely located store, recently occupied by Mr. Westlake as the City Meat Market.

Mr. Matthews at once set Mr. Jas. Graham, the local contractor, with a large staff of men to work to completely reorganize and improve the whole establishment.

The old-fashioned windows were replaced by much larger sheets of plate glass, the walls below each window being pushed out for about a foot in depth, to give a larger display and more in accordance with modern business practice.

Then the whole interior of the store was simply ripped out to make way for more handsome, handy, and modern methods of the meat business.

The most distinguishing characteristic of Messrs. Matthews' new branch store is the absolute and implied cleanliness observed and insisted on everywhere. All fixtures, shelving, or other parts of the interior, where dirt of any kind might accumulate unseen, were replaced by such as will keep this shop as absolutely clean as the boudoir of the most fastidious lady.

The walls and painted parts of the shop are purest of white, so that by no possibility could dirt or grease rest unseen.

This insistance on scrupulous cleanliness is not only a proverbial axiom of the Messrs. Matthews' various packing houses and branch stores, but is a great factor in preservation of health. Nothing taints meat quickly than meats of all kinds and absolute cleanliness is thus a great factor in preserving the health of those who consume meat.

The new store on the north-east corner of George and Brock streets, was crowded all day Saturday by admiring crowds.

ANOTHER CARTAGE CO.

Messrs Hicks & Co. Will Place Three New Lorries.

The Times is in receipt of undoubted authenticity, that another larger company will shortly enter the local competition for a share of Peterboro's carting. Messrs. R. Hicks & Co., are arranging to establish a new branch to their coal and lumber business, and in a short time will be in a position to do all kinds of carting. It is understood that orders have been placed for three new lorries and drays to add to the present equipment.

As the carting business in this city has now become very heavy and constantly increasing, there is no doubt but what a strong firm of the popularity of Messrs. Hicks & Co., will secure a good share of the coal orders. Messrs. Hicks intend to open up an office in the central part of the city to take orders for fuel and carting.

BASE BALL

Organization Meeting on Tuesday April 10th.

A meeting of those interested in baseball are requested, without fail, to attend the reorganisation meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, at 8.30 in the Oriental Hotel.

Business of importance will be transacted. All ball players should be present.

Rise Liars, And Salute Your Queen

Ho, All Ye Faithful Followers of Ananias GIVE EAR!

A Young Girl said to Cooking School Teacher in New York: If You Make One Statement as False as That, All You Have Said About Foods is Absolutely Unreliable."

This burst of true American girl indignation was caused by the teacher saying that Grape-Nuts, the popular pre-digested food, was made of stale bread shipped in and sweetened.

The teacher colored up and changed the subject.

There is quite an assortment of traveling and stay-at-home members of the tribe of Ananias who tell their falsehoods for a variety of reasons.

In the West it is the custom on a cattle ranch to have a "round up" and brand the cattle, so we are going to have a "round up," and brand these cattle and place them in their proper pastures.

FIRST PASTURE

Cooking school teachers—this includes "teachers" who have applied to us for a weekly pay if they would say "something nice" about Grape-Nuts and Postum, and when we have, declined to hire them to do this they get waspy and show their true colors.

This also includes "demonstrators" and "lecturers" sent out by a certain Sanitarium to sell foods made there, and these people instructed by the small-be-whisker-ed-doctor—the head of the institution—to tell these prevarications (you can speak the stronger word if you like). This same little doctor conducts a small magazine in which there is a department of "answers to correspondents," many of the questions as well as the answers being written by the aforesaid doctor.

In this column sometime ago appeared the statement: "No, we cannot recommend the use of Grape-Nuts for it is nothing but bread with glucose poured over it." Right then he showed his badge as a member of the tribe of Ananias. He may have been a member for some time before, and so he has caused these "lecturers" to descend into the ways of the tribe wherever they go.

When the young lady in New York put the "iron on" to this "teacher" and branded her right we sent $10.00 to the girl for her pluck and bravery.

SECOND PASTURE.

Editors of "Trade" papers known as grocers' papers.

Remember, we don't put the brand on all, by any means. Only those who require it. These members of the tribe have demanded that we carry advertising in their papers and when we do not consider it advisable they institute a campaign of vituperation and slander, printing from time to time manufactured slurs on Postum or Grape-Nuts. When they go far enough we set our legal force at work and haul them to the judge to answer. If the pace has been hot enough to throw some of these "cattle" over on their backs, feet tied and "bellowing," do you think we should be blamed? They gambol around with tails held high and jump stiff legged with a very "cocky" air while they have full range, but when the rope is thrown over them "it's different."

Should we untie them because they bleat soft and low? Or should we put the iron on, so that people will know the brand?

Let's keep them in this pasture, anyhow.

THIRD PASTURE.

Now we come to a frisky lot, the "Labor Union" editors. You know down in Texas a weed called "Loco" is sometimes eaten by a steer and produces a derangement of the brain that makes the steer "batty" or crazy. Many of these editors are "Locoed" from hate of anyone who will not instantly obey the "demands" of a labor union and it is the universal habit of such writers to go straight into a system of personal vilification, manufacturing any sort of falsehood through which to vent their spleen. We assert that the common citizen has a right to live and breathe air without asking permission of the labor trust and this has brought down on us the hate of these editors. When they go far enough with their libels, is it harsh for us to get judgment against them and have our lawyers watch for a chance to attach money due them from others? (For they are usually irresponsible.)

Now let all these choice specimens take notice:

We will deposit one thousand or fifty thousand dollars to be covered by a like amount from them, or any one of them, and if there was ever one ounce of old bread or any other ingredient different than our selected wheat and barley with a little salt and yeast used in the making of Grape-Nuts, we will lose the money.

Our pure food factories are open at all times to visitors, and thousands pass through each month, inspecting every department and every process. Our factories are so clean that one could, with good relish, eat a meal from the floors.

The work people, both men and women, are of the highest grade in the state of Michigan, and according to the state labor reports, are the highest paid in the state for similar work.

Let us tell you exactly what you will see when you inspect the manufacture of Grape-Nuts. You will find tremendous elevators containing the choicest wheat and barley possible to buy. These grains are carried through long conveyors to the grinding mills, and there converted into flour. Then the machines make selection of the proper quantities of this flour in the proper proportion and these parts are blended into a general flour which passes over to the big dough-mixing machines, there water, salt and a little yeast are added and the dough kneaded the proper length of time.

Remember that previous to the barley having been ground it was passed through about one hundred hours of soaking in water, then placed on warm floors and slightly sprouted, developing the diastase in the barley, which changes the starch in the grain into a form of sugar.

Now after we have passed it into dough and it has been kneaded long enough, it is moulded by machinery into loaves about 15 inches long and 5 or 6 inches in diameter. It is put into this shape for convenience in second cooking.

These great loaves are sliced by machinery and the slices placed on wire trays, these trays, in turn, placed on great steel trucks, and rolled into the secondary ovens, each perhaps 75 or 80 feet long. There the food is subjected to a long, low heat and the starch which has not been heretofore transformed, is turned into a form of sugar generally known as Post Sugar. It can be seen glistening on the granules of Grape-Nuts if held toward the light, and this sugar is not poured over or put on the food as these prevaricators ignorantly assert. On the contrary the sugar exudes from the interior of each little granule during the process of manufacture, and resembles one of the little white particles of sugar that come out on the end of a hickory log after it has been sawed off and allowed to stand for a length of time.

This Post Sugar is the most digestible food known for human use. It is so perfect in its adaptability that mothers with very young infants will pour a little warm milk over two or three spoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, thus washing the sugar off from the granules and carrying it with the milk to the bottom of the dish. Then this milk charged with Post Sugar is fed to the infants producing the most satisfactory results, for the baby has food that it can digest quickly and will go off to sleep well fed and contented.

When baby gets two or three months old it is the custom of some mothers to allow the Grape-Nuts to soak in the milk a little longer and become mushy, whereupon a little of the food can be fed in addition to the milk containing the washed off sugar.

It is by no means manufactured for a baby food, but these facts are stated as an illustration of a perfectly digestible food.

It furnishes the energy and strength for the great athletes. It is in common use by physicians in their own families and among their patients, and can be seen on the table of every first-class college in the land.

We quote from the London Lancet analysis as follows:

"The basis of nomenclature of this preparation is evidently an American pleasantry, since 'Grape-Nuts' is derived solely from cereals. The preparatory process undoubtedly converts the food constituents into a much more digestible condition than in the raw cereal. This is evident from the remarkable solubility of the preparation, no less than one-half of it being soluble in cold water. The soluble part contains chiefly dextrin and no starch. In appearance 'Grape-Nuts' resembles fried bread crumbs. The grains are brown and crisp, with a pleasant taste not unlike slightly burnt malt. According to our analysis the following is the composition of 'Grape-Nuts': Moisture, 6.62 per cent.; mineral matter, 2.61 per cent.; fat, 1.00 per cent.; proteids, 18.00 per cent; soluble carbohydrates &c., 49.60 per cent.; and unaltered carbohydrates (insoluble), 22.97 per cent. The features worthy of note in this analysis are the excellent proportion of proteid, mineral matters, and soluble carbohydrates per cent. The mineral matter was rich in phosphoric acid. 'Grape-Nuts' is described as a brain and nerve food, whatever that may be. Our analysis, at any rate, show that it is a nutritive of a high order, since it contains the constituents of a complete food in very satisfactory and rich proportion and in an easily assimilable state."

An analysis made by the Canadian Government some time ago shows that Grape-Nuts contains nearly two times the digestible elements contained in ordinary cereals, and foods, and nearly twice the amount contained in any other food analysed.

The analysis is familiar to practically every successful physician in America and London.

We print this statement in order that the public may know the exact facts upon which we stake our honor and will back it up with any amount of money that any person or corporation will put up.

We propose to follow some of these choice specimens of the tribe of Ananias.

When you hear a cooking school teacher or any other person assert that either Postum or Grape-Nuts are made of any other ingredients than those printed on the packages and as we say they are made, send us the name and address, also name of two or three witnesses, and if the evidence is clear enough to get a judgment we will right that wrong quickly.

Our business has always been conducted on as high a grade of human intelligence as we are capable of, and we propose to clear the deck of these prevaricators and liars whenever and wherever they can be found.

Attention is again called to the general and broad invitation to visitors to go through our works, where they will be shown the most minute process and device in order that they may understand how pure and clean and wholesome Grape-Nuts are.

There is an old saying among business men that there is some chance to train a fool, but there is no room for a liar, for you can never tell where you are, and we hereby serve notice on all the members of this ancient tribe of Ananias that they may follow their calling in other lines, but when they put forth their lies about Grape-Nuts and Postum, we propose to give them an opportunity to answer to the proper authorities.

The New York girl wisely said that if a person would lie about one item, it brands the whole discourse as absolutely unreliable.

Keep your eyes front ready and brand these "mavericks" whenever you find them running loose.

Your blood is not only thin, but is contaminated with a whole winter's accumulation of wastes.
cumulation of wastes.

A stimulating blood tonic is required.

What's it going to be?

No bitters or alcoholic dope, but concentrated cure in the form of "Ferrozone" which is known as the best of all spring rejuvenators.

It creates keen appetite.

Produces prodigious digestion.

Converts food into nourishment.

Gives richness and vitality to the blood.

Makes strong nerves, and hardy muscles.

Ferrozone possesses power that can't be doubted. It will do for you what it did for Walter Wood, of Beaufort Car Co., N. B., who writes: "I can say that Ferrozone has given me a new lease of life. A year ago I suffered much from nervous weakness. I was really scarcely able to drag myself around. My appetite was gone, I had no color or ambition and felt generally used up. The first box of Ferrozone started me back to health. I took a number of boxes, but it was worth while as my health was completely restored."

TURBINE MARINE ENGINES

The British Admiralty is apparently satisfied that the turbine engine is to take the place of the old reciprocating engine, since the former will be adopted in the additions to the navy that have been decided on. Since the little Turbinia created so much excitement and interest, as she dashed hither and thither between the lines of warships in the Solent, on the occasion of the naval review in Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee in 1897, the turbine principle has slowly won its way. Accidents to two of the torpedo destroyers on which the Admiralty made its first test of the turbine, although in no way caused by the new style of engine, somewhat prejudiced the turbine. The results that the turbine engines will give on the two gigantic Cunarders that are to be ready for service next year, will have a very important bearing on this latest step in marine engineering.

NEW YORK'S SKYSCRAPERS

A recent issue of the New York Times contains a picture of the thirty-story City Investment Building which is to be erected at Broadway and Cortlandt street, and a forecast of other building operations that will add a great group of skyscrapers to the already large supply at the lower end of Manhattan Island.

The prediction is that on or before January 1, 1909, fifteen such structures will have been completed, with more than 2,500,000 square feet of rentable office space. Two of the buildings will be at least twenty stories high, two will be twenty-three stories, the others will have twenty-five stories or more. Naturally the question arises whether there is sufficient demand for additional space to justify such an outlay as will be required for the buildings, and the writer of the article anticipates it by expressing the belief that they will rent and be successful. He supports his opinion by reference to the continued business expansion of the country and to the need that is felt in large enterprises for maintaining offices in New York.

Certainly big returns will be required on an investment that is estimated at forty millions, but there are other interesting phases of the subject. The problems presented by a congestion of business will become more and more pressing and important, and call for the exercise of much ingenuity in the handling of the crowds of cliff dwellers. As regards the appearance of the city, there will probably be an additional impressiveness as it is viewed from the sea, but one would have to be built with head drawn backwards at right angles to the body to take in such towering masses from the street.

USING A GAS STOVE.

How to Meet the Problem of Keeping Things Warm.

Keeping things warm is the problem which confronts every user of a gas stove.

Unless there is a broiling oven separate from the baking oven—and this is an expensive arrangement—there is no room in the ordinary gas range for keeping a course dinner hot. Even then the heat is of the kind that is death to both the flavor and looks of the dishes.

A way to manage a warming oven which is perfect, besides being out of the way, is to get a sheet iron or tin oven of the kind which is made to go on over coal oil or little flat gas stoves. Get just as large a one as you can possibly afford, as every extra square inch will pay you in more ways than one. Get a couple of deep iron brackets to set this on and fasten to the wall at a convenient height and distance from the stove. Under it set a low box or fasten a shelf and upon this set one of the little coal oil stove lamps that cost for a little over a quarter. You will find that the heat is of the mild and even kind that keeps things perfectly. The top is an ideal place for raising bread, and things which require slow baking, as custard or rice, can be cooked in it to the saving of gas.

In a kitchen in which a coal range keeps its place beside the gas stove the problem is made simple by setting the little lamp under the warming oven of the range while cooking by gas.—Exchange.

FRENCH BREAD.

The Way It Is Made and Why It Is Always Sweet.

French bread is always sweet and good according to the way in which it is baked. A French baker never makes a thick loaf, no matter what the shape. The loaves are two-thirds crust and are so thin that the heat strikes through them almost as soon as they are put in the oven. This stops all fermentation, while in a large loaf the process goes on a long time before it is put in the oven, and part of the sweetness is lost.

Another point which helps make the peculiar sweetness of French bread is that it is baked a long time in an oven that is made "slow" after the first few minutes.

The glazing of the loaf is produced by a pipe with which professional French bakers throw steam into the oven, and the moist heat, coming in contact with the dextrin in the bread, changes it into what is called British gum. It is, however, the glaze which improves the bread not only in looks, but in flavor, and a good imitation of it can be acquired in the ordinary oven by keeping in it a pan of hot water.—Exchange.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.

Dates are excellent for people with consumptive tendencies, are very easily digested and contain abundance of sugar.

Malic acid is peculiarly helpful to the body, and apples, pears, plums, peaches and cherries all contain it. Tomatoes also contain it.

Potatoes, the old standby, contain all the inorganic elements of the body except fluorin. They contain a quantity of potassium salts—good for nerve and muscle.

Lemons are excellent for curing colds or allaying feverishness. Their citric acid supplies the blood with a cooling agent, making this fruit a febrifuge. Oranges act in the same way, but with slightly less strength.

Tomatoes are among the fruits rich in potash, especially good for the blood and with a marked action on digestive operations. They provide alkaline matter for the bile and are wholesome for people who suffer from jaundice or sick headaches.

Women Electrical Workers.

An industry into which women are going is that of making electrical apparatus, and because it is comparatively modern they have, at starting, more nearly an even chance with men than in most other lines. In lamp work especially more women are now employed than any one would suppose until an investigation had been made, and this is because, perhaps, of the manual dexterity needed. The deftness of woman's fingers is especially valuable in the delicate operations of inserting the tiny wires and filaments. The preliminary washing of the glass globes, which must be spotlessly clean, is another job generally intrusted to women and girls. It is said that when paid by the piece a woman makes generally more than a man in many of these operations because of the greater rapidity with which she works.—Philadelphia Record.

Branding Baby For Identification.

Let a mother study the appearance of her child's body well and decide for herself whether there be about it any ineffaceable mark by which she could identify him anywhere and at any time. If there is nothing that time may not efface, then let her have him marked in such a way that she would know him. It is only a question of a few drops of Indian ink, an operation no more painful than vaccination.—Family Doctor.

Shampoo.

There is a honey and shubarb shampoo that is said to lighten the hair without injuring it. The preparation is made of an ounce of strained honey and an ounce of rhubarb stalks steeped for twenty-four hours in three ounces of white wine. Strain and wet the entire head and long hair, letting it dry in. Then wash off in clear water.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 280 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps, and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $ 90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconed in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 19th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 600 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 55 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $750,000, $100,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $250 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally contiguous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,400 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has [illegible]

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

She struggled on through the drifts with but one thought in her mind: To get so far away from Waldemar Waldron that he could never find her.

Was it fate that at that moment brought her face to face with Bernard Chesleigh?

For an instant he gazed with puzzled bewilderment at the young girl approaching him. The light of the flaring gas lamp fell upon the slender figure. The eyes of love were so keen that he knew her at once.

"Reine," he cried, spring forward, "what in the world can you be doing alone, and in such a storm, upon the streets at night?"

A piteous sob fell from the girl's lips, ending in a hysterical laugh.

"I am running away, Bernard," she said. "I am leaving the old life far behind me. I am going where no one who ever knew me can see my face again."

He drew back with a pained, grave face.

They were opposite a fashionable cafe. Gently he drew her within, out of the bitter cold and the fierce storm.

"Oh, Reine, Reine," he cried, distressedly, seating her upon one of the velvet divans and taking a seat opposite her, "tell me what it is that has led you to such a course as this?"

She laughed; and the mirthless music was sadder to hear than the most violent weeping would have been.

"It is simply this," cried Reine. "When I reached home, I tried to school myself to meet him again, after what happened at the ball. Oh, the torture of the hour I passed! I was so maddened with pain, humiliation and rage, that if he had entered the room then, I could not have been accountable for what I would have said, even though he were to strike me dead for it. I hate him so that I can never look upon his face again," she sobbed, with reckless despair. "I would sooner die."

Bernard Chesleigh gazed at her with infinite pity in his dark eyes, a troubled look on his grave face.

"Reine, poor child, is it so bad as this?" he asked, huskily.

"It is so bad," she said, "that it could not be worse; to meet death would be preferable. I am tired of it. I am going away."

"Going away!" he repeated, slowly. "That is what I feared would happen. Has your patience, your forbearance, come to an end at last, Reine," he said, compassionately.

"Yes, she replied, truthfully, "it has at last."

He was silent a few moments; and then, as he looked up at him, a great awe stole over her. His eyes were upraised; his lips were moving silently. What should he do? What should he say to her?

Only Heaven knew the struggle that was in his heart, and how he conquered it. Loving her with all the great love of his heart, how easy it would have been to rejoice and encourage her in the step she was taking. There was something more than heroic—it was sublime—the way he beat back his mighty love, that he might counsel her aright.

She was another man's wife. He prayed to Heaven for strength to guide her as he would wish a sister of his guided, if she were to be placed in just such circumstances.

"My marriage was a terrible mistake," she sobbed, raising her beautiful, childish face to his. "I see it now," and, almost unconsciously, the words that had so often trembled upon her lips burst heedlessly from them now: "Oh, Bernard, I am sorry that I gave you up for him; you would have taken me for love. He only wanted me because I was the prospective heiress of Fairlawn."

Ah, how he longed to take her in his strong arms, put the golden, clustering curls from her white face, and weep over her. He crushed the mad impulse—spurned the thought from him.

Bernard had a code of honor, all his own perhaps—a rare one in these degenerate days. He had loved her dearly, Heaven knew, he loved her now, but it would unman him to listen to words like these from her innocent, thoughtless lips, for there is no storm so strong, so irresistible, as that of human passion; yet Bernard stood firm.

"You must never dwell upon useless regrets, Reine," he said, gravely. "Remember you are wedded to another now, and marriage is for life."

I wonder how many men of the nineteenth century there are who would give up everything that is dear in life for the sake of maintaining a high, ideal purity!

"When the chain galls it should be broken asunder," she said, piteously; "I could not endure it until death sets one or the other free." Reine added.

"Do not urge me to go back, Bernard," she sobbed; the life I have been leading would soon kill me; oh, the wretched loneliness of it!"

"Oh, Bernard, that is so like my dreary life; I live such a lonely existence—no one to love, and no one to love me. There are times when I long for the clasp of strong hands, for sympathy, and—and—to feel the assurance that some one cares for me. Can you understand?"

"Yes," he replied, huskily.

"To creep into the fold of strong arms, and pillow my head on a faithful breast," she went on, piteously.

"Poor child! poor little Reine," he murmured, brokenly.

"I could endure the thought of what the future would be with him; I have thought it all over. I would rather face death—for that would be nothing to the cruel torture of dragging out day after day, weeks, and the months that lengthen into years. With him, love died with possession. The thought of our growing old together is full of appalling horror to me. We should detest each other more thoroughly—if that is possible—as time rolls on, than we do now."

"Oh, Bernard," and she crept nearer to him, "tell me where to go? I want to go so far away that he can never trace me," and hiding her face in her hands she gave way to hysterical weeping.

"Will you let me advise you as to what your duty is, Reine," he said, very gently, "and follow it?"

In uttering this last sentence, Chesleigh unconsciously took up his hat, which he had laid on a chair beside him; Reine, sensitive as to his slightest movement, took it as an intimation that he was wishing the interview over, and was anxious to leave her.

She looked wistfully into his face, with a deep sigh. "I will listen to what you tell me, but I cannot promise to follow it," she said.

"With all his faults you love him still, Reine," said Chesleigh, very gravely, and because of that love you must——"

She interrupted him with a dreary laugh.

"I have never loved him, Bernard," she sobbed. "I see now that it was only a girlish, mad infatuation that I had for a pair of fine eyes and a curling blonde moustache. I do not wish to speak evil of him, Bernard," she said, slowly; "the very fact that he has injured me should make me generous to him; the very

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the mine.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Does Mining Pay?

Some say it does not—Let us see. During the year 1905 the production of gold was as follows:

|---|---|
| United States | $ 85,700,000 |
| Mexico | 12,600,000 |
| Africa | 86,000,000 |
| Australia | 87,700,000 |
| Total for the world | $375,000,000 |

Add to this the production of other metals, and we get a sum beyond the comprehension of the human mind.

¶ PALMER MOUNTAIN TUNNEL AND POWER COMPANY mines will soon be adding their quota to the world's production.

We offer stock in this Company with confidence.

The great progress which has been made in opening and equipping these mines renders it certain that present price of stock will soon be advanced.

Diseases of Women

OFTEN DUE TO

Deranged Kidneys

When the Kidneys Are Weak It is Impossible for Any Women to be Happy or Healthy.

If the girls and women who are silently suffering with what they appease as "female trouble," would look to their kidneys they would soon find the source of their ill-health.

The kidneys are very closely allied with the female organs and if the vitality of the kidneys is in any way impaired, great suffering is sure to occur.

No better medicine is known for the kidneys than Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Buttermilk; they stimulate and strengthen the kidneys and thereby assist the other organs to do nature's work. Instant benefit and certain cure are guaranteed in every case.

Sufferer, don't wait, begin treatment with Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once; they will cure you is they did Mrs. A. B. Coburn, a well-known resident of the town of Portland. Read her experience;

"For two years past I have been sickly and weak. My color was dull and sallow, and I felt exhausted and weary, as if all my strength were being eaten up with some hidden trouble. I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to use them. The change in a few days was surprising. They regulated my kidneys and bowels and cured all my suffering; to-day I am perfectly well."

Every woman can take Dr. Hamilton's Pills with safety and benefit. Their occasional use keeps the system in healthy, well regulated order. No medicine more gentle or more prompt in results. Now is the time to get Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A. and Kingston, Ont.

Mr. Frank Mercer in the City

Mr. Frank Mercer, who was some years ago a successful George street merchant, is in the city for a few days, en route for Montreal where he will permanently reside. Mr. Mercer has secured all patent rights for a new and most admirable attachment used on buggy and wagon wheels, to hold each wheels safe in position without the necessity of using washers as heretofore. Mr. Mercer is disposing of rights for the sale of this fixture throughout Canada, and states that he is meeting with great success.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to all the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Express Horse Runs Away.

On Saturday the horse attached to Mr. Noble's express cart took fright on George street near Peter Hamilton Company's establishment, and fled at a 2.09 1-2 gait south until it was stopped near the C.P.R. tracks. The driver was thrown out but fortunately not seriously injured. Neither horse nor wagon were much the worse over the rapid transit.

THE NEW STORE OPEN

Mr. H. P. Kennedy's Grand New Market Attracts Much Attention.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy's grand new store was opened on Saturday morning, and was thronged all day long by crowds of customers and admiring sight-seers. Many complimentary remarks were passed concerning this most magnificently furnished and well supplied meat emporium.

A new feature of Mr. Kennedy's store is the modern idea of supplying customers, not only with all kinds of edibles meats and poultry as in the old store, but with a choice assortment of canned goods and other groceries connected mainly with thoughts of roasts, steaks or other meats.

A full description of this modern meat market will appear in to-morrow's issue.

Noticeable among the very fine, and unsurpassed display of various meats pendant from the hooks at the rear part of this store were two of the finest two-year-old steers that were ever sold in the city. These cattle weighed when dressed 870 pounds for beef half of each animal, or 1480 pounds for each animal dressed ready for sale.

Mr. G. M. Roy took a flash-light picture of the interior of the new store about nine o'clock on Saturday evening.

Next Saturday Mr. Kennedy will present each customer, who buys fifty cents worth of meat or produce, with a handsome picture of his establishment.

REVIEW EMPLOYEE HURT

Mr. Herbert Gray Receives Serious Wound on the Head.

On Saturday morning as Herbert Gray, garter at the Review printing establishment, was helping to get a package of paper down out for shipment, he got one of his fingers caught and slipped severely. Feeling faint he went outside to get fresh air, and returning a minute later, fainted, and fell, striking his head on the fly-wheel of the cutting machine. He received a bad cut about two inches long, on top of the head, and another an inch long at the back. Drs. Coughlin and Morgan were called in and Mr. Gray was taken home and attended to. He will be laid up for some time as the result of his painful injuries.

A LOCAL CANDIDATE

Toronto News Speaks Kindly of Mr. Ernest M. Best.

The Toronto News of Saturday in referring to the new council of the Canadian Lacrosse Association soon to be elected, gives an excellent portrait of Mr. E. M. Best, one of the coming candidates and says;

Ernest M. Best, of Peterboro, started to play lacrosse about twelve years ago in Manitoba, playing with the junior and intermediate teams there. In 1898 he went to Brantford, and for the next four years was connected with junior lacrosse in that city, more especially with the city league. The last three years he has been in Peterboro, closely connected with the game, both as a player and in active management, Secretary of the Peterboro team for the past two years, he is retiring this year. Mr. Best started a hardware business in Peterboro four years ago and has been very successful in that enterprise. "I will support all efforts for the promotion of a clean game and a square deal," he writes, which is a pretty good platform.

Local Fireman Fooled.

With all due apologies for presenting news a week old, The Times learned on Saturday of an "April Fool" joke on a local fireman that is too good to keep. It seems that a week ago Sunday, one of our prominent local fire laddies was out in the back yard at his residence. His wife rushed out, seemingly in great excitement, to tell him there was a fire in a certain ward. The fireman quickly donned his hat and fled at top speed to the fire hall only to find on arrival that his wife had "April fooled" him. He said it was except to make a person "Wilt."

INSOMNIA

Leads to Madness, if not Remedied in Time.

"Experiments satisfied me, some five years ago," writes a Topeka woman, that coffee was the direct cause of the insomnia from which I suffered terribly, as well as the extreme nervousness and acute dyspepsia which made life a most painful thing for me.

"I had been a coffee drinker since childhood, and did not like to think that the beverage was doing me all this harm. But it was, and the time came when I had to face the fact, and protest myself. I therefore gave it up abruptly and absolutely, and adopted Postum Food Coffee for my hot drink at meals.

"I began to note improvement in my condition very soon after I took on Postum. This change proceeded gradually, but surely, and it was a matter of only a few weeks before I found myself entirely relieved — the nervousness passed away, my digestive apparatus was restored to normal efficiency, and I began to sleep restfully and peacefully.

"These happy conditions have continued during all of the 5 years, and I am safe in saying that I owe them entirely to Postum Food Coffee, for when I began to drink it, I ceased to use medicines." Names given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

DIAMONDS AND DIAMOND MINING

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is ever increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining enterprises of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 42 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums for machinery and mining appurtenances. From careful tests made during these six months we have demonstrated that we have a larger diamond field than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantages of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

We are conducting a legitimate business enterprise upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 10 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $120,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and is all that we will offer for sale.

We shall be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our offices, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

A Light Sentence For Cattle Starver

Bernard Navin Fined $25 With $10.50 Costs For Starving Six of His Cattle to Death.

Yesterday afternoon a number of magistrate thought as the ill-feeling spectators gathered in the county between Giles and Navin dated council chamber to hear County Magistrate Edmison deliver judgment in the now notorious case of Bernard Navin, of North Monaghan, charged with cruelty to animals.

It will be remembered that some two weeks ago, some of Navin's neighbors, Navin living just outside the city limits, noticed a smell of decaying animal's substance coming from Navin's barns. Several small boys, one of them by name Giles, who resides near Navin, with the curiosity that is part of boyish nature forced their way into Navin's barn and discovered several dead cattle.

On making a report of the find, an elder brother of Giles went to the place and discovered six dead cattle, some on a barn and some in the cow byre dead and decaying. Their general condition and surroundings proved conclusively that the cattle had been simply starved to death. Mr. Giles reported the matter to the proper authorities, and Mr. Geo. Cochrane, high county constable, at once went to Navin's place and made a thorough examination of the premises and existing conditions. Being convinced that the poor brutes had been absolutely starved to death with plenty of fodder in Navin's barns, he laid an information. The case was tried a few days after, Mr. Wood, county crown attorney, appearing for the prosecution, and Mr. O. O'Connell for the defendant. The consensus of evidence clearly showed that Navin had several tons of hay, oats, roots and other food on his premises, but for reasons of his own had simply allowed the tortured animals to die of slow starvation. The barn containing the dead cattle had no food they could get at, in fact not a blade of hay or straw was left for feeding. The cattle still alive were badly reduced for lack of proper nourishment. For the defence Navin claimed the cattle had died of disease.

County Magistrate Edmison yesterday afternoon had a carefully written report of his evidence which condemned to the fewest possible words, said that there was no sign of food or even bedding. He next went on to say that the cattle had been removed or partly buried. Parts of each were eaten by hogs. The bones of one, at least, were worn through the skin, by the poor brute trying to rise up to get food.

He had been asked by the defendant to remember that he, the defendant, had been the only loser by the cattle's death, hence the improbability of his having willingly starved the animals. However the while evidence had shown that they had.

Judge Edmison then noted several cases of a similar character tried in England where defendants had been found guilty. Even the owner of an old horse, incapacitated for work, and turned out on the highway by him and hiking to kill it, was found guilty of cruelty.

Defendant asked also that George Giles's evidence be not taken as there was ill will between them. However evidence shows that Giles tried to make up friends as he had no ill-will against the defendant. The magistrate further said, "Taking into consideration the fact that no person suffers loss but the defendant himself, by the death of these cattle, I do not feel justified, as asked by the prosecution in imposing the maximum penalty of imprisonment as well as a fine. I think the law would be vindicated by imposing half the maximum fine."

The magistrate said that under the circumstances the county should not pay the costs of the prosecution, which he had estimated at $10.50, so that Navin had to pay a fine of $25 with $10.50 costs.

Navin then pulled out a roll of bills containing sixteen five dollar bills, and peeling off seven of them, with 50c additional from his purse, paid the price for starving his cattle to death.

A BIG STRIKE

Western Union Oil Company Has a Bonanza.

(Special to The Times.)

Los Angeles, Calif., April 9.—Big strike in rich Santa Maria oil field controlled by Western Union Oil Company. New gusher yielding two thousand barrels a day of high gravity oil—a valuable addition to their already valuable property.

The above will be good news to those who are already interested or propose to invest in the Western Union of which the well known and reputable brokerage firm of Joseph Ball & Company, of Los Angeles, California, are the fiscal agents. Their advertisement elsewhere in today's issue tells its own story. We would advise investors to get in quickly, as this stock is sure to advance rapidly.

A SUCCESSFUL CO.

Royal Victoria Life Co. Has Had Most Prosperous Year.

It is of interest to learn that, in spite of the great excitement created recently and which caused a Royal Commission to be appointed to investigate the modus operandi of Canadian insurance companies, that the Royal Victoria Life Insurance Co. has not only had a most successful year, but that not one iota of suspicion or untrendo has ever been offered against their management or standing.

At the annual meeting of this company, held on March 28th, the directors presented a financial statement for the past year, which was of a most encouraging character both to shareholders and policy owners.

Although the Royal Victoria is one of the youngest Canadian companies, the policyholders are as secure as though the company were much larger, as mere bulk is no criterion of strength in a life insurance company. Indeed some records recently show that enormous figures may be used to conceal most undesirable conditions and that large funds are a temptation to indulge in highly irregular practices.

It goes without saying that the acquisition of business by a young company must be concomitant with comparatively larger expenses than that of the old established concerns. The Royal Victoria accepted new business last year to the extent of $1,121,775 for which policies were issued, the increase over previous year being 67 per cent., with a decrease of five per cent. in expense accounts. This indicates a rate of progress which is most satisfactory.

Last year the company had $4,630,610 in insurance policies issued.

The cash income from premiums was $144,055 and from interest $16,253 making a total income of $160,308. Death claims to extent of $42,000 matured during the year.

The investments of the company are all of the "gilt edged" class. The total assets amount to $494,983, with $300,000 of subscribed but unpaid up capital. The surplus security for policyholders in excess of policy reserves is $344,732.

PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY

SPLENDID PROGRAM RENDERED LAST NIGHT.

Histo ical Essays, Music and Debate Please Fair Sized Audience.

Last night despite the inclement weather, many ladies, gentlemen and students of our fine collegiate institute braved the rain, hail, snow and sleet to attend the meeting of the Philomathean society, held in the Y.M.C.A. hall.

These meetings of the local Philomathean society always interesting and greatly instructive, were last night perhaps excelled in excellence of program presented. The local Philomathean society is doing much to make the growing youth of this city take a deep interest in matters of rhetoric and debate, and in qualifying its members to successfully participate in such.

Mr. Bert Miller, presided in a most acceptable manner at last night's meeting and kept both order and parliamentary procedure like a veteran to the manner born.

The program was unusually interesting, there being a most charming medley of music and oratory, with finishing touches of historical knowledge admirably presented.

Eight of the students gave well delivered addresses upon historical subjects each on which displayed rare acquaintance with the author particular subject. These giving the historical address, with their subjects were as follows;

Athens in the Age of Pericles—Miss L. Smithson.

Mary Queen of Scots — Miss E. Kells.

Pioneer Days in Canada—Miss G. Kennedy.

Warren Hastings—Miss M. Lees.

The Future of Canada—Miss R. Carlisle.

Hannibal the Dread—Mr. H. Brady.

Napoleon at St. Helena — Mr. F. Brown.

The Plains of Abraham.—Mr. S. Fife.

This meeting was rendered more than usually interesting by the fact that the society had decided to award prizes for the best ten-minute speeches.

The judges were Judge Weller, D. Walker and D. O'Connell.

The decisions of the judges awarded prizes as follows;

The ladies' prizes were awarded to Miss Ruth Carlisle and Miss Laura Smithson, and the gentleman's prize to Mr. Stanley Fife. Mr. D. O'Connell the local barrister, gave the prizes to the ladies, and Mr. Burnett of the C.G.E. Co., to the gentleman.

It is safe to be supposed that the program committee only a few of reason. There was also a most excellent musical part, viz., a violin trio, well rendered by the Misses K. Wallis, M. Burrit, and L. Sanderson; a vocal solo given with great taste and in good voice by Miss Nellie Halliban; a vocal solo by H. Sawers that was well received; a duet by the Misses G. Crane and M. Robertson that would have done credit to most advanced exponents of the art, and a recitation cleverly given by Miss N. Duncombe.

Confesses to Police.

St. John, N.B., April 8. — Edward Mulcahey, an Englishman, about 20 years of age, entered the Central Station yesterday and astonished the police by stating he had killed a man last August in the City of Warren, Pennsylvania, and had run away. The horror of the thing, he says, worried him so much he could not stand it no longer, and got whisked to confess the crime he had committed.

Mulcahey says that four years ago, he had charge of a ward in a state insane asylum in Warren, Pa. One day in August last he was attending a patient named Davidson, who angered him. Having a violent temper, he struck the man over the head with an instrument and killed him. He then got away to Canada.

He now wants to make his peace with God and let the law take its course.

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE

Hyomei a Scientific Treatment for Catarrh by Breathing Medicated Air.

Ever since Hyomei has been known, its formula has been given to physicians, druggists, and, in fact, to all intelligent people who could appreciate the true merit of the combination of healing gums, oils and balsams, of which it is composed.

Many leading physicians endorse Hyomei and prescribe it for catarrhal troubles. In fact, quite a few of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia. They regard it as a natural, yet scientific way of curing catarrh.

Breathed through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, Hyomei destroys all catarrhal germs in the air passages of the throat and nose, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised as catarrhal cures. It is as superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a neat pocket inhaler, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei costs but $1, and extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents, making it the most economical method of curing catarrh, as well as the most reliable.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N.Y.

"AS ITHERS SEE US"

Canadian Manufacturer Notes Industrial Progress of This City.

A dinner was tendered on Monday night last at the Windsor hotel, Montreal, by the office and warehouse staff of the Canadian General Electric Co., Limited, to Mr. W. F. Dean, district manager, and Mr. F. J. Bell, assistant general manager, on the occasion of their severing of their connection with the company.

The Brantin Carpet Co., Kidderminster, Eng., will erect a branch factory at Peterboro, Ont.

The Peterboro Sandstone Brick Co. will erect two large buildings at that place.

The Peterboro Shovel & Tool Co., Peterboro, Ont., have increased their capital from $50,000 to $100,000.

City Hall Notes.

A meeting of the Fire, Water & Light Committee will be held on Thursday night for the purpose of opening tenders for the new fire hall. Several tenders have been received, and the time has now expired for receiving these tenders.

There was no committee meeting of the Board of Works last night, on account of a number of other meetings. The committee will meet, however, in a day or two.

ESTATE MAN COULDA'T BIND HIM

His Authority to Act Not in Writing So the Bargain Could Not Be Enforced.

Ottawa, April 10.—The case of Gilmour versus Simon was argued in the Supreme Court yesterday. The appellant sued for specific performance of an agreement by respondent to sell land. The alleged agreement was made through a real estate broker, who testified at the trial that respondent had authorized him to sell for a price per acre and on specified terms, the applicant agreed to the terms and gave a deposit on account whereupon respondent varied the terms by demanding a lump sum in place of a sum per acre, which was agreed to. The respondent's evidence contradicted that of the broker's, and showed no complete agreement. The trial judge ordered a decree for performance, stating that he believed the broker, and attached no credit to the testimony of respondent.

The full court reversed his judgment, holding that the broker, whose authority to act was not in writing, could not make a contract binding on respondent, and that the agreement was never ratified by the latter.

Nesbitt, K.C., and Courtlee, K.C., appeared for appellant. Aylesworth, K.C., and Affleck for respondent.

A Warning to Husbands.

Atlanta, Ga., April 10.—Andrew Carnegie repaid Mrs. J. T. Eichberg, and another Atlanta lady for their compliments upon a speech he made on the south and southern women by kissing them squarely on their mouths.

"You are such a fine looking lady said Mr. Carnegie, with enthusiasm, "that I am going to kiss you for all the rest here."

Before Mrs. Eichberg knew what was happening he kissed her fair and square. Then Mrs. Eichberg's friend was kissed, while a distinct flutter was noticed among the younger beauties. Mr. Andrew Carnegie is coming to Toronto on April 27th to address the Canadian Club. His topic will be "First Words in Canada."

TO AID THE JAPS

George Street Methodist Church Collects $100.

A special collection for the starving Japanese, was taken up in the George street Methodist church on Sunday. Over $100 was handed in and there are several donations yet to be received. Grace Sunday school contributed $14, and the remainder was handed in as the George street school. Those who desire to contribute and have not yet done so should hand in their donations at once to the pastor, Sunday school superintendent, or secretary, as the amount collected will be forwarded on Wednesday. Rev. Dr. Crothers inaugurated this work in Peterboro. Several persons belonging to other churches, asked Dr. Crothers to accept their donations. He requested them, however, to hand their donations to their own clergymen. Collections will likely be taken in several other city churches to aid this movement.

HOLY WEEK

Services at St. Peter's Cathedral During Holy Week.

The services in St. Peter's Cathedral for Easter week will be as follows;—Tuesday and Wednesday masses at seven and eight o'clock a.m.

On Holy Thursday the ceremony of blessing the oils to be used in the services of the church during the year will take place at eight o'clock, to be followed by a mass at the conclusion of which the Blessed Sacrament will be conveyed to the repository in the sacristy.

On Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock services will be in the sacristy.

On Good Friday morning at nine o'clock the mass of the pre-sanctified will be celebrated. At three o'clock in the afternoon the Stations of the Cross will be erected, and at 7.30 o'clock in the evening there will be the recital of the Stations of the Cross, followed by a sermon.

On Easter Saturday morning the ceremony of the blessing of the Paschal Candle, the baptismal and Easter waters will be performed, to be followed by a mass at 8.30 o'clock.

Board of Education Holds a Meeting

Plans of New School Ready But Owing to Incompletion of Specifications Meeting Adjourns.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was held last night, there being present the chair; Hill, Pringle, Burnham, Crane, Dumble, Ackerman and Fair.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

The following communications, reports and accounts was then presented by the secretary.

A circular from the Provincial Association of School Trustees of Ontario, relative to the 19th annual convention, and giving the program of the 20th convention to be held April 17th in Toronto University, then was read. The objects of this association was to promote the perfecting of Ontario school laws and regulations and to facilitate the interchange of ideas and experience between school boards. The program for the three days, April 17th, 18th and 19th, were given in detail. As far as railroad tickets are concerned, if 300 attend the convention the return fare is single price and if less, one and one-third fares. The local Board was requested to send a deputation.

Dr. Burnham moved that the chairman and Messrs. Dumble, Hill and Pringle be a deputation to the convention.—Carried.

Mr. J. A. Fife's formal resignation was read.—Received.

A telegram dated March 2nd, from Mr. R. R. Merritt, from Goderich, was read, accepting the position vacated by Mr. Fife's resignation, the latter leaving for Edmonton. —Received.

Mr. Geo. C. Robb, chief engineer's report of examination of the Central school's boiler was read and accepted.

A communication from Miss Emma J. Aldridge, regretting that owing to her sister's illness, she found it impossible to retain her class in the South Central school. She asked for leave of absence until July 1st prox. —Granted.

The application of Miss Ella Nelson for appointment as teacher in either public or collegiate institute was read.

Her application, which was based upon six years services in high and four in public school was accompanied by several good recommendations. —Referred to Committee of Appointments.

MONEY RECEIVED.

|---|---|
| City treasurer | $3,500.00 |
| Text book fees | 249.20 |
| C. Fessenden, fees | 86.00 |
| Total | $3,825.20 |

SUPPLY TEACHERS.

An account for payment of supply teachers was read.

|---|---|
| Miss Nelson, 11-2 days | $2.25 |
| Clara Martin, 7 1-2 days | 11.25 |
| Ellen C. Fowlds 51-2 days | 8.25 |
| Total | $21.75 |

These accounts were confirmed by Mr. Walker, inspector.

A slight discussion arose over the question of paying several teachers reported absent several days by the inspector. It was decided to abide by the rule set and only allow full pay for absence when through illness duly certificated.

Mr. Hill, chairman of the Committee of Appointments, read a report recommending the appointment of Mr. R. M. Merrill of Goderich, as successor to Mr. Fife as mathematical master in the collegiate institute, at the same salary as Mr. Fife, Half as teacher in the South Central school.—Carried

Mr. Crane brought up the matter of the school sewers connecting the North Ward school. Mr. Hill moved that the matter be referred to the Property Committee to report to the Board.

Mr. Ackerman, chairman of the Finance Committee, recommended payment of the following accounts.

|---|---|
| Sternberger Co. | $21.67 |
| A. H. Stratton & Co. | 17.90 |
| Hicks & Co. | 13.00 |
| Review Co. | 1.00 |
| P. L. & P. Co. | 5.00 |
| Adamson & Dobbin | 11.00 |
| Ormond & Walsh | 70.75 |
| Water rate | .50 |
| P. Hardware Co | 10.05 |
| Miss Martin | 1.75 |

The committee also recommended the payment of $15 to the treasurer for petty cash.—Carried.

The chairman of the Finance Committee reported the following accounts to be paid;

|---|---|
| Adam Hall | $ 2.35 |
| Kinyan Co. | 3.15 |
| G.N.W. Tel. Co. | .59 |
| R. M. Roy | 22.00 |
| Globe Pig. Co. | 1.72 |
| P. Fuel & Cartage Co. | 4,867.00 |
| D. F. McAvnish & Co. | 10.00 |
| Examiner Co. | 25.50 |
| Times Pig. Co. | .50 |
| J. D. Craig | 33.50 |
| Mail & Empire | 1.60 |
| Adam Hall | 12.92 |
| Times Pig. Co. | 28.17 |
| R. Gibbs | 4.00 |
| P. L. & P. Co. | 11.12 |
| P. L. & P. Co. | 5.00 |

Mr. Hill presented a very complimentary testimonial he had framed, to give to Mr. Fife, the retiring mathematical teacher of the collegiate institute. The testimonial referred in very gratifying words to the nineteen years faithful services rendered by Mr. Fife. This testimonial was signed by the chairman and secretary of the Board, and ordered to be forwarded to Mr. Fife.

Mr. Hill moved that the matter of the recently burned gymnasium be referred to the Supervision Committee. He noted that unless something be done the city might lose the Government grant.

Mr. Pringle produced the plans of the public school, saying Mr. Blackwell had not been able to prepare the specifications but would have them ready on Saturday.

Mr. Dumble suggested that in so large a matter it would be better to make haste slowly. It should be thoughtfully looked into, and Mr. Blackwell given lots of time to have the plans perfect. Many a good building is spoiled by too much haste.

Mr. Pringle said if they are to have the school by 1st Sept. they must hurry. Mr. Dumble said it is absolutely impossible between 1st May and 1st of September to have so large a building perfectly finished.

Mr. Hill agreed with Mr. Dumble's contention.

Just prior to adjournment Mr. Crane recommended payment of $17.85 to Mr. Blackwell, architect, for amounts expended for the Board.—Carried.

Mr. Pringle then moved that the Board adjourn to meet at call of the chairman.

On Easter Sunday the masses will be at the usual hours, 8 o'clock, 9.15 and 10.30—the last mass being a pontifical high mass, at which his Lordship will officiate and will pronounce the Papal benediction.

Grand Vespers will be sung at 7 o'clock in the evening. The choir has prepared special music for all the Easter masses and vespers.

It is expected that there will be a number of visiting clergy here during the week to assist in the Easter services.

DECAYED STARCH

A Food Problem.

An Asheville man tells how right food did that which medicines had failed to accomplish:

"For more than 15 years," he says, "I was afflicted with stomach trouble and intestinal indigestion, gas forming in stomach and bowels and giving me great distress. These conditions were undoubtedly due to the starchy food I ate, white bread, potatoes, etc., and didn't digest. I grew worse with time, till, 2 years ago, I had an attack which the doctors diagnosed as appendicitis. When the surgeon operated on me, however, it was found that my trouble was ulcer of the pancreas, instead of appendicitis.

"Since that time I have had several such attacks, suffering death, almost. The last attack was about 2 months ago, and I endured untold agonies.

"The doctor then said that I would have to eat less starchy stuff, so I began the use of Grape-Nuts food for I knew it to be predigested, and have continued same with most gratifying results. It has built me up wonderfully. I gained 10 pounds in the first 3 weeks that I used Grape-Nuts, my general health is better than ever before, my brain is clearer and my nerves stronger.

"For breakfast and dinner, each, I take 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with cream, a small slice of dry toast, an egg soft boiled and a cup of Postum; and I make the evening meal on Grape-Nuts and cream alone — this gives me a good night's rest and I am well again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Endorsed By One of New York's Best Posted Authorities.

The Cobourg Post says;

One of the best endorsements the Trent Valley canal has ever received is embodied in a letter, which was recently written to Mr. J. A. Ontverwell, of Port Hope, advocate of the Trent Valley Canal's completion by Mr. Henry B. Herbert, member of the State Commission on Canals, and chairman of the Erie Canal Association of Greater New York, which represent practically all the public manufacturing and financial under in New York State.

Dear Sir, —I read with great interest your paper relative to the Trent Valley canal. I really do not understand why your people do not push this improvement. $5,000,000 is no great sum for the Dominion Government to raise for this purpose, "especially as you stated it would open 1,000 miles of inland shore line. We had a great fight to get through the Erie canal enlargements, but we won out after many defeats and discouragements caused by differences of our legislators and railroad influences."

Yours respectfully,

HENRY B. HERBERT.

MR. ROBT. WOOD'S DEATH

Highly Respected Resident of Otonabee Passes Away.

Mr. Robt. Wood, only son of Mr. John Wood, of Otonabee, passed away last Saturday night after a prolonged illness. Deceased was unmarried and lived with his father, who with three sisters survive him. He was a prominent member of the Presbyterian church and held the office of elder for many years. The deceased was a Liberal in politics and was about forty-five years of age.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence to Knox cemetery.

Damp Spring Weather Ruinous to Health

Causes Weakness, Headaches and Feeling of Unrest; the Cure is Simple.

That peculiar weakness so common in the spring, is demoralizing to body and mind alike.

Stupid, absent-minded and dull,—You feel the need of a stimulating tonic.

To impart quickness and great vitality to the entire system nothing acts like Ferrozone.

In a short time it makes you feel fit and fine, creates a feeling of youth and strength that's surprising.

Ferrozone revives and braces the sickly because it nourishes and builds up the organs that are weak. As a spring tonic, appetizer and blood-strengthener it is unequaled.

A well known resident of Utopia, Ont., Mr. H. H. Postle, writes: "From long experience I am convinced that everyone requires medicine in the spring. As a rule the blood is thin and impure and the whole system is congested with poisons that should be carried off. I use Ferrozone because it clears up the system, gives you an appetite and makes you sleep well. One winter I had serious palpitation of the heart, nervous headaches, and an extreme tired feeling. Sleep was not restful and by spring I was in bad shape. I took six boxes of Ferrozone and was made the picture of health."

Ferrozone makes permanent cures. Absolutely safe because it is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol. Concentrated cure in tablet form,—that's Ferrozone, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

A WEAK ATTACK

Some of the more sensational journals of Canada are taking exception to Mr. J. W. Langmuir's presence on the Insurance Investigation committee, simply and only because he is managing director of the Toronto General Trusts Company, which acts as trustee for a deposit of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurace Company.

Subsection 2 of section 16 of the Insurance Act reads: "* * * the assets in Canada as aforesaid shall be taken to consist of all deposits which the company has made with the Minister under the foregoing provisions of this Act, and of such assets as have been vested in trusts for the company for the purposes of this Act in two or more persons resident in Canada, appointed by the company and approved by the Minister."

This matter, sifted out, simply amounts to this, that companies incorporated in foreign countries are allowed by statute to deposit funds, either with the Minister of Finance or with trustees appointed by the Minister.

These funds, thus deposited for safe keeping, are beyond control of the trustees further than that such trustees see that the foreign incorporated companies see that the funds are kept up to the sum required by law.

The Mutual Reserve, as allowed by law, selected a trust company as depositary for its funds, naming as its trustees Messrs. John Hoskin, K.C., and Mr. Langmuir. These gentlemens' names were mentioned, as the act demands for trustees individuals, not companies. Their names were approved by the Minister of Finance, who himself is trustee for enormous sums deposited by insurance companies.

By analogy, if Mr. Langmuir is unfitted by the afore-mentioned argument as a member of the Commission, the Minister of Finance is unfitted to have supervision of Canadian life insurance. This latter contention is not, we think, liable to be made.

Mr. Langmuir's position socially and his integrity financially are too well known and assured for thinking men to demand that his actions on the Insurance Commission could or would be biased by the fact that certain funds are deposited by an American company with a large corporation of which he is a director.

MUNICIPAL POWER FIGURES

The report of the Ontario Municipal Power Commission, which has just been completed, gives in detail the result of the examination of the project by electrical and hydraulic engineers, contractors and accountants. The construction of a power plant and a transmission line by the Government, it is understood, is urged, and the following careful estimates are given of the cost of the work:—

Cost of development, transmission and distribution of 25,000 horse-power, $4,454,000.

Cost of same for 50,000 horse-power, $6,254,000.

Cost of same for 100,000 horse-power, $11,000,000.

The cost of power for manufacturing purposes, it was found, could be supplied for $17 per horse-power per year. Some estimates placed this fair selling price at $15 per horse-power per year.

It was also found by the commissioners that it would be possible to effect a reduction of at least twenty-five per cent. in house lighting.

The commission also estimated that there would be a saving of $1,650,000 each year to the municipalities interested.

TO CELEBRATE JULY 1st

Campbellford Will Hold Mammoth Celebration on Dominion Day.

The Campbellford Herald says:

The Town Council and the Council of the Board of Trade are making arrangements for a mammoth celebration in Campbellford on Dominion Day. The celebration will mark a progressive step in the history of the place, viz., its incorporation as a town. Every effort will be made to make this one of the most successful events ever held in this locality. The program will be arranged as soon as possible.

PORT HOPE'S STRIKE.

No Nearer to Settlement Apparently —Some Incidents.

Port Hope, April 6.—Yesterday was the fourth day of the Port Hope Brewing and Malting Company's strike, and the parties have come no nearer to terms. There is still much excitement over the matter. Not one of the strikers has returned to work, and they say they will not unless every man is taken back. The only men taken on in their places are five English from Toronto, who are great at the work, and very little has been done since the last brew on Tuesday.

When the engineer went out, one of the men of the bottling works was asked, it is claimed, by the manager to run the engine, but refused, stating, he knew nothing about it, and would only be endangering many lives as well as his own if he did so. Upon his refusing, he was fired. Another employe of the same department was approached, but he, too, refused. Upon this dismissal, the rest of the employes walked out an hour and a half later.

The malting department did not go on strike, as they only have two or three more weeks to work, when the malting season is over. They are, however, in sympathy with the strikers. An engineer arrived on Thursday, and, finding out there was a strike, refused to start work, and returned to Toronto again.

WINNIPEG STRIKE ENDS

Winnipeg, April 6.—The street railway strike is settled, and the cars were all started with the former employes in charge at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Sperling and Principal Patrick made the announcement after an hour's session with the men at Friendship Hall.

As the two mediators left the hall they were loudly cheered by the men.

They went immediately to the Street Railway Company's offices to communicate the decision that the men had accepted the terms offered.

The wages are advanced one cent an hour all round. While there is to be no discrimination against union men. The arbitration clause, though is left out.

There was a general feeling of relief over the termination of the strike, and no cars went by at four o'clock they were heartily cheered by thousands on the street.

EYE SIGHT SPECIALISTS

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 260 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 17th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

Am Looking for Large Investors

to Buy Stock in

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 500 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 80 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil land, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $200,000, $100,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $200 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great ... mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper ... with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

WYOMING COPPER

¶ Would you be open for an investment which will yield, with reasonable assurance, from 50% to 100% each year? We consider the AMALGAMATED MINING AND EXTRACTION Co., a safe, sound, high-class legitimate enterprize, and the stock at the present ground floor price of 10 Cents per Share, is without doubt a bargain which should certainly be taken advantage of by all conservative investors. We don't see how failure is possible; we have a great property which we can recommend without a shadow of a doubt. We have paying ore at grass roots. We need not go into details here as to our holdings. They are fully described in our prospectus which you may have for the asking. As this stock will rapidly increase in value we should suggest that you send in your order at once, while you have the chance to purchase at this low price of 10 Cents per share, as it will advance on the first of July. Forward your order today and own an interest in a winner.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

fact that I dislike him should make me speak well of him. Do not blame me for abhorring him," she pleaded. "How could anyone help despising and disliking a man who has not since marriage shown me the ordinary civility that a gentleman never fails to show to a lady? He has cruelly victimized. There is but one course open to me—to go away."

"There are two ways before you, Reine," said Cheleigh, pityingly. "That of flying from your fate—or making the best of it; running away from your trouble would be a commonplace ending. I see how you may make yourself a heroine, Reine, and unless I am greatly mistaken in the estimate of your character, you will do it."

He took her little, trembling hands in his own brave, strong ones, pleading with her gently and tenderly to go back again to the home from which she had just fled, to try just a little while longer to live in peace and unison with the husband she had wedded.

He pictured to her in glowing words how heroic such a line of action would be. She had a great mission to perform, reclaiming Waldemar Waldron from the slough of dissipation into which he had drifted, instead of fleeing from him and leaving him to his fate.

Reine looked at Bernard in sheer wonder.

He met the glance calmly.

"Let my entreaties win you from the path you have marked out for you, Reine," he said. "It is a delicate matter at any time to interfere between man and wife. It is only because I take so true an interest in you that I dare speak at all."

"Ah, Reine, you have your fate in your own hands. Go back to your husband and plead with him to cover the past with you. Tell him that you, on your part, will do all you can, that you are willing to make any effort to bring about a pleasanter state of things."

"It would be quite useless, Bernard," she said, hopelessly. "Snow and sun, water and fire, will agree together better than he and I ever can."

"Promise me that you will try it, Reine," he urged. "It is worth the effort; it is, indeed. And if it fails, you will at least have done your best."

"He will only say something very unkind, perhaps insulting to me, Bernard," she exclaimed, bitterly.

"Then you must summon all your patience to your aid, Reine," he said, gently. "You may have many sore humiliations, many hours of pitiful annoyance, many a contest with your own pride, but you will win in the end."

She clasped her hands, and looked at him with piteous entreaty.

"You forget, Bernard, that my husband does not love me," she said. "He would only sneer and laugh at me. Kindness would be thrown away upon him."

"You can but try," urged her companion, gently.

He saw that she was listening to him with a thoughtful face, and his natural eloquence rose to the occasion. He pleaded with her, used his strongest arguments, and in the end he succeeded in winning the promise from her that she would try again—the life she had been so eager to cast off.

"We shall meet often in society, Reine," he said, "and I shall watch eagerly for the signs and tokens that shall tell me you and your husband are once more happy."

A faint smile parted her lips. She caught his hand and kissed it.

The caressing touch of those innocent, velvet lips made the blood leap like wine through his veins. But not a muscle of his face betrayed his agitation.

For the second time that night he called a cab, and placing Reine in it, saw her safely to her home; leaving her with an earnest, cheery "good night."

Bernard Cheleigh was a strong man, strong in his noble principles of honor, strong in his own integrity; but as he rode homeward to his hotel alone that night, hot tears forced themselves to his eyes.

His life was ruined, wrecked, and a sigh broke from his bearded lips as a thought of "what might have been in the dim future" occurred to him—if he had allowed Reine to follow her own course.

He had been a noble foe to Waldemar Waldron. Not one man in ten thousand could have so heroically resisted the temptation to encourage her to follow the bent of her own will, which would have torn down the barrier between them.

She would not know it now. But in the long years to come there might come a day when she would realize how true and steadfast the love had proven which she had once flung so lightly away.

He could never forget her; for that love which was buried deep in his soul was a part of his life.

If she should ever need the help of a strong arm, his should be at her disposal. He would have given every drop of blood in his heart to have served her. He would watch over her from afar. He would give his very life for her, if need be. His was a noble, exalted love, which would always prove true.

How many men in his place, loving her as he did, could have beat back from his lips the reckless, passionate whisper: "Come with me, dear; fly from him you hate, to the arms of love, the world would be well lost for both of us—for love's sake."

CHAPTER XXI.

Softly as a shadow Reine crept back to the lonely boudoir she had so lately quitted. No one had missed her, although she had been gone an hour or more.

It was drawing close on to mid-night when Reine ... her husband ... in at any moment. He must not find her with her wraps on.

She laid them wearily aside, praying to Heaven that she would have strength to follow closely the program Bernard had laid out for her.

Poor Bernard! What a true, noble friend he had proven himself! How his handsome face had glowed with enthusiasm as he had pleaded with her to turn back! How strange it was that she had not noticed this grandeur of soul, this nobility of spirit, before! This man had stooped from his high pedestal to love her, and she had tossed that love from her as carelessly as a child tosses away a broken toy!

Now, when it was too late, she realized what she had lost. Ah, yes! the past was all over between them. There was no time for regrets or tears now over "what might have been."

Reine had not thrown off her wrappings a moment too soon, for a heavy step sounded on the stairs, and the next moment Waldemar Waldron entered the room.

It was a great trial to keep back the bitter words that sprang to her lips, or veil the scorn that flashed into her eyes, but by a great effort Reine did it.

She looked up at him, and was surprised to find that the effects of the wine which he had indulged in at the ball had well nigh worn away. How could she speak kindly to him

PALMER MOUNTAIN MINES

EXAMINED BY A NOTED EXPERT

His first examination was made when the tunnel had been driven into the mountain 1,200 feet. He made a great number of assays, and thus sums up his findings:

"SUMMARY OF FOREGOING ASSAYS"

"An assay of all the samples of surface ores carefully mixed and reduced to an assay sample shows Gold $16.02 (per ton).

"An average of assays taken in the tunnel as can be verified by above reports shows Gold $27.97 (per ton)."

Many of the assays showed values as high as $500 per ton. By selection of samples phenomenal values can be shown, but Mr. Browne is a business man as well as an engineer and is not misleading us with specially selected samples. His conclusions are based upon average values.

A SECOND REPORT

was made when the tunnel had been driven to its present length,—upwards of 4,000 feet. The numerous assays which were made at this time revealed high values in Gold. The crowning work of the engineer was attained when he collected samples gathered at random from all the surface workings and those found on the tunnel levels. The whole mass collected weighed 94 tons. From this lot (94 tons) there was obtained $716.44—which is equal to $20.80 per ton. This we regard as a test which establishes the value of our ores.

WATER POWER

The report lays great stress on the value of our Water Power. We have great satisfaction in saying that this important adjunct is now completed. The Company is ... lighting the Town of Loomis.

100 STAMP MILL

Attention and effort are now being devoted to the last requisite, namely, a mill for the treatment of the ores. The Company plans to let the contract for this mill immediately. With ores running one-half the assay values as shown by extensive tests, its earning capacity will be 1% per cent. on the par value of stock which will equal 20 per cent. to stockholders who purchase while the price is 50 cents per share.

Peterboro' Brokerage Company

Sole Representative in Canada
Drawer 1005, PETERBORO.

NOTE.—The foregoing offer of stock at 50 cents per share is good till April 15th. After that date the price will be 60 cents per share. Prompt action is therefore necessary to secure the benefit of the present price.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Diseases of Women
OFTEN DUE TO
Deranged Kidneys

When the Kidneys Are Weak It is Impossible for Any Women to be Happy or Healthy

If the girls and women who are silently suffering with what they suppose is "female trouble," would look to their kidneys they would soon find the source of their ill-health.

The kidneys are very closely allied with the female organs and if the vitality of the kidneys is in any way impaired, great suffering is sure to occur.

No better medicine is known for the kidneys than Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Buttermilk; they stimulate and strengthen the kidneys and thereby assist the other organs to do nature's work. Instant benefit and certain cure are guaranteed in every case.

Sufferer, don't wait, begin treatment with Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once; they will cure you as they did Mrs. A. B. Coburn, a well-known resident of this town of Portland. Read her experience:

"For two years past I have been sickly and weak. My color was dull and sallow, and I felt exhausted and weary, as if all my strength were being eaten up with some hidden trouble. I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to use them. The change in a few days was surprising. They regulated my kidneys and bowels and cured all my suffering; to-day I am perfectly well."

Every woman can take Dr. Hamilton's Pills with safety and benefit. Their occasional use keeps the system in healthy, well regulated order. No medicine more gentle or more prompt in results. Now is the time to get Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A. and Kingston, Ont.

—Service will be held in the Charlotte street church on Good Friday at 11 o'clock a.m.

—Services will be held in George street church at eleven o'clock Good Friday morning.

—See Times Bookstore window display for bargains.

—Robert Vance has been appointed a license commissioner for East Durham, in place of Thomas McManus, resigned.

—The public and separate schools will close for the Easter holidays on Thursday and will not reopen until Monday, April 23rd.

—Mr. Rolls photo of Kennedy's meat market taken Saturday evening, has turned out, as usual, very clear, each person of the crowd present being distinctly visible.

—Cowards and criminals the poisoners are still at their nefarious work. The police should keep a sharp eye on such gentry and give them the limit of the law when caught.

—A meeting of the court of revision was held in the council chamber yesterday evening, when appeals against the special assessment made for sidewalks built as local improvements, were heard.

—A sample picture of the deputation of the Trent Valley Canal at Ottawa on Thursday, has been received, and is now on exhibition at Times Bookstore. Orders left here will have prompt attention. Order early.

—Yesterday seven splendid head of young cattle arrived on the market. Of these three weighing 3970 lbs. were for Mr. J. J. Howden, and four weighing 6770 for Mr. J. Mervin. These cattle came from the township of Smith.

—The deputation from the City Council that goes today to Toronto, in the interests of Peterboro's private bill, will interview the Armour estate representatives regarding right of way from Hunter street to the lift lock.

—Will the engineers who superintended the Government building at Ottawa, which recently fell down, and which building will have to be torn down at a loss to the country of $75,000, be asked to resign, as were the T.V.C. engineers who were not proven responsible for some $2,000 loss on the canal by breakage?

The Port Hope Brewery Strike.

The Port Hope Guide says; Saturday was pay day at the brewery and the strikers paid a visit to the office to receive their wages. Before leaving they handed out some pretty loud talk and the manager, Mr. Horsman, and Mr. R. W. Smart came in for quite a shaking up at the hands of a couple of the strikers. Several of the directors of the brewery are in town today investigating the matter and it is likely they will hold a meeting at once. Mr. Horsman went up to Toronto this afternoon and it is understood that he will, if possible, engage a fireman and an assistant brewer.

Mr. Oscar Dumble, of the Tweed branch, will be transferred to the Peterboro branch.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic, Favorite Prescription imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

THE ROYAL-VICTORIA LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Report of the Board of Directors and Financial Statement presented to the annual meeting, March 28th, 1906, and unanimously adopted.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

Your Directors beg to submit their report of the Company's business for the year ending December 31st, 1905, together with the Financial Statement and the Auditors' Report.

NEW BUSINESS.—The new business for the year was represented by applications $1,254,325 of insurance, being an increase of 16 per cent. over the previous year, of which amount $1,121,775 was accepted and policies issued thereon, being an increase of 17 per cent. over the previous year.

BUSINESS IN FORCE.—The Insurance outstanding on the books of the Company at the end of the year amounted to $4,630,610, yielding an average annual premium of $32.60 per $1,000 insurance.

PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS.—Claims by death under policies on 24 lives matured for $41,000 during the year. The claims paid amounted to $38,050, which included $4,000 outstanding at the end of the previous year. The claims outstanding in the course of settlement at the end of the year amounted to $7,500 and are included under liabilities in the financial statement.

The total payments to policyholders, including claims by death, annuities and surrender values, amounted to $47,128, being an increase of $4,723.63, or 11 per cent. over similar payments made in the previous year.

CASH INCOME.—The Cash Income of the Company from premiums and interest during the year, reached $160,308.65, showing an increase of over $10,000 more than in the previous year.

REDUCTION IN EXPENSES.—The expenses of management for the year were 7 per cent. larger than in the previous year, the expense to Income show a further reduction of 5 per cent. over the year 1904.

INVESTMENTS.—The investments of the Company continue to be made with judgment and care, as shown by the fact that not only has the interest on each particular investment been promptly paid on the date due, but the class of securities and their marketable value make the investments in every instance most desirable.

THE BONDS AND DEBENTURES owned by the Company on the 31st of December last and deposited with the Dominion Government, amounted to $267,172.60, market value, details of which are given in the financial statement. The loans on stocks and bonds, amounting to $110,000.00, are secured by a marginal value over and above the amount loaned, of $43,000.00

Under the gradually improving conditions affecting Life Insurance in Canada, the Directors fully anticipate a still further increase in the new business of this Company for the year 1906.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DAVID BURKE, General Manager. JAMES CRATHERN, President.

POLICE NEWS
Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday morning only one small case occupied the attention of his Worship at the police court.

Five small boys running in size from that of a half-fledged robin to the mature bird that leaves for southern climes in the fall, lined up in fear and trembling before the judicial desk and pleaded guilty to the heinous crime of playing ball on the Sabbath, contrary to the laws protecting the sanctity of that day.

His Worship told them that whilst the priests themselves, on Sunday afternoon, at the Toronto and Montreal colleges, were accustomed to make a practice of playing ball with the students, the law of this country was against it, and dismissed them with a warning, remarking that they ought to be in Sunday school instead of on the ball field.

P. C. Stewart explained that it was not the actual ball playing that amounted to so much, but that these boys went to nearby houses and borrowed (?) pails and took ashes away to render the mud-covered field available.

Pension Falls Industry Thinking of Leaving if Not Treated Better.

Pension Falls Star: In conversation on Tuesday, with Mr. J. Shane, local manager of the Standard Chemical Co., we were given to understand that it is the company's intention to leave Pension Falls on the expiration of their present agreement with the town, which occurs about six months hence. Mr. Shane claims that the village has not treated the Chemical Company fairly in the matter of taxes, etc. The Company are now employing 24 hands, all of them married men, with an average pay roll of $1200 a month. Besides this the company buy all their supplies, both for their works here, and for their camps in the north, from local merchants. In one case we were informed by one merchant that the Chemical Company's account with them averaged $60 a month. Mr. Shane gave it as his opinion that they might be induced to remain in Pension Falls if the council would come to some satisfactory arrangement with the company in the matter of taxes, etc.

DIAMONDS AND DIAMOND MINING

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining enterprises of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 42 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums for machinery and mining appurtenances. From careful tests made during these six months we have determined that we have a larger diamond area than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantages of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

We are conducting a legitimate business enterprise upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 10 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $175,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and is all that we will offer for sale.

We shall be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our office, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

Volcanic Disaster Is Like Pompeii's

Two Hundred People Buried Under Tons of Cinders and Ashes When the Roof Collapsed.

Naples, April 11.—A frightful disaster has occurred in the center of this city, following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius. Two hundred people, it is estimated, were buried this morning in the ruins of the Market Monte Oliveto, when the roof collapsed under the weight of cinders from the volcano.

The exact number of people within the building at the moment of the catastrophe is not known. The disaster was appalling. The covered area covers 600 square feet, and was roofed. The space within was unusually crowded with buyers and their children, the accident happening at the hour of the day when trade is most brisk.

END CAME SUDDENLY.

Rival displays of growers, fruits and vegetables contended for buyers, while market women screamed their wares and joked with their customers. Little children played about the stands, adding gaiety to the scene, the like of which is not to be witnessed outside of Naples.

Suddenly, with scarcely a tremor of warning, there was a terrifying crash and the brilliant sight disappeared in a shroud of dust, while shrieks of agony rent the air.

The work of rescue progressed during the morning hours, and before noon seven bodies had been removed, and seventy injured persons extricated from the ruins.

SIXTEEN BODIES RECOVERED.

Up to the present the bodies of sixteen dead persons have been taken from beneath the ruins of the Monte Oliveto Market and 178 injured people are being cared for at the hospitals.

There is still considerable uncertainty regarding the total loss of life consequent upon the eruption of Mount Vesuvius, but the most reliable accounts place the number of fatalities at 700.

According to information received late last night more than 200 perished in the district of San Guiseppe, while from the ruins of a church which collapsed owing to the weight of ashes on the roof, forty-nine corpses were recovered. At San Guiseppe 37 were killed by falling houses.

Naples, April 10.—Naples this morning early had returned to her normal self. The day was brilliant, the sky cloudless, the waters of the Mediterranean were blue and unruffled, in place of the melancholy grey-ness of the last few days, better still, the menacing column of smoke from Vesuvius had almost disappeared. Though the smaller craters still give forth smoke the wind had turned it in another direction and an air of peace and spring time had spread over Naples and its vicinity.

This scene of quiet, however, was turned into mourning later when the news of the collapse of the roof of the Monte Oliveto Mark and the loss of life became known. The people who gathered about the market were seen in a state of great excitement, which increased when the recovery of the bodies commenced.

RELIGIOUS PROCESSIONS.

Just previous to this disaster religious processions had been passing through the streets of the city, the people desiring to render thanks to the Almighty for having apparently averted much greater disasters than those hitherto recorded here. Here and there these processions wended their way with images of the Madonna or Saints, dressed in most gorgeous robes, of cheap blue or yellow satin, borne above seas of dark reds, mostly those of women walking arm in arm and chanting as they moved along the main thoroughfares. Individuals stopping now and then to exchange jokes with passersby. These motley but picturesque processions were headed by numbers of boys walking two and two and carrying lighted candles which flickered faintly in the bright sunshine. Only in a few cases did priests accompany the processions, which in the main seemed to be local and spontaneous affairs organized on the moment in various districts.

The news of this market disaster changed this brilliant scene to one of gloom and the procession quickly discanded.

REMARKABLY RICH ORE TO WORK ON AT THE BEGINNING

Ore taken from the twenty-foot shaft on the SILVER KING No. 1 claim assayed NINE HUNDRED AND THREE OUNCES OF SILVER and $150.00 GOLD PER TON, and it seems scarcely possible, keeping in view the history of the BULLFROG DISTRICT, that this mine will not develop into an EXTRAORDINARY RICH ONE AND GREAT DIVIDEND PAYER with such ore to begin with, and we have good reasons for believing that

Every Dollar Invested in Bullfrog Keystone Will Be Returned Many Times Over,

Probably 100 to 500 per cent. in a few months. This is broad, but indications warrant the statement.

What Governor Molkiejohn Says:

"Gov. Molkiejohn, who owns one of the neighboring properties to the BULLFROG-KEYSTONE, has made further investments in the district, and justifies the same by saying: "The BULLFROG DISTRICT is a wonder; mines will be operated here when others have gone into history."

FALL FAIRS

Will Be Shorn of Many Kinds of Amusements (?)

Lindsay Post says:

The Act respecting Agricultural societies, sponsored by Nelson Monteith, seems to show no respect for them, whatever, remarks the Gallery Clock" in the Toronto Star. This bill calmly proposes that the county fair shall part with all its characteristic gaiety for an average grant of $360 a year. The wheel of fortune may not ply its picturesque trade within three hundred yards of the grounds. The man with the cake of soap and the dollar bill is forbidden the place. The gentleman with three shells and a pea finds his occupation gone. Lotteries and dice games are not allowed to spread their gentle fever of hope and fear. Side shows will have to pass a committee of Sunday school superintendents, and the "barker" will be run out of his line of talk if not approved by members of the Epworth League. Horse-racing is to be cut out. Instead there will be competitive trials of speed — Premier Whitney said but winded when he said it. Oh, no! The horses will not race — not on your life. There will simply be a contest or two, to see which horse can come under the wire first, instead of prizes there will be rewards bearing in mind the vast difference between horse races and competitive trials of speed, people will naturally refused to bet real money, making all their wagers in conversation lozenges. If the provisions of the Act are not carried out the grant will be forfeited.

RARE OPPORTUNITY

For Lucrative Investment on the Ground Floor.

As is well known to all who invest or take interest, in mining stocks, or possibilities, the word "Bullfrog" in mining circles is synonymous for gold and rapid road to fortune. The Bullfrog gold district is today one of the richest on the world's surface and includes mining claims that not only pay big dividends to mine owners at present, but contain ore of rare quality in gold that is practically inexhaustible.

The Bullfrog Keystone Co., whose adv. appears in another column of this issue, has a proposition before the investing public now that contains great possibilities, and even more, almost certain probabilities.

This company now owns the Silver King group of six claims, containing 125 acres; they also have a mill site most advantageously located on the river. Their property is in the famed Bullfrog Mining District in Nevada, 4 1-2 miles south of the rapidly growing and wealthy town of Beatty.

As regards work already done by the company, they have sunk 9 deep shaft and numerous test shafts all with good shows of ore. The assays of the ore runs all the way from $33.50 to $580 per ton.

The par value of shares in the Bullfrog Keystone Co., is $1 each, but for a limited time are offered for five cents each.

One great feature to be thoroughly investigated by intending purchasers has only of mining, but of any kind of shares, is the personnel of a company's directorate, as on this is a great extent is the credibility of such company's statements. A brief glance at the show of men who control the destinies of the Bullfrog Keystone Co., is sufficient to assure the most sceptical.

Those seeking an investment that will assuredly prove lucrative and at the same time safe, as far as any mining proposition could be would do well to get a block of shares in the Bullfrog Keystone Co., before the price raises. For particulars address John J. Bunte Co., Fiscal Agents, 192 Broadway, New York City, N.Y.

THE NEW SCHOOL

Winnipeg School Board Advocates Three-Storey Schools.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, of the Peterboro Board of Education, having noted that exception had been taken to the proposed three storeys, as arranged for in the new South Ward school, about to be built, wrote to the secretary of the Winnipeg school board asking for information as to a three-storey school. Yesterday Mr. Dumble received the following reply:

Winnipeg, April 6, 1906.

D. W. Dumble, Esq., K.C.,

Dear Sir,—Your favor of March 31st to Mr. Stewart Mutrey, has been handed to me for reply.

It is largely a matter of taste whether a school building should be two or three storeys. All the best authorities agree that there is no objection to a three-storey building and there are many advantages. The Winnipeg school board build all their height, two class rooms, and the assembly hall being on the third floor. The principal's room is always put on the second floor, the youngest children being on the ground floor, and the two classes on third floor, are those whose ages run from ten to twelve. If any are delicate they would be either on ground or second floor. Doctors agree that healthy children from ten to twelve are not injured by attending classes in the third storey.

Trusting I have given the information desired, I remain,

Yours very truly,

G. B. MITCHELL,

Building Inspector, Winnipeg.

Ontario Fisheries.

Toronto, April 10.—According to the report of the Ontario Fisheries Department for 1905, which has just been issued, that industry is in a flourishing condition in this province. Last year the number of persons engaged in this occupation was 9,374, and the total catch made was 23,573,900 pounds, valued at $1,708,969. The capital invested in the industry was $1,139,467, and the department received a gross revenue of $47,555 from the business. As an offset to this there was an expenditure of $31,187, which left a profit to the Government of $16,618.

All Union Men Locked Out.

Charlotte, N. C., April 10.—In accordance with the notice given ten days ago thirty High Point furniture and glass factories today locked out all their employes who belong to the labor union. About 600 men and boys are idle and some of the factories are handicapped, although none was forced to shut down. There is no sign of trouble.

CAMPBELLFORD'S PROGRESS

MR. CULVERWELL PURCHASES M'RE WATERPOWER ON TRENT RIVER

Adjoins Campbellford Town Limits and Will be a Valuable Asset to the Village.

The Port Hope Guide says: Several portions of the waterpower, south of Crow Bay on Trent River, adjoining the north limits of the town of Campbellford, have been purchased recently from the Hon. George G. McMurrich by Culverwell, of Port Hope. The deeds cover the Denmark property river frontage of twelve chains, including both the river flow, and also the Hubble property frontage of twenty chains on both sides of the river, which includes the whole flow.

Another portion, in between these properties, viz.: the Campbell piece, is now in dispute in the courts, Mr. Culverwell's suit against Campbell & Son for specific performance of contract, of purchase and sale, being dismissed at the assizes. This will be appealed by Mr. Culverwell.

Another large portion adjoining these properties is owned by the town of Campbellford, and operates the town electric light.

Since Mr. Culverwell energized the citizens into the necessity of electric power and competing electric railway, giving Canadian Pacific Railway connection to the district, the Campbellford ratepayers seem ready to build a dam which will develop the whole power at this point and include all these different properties.

At the last municipal election the ratepayers abolished the Town Water and Electric Light Commission (by a vote of 2 to 1), and thus killed their proposition to build the dam, but it is generally understood that the ratepayers would vote the money if the electric railway is brought in at the same time.

This action of the ratepayers seems an endorsation of Mr. Culverwell's operations, as the majority of the late Town Commission bitterly opposed him.

Town Council officials since have offered to purchase Mr. Culverwell's property, and offered to give him a cheque inside of 48 hours, but Mr. Culverwell refused to accept any cheque unless legally ratified by the necessary vote of the ratepayers.

An illegal action was done by the late town, water and electric commission (without the proper authorization of the ratepayers or even council) in supplying the money to pay for the Campbell piece and thus assist to defeat Mr. Culverwell's claim to that piece.

The option was taken in the name of a member of the town commission, which member still has a "string" on the property (by agreement), which "string" the Campbellford electorate evidently disapproved of by their abolishment of the commission.

The Campbellford waterpower property is about five miles south-east of Healey Falls, and is about one-third the size of Healey power, which is now mostly controlled by the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., Limited, organized by Mr. Culverwell and composed of some forty leading business men of the lake-front towns. It is proposed to use a portion of power from each of these waterfalls also for the Culverwell Electric Railway.

Healy Falls will also supply cheap power and light to Warkworth, Brighton, Colborne, Cobourg and Port Hope, and also to Campbellford, when a market is available.

BATCHELOR'S BALL

Invitations for This Prominent Social Function Now Out.

One of the most popular events among Peterboro's numerous social functions is the annual ball given by the Batchelors.

Invitations are now out for their 1906 ball which will be held in the Hose National on Thursday evening, April 19th.

The patronesses for this year are, Mesdames U. A. Aylmer, R. P. Boucher, John Crane, R. M. Denniscum, K. Eardley-Wilmot, R. R. Hall, T. D. Mullholland, Geo. Rubidge, A. H. Strettan.

It goes without saying that this ball will be a grand success. Mine Host of the National, who has had the Batchelors' Ball before, has always done everything in his power, and successfully, to make it most pleasant for all those attending.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. A. H. Robinson of This City, Appointed Mining Inspector.

Much interest was taken yesterday in news contained in the Toronto Globe, regarding a position given to a gentleman belonging to this city. The report reads:

"Mr. A. H. A. Robinson has been appointed permanent mining inspector of the Temiskaming district. He is a Peterboro man, an expert in mining, and has lately been engaged in the industry in New Brunswick."

Mr. Robinson is a son of the late Isaac Robinson, who for many years conducted a retail business in this city. He is also a nephew of Miss J. Chamberlain, Shortbooks street. He left Peterboro many years ago, although he has visited in the city on several occasions and has many friends here. He is now visiting with his aunt, Miss Chamberlain, for a few days, having arrived on the C.P.R. last night.

THE SUGAR PROPERTY

City and County Councils to Meet on Thursday.

Mr. R. McWilliams and Mr. G. Duncan, representing the City Council attended the North Monaghan township council meeting, and urged the township council to assent to the proposed annexation as applied for. Mr. McWilliams explained this proposition in detail, and stated that the city council were anxious to grant concessions so as to secure the establishing of industries upon this property. The reeve suggested that the Township would probably consent to giving a fixed assessment to their industries and the council expressed the opinion that a more satisfactory arrangement would be the annexation of all the portion of lots 15 and 16 lying adjacent to the city.

After considerable discussion the application of the city annexing the property to the city was referred to a committee of the whole council, which will meet with a committee of the city council in Peterboro on Thursday, April 12th at 2 p.m.

Died at Extraordinary Age.

Chicago, April 10.—At the extraordinary age of 123 years, Mrs. Philo Rogers, a negro woman, died on Thursday at her home here.

THE M'AULIFFE CASE

Provincial Detective Wells Here Making Investigations.

Detective W. J. Wells, of the Attorney-General's Department, who has been doing some important work in connection with the famous Barton murder case, on which a young woman was found dead near Hamilton, during October last, was in the city yesterday on business connected with the prosecution of Patrick McAuliffe, the Emily township farmer, against whom the Grand jury returned a true bill for manslaughter, at the fall Assizes. It will be remembered that an adjournment of the case on the ground that several important witnesses were absent.

They will, however, be on hand at the trial during the spring assizes, which open at the court house here on Monday, April 23rd, before Mr Justice Magee.

McAuliffe is charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Fred Hudson, hotelkeeper, Hunter street, on June 1st last.

Mr. Kincaid Seriously Ill.

We regret to say, and our regret will be shared by his many friends throughout the city and county, that Mr. John Kincaid, the assessor is seriously ill. It seems that yesterday morning he attempted to get up at his usual time, but was unable to do so. A physician was called, who pronounced his condition as somewhat serious.

LOCAL RACES

Attract Attention From Chicago, New York, Pittsburg and London Ont.

Indications of the prominence that the Peterboro Turf Club's races hold throughout not only Canada, but in the United States, is the fact that yesterday, Mr. A. Rountree, secretary of the club received the following letter which speaks for itself:

Pittsburg, Pa., April 8th, 1906.

Peterboro Turf Club,

Gentlemen,—Will you please inform us by return mail, what rise your club ask for the privileges of May 24th, also if you intend to give a race meeting later and oblige.

COLLING & TIGHT.

Manhattan Club.

The club yesterday received a similar request for like information from Messrs. Johnston & Co., of London, Ont., also from Messrs. White and Co., of Chicago.

This shows clearly that the races run in this city are not only "on the square," but of exceptional merit. The Turf Club is certainly advertising Peterboro.

THE CARNEGIE KISS

A Recipient Says That the Iron Master's Salute is Better than Hobson's

Atlanta, Ga., April 11.—"The Carnegie kiss leaves nothing to be desired," is the verdict of Mrs. J. H. Eichberg of Atlanta, whose lips met Mr. Carnegie's at the reception given to him when he was in Atlanta.

"Mrs. Carnegie, as a kisser, is unexcelled," continued Mrs. Eichberg. "The pressure of his lips on one's lips is satisfactory in every respect. He kisses ultra fine and at the same time soothes. His lack of haste in removing his lips enables the recipient of the kiss to extract all that is possible for osculation. To my dying day I shall never forget the joyful sensation I experienced when Mr. Carnegie's lips were on mine."

"How does the Carnegie kiss compare with the Hobson article, Mrs. Eichberg?"

"The Carnegie kiss is superior to the Hobson kiss in every way," said she. "Capt. Hobson just pecks at your lips and leaves one wondering why he did not make a good job of it. Mr. Carnegie puts his lips squarely on yours, and he keeps them there long enough for one to understand just what good kissing means. The Hobson kiss is immature. The Carnegie kiss is mature."

MR. GAMEY'S REWARD

He May Be Chairman of the New Temiskaming Mining Commission.

Toronto, April 11.—Following the announcement by Premier Whitney of a Government policy of mining development in the Cobalt region, under a mining commission, comes emphatic corridor comment that Mr. Robert Roswell Gamey, member for Manitoulin, will be appointed upon the new Temiskaming Mining Commission. It is even hinted that the chairmanship will not be beyond his reach.

Government and Opposition members were unwilling to speculate on Mr. Gamey's chances yesterday. There is little doubt as to his competence, as the member for Manitoulin has always taken an especial interest in mining development.

SIR THOMAS STRUCK A CANADIAN NOTE

Vigorous Speech of the Canadian Pacific's Popular President Before Large London Audience.

GREAT NATION RAPIDLY GROWING UP

London, April 10.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy struck an emphatic Canadian note in the presence of hosts of American and British statesmen at the Pilgrims' dinner last night in honor of Lord Curzon. Previous speeches having dwelt especially upon Anglo-American accord, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy brought a timely reminder that there was a good half of the American continent labelled Canada. He called Elihu Root, speaking as with the tongue of the President of the United States, to witness that what was a little domain on the borders of the States, has now grown to a great and powerful nation. He begged Englishmen to weigh well that vital fact and not to imagine they had seen the wonders of America when they stopped short of Philadelphia or Chicago on their way north. Americans themselves were not so slow to take fullest advantage of the opportunities Canada offered; as they witness the large migration of hosts of American settlers who were becoming excellent British subjects in Canada. He also bore tribute to French Canada's attachment to the British institution.

Here, in England, men's minds began in these latter days to wander into schemes for the nationalization of railways. Canada had learnt her lesson in that respect for she had in the Intercolonial line a magnificent example of how far wrong a government managed, railway could go and it was a monument of failure of the government administration. On the other hand Canada had by means of the privately managed C. P. R. brought the great western plains to the very doors of the eastern populations and this line of progress was being followed with the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern enterprises.

SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY,
President of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday morning the police court was crowded to the point of melodor the "Peripatetic Pete" club being well represented and eager to hear judgment rendered on Dennis F. Jones, the young English boy who about ten days ago, was sent with a gentleman to Lakefield by Mr. R. Gibbs the local liveryman, and turned in neither the money paid him by the gentleman for horse hire, nor, as it was then alleged, left the $2.50 change out of a $4 bill given him by his fare.

The boy pleaded guilty, and Rev. Canon Davidson, who appeared on Jones behalf, said he knew the case intimately. Since the boy got into the city, i.e., since last Tuesday, he, the speaker, had written to Apsley and the Barnardo Home people who brought Jones out to Canada. He asked the magistrate to consider that whilst he knows the boy has not lived the straightest life, Jones claims to have consumption and that work makes him sick. When the boy got here he only had $1 to pay his board, so he used the liverymen's money. He fully knew that the community must be protected, but the boy's health would suffer by being sent to jail, and the boy being over 16 years of age he could not be sent to the reformatory. He felt that the boy he desirous to do better, and if the ends of justice could be upheld, he would like to see him saved from a jail sentence.

The magistrate showed the rev. gentleman that the boy had gotten about $8 in five days from various people, dishonestly and by lies, and that he had not even paid his board bill.

Mr. John Hodgins, of Toronto, representing the Barnardo Home, said the boy had been anywhere but satisfactory; that the home would take charge of him and send him out to Manitoba.

The magistrate said that the boy was evidently without moral stamina and selfish. On the Barnardo home's taking charge of him he would let him go on suspended sentence. He then gave the boy a good talking to, telling him to try and be an honest man.

Two little gaffers who broke into the west ward school and stole a small sum of money were given a good talking to by the magistrate, and allowed to go, their respective fathers repaying the $1.05 the little boys had stolen. The magistrate recommended the use of a stout strap scientifically applied where it would do the most good and the least harm.

Yesterday afternoon P. C. Adams extended the hospitality of the Hotel des Cops to an elderly lady; not only did he issue the invitation but was so demonstrative in the welcome extended that the sturdy officer procured a conveyance to carry her there.

This guest of the police, as far as her condition enabled her to state, up to going to press is named Mrs. Brown and she hails from Ottawa.

Unfortunately the lady sampled Peterboro's liquid refreshments too freely, and, in consequence, displayed the fast going Hunter street, from Aylmer street to nearly the Post office.

She was in plain cold fast drunk and noisy. A prominent member of the bar (of justice) tried to pacify the lady but the advances met only with a tongue thrashing that was a terror. P. C. Adams was compelled to requisition the services of a local grocery cart to get her to the station. On arrival, the drive had somewhat removed the cobwebs from her brain, and in injured tones she asked "Isn't that a nice way to use a lady just because she happened to taste?" She will explain matters this morning.

Later on, P.C. Adams gathered in still another guest, who was "too full for expression." The young man occupied a cell next to the aforementioned old lady, whose Hibernian accent is as broad as our road at yesterday.

Mrs. Grace Russell, of Ottawa, aged 75 years, died from injuries received by being struck by a street car.

HEALTH OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

A bill providing for the examination of the teeth of school children is of more importance than some legislation about which more noise is made, says The Star. The proper care of the teeth is a comparatively rare habit, and great numbers of people never go to a dentist until they are fairly driven to his door by an aching tooth. Children's teeth now begin to decay very early, and the only salvation is to fill them while the cavities are small. This precaution is generally neglected, with the result that fifty per cent. of school children have many teeth in advanced state of decay, while the condition of the mouths of some is loathsome.

Apart from the suffering occasioned to children by this neglect, there is grave danger of the communication of disease to other children, while the atmosphere of the school room is poisoned by the exhalations of decay. What, it is pertinently asked, is the use of spending money on costly schemes of ventilation, while the cause of offence remains? The thought of school children with sound and clean mouths drinking from the same cups as these unfortunates, and "swapping" chewing gum with them, is one which we do not care to dwell on.

Dr. J. G. Adams, of Toronto, has studied these facts for many years. In default of any public provision for the care of the teeth of children of poor parents, he has been doing that work free of charge, examining the children in the Elizabeth street school and in the various charitable institutions. The work has been a great success; the teeth are filled while the cavities are small, and thus the whole work is done at one sitting, and children are not kept from school more than two half-days in the year. For some time, also, Dr. Adams maintained a dental hospital for the poor at his own expense.

The time has come, however, when the work can be no longer done by the philanthropy of one man. The dentists are ready to continue Dr. Adams' work, but the real difficulty lies in want of information on both sides; the dentists do not know what children require their services, and the children and parents do not recognize the value of early treatment. If the children were examined twice a year, the information would be obtained, and the treatment could be given either by the family dentist or free, by an arrangement with the general body of dentists in this city or elsewhere.

No question of compulsion arises in this case. Dr. Adams' experience is that the great majority of children are glad to receive the treatment; and it is clear that the earlier it is done, the more gentle are the methods that are required. The only difficulty is that they do not know that treatment is required. We do not know of any reform so simple and inexpensive a character that would do so much for the relief of suffering, for the health of school children, and for purifying the air of the school-room, polluted, as it now is, by the most loathsome odors of decay.

ACT RESPECTING LORD'S DAY

The object of the act respecting Lord's Day obviously is to do away with the working on Sunday by any person for purposes of hire, and with this as a general principle we heartily agree. But there is no general principle to which there are not exceptions to be made in its practical application. Somebody must work while while others rest in order that the machinery may be kept in motion. The question, of course, is where the line of demarcation should be drawn. When it is proposed to stop the hiring of all conveyances of whatsoever nature or the running of excursions the principle is strained to the breaking point. It means that the population of the cities of Canada, notwithstanding the magnificent opportunities nature has provided for restocking the vital energies of our workers with fresh air and outdoor exercise, must remain cooped up within corporate limits or walk, fly or swim. Of course, we except those who are sufficiently opulent to own a carriage, an automobile, a yacht, a rowboat, a horse, a bicycle, or a dirigible airship. When we eliminate the fortunate few, who have their own means of mechanical traction, we still have the great majority of the community who must stay at home. Conditions have altered of late years, by reason of the development which has taken place in the means transportation and the people have come to depend upon the railway, the tramway, and the steamboat as a means of conveyance. The farmer used to come to town long distances driving his team; he now uses the railway. Many things which were formerly regarded as luxuries, have through their common use come to be regarded as necessities. The man who used to walk, or drive, or ride a few miles, can now cover in the same time many times the distance and so new requirements have grown up as the result of new conditions. There is really no difference in principle in riding on a horse and in riding on a railway, except that the capital required to build a railway is so great as to be out of the reach of the individual.

The bill does not propose to prohibit fishing or shooting, but it proposes to prohibit rifle practice. That is to say: you can shoot at a bird to kill it, but it is a penal offence to shoot at a mark to test the precision of your eye and the steadiness of your nerve.

PRINCE ARTHUR IN WINNIPEG

Thousands Turn Out to See Him, But Portage la Prairie Was Disappointed.

Winnipeg, April 10.—A dull sky and damp streets greeted Prince Arthur here at noon. It did not rain yesterday morning, but the condition of the streets marred the enjoyment to some extent. The Prince arrived shortly before noon, and was welcomed by the official committee and thousands of people.

The Prince was not out of his bed when the passed Portage la Prairie at nine o'clock, and the people there present at the station were disappointed.

A squadron of troops escorted the Prince to the city hall here, where his Royal Highness was presented with a civic address.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 200 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionaires in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 17th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not, The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

Am Looking for Large Investors
to Buy Stock in

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 13 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 500 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 65 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 800 wells; properties valued $200,000, $150,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $250 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, tags from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the assurdly low price of 10c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits accruing from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

when they had parted in such a bitter quarrel a few short hours before?

He was the first to break the awkward silence.

"How does it happen that you are up waiting for me?" he asked, bending over looking at her with keen curiosity.

The girl's face flushed. Hot, bitter rebellion rose in her heart. She stifled the anger and contempt. Her victory over herself was so great that she was surprised at it.

She rose from her chair, her hands trembling nervously, her lovely, childlike face flushing and paling by turns.

"I have waited for you, Waldemar, because I have something to say to you," she said, very gently.

He looked at her steadily.

"You want to renew that scene that occurred in the ball-room," he said, harshly; "but if you are wise you will let matters drop. You provoked me into doing what I did."

"Are you sorry for it now?" she asked, wistfully.

"Yes," he confessed, a dull red flaming into his face. "But I repeat, you provoked me to it, Reine, and you know it."

She went up to him, laying her little white hand on his arm.

"We have not been very happy—have we, Waldemar? We have quarrelled and disputed until I am ashamed to think of it," she said.

He looked at her in amazement. She would not see the surprise on his face or make the least difference because of it.

"Most decidedly, Reine, we have done our best in that line," he admitted. "We have not kept the peace."

"I should like so much to change all that, Waldemar," she said, in a low voice; "to try if we cannot begin again and really do better. I will try, if you will, Waldemar."

He looked at her with a contemptuous laugh.

"Have you been to a revival meeting?" he asked.

Reine's face flushed, and hot words of anger came to her lips; but she controlled herself. She would not utter them.

"No, I have not," she replied; "but I have been thinking, Waldemar, and would give anything on earth if we could do a little better—agree a little better. Now, for instance, if you will promise not to speak angrily or contemptuously to me, I will make the same promise to you."

"I shall do nothing of the kind," he answered, haughtily, a sudden fire leaping into his indolent, handsome face. "I tell you what, my lady Reine," he replied, roughly—"I do not like this sudden fit of humility. 'Still waters run deep.' It betokens no good. You have some deep design in your head, and I know it."

"You are wrong," she replied. "I want simply to be on better terms with you, so that we may have some chance of happiness. I want no more—We are husband and wife now; we must spend our lives together. Let us make the best of each other, Waldemar."

She spoke quickly, with an appealing face, her little trembling hands clutched nervously together. He answered her almost ferociously.

"What do you mean by making the best of each other?" he cried. "Do you mean that I am not good enough for you?"

"I do not know," she replied, hopelessly, a dull feeling of despair coming over her.

"Then you ought to know," he retorted. "If you wanted to marry a saint you should not have thrown Cheleigh over."

She raised her clear blue eyes to his face, and he read something in them that puzzled him.

"Remember that I gave up everything in the world for your sake, Waldemar," she said, in a low voice; "and in memory of that I would like you to be more kind to me. My heart is breaking for want of sympathy and—and—love."

"Such utter nonsense!—such rubbish! Who has been putting such romantic notions into your head?" he asked, sharply. "I am tired and sick of hearing over and over again what you have given up for my sake; let me hear no more of it. Never talk to me in this strain again. I shall never be any woman's slave, but I will compel my wife to listen to me, and not attempt to dictate to me. If you are not happy it is your own fault—your own temper and your own pride."

"Perhaps so," she said, hopelessly. "You may rest quite assured on one thing—that while I live I shall never broach this subject again to you. If, in time to come, I want a friend, I shall not come to you. If I want advice, consolation, sympathy, kindness, I shall never ask it from you."

"So much the better," he answered, leaning indolently back in his favorite arm-chair. "If there is anything I scorn, it is a crying, fault-finding woman. At such times I can realise what Sir Marvel meant when he said: 'I long to break away, and find what happiness can be found elsewhere.'"

Reine turned away from him proudly. It had been a terrible mistake, trying to make friendly overtures to him. She saw plainly they could never live as other husbands and wives did. It was but the commonplace fate of the many who resort to runaway marriages. They never turn out happily. Ah! would that young girls would take warning!

Reine's was the most unhappy of all unhappy marriages.

It was Waldemar Waldron's own fault that his lovely girl-wife's idolatrous love for himself died away, giving place to hopeless despair, which grew from bad to worse—into positive dislike.

A week passed. Although Reine did her best, her heroic effort to live on better terms with Waldemar Waldron had met with rebuffs and ignominious failure.

One afternoon she had asked him to take her the following day to drive through Central Park, and for a wonder he consented, but when the hour rolled around—the sleigh stood at the door—her husband had quite forgotten his appointment with her, and the consequence was that she rode alone.

At the park entrance she saw Bernard Cheleigh, who was just alighting from a cab. She beckoned him eagerly to her side, making room for him on the cushioned seat; but, though it would have been a keen delight to him to have sat by her side, looked into her eyes, heard her voice for a brief half hour, he gravely declined, urging, as a reason, a pressing business engagement.

"You will be at the art gallery this afternoon, Bernard?" she questioned, earnestly.

He said "yes," regretting it, however, the next moment. He must not throw himself so constantly in her society; he must rather avoid it, for it was like the moth hovering about the flame that first blinded and then burned it. He turned to leave her, but she laid a detaining hand on his arm.

PALMER MOUNTAIN MINES

EXAMINED BY A NOTED EXPERT

His first examination was made when the tunnel had been driven into the mountain 1,200 feet. He made a great number of assays, and thus sums up his findings:

"SUMMARY OF FOREGOING ASSAYS"

"An assay of all the samples of surface ores carefully mixed and reduced to an assay sample shows Gold $16.02 (per ton)

"An average of assays taken in the tunnel as can be verified by above reports shows Gold $27.97 (per ton)."

Many of the assays showed values as high as $600 per ton. By selection of samples phenomenal values can be shown, but Mr. Browne is a business man as well as an engineer and is not misleading us with specially selected samples. His conclusions are based upon average values.

A SECOND REPORT

was made when the tunnel had been driven to its present length,—upwards of 4,000 feet. The numerous assays which were made at this time revealed high values in Gold. The crowning work of the engineer was attained when he collected samples gathered at random from all the surface workings and those found on the tunnel levels. The whole mass collected weighed 34 tons. From this lot (34 tons) there was obtained $716.44—which is equal to $20.80 per ton. This we regard as a test which establishes the value of our ores.

WATER POWER

The report lays great stress on the value of our Water Power. We have great satisfaction in saying that this important adjunct is now completed. The Company is not lighting the Town of Loomis.

100 STAMP MILL

Attention and effort are now being devoted to the last requisite, namely, a mill for the treatment of the ores. The Company plans to let the contract for this mill immediately. With ores running one-half the assay values as shown by extensive tests, its earning capacity will be 15 per cent. on the par value of stock which will equal 30 per cent. to stockholders who purchase while the price is 50 cents per share.

Peterboro' Brokerage Company Sole Representative in Canada
Drawer 1006, PETERBORO.

NOTE.—The foregoing offer of stock at 50 cents per share is good until April 15th. After that date the price will be 60 cents per share. Prompt action is therefore necessary to secure the benefit of the present price.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $500 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

YOU ARE AILING

Find the Cause or the Weakness and Nervous Dread That Overshadows Your Life.

You can't keep up forever.

Sooner or later Nature will rebel against the strain that is imposed on your overworked system. So far, will power and nerve may have tied you over, but the end is probably near at hand.

To-day the common complaint with weak men and women is lack of kidney vitality. Have you have the cause of your ill-health.

Wouldn't it be wise to use a time-tested remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they cure that "ailing" feeling in one night. Next morning you feel like new—bright, fresh and happy. Appetite improves, dull, sallow color grows ruddy and clear, proving that great good is being done by this scientific medicine.

Thus writes Mrs D. F. Fowler, from Tamworth: "I was most miserable, head heavy, my color was sallow, and there was usually a bad taste in my mouth. I had severe pains all through my limbs, and an annoying headache as well.

"After one dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills there was a sudden change. I felt better my appetite increased, and that exhaustion and depression gradually left me. Life seemed brighter and happier after I used Dr Hamilton's Pills, and strongly recommend such a good medicine."

Mrs. Fowler's letter is a message to you and all others in poor health. You can't do better than follow her advice. Dr. Hamilton's Pills you certainly need; then why not get them now and enjoy the abundant good health they are sure to bring you! Price 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. At all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS.

All Saints' Church Prospering.

All Saints' church has, under the excellent management of Rev. W. Major, not only paid all current expenses but within the past quarter laid by a surplus of $1,000, which will be devoted to the building fund of the new church.

Lumbermen Leaving Town.

Mr. Giles Stone, foreman for Holland and Graves, left the city for the north yesterday with a "gang" of 25 men. Mr. Geo. Jackson and B. Nixon had charge of the two bus loads of the Dickson Company's men, also bound north to bring in the winter's cut of logs.

Easter Holidays.

Easter Holiday rates, via Canadian Pacific Railway, single fare for the round trip, good going April 13th, 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th, returning April 17th.

Commencing May 6th, 1906, a double daily express service will be resumed between Montreal and Vancouver.

Now is the proper time to book passages to Great Britain and Europe. Prepaid tickets issued to bring out your friends.

For tickets and all information, see W. Melroy, City Passenger Agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, 248 George street.

The Blackbirds Have Come.

"Midst other signs of spring appear,
Foaming goblets of Bock beer;
But the surest proof its spring,
Are the Blackbirds as they sing."

The above classic ditty was suggested to our Shakespearian Editor yesterday when hearing the welcome warbling of the blackbirds, which have now arrived in large numbers.

THE SUGAR CO.

Judge Weller Calls a Creditors' Meeting For May 14th.

His Honor, Judge Weller, yesterday issued notices to the creditors of the Peterboro Sugar Company, Limited, calling a meeting at his chambers on May 14th, at 11 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the claims of the creditors against the company. They are also asked to send statements of their claims for the liquidators before May 7th. At this meeting the creditors will learn the extent to which they are to be recouped.

GAS FOR CEREAL CO.

American Cereal Co. Want More Gas.

As has been noted in previous issues of The Times, the American Cereal Co., are now making quite a speciality of "Puffed Rice."

The company in making this section of their numerous products, has been greatly handicapped, and only able to manufacture it during certain periods of the day, owing to lack of gas.

The Peterboro Light and Power Company are now laying a gas main along the river front to the American Cereal Company's mill.

With the completion of the new main this difficulty will be obliterated and the company will be free to turn out puffed rice in quantities adequate to the ever increasing demand.

Board of Health Meets Today.

Another joint meeting of the Board of Health and the Finance Committee will be held this morning at 9.30. The isolation hospital question will be taken up again and it is expected that a move will be made towards expediting its construction. The Board should use great caution in their expenditure over this building, which will practically be vacant many months in this year, although the interest in its cost goes on just the same.

FEW CRIMINALS

Travelling Representative of the Barnardo Homes Defends the Boys.

A Times representative yesterday asked Mr. John Hodgins, who came here yesterday to look after, and take away the boy Jones who at yesterday's police court pleaded guilty to stealing money from local gentlemen, a few questions concerning the Barnardo Home boys brought out to Canada.

In reply to the question "Does the Barnardo homes in Canada keep track of their importation for any length of time, say three or four years after their arrival?" Mr. Hodgins replied, "Oh yes, we know the history of, and can trace the movements of nearly every boy we bring out for twenty to twenty-five years if they live that long."

"About what percentage of your boys turn out badly or become criminals?" was next asked.

Mr. Hodgins said "Less than one and one-half per cent. Some time ago I was sent by the home to visit all the jails, prisons and penitentiaries in the country, and I only could get trace of five boys, who were then under restraint out of the 10,000 Barnardo Home boys in Canada."

Mr. Hodgins left yesterday evening for Toronto with young Jones, who will be sent to one of the Homes in Manitoba."

PETERBORO'S PRIVATE BILL

Strong Deputation Wait on Private Bill's Committee in Toronto.

A deputation composed of Mayor Best, Ald. McWilliams, chairman of the Legislative Committee, Ald. Adams and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall, were in Toronto before the Private Bill Committee of the Legislature in support of the Peterboro's private bill.

Mr. James Kendry and Mr. John Carnegie, are also in Toronto in the interests in the power clauses of the bill.

The two most important clauses considered are those relating to the annexation of the sugar company property, and the request of the city for the right to acquire and develop power.

This second clause was opposed by the Peterboro Light and Power Company, who were represented by Mr. J. H. Larmouth, manager, and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, solicitor for the company.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia, some nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret nostrum either. This fact puts it on a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowles and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate, stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

DIAMONDS AND DIAMOND MINING

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is ever increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining enterprises of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 42 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums for machinery and mining appurtenances. From careful tests made during these six months we have demonstrated that we have a larger diamond field than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantages of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

We are conducting a legitimate business enterprise upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 10 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $120,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and is all that we will offer for sale.

We shall be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our office, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

HAREM OF WIVES PLAN OF DOWIE

"Paradise Colony" in Central Mexico Scheme of Deposed Head of Zion City.

SPOUSE TELLS THE ELDERS

Dowie, Before Being Stricken With Paralysis, Proposes to Women and is Accepted.

Zion City, Ill., April 10.—John Alexander Dowie, the deposed "first apostle" of the Christian Catholic Church of Zion had planned a harem of seven wives. He had gone so far as to secure the woman who were to demonstrate to the world the secret polygamous teachings. Miss Ruth Hofer was to be the first wife. Dowie had selected all of the others. To five of them he had proposed and been accepted.

PLANNED "PARADISE COLONY."

Dowie and his harem were to have been the nucleus around which it was proposed to found a "Paradise Colony" in East Central Mexico. Dowie outlined this plan of a polygamous colony to his overseers. At the same time he asked them to divorce his present wife on the ground of incompatibility. The amazing proposition was made to the leaders of the church about a week before Dowie was stricken with paralysis.

These astounding revelations were made in Zion City at a meeting of officers of the church. Mrs. Dowie attended the meeting. With a voice trembling with emotion and with tears streaming down her face, she told the overseers, the deacons and deaconesses, the evangelists and elders, of Dowie's proposal to her to put her away that he might espouse seven young attractive women. She told how he had threatened her with violence because her womanhood revolted. Her son Gladstone added his testimony.

One by one the elders who had been apprised of Dowie's polygamous plans by himself told how he had argued with them and the violent rage that had followed their horror-stricken rejection of his proposals.

Dowie, who, clad in the rich vestments he himself designed when he declared himself apostle two years ago, had denounced sinners with a vigor and flow of invective that made home one of the most remarkable characters of religious history, today was denounced as the greatest sinner of them all. He was held up to scorn as a man who had not only robbed his trusting followers of the product of their arduous toil, but who had shattered every sacred tradition of the home.

EASTER MUSIC

To Be Rendered at St. John's Church on Sunday Next.

The choral portion of the services at St. John's on Easter Sunday will be, as usual, of a very special and pleasing nature. The musical selections will be as follows:

Matins, 11 a.m.
Responses, Tallis: Te Deum.
Dykerin F: Anthems, Benedictus.
Marshall: "This is the Day."
Communion Service—Woodward in E 6 12 a.m.

Evensong (Full Choral), 7 p.m.
Responses, Tallis: Psalms.
Cathedral Psalter: Service.
Plummer in E 6: Anthems.
"Hosanna," Granier; and "King of Kings," Simper.
"Hallelujah" Chorus, (Organ).

Montreal Snow Bound.

Montreal, April 11.—An exceptionally heavy fall of snow for this season of the year took place last night over seven inches of damp snow falling in eleven hours. The fall commenced shortly after nine o'clock last night and continued until a late hour this morning.

Owing to the extreme dampness, vehicular traffic was greatly impeded today. There was not a breath of wind throughout the night and trees were loaded down with snow to such an extent that branches all over the city were broken off. In many cases obstructing the sidewalks.

Street car traffic was somewhat retarded as the sweepers could do little with the wet snow, and as the tracks were free from snow previously little effort was made to clear away the fresh arrival.

THE LICENSE QUESTION

CANON DAVIDSON ON POSSIBLE MISCONCEPTIONS.

Rector of St. John's Church Explains the Policy of Peterboro Ministerial Association Regarding Reduction of Licenses.

(To the Editor of The Times)

Sir,—To meet any misconception as to the policy of the Ministerial Association, allow me to briefly state a few facts.

1. A committee of the Ministerial Association a year ago interviewed the License Commissioners with reference to a possible reduction in the number of liquor licenses. In answer the commissioners suggested that we take steps to ascertain through the council the will of the people in regard to this question.

2. Accordingly, last December we approached the council with this object in view. In spite of strong pressure we refused to take the responsibility of seating any particular number to be cut off, but adhered to the simple question of principle, leaving the responsibility of number, where in our judgment it should rest, on the License Commissioners, who were left entirely free to apply the principle according to their knowledge of the situation.

3. The council after full discussion accepted our suggestion as reasonable and took the responsibility of asking for the opinion of the ratepayers.

4. The result was a majority of 247 in favor of the principle that some reduction was advisable.

5. When the members of our association left the council chamber our work in this direction (as suggested by commissioners) absolutely ceased. We held no further discussion upon it and did nothing whatever as an association to influence the vote.

Several of us (including myself) did no canvassing either in public or in private. I was not even in interviews on the day of polling. I mention these incidents to show that we honestly tried to do what was asked of us in the public interest and stopped there—taking the necessary steps to ascertain public opinion but doing nothing to influence it. If any members acted further they did what they had a perfect right to do from their own standpoint as clergymen and conscientious citizens.

Now this being our definite line of action on what grounds should we now approach the commissioners? Is it necessary for us to inform them that a vote has been taken on this question? Is it necessary to let them know our own opinion after once expressing the same.

Let it be clearly understood that we have no intention whatever as an association to pursue with hostile intent any of our fellow citizens, or to take upon ourselves any part of the responsibility of applying a principle which the commissioners can alone fairly apply from their intimate knowledge of the situation. For this purpose the commissioners have been appointed, and we have every confidence that they will endeavor fairly to discharge their trust. At all events we have nothing more to do with the matter.

GENERAL POLICY.

As to the general work of this association and its value we are well aware that it will be differently estimated by different persons. Were our policy merely negative, weak or colorless it would occasion no comment. The opposition offered by certain unknown persons is proof—if proof were needed—that our important work (honestly and thoughtfully undertaken in the public interest) is not without effect. We recognize that our public work is open to criticism and have no quarrel with honest objectors. One thing we do believe from repeated assurances, that it is a most satisfactory thing to at least a large part of the citizens of Peterboro that their spiritual leaders are in warm brotherly concord, and are altogether feeling as one united body with some of the religious and moral questions affecting the welfare of our city.

From other towns and cities have come expressions of appreciation of the unique extent to which this general ministerial co-operation is carried in Peterboro.

For the sake of the public weal, then, we shall not on account of a few attacks recently given up that we are convinced in a strong position and a useful work.

Yours, etc.,
J. C. DAVIDSON,
President Peterboro Ministerial Association.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL

Will be Erected on North End of Hilliard Farm.

Yesterday morning the local Board of Health held a meeting in conjunction with the Finance Committee of the City Council, when it was decided to build an hospital for the care of patients suffering from scarlet fever and diphtheria, situated on the Hilliard farm, either at the north end or south end. The probable cost of the building will be $6,000.

Those present were Chairman Wm Eyres, Dr. George Burnham, R. Nesbitt, Geo. Schneider, Dr. Bingham, medical health officer, and Chief Ross, health inspector.

Mr. W. H. Moore, chairman of the Town Trust Commission; Ald. Masonbrink, of the Finance Committee and Ald. Elliott.

City Engineer May recommended that a main-inch sewer be laid on Queen street to Simcoe street and along Simcoe street to Water street, where it would connect with the Water street trunk sewer.

A motion was passed ordering the City Council to do this work at once on sanitary grounds.

A letter was received from Hartnagar and others asking that a Stark street sewer be constructed to connect with the public school. The chairman will investigate and report to the Board.

In connection with the isolation hospital, Chairman Eyres, as a result of personal inspection, advocated the south end of the Hilliard farm as the best spot; in this he was backed by several members of the Board.

Mr. W. H. Moore, chairman of the Town Trust Commission, however, recommended that the Board select a site at the north end of the farm, giving among other reasons therefore that this spot would, before long be very valuable for building lots.

After some discussion, the north end of the property was selected as a site.

It was decided to build an L shaped hospital at a cost of $6,000, and to reserve five acres of land for it.

It was moved that the chairman, Dr. Burnham, Dr. McNulty, Mr. R. Neill, and Architect Blackwell, visit Toronto, and confer with the officers of the Provincial Board of Health as to the best plans for the hospital.—Carried.

Peterboro's Collegiate Institute.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday a poor old woman, whose face is familiar to frequent visitors to the police court, trembling from the effects of a drunken debauch, Tuesday afternoon, faced the music, at the police court.

The old woman whose name is Margaret Kennedy, pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly in a public place.

In tremulous accents, and a rich Irish brogue, she gave her family history, interspersed with "God bless your honor," "from the death of her late lamented husband, who passed from this mortal coil some thirty years ago, to the time when "Sure you honor, God bless you. I just took a couple of glasses of beer for my poor old stomach."

The magistrate inquiring into the present state of her finances asked "Have you enough money to get a ticket to Toronto?"

"I have, thank you," she replied with a courtesy.

"Well then, I'll let you off if you take the first train out of town," said the Worship, "but never appear in this court again, or you will not get off so easily."

It might be added that this same old woman, about a year ago was sent to Castle Nesbitt for ten days for being drunk, and on the day of her release celebrated the same by getting hopelessly intoxicated. For this she was given six months in the Mercer Institute, Toronto. She left by the C.P.R. yesterday evening for Toronto.

PROTECTING THE FISH

Lindsay Milling Co. Had Holes in Its Floor That Were Closed.

Those in this city and they are legion, in protecting our game fish, will be pleased to learn that Deputy Minister Bastedo has sent Fishery Overseer Bradshaw of Lindsay, an assistant in the person of Mr. John Watson, for many years fishery overseer on Lake Scugog. Mr. Watson is an old hand. On Tuesday they visited the Flavelle Milling Co. premises, and located suspicious looking holes in the lower floor of the mill, which Mr. Watson thought had been used to spear through. Mr. J. D. Flavelle was informed of the discovery, and he assured the inspectors that he was in complete sympathy with the fish and game law, and if he discovered any violations by members of his staff the offenders would not remain in his employ for five minutes longer. The holes in the floor have been stopped up. The inspectors, when the fish have started running, will set a number of female bass below the dam and transfer them to the upper stream to help the restocking of Scugog Lake.

As noted in these columns, Mr. H. P. Kennedy, one of Peterboro's most enterprising merchants, has just completed great improvements in his George street meat market, making it one of the finest in Canada.

In addition to these improvements noted which cost over $3,000, Mr. Kennedy is having erected a large brick shed and stable 60x20, Mr. Wm. Daly being the contractor. He has also had additions built to his cattle and hog pens, and has increased the capacity of his refrigerator apartments. Mr. Kennedy's improvements and alterations at his slaughter house have been on a scale quite in keeping with those already mentioned.

Cured Catarrh by Breathing Hyomei.

There is one treatment for nasal catarrh which is based upon common sense, and at the same time, is thoroughly scientific.

Hyomei is not a cure-all; it is a specific for the cure of catarrhal troubles. Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the aromatic healing of Hyomei penetrates to the most remote part of the nose, throat, and lungs, healing all inflammation and killing the catarrhal germ wherever present. The complete Hyomei outfit sells for $1, and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life-time, and if more Hyomei is needed, extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that treats this disease without stomach dosing, applying the medication and healing where the germs are present.

Do not dose the stomach to cure nasal catarrh; breathe Hyomei.

Sarno Destroyed: Vesuvius Still Active

Ottajano Abandoned by Fear Stricken Populace---Stories of Hunger and Discouragement Heard Everywhere.

Naples, April 12.—The Mattino in its issue yesterday asserts that Sarno, a town in the Province of Salerno, has been destroyed.

It was impossible to verify the report this morning.

Sarno is a town of some 10,000 people, and is situated about ten miles east of Mount Vesuvius.

Naples, April 12.—The morning opened with the atmosphere oppressive and yellow with ashes from Mount Vesuvius, causing a feeling of apprehension regarding what the future may hold in store for this city and its vicinity. The volcano was completely hidden in a dense mass of smoke, the only other signs of activity being frequent and very severe detonations and deep rumblings.

From all quarters come reports of the accumulation of ashes, the flight of the terror-stricken inhabitants of towns and villages, the collapse of buildings the insufficiency of the relief measures, hunger and discouragement. It is no longer possible to reach the points which have suffered most severely. Even the soldiers detailed to guard the ruins at Ottajano have been recalled and the town left to its fate.

SITUATION LESS ALARMING.

The situation generally is considered to be less alarming than yesterday evening. The quantity of ashes being emitted is not so great and the rumblings are less frequent, though ashes and cinders are still falling over this city. There are about four inches of ashes in the streets.

According to the Mattino fifty houses, three churches and the municipal buildings at Somma have collapsed, the sand and cinders are six feet deep there and all the inhabitants have sought sought safety in flight.

Houses at Ottajano are still collapsing and most of the buildings in the lower and older part of that place have been destroyed or in ruins. The employes of a factory in Naples, this morning, fled in panic from the building and communicated their fears to so many people outside that the police were compelled to interfere and restore order. Many persons were injured during the panic.

PROF. MATTUCCI HOPEFUL.

Rome, April 12.—Professor Mattucci, in charge of the Observatory at Mount Vesuvius, telegraphed from there at ten o'clock this morning as follows. The seismic instruments show quieter records than yesterday. "If my words could influence the population they would be words of encouragement and sympathy, for I am more confident that Vesuvius will soon return to its normal conditions.

WIDESPREAD DAMAGE.

So widespread is the catastrophe caused by the eruption, it is estimated that it will require an organized body of 100,000 men, and the expenditure of many millions of dollars to raise houses made unsafe for habitation by the accumulation of ashes and cinders on the roofs; erect temporary huts of refuge for the thousands who have been obliged to flee from their homes, clear the roofs of buildings that may yet be saved; extricate from the ruins of fallen structures and bury the dead.

PRISONERS MUTINIED.

Naples, April 12.—The panic here is increasing, the prisoners in the city jail mutinied owing to fright, and succeeded in breaking open some of the doors inside the building, but were subdued by the guards. They are in a state of great excitement, however, requiring doubled guards.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Central Milling Co. Holds Annual General Meeting.

Mr. John Stothard, president, occupied the chair at the annual general meeting of the shareholders of the CENTRAL MILling Co., Limited, held on Tuesday afternoon. There was a good representation of stockholders. Mr. Geo K. Martin, auditor, for the company, presented his report, which was adopted. The yearly dividend will be payable at the office of the company, on and after May 1st, next.

Mr. G. K. Martin was reappointed auditor, and the old board of directors were unanimously re-elected as follows, John Stothart, D. Carlow, J. W. Hall, Peter Dawson, G. Taylor, James Finnie and J. G. Armstrong.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, the following appointments were made:

Pres.—John Stothart.
Vice-Pres.—D. Carlow.
Manager.—H. A. Malbern.
Sec-Treas.—M. W. Matabett.

THE BRANTFORD TRIP

Nos. Coms. of 57th Want Another Day Away.

A majority of the sergeants of the 57th Regiment, at a meeting held on Tuesday night, when the trip to Brantford was discussed, expressed themselves as strongly in favor of a three days' absence instead of two and a resolution was passed that the color-sergeants of each company should interview the men and ascertain their feeling on the subject. The result will be communicated to the officers. As now arranged, the regiment will leave here on Saturday night, June 30th for Brantford, and return on Monday evening, July 2nd. If the change carries the return trip will not be made until Tuesday night.

Union Plotters Have Fled.

New York, April 10.—There is anticipation of sensational revelations in the trial of Thomas Weir, one of the three men arrested on a charge of attempting to destroy property with dynamite. It was reported here today that several leaders of the Housesmiths' Union have disappeared from the city. Secret service men have been watching about a score of men suspected of complicity in plots to wreck various buildings. Several of these were union iron workers, and some have placed hundreds of miles between themselves and Jerome's office.

MR. ROGERS' SUCCESSOR

Mr. A. J. Grant, New Superintending Engineer.

The new superintending engineer of the Trent Valley canal, who takes the position recently resigned, under pressure, of Mr. R. B. Rogers, Mr. A. J. Grant, of Cobourg, whose headquarters are still at Ottawa, has arrived and is a guest at the Oriental. He called at the local office yesterday morning and got acquainted.

Mr. Grant went to Kirkfield yesterday evening to inspect the work on the lift lock there. He has been in this city only twice before and is very favorably impressed with its rapid and steady growth.

A NEW STEAMER

Capt. White Rebuilds the Fine Str. Water Lily for Rice Lake.

It is a well established fact among those who have taken the beautiful trip down the Otonabee river to Rice Lake that nowhere in Canada is there a more interesting, more pleasingly scenic or more nerve-soothing route than that down the tortuous reaches on our placid Otonabee river, between vine and shrub embowered banks, and waving rice and lily covered waters.

As noted in a former issue of The Times Capt. W. White, than whom there is not a more experienced navigator in our northern inland waters, recently purchased from the old reliable Calcutt Line, the fine steamer Water Lily. Capt. White is now having extensive alterations made in this right good ship. When Ship Carpenter Holley has completed his present work on the steamer Water Lily, she will be 90 feet long, with 16 feet beam and, it is calculated will make 12 miles an hour against the current, as her boilers are very powerful and adapted to the requirements of a much larger boat than the Water Lily previous to the present alterations, was.

One feature of Capt. White's present improvements is that, under supervision of the local electrical expert, Mr. Johnston Greer, a complete electric light plant is being installed in this boat; the electric lighting will include a very powerful search light, so that those taking the night trips will be able for hundreds of yards ahead, to enjoy the scenery and route. This powerful search light will also enable the boat to avoid all possible danger of the steamer running into half submerged snags or shoals.

Under the new conditions there is no doubt but what the Steamer Water Lily will receive great patronage during the coming season.

KINDERGARTEN DEMONSTRATION

Of Miss Estelle Foy's Class at the Y. M. C. A. a Big Success.

At the Y.M.C.A. hall last night a large and appreciative audience gathered to hear the excellent musical kindergarten demonstration given by pupils of Miss Estelle Foy of the Peterboro Conservatory of Music staff.

The entertainment consisted of a highly pleasing exemplification of the primary stages of pianoforte instruction by kindergarten methods, clearly demonstrating the beneficial results to be derived by the study of this first course in piano training at the conservatory.

The program was very acceptably supplemented by Miss Daisy Fawcett in song, and little Miss Mabel Pringle in recitation. The effort of the latter showed marked talent, and promise of exceptional skill in elocutionary presentations.

Local Government Officials.

From the Report of the Minister of Public Works for year ending June 30th, 1905, under the heading "Officials employed on slides and locks," we learn that Mr. S. Clegg, superintendent employed at this city on March 1st, 1901, got $800 a year. Mr. G. H. Greene, clerk employed March 1st, 1900, got $400 a year, with $200 for Department of Railways and Canals. Mr. John Dinwoodie, Lakefield, slide master got $120, with $240 for the Department of Railways and Canals.

Terror of Spring is Sickness

What Are You Doing to Protect Your Weak Body Against Spring Fevers?

A delay gives the germs and weakness a better chance to take hold.

Don't wait, think of your small resisting powers, and begin building up today!

For weakness, overwork and debility the doctors prescribe Ferrozone; let it help you now.

Vitality and power are instilled into the blood; this means new strength for all weak organs.

The fire of youth will dance in your veins, and new found energy will increase your desire to work.

Ferrozone supplies the nourishment and tissue-building material your system lacks. Isn't this "a reason why."

From Combermere, Ont., Mrs. Jno. Oram writes as follows: "For a number of years I was sickly in the springtime. I felt tired, nervous and had headaches. My blood was weak and damp days brought on rheumatism. My nerves, system was unstrung, and I felt utterly worn out. Ferrozone revived me in a short time. In two days my appetite increased and I could feel a building up process going on. This great tonic made a new person of me, and I don't think a more strengthening medicine for the spring can be found."

Wouldn't it be just fine to get back your old time spirits and vigor? Easily done with "Ferrozone;" commence today. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

A PLEA FOR SINCERITY.

This journal hopes to soon see the day when newspapers will commence to give the news as it appears, and discontinue that sickening and fulsome flattery, of which the reading public is becoming tired. Why is it that when a young man gets married, who is known to be a tin-horn gambler and disreputable snob, the press of his town will invariably refer to him as an exemplary young man, with bright prospects; and when some old whisky soak, who has always been a disgrace to the town and a course to society, turns up his toes, the local paper refers to him as a loss to the community and the departure of one of our most honored citizens. And when some coarse featured young lady of the town who wears number eight shoes, chews gum on the streets and spends her time lying about some other girl and trying to show off in public, gets married, the newspapers must say she was one of the society belles of the city and a prize any man might be proud to win. Such articles as these, when read by people who know the facts, are very tiresome, and The Times will hail with joy the day when newspapers—especially country papers—will improve this line of news, and give praise only where it is merited.

PURE MAPLE SYRUP.

Parliament could not discuss a more timely subject than the purity of maple syrup. This is the season when an old man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of the good old sugar bush, where they got the syrup out of real maple trees and it had the flavor of the wild wood. But when he attempts in these enlightened days to order a few quarts of the delectible fluid by telephone, the beverage that comes to his order fills him fuller of doubts than of delight. No wonder that he sighs because his "wheats and syrups" are not as good as mother used to make.

One member—Mr. Ganong, of Charlotte, N. B.—laid the blame on the farmers. He said that they produce a syrup which has to be clarified in order to make it fit for use; and that, if they turned out a better article there would be no necessity for an anti-adulteration law. We confess that we do not quite follow Mr. Ganong. Just why it should be necessary to adulterate maple syrup with glucose and common sugar and things in order to "clarify" it, is not as clear to our unexpert knowledge of the matter as Mr. Ganong thinks the syrup should be. The argument needs "clarifying" more than the syrup.

The farmers may not be all equally careful; but it is not a difficult task to "clarify" the genuine article. Most housekeepers will undertake to handle the syrup as the farmers deliver it, provided that they have secured all their ingredients from the maple tree. And this is a question in which the farmer is interested. If people were weaned off maple syrup by being cheated with adulterated imitations which are by no means "just as good," the demand for maple syrup will decline and the keeping of maple orchards become unprofitable. Already some who own them are talking of cutting them up for firewood. But the genuine syrup sold under circumstances which guarantee its purity, ought to bring a good price; and the men who sell it ought to be protected.

DOWIE IN CHICAGO

Prophet Declares He Will Take Possession of Zion City by Legal Means.

Chicago, April 1.—John Alexander Dowie arrived in Chicago at 9 a.m., yesterday over the Wabash Railway. Instead of going direct to Zion City he proceeded immediately to the Auditorium Annex in Chicago. A deputy sheriff attempted to serve some kind of a legal document upon him but one of Dowie's followers pushed the deputy sheriff aside and prevented service.

Upon arriving at the hotel Dowie made the following statement:

"The fight that I will make to retain my property in Zion will be a legal one. I do not think it wise for me at this time to proceed at once to Zion, as I fear my enemies have Zeet a trap and would do bodily injury to me. I will not state now just what these legal steps will be, because I am not certain of them myself. As soon as I have rested in my apartment, I shall summon my legal advisers, and then I may give the Associated Press a full statement covering my purposes and my plans. I shall not, however, turn back from Zion, but as soon as I am armed with the proper weapons, which will be the necessary legal documents, I shall proceed there and take possession. That will probably be some time today.

Dowie was in excellent spirits and his health upon reaching Chicago was better than at any time during the trip from Mexico.

RARE OPPORTUNITY

For Lucrative Investment on the Ground Floor.

As is well known to all who invest or take interest, in mining stocks, or possibilities, the word "Bullfrog" in mining circles is synonymous for gold and rapid road to fortune. The Bullfrog gold district is today one of the richest on the world's surface and includes mining claims that not only pay big dividends to mine owners at present, but contain ore of rare quality in gold that is practically inexhaustible.

The Bullfrog Keystone Co., whose adv. appears in another column of this issue, has a proposition before the investing public now that contains great possibilities, and even more, almost certain probabilities.

This company now owns the Silver King group of six claims, containing 125 acres; they also have a mill site most advantageously located on the river. Their property is in the far-famed Bullfrog Mining District in Nevada, 4 1-2 miles south of the rapidly growing and wealthy town of Beatty.

As regards work already done by the company, they have sunk 2 deep shaft and numerous test shafts all with good shows of ore. The assays of the ore runs all the way from $33.50 to $689 per ton.

The par value, of shares in the Bullfrog Keystone Co., is $1 each, but for a limited time are offered for five cents each.

One great feature to be thoroughly investigated by intending purchasers not only of mining, but of any kind of shares, is the personel of a company's directorate, as in this, to a great extent lies the credibility of such company's statements. A brief glance at the class of men who control the destinies of the Bullfrog Keystone Co., is sufficient to assure the most sceptical.

Those seeking an investment that will assuredly prove lucrative and at the same time safe, as far as any mining proposition could be would do well to get a block of shares in the Bullfrog Keystone Co., before the price raises. ### TENDERS FOR DREDGING

TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging," will be received up to and including Wednesday, April 18, 1906, for the dredging required at the following places in the Province of Ontario during the present year: Pentanguishene, Meaford, Fesserton, Goderich, Point Edward, Fort Stanley, Port Burwell, Rondeau, River Thames (mouth), Owen Sound, Nigger Island Channel, and Trenton.

Combined specifications and forms of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of filing tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

The Department is not bound to accept the lowest or any of the tenders.

By order,

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 260 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 17th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

The Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Co., of Erie, Kan.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 160 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 500 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery and 60 acres; three producing gas wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $200,000, $150,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $250 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 60 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearance of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally contiguous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and substantial dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

"Would you like to hear how my first lesson in obedience went on, Bernard?" she asked.

"If you would like to tell me," he replied.

"I waited up for him until he came in that night. I crushed my bitter anger and my hot rebellion, and greeted him as kindly as I could. I went up to him with that crimson mark still on my face, and asked him to bury all past unpleasantness and begin life anew—to try and make each other happier if we could. He answered me, Bernard, with a low, contemptuous laugh that made me—ah! well, never mind how it made me feel. He laughed at me, and insulted me, until I could have struck him down; only Heaven knows how I kept back the tears from my eyes and the sobs from my lips. It was an utter failure, Bernard. I told you how it would be before I humbled my pride before him—to be scoffed at for my pains."

"Well?" said Bernard Chesleigh, pityingly.

"Well, I would rather die, than humble myself to him again—that is all, Bernard. It is a terrible mistake to think that the embers of love can be awakened in a heart where they have once died out.

"It is of no use, Bernard," she repeated hopelessly. "Waldemar and I can never get along well together. He thinks that—and I know it. I am tired of hoping for a better state of things. No woman should coax her husband for the love that should be hers. I am too proud to do it. I cannot make the first advances even though I craved it, though in truth I do not."

He knew Reine's nature—the necessity of living in the atmosphere of affection, and his heart went out to her in a great throb of pity.

CHAPTER XXII.

Bernard Chesleigh gazed pityingly at the beautiful face.

"Promise me that you will not be discouraged with this first attempt to win your husband back to his old allegiance, Reine," he said earnestly, "even though you have met with slight encouragement so far. Great victories must be valiantly fought for, you know."

"I will do my best, but it will be a very poor 'best,' I fear," said the girl, holding out her hand to him.

He bent over it a moment—that little white hand that should have been his—then released it.

The next instant he was standing by the Park gate alone; the natty, red-cushioned sleigh, with its occupant, had vanished from sight, hidden by an abrupt curve of the road.

Poor Reine! so fatally fair, her beauty had been a curse to her. He asked himself how it would all end.

There was one thing that was quite positive—he could not, he must not see Reine again. He must leave New York at once. Better fly from danger than court it.

Reine rode listlessly enough through the Park. Hundreds of gaily caparisoned equipages dashed past her, and more than one cast a backward glance at Reine, but she did not see them, so intent was she upon her own thoughts.

Gay, chattering voices, together with the merry sound of sleigh-bells, rang out on the crisp air; but, just as Reine turned her horse about, she was startled by the sound of a familiar voice, pealing out in hilarious laughter.

She raised her eyes with a sudden start, and the sight that she saw made the hot blood course like lava through her veins, her heart beat, and a sudden mist gather before her eyes.

In a sleigh that flashed past her with the rapidity of lightning, she had beheld Waldemar Waldron. He was not alone. A young and exquisitely lovely girl sat beside him—a young girl with a laughing, dimpled face, a crimson mouth, flushed cheeks, and eyes flashing like stars.

Even in that meteoric glimpse, Reine could not help but notice how lovely the dark, glowing face was; and the rapt expression that rested on Waldemar's as he inclined his handsome head toward her.

Reine drew back, pale and breathless. Evidently neither of them had observed her. Reine was the last person that Waldron was thinking of at that particular moment.

Reine never remembered how she drove home through the crowded thoroughfares, her heart was in such a whirl of bitter emotions. She had been home an hour or more when Waldemar came to luncheon.

He was in capital good humor, singing a snatch of the latest opera as he entered. Reine went up to him, timidly placing two letters in his hand that had arrived for him in the morning mail.

"I had a long and weary wait for you this forenoon, Waldemar," she said. "Had you forgotten that you promised to take me out sleighing?"

She quite believed he would tell her frankly just what had detained him, and who his companion was with whom she had seen him in Central Park.

She had yet to learn the depth of falsity in Waldemar Waldron's nature. He gave a sudden start of surprise. His fair, indolent face flushed hotly.

He had forgotten it most certainly, but it would never do to admit it. He must resort to a subterfuge of some kind.

"You had a long wait, did you? Well, by George, that was careless of me to forget mentioning to you that I had a very important matter to attend to which would prevent me from accompanying you. I had to meet a man—"

The violent fit of coughing which attacked him then seemed a just retribution for the prevarication on his lips.

Reine drew back, scorn and wonder of pride flashing in her eyes, her white lips trembling.

"An important matter to attend to!"

Her face flushed with bitter anger as she listened. Was divine a lovely girl through the Park with an important matter that he should forget her?

A quick retort rose to her lips, but ere she could give it utterance, Waldemar Waldron sprang from his chair, clutching nervously at the open letter he held in his hand, his face dark with passion, then turning fairly livid.

"Affairs are reaching a crisis," he muttered, crushing the letter deep down into his pocket with something like a groan.

At sight of his distress Reine forgot her pride and her terrible anger. In a moment she was kneeling beside him.

"What is the matter, Waldemar?" she urged. "Have you bad news?"

"Bad news! It is the worst possible news, Reine," he cried, desperately. "Every one is pushing me for money, and unless I can make an immediate raise from some source or other, we are completely ruined."

PALMER MOUNTAIN MINES

EXAMINED BY A NOTED EXPERT

His first examination was made when the tunnel had been driven into the mountain 4,200 feet. He made a great number of assays, and thus sums up his findings:

"SUMMARY OF FOREGOING ASSAYS"

"An assay of all the samples of surface ores carefully mixed and reduced to an assay sample shows Gold $16.0z (per ton).

"An average of assays taken in the tunnel as can be verified by above reports shows Gold $27.27 (per ton)."

Many of the assays showed values as high as $500 per ton. By selection of samples phenomenal values can be shown, but Mr. Browne is a business man as well as an engineer and is not misleading us with specially selected samples. His conclusions are based upon average values.

A SECOND REPORT

was made when the tunnel had been driven to its present length,—upwards of 4,000 feet. The numerous assays which were made at this time revealed high values in Gold. The crowning work of the engineer was attained when he collected samples gathered at random from all the surface workings and those found on the tunnel levels. The whole mass collected weighed 34 tons. From this lot (34 tons) there was obtained $716.41—which is equal to $20.98 per ton. This we regard as a test which establishes the value of our ores.

WATER POWER

The report lays great stress on the value of our Water Power. We have great satisfaction in saying that this important adjunct is now completed. The Company is now lighting the Town of Loomis.

100 STAMP MILL

Attention and effort are now being devoted to the last requisite, namely, a Mill for the treatment of the ores. The Company plans to let the contract for this mill immediately. With ores running one-half the assay values as shown by extensive tests, its earning capacity will be 15 per cent. on the par value of stock which will equal 30 per cent. to stockholders who purchase while the price is 50 cents per share.

NOTE.—The foregoing offer of stock at 50 cents per share is good until April 15th. After that date the price will be 60 cents per share. Prompt action is therefore necessary to secure the benefit of the present price.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS.

Schools Close To-day at Noon.

The collegiate institute and all the public schools will close today at noon, for the Easter holidays, and will not open again until Monday morning, April 23rd. Tokens of regret among the children of the city are conspicuous by their absence.

Oddfellows' Meeting Adjourned.

The meeting of the committees in connection with the grand lodge meeting of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, called for Tuesday evening, was adjourned until Thursday evening, April 19, on account of members being absent through other pressing engagements.

Easter Holidays.

Easter Holiday rates, via Canadian Pacific Railway, single fare for the round trip, good going April 13th, 19th, 14th, 15th and 16th, returning April 17th.

Commencing May 6th, 1906, a double daily express service will be resumed between Montreal and Vancouver.

Now is the proper time to book passages to Great Britain and Europe. Prepaid tickets issued to bring out your friends.

For tickets and all information, see W. McIlroy, City Passenger Agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, 243 George street.

Getting Ready for the Summer.

Mr. F. G. Young, purser of the fine steamer Stony Lake, and Mr. Fred Young, engineer of the popular steamer Majestic, were in the city yesterday making arrangingments for the coming stony Lake summer Service. These gentlemen report that these sturdy northern lake craft have had a general overhauling and will be in good shape to handle the summer business. There is no doubt but what the traffic on Kawartha Lakes, during the coming summer season will be heavier than ever, and that the Majestic and Stony Lake will, as in years gone by, be able to handle it to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Gone Into Cold Storage.

The Toronto papers contained the following motion, which was made at Osgoode Hall on Tuesday; Peterboro Cold Storage Co.—Grayson Smith, for petitioner, moved for order for winding-up of company, W. E. Middleton for company and liquidator, contra. Enlarged for one week. Notice to be published in... town Peterboro PAPERS for Thursday or Friday next.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—True Blue weather.

—The Women's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church will meet this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

—A kindergarten exhibition was given last evening by several pupils under the direction of Miss Estelle Foy at the Y.M.C.A.

—Two more tug loads of men under Foreman Archie Patterson left yesterday for the Dickson Co. drives.

—Another sign of spring is that Mr. Cooney, caretaker of Victoria Park, has commenced work on the parks again.

—The National and Snowden House, have raised their rates from $1.50 per day to $2.00, owing to increased expenses of management.

—Yesterday Messrs. Mitchell and McGrath, the local contractors, secured the contract for erecting a fine brick veneered residence for Mr. Thos. Whibbs of Douro.

—Much favorable comment was made by pedestrians along George St. yesterday over the miniature water wheel revolving in the window of Mason the George street florist.

—Messrs. E. Howden and Thornton yesterday shipped 140 choice light hogs for the Montreal market. The farmers of this county have great facilities for shipping from this city.

—The officers of the 57th Regiment have received an invitation to attend the annual ball of the 38th Regiment of Brantford, to be held in that city on April 20th. The Rangers will likely be represented.

—About 20 muskrat hunters are now encamped along the river between Dark's Landing and the lake, awaiting the breaking up of the ice in the timber and among the swamps.—Lindsay Post.

—A sample picture of the deputation of the Trent Valley Canal at Ottawa on Thursday, has been received, and is now on exhibition at Times Bookstore. Orders left here will have prompt attention. Order early.

—The Belleville Old Boys and Girls now resident in Toronto are coming home again in July. Most assuredly we'll have to open a bottle of talk and a paper of tacks when the old timers come back again.—Belleville Intelligencer.

—A special meeting of the St. Paul's Young Men's Guild was held yesterday evening at the close of the prayer meeting to bid goodbye to Rev. W. M. Maskay, the retiring assistant pastor of St. Paul's church, who leaves for Toronto today.

—Parties contemplating visiting friends this week, should see our assortment of Easter souvenirs. Dainty pieces of china with Easter greetings, also egg shape jewel or trinket holders with hand-painted view of Lift lock on each. Prices start at ten cents up to thirty cents each. Times Bookstore.

—In the year ending June 30th, 1905, the local Custom House cost the Dominion Government $307 salary and supplies for engineer, $288 for heating, $70.81 for lighting, $75 and a total of $710.96. The Post Office for the same purpose cost respectively, $333.93, $331.98, $547.50 (heating), $50, making a total expense of $1,270.40.

Teachers Leave for the Holidays.

The following teachers engaged in our local schools will spend the holidays out of town;—Miss Walker in Bradford; Miss Perrin, in Bellleboro; Miss Oulton, in Campbellford; Miss Burns, Caledonia; Miss Bass, Allendale; Miss Ranaic, Toronto; Mr. Kelly, Port Hope, Miss Lockhead, Centreville.

The Sub-Target Gun Coming.

As noted some weeks ago, the department offered the local Board of Education to send them, under certain most favorable conditions, a sub-target gun. One of these the 57th regiment will add to their equipment. Col. Miller has sent in the necessary requisition to the militia department at Ottawa.

It will be used principally for the instruction of beginners in shooting, it being much better suited for this purpose than the ordinary rifle.

Mr. R. A. Dutton Gets a Snap.

Mr. R. A. Dutton, of George street, yesterday received half a carload of canned and potted goods that have literally had a "baptism of fire." It will be remembered that among other firms affected by the Toronto fire, was that of Messrs. Armour, & Co., of Chicago. Mr. Dutton ascertained almost at his own door half a carload of canned goods which being enclosed in wooden cases only and the paper wrappers discolored by the fire. These goods being in makeups calculated to resist considerable heat are as good as new. They are now on sale at half their regular wholesale prices at Mr. Dutton's.

Fine Meat for Easter.

Mr. M. W. Porter, the enterprising George street butcher, has within the past few days purchased some exceptionally fine cattle and lambs for his Easter trade. His purchases include four two-year-old steers, weighing 5225 pounds dressed, fed by Mr. H. McKee of Smith; four Oxford Down lambs from Mr. Doyell of South Monaghan, and eight fatted calf. These animals were purchased through Mr. Robt Howden, one of Peterboro's best posted buyers, and will be cut up by Mr. Fleetwood, the veteran artist in that business.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

THE PORT HOPE STRIKE

The Brewery Running With a Full Staff of Men.

The strike of the employes of the Port Hope Brewery has fizzled out. The company has filled the places of the strikers, and everything is running smoothly.

Mr. Alex. Elliott, the capable president of the company, was seen by The Times yesterday, and said that a few of the best men among the strikers had been taken back and the places of the others had been filled without any trouble.

$10 Eastern Excursions to Washington

Via Lehigh Valley Railroad, Friday, April 13th. Tickets good 10 days, and only $10 from Suspension Bridge, Niagara Falls, to Washington and return. Stop-over allowed at Baltimore and Philadelphia returning. Side trip, Philadelphia to Atlantic City and return, $1.75. R., 10 King street east, Toronto. Guides of Washington and Philadelphia free. Grand excursion to New York, Friday April 27th. Tickets only $9.00, good ten days.

Peterboro's Game Wardens for 1905.

The report of the Ontario Game Commission for the year 1905 has just been issued. From it we take the names of deputy wardens for the County of Peterboro, as follows;

Boate, J. R., Fowler's Corners.
Fitzgerald, Geo. W., Peterboro.
Moore, O. H., Keene.
Moore, F. J., Lakefield.
Nesbitt, Thomas, Hall's Bridge.
Rutherford, Thomas, Peterboro.

From the same report we learn that the Hudson Bay Company at Rat Portage, during the same year as above, had 270 muskrat skins raised from them.

A Good Hint for Peterboro.

Lindsay Post says; Mr. D. C. Trew had his favorite fox terrier, "Jack," poisoned Tuesday. Mr. Trew naturally feels his loss keenly. The owners of dogs pay a tax to the town and should have protection for their animals. The town should offer a generous reward for conviction of those who are poisoning dogs, or are guilty of throwing out poison carelessly.

MILK DIET

Not So Good as a Better.

A merchant in a thriving interior town writes;

"I can recommend Grape-Nuts food to all, whether well or sick, as a preventative of, or a cure for many ailments.

"For about six years I was unable to be in the store much of the time. I was suffering from gastritis and constipation, which continued me to the house part of the time and at last put me to bed and kept me there for almost a year. I ran down in weight from 180 to 98 pounds, trying to live on a milk diet. But I could seldom retain that, nor anything else of any account, on my stomach.

"The doctors finally gave me up; then a friend advised me to change my food and use Grape-Nuts food and Postum Food Coffee. I followed this advice and watched results.

"I commenced to get well at once, and in the first eight months I gained about 40 pounds. The gastritis and constipation left me in a very short time, and in the six years that have followed I have enjoyed the best of health and attend regularly to my business. I eat Grape-Nuts every day, and usually make my entire breakfast off of a few teaspoonfuls of it and a cup of Two of Postum Food coffee." Names given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS.

SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the untutored Indian had learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible that she might do the work and hed him hunt. Therefore, he dug "papoose root" for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower pelvic region, with backache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down pains or distress should not go unheeded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and generally effect a permanent cure if persisted in for a reasonable length of time. The "Favorite Prescription" is a harmless agent, being wholly extracted from native medicinal roots, without a drop of alcohol in its make up, whereas all other medicines, put up for sale through druggists for woman's peculiar ailments, contain large quantities of spirituous liquors, which are very harmful, especially to delicate women. "Favorite Prescription" contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on each bottle wrapper. It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and sickly women, who are "worn-out," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

BUILDING IS BRISK

Peterboro's Building Boom is Steadily Gaining Every Year.

Notwithstanding the very many houses and other structures erected within the past two years in this city, there seems to be no cessation in local building operations. Among the many new buildings to go up in Peterboro, this summer, are The new public school in the south ward, the central fire station, and probably All Saints' new church, the buildings of the Brinton Carpet Company, the Peterboro Sandstone Brick Company, now in course of construction, and very many others.

Ald. Johnston has been awarded the contracts for the following new houses in the city, viz., a fine brick house on Homewood avenue, by Mr. Arthur Ash, a brick residence by Mr. Joseph Johnston, on Park street, and a double house on Rubidge street, by Mr. Geo. Benton.

HUMAN SAILBOAT

Col. Deacon, Lindsay Meets With Unique Accident.

The Lindsay Post says;

Our citizens will regret to learn of an accident that befell Col. Deacon yesterday, (While on his way home from the post office about noon, the stiff breeze gave him a lot of trouble in holding his umbrella in position to [illegible] the rain, and just as he reached the corner of Glenelg and Lindsay streets, a particularly fierce gust caught his umbrella and whirled him into the middle of the roadway, where he stumbled and fell. He was badly shaken up and likewise received several nasty scratches and contusions on his face. He was helped to his home nearby by Mr. Robt. Graham of the Flavelle Milling Co. staff.

DIAMONDS AND DIAMOND MINING

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is ever increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining enterprises of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 42 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums for machinery and mining appurtenances. From careful tests made during these six months we have determined that we have a larger diamond field than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantages of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

We are conducting a legitimate business enterprise upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 10 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $230,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and is all that we will offer for sale.

We shall be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our office, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

France Building More Battleships

Europe as Well as the United States Is Spurred to Effort by the Launching of the British Dreadnaught.

Paris, April 13.—The Ministry of M. to M. Thompson, merely calls for keeping the French navy up to its proper standard, without exceeding the credit of $25,000,000 devoted to building purposes. But M. Thompson asserts that the situation has been modified by the new program adopted in England and also more particularly in Germany, where the construction of five armored cruisers and other ships was decided upon last November.

M. Thompson is greatly in love with the plans for six new battleships. Their speed will be nineteen knots, and they will carry four guns of 12-inch and twelve guns of 9.4-inch. Thompson does not believe the armament of the Dreadnought, ten 12-inch guns, superior to this. As for speed, the Dreadnought would steam at a rate of twenty-one knots, but this is owing to the installation of the Turbine, a type which has been tried in France and found too expensive.

A FRAIL BEDSTEAD

Local Citizen Mistakes Lace Curtains Out Stretching for a Bed.

This day before yesterday a local hotel keeper was made, mad all the way through; a wet blan would look like a pleasant smile compared with that hotel man's feelings. The cause of his anger was thusly. A local citizen recently in from the woods had celebrated his return to the temptations of city life, by taking on a barge of wet goods far beyond his capacity of carrying.

Not recognising that he had already exceeded his limit, he went into a local hotel and asked the bartender for "one more. The dispenser of wet goods refused, telling him he had taken too much already and that he had better go to bed.

Now the man with the load aboard is a very large man, and has a disposition as kind as his stature is long. When refused a drink, he big man staggered into a room near the bar. In this room was a large carpet stretching frame, with six pairs of lace curtains stretching thereon. The frame was placed upon five sacks of flour chairs. The big fellow on seeing the outfit, flinging his hat in one corner and his coat in another, with a flying leap, jumped upon the "bed." In a moment there was a crash, as the frame broke, and a large-sized man and twelve lace curtains were mixed up in a knot that baffled description or quick extraction.

This large man went down to his pocket for a large prize for the curtains, paying over what he had in his jeans, and giving an I.O.U. for the balance.

REMARKABLY RICH ORE TO WORK ON AT THE BEGINNING

Ore taken from the twenty-foot shaft on the SILVER KING No. 1 claim assayed NINE HUNDRED AND THREE OUNCES OF SILVER and $18.60 GOLD PER TON, and it seems scarcely possible, keeping in view the history of the BULLFROG DISTRICT, that this mine will not develop into an EXTRAORDINARY RICH ONE AND GREAT DIVIDEND PAYER with such ore to begin with, and we have good reasons for believing that

OUR LOCAL RACES

Mr. A. Rountree, Sec'y of Peterboro Turf Club Has Received Several Applications.

In addition to the report obtained in yesterday's issue, regarding American and Canadian book-makers who had written for privileges for the five races arranged for May 24th, and which are indicative of the importance of Peterboro as a racing town, we add that yesterday Secretary Rountree of the Turf Club, received notification of several entries for the races meet to be held on that date. The races are attracting considerable attention. Arrangements will likely be made to have some athletic sports in connection with the races.

Young People's Meeting.

A special Young People's meeting will be held at Bethany Tabernacle this evening for the purpose of making arrangements for regular young people's meetings. The meeting will be addressed by the pastor. All interested are cordially invited.

The Farmers' Bank.

As noted a few days ago, the stock of the recently incorporated Farmers' Bank of Canada, is now being placed on the Canadian market. It is pleasing to note that this stock is being rapidly subscribed for, owing not only to the undeniable reliability and high standing of the gentlemen acting as directors, but to the easy terms of payment granted. The shares are being sold at par value $100 per share, and will, no doubt, as has been the case with nearly every Canadian bank, very soon be at a high premium.

"The Holy City."

We are pleased to note that on May 1st, this city will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the strongest plays on the American stage. Messrs. Gordon & Bennett will on that date present in the Grand Opera House, that great Biblical play, "The Holy City" rendered by a very strong and carefully chosen cast. This play which is a direct dramatisation of the "Book of John," is one that by its historic significance and powerful dramatic effects will undoubtedly attract an immense audience from every class of the community.

LOCAL HOCKEY CLUB

Holds Annual Meeting and Elects Officers.

Strange to say in the face of the wonderful deeds wrought by our local Hockey Club, their annual meeting held Wednesday night in the Council chamber was not very largely attended.

The new board of directors was elected, and the same gentlemen with the exception of Mr. R. Denne replacing Mr. Jas. Hamilton, retired, were the only changes that took place on the board of this club which is the pride of our city. The directors for this year are: Messrs. A. H. Stratton, T. H. G. Denne, W. H. Hall, W. G. Morrow, R. Denne, H. R. H. Kennor and J. S. Knapman.

Whilst no dividend will be paid this year, owing to a series of unfortunate, but unavoidable and unexpected misfortunes, $300 will be paid off the mortgage instead, which will reduce the amount standing against the club to $2000, during the last two years the debt having been reduced one-half.

Prior to the meeting of the shareholders, the directors met, and discussed the question of paying a dividend, the decision being that it would be inadvisable to do so.

Those present at the meeting of the shareholders were Messrs. A. H. Stratton, W. G. Morrow, H. R. H. Kenner, T. H. G. Denne, R. Denne, W. H. Hall, J. S. Knapman, F. D. Kerr, A. Moore, J. E. A. Fitzgerald.

MR. MACKAY HONORED

Y.P.S.C.E. of St. Paul's Church Presents Books to Popular Retiring Pastor.

On Wednesday evening a very pleasing function was held in St. Paul's church when Rev. W. M. Mackay, who is leaving Peterboro, was pleasantly surprised by this Bible class, the members of which presented him with a valuable umbrella and a handsome fountain pen. Mr. Rosenburgh made a short address referring to the regret felt at Mr. Mackay's departure, and the high esteem in which he is held by all those with whom he has been associated in Peterboro.

At the meeting of the Young Men's Guild on St. Paul's church, the same night, Mr. Mackay was presented with set of the twentieth century New Testament, in twelve volumes, and-comely bound. Mr. R. F. McWilliams made the presentation expressing the general regret with which his departure is viewed.

Application for a License.

Hamilton, April 12.—The proprietor of the Waldorf Hotel was charged at the police court yesterday morning by Rev. R. Housbell, a colored preacher, with refusing to give food and lodging to members of a colored concert company that appeared here about ten days ago. The prosecution was not ready, and the case was enlarged.

A colored man has made application to the commissioners for a license for a colored hotel.

Ulcer of the Stomach

Insidious Nature of the Disease--How to Recognize and Cure It.

Ulcer of the stomach may exist for years without very marked symptoms, excepting those caused by indigestion. In good health, the stomach resists the action of the gastric juices, but when weakened, the membrane is badly nourished and the digestive fluids act upon it as well as upon the food, keeping up until perforation of the stomach occurs. In advanced cases of ulcer of the stomach there is much discomfort after eating, with a constant gnawing sensation between meals, pain from the pit of the stomach back to the shoulder blade.

At the first symptoms of indigestion, treatment should at once be started with Mi-o-na. This is a scientific remedy adapted specifically to one purpose, the cure of stomach.

Mi-o-na is not a patent or secret remedy, but is a combination of the purest and most reliable of remedies for strengthening the digestive organs and building up the whole system. It costs but 50c. a box. Use it for a few days and there is no reason why you should not be able to eat any food you like at any time without fear of distress.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

LOCAL MAN SUCCEEDS

Mr. W. J. McQuinn Doing Well in the Theatrical World.

From the New York Clipper, the leading American theatrical organ, we gather the following which mentions Mr. W. J. McQuinn, a former resident of this city. The Clipper says;

"We are in our twenty-third week in Ontario and business is great. We are playing mostly return dates and working under the different societies of the province, which is the only way to work this Dominion. Lent is on us, and it is surprising how the people turn out to see us. So many towns in Canada are the hardest to work during that particular period. We played Marlbank, Ont., and turned people away for three nights, working in connection with the Ladies' Aid Society, and giving a percentage to the Japanese Relief Fund. At Odessa we played three nights in connection with the band, which was a financial success. We are to play a return date at Cobourg, March 17th. Manager Barrett writes Mr. McQuinn that the house is sold out. Geo. A. Grant, shack wire and juggler, joined us at Brantville, Ont. The company now numbers twelve people, and is working its way into Quebec.

TODAY'S SERVICES

The Good Friday service in the east ward Anglican church, St. Luke's will be as follows;

11.30 a.m., Morning Prayer; 12—3, Service of devotion commemorating the three hours agont of our Most Holy Redeemer upon the Cross. Short addresses on the Seven Words from the Cross. Those who are not able to remain for the entire service, are requested to come and go while the hymns are being sung. A collection will be taken at the door to help the missionary work among the Jews. Eight p.m., illustrated lecture on the Holy Land and scenes of Christ's life and ministry.

ALL SAINTS.

Services will be held in All Saints' church today at 10.30 a.m., and eight p.m.

ST. JOHN'S.

Special services in St. John's church today will be held. Morning prayer at 11 a.m., service for children at 3 p.m., and Evening Prayer at 8 p.m. At the evening service Sir John Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be sung by the choir.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Service preparatory to the communion will be held in St. Paul's church tonight at eight o'clock. Rev. Mr. Potter will speak. The session will meet at 7.45 o'clock.

GEORGE STREET.

Service will be held in George street church this morning at 11 o'clock.

CHARLOTTE STREET.

There will be a Good Friday service in Charlotte street church today at 11 o'clock.

Grand Oratorio Tonight.

This is the night that "The Crucifixion," a sacred oratorio, is to be presented by the choir of St. John's church. Mr. Devey, the organist of the church, yesterday informed a Times representative that this oratorio has been thoroughly practiced and will be a rare musical as well as deeply impressive sacred rendering of high class music.

New Zealand Exhibition.

Ottawa, April 12.—So far about fifty Dominion manufacturers have decided to exhibit at the International exhibition to be held at Christchurch, New Zealand, beginning November 1.

EASTER MUSIC

St. John's Church will Hear a Splendid Selection on Sunday.

The choral portion of the services at St. John's on Easter Sunday will be, as usual, of a very special and pleasing nature. The musical selections will be as follows;

Matins, 11 a.m.
Responses, Tallis.
Te Deum, Dykes in F.
Anthems, "Benedictus," Marshall; "This is the Day," F. V. Hall.
Communion Service—12 a.m., Woodward in E flat.

Evensong (Full Choral), 7 p.m.
Responses, Tallis; Psalms.
Cathedral Psalter; Service.
Plummer in E flat. Anthem.
"Hosanna," Granier; and "King of Kings," Simper.
"Hallelujah" Chorus, (Organ).

No Strike This Year.

New York, April 13.—It is a practically foregone conclusion that there will be no anthracite coal strike this year. It was learned that the mine workers' leaders at Ashland house headquarters strongly favor the acceptance of the operators' proposition with, possibly, a few trifling amendments.

COLONIAL COUNCILLORS.

London, April 12.—At a Colonial office meeting for the discussion of Institute meeting for the discussion of Australian immigration, Hon. R. R. Wise, of New South Wales, declared that Australia urgently needed a High Commissioner like Canada, and endorsed the idea that the Commissioners of Canada, Australia and Africa should then form a sub-committee of the Cabinet to be consulted in Imperial affairs.

The Devil and the Deep Sea.

When coffee gets a person well within its grip and the drug habit is fixed then comes twisting and turning to get free.

With many people, if the coffee is left off at breakfast a headache sets in, and if coffee is taken the old stomach and nervous disorders are simply added to and made more fixed and harder to escape from. Still there is a very easy way to freedom and health.

A woman in Mo. says:

"I never thought of attributing my ailments to coffee till, several months ago, I saw a Postum Food Coffee advertisement which stated that the old kind of coffee was frequently injurious to people, so I thought I would try Postum, anyway, for I was in a most wretched condition, a nervous wreck with weak heart which fluttered and threatened to stop.

"The first time I made Postum Coffee, I boiled it well and was delighted with the flavor. My husband who did not know that it was not the old kind of coffee, relished it very much, saying 'What good coffee that is.' But after breakfast I was taken with a headache and drowsiness caused by the lack of the customary drug. I was resolute, however, and drank it for dinner and supper. The next day the headache was not so bad and by the third day it was gone. Day by day I felt better and better, and soon noticed that I did not tire so easily as I used to. In two weeks my friends began to compliment me on my improved condition. I rapidly gained in flesh and strength, and in 3 months was a new being with strong, steady nerves and easy, comfortable, healthy heart action. I feel like thanking you so much for Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Headache, when coffee is left off, is rare, but is a sure, infallible sign of a poisoned, drugged nervous system, calling more and more for the drug that caused the trouble. To yield to the fierce demand of the drug habit is most humiliating and sinks the victim deeper, with certainty of fixed organic disease if persisted in. It is easy to change from coffee. If Postum Food Coffee is used in its place, for Postum well made, that is, boiled long enough, has the deep seal brown of Mocha and the soft smooth (not strong) flavor much like old Gov't Java, the taste being distinct however and belonging only to genuine Postum. Leaving off the coffee that breaks down the nerve centres and taking a food drink that supplies the needed elements to rebuild them makes rapid change for the good.

Another Trunk Sewer Wanted

For Residents at North Western End of the City--Agreement Reached for Extension of George St. South--$400 for Right of Way to Lift Lock.

The Board of Works of the City Council met last night, when there were present, Mayor Bent, Chairman Aid. Hicks, and Aldermen Tovey, Adams, Graham, Elliott, Mason, McIntyre, Duncan, Wilson.

The main business on the slate was the extension of George street south, the owners of property to be partially absorbed by such extension present at the meeting were, ex-Ald. Harry Rush and Wm. J. Overend.

CATCH BASIN GRANTED.

Mr. Wm. O'Brien, on behalf of twelve or fifteen citizens, addressed the Board with a view of getting a catch basin on Lake street, to carry off surface water.

On motion of Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Wilson, the request of the petitioners was granted.

TRUNK SEWER WANTED.

The following were a deputation in connection with a petition for a sewer on Benson street; Messrs. R. J. Kidd, Jos. Pentland.

Mr. R. J. Kidd explained that sewerage connection could not be had unless a trunk of 1080 feet were constructed; 900 feet of this would be paid partly by the ratepayers. If a trunk sewer were built from Smith to Aylmer streets a large area would be accommodated, including even citizens on Smith and Antrim streets, all the way from a short distance west from George to Aylmer streets and some on Edinburgh street.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Mason,—That the engineer make an estimate of the cost of a trunk sewer from Smith to Aylmer streets, and prepare plans showing the area it would serve.

Ald. Wilson remarked that all citizens should be furnished with sewerage service, and this would be a good proposition for day labor.

Mr. Eyers, chairman of the Board of Health, introduced to the Board the question of sewer facilities being furnished on Mark street from Hunter to Robinson streets which he is going to recommend the Board of Health to advocate. He would urge that as soon as possible the main sewer in ward five be completed, to furnish sewerage connections for citizens within the named area, and also the public and kindergarten schools, the sanitary condition of which is a menace to the public health. While the petition for this work is not yet sufficiently signed, the Board of Health would recommend this work as a sanitary measure.

Mr. Harry Morgan also addressed the Board and supported the petition.

Chairman Ald. Hicks pointed out that the trunk sewer, when finished will furnish an outlet for the connections asked for, and the Board are anxious to furnish all sanitary measures practicable.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That the city give notice of the intention to build a sewer on Mark street as requested by the petitioners.

If any opposition to this scheme is forthcoming the Board of Health will exercise their authority.

SIDEWALK WANTED.

Mr. Rush asked the Board for a concrete walk on Water street, from Duham to Antrim streets.

It was decided that Mr. Ruth take the usual procedure of getting a properly signed petition from the ratepayers.

EXTENSION OF GEORGE STREET.

In this connection Ald. Hicks pointed out that an agreement had been reached to extend George street south, 33 feet east of its present terminus.

The following is the agreement;

We the undersigned hereby agree to give a road allowance 66 feet wide through our properties, gratis, for the above project, with the understanding that the assessment of the property shall not be increased from what they are now for the next six years unless a sale or transfer of any part thereof shall take place; and in such case that part shall be assessed by the city in the usual way. Also as a roadway will necessitate the removal of a small frame dwelling on lot No. 1, the city at the frown expense shall place it on the side of the street; this option not to remain open after the present year, 1906.

Henry Rent.
H. Rush.
John Crane, for Ontario Bank.
W. J. Overend.
Alex. Fitzgerald.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Tovey,—That the above offer be accepted with the addition that any land built upon should be assessed in the ordinary way, and that the solicitor draw upon a new agreement with this included and also that the engineer prepare a plan showing the extension of the street with the eastern line at the western line of the buildings on Park lot No. 3.—Carried.

There are some three or four owners of property built upon, through which the street must pass, who will have to be compensated in cash. Unless a satisfactory agreement with these citizens can be reached expropriation proceedings will be taken.

TO REPAIR SIDEWALK.

Moved by Ald. Tovey, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That the street commissioner be instructed to make the necessary repairs to the sidewalk crossing the creek on Parnell street.—Carried.

RE-APPOINTED.

Mr. Alex. Fitzgerald was appointed to fill the place of Street Commissioner Harry Evans, when the latter is employed on special work.

STREET WATERING.

The following tenders for street watering were received;

H. Hamlen—N. district ... .....$415.00
G. McClennan—W. district ... 390.00
Z. Blodgett—N. district ... ... 379.00
John Hobson—N. district ... ... ...424.00
A. Valois—E. district ... ... ..... 349.00
W. Collins—S. district... ... ... 400.00

No tender was received for the southern district. Blodgett's tender of $379 for the north division, was the same as last year. The increase for the other two divisions were as follows:—Eastern, $40; western, $75.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Tovery,—That the contract for street watering for the southern district be awarded to W. J. Collins, at $400; for the eastern district to A. Valois, at $349; and that the city have authority to extend these districts, if necessary, such extensions to be paid for on the basis of the contracts.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Graham, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That the tender of Z. Blodgett for the northern district, at $379, and that of Geo. McClennan for the western district, at $390, be accepted.—Carried.

SIDEWALKS AND CROSSINGS.

Ald. Elliot pointed out that residents on King street, from Hamilton's foundry to Aylmer street, are asking that their rotten sidewalk be replaced. This matter will be attended to at an early date.

Several applications for crossings in outlying districts were granted.

SHERBROOKE ST. DRAIN.

Ald. McIntyre enquired why the engineer had not reported on the Sherbrooke street ditch. It appears that the engineer had reported that to divert this ditch or creek would be an extremely expensive job. Ald. McIntyre thought a pipe might be inserted, the ditch arched up, and thus converted into a sewer. The engineer said this water course could not be used both as a sewer and a drain; but piping might be aid, to carry off the surface water.

The engineer will report as to cost of laying a 24 or 30-inch pipe here to carry off the spring freshets, and covering the creek where necessary. This work will probably be included in a by-law to be submitted to the ratepayers to divert the west ward and north ward creeks; the same to be paid for by a special rate, and park street ratepayers to be relieved of their present frontage tax for drainage improvements in their locality.

ROAD TO LIFT LOCK.

The Board are in receipt of an offer from the Armour estate to sell the city a right of way to the lift lock, providing the estate is secured against any possible frontage tax charges in the future. This will be taken up later.

The Board then adjourned.

France Building More Battleships

Europe as Well as the United States Is Spurred to Effort by the Launching of the British Dreadnaught.

Paris, April 12.—The Ministry of Marine has decided to carry out the naval program of the previous Cabinet. It would appear as though the era of large floating engines of destruction is at hand and that the period will undoubtedly be known in history as the "big battleship era." France, like the United States, is being drawn into the construction of naval monsters of the English Dreadnought type and in France today, as in England, the United States and Germany, there does not appear to be the slightest disposition to count cost when it comes to the matter of getting the best warships.

M. Thompson, formerly Minister of Marine, says the program of 1900 was simply drawn up with the idea of replacing obsolete ships with up-to-date vessels, and not to the assuring of any marked superiority.

The French naval program, according to M. Thompson, merely calls for keeping the French navy up to the proper standard, without exceeding the credit of $76,000,000 devoted to building purposes. But M. Thompson asserts that the situation has been modified by the new program, adopted in England and also more particularly in Germany, where the construction of five armored cruisers and other ships was decided upon last November.

M. Thompson is greatly in love with the plans for six new battleships. Their speed will be nineteen knots, and they will carry four guns of 12-inch and twelve guns of 2.5-inch. M. Thompson does not believe the armament of the Dreadnought, ten 12-inch guns, superior to this. As for speed, the Dreadnought would steam at a rate of twenty-one knots, but this is owing to the installation of the Turbine, a type which has been tried in France and found too expensive.

A FRAIL BEDSTEAD

Local Citizen Mistakes Lace Curtains Out Stretching for a Bed.

The day before yesterday a local hotel keeper was made, mad all the way through; a wet hen would look like a pleasant smile compared with that hotel man's feelings. The cause of his anger was thusly. A local citizen recently in from the woods had celebrated his return to the temptations of city life, by taking out a cargo of wet goods far beyond his capacity of carrying.

Not recognizing that he had already exceeded his limit, he went into a local hotel and asked the bartender for "one more. The dispenser of wet goods refused, telling him he had taken too much already and that he had better go to bed.

Now the man with the load aboard is a very large man, and has a disposition as kind as his stature is long. When refused a drink, he big man staggered into a room near the bar. In this room was a large carpet stretching frame, with six pairs of lace curtains stretching thereon. The frame was placed upon the backs of four chairs. The big fellow on seeing the outfit, flinging his hat in one corner and his coat in another, with a flying leap, jumped upon the "bed." In a moment there was a crash, as the frame broke, and a large-sized man and twelve lace curtains were mixed up in a knot that baffled discription or quick extraction.

The large man went down to his pocket for a large price for the curtains, paying over what he had in his jeans, and giving an I.O.U. for the balance.

OUR LOCAL RACES

Mr. A. Rountree, Sec'y of Peterboro Turf Club Has Received Several Applications.

In addition to the report contained in yesterday's issue, regarding American and Canadian book-makers who had written for privileges for the five races arranged for May 24th, and which are indicative of the importance of Peterboro as a racing town, we add that yesterday Secretary Rountree of the Turf Club, received notification of several others for the same event to be held on that date. The races are attracting considerable attention. Arrangements will likely be made to have some athletic sports in connection with the races.

Young People's Meeting.

A special Young People's meeting will be held at Bethany Tabernacle this evening for the purpose of making arrangements for regular young people's meetings. The meeting will be addressed by the pastor. All interested are cordially invited.

The Farmers' Bank.

As noted a few days ago, the stock of the recently incorporated Farmers' Bank of Canada, is now being placed on the Canadian market. It is pleasing to note that this stock is being rapidly subscribed for, owing not only to the undeniable reliability and high standing of the gentlemen acting as directors, but to the easy terms of payment granted. The shares are being sold at par value $100 per share, and will, no doubt, as has been the case with nearly every Canadian bank, very soon be at a high premium.

"The Holy City."

We are pleased to note that on May 1st, this city will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the strongest plays on the American stage. Messrs. Gordon & Bennett will on that date present in the Grand Opera House, that great Biblical play, "The Holy City" rendered by a very strong and carefully chosen cast. This play which is a direct dramatization of the "Book of John," is one that by its historic significance and powerful dramatic effects will undoubtedly attract an immense audience from every class of the community.

LOCAL HOCKEY CLUB

Holds Annual Meeting and Elects Officers.

Strange to say in the face of the wonderful deeds wrought by our local Hockey Club, their annual meeting held Wednesday night in the Council chamber was now very largely attended.

The new board of directors was elected, and the same gentlemen with the exception of Mr. R. Denne replacing Mr. Jas. Hamilton, retired, were the only changes that took place on the board of this club which is the pride of our city. The directors for this year are; Messrs. A. H. Stratton, T. H. G. Denne, W. H. Hall, W. G. Morrow, R. Denne, H. R. H. Kenner and J. S. Knapman.

Whilst no dividend will be paid this year, owing to a series of unfortunate, but unavoidable and unexpected misfortunes, $500 still, has been paid off the mortgage instead, which will reduce the amount standing against the club to $2000, during the last two years the debt having been reduced one-half.

Prior to the meeting of the shareholders, the directors met, and discussed the question of paying a dividend, the decision being that it would be inadvisable to do so.

Those present at the meeting of the shareholders were Messrs. A. H. Stratton, W. G. Morrow, H. R. H. Kenner, T. H. G. Denne, R. Denne, W. H. Hall, J. S. Knapman, F. D. Kerr, A. Moore, J. E. A. Fitzgerald.

Last year our average receipts for every time the rink was opened were $9; this year the average receipts were $11.

MR. MACKAY HONORED

Y.M.C.G. of St. Paul's Church Presents Books to Popular Retiring Pastor.

On Wednesday evening a very pleasing function was held in St. Paul's church when Rev. W. M. Mackay, who is leaving Peterboro, was pleasantly surprised by his Bible class, the members of which presented him with a valuable umbrella and a handsome leaving gift. Mr. Hosenburgh made a short address referring to the regret felt at Mr. Mackay's departure and the high esteem in which he is held by all those with whom he has been associated in Peterboro.

At the meeting of the Young Men's Guild on St. Paul's church, the same night, Mr. Mackay was presented with set of the twentieth century New Testament, a twelve volumes, and handsomely bound. Mr. R. F. McWilliams made the presentation expressing the general regret with which his departure is viewed.

Application for a License.

Hamilton, April 12.—The proprietor of the Waldorf Hotel was charged at the police court yesterday morning by Rev. R. Hatchell, a colored preacher, with refusing to give food and lodging to members of a colored concert company that appeared here about ten days ago. The prosecution was not ready, and the case was enlarged.

A colored man has made application to the commissioners for a license for a colored hotel.

Ulcer of the Stomach

Insidious Nature of the Disease—How to Recognize and Cure It.

Ulcer of the stomach may exist for years without very marked symptoms, excepting those caused by indigestion. In good health, the stomach resists the action of the gastric juices, but when weakened, the membrane is badly nourished and the digestive fluids act upon it as well as upon the food, keeping up until perforation of the stomach occurs. In advanced cases of ulcer of the stomach there is much discomfort after eating, with a constant gnawing sensation between meals, pain from the pit of the stomach back to the shoulder blade.

At the first symptoms of indigestion, treatment should at once be started with Mi-o-na. This is a scientific remedy adapted specifically to one purpose, the cure of stomach.

Mi-o-na is not a patent or secret remedy, but is a combination of the purest and most reliable of remedies for strengthening the digestive organs and building up the whole system. It costs but 50c. a box. Use it for a few days and there is no reason why you should not be able to eat any food you like at any time without fear of distress.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

LOCAL MAN SUCCEEDS

Mr. W. J. McQuinn Doing Well in the Theatrical World.

From the New York Clipper, the leading American theatrical organ, we gather the following which mentions Mr. W. J. McQuinn, a former resident of this city. The Clipper says:

"We are in our twenty-third week in Ontario and business is great. We are playing mostly return dates and working under the different societies of the province, which is the only way to work this Dominion. Lent is on us, and it is surprising how the people turn out to see us, as small towns in Canada are the hardest to work during that particular period. We played Maribank, Ont., and turned people away for three nights, working in connection with the Ladies' Aid Society, and giving a percentage to the Japanese Relief Fund. At Odessa we played three nights in connection with the band, which was a financial success. We are to play a return date at Colebrook, March 17th, Manager Barett writes Mr. McQuinn that the house is sold out. Geo. A. Grant, slack wire and juggler, joined us at Evanville, Ont. The company now numbers twelve people, and is working its way into Quebec."

TODAY'S SERVICES

"Hallelujah" Chorus, (Organ).

No Strike This Year.

New York, April 12.—It is a practically foregone conclusion that there will be no anthracite coal strike this year. It was learned that the mine workers' leaders at Ashland house headquarters strongly favor the acceptance of the operators' proposition with, possibly, a few trifling amendments.

COLONIAL COUNCILLORS.

London, April 12.—At a Colonial office meeting for the discussion of Institute meeting for the discussion of Australian immigration, Hon. B. R. Wise, of New South Wales, declared that Australia urgently needed a High Commissioner like Canada, and endorsed the idea that the Commissioners of Canada, Australia and Africa should then form a sub-committee of the Cabinet to be consulted in Imperial affairs.

Another Trunk Sewer Wanted

For Residents at North Western End of the City—Agreement Reached for Extension of George St. South—$400 for Right of Way to Lift Lock.

The Board of Works of the City Council met last night, when there were present, Mayor Best, Chairman Ald. Hicks and Aldermen Tovey, Adams, Graham, Elliott, Mason, McIntyre, Duncan, Wilson.

The main business on the slate was the extension of George street south, the owners of property to be partially absorbed by such extension present at the meeting were, ex-Ald. Harry Rush and Wm. J. Overend.

CATCH BASIN GRANTED.

Mr. Wm. O'Brien, on behalf of twelve or fifteen citizens, addressed the Board with a view of getting a catch basin on Lake street, to carry off surface water.

On motion of Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Wilson, the request of the petitioners was granted.

TRUNK SEWER WANTED.

The following were a deputation in connection with a petition for a sewer on Benson street; Messrs. R. J. Kidd, Jos. Pentland.

Mr. R. J. Kidd explained that sewerage connection could not be had unless a trunk of 1080 feet were constructed, 900 feet of this would be paid partly by the ratepayers. If a trunk sewer were built from Smith to Aylmer streets a large area would be accommodated, including seven cottages on Smith and Antrim streets, all the way from a short distance west from George to Aylmer streets and some on Edenburgh street.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Mason,—That the engineer make an estimate of the cost of a trunk sewer from Smith to Aylmer streets, and prepare plans showing the area it would serve.

Ald. Wilson remarked that all citizens should be furnished with sewerage service, and this would be a good proposition for day labor.

Mr. Eyers, chairman of the Board of Health, introduced to the Board the question of sewer facilities being furnished on Mark street from Hunter to Robinson streets which he is going to recommend the Board of Health to advocate. He would urge that as soon as possible the main sewer in ward five be completed, to furnish sewerage connections for citizens within the named area, and also the public and kindergarten schools, the sanitary condition of which is a menace to the public health. While the petition for this work is not yet sufficiently signed, the Board of Health would recommend this work as a sanitary measure.

Mr. Harry Morgan also addressed the Board and supported the petition.

Chairman Ald. Hicks pointed out that the trunk sewer, when finished will furnish an outlet for the connections asked for, and the Board are anxious to furnish all sanitary measures practicable.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That the city give notice of the intention to build a sewer on Mark street as requested by the petitioners.

If any opposition to this scheme is forthcoming the Board of Health will exercise their authority.

SIDEWALK WANTED.

Mr. Ruth asked the Board for a concrete walk on Water street, from Dublin to Antrim streets.

It was decided that Mr. Ruth take the usual procedure of getting a properly signed petition from the ratepayers.

EXTENSION OF GEORGE STREET.

In this connection Ald. Hicks pointed out that an agreement had been reached to extend George street south, 33 feet east of its present terminus.

The following is the agreement;

We the undersigned hereby agree to give a road allowance 66 feet wide through our properties, gratis, for the above project, with the understanding that the assessment of the property shall not be increased from what they are now for the next six years unless a sale or transfer of any part thereof shall take place; and in such case that part shall be assessed by the city in the usual way. Also as a roadway will necessitate the removal of a small frame dwelling on lot No. 1, the city at their own expense shall place it on the side of the street; this option not to remain open after the present year, 1906.

Henry Best.
H. Rush.
John Crane, for Ontario Bank.
W. J. Overend.
Alex. Fitzgerald.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Tovey,—That the above offer be accepted with the addition that any land built upon should be assessed in the ordinary way, and that the solicitor draw upon a new agreement with this included and also that the engineer prepare a plan showing the extension of the street with the eastern line at the western line of the buildings on Park lot No. 3.—Carried.

There are some three or four owners of property built upon, through which the street must pass, who will have to be compensated in some way. Unless a satisfactory agreement with these citizens can be reached expropriation proceedings will be taken.

TO REPAIR SIDEWALK.

Moved by Ald. Tovey, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That the street commissioner be instructed to make the necessary repairs to the sidewalk crossing the creek on Parnell street.—Carried.

RE-APPOINTED.

Mr. Alex. Fitzgerald was appointed to fill the place of Street Commissioner Harry Evans, when the latter is employed on special work.

STREET WATERING.

The following tenders for street watering were received;

|---|---|
| H. Hamlet—N. district ... ... | $415.00 |
| G. McClennan—W. district ... ... | 390.00 |
| Z. Blodgett—N. district ... ... | 379.00 |
| John Hoban—N. district ... ... ... | 424.00 |
| A. Valois—E. district ... ... ..... | 349.00 |
| W. Cobbs—S. district... ... ... | 400.00 |

No tender was received for the southern district. Blodgett's tender of $379 for the north division, was the same as last year. The increases for the other two divisions were as follows;—Eastern, $40; western, $75.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Tovery,—That the contract for street watering for the southern district be awarded to W. J. Collins, at $400; for the eastern district to A. Valois, at $349; and that the city have authority to extend these districts, if necessary, such extensions to be paid for on the basis of the contracts.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Graham, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That the tender of Z. Blodgett for the northern district, at $379; and that of Geo. McClennan for the western district, at $390, be accepted.—Carried.

SIDEWALKS AND CROSSINGS.

Ald. Elliot pointed out that residents on King street, from Hamilton's foundry to Aylmer street, are asking that their rotten sidewalk be replaced. This matter will be attended to at an early date.

Several applications for crossings in outlying districts were granted.

SHERBROOKE ST. DRAIN.

Ald. McIntyre enquired why the engineer had not reported on the Sherbrooke street ditch. It appears that the engineer had reported that to divert this ditch or creek would be an extremely expensive job. Ald. McIntyre thought a pipe might be inserted, the ditch covered up, and thus converted into a sewer. The engineer said this water course could not be used both as a sewer and a drain; but piping might be aid, to carry off the surface water.

The engineer will report as to cost of laying a 24 or 30-inch pipe here to carry off the spring freshets, and covering the creek where necessary. This work will probably be included in a by-law to be submitted to the ratepayers to divert the west ward and north ward creeks; the same to be paid for by a general rate, and park street ratepayers to be relieved of their present frontage tax for drainage improvements in their locality.

ROAD TO LIFT LOCK.

The Board are in receipt of an offer from the Armour estate to sell the city a right of way to the lift lock, providing the estate is cleared against any possible frontage tax charges in the future. This will be taken up later.

The Board then adjourned.

BETWEEN

The Devil and the Deep Sea.

When coffee gets a person well within its grip and the drug habit is fixed then comes twisting and turning to get free.

With many people, if the coffee is left off at breakfast a headache sets in, and if coffee is taken the old stomach and nervous disorders are simply added to and made more fixed and harder to escape from. Still there is a very easy way to freedom and health.

A woman in Mo. says:

"I never thought of attributing my ailments to coffee till, several months ago, I saw a Postum Food Coffee advertisement which stated that the old kind of coffee was frequently injurious to people, so I thought I would try Postum, anyway, for I was in a most wretched condition, a nervous wreck with weak heart which fluttered and threatened to stop.

"The first time I made Postum Coffee, I boiled it well and was delighted with the flavor. My husband who did not know that it was not the old kind of coffee, relished it very much, saying 'What good coffee that is!' But after breakfast I was taken with a headache and drowsiness caused by the lack of the customary drug. I was resolute, however, and drank it for dinner and supper. The next day the headache was not so bad and by the third day it was gone. Day by day I felt better and better, and soon noticed that I did not tire so easily as I used to. In two weeks my friends began to remark upon me on my improved condition. I rapidly gained in flesh and strength, and in 3 months was a new being with strong, steady nerves and easy, comfortable, healthy heart action. I feel fine thanking you so much for Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Headache, when coffee is left off, is rare, but is a sure, infallible sign of a poisoned, drugged nervous system, calling more and more for the drug that caused the trouble. To yield to the fierce demand of the drug habit is most beneficiating and sinks the victim deeper, with certainty of fixed organic disease if persisted in. It is easy to change from coffee, if Postum Food Coffee is used in its place, for Postum well made, that is, boiled long enough, has the deep seal brown of Mocha and the soft smooth (not strong) flavor much like old Gov't Java, the taste being distinct however and belonging only to genuine Postum. Leaving off the coffee that breaks down the nerve centres and taking a food drink that supplies the needful elements to rebuild them makes rapid change for the good.

REBUILD YOUR TIRED, ACHING BODY

Winter has left you in a state of fatigue and weariness.

The vitality of your blood is gone.

Your nerves are wretchedly weak and you find it hard to sleep.

The temptation to "brace up" with an alcoholic mixture is great,—but it's uselessness is plain to everyone.

Better follow Nature's plan; it's always a sure one.

First create new appetite.

Improve your digestion.

Perfect the process of assimilation.

This will ensure a supply of rich, nourishing blood.

Healthy blood soon makes a healthy body, and a system fed by pure, rich blood is bound to gain in energy and strength.

To get well and stay well, use the food tonic "Ferrozone" which is composed of concentrated vegetable extracts that supply nutrition that every sickly person needs.

No matter how long you've been in poor health, Ferrozone will win you back like it did Mrs. Sadie E. Hislop, of Whitby, Ont., who writes: "Ferrozone not only brings health to the sick, but has power to cure quickly. After being confined to bed with sickness, I seemed unable to make any headway on the road to complete health. My vitality was low and I was in great need of strength. My nerve force was gone, and from headaches and poor sleep I was in bad straits. Ferrozone was just what I needed. It increased my strength, gave me a new feeling entirely. I used about eight boxes and was made perfectly well. My doctor thinks Ferrozone a wonderful cure."

Your druggist sells it in 50c. boxes or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

TRAINING OF NAVAL OFFICERS

Both in Great Britain and the United States the policy has been adopted of amalgamating the two divisions of the naval service—of making the marine officers and the executive engineers one body, each individual duly qualified in the two branches of the profession. Theoretically the position is admitted to be sound; it elevates the vitally important engineering department to its proper status; it gives officers of all-round efficiency, able not only to navigate and fight their ships, but to take their turn in the engine room when required.

But practical experience on both sides of the Atlantic is already, after a very few years of trial, casting grave doubts on the wisdom of the innovation. The Bennington disaster in San Diego harbor is fresh in public memory, and apart altogether from the question of individual blame, it has served to throw a strong light on the grave risks involved in trusting the complicated machinery of a modern war vessel to any but the most thoroughly-trained and experienced hands.

From Great Britain now comes the first whisper of the same feeling of uneasiness. Writing in the March number of the National Review, that eminent naval expert, Arnold White, although cordially, endorsing the doctrine that all young officers should have equal prospects, privileges and rights, yet holds to the view that there must be prompt and continuous specialisation. While wishful to treat the difficult question impartially, and obviously reluctant to commit himself to the condemnation of a system still in its experimental stage, he inclines to the belief that the two branches of the profession are too vast, too difficult, and too divergent to be thoroughly mastered by one and the same individual. The benefit of interchangeability among the officers may be purchased too dearly if at the critical moment both the men on deck and the men below are only half competent in the duties then specially assigned to them.

In other words, if men are to excel in navigation, gunnery, signalling, torpedo work, and the general administration of a great battleship, they have not the time during their years of training to master the engineering duties as well; while the engineers, if they are to be thoroughly efficient, must devote their whole lives to this one department. The officer in the chart room or at the gun and the officer in the engine room must each know his work from A to Z; in either department he must not trust to subordinates; yet with divided training he is virtually compelled to trust.

The question is not one for the layman lightly to discuss, far less glibly to decide. But clearly the new system of training officers does not reach finality, and the necessity of its careful reconsideration draws steadily nearer.

KEENE

The Sons of Rest met in the hall of wisdom on Tuesday evening for the transaction of business. Minney Wale, the president, was not able to attend, on account of a boil on his little toe. When the members were made acquainted that Minney Wale would not be present, it was moved and seconded and unanimously carried that Fatty Drummond would take the chair. Fatty very majestically walked to the front and took his seat, but he no sooner sat down than his heels flew above his head and the bottom of the chair was smashed into kindling wood. After Fatty got right side up again he opened the meeting and called the members to order. He then rose to his feet and informed the brethren that he would purchase a new chair and have it made strong, for it makes a fellow feel rather silly to be doubled up in the inside of a chair [illegible] thank you for the honor of acting as president tonight, and I trust we will have a pleasant and profitable meeting. It is needless for me to tell you that my heart is in this society; I love the members and I love to attend the meetings. It is not my intention tonight to give a long speech, but before I take my seat allow me to tell you that I am with you every time and under every circumstance, and any time the president is absent I am your right hand man. I now will take my seat and leave the meeting open for business. Poney Moore shouted: you have no seat to sit on, Fatty. Very true, says Fatty, but I can sit on the floor. Bob-tail Pue laughed at Fatty, and told him to sit down easy or the bottom would fall out of the floor and possibly he might light in the lower regions. Fatty called Bob-tail to order and again notified the brethren to proceed with general business. Peaty Mac rose to his feet and said that he had a serious charge to lay against Rob Roy McGregor for dictating chances on a neighbor's back door steps. Fatty rose from the floor and informed Rob Roy that such chances as he was after were very dangerous and could not go unpunished, and I therefore will now give you a chance to pay a fine of two hundred dollars or go to jail for one year. Rob Roy looked shy, but said nothing. Tea-merchant Kenealey rose and informed the brethren that he was in the tea business, and thought he should be patronized by this club. He said that he sold tea as cheap if not cheaper than any of the Keene merchants, and looked forward for an order for the ball and oyster supper on Friday night. Hosier Roach moved that we purchase fifty pounds of black tea and ten pounds of green from Tea-merchant Kenealey. Banker Secombe seconded the motion and it was unanimously carried. Tea-merchant Kenealey thanked the brethren and booked the order. Fighting Archy laid a charge against Methody Comrie for not calling on his chums while in the village. Fatty fined Methody ten dollars, to be oaan down. Methody paid the fine and betook himself to parts unknown. Farmer Scollie laid a charge against Merchant Knox for driving to Keene over muddy roads. Fatty imposed a fine of fifty dollars, to be paid in four days or two months in jail. Wolf Howson laid a charge against Gentleman Dede for refusing to assist him with rack lifters. Fatty fined Doris forty dollars and five cents, to be paid in one week or one month in jail. Buck-saw Carter laid a charge against Tom Decackey for chewing gum in Sunday school. Fatty fined Decackey fifteen dollars, to be paid in one month, or he would stop his gum chewing in Sunday school. Flat Roach laid a charge against Skunk-hunter Rennie for leaving the village without bidding the brethren adieu. Fatty fined Skunk-hunter twenty dollars, to be paid in September. Waxy McFarlane laid a charge against Stone-mason Dinsdale for chasing his horse around his garden. Fatty fined him five cents, to be paid at once. He paid the five cents and made Fatty give him a receipt for the same. Fatty now rose from the floor and said it was time to close, and he would ask Harness-maker Stillman and Noah McNevan to sing the closing ode. They sang it with a vengeance. The meeting was then closed until next Tuesday evening.

God Save The King.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of April, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 260 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 305 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On April 17th the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

Am Looking for Large Investors

to Buy Stock in

The Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Co., of Erie, Kan.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,500-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 600 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 65 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $200,000, $150,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $200 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it may also prove [illegible]

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tumbstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great [illegible] mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

His lovely young wife looked at him. She had not the least idea what complete ruin meant.

He went on excitedly. "I can't see my way clear. We shall come to grief, I'm afraid, and that speedily, [illegible]

He moved uneasily in his chair, his eyes drooping nervously under her calm, searching gaze.

"Unless what, Waldemar?" she asked, earnestly.

"Unless you can manage it for me, Reine," he answered.

She looked up into his face.

"I," she answered in dismay. "Oh, Waldemar, tell me how."

He had the grace to flush hotly. He pondered for a choice of words in which to frame his reply. For one moment shame mastered him; but necessity spurred him on to desperate measures. "You could help me if you would go on the stage, Reine," he declared. "That face and form of yours would set New York wild. You'd get a handsome salary.

He did not raise his eyes to look at her; had he done so he would have been startled; he went on nervously—"And there's an opening for you—which I heard of by chance, that would turn any woman's head.

"It was all by chance I heard about it," he went on, emphatically. I'll tell you how it came about. As I stepped out of the Stock Exchange to-day, I met Manager ——. He was in a deuce of a hurry, and all in a flutter. He is just about bringing out a grand revival of the "White Fawn," and at the last moment, without so much as 'by your leave,' his star levanted—skipped with a rival concern.

"What in heaven's name I am to do, I don't know,' he declared. 'If I could find a woman with a face and figure like Mdlle. Bertantis,—she might name her own price to take her place.' It's a chance that comes but once in a lifetime. What do you think of the idea, Reine."

She had sprung to her feet, shocked and literally astounded. He never forgot the way in which she drew up her slight form to its utmost height, crying out passionately—

"Your jest is in very bad taste, Waldemar."

"It is no jest," he declared, frowning darkly. "I am in earnest. When people are pushed as hard as we are for money, they must put their pride in their pocket. Don't let a little nonsense stand between me and ruin. You must help me out of this, Reine. Come, what do you say to the plan?"

There was a look in her flashing eyes that made him wince.

"I say that I will not do it," cried the girl, in clear, steady tone. "I—I—would die first."

Her answer exasperated him. He grasped her tender white arms in his strong hold so fiercely that there were purple bruises upon them for long days afterward. Yet she did not even wince with the cruel pain of it.

"You shall promise that you will do it," he cried. "I will wring it from your lips. Your absurd pride shall not ruin me."

"No," cried the girl, heroically, forcing the tears back from her eyes—"I will not. You are stronger than I—you may kill me—but you shall never make me do that against which my whole nature abhors."

"Another woman in your place would be delighted at the opportunity," he retorted sullenly. "It is your duty to help me in any way you can."

"Not in that way."

"In any way," he responded emphatically—"As long as I approve of it."

She wondered what the old general would say if he had but heard. How shocked too, Bernard Cheeleigh would have been.

"It's poor policy playing the high and mighty when one hasn't a cent in their pocket," he sneered.

"I would rather earn my bread as a seamstress—a nurse—anything"—cried Reine.

"Don't be a fool and stand in your own light," cried Waldron in anger. "You could afford to be neither a seamstress or a nurse, leave that for older and homelier women. You could not earn at one or the other much over a five-dollar note a week. Manager —— would give you two hundred, he says."

"Have you dared talk with him about it," demanded Reine.

"I have not only talked with him, but arranged with him," Waldron cried. "You shall take Bertantis' place. In fact, to bind the contract, he has already advanced me a comfortable sum, and—I have run through with it."

"You must return every dollar of it then," she cried shrilly. "I repeat, you might kill me in endeavoring to compel me to do this thing, but you shall never make me subservient to your will. You have gone too far."

CHAPTER XXIII.

Waldemar Waldron gazed steadily down into the beautiful death-like face raised so defiantly to his own.

He knew what she said was perfectly true. He might kill her—she was weak and fragile, tender and helpless—but he could never wring the promise he desired from her lips.

He flung the white arms and clinging, trembling hands from him, telling her that she should take the consequences then. He left her with a cruel laugh and a sneering look on his fair, handsome face that stamped out all its beauty.

Reine sank down into the nearest chair, and, covering her face with her hands, burst into passionate tears.

Could Waldemar be so near upon the verge of ruin as he had declared? Ah, surely not! He had said it to tease her—to frighten her.

She made up her mind to write one more letter to her father. She could lay by her pride [illegible] and lay him to help Waldemar for her sake. Her heart felt lighter after it was written and mailed. She would tell Waldemar what she had done when he returned home to luncheon; then [illegible] her.

The noon hour came and went. The long hours of the afternoon dragged themselves slowly by. The sun sank at length in the western sky, and the dusk of night fell silently over the bustling city, still Waldemar Waldron did not return.

As the night deepened, Reine took up her station by the lace-draped window, eagerly watching for him.

Ah, reader! do you know the blank, almost terrible calm that comes just before a storm, when the wind sleeps that it may gather force, when the waves lie silent that they may dash and foam, when the color and weight of lead falls over the sky, and the earth grows frightened? That strange calm, very like awe—swept over Reine's heart as she stood hour after hour at the window, listening for the step which did not come.

This was not the first time that Waldemar had absented himself in like manner, yet she had never felt

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging," will be received up to and including Wednesday, April 15, 1908, for the dredging required at the following places in the Province of Ontario during the present year: Pentanguishene, Meaford, Fesserton, Goderich, Point Edward, Fort Stanley, Fort Burwell, Bondeau, River Thames (mouth), Owen Sound, Nigger Island Channel, and Trenton.

Combined specifications and forms of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of filing tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

The Department is not bound to accept the lowest or any of the tenders.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, April 1, 1908.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the Department will not be paid for it.

There is a Big Difference

Between INVESTMENT and SPECULATION. Gold Mining PAYS, but be sure you get an interest in a real mine controls nearly 6,000 acres of the HEART OF NEW MEXICO. The central portion of this Company's holdings is a MOUNTAIN OF LOW GRADE ORE, carrying values of about $5.00 per ton Gold. We are now milling 125 Tons per day at a cost of less than $1.00 per ton. Abundance of water; abundance of timber; almost inexhaustible body of free milling ore.

A final allotment of PREFERRED STOCK has been made to be sold at 40c. per share, par value $1.00 the proceeds to be used for installing a power plant, extending the reduction works and other improvements.

We offer an INVESTMENT, not a speculation.

PALMER MOUNTAIN MINES

EXAMINED BY A NOTED EXPERT

His first examination was made when the tunnel had been driven into the mountain 1,200 feet. He made a great number of assays, and thus sums up his findings:

"SUMMARY OF FOREGOING ASSAYS"

"An assay of all the samples of surface ores carefully mixed and reduced to an assay sample shows Gold $16.02 (per ton).

"An average of assays taken in the tunnel as can be verified by above reports shows Gold $27.47 (per ton)."

Many of the assays showed values as high as $500 per ton. By selection of samples phenomenal values can be shown, but Mr. Browne is a business man as well as an engineer and is not misleading us with specially selected samples. His conclusions are based upon average values.

A SECOND EFFORT

was made when the tunnel had been driven to its present length,—upwards of 4,000 feet. The numerous assays which were made at this time revealed high values in Gold. The crowning work of the engineer was attained when he collected samples gathered at random from all the surface workings and those found on the tunnel levels. The whole mass collected weighed 34 tons. From this lot (34 tons) there was obtained $716.44—which is equal to $20.30 per ton. This we regard as a test which establishes the value of our ores.

WATER POWER

The report says [illegible] the value of our Water Power, we have great satisfaction in stating that this important adjunct is now completed. The Company is not lighting the Town of Loomis.

100 STAMP MILL

Attention and effort are now being devoted to the last requisite, namely, a mill for the treatment of the ores. The Company plans to let the contract for this mill immediately. With ores running one-half the assay values as shown by extensive tests, its earning capacity will be 15 per cent. on the par value of stock which will equal 30 per cent. to stockholders who purchase while the price is 50 cents per share.

NOTE.—The foregoing offer of stock at 50 cents per share is good until April 15th. After that date the price will be 60 cents per share. Prompt action is therefore necessary to secure the benefit of the present price.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention so to do.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS

The One True Medicine for Health and Strength

You will realize, as you read the following letters, the great work being done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They have a direct action on the blood, nerves, heart kidneys and liver. All weakness is turned into strength, new energy and nourishing blood are created, buoyant good health is established in a short time.

DISCOURAGED WOMEN FOUND NEW HOPE.

"I had pretty nearly given myself up as incurable. I was weak and sickly all the time, had headache, poor digestion and sinking feeling. On rising in the morning there was a feeling of awful weariness. . . .

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped from the first. They must have strength-ened my blood, for I gained in strength as soon as I took them. Steady improvement followed, and I am now completely cured."

Mrs. M. E. Beason, Woodstock.

STRENGTH AND SPIRITS IMPROVED.

"No medicine could possibly be better than Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes Mr. Jos. Devine from Ottawa. "I had pains in the back and side, caused by kidney trouble, was bothered considerably with headache, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills cured me quickly. I can recommend them to every man."

You'll become vigorous and strong, enjoy a good appetite, your sleep will be dreamless and sound, after regulating your system with Dr. Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Prince 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Today is Good Friday.

—This is the day that "takes the bun."

—Nothing doing in the police court yesterday.

—Mr. Jas. David, Dundee is registered at the Snowden House.

—Service will be held in Charlotte street church at eleven o'clock today.

—Today being a holiday, Good Friday, The Times will not be issued on Saturday.

—Things were very quiet about the market yesterday, hay being the chief impor .

—Pre-communion service will be held this evening in St. Paul's church. Rev. J. G. Potter will officiate.

—The Mission Band of George street church will hold conc rt entertainment in the Sunday school of the church tonight.

—Next Sunday the "One week mission to men" in the Y.M.C.A. will open at four p.m. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.

—On Monday Mr. Lee will take charge of the boat market, for Mr. Harry Snider. Mr. Lee is an old hand at the business and thoroughly understands it.

—Large gangs of men and teams are removing the superfluous mud from our local streets. Street Commissioner Evans has got a big "move-on."

—Mr D. C. Trew, Lindsay's well known poultry fancier, has disposed of all his prize-winning poultry by private sale. One pair of Houdans bringing $25.

—Three ladies and four gentlemen, members of the "Office Boy" company, which played at the Grand Opera House, put up at the Queen's Hotel on Wednesday night.

—Talking of Beau Brummel and Beau Nash, swells of the 18th century did you see a newspaper man doing the grand on Thursday afternoon. Grey telescope hats are all the rage.

—A meeting of the Board of Works committee was held in the city clerk's office last night at eight o'clock, when some important business was transacted. For particulars see front page.

—Mr. J. Robson the well known local contractor has twenty men engaged on the King street sewer, from Park street to the boundary line. Mr. Robson, as usual is hustling this job through in quick time.

—Now is the time of year that Paterfamilias wishes he had not thrown those rakes and other impediments round his yard so carelessly, as he gets busy with a rake preparatory to hiring a carter to clean out his yard.

—The meeting of the North Monaghan council with the city officials yesterday afternoon turned out fruitless. No agreement concerning the annexation of the sugar company's lots to the city, was arrived at, and the meeting was postponed until Monday next.

—Rev. J. J. Wright, special representative of Queen's University endowment fund, was in Maple, north of Toronto last week, and secured $600 in subscriptions. Mr. Wright will preach sermons in Stouffville on Sunday next in the interest of the endowment fund.

—One point of interest for holiday folk to take in today where amusement, coupled with instruction may be found in the aggregation of curiosities in Victoria museum, Inverlea Park. We venture to say that the most "blase" sightseer will find something he has never seen even in the British museum.

—Mrs. Large Family yesterday, whilst still holding as warm a spot for her numerous progeny, heaved about seventeen sighs as she remembered that the kids are home from school for one week in muddy weather. Visions of floors laden with spring mud and days of ceaseless noise made the sighs, although inaudible, very sincere. When he arrange small boy came home to dinner yesterday he flung his school bag under a table and looked as though the world was his oyster and he had the knife to open it. The schools are closed for the holidays.

Grand Trunk Gain $39,175.

|---|---|
| 1906 | $733,924 |
| 1905 | 694,749 |
| Increase | $39,175 |

Lindsay Man Gets Good Job.

Lindsay Post: His many friends in Lindsay and the north country will learn with much satisfaction that Mr. Robert Bradshaw, of Cobalt, brother of Fishery Overseer Bradshaw, town, has had the good fortune to be appointed one of the Government's mining inspectors for that district.

Mr. Oliver Dusty Buys Land.

Mr. Chas. Dusty, 262 Dalhousie St., yesterday had a letter from his son Mr. Oliver Dusty, who is well known in this city as a athlete and champion skater. Mr. Oliver Dusty has taken up a half section of land in Manitoba, about eight miles from Manitou.

Mr. Dusty reports that he has secured a very fine section of land and is now placing stock on his property.

New Local Co. Starts Operations.

Yesterday Mr. W. J. Hawes entered into partnership with Mr. Chas. Minden in the graphophone business. As before noted, Mr. Minden has been appointed local agent of the Columbia Graphophone Co., with headquarters at 161 Simcoe street, where he has secured part of the premises used by Messrs T. Patterson & Co., the local fires' agents. Yesterday the store was crowded with people listening to the daily free concert given. The new firm will be known as Minden & Hawes. Whilst this firm occupies the above location, which is also the office of Messrs T. Patterson & Co., these well known fiscal agents will still be found in the same office and prepared to take orders for the various mining, industrial and other stocks they handle.

A Lindsay Thief Captured.

Lindsay Post says: Geo. Walker, a young man residing in the east ward was arrested this morning on a charge of having stolen goods on his possession. Chief Nevison entered the house with a search warrant and discovered a miscellaneous lot of dry goods, groceries, etc., and is now trying to locate the owners. Walker appeared before the police magistrate today and was remanded to jail in order to afford the police time needed to complete their investigation of the suspicious features of the case.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For many years my health began to fail, my head ached, my blood turned thin, and my stomach was gone all the time, while everything I would eat would cause me the heavy fifty load on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and stop taking the doctor's medicine. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

To gain knowledge of your own body—in sickness and health—send for the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A book of 1008 pages. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

DIAMONDS AND DIAMOND MINING

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is ever increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining enterprises of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 42 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums for machinery and mining appurtenances. From returns made during these six months we have demonstrated that we have a larger diamond field than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantages of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

We are conducting a legitimate business enterprise upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 10 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $720,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and in all that we will offer for sale.

We shall be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our office, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

Big Contracts Awarded for G.T.P.

The Lowest Tenders Given the Work on the Transcontinental Railway.

Ottawa, April 16.—The keenly fought struggle in the Cabinet over the transcontinental tenders has ended in the defeat of Mr. Parent and his backers, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Blair, etc., by the Fielding-Hyman-Ayles and the Patterson element. The lowest tenderers have won, Messrs. Hogan & McDonald for the eastern, and Mr. J. D. MacArthur for the western sections.

Mr. MacArthur's tender is for $13,010,399. This is $790,177 lower than the official estimate of $13,800,576, and no less than $4,092,818 lower than the highest tender.

Messrs. Hogan & McDonald's tender is for $5,297,257, which is no less than $675,570 lower than the Government estimate of $6,172,827, and $2,643,068 lower than the highest tender.

Mr. Schreiber's estimate was half a million in excess of Messrs. Hogan & McDonald's figures. The Dominion Bridge Company have been awarded the contract for the steel superstructure bridge over Cap Rouge Valley for $368,476.

The report that Mr. M. P. Davis has joined forces with Messrs. Hogan & McDonald is authoritatively denied.

WILL NEED 10,000 MEN.

Winnipeg, April 16.—J. D. MacArthur, who will construct the Winnipeg Superior section of the Grand Trunk Pacific, also contracted for 370 miles of construction work for the G.T.P. in various parts of the West, making 645 miles in all. By June 1 he will have ten thousand men on his pay roll. Seven thousand men will be required for Mr. MacArthur's Grand Trunk Pacific contract.—The first section will begin five miles east of Winnipeg, the second at Medora, and the third at a point north of Kenora, on the Winnipeg river; the fourth at Dinorwic and at other places about equal distance where supplies can be gotten in from the C.P.R. By water the work round the undertaking from all these points.

Caretaker for Separate School.

Out of some eight or ten applications for the position of caretaker of the new separate school received by the Separate School Board, Mr. Frank Larone has received the appointment, and will begin his duties on Easter Monday. The new school will be opened on Monday morning, April 23rd.

EASTER AT ST. JOHN'S

All Services Largely Attended—Beautiful Floral Decorations—High Class Music.

Yesterday, that grand old historic structure, St. John's church was crowded at both morning prayer at 11 a.m., and evensong at 7 p.m. The 7.15, 8 a.m., and midday communion services showed a marked increase in the number of communicants, and Rev. Canon Davidson, the rector, remarked that at the two early services alone there were more in attendance than at all the Communion services on Easter Sunday of last year. This speaks volumes for the growing influence of Peterboro's parish church. Rev. Mr. Ockl of Toronto, kindly assisted the rector at all services. The choral selections were of a very high class nature, bright and joyous, the excellent rendering of which reflected considerable credit on the splendid choir and its director, Mr. R. J. Dovey. In this as well as the rendering of "The Crucifixion," Good Friday night, it may truly be said that the choir excelled themselves.

The evensong service opened with a much appreciated offertory in F, by Batiste, very acceptably executed by Organist R. J. Dovey, and a "Hallelujah" chorus, sung with splendid volume by the choir, in which the big congregation heartily joined. At the offertory two selections were rendered—"Hosanna," by Granier; and "King of Kings," by Simper. Mrs. R. J. Dovey gave the solo parts in the former, and Mr. Shepherd the solo portions of the latter. Both soloists are deserving of special mention for their highly creditable work in these two beautiful pieces.

The sermon, which was a full choral one, only heard on special occasions at St. John's.

The offertory of yesterday will be devoted to enlarging the vestry.

MR. DENNISTOUN WON

Well Known Local Lawyer is Now a Bencher of the L. S. of U. C.

His many friends in this city and Province, will be pleased to learn that, after a keenly and closely contested election, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun has been elected as a Bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada. The standing of the candidates was very little changed from that of Thursday. When the votes were counted Mr. Dennistoun polled 556 votes.

Mr. Dennistoun is one of five out of the 30 Benchers elected, who did not belong last year.

The Benchers constitute the governing body of the profession, and have charge of reporting the cases at Osgoods Hall, and collect the annual fees. In a word, the Benchers occupy a position in the legal profession corresponding with that occupied by the College of Physicians and Surgeons in the medical profession, and election to it is considered an honor not to be lightly prized.

NAVIGATION OF HUDSON'S BAY

Mr. A. Low Estimates Open Period at Four Months

RESOURCES OF THE REGION

New Director of Geological Survey Lectures Before the Canadian Club.

Montreal, April 14.—Four months for ordinary vessels and a little longer for reinforced vessels is the term during which navigation can be carried on in Hudson's Bay and Strait. Such is the view expressed before the Canadian Club, at the St. Lawrence Hall, by Mr. A. P. Low, the newly appointed director of the Geological Survey.

Three years ago, Mr. Low commanded an expedition which, on board the Neptune, one of the staunchest vessels in the Newfoundland seal fisheries, explored Hudson's Bay and Strait, for the dual purpose of determining their navigability, and of reasserting to the fullest extent the authority of Canada over that region.

During the same voyage, Mr. Low explored the resources and found copper on the west, and iron on the east side of the Bay, while a Scotch company is taking out some excellent mica on the northern shore of the strait. In the great Labrador region, east and north, are found the granite and gneiss, as well as silurian limestone formations; and although the general appearance of these vast wastes, comprising some 250,000 square miles, cannot be said to be attractive from the agricultural point of view, they undoubtedly contain, in Mr. Low's opinion, much and varied stores of mineral wealth.

The address of Mr. Low was accompanied by some lime light views, which aided very much in following his explanations of the phenomena of that far northern country. Among them were views of the Esquimaux, the interior where the temperature is below freezing point, and still babies are playing around only half clothed. The professor dwelt upon the habits of these pigmies of the north and on their food. Fish is so abundant that a couple of drags of a net gives six thousand pounds.

The feasibility of navigation, however, was the main point dwelt upon in the address. Sealing operations begin about May 1st, but by July 1st still more safely on July 15th, the straits and bay are open to navigation. This continues until about November 15th, for ordinary vessels. The season for reinforced vessels extends to three or perhaps four weeks longer. The main danger to ships comes from the ice fields formed early in the season, and from the growlers or icebergs with the edges worn round by drifting about the northern seas. The autumn ice fields coming down from the north arrived in November and made navigation extremely perilous. This is the same ice that reaches Newfoundland about March 1st and makes the sealing season so prosperous.

While the question of the navigation of the Hudson's Bay and Straits might not appear to interest Eastern Canada directly, it must eventually affect it. The distance from Regina to Churchill was practically the same as that from Regina to Fort William, while from Churchill to Liverpool the mileage was equal to that from Quebec to Liverpool. Thus transportation from Fort William to Quebec would be saved by adopting the northern route.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

On Saturday morning the "Winsome Willie," and "Wardrobe" clubs sent delegates to the police court only to meet disappointment, as the doors leading to this abode of bliss for its usual audience were cruelly kept locked, so that the delegates had perforce to resume their positions against blank walls or chase up the delusive nickels and therewith invest in schooners of hop-juice.

The first case called was that of Jas. Wilson, charged with vagrancy and having neither settled place of abode nor ostensible means of support, Wilson, with copious applications of a handkerchief, which displayed a nonsense long seperation from any wash-rag to his eyes, said he was not a vagrant, and had been living up on Dublin street. He had only been out of jail for twenty days. Was sent there, according to evidence of the police, for drunkness. The chief gave evidence that James had been drunk the day before, and complainants had come to him that he had been begging for whiskey or money to get it. He thought had seen Wilson standing up asleep in the daytime on Aylmer street. The chief remarked further, "I think he is just a pest wherever he enters who can't leave whisky alone. James again asked clemency of the court, but the magistrate said that a further term of 30 days on the hill would notonly get the alcohol out of him, but would show him he could not become a charge on the community. His decision was $5 to be paid forthwith or 30 days in the cool retreat on the hill. James took the thirty days.

A young man named Claude Quinlan, apprehended here on a warrant from Napanee for cruelty to animals, was next brought into the limelight. The chief asked for a remand until an officer arrived to take him home.

The next, and last case tried was that of a young English woman, who except for the light of intellect being absent from eyes and features, would be a rather handsome girl, was charged with being insane.

Mrs. Eleanor Margaret Pipes, matron of the local Barnardo Home, answered the usual questions asked in such cases. She said the girl, by name Sarah Burns, 22 years of age, came to Canada from England in 1897, and to the Home as a domestic in 1904, where she had been since. The unfortunate girl, according to Mrs. Pierce's evidence, has had violent attacks of epilepsy since Aug. 1903, and has, for the past six months shown evident symptoms of lunacy. The attacks of epilepsy come once a month; then she has a lucid interval. The lunacy comes from epilepsy, and is getting worse. Her latest delusion is that the end of the world is coming. She is suicidal in tendency, having several times tried to jump out of upstairs windows. Amongth other delusions, and one that is most dangerous, is that she is possessed of the devil, and sees him at times. This takes place is on fire. Mrs. Pierce explained that two local doctors are prepared to certify to the girl's insanity and thinks she is incurable. The Home authorities have been trying to get the girl into the Woodstock home for incurables, without success as yet.

The girl was committed for medical examination and taken to the jail in a cab.

A CLEVER CAPTURE

Mr. Johnston Local Fishery Inspector Makes Good Haul.

By the exercise of rare watchfulness and knowledge of his business on Saturday, Mr. Johnston, local fishery inspector, captured about eight hundred pounds of splendid bass, caught in Pigeon Creek and Otemong Lake.

It seems that Mr. Thos. Rutherford, acting chief game warden for this district, a few days ago ascertained by well timed enquiries and research, that a certain party was setting bass in the waters mentioned, contrary to law. To get this information was, with Mr. Rutherford, to act; to obtained full particulars as to when and by whom this large haul of murdered fish would be brought to the city for sale, and then instructed Messrs. Watt and Johnston to watch the various roads leading from Enniscorre to the city.

Mr. Watt undertook one section of the county and Mr. Johnston the other, with the result that fortune favored Mr. Johnston. This gentleman intercepted a man named Cameron with some eight hundred fine large mouth bass, and of course confiscated them. His seizure was given away to various charitable institutions. Prosecutions will follow in a few days.

C. L. A. Elect Officers at Convention Held in Toronto.

All previous records as to attendance at the Canadian Lacrosse Association's annual convention, were broken at that of last week when one hundred and twenty-six clubs were represented. In future no players over twenty years of age will be able to take part in the junior series. They must also be residents of the town for which they play. An attempt to adopt the woodbine clause in connection with the intermediate series was made, but the proposal failed to carry.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

President—J. C. Miller, of Orillia, 156; H. S. Cameron, Beaverton, 123.

First Vice-President — J. D. Bailey, Toronto, 139; C. A. Irvine, Brampton, 130.

Second Vice President — J. M. Kearns, Arthur, 181; Fred E. Ellis, Oshawa 81.

Secretary-Treasurer — W. H. Hall, Aylmer.

Council — Thomas F. Doyle, Newmarket, 139; H. M. Jackson, Seaforth, 128; John McEachren, Toronto Junction, 114; O. S. Eby, Hespeler, 104; B. Best, were tied with McKim for tenth place and the three drew for last place.

It is with general regret that the news of Mr. Best's failure to get on the council will be learned.

A WOMAN DOCTOR

Was Quick to See that Coffee Poison Was Doing the Mischief.

A lady tells of a bad case of coffee poisoning and tells it in a way so simple and straightforward that literary skill could not improve it.

"I had neuralgic headaches for 12 years," she says, "and have suffered untold agony. When I first began to have them I weighed 138 pounds, but they brought me down to 110. I went to many doctors and they gave me only temporary relief. So I suffered on, till one day in 1904, a woman doctor told me to drink Postum Food Coffee. She said I looked like I was coffee poisoned.

"So I began to drink Postum and I gained 15 pounds in the first few weeks and am still gaining, but not so fast as at first. My headaches began to leave me after I had used Postum about two weeks—long enough I expect to get the coffee poison out of my system.

"Now that a few months have passed since I began to use Postum Food Coffee, I can gladly say that I never know what a neuralgic headache is like any more, and it was nothing but Postum that cured me. Before I used Postum I never went out alone; I would get bewildered and would not know which way to turn. Now I go alone and my head is as clear as a bell. My brain and nerves are stronger than they have been for years." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Roosevelt and Judas Iscariot

Compared When it Comes to Promises and Performance---Congressman Towne's Fiery Criticism.

Kansas City, Mo., April 16.—Replying the money market without material increase in the silver output. We owe our prosperity to Providence, went outside the set speech to eulogize William J. Bryan and to attack President Roosevelt bitterly. Both sentiments aroused most intense enthusiasm, reference to the Nebraskan ending in a demonstration that amounted to an uproar. Mr. Towne did not refer to Mr. Bryan by name.

"Your toastmaster has put upon me the duty of referring to our great standard bearer of 1896," he said. "I feel almost that he himself in far away India must be catching the enthusiasm of your homage tonight."

Mr. Towne then read from an editorial article in which sympathy was offered to the Democratic editor, who was wont to write columns on imperialism and free silver.

THE MONEY ISSUE.

"I am as thankful as anyone that the money question has worked itself out so satisfactorily," resumed Mr. Towne. "But I cannot accept in silence the popular version of why the predicted panic that was to follow the adoption of the gold standard did not materialize. The panic did not occur because since 1896 the country has produced enough gold to supply the money market without material increase in the silver output. We owe our prosperity to Providence, not to a party.

HOT STUFF.

Then Mr. Towne attacked President Roosevelt; "I am going to take you into my confidence this much," said the speaker, "by telling you that I am going back to Washington with the avowed purpose of exposing President Roosevelt. He is the greatest pretender and shallow performer since the days of Judas Iscariot. He stole the rate legislation program from a national Democratic platform, and has now laid down on his own calliope sounds for legislators and lectures them like boys.

DEGENERATE HOUSE.

"And this body, consider them for a minute. They are a speaker and a degenerate house. Nowadays there are three steps in national legislation—getting the permission of "Uncle Joe" to introduce a bill, and then securing its passage in the house and the senate. I get no pillow in the house. I might as well make a power of attorney to the speaker and go back home and get to work. I would not stay in congress or in the Democratic party if I did not believe that Democracy will eventually triumph in national affairs."

THE HOUSE OF REFUGE

County Council Orders Preston Property to be Measured.

Once more the Preston farm property as a site for the house of refuge was discussed Saturday morning, by the County Council in special session in the council chamber.

The by-law to purchase this property gave rise to considerable discussion. Councillor Moloney, who has opposed this property all through, brought before the notice of the council that there might not be 100 acres in the farm, as one acre had been sold and about three acres taken for a roadway. He claimed the land should be surveyed.

Mr. Preston expressed his willingness to this.

Members present—Warden Johnston in the chair; Councillors Webster, Moloney, Garbutt, Menogue, Shaw, Carey, Buck, Andrews and Stanton.

Councillor Carey asked if it was best to rent the farm or not as the season for seeding was drawing very close.

Councillor Garbutt said that he had told Mr. Preston to work it the same as though he were running it. Mr. Preston has already started ploughing.

Councillor Stinson suggested working it on shares.

Mr. Carey suggested that the farm be repossessed for this year at 4 1-2 per cent. of the purchase price which was $6,500. The rent would amount to $292.50.

Moved by Councillors Shaw and Malougue that a by-law be passed confirming the purchase of the site for a house of refuge.

Councillor Garbutt said that Mr. Preston was willing that the farm should be surveyed and he would submit to the measurement, and allow $65 an acre for all that the farm was short.

"Well," said Mr. Moloney, "I object to the by-law being passed."

Councillor Andrews was also of the opinion that the price was too high.

The by-law was amended to read that the sum of $6500 be the price or the sum of $65 an acre, whichever is the less.

Moved by Mr. Menogue that the matter of measuring the property be left with the warden and chairman of the Building Committee and they to decide what there is to be paid.

Mr. Preston said he was perfectly willing that he be paid at the rate of $65 an acre. If there were less than 100 acres he could take less than $6500, but if there were more than 100 acres he would expect to be paid for it, according to its tender.

Moved by Mr. Stinson, seconded by Mr. Webster, that the Preston property selected for house of refuge be measured.—Carried.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Nurse Frightened by Street Car Falls Backwards.

What might have proved a serious accident but fortunately turned out all right. A gentleman driving a lady north along Aylmer street, street, about 4 p.m., Saturday, saw a car approaching the corner of Charlotte street. The gentleman evidently knowing the horse was frightened of the street cars attempted to stop the animal before it reached Charlotte street. The frightened animal would not stop and made for the approaching Charlotte street car as fast as it could. The horse and car came within five feet of a collision, when the horse suddenly reared up and fell backwards, nearly on the occupants of the buggy. By an almost miraculous chance not even the shafts were broken, and the horse, when somewhat quelled, pulled its load along their journey north.

MORE BUILDINGS

Vacant Lot on George Street, Never Before Used, to Be Built Upon.

Many thousands of people in this city, and more than that, who have passed along George street, between Dublin and Antrim streets, have noted a vacant lot, never used in the memory of men, further than a dead loss to its owners, will be surprised to learn it will be built upon.

The configuration of this lot owing to a miniature valley running across it, has hitherto prevented its being built upon. Recently the lot was sold by the Dickson Company, to Messrs. Jas. Middleton and George Ruth, who have disposed of two lots, the north end, on Water street to Mr. Jas. Stubbs. Associated with Mr. Stubbs in this deal is his son, Mr. W. J. Stubbs, who recently purchased a big hotel building that was built at Irondale, on the I.B. & O. Railway during the boom time. The building was a frame structure of stout timbers and sound lumber, and has been taken down and the material brought to Peterboro, four cars loaded. As far as possible the material will be used in the construction of two brick dwellings to be erected on the property noted, facing on Water street.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

Reopened and Greatly Improved in its Interior.

Yesterday for the first time since the extensive alterations and improvements were undertaken, St. Andrew's church, was reopened. The pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter preached both morning and evening. The interior, decorated throughout by Messrs. Duncan & Bouge, under the direction of the Ladies' Aid Society, who have reorganized the seats and pulpit platform, was greatly admired by the large congregations present at both services.

The auditorium presents a bright and attractive appearance. Over the choir loft are two handsome scroll mottos, "Oh Bless Our Lord, Ye People," and "Make His Praise Glorious. Mrs. Templeman, of Sudbury, contributed solos at both the morning and evening services.

This evening a public service will be held, at which Dr. McTigan, pastor of old St. Andrew's church, Toronto, will give an address on "Lessons from Sunbeams." The public is cordially invited to attend.

Local Man Loses His Hat.

A young man well known about town, a few days ago was in the haberdasher department of a local dispensary of wet goods, in company with several friends. The young man, who was wearing a brand new stiff hat, feeling the heat somewhat oppressive, took his hat off, placed it on the counter. One of the hotel employes, a bit of a wag, whilst the young man was engaged in earnest conversation, exchanged an old back number head-piece, that had been kicking about the place for months for the new tile. The young man, when about to leave, picked up the venerable tile and putting it on his head, in the momentary absence of the joker, only discovered its loss on reaching home. Explanations and exchange were in order later on.

Roosevelt for Third Term.

Washington, April 14.—The following official announcement was made that President Roosevelt will make a tour of the west in the spring and summer of 1907. Senators who are opposed to him, both in policy as to the rate bill and other questions, say he has planned this trip as the beginning of a spirited campaign for a third term. It is asserted by them that no call has been made upon the President by any specific body to go west and address it, and that friends of his have suggested to colleges and other institutions, including those having to do with agriculture, that they invite the President to address them.

Other companies' stocks, representing properties not so well located or making as good showing as ours, are selling for from twenty to fifty cents a share, and according to all practice and precedent our stock ought not to sell for less. Get our map and prospectus and read our reasons.

REMARKABLY RICH ORE TO WORK ON AT THE BEGINNING

Ore taken from the twenty-foot shaft on the SILVER KING No. 1 claim assayed NINE HUNDRED AND THREE OUNCES OF SILVER and $139.00 GOLD PER TON, and it seems scarcely possible, keeping in view the history of the BULLFROG DISTRICT, that this mine will not develop into an EXTRAORDINARY RICH ONE AND GREAT DIVIDEND PAYER with such ore to begin with, and we have good reasons for believing that

Every Dollar Invested in Bullfrog Keystone Will be Returned Many Times Over,

Probably 100 to 500 per cent. in a few months. This is broad, but indications warrant the statement.

What Governor Melklejohn Says:

"Gov. Melklejohn, who owns one of the neighboring properties to the BULLFROG-KEYSTONE, has made further investments in the district, and justifies the same by saying: "The BULLFROG DISTRICT is a wonder; mines will be operated here when others have gone into history."

CAN YOU RESIST DISEASE GERMS?

Yes, and becomes "Germ-proof" by Driving Out Blood Humors and Restoring the System.

Why are doctors and hospitals so busy in spring-time? Easily answered. People haven't made surplus vigor in the spring; it was all used up in fighting off colds through the winter.

With thin blood and low vitality, the germs of disease become active and cause fevers and debility.

Your one protection is to get the abundant vigor that Ferrozone so quickly supplies; it gives spring sickness that "tired feeling," restores nerve energy and instills vim and force into every ailing organ of the body.

No ab ler restorative is known than Ferrozone; its influence is not temporary but lasting, laying a sound foundation of health that lasts till old age.

Mr. Hessler, Depty. of Yeiton, P.Q., Que., who received enormous benefit from Ferrozone, writes: "I cannot speak too highly in praise of Ferrozone. If any one had told me that any remedy could build up my nervous system so well, I wouldn't have believed it.

"Before using Ferrozone I was run down in nerve and vital energy, and in very weak health.

"I didn't get enough sleep at night and felt poorly in the day time.

"Ferrozone has filled me up with energy and win. Increased my weight and made a new man of me."

Your health through the summer depends on clearing away all traces of spring sickness; the remedy is Ferrozone. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

RECORD SEASON FOR PASSENGERS

Steamship Men are Expecting Enormous Ocean Traffic This Summer.

VESSELS BOOKED AHEAD

Last Season Constitutes the Record at Present, but is Likely to Be Exceeded.

Montreal, April 14. — Within thirty days the steamship companies doing business via the St. Lawrence will have made a good start on what is very generally considered will be the heaviest passenger business in the history of the Canadian route.

All lines interested in the trade, the Allans, C. P. R., Dominion and Donaldson lines, are all looking forward to the largest business by far in their history, so far as passenger traffic is concerned.

The westward bookings, that is to Canada from the British ports will, if indications are to be relied upon, be larger even than last year, which was the record up to this time.

The latest advices to the Allan office from their Liverpool headquarters states that all available space in second and third class has been engaged up to and including th. May 3rd sailing.

Advices to the Dominion line from their foreign office state that in third-class passengers their ships are filled up to and including the second sailing of the Dominion from Liverpool on May 24. In second class the Southwark, sailing for the St. Lawrence on April 26, from Liverpool, is also reported full.

To the C. P. R. steamship the same thing applies.

IMMIGRANTS IN TRANSIT.

The steamships of all these three lines now on the ocean and bound for winter ports are filled with second and third class passengers. For instance, the Allan liner Victorian, which vessel is making her first voyage since being done over, sailed from Moville on Friday last with 1,151 passengers, made up as follows: First class, 82; second, 463; third, 906. This steamship is again under the command of Captain Macaicol, who, it will be remembered, resolved to quit the sea and resigned, but later thought better of it and has again taken up the work.

THE NEW EMPRESS SERVICE.

Naturally a great deal of interest centres in the new Empress steamships of the C. P. R. The first of these to take the water, the Empress of Britain, is expected to arrive in Quebec about May 11. Mr. George Mcl. Brown, passenger manager of the line, stated that this vessel would come out with upward of 1,700 passengers on board, of whom some 1,300 would be third class. This will make a total together with the crew and officers, of 2,100 souls on board, a good sized town of itself. Mr. Brown states that the Empress steamers are attracting a good deal of attention from the wealthy American travellers who want only the best and are willing to pay for it.

Mr. George Heatch, passenger manager of the Allan Line, in discussing the general outlook, stated that he never in his experience saw any better prospects of an excellent season that was now before them. He stated that the eastward business as well as the westward was most encouraging. The Allans are now booking business by their steamships from as far south as Cincinnati.

A DOUBLE WEEKLY SERVICE.

The Allans will this season operate between Montreal and Liverpool a first class weekly service; between Montreal and London the service of the Allans will also be weekly while between Montreal and Havre the ships will sail every two weeks. This service will be improved this year by the addition of the Carthaginian, which vessel has been operating on the Newfoundland mail service.

A new service will the coming summer be inaugurated by the Allans. This will be the passenger service from Philadelphia to St. John's, Newfoundland. The steamers in this trade will include the City of Vienna and the City of Bombay, which were built for Oriental traffic and are especially adapted for such a service. These steamers will after touching at St. John's proceed on to Glasgow and thence back to Philadelphia. It is expected that a large number of tourists will in this manner visit the island of Newfoundland.

BIG BUSINESS BOTH WAYS.

Mr. Robert Macfarlane, passenger manager of the Dominion Line, states that inquiries are coming in plentifully and he looks for a record business. Not only does this apply to westbound but to eastbound business as well. For instance, the Dominion Liner Kensington, sailing from Montreal on June 30, is already booked full; and as regards westbound business Mr. Macfarlane states that the company has been obliged to book via Philadelphia and Boston. Passengers via Philadelphia were brought out on the American line steamships and to Boston on the vessels of the White Star Line. The Dominion line's fleet will be the same as last year, the only difference being that the accommodation on the Canada, already large, has been considerably augmented.

The Donaldson line will have only one passenger ship operating between Montreal and Glasgow until July when the second will be finished and placed in service.

THE SHOW WINDOW

Don't neglect the upper part of the window.

Don't stick to one style of trimming. Branch out.

Don't skimp on elbow grease in cleaning the glass.

Don't wait till a trim is fly specked before changing it.

Don't overlook the utility of a certain number of fixtures.

Don't be afraid to try something new in the way of a display.

Don't fill a sunny window with goods that the sun will discolor.

Don't let the window stand too long. A week is about the limit.

Don't be afraid to spend a little money on the trim. It will come back.

Don't fail to call the local newspaper's attention to each nice trim that you make.

Don't prolong the trimming unnecessarily. A quick change will impress the public more.

Don't copy. But you can elaborate or change some one else's ideas without being open to the criticism of copying. —Exchange.

A Wonderful Faculty of the Triton.

The triton, a spotted, lizardlike reptile found in almost every state in the Union, has a most wonderful power of reproducing amputated parts. Bonnot, the great French naturalist, experimented on the little creatures by amputating their legs and tails and by so doing found that their powers of reproduction were almost unlimited. In one instance an amputated leg was reproduced twelve times in three years, and in another an eye was gouged out and reproduced in less than twelve months. The loss of a tail does not appear to discommode a triton except to give him a sort of unbalanced gait. Tails clipped from the specimens Bonnot kept to experiment on were invariably reproduced in from five to nine weeks.

The Donjon.

The donjon, or keep, of the castle was a tower within, much stronger than the rest of the structure and designed as a last resort for the garrison when the walls and other portions of the fortification had fallen into the hands of the enemy. The donjon was generally provided with a secret exit, a tunnel being constructed, often many hundreds of yards in length, leading to some concealed outlet through which the besieged could receive succor or, in time of necessity, escape.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of May, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 260 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On May 1st the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

The Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Co., of Erie, Kan.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 600 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 65 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $300,000, $100,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $250 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 60 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $200 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 5,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical extension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great ... mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

like this before. There was a foreboding sense of pain in her heart which she could not shake off. Eleven o'clock struck from a clock in an adjoining, church steeple; and as the last stroke died away some one ran lightly up the broad marble steps, and touched the bell.

As she opened the door of her boudoir she heard her own name mentioned. A messenger boy stood in the vestibule with a sealed letter in his hand.

With a strange fluttering at her heart, Reine took it, and hurried back to her own room. It was in Waldemar's handwriting, she saw at a glance, and she noticed, too, that the writing was hurried—agitated—as though it had been done under the stress of great emotion.

Why had he written to her instead of coming home? Had anything happened to him? she wondered, and in a moment all the old love flooded her heart for him. She forgot all his coldness and unkindness, remembering him only as the handsome, fair-haired, graceful young lover for whom she had given up home, father, friends and wealth, the lover and young husband, who had taught her love's young dream.

Had ill befallen him?

With trembling hands she broke the seal and tore open the envelope. There were but a few dozen brief lines—surely the cruelest and most pitiful that ever broke a human heart.

A wild cry broke from her lips as her eyes ran over the first few words on the page. Then the stillness of death settled around her, broke now and then by the fluttering of the sheet in her trembling hands.

These were the words she read:

"Reine,—By the time this letter reaches you I shall be far away. It is better to speak plainly to you, telling you all. I am leaving you forever, Reine, for I cannot face you after what will happen to-morrow. Perhaps, after all, it is better for you to be free from such a wretch as I own myself frankly to be.

"You married me for love. Your attractiveness to me was—you were the prospective heiress of Fairlawn. There are men whose hearts are incapable of love, for love's sake alone. Mine, I admit, is one of them. If I had thought your father would have cast you off as he has done. I should never have snatched you from luxury and happiness to share such a roving life as is mine. We were never suited for each other. A sinner like myself has nothing in common with angelic purity. We have lived luxuriously, and now we are come to the end of the road—ruin and utter bankruptcy. Your firm denial to make one more effort to save me rendered me desperate, as I told you. I am a profligate by nature. I have won and lost much money at cards. Last night I staked our all—the furniture, plate and pictures of our home, and—lost. They have passed into other hands, and to-morrow they will be taken from you. I inclose twenty dollars, take it, and return to the home you left for my sake. I am going out of your life, severing the bonds that bound us to each other, wilfully, deliberately. You are not the first wife so left; it is common enough for hearts to break over it. Try and forget that I have ever crossed your path, for I am not worthy of reclaiming or being reclaimed.

"WALDEMAR."

Reine sat quite still with her letter in her hand. She read to the very end, and then sat still, staring, dumb, like one turned to stone. She did not cry out, after that first gasp of horror. The white lips were parted and open, but no sound came from them. The lovely blue eyes had a mild, bewildered expression. She was trying to realize that most cruel blow that could ever strike a living heart—that she was a deserted bride. Her husband had fled from her—yes, fled from her, wilfully, deliberately. Heaven help her! Was there any remedy either on earth or in heaven for such woe as hers?

What shame, what grief, what outraged love and pride swept over her like a tempest, as she sat there looking into the glowing coals, who shall say? A wild laugh echoed through the room. It quite startled Reine. She did not realize that it was her own voice. The sound of that strange laugh pierced the thick walls to the inner apartment, where Honora, her maid, was busy sorting a package of new lace fichus. She dropped them in dismay, and hurried to Reine's boudoir. One look at the white, ghastly face bent over the open letter was enough.

"Oh, my dear! my dear! you have had bad news!" she cried in affright.

Reine looked up at the faithful servitor with wide, sombre eyes. How could she tell her what had happened to her?

"Honora," she sobbed, with quivering lips, tears—hot, bitter tears falling like rain down her face. "I may tell you—all the world will know it soon. My—my husband has deserted me. He has left me forever. Oh! I wish to Heaven that I might fall down dead!"

Deserted her! It could not be! What man in his senses could have fled from a young wife like this—a young wife as lovely as a dream. She looked bewildered.

"Left you!" she cried in horror. "You cannot mean it, my lady!"

It is quite true," sobbed Reine. Oh, Honora! you are older and wiser than I," she cried out in agony. "tell me what other wives do when their husbands leave them. I have heard that such things have happened; I have read of them; but it never occurred to me to ask what the poor wives did—whether their hearts broke or whether they went mad, or if they committed suicide."

"They have to bear it calmly and patiently, I think," replied the honest maid, "who had always feared that something of this kind would happen to her beautiful young mistress sooner or later.

"I can never live to bear the shame and disgrace of it, Honora," the girl moaned. "If I walked out upon the street, saw anyone I knew, I would be looked at with curiosity, and they would whisper as they passed me by, 'Her husband left her. I wonder why?' Oh, Honora! I could not bear that. I—I cannot live to endure it!"

"You must turn a deaf ear if anyone says anything so very unkind as that," replied Honora. "Other women have had the same thing to endure—but perhaps it is not so bad as you think."

"It could not be worse," moaned Reine; "oh, what am I to do?"

The maid was nonplussed. "Lay down and try to compose yourself to sleep a little, and I will try to think," said Honora; but Reine shook her head.

"It seems as though I should never sleep again," she sobbed, "my brain is on fire."

"It may not be true that he has gone away forever," declared Honora.

For some moments Reine sat silent, then, cowering down in her chair, she buried her face in her hands, saying desperately—"I am beginning to think there is no such thing as real love. I read once words I marvelled at then, but which seem pitifully true now: 'that some say the devil carried the seed from

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15.0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging," will be received up to and including Wednesday, April 15, 1908, for the dredging required at the following places in the Province of Ontario during the present year: Pentanguishene, Meaford, Fesserton, Goderich, Point Edward, Port Stanley, Port Burwell, Rondeau, River Thames (mouth), Owen Sound, Nigger Island Channel, and Trenton.

Combined specifications and forms of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of filing tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

The Department is not bound to accept the lowest or any of the tenders.

DIAMONDS AND DIAMOND MINING

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is ever increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining enterprises of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 42 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums for machinery and mining appurtenances. From careful tests made during these six months we have demonstrated that we have a larger diamond field than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantages of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

We are conducting a legitimate business enterprise upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 10 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $320,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and is all that we will offer for sale.

We shall be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our office, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

SPLENDID PRODUCTION

Oratorio "The Crucifixtion" Well Rendered in St. John's Church.

On Friday evening, St. John's church was filled to its utmost capacity, noticeable among the large audience being many members from other churches present, to hear the grand oratorio, "The Crucifixion."

This most nobly rendered musical rendering of the world's most notable historical and religious event was not only appropriate for Good Friday, but was from a purely secular standpoint, thoroughly enjoyed. "The Crucifixion" may be described as a meditation upon the sacred mission of the Divine Redeemer.

Mr. R. J. Dovey, the organist of St. John's is to be congratulated for the admirable training of the choir, and the musical accompaniment.

Among the soloists of the evening, who each and every one were in good voice, and displayed rare vocal and musical qualities, were — Sopranos, Mrs. Fred. Clarke and Mrs. Seward; tenors, solo and duet, Mr. Morpiet and Mr. Dovey; bass, Mr. Halpenny; baritone, Mr. Hegue Seward.

In the chorus music were noted the voices of Messrs. A. Kingscote, Chas. Seymour, A. A. Hollingshead and Geo. Brown. The soprano chorus was particularly satisfying and included Mrs. Dovey, Mrs. Halpenny, Miss Boucher, Miss Seward, the Misses Morris, Miss Birdie Dawson and Miss English. The contralto section was well sustained by Miss Hazel Dean and Masters Frank Halpenny and Cyril Dovey.

Prominent in the singing and contributing especially to the delight of all present was the spirited work rendered by the boys of the choir, whose clear voices displayed good training.

Taken altogether "The Crucifixion" was one of the most impressive and enjoyable musical treats ever heard in St. John's church.

Mr. Dumble, by his genial manner, has made many friends during his sojourn in Tweed, who will regret his departure. He left yesterday afternoon to enter upon his new duties.

Large Church Attendance.

By enquiries made last night, it seems that yesterday, Easter Sunday saw the largest number of citizens gathered within church walls in the history of this city. An approximate estimate of those who attended divine service through the churches of Peterboro yesterday meant that over three-quarters of the entire population attended at least one service.

The Strenuous Life

Results in Stomach Troubles and Physicial Breakdown.

The strenuous life of modern times forces people to rush through their meals hastily, hurrying from the table in the mad rush after the almighty dollar.

The result is incomplete digestion, inflammation of the walls of the stomach, and lack of secretion of the gastric juices, ending in chronic stomach trouble and nervous breakdown.

How much better would it be to eat more slowly, cure the stomach trouble with Mi-o-na and soon regain perfect health. The headaches, sleeplessness, nervous troubles, pain after eating, specks before the eyes, backaches, melancholy and gloomy forebodings would be soon overcome and perfect health and strength would be restored.

Proper treatment of the weakened digestive system with Mi-o-na will cure every case of stomach trouble. The results of this treatment are so astonishing and so pronounced, that those who have tried it never fail to appreciate its value as a healing agent.

Each box of Mi-o-na sells for 50 cents, and is invaluable to anyone who sufferers with indigestion, nervousness or weak stomach.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The E. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennet Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. George Ohs, of New York; Dr. Barthalow, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidingly takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine can so much for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

GAME PROTECTION

"Hunter" Advocates Higher License Fees for Foreigners.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—Very much comment, some favorable and some the opposite, has recently been passed, particularly by those who yearly visit our northern lakes in quest of health and deer, over the recently changed game laws.

In my humble opinion the law as now set forth is very unfair to the taxpayers of this province. It seems to me that such deer as our country contains should be kept strictly for the taxpayers of the Province.

Very much has been said in the local papers about keeping up our game supplies in order that rich American sportsmen may be induced to come to Canada and spend their money here. Now who gets the Americans' money and how much of it?

I venture to say that excepting the comparatively few dudders the Yankees leave with a few hotel keepers, mainly in the back woods, does not represent one-third of the taxes alone paid by the hunters of this Province. It stands to reason that when Americans visit the country hotels, and fling round their dollars they get the inside track as to the dear our people living in the towns of the Province who go out and stop at lodges they own.

All that these American sportsmen leave, outside railroad fare and [illegible] country, during their yearly visit to Canada amounts to mighty little. It is well known that they bring their guns, ammunition and supplies with them, so the Canadian merchant gets a very short sum during their visit.

It is known well that a majority of the American fishermen on Kawartha Lakes, simply go out to slay as many fish as they can, and in some cases have been absolutely seen to leave fish rotting that they cannot use; just to "blow" about how many bass they "caught yesterday."

I would like to see a license fee put on these people, who kill our game and pay not one cent towards preserving them, so heavy that only the best element, and not the "fish hogs," would come here to hunt or fish.

Yours truly,
HUNTER.

Education Board Met Last Night

Tenders for New School in South Ward, to Be Advertised for at Once in Local and Toronto Papers.

Last night the Board of Education met in the secretary's office, to discuss the proposed South Ward school plans.

Those present were, Messrs. Ferguson, chairman; Dumble, Ackerman, Hill, Crane and Pringle.

Architect Blackwell was present, and produced plans and specifications of the building for the Board's decision.

The Board at once went into Committee of the Whole, thus debarring the presence of the public, as represented by the press, at the meeting.

After the Committee of the Whole, had concluded their business, the press representatives were admitted, the open session only taking about ten minutes.

Mr. Pringle, chairman of the committee in charge of the erection of a new school in the south ward, produced the plans and specifications of the new south ward school.

Mr. Dumble moved that the plans and specifications submitted by Mr. Blackwell, architect, be accepted and that the committee proceed to advertise for tenders for erection of the new school.—Carried.

Mr. Hill advocated advertising for tenders in the Toronto papers to prevent any combination by local contractors.

Mr. Pringle noted that he had noticed tenders for a school for Barrie advertised in the Toronto papers.

Mr. Hill's suggestion was embodied in Mr. Dumble's motion.

The Board then adjourned.

THE PLANS.

The plans, as submitted by Architect Blackwell show a really splendid building, which will be an ornament, not only to the enterprise of the present Board of Education but an honor to the City of Peterboro.

The front elevation shows a massive, plain yet ornamental and private building, thoroughly adapted to the purposes required.

The building will be 74x94 feet, facing towards the east. It will be covered by a flat gravelled roof.

As before noted, the Board, looking to future requirements and with a view to present expense, decided to erect a three-story building, leaving the top flat unfurnished until such time as more extensive accommodation is required. The plans show eight finished rooms, each twenty-six by thirty-two feet in dimension, and each having a commodious wardrobe, and four unfinished rooms on the top storey.

The corridors, from north to south are seventeen feet wide. The building will be of red brick, finished with dressings of Longford stone.

The building will, for the present be heated with steam, and, later on a blast hot air plant, with fans will be introduced.

The kindergarten department will be on the south-west ground floor, and will have a large bay window to ensure perfect light and ventilation.

Opposite the main entrance is a room for the principal and a waiting room.

The library is on the front of the second floor.

There are cloak rooms of the end of each class room, seven feet wide, arranged to be under each teacher's supervision.

One leading feature of the building, is that the windows are all so placed that the light will be on the left shoulder of the pupils as they sit at their desks.

All the ceilings are of metal and the floors of hardwood.

The basement is, separated by the boiler room, into two large sections, completely separated, for boys and girls respectively. These contain lunch rooms, lavatories, etc. there is also a store room in the basement for bicycles. The heating and ventigation are of the most modern kind.

The whole building reflects great credit upon Mr. Blackwell, who has completed a most efficient job and the Board, who betray great study of this undertaking.

LOCAL ART

Ladies' Art Association was well Attended Last Night.

The meeting of the ladies interested in matters of art and art culture held in the Y.M.C.A. hall last night, was well attended.

The work shown in this excellent exhibition was divided into five classes, oils, colors, china painting, wood carving, modelling in bronze, and pen and ink drawings. The president, Mrs. Dignam, of Toronto, had three specimens of her handicraft.

Miss Heaven of Toronto, had two pictures, the most admired of which was perhaps, a landscape taken in Sicily.

Other local work there were some fine specimens, notably Miss Hatton's, "A Veteran of the Forest," and "A Bit of Muskoka," which latter received high praise from the critics in Toronto.

Miss Bertram's three water colors all of which were floral pieces, were constantly surrounded by admiring critics.

Miss Bennett's portrayal of a local "Willow Fire," taken in the Burnham property, and "A Bit of Toronto," as well as her "Geraniums" were also favorably commented upon. Miss Cameron Edwards had a very fine exhibition of wood carving, which was worthy of a master in that art. Taken as a whole the exhibition was far above the average and stimulated to create a great amount of enthusiasm among local artistes in pen, pencil, brush, or carving tools.

REMARKABLY RICH ORE TO WORK ON AT THE BEGINNING

Ore taken from the twenty-foot shaft on the SILVER KING No. 1 claim assayed NINE HUNDRED AND THIRTEEN OUNCES OF SILVER and $138.60 GOLD PER TON, and it seems scarcely possible, keeping in view the history of the BULLFROG DISTRICT, that this mine will not develop into an EXTRAORDINARY RICH ONE AND GREAT DIVIDEND PAYER with such ore to begin with, and we have good reasons for believing that

GERMANY TO ENJOY ISOLATION

Negotiations in Progress for Alliance of Britain, France and Russia

MOROCCAN CRISIS HELPFUL

Germany's Attitude Antagonized Powers Which Saw Danger in Kaiser's Ambition.

St. Petersburg, April 16.—It is said that Great Britain has begun to vigorously press negotiations for an Anglo-Russian entente, with the purpose of completing the triple alliance of Great Britain, France and Russia against Germany, which has been long the aim of British policy. The developments at the Algeciras conference, where Great Britain, France and Russia acted in unison, and the participation of English bankers in the big Russia loan, furnishes a particularly favorable moment, and Great Britain's Premier Witte, have favored an Anglo-Russian entente, and the consummation is regarded as practically certain. The pourparlers between the two Governments thus far have only touched the questions relating to the delimitation of respective spheres of influence, including the apportioning of railway and banking concessions in Persia. Generally speaking Great Britain wants the southern and Russia the northern half of that country. There is reason to believe that when the consent of Persia is secured, the branch of the Trans-Caucasus Railway, now authorized to the Persian frontier, will be extended to Bagdad, which point, it is estimated, can be reached before the famous German Bagdad road is completed.

When the Persian question is settled all matters relating to the Indian frontier, which constitutes a source of possible misunderstanding, namely, the Afghan, Pamirs and Thibet, will be resolved.

THOSE SEIZED FISH

Mr. Tooley Denies Statements Made in Last Night's Review.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I notice in last night's Review, a report of the recent seizure of fish by Inspector Johnson, in which the paper is incorrect. My name is several times used, in a connection that has no foundation.

The Review, referring to this seizure says that Mr. Johnston made a lucky capture (of fish) "at Tooley's Hotel;" further on the Review's report goes on to say that 'The chief informed Fish Inspector John Watt, and then arrangements were made with Mr. Tooley to purchase the fish that would be offered for sale."

Now this seizure was not made within many miles of my hotel, nor did Chief Rutherford or any one else make arrangements with me to purchase them or any other lot of fish seized. As the Review's report of the seizure made by Mr. Johnston, might cause the general public to think that I was mixed up on either the side of the illegal setters of these nets, or as a matter for the fishery inspectors, I wish your paper would contradict entirely the report given by the Review as far as my having any connection with the seizure was concerned.

Yours truly,
M. C. TOOLEY.

TABLET UNVEILED

Memorial to Late Mrs. H. S. Greenwood in St. John's Church.

In the presence of many friends of the deceased, on Saturday afternoon in St. John's church, a tablet to the memory of the late Margaret Florence Greenwood was unveiled.

The tablet bears the following inscription.

"In loving memory of Margaret Florence, wife of Lieutenant-Colonel H. S. Greenwood, who served in His name in this church for five years, and who died in Johannesburg, South Africa, on July 15, 1902."

It is appropriately located at the north-west end of the church, near the pew which was occupied by Col. and Mrs. Greenwood, while they resided here from 1896 to 1901. At the service, appropriate prayers were said commemorating Mrs. Greenwood, and other past members of the church, and suitable hymns were sung.

Rev. G. C. Davidson, on Saturday afternoon, and also at the Sunday morning service, made a reference to the character and work of the late Mrs. Greenwood and remarked on the coincidence that the congregation was now mourning the death of Anna McClellan who was Mrs. Greenwood's assistant in the Mission Band.

New Frontal of All Saints' Church.

Easter Sunday, 1906 will be a memorable one in All Saints' church. The special music and the impressive sermons by the rector, Rev. Mr. Major, were notably appropriate. This is the first time the new altar frontal was in evidence and was much admired. Great credit is due to Mrs. J. H. McClellan, president of the Church Guild for this very handsome ornament, who, whilst commendably assisted by contributions from the whole congregation, with other members of the guild originated the scheme and carried it to a successful issue.

The material of the frontal is cream silk, brocade with ecclesiatic design. There are two orphreys of blue silk velvet on which are embroidered in silk and gold Alpha and Omega, eight designs embroidered in silk approaching the pomegrante. In the centre is a maltese cross, worked in blue silk velvet and couched with gold and gold radiations, and is decorated with five Jewels. A silk fringe of the same colors used in the embroidery runs across the bottom.

The super-frontal is of blue silk velvet with embroidered crosses and the sacred monogram (I. H. S.) and has a fringe at the bottom.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Rare Opportunity to Get Stock in Promising Chance for Wealth.

It would well repay those seeking for investment or an outlet for capital that promises good returns, to carefully peruse the advertisement, in this issue of the Colonial Diamond Mining Co., of Boston, Mass.

It is a well known fact that no larger fortunes are being dug out of mother earth than by those controlling the diamond output of the De-Beers and other famous Kimberley mines in Africa.

The Colonial Diamond Mining Co., controlled largely by Boston capital own some 42 mines in British Guiana, South America, which they have operated for six months, and during which time their returns have repaid 50 per cent. on the capital invested.

This property, be it understood is British soil, so investors are guaranteed against the insecurity of protection, rendered capital invested in most of the South American countries.

To increase their capital to a basis by which larger production may be guaranteed, the company is now offering a limited amount of the stock at $10 per share.

For particulars write Colonial Diamond Mining Co., 50 Congress street, Boston, Mass.

AMERICANS TO ENTER A UNION

President Roosevelt to Join Southern Nations.

Washington, April 16.—It is the President's intention, in view of the close relations between the Republic of Brazil and the United States, to arrange an informal, but none the less strong, alliance with Brazil, and to relegate to her the policy of the Monroe Doctrine in South America.

For this reason Secretary Root was selected as one of the delegates who are to meet at Rio Janeiro next summer. Although it has often been alleged that Brazil acknowledges the doctrine under compulsion, it can be stated that Brazil, on the contrary, welcomes it, as it serves to maintain peace and order in southern latitudes.

FAVORS SIMILAR DOCTRINE.

In fact, according to the utterance of a Brazilian official, that country would be willing to formulate a similar doctrine, with the advice of the United States, and thereby be the authorized guardians of the child republics.

It is to formulate suitable plans to that effect that Mr. Root goes to Rio Janeiro. He will make short stops at other leading cities of South America. He will urge the united support of the Monroe Doctrine by all the nations of the world in the meantime, and in July and August will personally and officially carry out the President's program for bringing all the countries of America into closer diplomatic relations, and establishing a better understanding between them and the powers of Europe.

Met and Elected Officers for the Coming Year Yesterday.

Rev. F. G. Potter yesterday morning presided at a meeting of the Executive Council of the Sunday School Association of this county, in the Y.M.C.A.

Rev. G. A. McLennan, of Norwood, presented the report of the committee on organization in the back township recommending that no action be taken at present. The report was received, the committee continuing in office with the name of Mr. R. Lees added.

A grant of $10 was made for the extension of Sunday school work in Japan.

A committee consisting of the president, vice president and secretaries was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for conventions in this district about the end of May.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year;

President — John Lancaster, Westwood.

Vice-President — J. O. Heard, Bridgenorth.

Field Secretary — Rev. G. A. McLennan, Norwood.

Recording Secretary — Richard Lees, M.A., Peterboro.

Primary Superintendent for the city — Miss Williamson.

(Primary Superintendent for the County) — Miss Waters, Norwood.

Superintendent of Home Department, Miss Pauline Udy, Bridgenorth.

Teacher Training Superintendent — Richard Lees, Peterboro.

Treasurer — A. J. Johnston, Peterboro.

Those present were; Miss Williamson, Rev. J. G. Potter, Mr. A. J. Johnston and R. Lees, Peterboro; Rev. D. D. McDonald and Mr. Armstrong, Keene; Rev. G. A. McLennan, Norwood; Rev. Dr. Cranberry, Peterboro; Rev. Dobie McKinnon, and Mr. J. O. Heard, Bridgenorth; Mr. John Lancaster, Westwood and Mr. Wm. Stevens, Peterboro.

To Bring Great Britain to Reason

Sir William Van Horne's Proposition to Compel the Removal of the Cattle Embargo---Declares the Embargo is Outrageous.

Montreal, April 17. — If we were Czar of Canada, it would be his master stroke of policy to suspend the preference to Great Britain, until the prohibition against Canadian cattle is cancelled."

This was the striking phrase in which Sir William Van Horne, Chief Director of the C.P.R., referred to on his return trip to England to the regulation decreeing the slaughter of Canadian cattle shipped to British ports.

Sir William remarked that he had travelled over a large part of the country with the object of adding to his own pure-bred stock, and was rather disappointed at not finding more animals of pre-eminent merit. He attributed the fact to many of the choicest of the British breeds having been purchased for North America.

"I believe," he declared with emphasis, "if we had an open competition, we would carry off the honors, but it is useless talking about open competition at British exhibitions, when our cattle have to be slaughtered as soon as they are landed at a British port."

OUR TRADE VALUABLE.

Great Britain's trade with Canada, Sir William thinks, has become of such importance that a suspension of the preference would hit England hard, and he did not think that any Government could withstand the indignation that would arise if the suspension came as the result of the shutting out of Canadian cattle. The prohibition was an outrageous thing, utterly indefensible, and he hoped the time would come when it might be vigorously resented.

"It is through her trade that Great Britain could be made to feel this," said Sir William. "Commercial conditions are not what they were. The people of England know the value of cultivating trade. The time was when the world had to go to England for the greater part of the commodities it required, but that time has gone by. In England they have found it out."

ANNUAL VESTRY MEETING

Of St. John's Church—Election of Officers—Financial Report.

The annual vestry meeting of St. John's church took place in the school house last night.

The financial statement showed a balance on hand of $495.

The rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, warmly thanked the retiring wardens, Messrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot and Harold Claxton, for their very effective and much appreciated services to the church during their terms of office as rector's and people's wardens, respectively, and presented Mr. Eardley-Wilmot with a handsome alarm clock, and Mr. Harold Claxton with a serviceable and attractively finished ink stand, with accompanying ink well, etc., in cut glass.

The rector appointed Mr. Chas. H. J. Mitchell, his warden for the ensuing year.

A building committee was appointed, and also a committee of three to nominate a people's warden at the adjourned vestry meeting two weeks hence.

Notice of motion was given by Mr. Yokome to appoint two assistant wardens in view of the rapidly increasing work connected with St. John's.

The salaries of the clerk and sexton were increased $50 each.

The vestry adjourned for two weeks.

At the subsequent congregational meeting, Messrs. Robert Fair, H. Rush and P. Campbell were appointed lay delegates to the Synod.

Mr. John E. Sullivan, secretary of the Midland League, was in Toronto yesterday, attending a meeting of the Ontario Football Association. Some extensive changes and amendments are anticipated in the rules governing the game at the present time.

THANKSGIVING PSALM

A Rhythmical and Graceful Chant.

A teacher in a Terra Haute public school, joins in the chorus:

"Teaching is a business which requires a great deal of brain and nerve force. Unless this force is renewed as fast as expended the teacher is exhausted before the close of the year. Many resort to stimulating tonics for relief.

"For 3 years I struggled against this almost complete exhaustion, getting what relief I could from doctor's tonics. Then in the spring of 1903, I had an attack of la grippe and malaria which left me too weak to continue my work. Medicine failed to give me any relief, a change of climate failed. I thought I should never be able to go back in school again.

"I ate enough food, (the ordinary meals, white bread and vegetables) but was hungry after meals.

"I happened at this time to read an article giving the experience of another teacher who had been helped by Grape-Nuts food. I decided to try Grape-Nuts and cream, as an experiment. It was a delightful experience, and continues so after a year and a half of constant use.

"First, I noticed that I was not hungry after meals.

"In a few days that tired feeling left me, and I felt fresh and bright, instead of dull and sleepy.

"In three months, more than my usual strength returned, and I had gained 15 pounds in weight.

"I finished the year's work without any kind of tonics—was not absent from duty even half a day.

"Am still in the best of health, with all who know me wondering at the improvement.

"I tell them all, 'Try Grape-Nuts.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

COUNTY COUNCIL

Decide to Have the Preston Property Surveyed.

The County Council meeting, on Saturday last, of which the afternoon session's report was unavoidably crowded out in yesterday's issue, in the afternoon, resumed the discussion on surveying the site recently purchased for the house of Refuge.

Owing to Councillor Maloney, whose contention was endorsed by many of the councillors, objecting to pay for the Preston farm until surveyed, it was moved by Messrs. Shaw and Maloney that the warden and the chairman of the Building Committee be instructed to have the Preston property surveyed.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Shaw and Mr. Webster that the warden and the chairman of the Building Committee be a committee to look after the renting of the farm or working it on shares and to collecting the rent for the hog yard.—Carried.

Councillor Buck read the report of the special committee appointed to look into the provisions of and the amount of money involved in the will of the late Mrs. James Foley, as follows:

The special committee appointed to enquire into matters relating to the late Mrs. Foley's will, beg to report as follows;

1. That there is now in the hands of the trustees of the will the sum of over seven hundred dollars of accumulated income not required for the purpose of paying the annuities chargeable by the said will upon the trust funds.

2. That the solicitor for the said trustees considers the said trustees would not be justified in applying such income to the charitable purposes of the will during the lifetime of any of the present annuitants without an order from the court.

3. That by a judgement of the court it was directed that the funds available for distribution be paid from time to time into some chartered bank at the city of Peterboro, to the joint credit of the chairman and secretary-treasurer of a committee to be composed of the mayor of the city of Peterboro for the time being, and two other persons to be nominated by the city council to hold office for two years, one being appointed annually, and also of the warden for the time being of the county of Peterboro, and four other persons to be nominated by the county council holding office for two years and two being elected every year.

4. That the solicitor for the said trustees requests that the said board be appointed by the county and the city of Peterboro, as above before the proposed application to the court be made.

5. Your committee therefore recommend that such persons to be appointed by the county on such board be now nominated by this council.

W. T. BUCK, Chairman.

Messrs. Carey, Buck, Stinson, Webster and the warden, were appointed a committee to represent the county on the board to handle the funds available for charitable purposes from Mrs. Foley's estate, Messrs. Carey and Buck to serve for two years in accordance with the judgment of Chief Justice Meredith, dated December, 1904.

A by-law confirming the above was afterwards passed.

ANNUAL PARADE

Local Oddfellows will Hold Grand Parade on April 29th.

There will be great doings in this city during this week beginning Aug. 6th, in the circles of Oddfellowship in Peterboro. The annual meeting of the Daughters of Rebekah will begin on Tuesday, August 7th, and the Grand Lodge of Ontario on Aug. 8. The day preceding will be devoted to Grand Lodge committee work.

The Peterboro Grand Lodge committee will hold a general meeting next Thursday evening, April 19th, and each member is asked to be present.

The annual church parade will be held on Sunday evening, April 29th, to Murray street Baptist church, when the sermon will be delivered by Rev. F. J. Smith, B.A., pastor of the church. The brethren will assemble at the I.O.O.F. hall at 6.15 sharp and march to the church. In addition to all member of Peterboro and Otonabee lodges, a warm welcome will be extended the visiting members.

Your 'Fagged' Feeling is Spring Sickness

This Unhealthy Weather Will Intensify Your Exhaustion Unless You Have Good Medicine.

Time won't help; matters grow worse instead of better if your system isn't rid of its poisonous burden.

Your blood is not only thin, but is contaminated with a whole winter's accumulation of wastes.

A stimulating blood tonic is required.

What's it going to be?

No bitters or alcoholic dope, but concentrated cure in the form of "Ferrozone" which is known as the best of all spring rejuvenators.

It creates keen appetite.

Produces prodigious digestion.

Converts food into nourishment.

Gives richness and vitality to the blood.

Makes strong nerves and hardy muscles.

Ferrozone possesses power that can't be doubted. It will do for you what it did for Walter Wood, of Beaufort Car Co., N. B., who writes: "I can say that Ferrozone has given me a new lease of life. A year ago I suffered much from nervous weakness. I was really scarcely able to drag myself around. My appetite was gone, I had no color or ambition and felt generally used up. The first box of Ferrozone started me back to health. I took a number of boxes, but it was worth while as my health was completely restored."

Get back to health with Ferrozone. Your druggist sells it, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

OUTLOOK FOR EUROPEAN EMIGRATION.

Germany sent over to the United States during the eighties of last century as many as 204,000 emigrants in a single year, that is, ten times as many as she is sending today. This is due to the healthy development of German industries at home, and the marvellous growth of such places as Berlin, Chemnitz, Muremberg, and others. This empire has succeeded not only in stemming the tide of emigration, but in rendering it possible for these people to better their conditions within the limits of the mother country, where the population is already overcrowded and still increasing at the rate of 900,000 per annum. More than 700,000 emigrants departed from Italy in 1905 to seek homes in North and South America. This amount is nearly as large as the annual increase and gain which the German Empire adds to its population. It not unseldomly happens that an entire community, with a priest at its head, starts for the seaport to begin the journey to some part in America in order to seek a new life. The South American States, particularly Brazil, are the chief goal of the Italians, but the United States and Canada, too, receive a considerable part of this great stream of emigration. There is no question that the Italian emigrants will succeed in making good farmers owing to their small needs and surprisingly high degree of agriculture. Their nature is such that as soon as they get settled down the desire to live well begins to assert itself. In this way the Italian colonies become communities of great purchasing power. In Brazil, Italian colonization has increased to such a measure that in some districts the Italian language is predominant, and the whole life is taking on an Italian character. Unlike England and Germany, Italy will never, even proportionately, become a great industrial state, and it seems more than doubtful that it will ever, like Germany, be able to check the exodus of the country population. France has succeeded in keeping the pendulum evenly between her agricultural and industrial interests. This is due to the fact that France gives few emigrants to foreign countries, while the birth rate adds but little in the shape of an increase to her annual census. Italy was also able to do this until the enormous emigration already referred to began to exert such a powerful influence upon her agricultural interests. The next few years must tell the tale whether the Italian tide of emigration will begin to ebb in consequence of more favorable condition at home.

CONTRACTS FAR BELOW ESTIMATES

Those Awarded for Grand Trunk Pacific Hundreds of Thousands Below

Ottawa, April 16.—As foreshadowed the Transcontinental Railway contracts which have for several weeks been a matter of considerable suspense, have gone to the lowest tenderers, and when Parliament comes together again this week, Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be able to tell the Opposition members who have been making many enquiries that everything has been settled. It will be remembered that the Transcontinental Railway Commission could not agree in reference to the awarding of the contracts for the Winnipeg and Quebec section, Hon. Mr. Parent favoring the giving of the tenders to the Grand Trunk Pacific Company on the ground that the figures of the lowest tenderers were far below the estimate made by the Government engineer, this proves to be the case.

The contract for the Winnipeg section, from Winnipeg to Peninsula Crossing, near the point where the Fort William branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific will join the main line, goes to J. D. McArthur, of Winnipeg, whose figures were $13,300,000, or $250,000 less than the estimate made by the Government engineers. This section is 245 miles long. The contract for the 160 mile section from the Quebec Bridge to a point near La Tuque in St. Maurice County, Que., has been let to Messrs. Hogan and Macdonald, two Western Ontario contractors, for $5,750,000, which is $750,000 below the estimate made by the Government engineers. Hogan and Macdonald built a portion of the Temiskaming Railway. The contract for the steel viaduct, 3,600 feet long, across the Cap Rouge Valley, has been awarded to the Dominion Bridge Company of Montreal, for $250,000. A deposit of $400,000 was made with each tender for the Winnipeg section, $250,000 with each tender on the eastern section, and $75,000 on the bridge tenders. The cheques of the unsuccessful tenderers will be returned.

The contracts first cover grading and bridges; in fact everything but the rails, contracts for which will now be let without delay. The contractors must purchase all their supplies in Canada. The work must be completed by September 1, 1907. The tenders were in the hands of the commission and government for exactly one month, have been opened on February 13. It is probable that within the next few months tenders will be called for a couple of additional sections of the line.

VERY SERIOUS CHARGES

United States Constabulary Charged With Killing Defenceless People.

Manila, Phil. Is., April 16.—Grave accusations have been proffered against the detachment of United States constabulary which has recently been operating near Balamban, on the western coast of Sebu.

It is stated that at a recent attack where many people considered erroneously as ladrones have been killed, seously as ladrones have been killed, several defenceless villagers who were working peacefully were also killed.

About five days ago a woman who lives about six miles from the town of Balamban reported to the authorities that a detachment of constabulary had killed her defenceless husband as he was working in the fields near the town. While he was engaged in his task as a farmer, the detachment came up to a distance of thirty feet from him, and, according to her, opened fire without giving any warning. At the first discharge, they struck him in the shoulder, and he turned around and called out to them that he was an "amigo." They again fired and killed him.

The next day a boy of eight years, who was looking for his father was also killed by a shot. He had hid himself in the undergrowth, where he was killed. It has been discovered that the detachment which was operating in that neighborhood is the Danaw detachment.

Operation Changed Character.

Toledo, O., April 14.—From a boy who was so vicious that he was declared incorrigible and sentenced to the reformatory, Harold Hurley, 13 years old, has been transformed by surgery into a boy whose one object seems to be to do good and comfort parents. Harold's parents could do nothing with him, and the probation officer had him sentenced. Before he was taken away the officer noticed a scar on the boy's forehead. The mother told him that the boy, when five years old, had fallen and fractured his skull. Examination revealed a swelling of the bone, and a physician was consulted. The result was an operation, which removed the bone about an inch long from the boy's brain. His transformation was complete and almost instantaneous.

Law to Make Doctors Shave.

Topeka, Kan., April 14.—City Physician Hogeboom today angered a half-dozen physicians who wear beards by declaring that beards are a catch-all for disease germs. Hogeboom says laws ought to be passed compelling surgeons and physicians everywhere to shave close. He will urge it before the next legislature.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of May, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 280 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 305 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionaires in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On May 1st the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

I Am Looking for Large Investors

to Buy Stock in

The Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Co., of Erie, Kan.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 160 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 500 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 57 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $300,000, $400,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $250 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 5,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tumbstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tintic mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

hell and planted it on the earth to plague men and make them sin; and some day that when all the plants in the garden of Eden were pulled up by the roots, one bush that the angels had planted was left growing, and spread its seed over the whole world, and its name is—love. There are different species under that name; one love that blots out wisdom, that is sweet with the sweetness of life and with the bitterness of death, lasting for an hour, but it is worth having lived a whole life for that hour. There is always the scent of a god about it.

"When love's sunshine falls on the dead crust of the soul, a throbbing yearning awakes—a new life stirs to the very depths of the heart—that alone is satisfying."

"I thought them wonderful words," repeated Reine; "now I have lost all faith in love."

Honora had listened, but she could not comprehend such a strange vein of musing.

Suddenly Reine turned toward her again, clasping her hands nervously together, murmuring in a low, broken voice, that was husky with suppressed sobs: "Oh, Honor! I am glad I never brought a little child into the world."

The girl started. She had not the key to her mistress' thoughts; she had no comment to offer on this unexpected remark.

Reine went on thoughtfully: "Night after night I have thanked Heaven on my bare knees that I have not caused another to suffer. Do you think that was hard for me? A man who could leave his wife, could abandon his little child if he had one. Anything is possible to a man whose end is like his. Sinful—he moves straight for it, and it alone.

"Some women can bend men and things completely to their purpose, but not a man like Waldemar Waldron; they are the ones that escape the stings that strike deep—these women who control—they never throw the burden of their sins on them."

"To-morrow, dear mistress, you can think more clearly," said Honora. "Do let me implore you to go to bed," and with that she loosened the coils of beautiful golden hair that fell down over her shoulder to her waist in a mass of shining splendor.

Honor brought the dainty robe to her mistress, and Reine patiently suffered her to fasten it about her.

Throwing herself upon her couch, her bare arms from without the flowing sleeves clasping her pillow, Reine soon slept.

"Poor child—How hard she is taking her trouble," thought the maid, watching the outlines of her heaving breasts and listening to the quivering sighs that trembled on her lips.

When Honora went to her mistress' room the next morning, she found her already up and dressed.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Reine pointed to the letter that had fallen from her clenched hand to the floor, and the wild laugh that broke from her lips was more pitiful to hear than the stormiest outburst of sobs.

"It is quite true, Honora. He has left me willfully and deliberately. Read what he says, and be convinced. Take it to your own room. I cannot bear it in my sight."

"What shall you do?" said Honora, pityingly. "If I were you, I would send for my father."

"No, no, no," shudderingly. "I would not have him know what has befallen me for worlds. You do not know the kind of man he is. He has never forgiven me for marrying Waldemar against his wishes."

And at the mention of her father's name poor Reine broke down utterly, and dropping into the nearest chair, gave way to such a storm of grief that Honora was fairly frightened.

What words could she find to comfort her? She realized at length that the greatest kindness she could show her would be to leave her quite alone, and, letter in hand, she stole softly from the room.

It was quite a relief to get beyond the sound of that violent weeping. Should she ever be able to forget the lovely, wistful, tear-stained face as she saw it then?

She read the letter over and over again, just as Reine had done, her honest anger increasing each moment.

"The miscreant!" she muttered. "If I had the making of the law, no penalty would be severe enough for a man who had deserted his wife."

"Poor, pretty young bride!" she thought, compassionately. "Her father ought to know what has happened to her. If he has any heart in him at all, he would come to her, and protect and comfort her in a crisis of this kind."

A sudden idea came to her.

"If she's too proud to send for him, why couldn't I do it for her? Yes, I will do it," she cried.

It was but the work of a very few minutes to put her project into execution. A half hour later the message flashed along the wires that stretched through the lovely scenery, through the snow-capped hills and vales, until it reached the pretty little town, a mile's distance from Fairlawn Villa.

Bernard Cheseigh had arrived at Fairlawn Villa that morning, and although no mention of Reine had passed between them, the old soldier knew quite well why Cheseigh had left the metropolis so suddenly. He knew Reine was there, and he could not meet her.

The servants had long since retired, and the general answered the summons himself.

"A telegram!" he cried, holding out his hand nervously.

In a moment he had torn open the envelope and mastered its contents.

"General Hastings, Fairlawn: Your daughter is in great trouble. I strongly urge you to come to her at once."

A name that the general never remembered having heard before was signed to it.

His features worked convulsively. He leaned (heavily against a massive marble column, his face rapidly changing from red to white.

Reine in trouble! What could it mean?

He touched the bell with such a resounding peal that in less than a moment the frightened and dismayed servants were flocking about him.

Like the general, Bernard Cheseigh had not retired, and the unusual disturbance brought him to the scene at once.

General Hastings put the telegram in his hands, with an anxious face.

"Read that and tell me what you think of it," he said, hoarsely. "My Reine—in—trouble—I am quite unnerved by this telegram, Cheseigh," cried the old gentleman, plaintively. "Do you think that cursed villain is misusing my child, now that he has her so far away from home and friends?" asked the old soldier, suddenly. "If I thought that, I would follow him to the world's end, and lash him like a hound!"

Bernard Cheseigh turned white to the lips. Had the general read his innermost thoughts? Had he read the grave fear that he dared not put into words?

The scene at the hall rose up vividly before him. Had Waldemar Waldron dared raise his hand against

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OR CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $40 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500 feet by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The leases shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging," will be received up to and including Wednesday, April 25, 1906, for the dredging required at the following places in the Province of Ontario during the present year: Pentanguishene, Meaford, Fesserton, Goderich, Point Edward, Port Stanley, Port Burwell, Rondeau, River Thames (mouth), Owen Sound, Nigger Island Channel, and Trenton.

Combined specifications and forms of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of filing tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

The Department is not bound to accept the lowest or any of the tenders.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

DIAMONDS AND DIAMOND MINING

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is ever increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining energizes of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 42 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums for machinery and mining appurtenances. From careful tests made during these six months we have demonstrated that we have a larger diamond field than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantages of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

We are conducting a legitimate business energized upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 10 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $70,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and is all that we will offer for sale.

We shall be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our office, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

AN AMERICAN DISEASE

Indigestion is Responsible for More Sickness in America Than Any Other Disease.

Some doctors go so far as to say that indigestion is the national disease of America. Repeated attacks inflame the lining of the stomach and cause the glands to secrete mucous instead of the juice of natural digestion. Consequently the blood is poisoned, nerve force is reduced, the vitality of the entire system is weakened.

There is but one rational remedy for indigestion and that remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are being used by thousands with marvellous success.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills accelerate the action of the gastric glands and give tone to the digestive organs. They strengthen the kidneys and liver, cleanse and purify the blood, and thus add general tone to every organ of the body. Flesh and strength are fast restored and the patient can eat and digest any food he pleases.

Under the vitalizing effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills your system will soon rally; once more you'll enjoy the blessings of health. That Dr. Hamilton's Pills yourself. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1; at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Local Lawyer's Telegram.

Yesterday a local barrister, who had had an unusual amount of telegraphing to do, and who after sending telegrams to Chicago, St. Paul and other cities, was anxiously awaiting a reply to several of his messages. At last, during the late afternoon he smiled with feelings of relief the advent of a Great North-West-Telegraph boy, to his office, or rather, so he thought. This boy, advancing to his desk, produced what looked like a regular telegram and asked his client of the law to sign a receipt for the same. This the legal gentleman did, and on opening his "telegram," instead of getting the information he had been spending many shekels to procure, read that a certain theatrical company would be here on a future date. On close inspection he found that the envelope read "Great Union Telegraph Co." instead of Great Union Telegraph Co.

GOLDEN MEXICO

Splendid Opportunity to Invest in Promising Mining Stock.

Since before the days of Montezuma, Mexico has always been a land of gold and precious metals, and today, this wonderful country supplies a large percentage of the world's gold.

The El Paso-Marral Mining Co. with head offices in the Commonwealth Trust Building, St. Louis, Mo., has secured possession of four claims with absolute perfect title, coming direct from the Mexican Government.

The company are now offering 200,000 of their 1,000,000 shares, of a par value of $1 each, for a limited time only, at 15 cents each, as by the use of the $30,000 thus obtained, they will have ample working capital to place the mine on a dividend paying basis.

One great feature of this mine, is the splendid vein of gold ore, varying in width from 30 to 60 feet, running throughout the entire length of the company's property, the cheapness of Mexican labor, about one-quarter paid to miners in the United States, and its fortunate accessibility by railroad for shipping facilities.

The mine is situated in northern Mexico, in the very heart of the rich mineral producing State of Chihuahua. The output of ore from mines adjacent to the El Paso-Parral property, within the past five years by Mexican Central Railway alone has been over 35,000 tons.

A brief glance at the list of directors of this company, all of whom are heavy investors, from personal inspection of the mine.

For full particulars address or call upon Mr. W. Kelsey Hall, Fiscal Agent, Peterboro.

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday was strictly boys' day at the police court, as four boys named Rose, McNairn, Johnston and Fowler were charged with having been disorderly in a public place on Thursday last.

Mr. Chapman who lives on the corner of Smith and Reid streets, recognized the prisoners as the boys who were burning, "hollering," and making a disturbance, near his residence. He said the boys were using language that no person or woman to hear. Swore that all the boys but Rose were there on the Thursday in question. He warned this thing stopped as it is a patient nuisance.

Each of the boys in turn asked Chapman questions, to which he said he could only identify one of the boys as having used bad language. Mr. Chapman on Dunsmore next gave evidence. Heard Chapman tell the boys to move one. Heard the boys use bad language. Could only identify Fowler as the others were strangers.

The boys, in defence, put Bruce Hall in the box. He said that only two of the defendants were present. A brother of the last witness next gave evidence, and said he heard no bad language.

Then each of the defendants in turn went into the box and denied what the witnesses for the prosecution had said.

His Worship said that the evidence as given by prosecution and defence was altogether contradictory, so he would discharge the boys. However, he said that if ever they were brought before him again he would deal severely with them.

Yesterday afternoon, P.C. Adams went to Millbrook after a couple of men suspected of stealing Mr. Gillespie's horse and rig from the White House stable on the evening of April 7th. The two men, Wm. Donnelly and Geo. Hooper were arrested on Saturday, by Chief Constable Handley, of Millbrook as a result of a communication sent by Chief Roach. The two men were brought to the city last night by P.C. Adams and will stand trial this morning.

CURES WORST CATARRH

Just Breathe Hyomei Four Times a Day and Be Cured.

Not until Hyomei was discovered, had it been possible to say truthfully that a remedy for catarrh was known.

Hyomei cures the worst cases of catarrh simply by breathing the remedy through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit. Using the treatment in this way for a few minutes four times a day, every particle of air taken in the air passages and lungs is laden with germ-killing and health-giving Hyomei.

Stomach drugging often causes disordered digestion, and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hyomei not only kills the germs in the throat and nose, but penetrates to the minutest air cells in the lungs and enters the blood with the oxygen killing the catarrhal germs in the blood.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a vest-pocket inhaler and medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1. If this does not effect a complete cure, extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Protection From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R.V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N.Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, bad feelings of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. Be genuine: you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

"Fish Are Running Now"

Yesterday a small illustration of the way in which fish are captured out of season, and which will be thoroughly understood by those "in the know" regarding the fish protection laws is contained in the following conversation between a coal man having a few bass in his possession at his home and a friend on Sunday night and a local butcher. The party of the first part said to the butcher, "Say Mr. ———, do you want to buy a few nice bass, cheap?" "No thanks," replied the butcher, "the fish are running now," Nuf sed!

—The "Not Outs" dance held last night in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, was a great success. The invitations were issued by young ladies of this city, who are still included in that staff of juveniles known as the Not Outs. The ladies supplied a very tasteful supper, and a most enjoyable time was spent by all present.

Fire Hall Tenders Opened Last Night

Fire, Water and Light Committee Consider Tenders But Take No Action as Tenders Were Not Concise.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night to consider contracts for the new fire hall. There were present, Mayor Beal, Chairman, Ald. Adams, Ald. Duncan, G. Elliott, Graham, Hall and Mason.

It was moved by Ald. Hall, without a seconder,—That no tenders be received that were submitted after 9th of April, as per original advertisement. Ald. Hall said that delay in opening the tenders would lead to suspicion as in the past.

It was decided however, to open all the tenders received to date.

There were only three tenders for the complete job received. C. Rutherford & Co., put in a tender for the whole building, $10,225; H. Carveth, $9,875; R. Sheehy, put in a tender of $10,789, all of which were in on time. Thos. McKee put in a tender dated April 10th, for $10,750. Mr Carveth did not name his sureties as required by law. Messrs. Rutherford & Company's tender, did not include plumbing, heating or drains.

A letter from Mr. H. Snider, market clerk, was received, in which the writer said that the chairs in that building had been glued and when ladies sitting on them rose, their clothes struck and were torn. He recommended that new chairs and a supply of paint be supplied by the council.

Mr. Elliott moved that the committee look into this matter and have necessary repairs made.

Mr. McPherson's tender for plumbing and heating was received for $328, for plumbing and $693 for heating, with a discount of 5 per cent. if given the whole contract.

Messrs. McGregor & Reid put in a tender for plumbing amounting to $410, for steam heating for $685. Mr. Adam Hall for steam heating and plumbing, put in a tender of $1043.

It was noted by the chairman that the estimate made last year for the building complete with plumbing and heating would cost $9,000.

As a misconception existed over the tenders went in for the building, as to whether the tenders were in bulk, covering, both the building and heating and plumbing etc., it was decided to ascertain just what those tendering meant by their tenders.

In the matter of a hydrant at the Peter Hamilton Company's works, Fire Chief Rutherford, who also explained the bursting of hose at the recent fire engine test, from the hose having touched some oily substance, some discussion arose. Chief Rutherford recommended the purchase of sundry articles for the brigade, including a hay fork and some rubber boots for the men.

No action was taken regarding the fire hall.

Ald. Hall suggested that the city hold some kind of demonstration to celebrate the anniversary of Peterboro's becoming a city. No action taken.

Mr. G. J. Turner's application for permission to erect a nine-inch brick wall within the city limits, was refused.

The committee then adjourned.

SHERIFF HALL SPEAKS

Well Delivered and Interesting Lecture on Charles Dickens.

The large audience attending the meeting of the George street Methodist church Epworth League, with Mr. J. Jeffries in the chair, on Monday night, were greatly impressed and vastly interested in a lecture given by Sheriff Hall on the life of Charles Dickens, the humorous and pathetic English writer.

Mr. Hall said that Dickens's works were read more today than they were thirty-five years ago, and that he is the greatest master of humor in the English language. Dickens was one of the first moral and social reformers in England, and by his works he has enlarged the people's sympathy for the poor. He did not study books as much as he did human life and there was never anyone who knew more about the London people than he did.

Mr. Hall was tendered a vote of thanks by the audience for his address.

Mr. J. Jeffries acted as chairman.

Brother of Leading Local Bank Manager Honored.

The Mid-Ulster Mail of Cookstown, Ireland, referring to a brother of the popular manager of the local Bank of Commerce, says:

"We have much pleasure in announcing that Professor Havelock Charles of Calcutta, whose portrait we give on page 3, who was in charge of the Royal visitors to India, has received the honor of Knighthood in the Victorian Order. Sir Havelock Charles is the youngest of the four professor sons of the late Dr. D. H. Charles, J.P., Cookstown. The others are Professor John Charles of Cork; the late Professor Thomas Charles of London, and Rev. Robert Charles of Oxford, now Professor of Hebrew in Dublin, and a well-known student of Biblical research. Sir Havelock was educated at the Academy under the late Mr. Mackenzie, to whose memorial he was a prompt and liberal subscriber. He then entered the service of the Bank of Commerce, Canada, under his brother David, but gravitated to medicine, and returning to Ireland he entered the Royal University, and after a brilliant course, took his degree in 1881. He then entered the Indian Medical Service, and rapidly rose in his profession, and was appointed to a chair in Calcutta University. He was recently deputed by the Government of India to visit other medical schools and report, and which the Prince and Princess of Wales announced their intention to visit India. Dr. Charles was selected to accompany the Royal party as medical advisor, and, as stated above, his services were marked by his being created K.C.V.O. He has also the rank of Lieut.-Colonel.

DEER IN SIGHT

Haliburton Villagers See Deer on Their Main Street.

Haliburton correspondent to Bobcaygeon Independent:—A deer was seen in the village Friday. After leaving Head Lake it crossed the railway track close to the station, and ran up the street to Mr. Lakin's yard. After jumping over the fence it tried to jump another by Mr. Wm. Kellett's, but was too much played out, so turned back and got into the main street. It then turned up the street past the Methodist church and took the bush by Dona's house. It had evidently been chased, as it was very tired. Is there no law prohibiting hounds at large at this time of the year? Report says there are any number of hounds to be seen running deer.

ANTHONY HOPE'S NEW STORY

"Sophy of Kravonia," Said to Be More Thrilling than "The Prisoner of Zenda," to Appear Serially.

Good news for lovers of stirring romance! Anthony Hope has written a new story in the style of "The Prisoner of Zenda," and even surpassing it in interest. It is called "Sophy of Kravonia," and is to appear exclusively in The Sunday Magazine of the Chicago Record-Herald, beginning April 22.

The mysterious country of Kravonia lies in the same romantic region of southern Europe as Zenda, but the new story has no connection with that of the famous Rudolph Rassendyll. Its central figure is a still more interesting person—a courageous and beautiful heroine, who rises from lowly life to the throne. Sophy de Gruche is her name, and she loves the brave but unfortunate Prince Sergius, and the others seek to place upon the throne the little son of Countess Ellenburg, the king's morganatic wife. The conspiracy leads to many dramatic scenes, one of the most thrilling being that in which the old king discovers the guilt of the countess and drops dead at a moment when things are in a perilous condition for Sergius and his bride. How Sophy comes out of this turmoil of intrigue, battle, tears and joy, Anthony Hope reveals in his own inimitable style.

The first installment of "Sophy of Kravonia" will appear April 22. On account of the great demand for this fascinating story it will be wise to order your copy of The Sunday Record-Herald well in advance.

PROGRESSIVE TAX ON ALL FORTUNES

President Roosevelt Delivers a Bold Speech Which May Make Enemies.

HE GETS AFTER MAGAZINES

And Says "Campaign of Exposure" Men Should Be Called "Man With the Muck Rake."

Washington, April 17.—The President delivered his speech on "The Man with the Muck Rake," in which he expressed his opinion of the "campaign exposure" carried on in some of the 10 cent magazines. The address was delivered as a part of the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the office building of the House of Representatives. In the course of his speech he made this suggestion as to limiting great fortunes:

"It is important to this people to grapple with the problems connected with the amassing of enormous fortunes, both corporate and individual, in business. We should discriminate in the sharpest way between fortunes well won and fortunes ill won; between those gained as an incident to performing great services to the community as a whole, and those gained in evil fashion by keeping just within the limits of mere law honesty. Of course no amount of charity in spending such fortunes in any way compensates for misconduct in making them. As a matter of personal conviction, and without pretending to discuss the details or formulate the system, I feel that we shall ultimately have to consider the adoption of some such scheme as that of a progressive tax on all fortunes beyond a certain amount, either given in life or devised or bequeathed upon death to any individual—a tax so framed as to put it out of the power of the owner of one of these enormous fortunes to hand over more than a certain amount to any one individual, the tax, of course, to be imposed by the national and not the state government. Such taxation should, of course, be aimed merely at the inheritance or transmission in their entirety of those fortunes swollen beyond all healthy limits."

IT WAS A BOLD SPEECH.

London, April 17.—Most of the morning papers devote their leading articles to President Roosevelt's speech. Their comment generally is favorable to the President's words. In the view of the papers it was a bold speech, but only what was to be expected of President Roosevelt. His defense of public men appeals strongly to Englishmen.

His outspoken words in the suggestion of a progressive tax to prevent any individual inheriting over a certain amount, the critics believe will make him more enemies in America, but here they say the words do not sound dreadful, as England has what he is aiming at in an income tax combined with a system of graduation and a succession duty which does not limit the amount an heir may inherit, but produces a big revenue from estates.

ROOSEVELT AND ANARCHY.

New York, April 17.—The American says: "Roosevelt probably had his eye on a third term when he delivered disquisition on the 'man with the muck rake.'"

The Times says Roosevelt has set a pace which the wildest socialist cannot exceed toward the goal that the anarchist is seeking.

The Herald says that vested interests need not fear the effect of Roosevelt's speech.

CHILDREN'S NIGHT

St. Paul's Sunday School Room Filled with well Pleased Audience.

Easter evening was very pleasantly spent in the Sunday school room of St. Paul's church. The decorations were emblematic of that joyous season. It is to the members of the Presbyterian Guild and to Miss A. Williamson, particularly, that the large audience, present, were indebted for the unique entertainment.

The program was rendered entirely by children, who were prettily dressed in costumes representing the different flowers mentioned on the program. The Mother Goose song was particularly good. All the children represented birds, and the characters in Mother Goose's rhymes. Master John Markle's solo "Robin Sonar," was splendid and he was enthusiastically applauded.

The Sunday school room was appropriately decorated in purple and white, with Easter lilies, palms and cut flowers.

The proceeds, which amounted to over $25, were in aid of the Guild work.

MR. PHILLIPS FUNERAL

OFFICERS ELECTED

Shareholders of Peterboro Curling Rink Hold Meeting.

As a consequence of the recent purchase of the Charlotte street rink by the Peterboro Curling Rink, a meeting for organization was held and at which a lively election for officers, and which involved considerable discussion and quite an amount of wax pulling was expressed, was held on Monday night.

The first result of the election of officers resulted as follows: Mr. Thomas Brighman was elected president, Mr. Robert Neill, vice-president, and Mr. R. M. Waddell, secretary-treasurer. The following directors were elected; Messrs. R. Neill, Dr. Greer, W. G. Morrow, R. M. Waddell, J. S. Knapman, Thos. Bright man, J. E. A. Fitzgerald, Robt. Hicks, W. H. Denham, and Jas. Bogue.

The matter of making certain improvements and alterations to the rink was not discussed, the meeting only having been called for organization purposes.

MAY BE BUMPER FRUIT CROP

Outlook in Niagara District for All Crops is Promising.

St. Catharines, April 17.—Judging from what the fruit-growers around here say, there will probably be a bumper crop of fruit in the Niagara district this year. Everything has wintered exceedingly well, and there is every prospect for a large crop of peaches, cherries, plums and pears. There are not a very great number of apple trees left in the Niagara district, owing to the ravages of the San Jose scale, but what trees are standing show excellents indications. The crop of apples here this year will be much better than last, which was an off year for apples. Very few peach trees died this past winter, owing to the mild weather, and this was the case with other fruit trees.

The other crops in the district also look well. Fall wheat already shows some growth, and there was very little winter-killed wheat. What there was, was due to the exceedingly mild days, when the wheat sprouted, followed by frost at night. Hay shows up well, and farmers say there will be another big hay crop this year.

First Blooodshed in The Big Coal Strike

Four Killed in a Riot at Johnstown, Pa.--Troops Rushed to Scene--Anthracite Operators Attempt to Start Washeries.

Johnstown, Pa., April 18. — After weeks of anxiety the situation brought about by the controversy of the coal miners with the operators culminated last night in a riot at Windber, near this city, which finally ended in bloodshed. Four are dead and a number are injured and throughout the night the town was patrolled by armed guards. The shooting was brought on by an assault upon the jail made by striking miners who attempted to rescue comrades who had been placed under arrest. The riot occurred in the early hours of the night, and continued for several hours, working the residents to such a pitch that the night was one of terror. The dead are principally foreigners, and were miners who were out on strike. They are Pietro Martini, Antonio Mastaco and Ivan Zilla, who was the leader of the mob. Curtis Keefer, ten years old, a bystander during the trouble, was shot in the abdomen, and was taken to the hospital, where he died shortly after midnight. When the deputies fired on the mob they fled, leaving three of their number on the ground dead, and the strikers refusing to permit the undertakers to remove the bodies the latter remained where they fell until an early hour this morning. The rioters were for the most part of the foreign element who had been celebrating Easter Monday.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

The riot started in an attack upon Deputy Sheriff W. M. McMullen, at a mass-meeting of the miners. McMullen fled, taking refuge in the house of Charles Davis. The crowd gave chase and a mob of 2,500 surrounded the Davis home and stoned it.

During the riot about 20 of the miners were placed under arrest, and landed in jail.

Under the leadership of Paul Zilla who was shot dead subsequently, the mob assailed the jail, throwing stones. Finally the police fired and the mob broke and fled. State troops were rushed to the scene. More serious trouble was expected to occur when the strikers appeared this morning and saw them in charge. There were no developments, however, up to eight o'clock, at which time [illegible] the action that would be taken when the strikers saw their comrades taken from the jail to Somerset, which will be done some time today.

New York, April 18.—According to the Tribune, the announcement was made yesterday on behalf of the anthracite coal carrying companies, that a general movement has been begun among them to resume work at the washeries. Some of the washeries are now in operation and work on others will be started today and tomorrow. No attempt at present, it is said, will be made to mine coal.

The men employed at the washeries were among the mine workers directed to quit work when President Mitchell ordered the suspension of work, and they obeyed the order. This action of the operators, therefore, it is believed, is a test of what they can do to get them.

Washery coal consist of small steam sizes, which are washed out of the culm heaps, and of late years has been an important factor in the supply.

The local coal dealers said that they saw no signs of a free release of anthracite.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 17.—President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, and Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson have arrived at national headquarters and seem satisfied with the outlook.

At this time about 400,000 men are idle, and on strike. None of the men have yet drawn on the national treasurer for support.

It is estimated that the losses through the strike so far have amounted to $14,600,000, made up as follows, To mine workers in wages, $3,400,000. to operators in value of coal unmined, $5,200,000; to railways in haulage charges, $2,000,000; to general business in anthracite regions, $3,400,000.

A FRESHET'S DAMAGE

Southwest Corner of Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Company's Property Hurt.

As a result of the recent spring freshets and consequent raising of the creek's level, there is a hole in the south western corner of the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Company's machine shop, which was built in the creek, about ten feet wide, and the whose height of the building. Other than the loss caused by the falling of this bricks no damage was done.

For over forty years that old wall has withstood the pressure of the spring floods, but for the last eight or ten years a cavity owing to renewed onslaught of the water, was made. Each year the hole was filled up, but the water was bound to undermine the wall and some day wash it away. This occurred on Saturday. All the men were working as usual, and everyone expected that any danger there might have been this year was past. There is only about a foot of water in the creek, but the current is fast and parlestent.

The corner of this building now lies in a disintegrated mass of brick in the creek. This is the first wall built by the late Mr. W. Hamilton nearly 50 years ago. Great changes and wonderful strides have been made by the enterprising and successful concern since the inception of the destroyed wall.

France Takes $230,000,000.

London, April 18.—Official announcement is made that the Russian financiers and French bankers have settled on the terms for the new Russian loan. The terms agreed upon are $468,000,000 in 5 per cent. bonds at about 88, the issue to be April 26. France will subscribe for $230,000,000.

Canada Ships Yankee Coin.

Ottawa, April 18.—Under agreement with the Dominion Government, the Canadian banks have lately collected and exported $96,700 of United States silver coins.

RETALIATION WILL COME

Head of Great Employers' Alliance Makes Statement.

New York, April 17. — In discussing the labor situation methods, C. W. Post, head of the great International Employers' Association, says: "One of these days, the people who do not believe in their reprehensible methods, will take to boycotting everything which bears the union label, or totem badge of peonage. Then there will be "something doing" for certain. As matters stand at present, the great, good-natured Canadian and American people are too busy to note whether an article offered for sale bears the union label or not. If it appears to be what they want they but it without question. The professional boycotters have induced a few individuals of their own kind to refuse to purchase goods which do not bear the union label, but not one-thousandth part of one per cent. of buyers are so influenced. If the general public should rally sit up and take notice, very few people would purchase an article of any kind bearing the union brand of serfdom. It will come to this, at last, if the labor unionist bosses continue in their warfare against social order."

ADMITS FUTURE GREATNESS

New York Sun Sees Much for Canada in This Century.

New York, April 17.—The Sun says: "The references made to the past present and future of Canada by Earl Grey and Secretary Root at the Pilgrims' dinner were not only interesting in themselves, but fraught with considerable authority as coming from the Governor-General of the Dominion and the American Secretary of State.

"We do not understand that Canadians have boasted that just as the nineteenth century belonged to the United States, the twentieth century will belong to Canada. The nineteenth century did not belong to the United States, but the amazing growth of this country in population and wealth was undoubtedly the most remarkable phenomenon of that century. All that Canadians assert is that the Dominion is likely to exhibit a similar phenomenon in the next hundred years, and there is some ground for this expectation."

JUST TO SPITE HIM.

Montreal, April 18.—A white girl, Maggie Dean, met a colored man named Thompson last evening on St. James street, and shot herself in the side, just to spite him, she said, because he had married another.—New York negress like will not do.

100 PER CENT. ADVANCE JUNE 1

Present Price of Stock FIVE Cents per Share

If you want to get in on the ground floor before the price advances to 10 Cents per share, NOW IS YOUR CHANCE

When The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Company was organized the officers of the company foresaw the certainty, of a big mining boom in Clear Creek County, Colorado, U.S.A., and they congratulated themselves on securing a property which showed 1,500 feet of development work, and could be classed with the MINES of the region.

The steady increase in the mineral production of the county, new strikes, the development of old mines at depth (proving the continuity of the ore bodies and the increased richness of the ores), the availability of mining supplies, the abundance of water, the great amount of timber for mining and fuel, the adaptability of the topography for deep tunnel mining, and the large number of milling and smelting plants, means that the district possesses all the elements of successful and economical mining.

It was a foregone conclusion that investors would awake to a realization of the conditions, and inaugurate a new boom in 1906. It is but natural that they should desire to place their money in a locality that shows more PROVEN MINES than prospects, and where the chances for speedy returns are greater than the chances of loss. Because of economic conditions money will go farther in development work and bring RESULTS quicker. Many new companies have recently been organized, foremost among them being The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Co. Stock in all Clear Creek County companies is finding a ready market among both Eastern and Western investors, and in consequence The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Co., forestalled the boom by securing one of the best mining propositions in the locality, consisting of 16 mining claims, situated on Standard Mountain, in the Ohio and Jackson Mining District, two and one-half miles south of Idaho Springs. The Gold Leaf properties are credited with a past production of $75,000, and the tunnel is being steadily driven toward the rich ore bodies from whence former shipments were made. The old workings are now drowned with water which the tunnel will drain and also give unlimited stoping ground for the ores. Surrounding mines have produced over $11,500,000. Now is the time to purchase stock. When we re-open our ore the opportunity will be lost to investors.

On the Ground Ahead of the Boom

Don't overlook this exceptional opportunity! Think of the acreage; Think of the development work done; Think of the past ore production; Think of the future possibilities; Think of investing—THEN ACT AT ONCE!

Sufficient stock subscriptions have already been received to carry our Frontier Tunnel a distance of 600 feet, or to the Standard Vein, from which point ore shipments will be resumed. Future stock subscriptions will be applied on the purchase of a power plant or on contracts to facilitate the work of driving the tunnel.

Our General Manager estimates that the completion of the tunnel will place at our disposal OVER FOUR MILES OF ORE, aggregating 96,000,000 to 8.

Damp Spring Weather Ruinous to Health

Causes Weakness, Headaches and Feeling of Unrest; the Cure is Simple.

That peculiar weakness so common in the spring, is demoralizing to body and mind alike.

Stupid, absent-minded and dull,—You feel the need of a stimulating tonic.

To impart quickness and great vitality to the entire system nothing acts like Ferrozone.

In a short time it makes you feel tit-top fine, creates a feeling of youth and strength that's surprising.

Ferrozone revives and braces the sickly because it nourishes and builds up the organs that are weak. As a spring tonic, appetizer and blood-strengthener it is unequaled.

A well known resident of Utopia, Ont., Mr H. H. Postle, writes: "From long experience I am convinced that everyone requires medicine in the spring. As a rule the blood is thin and impure and the whole system is congested with poisons that should be carried off. I use Ferrozone because it clears up the system, gives you an appetite and makes you sleep well. One winter I had serious palpitation of the heart, nervous headaches, and an extreme tired feeling. Sleep was not restful and by spring I was in bad shape. I took six boxes of Ferrozone and was made the picture of health."

Ferrozone makes permanent cures. Absolutely safe because it is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol. Concentrated cure in tablet form,—that's Ferrozone, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

INDUSTRIAL ARBITRATION NOW

The new, vital, and perhaps most important element in modern civilization is the principle of arbitration. The Times has called attention to the evolution of this principle. The effort has been to direct the minds of thoughtful, intelligent readers to the fact that every court of justice, criminal or civil, is simply an arbitration committee appointed through due process of law to sit in judgment and reconcile all matters of dispute or contention between man and man. At their inception these arbitration committees were informal, and in their ultimate analysis had no power to enforce their decisions. It was a long, slow evolution covering ages. When mankind began to associate themselves in business and other enterprises the contentions that arose involved often more than an individual on each side. When the state created fictitious persons, that is incorporations, these fictitious persons were endowed with power to sue in courts of law, and also were put under the responsibility of being sued.

Within our own memory this principle of arbitration has been extended so as to embrace whole nations. It is still in its inception. There has been so far no court formulated to deal with international disputes with power to enforce its decisions. In this respect it is exactly like the arbitration committees that sat to reconcile contentions between man and man in the earliest stages of the development of civilization.

At first, as The Times has already pointed out, only the principals concerned in an international dispute were permitted to take any part in the deliberations looking toward arbitration. The excellent results achieved by the conference held at Geneva between the commissioners appointed by the United States on one side and Great Britain on the other to reconcile the disputes in the Alabama case were so striking that they suggested a broadening of this international arbitration procedure. It is only about a year since a similar commission met at Paris to adjudicate, in an informal way to be sure, the dispute between England and Russia over what was known as the Dogger Bank incident. This will be recalled by the minds of all readers as the firing upon fishing vessels in the North Sea by the Russian fleet on its way to the Orient. The excitement in Great Britain went almost to the point of frenzy. It has been stated since that the German navy had been secretly mobilized with the intention of taking a hand in the struggle should the English fleet undertake to interfere with the progress of the Russian ships on their way eastward. The conference at Paris happily brought about a perfect understanding between the two contentious nations, and today crowns the Algeciras conference with equally happy results.

Now with the close of the month of March the great coal mining industry of the United States stands face to face with an unnecessary contention between the owners and workers in that industry. For two months sessions of the arbitration committee have been held at intervals to try to reconcile the matters in dispute between the two sides. The efforts have been fruitless. The Times has heretofore expressed candidly and sincerely its views upon the mischief-making intermeddling on the part of John Mitchell, out of which this unhappy situation has arisen. The mine operatives were almost universally satisfied with things as they were. But of course the boss mischief maker has to exercise his illegitimate functions from fear of sinking into the position of a nonentity.

In the arbitration conferences which have taken place during all these past weeks only the principals to the contention have been admitted to the deliberations. The miners on the one side and the mine owners on the other have tried to bring about a reconciliation. That is there has been no pretense looking in this direction, but Mitchell's mischief-making worked the miners, once well satisfied with the conditions, into such an obstinate mood that reason was lost upon them. The conference had no authority beyond the agreement made between the two sides, and that was of such a nature that perfect accord was necessary to reach any other result than that of a general strike.

Now here comes a thought which will sink deeply into the minds of intelligent and thoughtful citizens. The international conference at Geneva included only the principals to the dispute. The international conference at Paris and that at Algeciras drew together pretty nearly the whole family of nations. Why not apply this broadened evolution of the arbitration principle to these labor disputes? The mine workers and the mine operators are not the only persons in the country whose interests are directly involved in this strike. The railroads, all the great manufacturing industries, and the whole general public are directly and intimately affected by these disturbances in the coal mines. There is every reason why in the conferences which have taken place looking towards adjudicating these differences the railroads, various manufacturing industries and the public generally should have been represented. If the strike is prolonged every workman upon all the railroads of the country will be more or less affected. The operatives in all sorts of mills will feel the effects, and the general public will suffer from this cessation of work in the coal mines. It seems an evident matter of primal justice that these various industries so intimately affected by these disturbances should have something to say about the settlement of the dispute.

It seems as if the time were quite ripe, not only to recognize the interests of these interrelated industries in disputes of this kind, but to create an arbitration committee to sit in deliberation upon such disputes and clothed with power to reach a decision which would be binding upon all concerned in the dispute. We are only at the beginning of this exceedingly important development of the arbitration principle and its application in international and inter-industrial quarrels. The acorn once put in a favorable position to germinate, the evolution into the great, vigorous oak is inevitable. So it is with this principle of arbitration in these international and inter-industrial wars. The seed has been planted in fertile soil. It is being carefully cultivated. It will grow in strength and efficiency, and will in time, let us hope before long, become the governing principle in all disputes between nations and in inter-industrial enterprises.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of May, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 260 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On May 1st the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not. The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

Am Looking for Large Investors

to Buy Stock in

The Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Co., of Erie, Kan.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 600 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 85 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $300,000, $400,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $250 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 10c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimensions.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Globe and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

Reine again? If he had he should answer for it to him, there would be war to the knife between them. He would revenge her; he would wipe out all wrong done her if it cost him his life.

Waldemar Waldron had won Reine from him, but for all that, he should not abuse her.

He read the telegram through and handed it back to the general.

"Well," said the old soldier, huskily.

"I should advise you to go at once to New York and investigate this matter," said Bernard, gravely.

"You will accompany me, of course," returned the general.

Bernard shook his head.

"If you need me, send for me," he said, "and I will come on. Remember, your daughter was once my promised bride, general; I have no right to intrude into the household of my rival; but remember, too, though fate parted us, I would lay down my life for Reine. God bless her!"

General Hastings was fortunate enough to catch the early express on the following morning. And all the way to the metropolis he was occupied in trying to think what could possibly be wrong with Reine.

He found the street and number indicated, and, with the strangest of sensations in his heart, walked hurriedly up the massive brown-stone steps, and touched the bell. What if Waldemar Waldron should answer the summons himself? How awkward the meeting between them would be!

His meditations were suddenly cut short by the opening of the door and the appearance of a housemaid on the threshold.

He saw at a glance that her eyes were red and swollen with weeping.

"I am General Hastings," he said; "I wish to see my daughter, Mrs. Waldron, at once. Tell me, my good girl," he added in the same breath, "is she well or—or—"

"Please to come in, sir. I have been expecting you. I sent you the telegram," said Monora (for it was she), as she ushered him into the drawing-room.

"I will go to my daughter at once," said the general, nervously. "Kindly announce me without delay, my good girl. Your—your—telegram has worried me. Tell me first, however, before I see my daughter, what the trouble is which you referred to, that I may prepare myself for it."

Honora wrung her hands. Never was there a task so hard to perform. She drew from her pocket the letter Reine had handed her the night before, and placed it in his hands.

In an instant his quick eye had glanced over the few terse lines, and had mastered its contents, comprehending all too clearly that the scoundrel who had stolen his daughter from him had deserted her, deliberately, wilfully, and that, too, ere the honey-moon had scarcely waned.

It would be impossible to describe the scene that followed; how the old general raged and stormed, tearing the letter into a thousand fragments and grinding them beneath his heel deep down into the hearts of the crimson roses of the velvet carpet.

He quite forgot the girl's presence. She was secretly wondering how she could break the next and worst blow to him.

At length the terrible storm of anger wore itself away, and something like calm came to him. Then he asked to be taken at once to Reine, that he might comfort and console his child. Then calmly Honora broke the trying news to him—how, in the morning, she had gone to her mistress's room, and found it quite empty. Her pretty snow-white bed had not been slept in, and upon one of the white pillows she had found a note in Reine's handwriting, saying that she was going away, and bidding each one of her servants who had served her so well and faithfully, good-bye.

"I cannot stay and face what will happen to-morrow, Honora," she wrote. "I am going away."

General Hastings listened in silence. Words can illy portray his anguish.

Tears filled his eyes as he looked out upon the scene without, the bare branches of the trees beating madly against the window pane, and the snow coming heavily down in great blinding drifts.

Where was Reine—his idol—his darling?

God help and protect her! Thrown out upon the cold mercy of the pitiless world—breasting alone and penniless, the merciless storm! His lovely, golden-haired Reine, so daintily and tenderly reared!

There would have been little mercy shown to Waldemar Waldron if the old general had run across him just then.

Late that afternoon Bernard Cheshleigh received the following despatch.

"Come on at once. Bring Donald Gray, the detective, with you.

(Signed), General Hastings."

Bernard Cheshleigh's heart beat with dread apprehension as he read it. He responded to the summons at once. He was in quite as much of a fever of anxiety as the general himself by the time he reached New York city.

Together Donald Gray and himself boarded the up-town elevated car. They had barely seated themselves ere a young and slender girl entered, heavily veiled, and all alone. They were too much pre-occupied to notice the start of surprise she gave, or hear the cry of surprise she stifled on her lips, as her eyes fell upon the face of Bernard Cheshleigh.

It was useless to conjecture why he had been sent for, but Cheshleigh could not shake off from his mind the impression that matters were worse than the telegram had set forth.

He looked from the open window, but he never saw the waving trees, and the houses, as the train dashed past them. He was so pre-occupied.

"Poor Reine," he murmured, his breath, "I pray Heaven no harm has befallen her, and he thought of the red mark on her lovely face—the imprint of the hand that had dealt her a blow.

"Poor Reine!—what had happened her?" was the agonizing question he asked himself over and over again.

CHAPTER XXV.

The young girl who entered the car so heavily veiled was Reine. There was but one vacant seat—the one on the left of Bernard Cheshleigh—and she took it, drawing her veil more securely down over her face that he might not recognize her.

At a station further on Bernard and his companion left the car.

Reine looked after the tall retreating form wistfully.

Ah! what a good, noble friend this lover whom she had rejected had been to her! She was in sore need of counsel and advice; but not for worlds would she have gone to Bernard Cheshleigh. She prayed Heaven that he might never know that the man for whom she had deserted him had, in his turn, now forsaken her.

She never realized until now what Bernard, who had loved her so dearly, must have suffered.

After Honora, her maid, had left her the night before, for long hours she had paced the floor of her boudoir, trying to look the future in the face, and think what she should do. All the long, weary night through she never rested her head upon the white pillow. Sleep was out of the question for her. It seemed to her that she should never sleep again.

When daylight broke she had packed a few necessary articles in a little hand satchel, and without one glance at the room—without a glance about the pretty, ornamented boudoir, whose adornings she had grown to loved so well—she hurried down the stairs softly, and out of the house into the brisk cold of the December morning.

The streets of New York are never deserted. Early as the hour was, large pedestrians surged to and fro.

Reine was swept along with the surging throng, finding herself at

REMARKABLY RICH ORE TO WORK ON AT THE BEGINNING

Ore taken from the twenty-foot shaft on the SILVER KING No. 1 claim assayed NINE HUNDRED AND THREE OUNCES OF SILVER and $139.00 GOLD PER TON, and it seems scarcely possible, keeping in view the history of the BULLFROG DISTRICT, that this mine will not develop into an EXTRAORDINARY RICH ONE AND GREAT DIVIDEND PAYER with such ore to begin with, and we have good reasons for believing that

RHEUMATISM

Lives in the Blood

Consequently it requires an internal treatment, one that will restore the blood, and thereby relieve the cause of this pain.

After years of experiment Dr. Hamilton succeeded in producing a remedy that quickly cures rheumatism, gout and all uric acid disorders. This marvelous cure has been given to the public as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, in every case they cure quickly.

By toning the kidneys and liver, Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore a clean healthy body. The blood is restored to a normal healthy condition, renewed vigor is imparted to overworked organs, and thus the general health is built up, and no room is left for rheumatism to creep in.

Discouraged sufferer, relief is at hand. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and you will soon shake hands for good with your old enemy. Here is substantial proof.

A Cripple's Story of Cure

"This is a glad day for me, writes James E. Brown, Esq., from Midland, Ont., "because I can speak of my permanent cure of rheumatism. I have been all through the aching days and sleepless nights, have spent my money on worthless remedies, and consequently in recommending Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I feel sure of their merit. No remedy gave such relief or did me so much good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. My rheumatism they cured, and ever since my health has been perfect."

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are to be had in any drug store, it's foolish to live on in misery and ill-health. You ought to get this medicine today and cure yourself. Price 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1 at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Lakefield Cement Co. Gets Contract.

The Lakefield Cement Company have been awarded the contract for Hamilton's civic supply of cement for the coming year. The rate per barrel was $1.83. The Lakefield Company's tender was unconditional, whereas its chief rival named a figure which was subject to increase in case of a change in the tariff. Last year's supply was bought for $1.55 1-2 per barrel, and about 4,000 tons were used. It is expected that this amount will be materially increased during the coming year.—Industrial Canada.

NOW IS THE TIME

Secure Stock in Company Owning Mine in Bullfrog District.

Those who are in the habit of following the contemporary history of gold mining on this continent, know that the Bullfrog district of Nevada is today one of the richest sections in gold of the earth's surface.

The Bullfrog Keystone Co., own six claims, 125 acres in the Bullfrog district, 4 1-2 miles south of the town of Beatty. This property has already been developed sufficiently to show that there are rich veins outcropping on every claim, which assay as high as $550 per ton.

The company are for a limited time, subject to withdrawal, shares at five cents each, which, as soon as further developments and work is done on their property, probably advance many hundred per cent. in value.

The directorate of this company are all gentlemen of national standing and high reputation, thus guaranteeing its bona fidness. For full particulars address, John J. Hunte, 192 Broadway, New York City.

License Commissioners Busy.

Yesterday afternoon License Commissioners M. A. Morrison, Jas. Kendry and H. LeBrun, accompanied by Inspector George Cochrane made a tour of inspection of all the hotels. They will hold a meeting on Friday night to consider the granting of licenses.

Easter Gift to Miss A. Christie.

At the Easter thank offering meeting of the Girls Mission Band of Charlotte street church, which was held Monday afternoon, there was a good attendance and the interesting program was carried out.

A presentation was made to Miss Annie Christie, the popular little elocutionist, who leaves shortly with her parents to reside in the Northwest. An appreciative address from the band was read by Miss Letitia Elliott and Miss Greta Giles made the presentation of a pretty pearl pin.

Mr. Hank Smith's Death.

The many friends of Mr. Hank Smith, in the city and county, will regret to learn that he has passed away. Yesterday, Conductor Hasball of the G.T.R., was in receipt of a telegram notifying him of the death of Mr. Smith. The deceased, who for many years, has every season been a regular visitor to Hawarthas Lakes, and who was in the habit of stopping yearly at the White House, was a supernumerary conductor of this line running between Rochester and Charlotte, N.Y.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trial in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of each a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has obtained permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

There was a fair sized audience at the Weary Wanderers' Elysian Fields yesterday.

Geo. Raper was charged with having, on the 7th April, having stolen a horse and buggy from one John Hillmopie, necessary to the criminal code. The same charge was preferred against William Donnelly. Mr. Hatton who appeared for both the prisoners elected to have them tried summarily and pleaded not guilty.

As the chief of police was not ready to proceed with the case, he asked for an enlargement until Monday next. This was granted, and the amount of bail was fixed at $500 in each case, with two sureties in each case of $250 each, the magistrate saying that horse stealing is a serious offence.

Chief of Police Geo. Gunyon, of Deseronto, yesterday took back with him Claude Delaire, a youth charged with cruelty to animals by the authorities of that town.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the police court was well filled, the Scottish Club being present in a body.

The first case called was that against a young man named Vinette, charged with having used profane language in a public place, to wit, at the Smith street bridge.

The complainant, a man named Howland, the first witness, said he had seen two young men, the defendant and his friend McKnight take away the barricade placed by the city engineer at the Smith street bridge. He saw them throw a heavy beam from the barricade into the river.

When he went to remonstrate with them, they used profane language, and one of them ran into the roadway side of the road.

Vinette went into the witness box. His evidence was almost direct contradiction of that given by Howland. He denied tearing the barricade down.

A young man named McEwan, then went into the box, but his Worship, evidently not believing what he said, with a wave of his hand, remarked, "Oh get out of the box."

McKnight then gave evidence and denied all knowledge of tearing down the barricade. When questioned by Howland, he said, "Oh you are laboring under a delusion."

The magistrate, summing up the evidence, said the case had been proved. No evidence showed but what profane language had been used, and that threats had been used. He would not allow such hoodlumism as this, of having timber taken away that had been placed to protect people. $5 to be paid forthwith.

A similar charge was then brought against McKnight. Howland went into the box and gave practically the same evidence as in Vinette's case.

While McKnight was questioning Howland, he, McKnight, said, "Did not your break the law yourself by fishing last Sunday, and at other times when fish were out of season?" "No," replied Howland, "I did not."

The magistrate imposed a similar fine of $5 with the same evidence as before.

There was also a charge against these young men for interfering with the barricades. This however, notwithstanding that City Counsel Hall, called the magistrate's attention to the serious nature of this offence, which might result in loss of human life, the latter dismissed the charge saying that the $5 fine imposed could cover the other offence. The fines were paid.

The next case was that of Mr. Richard Parnell, a member of the fire brigade, who was charged with driving a team attached to a truck down Water street at a gallop.

In answer to the magistrate's question, "Are you guilty or not guilty?" Mr. Parnell replied, "Well, I think I am guilty." He then explained that he was acting under Chief Rutherford's orders and exercising the fire team.

Chief Rutherford addressed the court, saying that it was the custom in all towns and cities to exercise the horses in this way.

However, the magistrate said that Mr. Parnell was not driving a fire rig, neither had he a bell to warn the public to get out of the way. He imposed a fine of $2. Chief Rutherford told the magistrate he would appeal the case.

Jas. Bird, who was last winter a cook in the Rathbun Company's shanties, and another man who up to going to press, was still under the influence too heavily to know his own name, were picked up drunk yesterday afternoon by P. C. McGinty. They will appear for trial this morning. Each of these gentlemen were conveyed, at different times, to the Hayes dee Cage, on carters rigs, they being physically incapable of walking.

PRICES ARE RAISED

Local Hotelmen Meet and Decide to Raise Prices.

Yesterday afternoon the Peterboro Licensed Victuals with President J. M. Brooks in the chair, and the minutes being taken by secretary A. Rountree, met in the Ontario Bank chambers to consider a modus vivendi of living under the coming greatly increased license fees, which about double the expense of keeping hotel in this province.

A large majority of those holding licenses in this city were present, and the meeting was most cordial in character, the general sentiment being unanimously in support of raising prices to meet the increased expenditure.

It was resolved, and unanimously supported, that from the 1st of May next, farmers bringing their rigs into the hotel yards will have to pay, when no oats, hay, etc., is purchased, 10 cents for standing room. When a single meal is furnished for horses the charges will be 40 cents for a team and 25 cents for a single horse.

Regarding the necessary raise in hotel prices for guests, it was decided that each $1 a day hotel should impose its own terms, which will range, after May 1st, from $1.25 to $2.00 per diem.

It was further decided that "Farmers Joy" and "90-rod" whiskey at 5 cents per glass, be handed over for sweet memories of the past, and be placed in the same category as the good old days when tangle leg could be bought for 25 cents per gallon. After the 1st of May, all imported quors, such as Mountain Dew, Bloom of the Heather, Ireland's Pride, etc., will cost 15 cents per glass, or two for 25 cents. A1 Canadian whiskey will be, at least, 10 cents per glass.

This elimination of the 5-cent "O be joyful," will probably tend towards temperance, as one bottle of the ordinary 5-cent whiskey contains a basis for more fights, headaches, and police court afterclaps, than a gallon of pure whiskey.

Dr. Shroop has created at his Laboratories a superior, sweet, toothsome candy tablets named Lax-ets. The ingredients are printed on very attractive little lithographed metal boxes, in which these tablets are sold. Lax-ets sell at the very low price of 5 cents per box. A better, safer, or more certain laxative than Lax-ets is, Dr. Shroop believes, absolutely impossible. Lax-ets are for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, Biliousness, Headache, Dizziness, etc., etc. Sold by J. D. Tully.

DR. BURNHAM THANKED

St. Mark's Church, Otonabee, Holds Annual Vestry Meeting.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's, and also of St. Mark's churches in Otonabee, presided at the annual vestry meeting of the latter church held on Monday night.

The reports of St. Mark's church for the past year are of a most encouraging kind.

Sunda collections during the year amounted to $129.40, an increase of $51.66 over the previous year. Receipts from annual subscriptions and other sources, $399.55, making total receipt of $468.95. The expenditure was $488.81. Of the amount $173 was expended in renovating the church. For instance $55 were contributed during the year a memorial tablet to the memory of the late Rev. Mark Burnham and a chancel carpet were given to the church by Dr. George Burnham of Peterboro. Reference was made to the hearty services at Stewart's Hall, which are held there monthly and which will be continued every first Sunday of the month.

The election of the people's warden resulted in Mr. Thos. Graystock being elected. The rector reappointed Mr. Abner Coates his warden. Upon motion of Mr. Thos. Graystock, seconded by Mr. R. Scoble the following resolution was unanimously passed: That the members of St. Mark's church, Otonabee, desire to express to Dr. George Burnham, Peterboro, their gratitude for his many tokens of kind interest in the material welfare of St. Mark's church. They feel indebted to him for the financial aid he has given them in their endeavor to preserve and beautify their church, and they gratefully remember in this connection the noble and self sacrificing work which Dr. Burnham's father, the late Rev. Mark Burnham, has done in years gone by as the founder and first rector of St. Mark's. The members of St. Mark's church wish to give some tangible expression of their appreciation of Dr. Burnham by asking him to accept his election as lay representative of St. Mark's at the Diocesan Synod.

A vote of thanks was passed to Miss R. Scoble for her faithful services as organist.

Messrs. John Thorne, Fred Collins, Wm. Pickle and John Dickson were elected sidesmen for the year.

The election of lay delegates resulted as follows; Messrs. Dr. Burnham, Peterboro; Barlow Cumberland, Port Hope; and Robert Parker, Toronto.

The meeting then adjourned.

Next Sunday the choir of St. Luke's church will repeat the Easter music, and Miss Ruth Dawson will sing "Hosanna" by Granier.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will begin at St. Mark's on Sunday, April 29. Sunday school at 2.30 p.m. Service at 3.15 p.m.

To get rid of the bad breath, the sickening discharges from the nose and throat, the loss of smell and taste, etc., such ingredients as Thymol, Wild Indigo, Oil of Eucalyptus, etc. must be used. Dr. Shroop's Catarrh Cure depends upon such healing agents as these in combination with other antiseptic specifics. These are then incorporated into a soft soothing and healing imported petroleum jelly secured in Europe. When apply to diseased mucous membranes it acts like magic, clearing up these revolting diseases promptly and with a marked sensation of comfort. Sold by J. D. Tully.

To Erect Blast Furnaces.

Toronto, April 19.—It is rumored in financial circles that parties closely identified with the Canada Foundry Company are organizing a company which will erect blast furnaces on an extensive scale, and at a cost of perhaps one million dollars, at a point on the Niagara peninsula. There is every probability the work will be proceeded with at an early date. The new process of smelting by electricity may be used.

Pouring Into Canada.

Ottawa, April 19.—The total immigrant arrivals from the United States, for the nine months ended March 31, were 39,971, an increase of 5,731 over the same period of the previous year. From Great Britain and the Continent the arrivals were 54,778, a gain of 5,896. The increase in arrivals for the nine months was, therefore, 9,629. For March alone the arrivals by ocean ports were 14,341, showing an increase of 6,289.

Awful Destruction By Earthquake, With Fire and Pillage

San Francisco Is Practically Wiped Out By Worst Earthquake Ever Known on Pacific Coast---Water Mains Burst and Flames Are Only Combatted By Use of Dynamite---Loss of Life Now Known to Be Over Fifteen Hundred People.

Bulletin—San Francisco, April 19.—San Francisco was practically wrecked by an earthquake at 5.10 yesterday morning. The shock lasted three minutes. Thousands of buildings were damaged or destroyed. The loss of life is reported great.

There is no water, and fires are breaking out all over the city. All the wires, with the exception of one are gone.

The city hall, costing seven millions, is in ruins. Modern buildings suffered less than those of brick and frame.

The terror and excitement are indescribable. Most of the people were asleep, and rushed into the streets undressed. The buildings swayed and crashed, burying many occupants. Panic reigns in the down-town hotels.

The Lick House is badly damaged, but no loss of life there is reported.

Bulletin—San Francisco, April 19. 9.15 a.m.—The fire in the vicinity of the Palace and Grand Hotels is rapidly approaching these buildings, and from present indications they will fall prey to the flames within half an hour. The Examiner and Call buildings are also in imminent danger.

Bulletin—San Francisco, April 19. 9.30.—The entire waterfront is burning. The post-office was badly shaken and is entirely collapsed. The fish market at the corner of Clay and Merchants streets has collapsed, killing six persons.

The grand opera house is burning fiercely.

A ten-storey building at Tenth and Mission streets, adjoining the grand opera house, is apparently doomed, and other big buildings between the theater and St. Patrick's church. Many people are fleeing from the Palace Hotel, taking their personal effects.

GAS WORKS BLOWN UP.

The gas works, south of Market street, have been blown up, and started another big fire in that section of the city.

A portion of the mission, several miles from the business section, is in flames. Fire began at 22nd street, and is rapidly moving eastward. Should the wind increase, it may sweep the entire southern section of the city.

In Oakland five persons were killed by the collapse of the Empire Building. The Gore block, at the junction of Market and Pine streets, is in flames, and probably will be a total loss.

At 10 a.m.—The fire has reached Market street, near Third. The building next to the Claus Spreckels building at Third and Market streets, is in flames, and fire extends along the south side of Market to Fourth. The following buildings on New Montgomery street, between Market and Mission have been destroyed; Pacific States Telephone Co., Rialto Building on Mission and Market streets, the Natoma building on Second and Market. The twelve-storey Mutual Life Building on California and Sansome streets, has also been destroyed.

LATER NEWS.

New York, April 19.—At 11 o'clock, San Francisco time, two o'clock New York time, yesterday, the employes of the Postal Telegraph Company had to leave their office on account of fire. The Palace Hotel was then on fire. Other buildings on fire were the Claus-Spreckels structure, 17 storeys high; the Phelan building, and the O'Farrell store. The south side of Market street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, was on fire, and the flames were spreading in all directions. The city was now under martial law. It seems that the entire business section must be destroyed.

San Francisco, April 19.—The fires are spreading rapidly, and unless the wind comes from the west and blows the flames towards the bay, nothing can stop the destruction to the city. The whole north end of the city is wrecked, and flames are spreading in all directions. In absence of water the fire department has resorted to the use of dynamite, and buildings are being demolished in hope of staying the conflagration.

The block bounded by Sansome, California, Pine and Battery streets, is practically doomed, the flames sweeping clear across it in great sheets from Pine street, with no fire apparatus available for its salvation.

16-STOREY BUILDING DOOMED.

Fire has taken hold of the 16-storey Call building on the Third street side. Flames are now burning fiercely in the interior of the building, but as yet flames have not reached beyond the fourth floor. The building is also threatened on Market street side, only one structure separating it from the flames, which swept everything on south side of Market street, from Fourth almost to Third streets.

The rear of the 11-storey Monadnock building now nearing completion, has fallen out, and flames threaten to cause great fire loss. The front of the Monadnock was badly cracked by the earthquake. A thought the fire is raging on all sides of the Palace Hotel, it has not yet caught fire.

Twenty-one bodies have been taken to the morgue. The building cannot accommodate any more.

Mayor Schmitz established headquarters at the Hall of Justice, and with the council has appointed a committee of 50 citizens. The military are patrolling streets, guarding the banks and other establishments. They have orders to shoot anyone on sight detected in theft. The Jesse street side of the Palace Hotel is burning.

The burning district at 9.45 a.m. extended from South street on the west to the waterfront on the east, south of Market street, north of Market, from Sansom to waterfront, and from Market to Washington. There was also a block burning on Mason street, between 21st and 22nd.

NEWSPAPERS WORK TOGETHER.

The newspapers having had their power cut off, have combined, and will issue one paper for all from the office of the Chronicle, which has its own power plant. There was a great rush as the different banks by depositors who wanted to draw out their deposits, but the banks decided to keep their doors closed. By order of the chief of police all the saloons have been closed. The damage already inflicted is roughly estimated at $40,000,000.

Fire Chief Sullivan is lying in a very precarious condition.

USE DYNAMITE.

San Francisco, April 19. 10.45 a.m.—Mayor Schmitz has called for the assistance of the entire Oakland fire department, and has ordered that all dynamite available be used to blow up buildings in order to stay the progress of the flames.

The great buildings on Market St. including the Call, Chronicle, and Examiner, at Market and Fourth Sts., are reported greatly damaged.

FOUR HUNDRED BODIES.

Up to 11 o'clock about four hundred dead had been brought to Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco, and others were being brought in.

The Call building has been destroyed and the flames are working westward.

California has become such a favorite winter resort for Canadians of means that when the first news of the disaster reached this side, the newspaper and telegraph offices were besieged with inquirers. The blocking of the wires, however, prevented the giving of details, and it was soon before even the extent of the disaster was able to be guessed at. Although the greatest damage appears to have been confined to the business district of San Francisco, those who had friends in the outlying country are naturally most anxious. The first reports were that all the coast had suffered, but later information would indicate that Los Angeles and San Diego had escaped with a fright, and without any serious damage. But it will be several days before details are known. The few telegraph wires that are working will be blocked, and many personal messages may be delayed for days.

WHOLE CONTINENT AFFECTED.

Washington, April 19.—The San Francisco earthquake has reached across the entire continent. The seismograph at the weather bureau here showed such a violent agitation about 8.30 o'clock yesterday morning that the pen passed off the recording sheet. The instrument at 12 o'clock was still under vibration, showing that the earthquake had not ceased.

REGISTERED AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, April 19.—The vibrations resulting from the big earthquake at San Francisco, were recorded by the seismograph at the Dominion Observatory at the Central Experimental Farm. The preliminary tremors began at 8 hours, 9 minutes, 30 seconds in the morning. The principal part of the disturbance occurred at 8 hours, 30 minutes, 30 seconds, and the maximum disturbance at 8.35. When the sheet was taken off at 9.50 quakes were still being recorded but not so violently.

A very large and distinct earthquake was recorded yesterday morning by the seismograph at Toronto Observatory.

King Alfonso has personally appealed to the newspapermen to permit him to enjoy his visit to his bride-elect without being subjected to any annoyance.

RUSSIA'S GREAT UPHEAVAL

Further Jewish Massacres Predicted Throughout the Empire.

London, April 19. — Startling reports of the condition and future of Russia's 6,000,000 Jews were made on March 12th in Berlin to the annual meeting of the Central Jewish Relief League of Germany by Dr. Paul Nathan, a well known Berlin publicist, who has returned from an extensive trip through Russia as the special emissary of Jewish philanthropists in England, America and Germany, to arrange for distribution of the relief fund of $1,000,000 raised after the massacres of last autumn. Dr. Nathan paints a horrifying picture of the plight and prospects of his coreligionists, and forecasts at any hour renewed massacres exceeding in extent and terror all that have gone before. He left St. Petersburg with the firm conviction that the Russian Government's studied policy for the "solution" of the Jewish question is systematic and murderous extermination. Dr. Nathan read to the meeting a circular addressed to the garrison of Odessa, calling upon the soldiers to "rise and crush the traitors who are plotting to upset the holy Government of the Czar and substitute for it a Jewish empire." He concluded with an appeal to the Jewish money powers of the world to arrest Russia's career as a borrower. The financiers of the world should call a halt to Russia, not only for humanitarian reasons, but for practical reasons. Russia's bankruptcy is an established fact, he added.

A GOLDEN CHANCE

Rare Opportunity to Secure Stock in a Promising Mine.

Seldom is a better opportunity for investment offered, in what bears the marks of both safety and big returns, offered to the public than that now presented by the Gold Leaf Mining, Milling and Drainage Co., whose advertisement appears in other columns of this issue.

This company composed of well known financiers and mining experts, has been fortunate enough to secure sixteen mining claims, situated on Standard Mountain, in the Ohio and Jackson mining district, two and one-half miles south of Idaho Springs in Clear Creek county, Colorado. The proposition now presented by the Gold Leaf Mining, Milling and Drainage Co., is well worth careful investigation by those seeking an outlet for capital that will probably bring in large returns in a very short time.

Most of the mining stocks on the market at any reasonable price are placed there for the purpose of getting capital for experimental development; the Gold Leaf Company's property has, however, already produced over $75,000, and a tunnel is being steadily driven towards the rich ore bodies from which former shipments were made. Their property is situated between mines which have produced over $11,500,000.

The present issue of stock is for the purpose of raising capital where with to purchase a power plant and other purposes calculated to cheapen the cost of their output and at the same time enlarge it.

For a limited time only stock will be sold at five cents a share, and on easy terms. To procure 8500 shares it requires only $25 cash down and $5 a month for four months.

For full particulars call on or address W. Kelsey Hall, fiscal agent, 375 Water street, or on Roland Kidd, special agent.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Disease Prevalent Now But Can Be Cured Quickly with Hyomei.

Until very recent years, it was thought that catarrh was a disease of the blood, but now modern science has proved that catarrh is a germ disease, and can be cured only by a treatment that will kill the germ and heal the mucous membrance of the nose and throat.

Therefore, when you have catarrh you can readily see that if you want to cure it, you should use Hyomei, which medicates the air you breathe, thus killing the catarrhal germs and healing the smarting and raw membrane of the passages through the nose and throat. In breathing Hyomei you are really treating your catarrhal troubles with the only natural method, for it will make the air you breathe as pure, healing and antiseptic as that found on the mountains where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei, and a medicine dropper, costs only $1, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

100 PER CENT. ADVANCE JUNE 1

Present Price of Stock FIVE Cents per Share

If you want to get in on the ground floor before the price advances to 10 Cents per share, NOW IS YOUR CHANCE

When The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Company was organized the officers of the company foresaw the certainty of a big mining boom in Clear Creek County, Colorado, U.S.A., and they congratulated themselves on securing a property which showed 1,500 feet of development work, and could be classed with the MINES of the region.

The steady increase in the mineral production of the county, new strikes, the development of old mines at depth (proving the continuity of the ore bodies and the increased richness of the ores), the availability of mining supplies the abundance of water, the great amount of timber for mining and fuel, the adaptability of the topography for deep tunnel mining, and the large number of milling and smelting plants, means that the district possesses all the elements of successful and economical mining.

It was a foregone conclusion that investors would awake to a realization of the conditions, and inaugurate a new boom in 1906. It is but natural that they should desire to place their money in a locality that shows more PROVEN MINES than prospects, and where the chances for speedy returns are greater than the chances of loss. Because of economic conditions money will go farther in development work and bring RESULTS quicker. Many new companies have recently been organized, foremost among them being The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Co. Stock in all Clear Creek County companies is finding a ready market among both Eastern and Western investors, and in consequence The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Co., forestalled the boom by securing one of the best mining propositions in the locality, consisting of 16 mining claims, situated on Standard Mountain, in the Ohio and Jackson Mining District, two and one-half miles south of Idaho Springs. The Gold Leaf properties are credited with a past production of $75,000, and the tunnel is being steadily driven toward the rich ore bodies from whence former shipments were made. The old workings are now drowned with water which the tunnel will drain and also give unlimited stoping ground for the ores. Surrounding mines have produced over $11,500,000. Now is the time to purchase stock. When we re-open our ore the opportunity will be lost to investors.

Don't overlook this exceptional opportunity! Think of the acreage; Think of the development work done; Think of the past ore production; Think of the future possibilities; Think of investing—THEN ACT AT ONCE!

Sufficient stock subscriptions have already been received to carry our Frontier Tunnel a distance of 600 feet, or to the Standard Vein, from which point ore shipments will be resumed. Future stock subscriptions will be applied on the purchase of a power plant or on contracts to facilitate the work of driving the tunnel.

Our General Manager estimates that the completion of the tunnel will place at our disposal OVER FOUR MILES OF ORE aggregating 96,000,000 tons.

THE IRISH PARTY'S DEMANDS

The friendship between Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's administration and the Nationalist Party seems destined to be but short-lived. It will not surprise anyone who has followed the career of the Nationalists in the British House of Commons, to see that Mr. Redmond has no use for an Irish Secretary who is not prepared to concede all that he demands. That would imply the transfer of posts in the administration of Ireland to the nominees of the Nationalists. Because Mr. Bryce is not prepared to dismiss a number of officials, against whom no complaint has been made on account of the manner in which they have performed their duties, Mr. Redmond has declared war on the Government. It remains to be seen whether the latter will surrender to the Nationalists as it has already done to another section of the members of the House who are only to be numbered as its supporters whose their particular demands are granted.

IS HIGHLY INDIGNANT

Mr. Culverwell says the "Examiner" misstates facts and exaggerates them every opportunity Possible.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—It is indeed a deplorable situation when a newspaper, published daily in the City of Peterborough, stands guilty of such unblushingly open discreditable journalism as falsifying articles taken from other newspapers. Of this, the Peterborough Examiner, owned by Mr. J. H. Stratton and the organ of R. R. Hall, M.P.) stands guilty—the intention being to damage my business operations in connection with the several electric power companies in central Ontario, managed by your humble servant.

It is unfortunate for me and for the above mentioned gentlemen that my different business operations conflict with theirs, and it is really too bad for them that my Trent Valley Canal journalism has turned on the searchlight too strongly for their operations relative to that great public work.

Really I regret very much that I have been the direct cause of the Examiner committing that unpardonable sin in journalism mentioned above. The method adopted is to reprint only a portion of the article from another district paper relative to my public business affairs, and thereby give a wrong meaning to the whole matter at issue; or to leave out—as was done of the 5th inst.—the concluding paragraph. In this instance the Examiner only reprinted a portion of the Port Hope Guide's report of the Port Hope council proceedings, and thereby made it appear (and also called attention to a supposed fact) that I was turned down or sat upon by the council for giving advice in connection with the form of resolution introduced to adopt a temporary three months' street lighting contract with the Port Hope electric light company.

Instead, however, my advice was taken, and the resolution changed exactly as I requested, notwithstanding the strong opposition of the councillor who introduced the motion. The concluding paragraph of the Guide's report shows this, which paragraph was left out by the Examiner, to their shame.

This is not the only horrible sin the Examiner stands accused and guilty of. Recently they republished an article from another newspaper—also relative to my public operations—and printed scare headlines, which were at total variance to the article printed underneath. Indeed, I really cannot find the exact word to fit this sin.

Again another. The Examiner a few months ago printed a distorted statement of mine—a mean newspaper trick, and cleverly worded by them so as to make our business operations appear unpopular in Peterborough. This idea, of course, is too ridiculous to think of, after the work done and money expended by myself and associates to advertise and forward the development of Peterborough, where, upon my first arrival, water-powers galore were idly washing the rocks there.

In the interests of respectable journalism I ask you to give me space for these remarks, and also ask you to publish the whole article of the Examiner, which is only part of the Guide's report of Port Hope council proceedings to further impeach upon the Examiner their wrong-doing, and to expose thoroughly the whole dark deed.

In conclusion, I wish to inform the Examiner that in this enlightened age it is only a matter of time when wrong-doing is found out and punished, and also I must remind them of such a sentiment as "British Fair Play."

Yours truthfully and fearlessly,
J. A. CULVERWELL.

A NEW SCANDAL

Ottawa Post-Office Prepares to Come Under Limelight.

Ottawa, April 18.—A new building scandal is possible in the Public Works Department here. Some time ago the Post Office building here was partially destroyed by fire, and an extensive reconstruction was set on foot by the Public Works Department, the scheme involving a considerable heightening of the structure. The time consumed in making the repairs and alterations has been inordinate. The fire occurred about Christmas, 1902, and the final touches have not yet been given. During all this period the Ottawa public has been subjected to great annoyance and inconvenience in their dealings with the mails.

More than one unfortunate incident has taken place in connection with the work which was done by day labor under the superintendence of the Public Works Department. Some months ago charges were publicly made that a foreman was using his position to exact contributions, and an investigation was rendered necessary, which ended in the charges being declared to be without foundation. At the present moment the contractors are engaged in putting on a new roof, which is barely in place, is collapsing. Information comes from a fairly reliable source that it has been necessary to shore it up in order to prevent it from falling in. A question will be asked in the House of Commons this afternoon on the subject.

The Delineator for May.

The May Delineator, with a complete display, pictorial and descriptive, of the latest Spring fashions, contains a wealth of suggestions for those who wish to be smartly gowned, and many other features of interest to women. Hon. Justice David J. Brewer contributes an article on "Woman in the Professions" in which he comments on the significance of the fact that the status of women has changed in the last half century. Miss Winslow's club story, "The President of Quex," drawing near its end, deepens in interest, and the author supplements the installment with a chapter on "Club Woman and the Child Labor Question. In "Famous American Songs," Gustav Kobbe gives the story of the origin of the popular air, "Bell Bolt," and in an interesting historical sketch of Annapolis, Hester D. Richardson vividly pictures the romantic interest attached to the spot where the body of Paul Jones is to rest. Florence Rockwell writes her experiences in playing Shakespearian roles and speaks of the need of a national theatre. Avery Abbott and Juliette B. G. Towne contribute short stories for older folks, and Alice Brown a fairy tale for the little ones. There are other features to delight young folks, including a chapter in the serial, "Sunlight and Shadow" and pastimes by Lina Beard. In the "Campaign for Safe Foods" Mary Hinman Abel writes of coloring matters and commercial cheats, and the pages devoted to the household are full of suggestions for the kitchen with many other helpful hints to the housewife.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of May, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 260 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 400 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $ 90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On May 1st the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not, The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

Am Looking for Conservative Investors

to Buy Stock in

The Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Co., of Erie, Kan.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 15 miles of pipe lines; 100 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 500 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 61 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 400 to 600 wells; properties valued $300,000, $150,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $25 to $10,000 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 10c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $200 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining o.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 5,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more tickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tintic mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

length in the very heart of Broadway.

It was not until the sun reached the horizon that she realized how faint and hungry she was, and that she was penniless, all save the half dollar which she was fortunate enough to find in the pocket of her dress. But what would she do when that was gone? The thought appalled her. All the old gay, girlish life seemed to have been left far behind her, like a bright, faded dream. Could there ever have been a time she was happy and without care?

Had she ever been petted, loved and worshipped as the heiress of Fairlawn, or was it all a strange dream?

Oh! if she had but learned how to do something to support herself in case of emergency then, she would not have been so utterly helpless now. She uttered a blind prayer to Heaven to guide her as she walked wearily along.

And the event which happened the next moment seemed an answer to that piteous appeal.

She had scarcely proceeded a dozen steps when suddenly she stumbled over something lying directly beneath her feet.

It was a small purse—a lady's purse. Upon opening it Reine found that it contained a few dollars in money, a tiny, dark curl tied with a bit of blue ribbon, and an old envelope, the back of which served as a memorandum; several items were jotted down upon it. The face of the envelope, however, revealed the name and address of the owner of the lost purse. It read: "Mrs. William Arnold, No —— East 11th Street, City."

There was but one course to pursue—and that was to return the purse at once to its owner.

The street indicated was some distance down-town. Thus it happened that Reine took the elevated car, and the first person whom she beheld was Bernard Chesleigh.

She was thankful that he left the car without observing her.

Reine had little difficulty in finding the street and number she sought. It was a neat three-story brick dwelling, with the sign of "Boarding" upon the door.

Reine inquired for Mrs. Arnold. She was ushered into a plain but neatly furnished parlor, and in a few moments that lady made her appearance, flushed, nervous, and somewhat excited.

Before Reine had time to state her errand she saw the pocketbook in her hand, and a cry of delight broke from her lips.

"I was fortunate to find this on the street an hour since, and finding your address within, I hastened to return it to you," said Reine, simply.

Mrs. Arnold thanked her, with tears in her eyes.

"It was not the loss of the money I was grieving about just as you came in, but it was because the purse contained a lock of hair of my daughter's. She died a year ago. Money could not have bought that little, dark curl from me, I value it so highly. I was just about to put an advertisement for it in the "Lost" column, offering to pay a handsome reward for its return. If you will accept the reward I was about to offer I shall be very much pleased."

Reine drew back, flushing painfully. Accept a reward for doing one's duty? She felt quite hurt, and refused at once, on the impulse of the moment; but the very next instant, when it was quite too late, she remembered how sadly she was in need of money.

Reine burst into tears, and then the true state of affairs came out,—that she was penniless—that she was thrown upon her own resources that day, for the first time in her young life, that she had not even a shelter when the darkness of night closed in around her.

Mrs. Arnold was shocked. She was almost rendered speechless. What young girl in tens of thousands similarly situated, would have brought her back her purse?

She pressed Reine's little soft hands sympathetically, noting the while how beautiful and white they were, like the tender, velvet leaves of a lily.

Searching for employment—Heaven pity and help her! She remembered a time, far back in her own life, when she had had an almost similar experience; and she remembered, with a shudder, she had told herself, if she did not find something to do before nightfall, she would kill herself. Better a quick death than the maddening tortures of starvation and exposure to the bitter cold in the dreary streets. Now she was differently situated—widowed—yet doing quite well as the mistress of this thrifty boarding-place, with a neat little sum put by for a rainy day, as all wise people should have. Her one great sorrow had been the loss of her daughter, but she thanked Heaven that her only son—the idol of her heart—had been spared to her.

"Do not weep any more, my dear," said the motherly lady, wiping the tears from Reine's eyes. "You shall stay here with me until you can find something to do. I know just how to feel for you in your present trouble—indeed I do."

Reine was only too glad to accept. She had not the least idea what she would have done if Heaven, in its mercy, had not found her this kind friend.

"I shall not be a burden to you long, my dear madam," said Reine gratefully. "If I could get a place to teach school, or find pupils for music, drawing or French, I would soon be able to repay you."

"You seem to be quite accomplished. If you could teach all these things," said Mrs. Arnold, "I take it you must have been rich once."

"My father was worth considerable," said Reine blushing painfully. "I never thought one short year ago, that I should ever come to want."

"Ah, well," replied the good woman, cheerfully, "many a man is rich to-day and poor to-morrow. The world never knows how shaky many a rich man is until he comes to die. In most cases, there's a mighty falling off in their wealth, I can tell you, and the heirs find themselves in tight places."

Reine did not correct the impression the good woman was evidently laboring under—that she was an orphan.

"You have not told me your name, my dear," said Mrs. Arnold, at length. "I wish to present you to my son when he comes in."

"My name is Reine Waldron," she answered, with another flush, debating within herself whether she ought to tell this good woman that she was married or not.

She concluded, however, that if she were to tell her she would be obliged to repeat to her all of her sad story, and she would rather have died than have said—"my husband left me yesterday, for no offence whatsoever—left me wilfully, deliberately."

The world is so uncharitable to women, especially if a sorrow of this kind befalls them. No, no, it were better far to say nothing upon the subject. Let them think her Miss Waldron, if they would.

Mrs. Arnold conducted Reine to a very neat little bedroom opening off from her own.

"You are to occupy this for the present, my dear," she said.

Reine was only too grateful, and she thanked her with tears in her eyes.

When the six o'clock dinner bell rang, Mrs. Arnold came hurriedly into the room.

REMARKABLY RICH ORE TO WORK ON AT THE BEGINNING

Ore taken from the twenty-foot shaft on the SILVER KING No. 1 claim assayed NINE HUNDRED AND THREE OUNCES OF SILVER and $138.00 GOLD PER TON, and it seems scarcely possible, keeping in view the history of the BULLFROG DISTRICT, that this mine will not develop into an EXTRAORDINARY RICH ONE AND GREAT DIVIDEND PAYER with such ore to begin with, and we have good reasons for believing that

The deputation were representatives of the municipalities of Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Kinmount and Haliburton and their claims were supported by representatives of the city of Toronto and the Toronto Board of Trade.

OUR DRUGGIST TELLS US.

We learn today that our local druggist, Mr. J. D. Tully, has made a special arrangement which carries with it an agreement to keep in stock constantly a full line of special prescriptions created at the Laboratories of Dr. Shroop.

A novel, yet thoroughly practical and newly created article has just been issued from the Laboratories in question, called Lax-ets and is included as a part of the arrangement made today by the druggist in question. We refer to a prescription put up in candy tablet form, for the relief of constipation, sour stomach, bad breath, sallow complexion, biliousness, headaches, etc., etc. The novelty of Lax-ets arises from two or three sources. It has not even the suspicion, so far as taste is concerned, that the article is a medicine. It is candy in taste, and in appearance. Again, Lax-ets are put up in beautifully lithographed metal boxes and retail for the remarkably low price of 5 cents per box.

On the box is printed the ingredients, consisting of Cascara Sagrada, Egyptian Senna, Solid Extract of French Prunes, Slippery Elm Bark, and other highly meritorious ingredients for the conditions mentioned above.

A Candy Cold Cure put up in the same style also sells at 5 cents per box and is called "Dr. Shroop's Preventics."

Patrons, we believe, will be glad to learn of the new arrangement, and particularly of the new remedies, which certainly seem worthy of a trial purchase involving only the cost of a nickel.

LICENSES CURTAILED

Ontario Government Decide Not to Increase Their Number.

Chairman M. A. Morrison, of the Liquor License Board, has received the following letter from Mr. E. Saunders, chief inspector of the license branch, Toronto, which explains itself;

Toronto, April 11th, 1906.

Dear Sir,—I am instructed by the Honorable the Provincial Secretary to call your attention to the fact that the returns recently received by the department from the various license inspectors throughout the province show that in many cases, particularly in New Ontario, applications for licenses have been largely in excess of the number now issued, and it is the policy of the department not to issue additional licenses, and this course has been determined upon in the public interest.

Your Board is therefore requested about to receive any greater number of applications than usual, to bring the matter to the attention of the department before the same are dealt with.

Kindly bring this letter before your colleagues at the first meeting of the Board. It is hoped that your Board will co-operate with the department with a view of preventing any undue issue of licenses during the ensuing license year.

Your obedient servant,
E. SAUNDERS,
Chief Officer,

To the chairman License Board.

Brass Workers "At Home."

Tonight the local brass workers hold their third and last "at home" of the season in the Foresters' hall, Simcoe street. It is safe to predict that it will be the banner entertainment of its kind given under auspices of the brass workers this or any other season. Dancing will commence at 8.30 p.m. sharp, so that the program may be finished at a reasonable hour. The music will be supplied by the Misses Dorris.

Local Hotels are in Good Order.

The local license commissioners who, on Tuesday, made a house to house, and thorough inspection of the hotels of this city, report that the result of their visits was most satisfactory. With the exception of a few hotels which require some minor changes and improvements, the hotels were all found in good order, clean, sanitary and in every respect complying with both letter and spirit of the law.

FOUND DEAD

Mr. Patrick Kelly of Burleigh, Died Suddenly in Darcy's Hotel.

The management and guests of Mr. Darcy's fine new hotel at Burleigh Falls, were shocked yesterday morning when Mr. Patrick Kelly, a well-known and respected resident of Burleigh, was found dead in bed. He was forty-one years of age, and had been in good health until Tuesday evening, when he complained of feeling slightly ill. Nothing serious, however, was feared. He retired to his room as usual and yesterday morning was found dead in bed, having expired during the night, presumably from heart disease.

Mr. Kelly is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Darcy of Burleigh Falls, the other resides in Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Kelly was an uncle of Mr. Fred E. Darcy, the well-known hotelkeeper of Young's Point. He was well known in the district where he resided, and his sudden death will come as a great shock to his many friends.

NO WORDS WASTED

A Swift Transformation Briefly Described.

About food, the following brief but emphatic letter from a Georgia woman goes straight to the point and is convincing:

"My frequent attacks of indigestion and palpitation of the heart culminated 2 years ago in a sudden and desperate illness, from which I arose enfeebled in mind and body. The doctor advised me to live on cereals, but none of them agreed with me until I tried Grape-Nuts food and Postum Coffee. The more I used of them the more I felt convinced that they were just what I needed, and in a short time they made a different woman of me. My stomach and heart troubles were cured as by magic, and my mind was restored and is as clear as it ever was.

"I gained flesh and strength so rapidly that my friends were astonished. Postum and Grape-Nuts have benefited me so greatly that I am glad to bear this testimony." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the case of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Rennet Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves as excellent purpose. * * * It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in many cases of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal glands."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hobart A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One or two a dose.

FINDS $50.00

Mr. Fred Stinson Discovered the Money Lost By Mr. D. Hall.

As noted in yesterday's issue, Mr. David Hall, the Charlotte street tonsorial artist, had the misfortune on Easter Sunday night, to use a neat little roll of money containing ten $5 bills.

Fortunately his money was found by an honest man and returned to him.

The finder was Mr. Fred Stinson, the well known George street shoe dealer, who picked the money up in front of the grocery store at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets and left it with the proprietor of the Snowden House.

Mr. A. W. Cressman's New Delivery.

Mr. A. W. Cressman, the enterprising George street dry goods man has, owing to largely increased volume of business, been compelled to place another delivery rig on the road. He has just received one built by Messrs. Geo. Fitzgerald & Co., Brock street, that is a credit both to maker and purchaser. The delivery wagon which resembles those seen in the large cities, is a covered vehicle with the sides and back made of wire screen, which adds to its durability and makes it light. It will make three trips to all parts of the city, one in the morning at 10 o'clock, and two in the afternoon, one at 2, and the other at 5.30, while on Saturdays it it will make three extra trips.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so

Don't Want to Be Annexed to City

North Monaghan Property Owners Refuse City's Terms for Their Annexation in Company With the Beet Sugar Property.

The Committee of the Whole Council met last night when there were present, Mayor Henry Best, Alderman Graham, Elliott, Wilson, Tovey, McIntyre, Hicks, McWilliams, Ball, Adams and Duncan.

The meeting was specially called with a view to arranging with a deputation from North Monaghan acceptable terms to all parties concerned under which the 15 property owners on the south side of Townsend street, might be included in an application to the Lieut.-Governor, for annexation of the old sugar beet property to the city, by an order-in-council.

The deputation from North Monaghan, consisted of Reeve Madill, Councillor Holmes, Messrs. W. G. Howden, W. Morris, Williamson, Mahoney, Smithson, Keele, Brown and Grady. The following application document to annexation on the city's proposed terms, signed by the interested parties was submitted to Council by Reeve Madill:

Gentlemen,—We, the undersigned property owners living on lot 35, concession 11, North Monaghan, beg leave to inform you that we object to being annexed to the city of Peterboro on account of the city not being willing to give us the terms offered to Mr. Dumble.

Ald. McWilliams pointed out to the deputation that the terms under which the city agrees that the sugar beet property may be annexed are fixed assessment at the present township assessment on the property, and the same rate of taxation as at present, for a term of 20 years, the same, however, only to apply on lands and buildings used for manufacturing purposes. School taxes, however, as the city may impose from year to year, must be paid in full.

The deputation conceded that these were practically the terms offered them by Mr. Dumble, although they apparently were not quite clear on the school rate provision, which cannot be deviated from, by act of the Legislature, nor did they seem to realize that all local improvements would have to be paid for at the usual city rate—60 per cent. of the cost thereof to be borne by those benefitted thereby.

Ald. Elliott and Hicks pointed out that the city would be willing to give the property owners in question a fixed assessment, and rate, as at present imposed by the township, for 10 years, excepting school rates and local improvements.

Ald. Ball opposed this measure, and argued that it would not be fair to create a privileged class in the community, to be an additional burden, to workingmen. If these residents of North Monaghan want to become citizens of Peterboro, let them come in on the same terms as did Ashburnham and a section of Smith." He would not advise them to become assessed, however, on their own interests. He, himself, thought all local improvements should be exempted and the land taxed for what it is worth. That is a system of taxation, he said, which is sure to be adopted in the future.

The question here arose by what authority Mr. Dumble had made any proposition to the North Monaghan people for annexation.

Ald. McWilliams did not think that Mr. G. W. Morrow had authorized him that Mr. Dumble had acted under his instructions for the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., as a result of an understanding with the mayor.

His Worship denied all knowledge of the matter. He certainly had not acquiesced in any such measure.

Mr. Smithson, one of the deputation, said he understood Mr. Dumble's proposition had come from the city.

Ald. Elliott contended that in fixing the assessment of the beet sugar property and that of the North Monaghan property owners, in order to secure their annexation, a big avenue of revenue would be opened to the city not at present available.

Ald Ball—"It is not right to legislate in the interests of North Monaghan. We are here to represent the interests of Peterboro, and if we are going to exempt anybody, exempt our friends who sent us here."

Ald Hicks contended that present citizens would not be additionally burdened when the annexed properties pay for their own local improvements. And when factories are erected, other buildings will spring up to bring in a very much increased revenue to the city.

Moved by Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That provided the property owners sign in an appeal to the Lieut.-Governor in Council for the annexation of lots 15 and 16, con. 11, North Monaghan, the city ask that the property except that owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., have an fixed assessment for 20 years at its present assessment, and a fixed rate of taxation at the present rate of taxes for the same term, except the school rate of the city as fixed from year to year, provided that if the land is transferred or built upon it shall be assessed and pay taxes in the same way and at the same rate as other property in the city, and provided further that the cost of local improvements to benefit that property shall be borne by the property.

This was satisfactory to the deputation but,

Ald. Tovey moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Adams,—That the above terms apply for 10 years instead of 20.

The amendment was carried, and the resolution consequently lost.

The deputation immediately left the committee room, after announcing their determination to stay in North Monaghan.

Ald. Duncan did not vote either way. The Lieut.-Governor-in-Council has the power, however, to fix what terms of annexation he considers just.

Subsequently Ald. Adams attempted to re-open the question, but did not succeed in doing so. Ald. McWilliams and Tovey had left the room, and Ald. Graham, Wilson, and Duncan did not approve of re-opening the matter in their absence.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

Moved by Ald. Ball, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That Mr. Hodgetts, secretary Provincial Board of Health, and Mr. Smith, Government inspector of hospitals, be invited to come and confer with the local authorities as to the erection and equipment in Peterboro of an isolation hospital.—Carried.

ROAD TO LIFT LOCK.

The offer of the executors of the Armour estate to sell the city a right of way to the lift lock was referred to the Mayor, Ald. Adams, Ball and Elliott, with power to act.

REAL ESTATE DEAL.

Messrs. H. Morphet and W. Johnston were present on behalf of the Toronto Savings & Loan Co., who desire to acquire from the city, the wedge shape strip of land—15 feet at one end and 20 feet at the other, on Sherbrooke street west, which the company wish to use with the Kelly property recently purchased by them, for building purposes.

The Board of Works were empowered to act in fixing a valuation of this piece of land.

FIRST JULY CELEBRATION.

Ald. Ball urged that steps be taken to arrange for a suitable celebration in the city on July 1st. Such an event, with suitable attractions would have a tendency to keep people in Peterboro on Dominion Day, and also attract a big crowd to town. The benefit to the community of such a course, is apparent.

The mayor and others thought some society should handle such a celebration, when the city would assist.

No action was taken in this matter. The committee then adjourned.

French Postal Rates.

London, April 20.—The reduction of domestic postage in France from 5 to 3 cents is about to be followed by an agreement with Britain for a similar rate between the two countries.

License Holders to Meet Again.

The local license holders will hold another meeting to further consider the subject of raising rates, made necessary by a recent increase in the license fees. A committee consisting of Messrs Munro, Brooks, Lawless, Jackson and White was appointed to draw up a schedule of rates for hotels, and charges, the price of drinks and complete all details. The committee will meet this morning at the National Hotel, and report at a meeting of the association to be held on Monday afternoon.

NEGROE STRIKE BREAKERS

Three Coal Roads Plan to Resume Work in Mines.

Scranton, Penn., April 20.—The Delaware & Hudson, the Erie and the Lackawanna Companies have, it is understood, made plans to resume work on a large scale at several of their mines. The Delaware & Hudson will try to operate the Grassey, its third shaft at Olyphant, and one of its collieries in the Carbondale region. Two carloads of imported workmen, most of whom are negroes, were sent last night to Carbondale by this company.

Some of them were placed at No. 1 mine, No. 1 shaft and Hacket Brook washery. The Erie intends to operate the Forest City colliery. It is alleged that twenty-five of the old employes, who maintain that the suspension was not justified, have returned to the Lackawanna's Bellevue mine. The Lackawanna officers say they do not intend to use "imports," inasmuch as a sufficient number of the men employed before the suspension have signified their intention of going back to work.

TO PROTECT GAME

Lindsay Forms a Fish and Game Protective Association.

The sportsmen of Lindsay have elected officers and organized a strong fish and game protective association. The officers elected were;

Hon. Pres.—Mr. J. B. Knowlson.
Pres.—Mr. F. D. Moore.
Vice-Pres.—Dr. J. Simpson.
Sec.—Mr. Fremont Crandell.
Treas.—Mr. A. Montsambert.

Executive Committee.—All the officers and Messrs. J. M. Knowlson, Morton, Needler, Cornell, Tetro, T. Sadler.

The association will advertise a standing reward of $10 for information that will lead to the conviction of any offender against the fish and game laws.

A PIPE STORY

Mr. Richard Cosgrove of Ennismore Discovers a Relic of the Past.

As Mr. Richard Cosgrove of Ennismore, was doing the spring plowing on his farm, situated about two miles on the other side of Chemong lake, in Ennismore, a few days ago, he turned over, with his ploughshare a pipe that had laid hidden many a year. The pipe is made in much the same manner as the more modern ones and is constructed of clay.

Although this ancient smoking tool that possibly was handed from hand to hand among the dusky predecessors of the present white owners of the land, it was in perfect condition.

The pipe is small in size, testifying to the scarcity of tobacco in those days, or a reluctance to smoke what ever substitute was used for the weed.

A BUSINESS CHANGE

Mr. H. H. Edmison Disposes of His George Street Drug Store.

Among the important business changes that have lately been effected in this city, is that of the sale by Mr. H. H. Edmison, the well known and enterprising druggist at 390 George street, of his rapidly increasing business.

The sale was made to parties outside the city, and the business will be managed by Mr. McDermid of Toronto, an experienced and capable druggist, who arrived in this city yesterday evening.

Mr. Edmison, it is understood, has in prospect an excellent proposition, the details of which could not be learned as he is in Toronto on business.

San Francisco Has Been Totally Destroyed By Flames

Official Report Says City is in Ruins and 200,000 People are Homeless---Fire Still Spreading in All Directions, Fanned by Half a Gale---Property Loss May Reach 500 Million Dollars.

The horror of San Francisco increases as the hours pass. Nothing approaching accuracy in the estimates of loss of life and property is yet possible. The Times special despatches to-day placed the number of people homeless at 150,000; General Funston places the number at 200,000. This means that in addition to the entire business section at least half the residences of the city are demolished either by earthquake or fire. It appears now that no section of the city is safe from the flames, limited as they are. The number of lives lost may never be accurately known. The minimum loss of property last night placed at $100,000,000 now greatly exceeds $200,000,000, and may reach higher. Until the conflagration burns itself out and the panic subsides greater accuracy will not be obtainable.

Some particulars of San Francisco's horror—the greatest in America's history;

- A city of 400,000 population in ruins.
- 200,000 people homeless.
- From 1,000 to 5,000 persons dead.
- 10 square miles totally devastated.
- 130 city blocks razed.
- $200,000,000 to $500,000,000 property destroyed.
- Not a business block stands.
- Half the resident section destroyed.
- The millionaire resident section is in flames.

San Francisco, April 20.—via Oakland.—Reports from the interior are most alarming. Santa Rosa, one of the prettiest cities of the State in the prosperous county of Sonoma, is a total wreck. There are 10,000 homeless men, women and children huddled together. The loss of life is not to be estimated. It will probably reach the thousands.

As the last great seismic tremor spent its force in the earth, the whole business portion tumbled into ruins. The main street is piled many feet deep with the fallen buildings. Not one business building is left intact. This destruction includes all of the county buildings. The four-storey Court House is merely a pile of broken masonry. Nothing is left. Identification is impossible.

RUINS SWEPT BY FLAMES

What was not destroyed by the earthquake has been swept by fire. Until the flames started there was hope of saving the residence district. It was soon apparent that any such idea that might have been entertained was to be abandoned. This was appreciated by the citizens, and they prepared to desert their homes. Not even their household goods were taken. They made for the fields and hills to watch the destruction of one of the most beautiful cities of the west.

DESTRUCTION IS WIDESPREAD.

Messengers bring the saddest tidings of the destruction of Healdsburg, Cloverville, Cloverdale, Nopland and Ukiah. This report takes in the country as far north as Mendocino and Lake counties, and as far west as the Pacific Ocean. These are frontier counties, and have not as large towns as farther south.

In every case the loss of life and property is as shocking as here.

Alameda, Cal., April 20.—Yesterday's earthquake caused a loss of $200,000 in Alameda. No lives were lost, but a few persons were injured, one seriously. Railroads are inactive and all wires are out of commission.

Berkeley, Cal., April 20.—Buildings of the University of California escaped harm in the earthquake yesterday. The town of Berkeley was not so fortunate. No lives were lost, but the aggregate damage from minor injuries to buildings is many thousands of dollars.

Oakland, April 20.—The gravest apprehensions are felt for the people at San Jose. It is reported that 90 per cent. of the buildings there were destroyed and that the loss of life is appalling. The city had a population of 30,000.

Refugees from every point bring tales of disaster and death.

CITY PRACTICALLY DESTROYED.

Washington, April 20.—The War Department received the following telegram from General Funston dated San Francisco, April 20; "Your four despatches received. Have already filled several for you. Impossible now to inform you as to full extent of disaster. City practically destroyed. Troops have been aiding police patrolling and maintaining order. Martial law has not been declared. Working in conjunction with civil authorities. Have not interfered with the sending of any despatches. You cannot send too many tents or rations. About 200,000 persons homeless. Food very low. Provision houses all destroyed. All Government buildings in city gone."

Oakland, Cal., April 19.—The fire is spreading everywhere in San Francisco. There are now ten square miles in flames or already devasted. No human power can stop this conflagration. The Call House, one of the most famous show places and pleasure resorts has been swept into the sea. The panic is increasing among the thousands still held in the city. It is almost impossible for more than a few to get away at a time, owing to the stricken condition of traffic facilities. No one is allowed to enter the city.

Ghouls began swarming the devastated districts, but the Federal troops and the regular and special police were ordered by Mayor Schmitz to shoot down the thieves. Already four have been executed.

Three thousand regular troops and, as many more militiamen patrol the streets preventing robbery.

LANDMARKS ALL GONE.

The landmarks of the city and show places, the Spreckels building, the Call building, the great Phelan block, the Examiner building, and the immense Palace Hotel, said to be one of the largest in the world, are all a mass of ruins. The Majestic, the Grand, the Columbia, and the Orpheum theatres are piles of smoking ruins.

Chinatown is now a reminiscence. The Chinese theatres and fan-houses are in ruins, and robbery after robbery has collapsed, covering alive hundreds of the Celestials. Panic reigns among the countless thousands of Chinese, and they fill the streets, dragging whatever they can save from the wreck.

The Japanese quarter has been burned out, and from the part not destroyed people have fled in terror.

100 PER CENT. ADVANCE JUNE 1

Present Price of Stock FIVE Cents per Share

If you want to get in on the ground floor before the price advances to 10 Cents per share, NOW IS YOUR CHANCE

When The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Company was organized the officers of the company foresaw the certainty of a big mining boom in Clear Creek County, Colorado, U.S.A., and they congratulated themselves on securing a property which showed 1,500 feet of development work, and could be classed with the MINES of the region.

The steady increase in the mineral production of the county, new strikes, the development of old mines at depth (proving the continuity of the ore bodies and the increased richness of the ores), the availability of mining supplies, the abundance of water, the great amount of timber for mining and fuel, the adaptability of the topography for deep tunnel mining, and the large number of milling and smelting plants, means that the district possesses all the elements of successful and economical mining.

It was a foregone conclusion that investors would awake to a realization of the conditions, and inaugurate a new boom in 1906. It is but natural that they should desire to place their money in a locality that shows more PROVEN MINES than prospects, and where the chances for speedy returns are greater than the chances of loss. Because of economic conditions money will go farther in development work and bring RESULTS quicker. Many new companies have recently been organized, foremost among them being The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Co. Stock in all Clear Creek County companies is finding a ready market among both Eastern and Western investors, and in consequence The Gold Leaf Mining, Milling & Drainage Co., forestalled the boom by securing one of the best mining propositions in the locality, consisting of 16 mining claims, situated on Standard Mountain, in the Ohio and Jackson Mining District, two and one-half miles south of Idaho Springs. The Gold Leaf properties are credited with a past production of $75,000 and the tunnel is being steadily driven toward the rich ore bodies from whence former shipments were made. The old workings are now drowned with water which the tunnel will drain and also give unlimited stoping ground for the ores. Surrounding mines have produced over $11,500,000. Now is the time to purchase stock. When we re-open our ore the opportunity will be lost to investors.

Don't overlook this exceptional opportunity! Think of the acreage; Think of the development work done; Think of the past ore production; Think of the future possibilities; Think of investing—THEN ACT AT ONCE!

Sufficient stock subscriptions have already been received to carry our Frontier Tunnel a distance of 600 feet, or to the Standard Vein, from which point ore shipments will be resumed. Future stock subscriptions will be applied on the purchase of a power plant or on contracts to facilitate the work of driving the tunnel.

Our General Manager estimates that the completion of the tunnel will place at our disposal OVER FOUR MILES OF ORE, aggregating 96,000,000 tons.

BATCHELORS' BALL

A Successful Society Event Held in the National Hotel.

Last night the youth and beauty of Peterboro, were well represented at the very successful ball given by the bachelors of this city in the National Hotel.

Mine Host Lawless, had, as is his for like entertainments before, spared neither trouble nor expense to have the ball a great success.

The decorations of the large dancing hall, one of the finest in the city, the floor being perfection for the graceful art, was most elaborate. The main hall was, on every side, and across the ceiling, a mass of flags and bunting. To the north side of the main hall, was a neatly furnished sitting room, its floor covered with handsome rugs, and its walls draped with flags and bunting.

Supper was most admirably served in the buffet dining room, the music, brought expressly from Toronto, was in perfect tune, and, in short everything was "au fait," and every particular combined to make the ball as near perfection as possible.

Among those on the Committee of Management were Messrs. Robt. Dobie, E. S. Cherry, Harold Clarton, Jas. Hamilton, W. S. Davidson, D. E. Kerr, W. C. P. Hendrie and H. Smallpiece, secretary.

Dancing lasted amid the "We small hours" this morning.

HOTEL DESTROYED

Bradburn House at Omemee, a Prey to the Fire Fiend.

A despatch received yesterday from Omemee, says that the Bradburn House was discovered to be on fire a few minutes after four o'clock.

The hotel which was a two and a half storey white brick structure, and had about fifteen rooms, was owned by the Wm. Bradburn estate of Omemee, the Bradburn estate of Peterboro, not being interested in the property.

The fire had made such headway that the building and contents were a total loss and several of the inmates had to flee in their night clothes and whatever they could grab in their flight.

Houses across the street were in danger but the fire was confined to the hotel building.

The loss is about $6000, covered by insurance.

Iron Hand is Heavy.

London, April 20.—A despatch from Tiflis says that in Western Georgia wholesale destruction has been wrought by the military. The troops have acted ruthlessly, sparing neither women nor children. In the province of Kutais, the corn has been burned and the cattle killed. Famine is imminent. The Government is accused of seeking a chance for wholesale slaughter so as to bring in Cossack colonists.

IN MEXICO

Fried Beans and Red Pepper.

"It is a positive pleasure," writes a San Antonio, Texas, man, "to write what follows, and you may use it at your discretion. It may, I hope, serve to set some other unfortunate on the 'Road to Wellville.'

"I am a traveling man, selling dry goods in Texas and Old Mexico. That alone ought to tell a story of a disordered stomach, a sluggish liver—what I once thought was a hopelessly impaired digestion, and all the rest of the ills that go with a stomach completely wrecked.

"Have you ever eaten a meal in a country town in Mexico? To keep it up for three years would break down any decent American constitution, just as it did mine.

"Just figure, Mr. Grape-Nuts man, one is served three times a day with black Mexican beans, cooked semi-hard in grease, and you eat them too, because you have to. Along with this you must eat (for you can get nothing else) greasy pork, cooked in the hottest of hot, peppery juice or grease, and drink coffee black as Hades and strong as aqua fortis.

"Now wouldn't that jar your constitution, even if you are from Michigan?

"Well, it got me, and got me good and plenty. I was so emaciated, weak, hollow-eyed, sallow, and what we have in Texas call 'no count,' that I seriously thought of collecting my life insurance. This was a year and a half ago. One doctor gave me liver medicine that made me worse, but the next one I struck was what I then called a 'pure food crank'—I don't call him that any more.

"He ordered me to use Postum for coffee and Grape-Nuts for my meals, and mighty little else. I was desperate and followed his directions implicitly. Then I got well. Today, after 14 months of this diet, I weigh 96 pounds more, have a clear complexion, a good appetite, a good digestion, attend to my business every day, but never go on a trip without carrying my Postum and Grape-Nuts with me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

GROWTH OF GREATER JAPAN

Something Like 50,000,000 of People Now Under the Rising Sun Banner.

London, April 20.—The population of Japan is a rapidly increasing one. The "Hong Kong Daily Press" says that from the beginning of 1872 to 1905 the population of the Empire proper, excluding Formosa or residents out of the islands, increased from thirty-three millions to nearly forty-eight millions or as near as may be, 50 per cent. This, however, does not include the whole of the increase. During the last eight years the population of Formosa has grown by 800,000, of whom practically the whole were Japanese, while continually greater numbers have since 1899 been settling in Korea, and since the war in Liao Tung, and for the last two years since the fighting with Russia, the Japanese settlers in Kirin are becoming a by no means unimportant element in the population of Manchuria. This growth of an outer Japan is in effect one of the more marked developments in the Far East, and constitutes an element which politically cannot be lost sight of. In Shanghai, where but a few years ago the number of Japanese residents within the settlements was insignificant, the Japanese population now ranks next to the English; and as it is being recruited at a more rapid rate, it may be anticipated that it will soon constitute the largest element in the foreign population. Even in the densely populated districts along the Yangtze Valley, where it might be anticipated that room did not exist for a single inhabitant over and above the present number, the Japanese succeeded in gaining a foothold; and scarcely a town in the interior of China is too remote or too insignificant but that, under one form or other, a search will unearth a little colony of Japanese, each of whom, to the utmost of his personal ability, is engaged in promoting the influence and interests of his own country.

MAY MOVE TO KINGSTON?

Proposed That Knox College Shall Combine With Queen's University.

Kingston, April 19.—It is expected that the Presbyterian General Assembly, when it meets in June, will deal with a proposal to amalgamate the theological faculties of Knox and Queen's by removing Knox to Kingston. The latter requires new quarters, and Queen's trustees will give the old Arts Building for a theological college. The proposition is to retain the name of Knox.

At present Queen's has forty theological students, and Knox about sixty. It costs $20,000 a year to maintain Knox. Half this amount could be saved by the amalgamation.

Terror of Spring is Sickness

What Are You Doing to Protect Your Weak Body Against Spring Fevers?

A delay gives the germs and weakness a better chance to take hold.

Don't wait, think of your small resisting powers, and begin building up today!

For weakness, overwork and debility the doctors prescribe Ferrozone: let it help you now.

Vitality and power are instilled into the blood; this means new strength for all weak organs.

The fire of youth will dance in your veins, and new found energy will increase your desire to work.

Ferrozone supplies the nourishment and tissue-building material your system lacks. Isn't this a reason why?

From Combermere, Ont., Mrs. Jno. Oram writes as follows: "For a number of years I was badly run down in the springtime. I felt tired, nervous and had headaches. My blood was weak and damp days brought on rheumatism. My nervous system was unstrung, and I felt utterly worn out. Ferrozone revived me in a short time. In two days my appetite increased and I could feel a building up process going on. This great tonic made a new person of me, and I don't think a more strengthening medicine for the spring can be found."

Wouldn't it be just fine to get back your old time spirits and vigor? Easily done with "Ferrozone;" commence today. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE SAN FRANCISCO EARTH QUAKE.

The terrible earthquake at San Francisco, following so quickly on the heels of the eruption of Vesuvius and disturbances in other volcanic regions, will demonstrate how far-reaching is the possible shake of these shakings of the earth's crust. The sympathy of the Continent will go out at once to the people of California, who have thus suffered a shocking disaster in their beautiful coast city. The loss of life is said to be great, and the disorganization of the services of the city will bring crushing after-results. It can only be hoped that the reports have been exaggerated rather than understated, and that we shall have less reason to be appalled at the disaster. In any case, our Canadian people will sorrow with the Americans in their misfortune; and, in any case, the splendid city of San Francisco will be rebuilt more finely than ever.

ONTARIO TO PAY ITS TEACHERS BETTER.

The Ontario Government's educational bill proposes to raise the scale of pay for teachers all over this province. It fixes a schedule of minimum salaries for teachers based upon the assessment of the school sections, and provides that any teacher who consents or offers to work for less than the schedule rate may have his or her license taken away by the inspector. The schedule is described by the Mail and Empire, as follows:

"The new bill makes the minimum salary for rural teachers $300 in school sections where the assessment of the property of school supporters is less than $30,000; $350 where the assessment is between $30,000 and $40,000; $400 where the assessment is between $40,000 and $60,000; $450 where the assessment is between $60,000 and $100,000, and $500 where the assessment is at least $100,000. The average salary for rural school teachers under the new act will probably be increased by at least $100. The burden of the increase will be shared by the Government and by the municipalities."

Dr. Pyne estimates that this policy will call for an increase in the Provincial grant to public schools of between $60,000 and $90,000 for the present year, which is evidence that the Government is not afraid to shoulder a fair share of the consequences of its own act. It is earnestly to be hoped that the municipal councils will be as practically public spirited. Additional normal schools are to be established as well at a capital cost of $200,000 and a yearly maintenance bill of about $70,000, and other steps are taken to raise the educational standard of the teaching profession.

The Government realizes that the key to success for the coming generations is a first-class educational system. This does not mean a rich university or two for the higher education of the few who can afford the time and money for long and heavy courses; but a thoroughly good public school system for the education of the many who will decide how high or how low the tide of prosperity and enterprise will stand. And there is no way to raise the standard of teaching short of raising the salaries which are to attract brains and capacity into the teaching profession. If we will not pay for good teachers, we will not get them. That is as sure as the foundations of economic science.

INDIAN RIVER

Mr. P. G. Walker had the misfortune to have his new windmill blown to pieces.

Mr. A Whibbs is putting in the new vat for the patrons of Indian River Factory.

Miss Maggie O'Sullivan, of Douro, paid a visit to friends in the village during Easter.

Miss Loretta Mahony, teacher of School No. 1, Douro, spent the Easter holidays in Toronto.

Mr Harry Flinders has been engaged to make cheese in Maple Leaf factory for the coming season.

Mr. Dennis Sullivan, of Lakefield, spent the last two weeks with his cousin, Mrs. Harry Flinders.

Mr. David Conroy has secured the contract for the two concrete piers which are to be placed under Evans bridge.

Mr John O'Leary and Mr. James Leahy intend working at the carpenter trade. They have one house completed at present.

The Bachelors are losing their members of late, but they intend holding a rousing meeting on the 1st of May, as the president has not accepted the resignation of William Breckenridge.

Mr. Edward Quinn has Mr. William O'Leary's barn nearly completed. Mr Quinn has his son, Leo, and Mr. Sullivan of last year's bunch, and he also has Mr. Philip Mahony, who has been at the carpentering business for a number of years, he having worked under laboring John, who is an up-to-date carpenter.

ARTILLERY FOR KINGSTON

Eastern City to Have One of the Largest Permanent Garrisons in Canada.

Kingston, April 18.—Lt.-Col. Paul Weatherbe, Director-General of the Engineering Services of the Militia Department, accompanied by the chief architect of the department, are here looking over Tete de Pont Barracks with a view to remodeling it. It was the original intention of the Government to erect a new barracks on Lake Ontario park. It is understood that the old frame building will be torn down and a new stone building erected for a very large garrison. Fort Henry will also be remodeled, as the intention of the Militia Department is to place a garrison artillery there. At present Kingston has the R.C.D.A., Royal Engineers' Army Service Corps and Army Medical Corps of the permanent service. In addition to these a squad of cavalry and a company of infantry are to be added, making Kingston one of the largest permanent garrisons in Canada.

THE SPANISH MARRIAGE

Cowes, Isle of Wight, April 17.—King Alfonso of Spain, arrived here yesterday and was met some miles outside by Princess Ena of Battenberg and her mother, who boarded the Spanish Royal yacht Giralda. The King and the Princess subsequently landed and drove to Osborne. The young couple were warmly greeted by crowds of people.

Olga Was Haughty.

Chicago, April 19.—When Olga Nethersole gave a professional matinee she sent several box tickets to Mrs. Leslie Carter. The latter after the performance, sent a bracelet with her name and that of Miss Nethersole engraved on it to Miss Nethersole. The bracelet was returned with a note from Miss Nethersole, saying she never accepted presents from strangers. Immediately Mrs. Carter sent a cheque for the box she had occupied.

The Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co. Will Give Three Hundred Shares of Its Stock Free to Every Person Who Visits Its Mines During the Month of May, 1906. We Don't Ask You to Take Our Word. We Can and will Prove Every Statement We Have Ever Made

Seeing is Believing

THE TUSAS PEAK GOLD AND COPPER MINING COMPANY owns a total of 200 acres of valuable mineral lands in the Bromide Mining District of Rio Arriba County, in the northern portion of New Mexico. All of this property has been proven to contain either gold, silver or copper ores in quantities sufficient to make their mining profitable.

One of these mines owned by the company, the TAMPA MINE, is equipped with a complete plant of mining machinery, consisting of steam boiler, hoist, air compressor, pumps, and machine drills, with substantial buildings and every facility for extensive and economical mining operations. This mine is open to a depth of 406 feet, with with about 1400 feet of underground cross-cuts, drifts, stopes, winzes, etc., and in these workings are found exceedingly rich gold, silver and copper ores in great abundance; the vein averaging in width about 14 feet on the lower levels, and the length undetermined as yet, but proven to extend for more than 365 feet to the east and at least half that distance to the west.

Ores from this mine have been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Co., at Pueblo, Colo., also to other smelting companies, and in every instance it has been proven that the TAMPA ORES were richer in copper than any of the other great bonanza copper mines of the world; and still the company could make no profit on these shipments because of the excessive freights and smelting charges, combined with the ridiculously low prices which these smelters pay for the gold, silver, and copper contents of the ores. Therefore the Tusas Peak Gold & Copper Mining Co. are now building their own reduction works within two miles of their mines, whereby means of the Waterbury Extraction Co's Leaching Process, these ores will be reduced directly into mental without paying charges or royalties to any smelting or ore refining companies. It is proven that in the TAMPA MINE is now blocked out ore enough to supply this mill with fifty tons daily for the next five years. It is proven that from this ore by means of this mill now building, that this company can produce copper for less than seven cents a pound, delivered at the New York markets. Mining engineers and experts predict that annual profits exceeding $90,000, will be earned by this mill for the company, and this after liberal deductions have been made for extending the mine workings, building enlarged mills, water power plants, etc. Now we offer to you an opportunity to more than double your money within a short period of time, and this without any risks being taken with it. Our mine is developed beyond all doubt or possibility of failure. We have proven its value.

Machinery for this mill is now en route and it has been paid for.

We need some more money, but not much, to pay for additional machinery which we need, and also for the actual building of this mill building. Exclusively for this purpose, we are offering a limited amount of our treasury stock at 40 cents per share. Its par value is $1.00, and all stock is full paid, non-assessable and carries no personal liability. This is strictly a business men's company, without mining sharks or stock jobbers among its members. Every officer of this company is in business of some kind and you may learn their financial standing and business reputation by consulting Dun or Bradstreet or other authorities, or you may write to any or all the banks in Manistee, Mich. and learn for yourself just how they are regarded in their home communities. There are no millionares in this company, neither are there any salaried officers ensconced in palatial offices at the expense of the stockholders. On the contrary we are all men of moderate income and are cheerfully donating our services to the company's welfare, because by so doing we are increasing the value of our personal holdings, as well as those of every investor in this stock. Now we offer to you a square mining investment and all that we ask is for you to investigate. Learn for yourself, and you will be convinced. On May 1st the treasurer of the company will pass through Chicago on his way to the mines of this company. He will be accompanied with several people who are going to see for themselves just what our mines look like and whether we have been telling the truth about our immense ore deposits or not, The round trip rate from Peterboro to the mines, including a day in Chicago, and another in Denver and including the ascent of Pike's Peak and visit to Cripple Creek, Colo., will cost about $125.00 which will include sleepers and meals for the whole trip as well as teams and board and lodging at the mine. As a pleasure trip alone, this is exceedingly desirable. With this is combined the opportunity to see for yourself, and prove by actual inspection, the great extent and value of the mines owned by this company, and the opportunity to see just where and for what every dollar has been expended to the amount of nearly eighty-five thousand ($85,000) dollars in the past four years.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,600 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great ... mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper ... eases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

WYOMING COPPER

Would you be open for an investment which will yield, with reasonable assurance, from 50 to 100% each year? We consider the AMALGAMATED MINING AND EXTRACTION CO., a safe, sound, high-class legitimate enterprize, and the stock at the present ground floor price of 10 Cents per Share, is without doubt a bargain which should certainly be taken advantage of by all conservative investors. We don't see how failure is possible; we have a great property which we can recommend without a shadow of a doubt. We have paying ore at grass roots. We need not go into details here as to our holdings. They are fully described in our prospectus which you may have for the asking. As this stock will rapidly increase in value we should suggest that you send in your order at once, while you have the chance to purchase at this low price of 10 Cents per share, as it will advance on the first of July. Forward your order today and own an interest in a winner.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

"My son has come home," she said. "I have told him of the little episode that happened me this afternoon, and its sequel, which he declares is quite romantic; and Horace is anxious to see you, for I have told him, my dear, that you are as beautiful as you are honest. There is one thing more he tells me which will be the best of news for you to hear. He thinks he can get you employment to copy briefs for a law firm; that is, if you are quick with the pen, and write a good, plain hand. The pay isn't much—about three dollars and a half a week; but you had better take that while you are looking about to better yourself. Do you think you could do that kind of work acceptably? It wouldn't do to make mistakes, you know."

"I am sure I could do it," replied Reine, faintly, remembering the hundreds of briefs she had seen in her father's study, and remembering her idle curiosity as her eye fell upon the close-written pages, quire after quire, how the person who wrote it had the patience to do it.

And now, she, the petted heiress, the disinherited daughter, the forsaken young wife, was glad to get it to do.

She followed Mrs. Arnold down to the parlor thoughtfully. A tall, pleasant-faced young man rose to greet them as they entered.

"Miss Waldron, I have the pleasure to present to you my son Horace—Horace Arnold," said the fond mother proudly; adding in almost the same breath: "My son is a lawyer, connected with the law firm of Chesleigh & Sanford. I presume you have heard of the firm."

Reine gave a violent start, but neither Mrs. Arnold or her son observed it. The lovely face grew a shade paler and her crimson lips trembled.

"Both Mr. Chesleigh and Mr. Sanford are estimable gentlemen," Mrs. Arnold went on, enthusiastically, "especially the former. Horace is very much attached to him."

Reine's heart gave a strange throb, half pleasure, half pain.

How well every one loved Bernard Chesleigh who knew him! Ah, how blind she had been in that dark past!

"I suppose Horace may as well bring some briefs home to-morrow for you to commence on," suggested Mrs. Arnold.

"I will be very grateful if he will be so kind," replied Reine.

It was no light task toiling through the many meshes of legal puzzles, yet Reine never complained as the days came and went. The pretty white fingers were always ink-stained now, but it did not matter to her; those little stained fingers earned for her her daily bread.

Horace Arnold taught her typewriting, too, then Reine accomplished her work with great rapidity.

How strange it was that while General Hastings and Bernard Chesleigh, together with the indefatigable Mr Gray, were searching the city through for her, Reine was quietly earning her living almost under their very eyes!

CHAPTER XXVI.

Copying, however, proved very tedious, and not very remunerative work for Reine; she was not very quick with the pen, and then, to make the matter all the worse, it was just that season of the year when there were but few briefs to copy other than were given to the more experienced clerks.

More than once Reine found she was short of money for her board, and her heart sank within her.

"If I could only find something else to do in conjunction with copying," she thought despairingly.

One day an idea occurred to her to try to write poems for the magazines. In those old days, verses she had written had been highly praised. If God had given her any talent in this line, why not try to turn it into profit now?

She consulted with Mrs. Arnold on the subject.

"I should think you could make a great deal in that way," declared Mrs Arnold. "The publishers have to print somebody's poems, why not yours? I'd try it by all means, my dear."

Reine did try, and the consequence was, she produced two very creditable little poems, which Mrs Arnold declared to be the most pathetic she had ever heard. One was entitled, "A Misspent Life," the other, "A Pathway Strewn with Thorns."

Mrs. Arnold further insisted any publisher would purchase at once, after hearing the first lines.

Thus imbued with hope, although Reine could not share her friend's enthusiasm over them, she started out to dispose of her productions.

She took a list of the publishers names and addresses, and made a tedious tour to the different offices.

Some smiled, when they heard the object of her call, others brusquely declared their waste basket was full of poems, and their pigeon holes overrun with them.

At last, one editor, pitying the wistful young face, agreed to look them over if she would leave them.

He had seen a great deal of authors in his day. It was nothing new or strange to him to see a white, wistful face looking into his office to see if there was any good news.

At first he used to purchase himself, rather than see the pain bad news inflicted as he handed back the manuscripts. Many a genius struggling in the depths, owed their first start in life to him. But half the manuscripts he bought, he could find no possible use for; he soon found he might invest the whole of his capital in such dubious ways. He was compelled to give it up, and contented himself by giving encouragement by kindly words.

He bought Reine's two poems, but as he placed the small pittance they brought into her hand, he told her he should not be able to buy any more from her until after these had been published, which would be some months yet, they were so overstocked just then, but wishing her great success meanwhile, elsewhere.

Reine wrote other poems, but she found no one who wanted to buy them.

"My forte does not lie in that direction," she told Mrs. Arnold one day with a faint smile,—"I shall go back to my copying. Some day I shall try to paint a picture. I think I would make a better artist than poetess. No one day the picture was commenced. It progressed slowly enough, her time was so occupied from day to day in copying the briefs young Mr. Arnold brought home to her.

It never occurred to generous-hearted Bernard Chesleigh to inquire who the young girl was, whom his clerk had modestly suggested to add to their corps of copyists, as she was greatly in need of employment.

"By all means give her copying to do if we have work for her," he had responded, heartily. Then he quite forgot the matter altogether.

It was with a feeling of strange pleasure Reine listened evenings to Horace Arnold's conversation, which always touched upon Bernard Chesleigh more or less.

"He is a bachelor," he said, one evening, "but if reports speaks truly, he won't be a bachelor long."

"Why—is—he engaged to—to—marry any one?" asked Reine, raising a strangely white face up from the page over which she was bending, and clutching her pen more tightly in her hand.

The Ideal Duster.

The process of dusting as generally carried on would be almost as much "honored in the breach as in the observance." No good housekeeper should own that petty abomination known as a feather duster, the gay flirting about of the same merely displacing the dust, which quickly settles elsewhere, says Table Talk. A soft chamois skin, not too large, soaked in cold water and then wrung out, is the ideal duster. It can be used on the finest woods, leaving a clear, bright surface. After every piece of furniture has been wiped with the moist chamois the rooms may be considered really dusted.

Onion Porridge.

Onion porridge is a good old fashioned country cure for an influenza attack. Peel a large Spanish onion, divide it into fourths and put it into a saucepan with half a saltspoonful of salt, two ounces of butter and a pint of cold water. Let it simmer gently until it is quite tender, then pour into a heated bowl, dredge a little pepper over it and eat it as hot as possible before going to bed.

Tea Stains on Fine Linen.

One of the women who know recommends glycerin for removing those tea stains that are such enemies to fine table linen, but it must be rubbed in before boiling has set its seal on the stain or it may not be efficacious. After the glycerin has been applied wash it all out in tepid water, and the discoloration will come out with it, so this authority says.

A small teaspoonful of powdered gum arabic, with the same amount of glycerin, stirred into a tumblerful of cold water and drunk slowly, will often work wonders in quenching thirst.

Canadian Company Cheapest.

Montreal, April 18.—The Lake Superior Corporation, through their selling agent here, and the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, announced today they would both tender for the contract for 50,000 tons of steel rails to be awarded by the National Transcontinental Commission.

As the rails are for this year's delivery it was thought that the Canadian companies would not be able to take the order.

It is thought here that the contract will be divided between the Canadian companies, as with the tariff they are quite in lower figure than the English manufacturers, who are the closest competitors.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 150x1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

The Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Co., of Erie, Kan.

It has double the capacity of any independent refinery in Kansas; 1,000-barrel plant complete and in operation; 18 miles of pipe lines; 160 wells in touch with same; 14 tanks ranging from 500 to 11,000 barrels each; refinery site, 53 acres; three tremendous Gas Wells upon same, furnishing fuel for the entire plant; railroad facilities, the best in the West; lease on hundreds of acres of oil lands, amount sufficient to produce from 600 to 800 wells; properties valued $200,000, $100,000 in bank and bills receivable; references—Dun's and Bradstreet's Commercial Agencies, Kansas City, Mo., Bank of Erie, Allen's State Bank, Erie, Kansas; County and Town Officers, Erie, Kansas.

I want investors that can place from $25 to $100 to investigate this proposition thoroughly. In order to increase capacity of plant, lay from 30 to 50 miles more of pipe lines will keep a large lot of crude oil on hand, besides purchasing a number of 37,500-barrel storage tanks, will sell a limited amount of stock at the absurdly low price of 25c. per share. Par value $1.00.

There is nothing equal to this proposition in America today as an investment at this price.

Numbers of investors have examined the properties within the last few weeks and have purchased from $500 to $15,000 worth of stock each. This is one Company that will stand the most thorough investigation and the more you investigate the larger will be your purchase.

THAT DEADLY WIRE

Correspondent Wants the Danger on George St. Shut Off.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—When is that menace to human life, at the corner of George and McDonnell streets, going to be adjusted? A valuable team has now been killed; is the company responsible for the wire which conveyed a deadly current to Mr. Gibb's horses, going to wait until several human lives are lost, before taking any action? If the company, at fault, does not take some action, the council should take the matter in hand and see that public life is protected.

Yours truly,

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—There are now seven children in the Children's Shelter on Charlotte street.

—Three large packages of back numbers of newspapers at Times Bookstore for 10 cents.

—Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons are making a new drop curtain for the North Bay opera house.

—A the meeting of the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T.A.B. tonight, Miss L. Deanesard will be the reader.

—It is altogether likely that a foot-ball match between the Peterboro Quakers and some outside team will be arranged for Victoria Day.

—The Deanery of Northumberland and Peterboro, will meet in St. Peter's church, Cobourg, on Monday, April 30th next Tuesday, May 1st.

—Rev. W. Major, rector of All Saints' church, and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's, will exchange duty next Sunday evening.

—Isaac Johnston, an Indian from Orillia, arrived in the city this week for treatment. He is a river driver and has a bad attack of pneumonia.

—The Oddfellows committees in connection with the Grand Lodge meeting here in August next, held a meeting in the I.O.O.F. hall yesterday evening.

—The Barrie fire brigade have decided to run an excursion to this city next August. They want the local Turf Club to postpone the races in accordance.

—A meeting of the Committee of the whole Council was held last night to settle the annexation of the Sugar Beet property. Particulars in another column.

—Messrs. McCollum Bros., the Water street Everymen, who recently disposed, by auction of a number of their horses, have replaced those sold by eight new ones.

—The United States may be "God's Country," but for us, give us Canadian winters, with all their snow and blizzards ahead of earthquakes and such scenes as are being enacted at San Francisco.

—Mr. Lowes, the junk dealer of Pontypool, has purchased the Cold Storage property on Charlotte St., from Mr. G. Carton. The price paid was $5,000. The purchaser will use the property for storing iron, rags and other articles.

—Little Bertha Brousseau, of the House of Providence, was yesterday taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, suffering with pneumonia. This is the little girl who, as noted in a former issue of The Times, had her arm broke by a fall a week ago.

—Mr. Will Mecherel, the local fireman yesterday showed some of his friends an egg laid by one of hostess that is a curiosity. The egg in question is about four inches long, and tapers from about an inch gradually to about a half inch in diameter.

Talking of Beau Brummell! Want to see the latest in fashionables, why, you come right into Peterboro, and yesterday you might have seen a newspaper man whose grandeur would have made "Solomon in all his glory," look like a last year's sun flower stalk. White telescope hat, vest to match and other attachments too numerous to mention.

Had His Thumb Cut Off.

On Tuesday an employe of Mr. Dunlow's "Silent Salesman" factory on Edinburg street had the misfortune to have half his thumb sawed off. It seems that the man was cutting a piece of wood in two by the electrically empowered circular saw, and miscalculating the thickness of the wood, held on to it too long. The saw making 2700 revolutions a minute, instantly cut through cuticle, flesh and bone. The young man was taken home and will be laid up for several days. The accident was purely accidental and in no way the fault the factory or its owner.

West Street Car Extension.

A deputation of ratepayers from Dummer and Douro, on Wednesday, waited upon Mr. J. H. Larmouth, and asked that the street railway be extended to Warsaw, and, if possible, to McCracken's Landing, on Stony Lake. Mr. Larmouth advised the petitioners to present their request, in proper form to the directors of the P. R.H Co., and it would be duly considered.

The distance from Peterboro to McCracken's Landing, via Warsaw is about 20 to 21 miles. By way of Lakefield and Young's Point to McCracken's Landing it is about 23 or 25 miles.

Ulcer of the Stomach

Ulcer of the stomach may exist for years without very marked symptoms, excepting those caused by indigestion.

In good health, the stomach resists the action of the gastric juices, but when weakened, the membrane is badly nourished and the digestive fluids act upon it as well as upon the food, heaping up until perforation of the stomach occurs. In advanced cases of ulcer of the stomach there is much discomfort after eating, with a constant gnawing sensation between meals, pain from the pit of the stomach back to the shoulder blade.

At the first symptoms of indigestion, treatment should at once be started with Mi-o-na. This is a scientific remedy adapted specifically to one purpose, the cure of stomach.

Mi-o-na is not a patent or secret remedy, but is a combination of the purest and most reliable of remedies for strengthening the digestive organs and building up the whole system. It costs but 50c. a box. Use it for a few days and there is no reason why you should not be able to eat any food you like at any time without fear of distress.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The E. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

MORE CITY MACHINERY

The Stone Crusher Has Arrived and Seems to Be What was Wanted.

As noted in previous issues of The Times, our city fathers recently decided to purchase from the Sawyer-Massey Co., of Hamilton, a badly wanted stone crusher. The machine was shipped via C.P.R. and has arrived here. Yesterday Street Commissioner Evans unloaded the crusher and took it to the gravel pit, where it will be put into commission at once grinding up stone for this year's work on the roads.

The crusher, whilst not yet subjected to a practical test, seems, judging by the opinion of those who have seen it, to be just what the city wanted.

The Council and Board of Works seem thoroughly justified in this purchase, and there will be a vast amount of work to be done by the crusher this season.

Much crushed stone will be needed on the George street extension and still more will be required for Pearl and Boswell avenues, besides a lot of work on Charlotte street, from a short distance east of Park street right out to the boundary.

WHITCROFT REMEMBERED

Popular Player of Local Hockey Team Given a Diamond Pin.

Mr. Fred Whitcroft the star hockey player of the local champion team, was surprised on Wednesday evening when a number of his friends gathered at his residence and presented him with a valuable diamond pin.

The presentation was accompanied by the following testimonial letter; Mr. Fred Whitcroft, city—

Dear Whitty; A few of your friends have gathered together to talk over your prowess in the hockey field, your instrumentality in a large measure in winning the championship for the Peterboro Club, and from time to time the well-deserved notices in the press on your work As a world-beater at the game.

We feel that we are but expressing the desire of your fellow townsmen that you may long be with us, and as one of our representatives, carry the hockey hammer to higher fields and new laurels. As a slight recognition of your past efforts, permit us to present you with this diamond pin, emblematic of, and representing your true and faithful work, and as a sparkles remind you that you must always be a bright and shining star. We wish you every success,

Sincerely,
YOUR FRIENDS.

Although Mr. Whitcroft was taken altogether by surprise, he made an appropriate reply, and thanked the boys for their kindness.

After the presentation, refreshments were served, and a very pleasant evening, with songs and music was passed by all present.

MR. FAIREN BUSY

Gov't Drill at Work a Few Yards Below the Locks.

The Hastings Star says:

The Government drill, under the management of Mr. F. Fairen, has commenced operations a few rods below the locks. The water at this point is very shallow, and during low water steamers often have difficulty getting over the spot. It will probably take three or four weeks to finish the work here, when the drill and dredge will be taken down the river to other cut the locks.

DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine sold through druggists for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments that does not contain large quantities of alcohol? It is also the only medicine, especially prepared for the cure of the delicate diseases peculiar to women, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence, by printing upon each bottle wrapper all the ingredients entering into the medicine. Ask your druggist if this is not true.

"Favorite Prescription," too, is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Prescription" is advised. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read the numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are made, and don't forget that no other medicines put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This, of itself, is of far more weight and importance than any amount of so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public, in favor of the alcoholic compounds.

The "Favorite Prescription" cures all woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements; dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation, ulceration and female complaints, and cures the worst cases of prolapsus, or falling of the womb. It gives vigor and tone to the whole system, and builds up both flesh and strength. For overworked, "run down," nervous, debilitated, feeble women, it is the best restorative tonic known to the medical profession or sold through druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains 1008 large pages and over 700 illustrations. Sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Jas. Bird and McIlville Mallory were charged with being drunk in a public place. They both pleaded guilty to the soft impeachment. Acting Police Magistrate H. Rumb imposed a fine of $1 and $1 to be paid forthwith in each case. Bird asked leave to go after the necessary shillelaghs, but the chief remarked, "We don't do any credit business here, and a month on the hill will do you good.

OBITUARY

Funeral of Late Mrs. Catharine Weir Will Be Held To-day.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Catharine Elliott, mother of Mr. J. J. Weir, of this city, who died Wednesday at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. F. B. Thompson of Montreal, will take place today from the C.P.R. station to Little Lake cemetery, on the arrival of the 5.10 train from Montreal.

Deceased's maiden name was Weir, and besides her son, Mr. J. J. Elliott, she is survived by two brothers, Messrs. Francis and Graham Weir of Cronshe.

Enquiries Made re the Great Terror.

Yesterday several people having relatives in San Francisco, came into The Times office to get latest particulars of the great disaster. One young man who has a twin sister working as a stenographer in that city, in great distress, rushed into this office to enquire whether we had a list of the killed and wounded. One of our staff asked him what part of the city his sister slept in, and on his answering "Alameda," our representative sent him away smiling by saying it was altogether improbable his sister would have been at work at ten minutes after five a.m.

Board of Works Meets Obstruction

The George Street Extension Discussed But Land Owners Were Coy About Naming Terms for the Right of Way.

The Board of Works met last night, there present being, Chairman Ald. Hicks, Elliott, McIntyre, Adams, Tovey, Graham and Wilson.

City Engineer Hay made a report on the Charlotte street bridge tenders, as follows:—Jonks & Dresser, concrete work, $2,508.74; A. Hill & Co, metal work, $1,340; total, $3,-848.74

For concrete work the city engineer mentioned that by day work it would cost $2,350; metal, $1,340; total, $3,690.

OTHER TENDERS.

|---|---|
| J. E. Hayes ... ... ... ..... | $3,619.50 |
| R. Sheehy ... ... ... ..... | 4,296.00 |
| Jas. Bogue ... ... ... ..... | 3,396.50 |
| Dumble ... ... ... ..... | 3,989.00 |

It was moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That the tender of Hill & Co. be accepted and that the concrete work be done by day labor.—Carried.

The chairman produced a letter from Mr. R. Sheehy, saying he would build two catch basins on Lock street for $14 each, the city to furnish materials.

This matter was left to the city engineer to decided with power to act.

Ald. Graham and Elliott moved,—That, if the price is satisfactory, Mr. Sheehy should carry on the work.

GEORGE STREET EXTENSION.

The matter of the George street extension was then taken up. The chairman noted to those present, that a previous meeting had been held with the property owners of the locality, when the first street plan.

Mr. Dumble first spoke saying that the plan was all right, and that those holding lots in that neighborhood would have to have streets in their own interests. He had given several street rights to the city for nothing. The present plan, if followed out cuts up his land so that it will be of no value, cutting his lots up so they will be practically valueless. He would fight the city to the last ditch before submitting to this loss. Mr. Dumble showed the chairman, by the plan, where the road might have gone through and still left his property of some use.

"You take the only good land a man has got," said Mr. Dumble.

Ald. Adams suggested making a jog so as to have a street 86 feet wide to save Mr. Dumble's lots. This would leave a street 96 feet wide in front of the new school.

Mr. Dumble was asked by Ald. Adams what he wanted for his lots, to which he said, "I want all I can get. If you place the street right, so as not to hurt my lots I would give them cheap enough to you."

The Mayor asked Mr. Dumble, "Are you prepared to give a free right of way if the plans are changed to suit you." To this Mr. Dumble replied that the council had better settle with Mr. N. LaPlante, who was also present.

Mr. LaPlante then went into the matter of this lot that would be affected.

Ald. Adams said the plans would not make enough difference in land wherein to bury a cat. Mr. LaPlante when asked what he was prepared to take for his land, said he was not ready to say. He did not want the street, but still he wanted the city to go ahead. He would not renew his option of two years ago, of $100 for right of way.

Mr. David Oliver next went into the matter of his property that will be affected. He consented to renew his option for right of way. City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall, who was present, quickly put the matter into writing.

Mr. LaPlante declined to quote any definite terms as he wished to consult a relative of his before committing himself.

The rest of this report, crowded out on today's issue will appear in Monday's paper.

ODDFELLOWS' NEWS

The Committees are Now Arranging for Next August's Reception.

There was a good attendance of members of the different local committees preparing for the reception and entertainment of delegates to the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows, which will meet in August next in this city, in the I.O.O.F. hall. Col. J. W. Major presided and Mr. M. W. Mahaffy acted as secretary. Reports were received and the various committees instructed to get down to work.

Suitable arrangements will be made for entertaining the delegates and a program is being mapped out so that the visitors will be assured of a splendid time. The next general meeting of the committees will be held Thursday, May 3rd, when further reports will be presented.

The members of Flora Lodge, I.O.O.F., Toronto, will probably pay a visit to Peterboro and Otonabee lodges at an early date. The Toronto brethren contemplate this trip as an outing and, while here, will put on the initiatory degree work. Definite arrangements will be made later.

Bowling Alley in Full Play.

Mr. J. T. Smyth has now opened up his fine bowling alley at the Majestic billiard parlors at 368 Water St., in the premises recently vacated by the Otonabee Power Co. The bowling alley is one of the finest in Ontario, with select maple beds. The alley is now being patronized, night and day by the best people in the city. The bowling alley is a sure cure for dyspepsia.

DRINKS COME HIGHER

No More Five Cent Whiskey After the First of May.

Supplementing our report of the decisions passed by the Peterboro Licensed Victuallers' Association, a few days ago, the committee, as noted in a former issue, met yesterday morning at the National Hotel, and decided that after May 1st, there would be no more five-cent whiskey, and also that Canadian and imported bonded goods would be fifteen cents or two for twenty-five cents, and that Canadian draught goods be ten cents, or three for twenty-five cents and imported draughts be ten cents. It was also decided that ten cents be charged for single or double vehicles for shed room.

These were the most important of the changes suggested by the committee, and they will go into force if passed by the Licensed Victuallers Association, which meets on Monday.

A PROSPEROUS BANK

Western Bank of Canada Has Successful Year's Business.

The little manufacturing town of Oshawa has good reason to be proud of the Western Bank of Canada, which was originally a product of the enterprise of her citizens.

The 24th annual meeting held in the head office of the bank on April 11th, with President John Cowan in the chair, disclosed the fact that the bank was steadily forging ahead and that last year's business was very encouraging.

The directors' report showed that the bank had made a net profit during the year of $88,575.76, which was at the rate of 16 1-2 per cent. on the average paid up capital. To this was added $15,299.25 brought forward from the preceding year, making a total of $103,875.01.

Our of this two half yearly dividends at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum were paid, amounting to $37,-738, $50,000 was placed to rest account which now amounts to $300,000, or 54 1-2 per cent. of the paid up capital.

During the past year the deposits have increased $295,608, and the gross assets $396,894 over those of the year before.

Such a record as this shows that the Western Bank of Canada stands high among the leading financial institutions of this Dominion, and reflects great credit upon Mr. John Cowan, the president; Mr. T. H. McMillan, cashier, and the directorate of this Bank.
